

Asbury Theological Seminary

ePLACE: preserving, learning, and creative exchange

Correspondence

Hannah Whitall Smith

1983

Box 2_2 (Correspondence- Gurney, Emelia P.- 1885-1888)

ATS Special Collections and Archives

Follow this and additional works at: <https://place.asburyseminary.edu/hwscorrespondence>

Part of the Christianity Commons

Very many thanks - The sentence that struck me as meaning something special was 'I am bound in the fetters of individual morality & the voluntary life w^h - for me now seems wholesome than a life of surrender -' if I had his father's book here I @ point out the different attitude that ^{the Father} feels spiritual religion to be to this individual morality" wh^{ch} he considers a briggish self conscious effort at lifting oneself above ones fellows - ~~the conformity~~

~~to the same~~ The surrender to the Spirit ~~on the other hand~~

We seem a reckless loss of personality in the whole body - I am unable to express myself I find - tho' I'm a little better than I have been for some hours - Precious was thy presence - God in thee is very welcome! Do give my love to thy dear husband -