

Asbury Theological Seminary

ePLACE: preserving, learning, and creative exchange

Correspondence

Hannah Whital Smith

1983

Box 1_10 (Correspondence- Crosfield, s.to Eglestein, Countess.1879-1905)

ATS Special Collections and Archives

Follow this and additional works at: <https://place.asburyseminary.edu/hwscorrespondence>

Part of the Christianity Commons

I owe so much to your book. I hope and believe, it has opened my spiritual eyes, and enlightened my heart, to enter into a life of closer communion with my God than I have ever lived before, to realize the preciousness of those blessed words and promises of our Lord & Saviour Christ.

I hope therefore you will pardon this liberty, in my writing to thank you for that revelation of the way of holiness, so clearly defined in your book, and to offer my warm prayers that it may be blessed to many others as it has been to me.

May our loving Heavenly Father pour out His richest blessings of love, & communion with Him, into your own life and heart, & all dear to you.

Will you allow me to subscribe myself,

Your friend in Christ
Miss G. E. de Saussure

2 1/2 Lamboll St.

Charleston

S. C.

Have you ever seen Bruce F. W. Howes' gall's book, 'Royal Bounty', there is so much in it that crowfords, and touches the thoughts, feelings, and feelings, of your book, that I almost feel as if the two might be read together. If you have not seen any of her works, I think you would be deeply interested.
If you have not 'Royal Bounty', do let me send it to you.