of special love for me (perhaps because I am the youngest) & she has been like a mother, an elder sister, and a friend to me all in one — I do, as you said, love her so much that I am ^{glad} to think of her being soon with Jesus — yet sometimes the sense of what we should all lose in her is overpowering —

It was so good of you to ask me to write to you, & I hope you did not think me ungrateful when I answered so hesitatingly - I did not know whether I could - I know you hate letter-writing so please do not think of troubling to write to me -

I remain

your gratefully affectionate

I think what you said about "pliability of will"
in the matter of that dress was just what I wanted.

My natural dislike to the dress, simply as a matter of taste, has, I fear, had more to do with my wish to get rid of it than I was aware - But I have given it over to the LORD.
I am going to trust Him about it - & to do what He tells me - If it is wrong for me to wear
to escape" -
