Dear Brother McKibben:

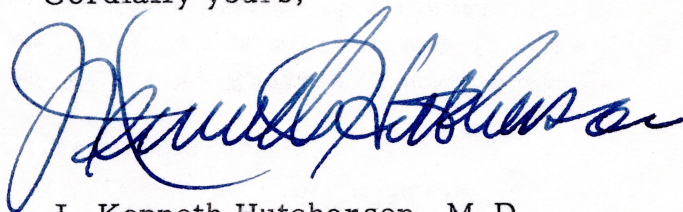

Thank you for your letter of August 27th, including the slate for Indian Springs. Enclosed is a copy of a letter I have just written Brother Trueblood.

It is always a spiritual feast to attend the Indian Springs Camp. We thank God for you and those of your coworkers, who are laboring so faithfully to maintain the principles and standards set forth for the carrying on of this great camp. May the Lord continue to give you wisdom for your many undertakings in this behalf.

Rev. James Gibson, of Wilmore, Kentucky, Methodist evangelist, whom I mentioned to you before, would make you an excellent man. Rev. Chitwood, of Alabama, who is a Methodist pastor, I believe, would make an excellent man. I am trying to look up Brother Chitwood's address, but thus far, we have not found it.

With kindest personal regards. I am,

Cordially yours,

J. Kenneth Hutcherson, M. D.

Rev. J. P. Trueblood
Hertford North Carolina

Dear Brother Trueblood:

I returned last week from Indian Springs Holiness Camp Meeting, in Flovilla, Georgia. It was truly a feast of the tabernacle. Mrs. Hutcherson and I have been attending this camp ground quite frequently for the past many years. It is one of the greatest camp grounds that I have ever been on.

I asked the President, Mr. W. S. McKibben, to give me a list of his slate for the few years. I immediately noticed that you are tentatively booked for 1959. I hope you will not allow anything outside of sickness or death to keep you from fulfilling this engagement. I have been telling these people about you for years, as I have in other places.

In looking over my record of my last examination of you, last April, I see that I prescribed a high potency vitamin for you twice a day. I should like to know just how you are feeling.

Yours in the bonds of Calvary.

J. Kenneth Hutcherson, M. D.
