Introduction

The papers of James Pemberton contain sermons of this Methodist pastor as well as materials relating to United Christian Ashrams. The collection includes correspondence, proceedings, subject files, reports, literary productions, legal documents, financial documents, scrapbook materials, printed materials, and photographic materials.

This collection is open to investigators under library restrictions. The finding aid was prepared in April 1999 by Robin M. Johnson.

Biographical Sketch

James S. Pemberton, Sr., was born in Camden, New Jersey, to John and Agnes Pemberton on September 24, 1904. He graduated from Moody Bible Institute in 1928 and earned a bachelor of science degree in education at Temple University in Philadelphia in 1947. At Brown University in 1958 Pemberton received a master of education degree, and in 1978 he was awarded the honorary doctor of divinity degree from Barrington College.

He and his wife, Irma P. (Groff) Pemberton had two sons, James S. Pemberton, Jr., and Bruce Pemberton, and a daughter, Joann (Pemberton) Anderson.

The Rev. James Pemberton served as a United Methodist pastor for many years at several different churches in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts.

James Pemberton died at Rhode Island Hospital in 1994 at age 89.
