APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The review of twenty-two years work in foreign fields, as is presented in the last report of the Parent Board, should inspire every Southern Methodist with greater zeal in the Master's work.

We rejoice that the number of our mission fields has been increased four-fold since 1870, and that we now have six annual Conferences in foreign lands, the last one having been organized in Japan by Bishop Key, during the month of August. We now have a total missionary force of 99, and 110 native preachers. Converts have multiplied, there were in 1870 only 56; now the roll shows 5,945 names. We give praise to God for all these, and that just now the Holy Ghost is being poured upon them in the largest measure, and especially is His presence felt in Japan; not only among those enjoying the faith of the gospel, but also by many who have not heretofore known of our Savior.

Should not our hearts go out in thanksgiving to Almighty God for the deep interest felt in our Foreign Mission work. This interest is expressed, not alone in our Religious Periodicals, or by preachers from the pulpits, or by the contributions being made.

The highest expression of it must be seen, in the fact, that fifteen persons during the past year, without a call from the General Board, have offered themselves for our foreign work.

Our Home Missions must not be over looked. We have in the bounds of the Kentucky Conference a field for Home Missionary work, which if well cultivated is sure to yield a rich harvest. The district in which this work is found is being penetrated by railroads, and is developing rapidly. It is here the fathers of our Methodism did their best work, and left the field to us a rich legacy. If we fail here the result will be to weaken the Church throughout the bounds of our Conference. This territory being so important a part of our work, it is imperative that our efforts to bring it under the influence of our Church keep apace with its development. We congratulate the Woman's P. H. M. S. on their effort to establish the Sue Bennett Memorial School in the mountains, and bid them God speed in their noble work.

The Board passed the following:

First, We urge all our preachers to see that Missionary Societies be organized in all our Sunday Schools, also that all Missionary Literature be circulated and read.

Second, That the first week in January, which was set apart by the General Board as a week of prayer, looking toward the payment of our Missionary debt, be observed and that collections be taken.

Third, We request the Presiding Elders to hold Missionary Anniversary Mass Meetings at their District Conferences.

Fourth, We congratulate the Church on the work done by the Secretaries of the Parent Board. Also that we are grateful to God for the restoration to health of our Brother, C. F. Reid, and for his much loved work in China.

Report of the Woman's Missionary Society, W. E. C. S. Kentucky Conference in Annual Session.

The Woman's Missionary Society begs leave to submit the following report of work done during the last year: Total number of auxiliaries, Young People's and Juvenile Societies, 104. Total membership, 2,210. Total contributions for the year, $3,002.

It is to be regretted that the womanhood of Methodism does not oppose the enemy, a solid phalanx. Those who fail to work do it to their own spiritual injury—for the reflex influence of the work upon the workers, is to bring them into closer communion and fellowship with God. This has been especially emphasized this year. The accompanying financial report shows what each society has done during the past year.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

The receipts of this society show a small advance; but not in proportion to the increase of applications for aid.

The amounts requested from this Board were almost three times the amounts received by it; all applications were discounted more or less, and some could be granted nothing. Things will thus continue until we make the collections in full.

Attention is called to the resolution "that the President appoint a member of this Board to visit each District Conference, at their coming sessions, and present the interests of this society."

During the interval of the Conference we recommended the following applications to the Parent Board: Middlesborough, Clay City, Taylorsville, Mt. Olivet, Fairview, Jackson, Randville, and Whitesburg.

After careful examination of the applications for aid from this society, the Board made appropriations as follows:

Erlanger, Kenton county,	$150 00.
Wyatt's Chapel, Laurel county,	100 00.
Minerva, Mason county,	80 00.
Goodwin's Chapel, Morgan county,	100 00.
Hazard, Perry county,	100 00.
Dewese Chapel, Knott county,	100 00.
Mt. Carmel, Trimble county,	100 00.
Taylorsville, Spencer county,	100 00.
Junction City, Boyle county,	75 00.
Meadow Creek, Knox county,	53 00.
Total	$958 00.

The Parent Board has made an assessment of $2,880 for the ensuing year, and is apportioned as follows:

Lexington District,	$640 00.
Shelbyville District,	547 00.
Covington District,	599 00.
Maysville District,	557 00.
Danville District,	430 00.
Middlesborough District,	107 00.
	$2,880 00.

The Board requests that each pastor will take this collection early in the year, and present its claims separately, and believe a large advance on the receipts will be reached. The assessment in full will enable us to meet the applications put off this year, and probably those which may be made next year.

Respectfully submitted,

F. K. STRUVE, Secretary.

Special donations at Harrodsburg, Ky.—J. N. Ison, $5; H. G. Henderson, $10; A. P. Jones, $5; W. W. Spates, $25; G. W. Crutchfield, $5; W. T. Eklar, $11.

Report of Pastorage and Home Mission Society of Kentucky Conference.

Interest in Home Mission work in Kentucky Conference has increased during the year notwithstanding the loss of its most efficient laborer. The auxiliaries throughout the Conference suffered a severe shock by the death of their Corresponding Secretary, and the work was greatly hindered for awhile, but through the blessing of God some of the seeds of her sowing have been reaped, others have been constrained to take up the work and it has prospered. The fiscal year of the Society closes in March consequently the following report was made out at that time and does not include the work done since.

Increase in the year in adult auxiliaries has been....	13.
Increase in juvenile auxiliaries,.....	5.
Increase in adult members,.....	322.

Special donation for local work,.....	$764.23.
Special donation for Conference work,.....	$146.65.

One life member has been added and sixty have been added to Sabbath school.

$550 00 have been appropriated to help build parsonages.

$300 00 were given to Stanford and $250 00 to Frenchburg.

$120 have been raised and used in Covington District for building District parsonage.

Greater interest is manifested than ever before, more people are engaged in the work and the prospect for the future encouraging. Miss Mollie Marimon has done good work in Covington District. Since the first of August she has organized seven Societies with one hundred and twenty-two members. Other societies have been organized by Mrs. Sawyer and Miss Stratton. The auxiliaries now number sixty, with more than one thousand members. Mrs. Martha Langton has been made a life member.

The Quarterly, "Our Homes," edited by Miss Lucinda B. Heim, in interest of Parsonage and Home Missions, in three months has been put on a paying basis, and is one of the best means used to advance the work.

The Home and Training School, which has been projected by the Parsonage and Home Mission Society of Kentucky Conference, will be advanced as rapidly as is possible for such a great undertaking.

Respectfully submitted,

ELIZABETH LEE JOHNS, Conference Secretary.

Report of the Board of Education to Kentucky Annual Conference.

The opening and prospects of our Kentucky Wesleyan College for the current session have been just what the faithful, admirable work and generous patronage of the last year had led its friends to look for.

The school is in its new home, the most spacious, well arranged, and solidly built structure owned by our church in the State, and perhaps unsurpassed for its appearance and facilities in the entire list of connectional colleges. The occupancy of this new building with its tasteful furniture and ample accommodations has given general satisfaction and renewed our hopes and efforts.

The following well known and excellent gentlemen have been retained in the Faculty, to-wit: D. W. Batson, A. M., President and Professor of Natural Science, and of Mental and Moral Science; W. H. Garpett, Ph. B., Professor of Mathematics and French; B. T. Spencer, A. M., Professor of Greek and German; Marvin West, A. M., Professor of Latin and History; W. T. Morton, A. M., Professor of English and assistant in Mathematics; Rev. T. W. Watts, Director of Bible Study and Instructor in Elocution.

The last named Chair suggests the prominence given to the study of the Word of God and the especial advantages provided for such students as have in view the Christian ministry.

The Board of Education having had under consideration, for a year or more, the problems of co-education of the sexes, and having made investigation of its results in institutions that have tested it fully, and being fully satisfied as to both the demand and the expediency thereof, has at its recent session provided for the admission of young ladies, and hereby cordially solicits their attendance. A number of girls have already matriculated, so that, now, we can give to all who may come assurance of congenial association, careful and kind supervision, together with instruction as thorough and as comprehensive as that bestowed upon their brothers.

We embody herein our financial report made through J. W. Proctor, Esq. of Danville, our Treasurer:

The Board, feeling the importance of a discussion of Educational interests before our people and seeing the pressing need of additional furniture for class rooms, and in the preparation of our beautiful chapel and society halls for timely use, passed a resolution requesting your body to set apart at this session the second Sunday in November next as "KENTUCKY WESLEYAN COLLEGE DAY," a day to be observed in our congregations for the presentation of our college interests and the collection of monies to be applied to the complete equipment for services of our noble college structure. It is intended to allow contributors the privilege of indicating the special rooms or uses made of their gifts. A proper use of this "Day" will, we think, greatly enlighten our people as to our work and serve to connect them more closely with the college,

A word, in conclusion, in reference to the claims of our school may not be amiss. Brethren, we should remember, at some times, that this college is the property of our church, and the only one of its sort and relation in the State. It has a building worth $35,000 over it; a Fund of $33,000 under it; a body of near 30,000 members, loyal and loving, around it; a History of thirty years of service and sacrifice behind it; a prospect of success and honor never so cheering before it; and that there is absolutely nothing wanting to full and lasting prosperity and peace but a just appreciation from preachers and people of the character we have, and the work to be done; for whenever we have this, we shall have the patronage and confidence of the church, and a career worthy of them. We feel that this appeal to our preachers is warranted by the additions already made, and still being made, to our itinerant ranks. There is to-day in the Theological Department of Vanderbilt University one student from us, and two others were just admitted among us as traveling preachers. We wish every school, friendly to us, success; but we are relying upon such a measure of co-operation with Kentucky Wesleyan College as no other school can expect, and such as none other could possibly remunerate.

We have, at our last session, requested the appointment as General Secretary of Church Education, Rev. E. H. Pearce, D. D., his work to have special regard to Kentucky Wesleyan College.

JOHN R. DEERING,
Secretary Board Education.

Report of Conference Board of Education.

Your Conference Board of Education beg leave to report that, so far as we can learn, the schools under the care of the Conference are in a prosperous and healthful condition.

Kentucky Wesleyan College has had a year of unusual success; the increase of students from a distance over that of last year being 20 per cent. We would emphasize the fact that among the schools Kentucky Wesleyan College stands first in our sympathy. Let it be remembered that Wesleyan College is our only Conference school, our property, and while we feel an interest in, and entertain good will for all others taken under our care, yet all other schools are represented as private property and must stand upon their own merits, but it is the sense of the Kentucky Conference that Kentucky Wesleyan College demands at our hands, as preachers and people, support and patronage in preference to all others. The moral and religious atmosphere of Kentucky Wesleyan is wholesome. The coming year the Bible will be introduced into its curriculum, not as a condition of graduation, but left to the option of the pupil, so that a pupil wishing to take a course in Bible study will have an opportunity to do so. And we would suggest that all schools taken under the care of this Conference should do the same. There is no advantage in a Conference school, or one taken under Conference care, unless special emphasis is given to Bible instruction and religious training. We most earnestly recommend the faculty of Kentucky Wesleyan, and the appointment of a visiting committee to that institution.

Millersburg Female College has had a prosperous year. The health is good; moral status good, and an air of home-like influence is found within its walls. We recommend the appointment of a visiting committee, and also the appointment of Rev. C. Pope to its Presidency.

Science Hill is doing good work, maintaining her high standard, and giving satisfaction to its patrons. We recommend the appointment of a visiting committee, and also of Rev. W. T. Poynter as President.

Asbury College has had success during the year. We recommend the appointment of Rev. J. W. Hughes as President and the appointment of a visiting committee.

We recommend the appointment of Rev. T. J. Dodd as President of Select High School. We also recommend the appointment of a visiting committee to Millersburg Training School, under Prof. J. D. Clary.

The Board would remind the visiting committees that it is their duty to take special note of the moral and intellectual status of all the schools under the care of this Conference, and report anything antagonistic to our interest as a conference or church, or anything not in accord with the highest standard of moral and religious training, and we would suggest that the members of these committees visit the schools separately, at different times in the year, so that the schools can be seen in camp, at work, and not simply on dress parade, at their commencement.

GEO. H. MEANS, Chairman.

Sunday School Board.

The Sunday School Board is glad to report that during the year, there has been some advance in its work. All needy Sunday Schools within the bounds of the Conference, that have applied for supplies have been furnished the same.

The Board regrets that the Sunday School agent, Dr. W. H. Anderson, owing to sickness, has not been able to prosecute the duties of his office for several months, and that our plans of work in that direction have not consequently been carried out.

The Board desires to express its cordial sympathy for the agent in his affliction.

Childrens' Day has not been observed by all the congregations in the Conference this year, though many of our churches have responded to this call.

Below will be seen the Treasurer's report for this year.

Books and Periodicals.

Your committee on Books and Periodicals beg leave to make the following report:

The official report of the Book Agents, referred to us, shows that the Publishing House is in a good financial condition. The volume of business done by the House reflects great credit on the agents. At no former period, has the house offered to our people such a variety of good books. Every itinerant preacher should aid the agents in circulating these books.

We call special attention to the steady improvement being made in our periodical literature. The Quarterly Review is now the equal of any Church Review published in this country. The whole church owes the editor a debt of gratitude for the invaluable information that enriches the editorial pages of every number; and every preacher and itinerant layman should feel it a privilege to obtain such information at so little cost.

The Christian Advocate is the peer of any religious weekly in the land. The editorials are of a high order, and every page demonstrates the wisdom of its editors. As the official organ of the entire church, it ought to be in every Methodist home.

Our Sunday School Literature is worthy of high commendation. The improvement in this class of our literature is very decided and gratifying. The clear-headed and wide-awake editor has called to his aid a corps of "workmen that needeth not to be ashamed."

The Missionary Reporter, and the Woman's Missionary Advocate, furnish, in cheap form, the latest news from the foreign field, and fan the flame of missionary zeal at home.

The Central Methodist, the official organ of this Conference, for so many years, is one of the best family papers among all our Conference organs. True to all the interests of the church, having a strong editorial staff, who are sustained by an able corps of correspondents. We commend the Central to the liberal patronage of our people.

We regard the Kentucky Methodist as a deeply spiritual paper and worthy of the patronage of our people.

J. M. BOLAND, Chairman.

Report on Temperance.

To the Seventy-second Session of the Kentucky Annual Conference.

Dear Bretheren:—Your committee on Gospel Temperance would report the following for adoption:

Every year demonstrates with greater force the inveterate enmity between the kingdom of Christ and the liquor traffic, and every utterance of the Methodist Church more clearly announces its uncompromising hostility to it. We depreciate the fact that the traffic has intrenched itself behind the law, which licenses and protects it, and from behind this legal sanction proceeds to poison our social, political and religious life.

We regret it of the highest importance to deprive the traffic of legal existence, and political and social influence.

To this end we must address ourselves as Christian citizens. Prayer is good, talk important; but both are merely sounding brass unless backed by consistent, well directed action.

Therefore, while we are not disposed to ask our church to commit herself to any political party as such, yet "we are emphatically a prohibition church" and will be content with nothing short of total abstinence for the individual and total prohibition for the State.

The means of attaining these ends we may leave every man to determine for himself, but we insist that every Christian man among us, ministers and laymen, should prayerfully discharge every duty devolving upon him as a Christian citizen looking to the utter destruction of this iniquitous traffic, root and branch, buying, making; selling.

W. W. GREEN, Chairman.

C. E. BOSWELL, Secretary.

BIBLE CAUSE.

The Committee appointed on the Bible Cause, having considered its claims upon us beg leave to submit the following report:

Accepting the Bible as the word of God, believing in the inspiration of this blessed book, we should do all in our power for its circulation in all lands. We know of no means so well adapted to this great work as The American Bible Society.

Therefore, heartily indorse this means of distributing Bibles, and learning from Dr. Savage, agent, that the treasurer is empty, that very few bequests are nows society can not go in debt, and that all supplies must be cut off at once in our own country and elsewhere. We urge the adoption of the following resolutions:

Resolved, 1., That we heartily indorse and pledge our support to this institution.

Resolved, 2., That every pastor be requested to bring the claims of the American Bible Society before his people, and take a collection for the same, the first Sunday in April, 1893, or as near that time as possible,

Resolved, 3., That we respectfully request the Bishop to appoint Dr. Savage agent for said Society.

T. W. BARKER, Chairman.

MEMOIR.

REV. T. S. RALSTON.

Rev. Thomas Neely Ralston, D. D., was born in Bourbon county, Kentucky, on the 21st. of March 1806, and died at his home in the Highlands, near Newport, Kentucky, on the 25th. of November 1891. He made profession of religion in 1826, and was licensed to preach in 1827. From that time until he was compelled by waning health, a few years ago, to retire to private life, the history and progress of Methodism in his native state were adorned and advanced by his eminent labors in the pulpit—as an Educator, and an Author.

His pulpit efforts were characterized by impressive eloquence, clear logical deductions, and pathetic appeal. His style was eminently pure, and spiced with an originality as attractive and impressive, as the tintings of tastefully clustered flowers pouring forth their wealth of odorous exhalations. The aged hearer, bent forward with eager appreciation, to catch every word he uttered, and the young drank with admiration and conviction the irrefutable arguments and sweet persuasions to duty, and love toward the World's Redeemer. He was eminently a revivalist; and he added to the church hundreds of members, some of whom triumphantly preceeded him to their heavenly inheritance, while others remain pillars in the house of God, and toilers in the Master's vineyard.

The most remarkable revivals under his ministry were on the Mt. Sterling circuit when six hundred persons came into the church, and after that, in Danville, Harrodsburg, and other places. In 1859-60 he conducted in Millersburg, one of the most remarkable series of meetings, in the history of the church in that locality, embracing the in-gathering, and clear conversion of nearly one hundred souls.

As an Educator, he was very successful, as is evidenced by the after career, of cultured women, who adorn christian homes, and are blessings in the communities in which they reside.

As an Author, his first and greatest work, "The Elements of Divinity," met an appreciation rarely accorded a modern author. This work has been a standard, in this country, and has been translated into foreign languages, and in the words of an eminent Divine "has as yet been followed by no equal in its department." It is a matter of regret, that this work has been thrown out of the course of study, for the ministers of the church, and many of them earnestly desire its restoration.

Other works of note were written by him, and he edited "with great care and laborious discrimination the works of Bishop H. B. Bascom."

Dr. Ralston's superior ability was recognized by his church, which bestowed upon him positions of honor, the best stations, the Presiding Eldership, Conference Secretaryship, etc., and once or twice he was sent a delegate to the General Conference, of which he was as often Secretary.

Modesty and humility were marked characteristics of this great and good man. Unselfish and tenderly sympathetic, he was a friend upon whom to lean and find support. Many younger preachers in the Conference, could bear testimony to this. I trust a personal allusion may be pardoned. My first year in the ministry was as a junior preacher, on the same work with him. Forced into the ministry at an early age, diffident, inexperienced, and opposed by some of my family, I do not know what I should have done, without the counsel, encouragement, and help of my dear brother Ralston. The ties then formed grew stronger, and more precious, as the years rolled on, and some of the most restful and inspiring moments, snatched from consuming toil, were spent in occasional visits to him and his congenial wife, and cousin, in their paradisi-aical home. I often thought the graces of his beautiful character shone brightest amidst the domestic relations.

He was twice happily married—first to Miss Josephine Thompson, of Garrard county, and last to Miss Mary Phister, of Maysville, who survives him, in a loneliness and grief commensurate with the loss of such companionship, after over thirty-five years of wedded life.

He died of carbuncle on the back of his neck, from which he must have suffered greatly though uncomplainingly. After its final free supuration, he seemed entirely free from pain, though extremely feeble. Precious words of endearment were spoken, never to be forgotten, after which he sank into quiet slumber. Then the end came. His death was characteristic. His last utterance was "hallelujah!" as with eyes upturned, he seemed to have glimpses of the heavenly glory: and after speech failed he raised his hands, as if in triumph, then calmly folding them, he closed his eyes, as sinking into sleep, and without a struggle or a groan his pure spirit floated out into the presence of the King in his beauty, to share the unutterable joys of eternal blessedness. His Conference and friends mourn his loss as one who loved them much—a love whose precious ties will endure forever, gathering sweetness and brightness where partings are unknown. He is gone, his works do follow him.

Servant of God, well done,
Rest from thi loved employ:
The battle fought, the victory won,
Enter thy Master's joy.

GEO. S. SAVAGE.

REV. RICHARD DEERING.

Rev. Richard Deering was born in Greenup county, Kentucky, August 25, 1811, and died in Chattnooga, Tenn., August 15, 1892. As a seeker of religion he was received on trial at Demint's Chapel, in June, 1828. Having removed with his father's family to Missouri, he was, while agonizing in prayer, in a dense forest near Current river, in Wayne county, gloriously converted. Returning to Kentucky under the impression that he must preach, or perish, he accompanied Thomas Waring in his rounds on Little Sandy Circuit, exhorting and preaching at every opportunity. He considered himself too young to be a regular itinerant, but consented to accept the place of junior preacher on Hinkston Circuit, of which Martin L. Eades was preacher in charge. On the 9th of November, 1831, with the blessing of parents and friends, he started with Richard Corwine, presiding elder of Augusta District, to his first circuit. Here he preached at Paris, Millersburg, Carlisle and seventeen other places. On the 12th of May, 1832, he was regularly licensed to preach, and on the first of September recommended for reception on trial by the Kentucky Conference. From the Conference of 1832 he was sent to the Fleming Circuit, as the colleague of his friend, Richard Corwin. At the last Quarterly Conference he was formally requested to remain until the arrival of the new preachers. These last days on his circuit were crowned with wonderful victories of grace, and the young preacher had the loving co-operation of that son of thunder, Rev. Benjamin Northcutt, a veteran of the eighteenth century. In 1833 he was sent to Germantown Circuit, where success attended him, and he won the admiration and confidence of the learned President and Professors of Augusta College. In 1834 Louisville claimed his services as the colleague of William Holman. Of his work that year, Dr. Redford says: "In this new and interesting sphere the young preacher not only sustained himself, but was instrumental in the accomplishment of much good. Late in the spring of 1835 he visited Shelbyville. His voice was the most melodious we had ever heard, and the words of life, as they fell warm from his lips, penetrated every heart." In September, 1835, he was married to Mrs. Amanda McGrath, daughter of Mr. John McGaughey, of Shelbyville. Of this excellent elect lady we may be permitted to say that she was the worthy companion of the best of men. A large volume could not adequately set forth her admirable Christian character. After Brother Deering's marriage he efficiently served Jefferson Circuit, New Castle Circuit, Russellville Station, Glasgow Station, Harrodsburg, and Danville {two years, Lexington two years, Bardstown, Covington two years, and in 1846 was transferred to Louisiana. After being presiding elder of New Orleans District three years, and of Shreveport one year, he returned, to recover his wife's health, to Kentucky. As to his later work our information is not circumstantially accurate. It is, however, known that he served Soule Chapel, in Cincinnati, and afterwards, for the purpose of educating his children, established a home in Louisville, where every Christian virtue dwelt; that he served the American Tract Society four years; the Louisville District three years; that in the Louisville Conference he labored at Bardstown, on Jefferson Circuit; at Bowling Green; and perhaps, other places. From Bowling Green he went to Mississippi, when the Confederate Army retired. When transferred to the Kentucky Conference he was appointed to the Floydsburg, New Castle, Georgetown, Milton, and perhaps other charges. After 1879 he was a supernumerary, connected with La Grange or Shelbyville until 1889, when he became a superannuate. But whether serving great districts, large stations, small circuits, or filling the place of a super-numenary or superannuate, he was abundant in labors, and eminently devoted to the work of the ministry. Brother Deering was possessed of most extensive information, of which he had a most ready command, and in that best sense of the phrase was a well-educated man. While he never undervalued scholastic training, his native modesty and deep piety led him to decline the pursuit of ecclesiastical, literary, or social honors; but for more than sixty years the pulpit was to him a throne of power, and the pastorate a most delightful and successful field of loving labor. The wonderful effects of his youthful preaching would to the present generation seem almost incredible. Frequently congregations would press toward the place of prayer or raise triumphant shouts over deliverance from sin. Take a single example: When Dr. Bascom had preached in the morning, and Professor McCowan in the afternoon, with most astonishing eloquence, but with no perceptible effect, Brother Deering came weeping to the pulpit at night, and in less than half an hour over eighty persons were converted. Such results of his labor has strengthened Kentucky Churches for more than half a century. As a pastor, his tenderness and skill often reconciled contending factions, or restored affectionate confidence between persons who had determined to appeal to the divorce court. When the popular demand for a youthful ministry had relieved him from pastoral responsibility, he continued to take the watchcare of hundreds who would otherwise have been as sheep without a shepherd. When Methodism's well-supplied pulpits turned from the best of preaching, his highly appreciated sermons fell with most happy effect upon the people of other denominations, or awakened hundreds in temporary preaching places.

In his latter years he, without fanatical folly, delighted to tell of the second coming of his Divine Redeemer, and scripturally to set forth the excellence of entire satisfaction and Christian perfection. He also frequently tested the efficacy of effectual, fervent prayer to heal the body, as well as the soul. Much of his work with the afflicted seemed little less than miraculous. The instantaneous cure of a well-developed case of cancer, on which two of Louisville's most eminent physicians had twice used the knife and declined to operate a third time, deeply impressed my own mind, because I had long known intimately, and highly esteemed all the persons connected with the case. Brother Deering was peculiarly happy in his family relations. To his parents he was a most tender, affectionate guardian. To his wife the most devoted of husbands. After her death the heavenly attraction was much stronger than earthly to my bereaved friend. The memory of his children who died in infancy was ever most sacred. One of his married daughters, Mrs. Sparks, entered upon her eternal inheritance before her parents. He loved to think of reunion with her, and was on a visit to her beloved daughters when death overtook him. His other children, Rev. John R. Deering, of Versailles, Mrs. Thompson, of Louisville, and Mrs. Proctor, of Danville, were most attentive to every want and wish of their venerated father. His grandchildren made themselves worthy of his tenderest love. On Thursday, August 11, he, in his usual health, left Danville to visit his granddaughters at Chattanooga. He was invited to preach in Centenary Church at 11 o'clock on Sunday. He had a fainting spell in the pulpit while preaching. He was tenderly nursed by his son-in-law and granddaughters until Monday morning, when he breathed his last. His remains were taken to Louisville, where, since 1884, he has gone in and out among the people. His brethren of the ministry and the laity, and his children and grandchildren, with tears and prayers and praises, laid him to rest in the Eastern Cemetery, by the side of his beloved wife, and near the graves of Bascom, Linn, and others of his early fellow-laborers. This lengthy obituary ought not to close without his last letter, which was written to his brother only four days before his death. It is a most remarkable specimen of religious correspondence, as well as an almost perfect portrayal of the character of our ascended brother:

DANVILLE, KY., Aug. 11, 1892.

My dear brother Seraiah: Your favor of yesterday came this morning, and I thank you for it. You mistake my birthday; it is August 25—not 11. But I accept your congratulations all the same. My health is good for my age—have no aches or pains. Sight and hearing good, and still enjoy the luxury of preaching a felt, free and full salvation occasionally. It never was sweeter to me, and I would I could preach it every Sunday. I more than ever love full salvation—even perfect love. To-day I go to Chattanooga to see my grandchildren. They and their father have been pressing me to come ever since my darling wife died. O! that loss—when I saw her breathe her last I felt as if death was clutching at my vitals. Nearly fifty-seven years of wedded bliss literally made us one. But I think of that sweet word of our Lord in his intercessory prayer: "Father, I will that they whom thou has given me be with me where I am, that they may behold my glory." (John xvii. 24.) Now, with Paul, "I desire to depart and be with Christ which is far better." O how sweet to commune with him in secret prayer even here. What must it be to be with him and behold his glory. My daughter does all she can to make me comfortable, but O it is so lonely without my darling. So Brother W. B. Kavanaugh is also gone. Well, before long we, too, will be with him. I deeply regret your personal afflictions, and pray you may improve in health. I write this in haste, and will close. Give my love to your dear ones, and believe me as ever, your loving brother Richard.

O if my Lord would come and meet
My soul would stretch her wings in haste,
Fly fearless through death's iron gate,
Nor feel the terrors as she passed!

—R. DEERING.

REV. D. WELBURN.

REV. H. H. KAVANAUGH.

Rev. Hubbard Hinde Kavanaugh, son of William B. and Susan Kavanaugh, was born in Mt. Sterling, Kentucky, May 28, 1836, and died at his residence in Frankfort, Kentucky, January 18, 1892.

His death was caused by congestion of the lungs, superinduced by the grippe. He was confined to his bed but a little over a week.

For a number of years Brother Kavanaugh has suffered from heart disease; at times becoming unconscious when attacked by the trouble.

From the first of last illness he seemed fully aware of his critical condition, and a few days before his death he told his wife his end was near. She asked him if he was ready to go; to which he replied "Yes, it has been the business of my life to prepare for this hour." The thought of leaving his family behind to fight life's battles alone, was the only thing that troubled his mind.

The morning of his death, when near the margin of the last river, to the members of the family and friends around his bedside he repeated the twenty-third Psalm and with feeble voice, offered a short prayer. His work was ended. The room was the vestibule of heaven, fragrant with the aroma of the skies.

Brother Kavanaugh received his preparatory training for college from various primary schools and matriculated as a student at the Southern University, Greensboro, Ala., in 1860, graduating in that institution two years later.

He was licensed to preach, shortly before the war and served the Lawrenceburg Circuit. He then joined the famous Morgan Cavalry, first as a private, then served as Chaplain.

At his own request, in 1864, he was transferred to the celebrated Sixth Kentucky Infantry, popularly known as the "Orphan Brigade." He was appointed Chaplain of the now historic Brigade, which place he filled with marked fidelity until the close of the civil war.

As brother Kavanaugh's services in the war, marked an important era in his history, and made him some of the best friends of his life, men prominent in the eyes of the States, we are prompted to insert this tribute of his valor from the pen of one of his distinguished comrades, written upon hearing of his death. We only give a paragraph from the extended eulogy.

"His service with the Kentucky Infantry was such as to command the admiration of all who knew how to appreciate unostentatious valor, and simple, but never flagging devotion to his comrades. When the Kentuckians were ordered forward in February, 1864, to occupy Rocky Face Ridge, in anticipation of an advance by Sherman, Kavanaugh marched and bivouacked with the men, and was ready for the fray; and when, on the seventh of May, the Confederate army began that wonderful hundred days' struggle with a thrice powerful aggressive, and gallant foe, the Chaplain of the sixth Kentucky Infantry was always 'present for duty'—not only in his province of spiritual advisor and comforter, but as a nurse for the sick and wounded, and a purveyor for the needy, whose efforts provided much that our commissariat could not give, and mitigated the sufferings of the wounded and dying as the ministrations of few other men did. His exertions were given without stint to men of all the five regiments that composed that now historic band, without regard to regimental number, and a thousand eyes of stricken Kentuckians blessed him during that memorable campaign."

It was on account of brother Kavanaugh's faithful and fearless service during the war, as Chaplain of the "Orphan Brigade," that he was chosen Chaplain of the State Prison. Upon the recommendation of a comrade, who was officially instrumental in his election, he was appointed to the Chaplaincy of the Kentucky Penitentiary, July 4, 1883. He filled the important trust with tireless devotion and great acceptability, until stricken down by the arrow of the last enemy.

The prisoners at the Penitentiary were grieved at the unexpected death of their beloved pastor, and passed touching resolutions, lamenting the providence that took him away. By his kind offices and constant oversight he had greatly endeared himself to many of the convicts, to whom he had faithfully preached the gospel of peace and pardon for nearly nine years.

December 22, 1863, brother Kavanaugh was married to Miss Annie Kimbrough, of Greensboro, Alabama. God blessed their union with several children. One is dead. The following survive their father's death:

William Kavanaugh, managing editor of the Little Rock, (Arkansas) Gazette; Frank Kavanaugh, assistant State Librarian, Coborn Kavanaugh, at the Kentucky Military Institute, and Captain of the first company; Mrs. Clarence Gayle, of this county; Miss Susie Kavanaugh, now attending Science Hill school, at Shelbyville, and Josie, the youngest child.

After the war brother Kavanaugh re-entered the traveling connection in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, preaching for a time in the South, then returning to Kentucky, his native State, where (with the exception of a brief transfer to Fulton, Mo., two years) he spent the remainder of his life.

His Work in the ministry of the Kentucky Conference is well known to all his brethren; it need not be reiterated in this sketch. He will be missed at our Annual sessions, where his familiar face has so long been seen.

His life was an eventful one. It was of the heroic type that brooked sacrifices and braved dangers without a murmur; fearing God and faithfully serving Him at all times and under all circumstances.

Brother Kavanaugh had a marked individuality. He was angular and unique. As a preacher he was plain and practical, earnestly exhorting men to forsake their sins and seek salvation; as friend he was true; as a man he was guileless and above reproach; as a husband he was kind; as a father he was devoted.

He was a good man in the best sense of that word. Sincerity characterized every movement of his life; whether witnessed in his unswerving services as a soldier, his loyalty as an itinerant preacher, or his tireless efforts as Chaplain of the unfortunate inmates of the Penitentiary. He was beloved by all. His death cast a gloom over the Capital and his loss was felt by the entire city.

By executive order the State offices were closed the morning of his funeral, and many distinguished officials were present at the obsequies to pay the last sad tribute of honor and respect to the memory of an esteemed friend and citizen.

Burial services were conducted by the writer, Wednesday morning, January 20, 1892, at the late residence of our departed brother, in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends; after which the remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Frankfort cemetery, to await the resurrection of the just.

The long and honored line of preachers of the Kavanaugh name in our Conference is rapidly drawing to a close.

Brother H. H. Kavanaugh was a nephew and namesake of Bishop Kavanaugh and it was the expressed wish of that great and good man that his mantle might fall on the shoulders of his namesake.

To his brothers, the widow and children, we extend our heartfelt sympathy, and rejoice to know, they are supported in this ordeal by the blessed assurance of the Christian religion, and are comforted by the hope that the departed has passed from labor to reward and is happy with his Lord.

H. G. HENDERSON.

Frankfort, Kentucky.

REV. WM. B. KAVANAUGH.

Rev. William Barbour Kavanaugh was born in Clark county, Kentucky, February 17th, 1807, and died in Pendleton county, Kentucky, July 31st, 1892, aged eighty-five years, five months and thirteen days. He was buried in Riverside Cemetery, Falmouth, Kentucky, by the side of his first wife.

Perhaps no better brief outline of his life can be furnished than the following, which is copied from Redford's Life of Bishop Kavanaugh: "In July 1819 when twelve years of age, he joined the Methodist Church as a seeker of religion and in September following was happily converted. As with her other sons whom Mrs. Kavanaugh had bound out to trades, so in the case of her youngest; she did not make an exception. When very young she placed him with the same gentlemen where his brother Benjamin was apprenticed to learn the tanning and currying business.

In 1831, on the 16th, of November, he was married to Miss Susan Ann Evans, of Clark county, and in 1837 was admitted on trial into the Kentucky Conference, and in 1837 was appointed to the Jefferson Circuit. After remaining in Kentucky three years he was transferred to the Rock River Conference, and appointed missionary to the Sioux Indians. He returned to Kentucky in 1843, and traveled until 1849, when he located. In 1856 he was readmitted, and continued a member of this Conference until 1876, spending six years of the time in charge of districts, presiding over the Covington District four years and Maysville two years.

In 1876 he was transferred to Los Angeles Conference, and was appointed to the Los Angeles District, where he remained four years. He was then appointed to the San Luis Obispo District, but family affliction induced his return to the Kentucky Conference.

Returning to this Conference he continued in the active work until 1889, when he was placed on the superannuated list.

He was married the second time, eight or ten years prior to his death, to Mrs. Virginia Stonestreet, of Henry county, Kentucky. Unfortunately we cannot give the date of his second marriage.

During the period of his superannuated life he preached as he had opportunity, and while his bodily infirmities were very manifest he retained his mental vigor in a remarkable degree. He preached on the last two Sundays before his death. The text of his last sermon was taken from Acts II, 38. While it was in some degree controversial it manifested a spirit of charity and a tender interest in fallen humanity.

On that day, in private conversation with the writer, his mind seemed to dwell mostly on the past. He spoke particularly of his early life and conversion. With him conversion was a distinct and well defined experience.

His last sickness was brief. While visiting his sons at the old homestead, he was stricken down with paralysis on July the 27th and died the 31st. The nature of the attack was such that he could not talk and hence he left no parting words or dying testimony in his last hours.

His ancestral history is well preserved in the biography of the Bishop. Few preacher have had a longer or more varied history. The whole period from his first admission to Conference was fifty-five years. After deducting the years of his location and superannuation he was in the active itinerancy forty-five years. His work extended from Kentucky to the Golden Gate. His parishoners were numbered by multiplied thousands, representing nearly every phrase of our North American life, from the cultured and refined in the older settlements to the wild and adventurous frontiersman and untutored savage.

He was a man of brawn and brain, who cared little for the matter of outward appearances, and though genial in temper was indifferent to the conventionalities of society. He was a careful reader who aimed to develop and assimilate what he read. Sometimes his thoughts led him into speculative channels. His pulpit deliverances were usually concise and logical and were characterized more by the doctrinal than evangelistic quality. He was a sower rather than a reaper—a pioneer blazing the way through the forests of error and preparing the way for the coming kingdom.

He was always at his best in the pulpit, a preacher rather than a Pastor. Some considered him the equal of his two distinguished brothers, Dr. B. T. and Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh. Comparisons, however, need not be made as each had gifts and adaptations peculiar to himself. Brother Kavanaugh was the last of a trio of stalwart preachers, whose memories will be preserved in the history of the church, and who have contributed much in giving our Kentucky Conference connectional fame.

We rejoice in the heritage they have left behind them, but more in the hope set before us.

LOUISVILLE, KY., September 1, 1892.

The Treasurer of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Widows and Orphans Home hands in the following report to the Kentucky and Louisville Conferences. This report showing net assets $65,273.35 is full, complete, and self-explanatory, containing as it does, a Trial Balance, an Inventory, a statement of the Losses and Gains, and a statement of the Resources and Liabilities. This report is a condensed statement of the result of all transactions that appear on the Ledger from February 11, 1890, to September 1, 1892. During this time, from the statement herein made, you will readily see that the Home has been run at a loss of only $127.25. The treasurer considers this a remarkable good showing, considering that during this time we have spent $1,205.28 for repairs to the Home. What we have done in the way of repairs would have cost us more had not at least $300 worth of work and material been donated to the Home.

During the year we have also purchased forty feet more of ground on the North side of the Home to protect our interests and the growing needs of the Home for more ground room. This forty feet was purchased at a cost of $3,950.01.

Respectfully submitted.
