

Asbury Theological Seminary

ePLACE: preserving, learning, and creative exchange

---

Correspondence

Hannah Whitall Smith

---

1983

Box 1_8 (Correspondence Cherian T.I to Clifford, Edward 1898-1906)

ATS Special Collections and Archives

Follow this and additional works at: <https://place.asburyseminary.edu/hwscorrespondence>

Part of the Christianity Commons

---

37, KENSINGTON SQUARE.

W.

Sept. 23. 1905

My dear Hannah,

I am delighted to get your letter, and especially to hear that we shall have a new book.

You know how I love and glory in what you write, and how much it helps me, so I am looking forward to it, both for myself and others.
I wish I had known you had been in town, for I should have loved to come and see you, and now I do not expect to be back till nearly the end of October. However,
I shall come soon after that I hope. I know nothing about the Macdonald's house, but I certainly had a vague idea that it was given, but I am by no means sure about it, and I should think this contradiction is genuine. Of course he did have a great deal of help.

ST. KENSINGTON SQUARE.

W

Affectionately yours,

Voltaire