My dear Friend - I must address you by this letter, for through your beloved little books, you have been the greatest help & comfort to me for many years. & now I am longing for a supply of those precious leaflets for daily reading, that I saw lately at the house of my dear friend Mr. J. G. Watson, at Woodford. I sh<sup>d</sup> be so glad to have a copy sent regularly & also any back nos.

either single, or in vols.
(which I sh<sup>d</sup> prefer) if you have them bound. I will send payment as soon as you tell me the cost of the back ones.
I have your early vol. of "Bible Reading", & "Frank", &
"The Xth Scene", & all (I think) y<sup>r</sup> tiny books pubd by Longley.
Some of which accompany me wherever I go. Bringing gl<sup>am</sup> of Heaven's own Sunshine into many a weary heart.

How I sh<sup>d</sup> love some day to see & know you personally dear Mr<sup>s</sup> Smith, & talk with you of these precious things!

I was introduced to you once after one of y<sup>r</sup> Drawing Room Meetings in London, years ago. But you w<sup>d</sup> not remember me amid so many. But you will remember my darling child, (the only thing remaining to me of my once happy home!). My "Daisy", who met you in Rome the year before last, then there with my Cousin, Mr<sup>s</sup> Bacon.
She is now Mr<sup>s</sup> Alex: Hamilton Symp<sup>son</sup>, & lives at 13 Wymondslay Gardens, Kensington. She has lately returned from America where they spent some months. When next

I stay with her, may I hope for the pleasure of seeing you dear Mr Smith?
With Xtian regards

Yrs affectly & gratefully Annistha. Evans

Don't thee remember the daughter of this lady at Rome? I wrote her that I would be very glad to see her.
