It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ , only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ . Regular net price \$3.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is  $6\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4} \times 1$  in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at \$4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$  in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price \$5.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scotfield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scotfield references.

The size is  $5 \times 7$ , less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scotfield Bible published. It is a regular \$10.00 value.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in foot-notes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size  $5 \times 8$ . Regular price \$4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size  $2\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price \$1.50.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co., Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                       |        |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....    | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....   | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....     | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson    | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....       | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....         | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry      |        |
| God, Jonathan Edwards .....           | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—        |        |
| Which? Robinson .....                 | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son    |        |
| Is He? Morrison .....                 | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                 | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....         | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest,     |        |
| Huff. ....                            | .20    |

Biography

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....   | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....               | .50 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life.. | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .10 |

For Children

|                                         |     |
|-----------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....      | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....          | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | .10 |

Evolution

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....    | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Un- |     |
| masked, Cooke .....                   | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech,     |     |
| Bryan .....                           | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King      |     |
| of the Zoo, Shaddock .....            | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....      | .15 |

Hell

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell .....  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. |     |
| M. Taylor .....                       | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S.       |     |
| Taylor .....                          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly     | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt   | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....   | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper....    | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn.. | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....   | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....     | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should     |     |
| Not Dance, Smith .....               | .10 |

Holiness

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It    |     |
| Is—How It Is, Collins .....          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....   | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth ..... | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....       | .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The      |     |
| Fathers? Miller .....                | .25 |

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer.....   | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing,   |     |
| Cundiff .....                         | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..   | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson.    | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent  |     |
| Jew, John Paul .....                  | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfec-  |     |
| tion, John Wesley .....               | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wes- |     |
| ley. ....                             | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..  | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power,       |     |
| Hames. ....                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our       |     |
| Scriptural Re-making, John Paul ..    | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Mor-     |     |
| rison .....                           | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper. ....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, |     |
| Abbie C. Morrow .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious       |     |
| Tongues, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian      |     |
| Science, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism,    |     |
| Ridout. ....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism,    |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day    |     |
| Adventism, Ridout .....              | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism,  |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The    |     |
| Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues,      |     |
| Budd. ....                           | .05 |

Baptism

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design  |     |
| and Subjects .....                   | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett .....  | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and De-   |     |
| sign, George H. Means .....          | .50 |

Devotional

|                                     |     |
|-------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, |     |
| Danskin. ....                       | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....   | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Ay-  |     |
| cock. ....                          | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....        | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                    |     |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper ..... | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....   | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will |     |
| Come Home to Roost, Culpepper....  | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, |     |
| Coward. ....                          | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....   | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers   | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events,   |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....  | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....       | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, |     |
| Seiss .....                          | .15 |

Assorted

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..   | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....            | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....  | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....   | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the        |     |
| Sabbath, Pickett .....               | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....  | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..   | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. |     |
| Sims. ....                           | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcom-    |     |
| ers, Culpepper .....                 | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie      |     |
| Ever Justifiable? Hunt .....         | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist,     |     |
| Wimberly .....                       | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Dis-  |     |
| robed, Taylor .....                  | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Bet- |     |
| ter Day? Culpepper .....             | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure,    |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to      |     |
| Keep It, George .....                | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....   | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly .....   | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....            | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....    | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart.  | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus...  | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....  | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....              | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abom-  |     |
| inations, Ridout .....               | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....            | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper .... | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained,   |     |
| Taylor. ....                         | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of       |     |
| Heaven, Mackrell .....               | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Aug. 26, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 34.

THE CENTRAL HOLINESS ASSOCIATION.

By The Editor.

WHY another Holiness Association? Because this one is different. The members of this association believe there is a real need, a large place and a gracious service for such an organization as this will be.

* * * *

The membership of this association will be made up entirely of members of the two great Methodisms. To become an active, voting member of this association one must be a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, or a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

* * * *

No, we are not sectarians in any narrow or bad sense, but we are Methodists loyal and true to the doctrines and polity of Methodism. We do not believe there is any better church home for us than we find, and have, in Methodism. We believe in order to carry forward the work in our thought and desire, prayers and faith, this organization should be made up of Methodists.

* * * *

What we desire, what we shall pray and labor for, is a gracious, widespread, deep revival of religion. Such a revival must have doctrines to preach, a church home into which it may gather and care for its converts and train them for service. We have no desire for the organization of another church. We believe every Christian should have a church home. We propose to remain Methodists and pray and labor for a great revival in Methodism. We love God's children in all denominations, and will welcome their co-operation; and we shall not seek to bring people into Methodist churches who desire to join other churches. Sinners converted in our meetings will be commended to the church of their choice.

* * * *

We believe Methodism is in sore need of a great revival and if she should receive an outpouring of the Holy Spirit she would again bless the world; so as Methodists we unite ourselves to pray, believe, and work for a widespread revival of religion in Methodism.

* * * *

You say our task is too large? That Methodism is too large and has drifted away from her original faith and revival zeal, and that she will never again, as a whole, burn and blaze with a great revival of religion. We have no exaggerated notions of our ability and power or, what, by God's help, we may be able to do; we shall simply do what we can. There are thousands of hungry hearts in the two great Methodisms who are a bit discouraged, who would rejoice to see such a revival as we need and could have, and we shall do what we can to help bring it about.

* * * *

Later on we will tell you something of our plans, of qualification for membership, and how we propose to go forward with the work.

MY EDITORIAL OFFICE.

Some of my friends would like to know—
To have some little memorials—
How I find a place, as about I go,
To write my editorials.

I feel that my friends have a right to see,
So I'll answer a question like that;
I carry my office about with me—
For my office is under my hat.

It matters but little just where I am;
I can sit with a friend and chat,
And draw my pen and write a few lines—
For my office is under my hat.

In travel on land or on the sea,
I can write about this and that;
I always carry my pen with me,
And my office is under my hat.

If there should arise a little fray
With some theological acrobat,
I draw my pen and fire away—
And my office is under my hat.

If with some wicked foe of truth
I am forced to have a spat,
I can at once get busy, you see,
And my office is under my hat.

For forty-three years I have been Editor
And the critics call me to the mat,
But I have little time to listen to them,
For my office is this old head of mine,
And I carry it under my hat.

A Letter to a Young Preacher. No. I.

My Dear Young Brother:

I have hesitated to write this letter, and I am not sure that I ought to write it now, but have made up my mind to risk it with the hope that it will do no harm and, possibly, do you some good.

I notice that you are disposed to blame any failures you may have upon some one else, and that you are inclined to believe that you are hurt in your appointments, removed from one charge to another, and receive smaller financial remuneration and, in fact, labor under many disadvantages because of your holiness. I know something of the pressure that is brought, of the misrepresentation, and the fact that sometimes men are persecuted for righteousness sake, but I have come to believe that there are other barriers in your way, rather than your purity of heart and experience of perfect love. Will you bear with me in a few suggestions.

First, I notice that you have an unpleasant habit of talking through your nose. This is unfortunate. No church wants a pastor standing in the pulpit and talking at them through his nose. Ordinarily, you let your nose rest in conversation, but when it comes to prayer and preaching you impose upon it. If you continue this you may be sure that you will have to suffer for it in many ways. It will cut down your congregation, your financial receipts, and you may be sure laymen will not attend an annual conference clamoring for a pastor who preaches through his nose. You are mistaken if you have an idea that your peculiar nose accent adds in any degree to your piety, the effectiveness of your message, or your influence with the people who sit under your ministry.

I have been pained to note, when called upon to pray in public, you make it a personal matter. You start off thanking God that you had a pious father and mother, that you were reared at a family altar, that you were powerfully converted; that later, you discovered that you had a carnal nature, that you attended a holiness convention, went down on your knees and were blessedly sanctified. Thus you go on and on praying about yourself. It makes the impression that you are self-centered. That is not the way for you to pray in public, especially the opening prayer when you are going to preach. You should pray for the people, or at least embrace them by saying "we" instead of "I" and "me." I suppose you are pretty well set in your ways and it may be that you will go on in this improper way of praying. That would be proper for secret prayer, although it does not seem to be prayer at all. You are telling the Lord about yourself rather than praying to the Lord for yourself. Many think that such praying is unadulterated ignorance, and that it is an evidence of pride or conceit. I wish, as a friend and brother, you would cut out that entirely.

May I say to you that there is a vast difference between a well thought out, systematic, scriptural, clear preaching of sanctification, and a sort of loud, reckless, disjointed scolding at the people on the subject of sanctification. I believe there is a way to present the gospel of full salvation in Christ, the baptism and sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit, that is quite convincing and a real blessing to any, and all, reasonable persons. It would seem that those of us who profess perfect love should preach this gracious doctrine in the spirit of love. I am aware that the plain truths of the gospel, however presented, will arouse antagonism and resentment among some people; but it would be a source of comfort if we can feel we have discharged our duty in an unselfish way, and in the spirit of true love and solicitude for our hearers.

Pardon me. I am not competent to teach you how to preach. You must have great freedom in the Spirit. Let the Lord guide you. I believe, however, in preaching and praying you ought to give your mouth full sway; your nose has been overworked and might be superannuated. Bear with me, but it has occurred to me that you, perhaps, give very little time to the preparation of your message; that sometimes you make up with noise what is lacking in divine truth and its proper arrangement and proclamation.

There is one thing of which I am sure, and that is, that I write you these criticisms and suggestions with a desire for your efficiency and success as a minister of the gospel. I believe your best friends are aware of the fact

(Continued on page 8)

TRAVEL NOTES AND MESSAGES.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

I began this article on the train running between Santiago, Chili, and Buenos Aires, Argentine. This Transandine Railway is one of the most unique railways of the world. Its construction entailed some very skillful engineering as well as financing. The length of the line is only about 154 miles; the highest point on the road is above 10,512 feet above sea level. The road was started in 1887 but it was 1910 when it was finished and ready for traffic. Part of the road out of Chili is operated by electricity. Passenger trains run twice a week and they are quite well patronized though they say the cost is the highest of any railway in the world for the distance; fortunately, they give missionary workers fifty per cent discount, which helped me out greatly.

The Andes Mountains are great and craggy and snow white on their crests, and a journey across them is something not soon to be forgotten. Though it was July 2 when I crossed, we met with snow and winter cold as we got up the mountains.

Some one describing the Andes has put it this way: "The precipitous gullies that sear their surfaces, the twisted shattered layers of their variegated stratas, the fissures formed in their sides by the roaring torrents from above, the terraced falls and the river racing and splashing along its rocky bed at their feet, all awake sensations of a new and untamed world to be conquered."

"Some lofty, curiously shaped crag will catch the eye, singular even in its fellowship with the rest and a patch here and there can be picked out, suggesting in its rugged lines the caution with which man must tread these rocky sides."

"Upwards and onwards, crossing the river the better to negotiate the turns and twists of the mountains which seemingly strive to hold one back. Zigzagging, onward and upward past Portrerillos (an emerald in a mountain setting where the sight of common things makes more vivid the beauty of uncommon things), past the frowning pile of Mt. El Plata, sulky with clouds and grim with shadows, on to the Guido gorge set thwart the face of a pink, blue and purple precipice fissured with cracks dividing its surface into huge oblong blocks; the river, now wide and wanton, our ever faithful attendant. Beyond, the round-topped hills seem to climb and slide behind their neighbors; a glimpse of a cascade is caught and lost again; a dry, boulder-strewn watercourse comes into view and almost before it is seen it has vanished."

"Here the waters white and crystalline rush through the depths of the canon beneath great shelves of rock piled one atop the other. The railway line turns and twists arduously, cautiously. Suddenly, a rock-strewn ridge appears apparently barring the way to further progress but the ingenuity of the engineers has found a way. Crossing an abyss high above the tumbling waters, utilizing a ledge on the side of the gorge, a track has been made under the very nose of the barrier."

"In this weird and uncanny district are to be seen Mt. Tupungato, 21,550 feet high and shortly afterwards 'The Penitentes,' a curious rock formation giving the illusion of a procession of cowed monks slowly wending their way up the slope towards an ancient Gothic cathedral."

II.

Chili and Argentine have given a very wonderful object lesson to the world in its "Christ of the Andes." This wonderful Monument of Christ was erected in 1904 on the boundary between Argentine and Chili and stands on the very tip of the watershed between the great oceans at an elevation of 12,800 feet above sea level. The monument has a colossal statue of Christ and the Cross and these words constitute the covenant between Chili and Argentine:

"Sooner shall these mountains crumble into dust than the people of Argentina and Chili break the peace which they have sworn to maintain at the feet of Christ the Redeemer."

Shall we have another great war? is the question so often asked. Well by the looks of things the nations are getting ready again. Europe is bristling with bayonets. While mankind remains unregenerated and the whole world lieth in wickedness war seems inevitable; but it be far from us Christians to advocate war. Chili and Argentine are great Catholic countries but they teach an important lesson to the Protestant nations.

Wordsworth, that great English poet, has some wonderful words on the "Happy Warrior." How superior is the warrior he described than the warrior whom we have always associated with war and weapons and guns and swords and bloodshed.

"Who is the happy warrior? Who is he That every man in arms should wish to be?
'Tis he whose law is reason; who depends
Upon that law as on the best of friends.
He labors good on good to fix, and owes
To virtue every triumph that he knows.
Who, if he rise to station of command,
Rises by open means; and there will stand
On honorable terms, or else retire,
And in himself possess his own desire.
Who comprehends his trust, and to the same
Keeps faith with a singleness of aim,
And therefore does not stoop, nor lie in wait
For wealth, or honors, or for worldly state."

III.

How wonderful Nature! Wordsworth sang:

"One impulse from a vernal wood
May teach you more of man,
Of moral evil and of good,
Than all the sages can."

Such a child of nature was Wordsworth that he said:

"In nature all the language of the sense,
The anchor of my purest thoughts, the nurse,
The guide, the guardian of my heart, and soul
Of all my moral being."

"He found

In simple flowers and leaf and stone
The impulse of the sweetest lays
Our Saxon tongue has known."

Wordsworth's poem, "We are Seven," is very touching in its reference to children.

"I met a little cottage girl, she was eight years old, she said;
Her hair was thick with many a curl that clustered round her head.
She had a rustic, woodland air, and she was wildly clad;
Her eyes were fair and very fair, her beauty made me glad."

These lines are very touching to me because if I have any weakness it is my love of children. In my travels it is a great relief to my loneliness, this love of children, and no matter what part of the world I may be in I always can make up to a child. The other day I was in a strange town in Argentine and went into a very nice tea room for a cup of tea; soon came in a group of lovely children and it was not long before, with my meagre Spanish, I had their names and ages and had a happy time together. Children know the language of love and I seldom have any trouble in making up to the children wherever I meet them. I have enough Spanish to ask their name and age and if they are pretty to say "bonita," and in a little while I have a child in my arms and both of us are having a happy time. At the Escuela Popular Valparaiso where I put up with the Presbyterian Missionaries, there were a number of children there and I had such a happy time with little Emilia and Blanca and Alicia, Lidia, Rosa and Olga. I was to that group of children "Uncle George," and when time came to leave it was like breaking away from those whom I had known for a long time instead of six days. At one place little Caroline was a beautiful child of six years. She spoke both English and Spanish. Her eyes were the most wonderful blue. I loved to look into them. The most wonderful blue I think I ever saw was when I was down by the Mediterranean at Cannes, France. Caroline's eyes made me think of that; a great fondness grew up between that little child and her "Uncle George." One day she said to me, "I wish you were my papa." Now she had the best of papas; it was only her way of saying how much she loved me.

IV.

It is now July 2. Since April 27 when I landed at Valparaiso, Chili, I have been out of the pulpit only two days preaching Sundays two, three and four times and every day of the week including Saturday. Often I wished I could lay off on Saturday and rest up but the demands are so great and time so precious that I have preached Saturday nights right along. Last Sunday in Santiago, I preached three times in the Methodist churches and then at 8:30 preached to 2500 people in the Methodist Pentecostal Temple—the largest religious auditorium in the city. It was past midnight when I got out of that meeting. The Chilians are never in a hurry in their religious services; two, three, or four hours is nothing to them in religious meetings, especially if the meetings are lively. I judge they would tire of dead and dry meetings.

When one is in the Lord's work it is wonderful how strength is given for the work. Often I have been so weary as I approach another meeting that I scarcely knew how I would get through, but I plead Romans 8:11 in such times and the Lord never fails to give the quickening power. I sometimes wonder how preachers can endure just preaching one sermon a week and drawing a big salary for that. In fact, it seems so often the churches stand willing to pay good prices for the minimum man while the maximum man is dismissed for disturbing the peace. I heard of a woman in Philadelphia who told her pastor she was going to leave his church; her explanation was, "he kept her disturbed all week!"

V.

Shakespeare's "Macbeth" is one of the greatest and profoundest settings of sin and a guilty conscience that is to be found in all literature.

In one place Macbeth cries out to the Doctor:

"Canst thou not minister to a mind diseased,
Pluck from the memory a rooted sorrow,
Raze out the written troubles of the brain
And with some sweet oblivious antidote
Cleanse the stuff'd bosom of that perilous stuff

Which weighs upon the heart?"

The Doctor's hopeless reply is:

"Therein the patient

Must minister to himself."

So in the diseases of the soul which afflict and torment uncounted millions today in our land, medicine, doctors, learning, philosophy have no remedy! I remember reading somewhere that during the World's Parliament of Religion in Chicago many years ago Priests and Rabbis, Unitarians and Universalists, Saffron robed prophets from the East had all spoken and then came Joseph Cook's turn. He thrust himself with all his soul into the moment; when all was tense, he cried out: "I present to you Lady Macbeth. What can you do for her guilty conscience?" He passed the question on to the Eastern prophets and priests, to the Unitarians and to others, and they admitted they had no remedy; then he cried out: "The blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth from all sin!"

That's the answer! Hallelujah!

"I lay my sins on Jesus—
The spotless Lamb of God,

He bears them all and frees us
From the accursed load.

"I bring my guilt to Jesus,
To wash my crimson stains
White in his blood most precious
Till not a spot remains."

*****

OUR COUNTRY!

Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.

"My country, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of liberty,
Of thee I sing;
Land where my fathers died,
Land of the pilgrim's pride,
From ev'ry mountain side
Let freedom ring."

As loyal citizens of these United States of America we believe in rendering "unto Cæsar the things which are Cæsar's; and unto God the things that are God's." Matt. 20:21. We appreciate the place and position our great beloved nation occupies among the nations and governments of the earth. The baby nation that was born amid the birthpangs of the Revolutionary War from 1775 till 1783, and whose birthday we celebrate on the Fourth of July of each year, our American Independence Day, has now become a Giant among the nations of the world. According to newspaper reports the Honorable Ramsey McDonald, Premier of Great Britain, in a recent speech characterized the United States of America the greatest nation on earth. We are indeed grateful for all our exalted privileges and the protection afforded us under the Stars and Stripes. We rejoice in the liberty of conscience vouchsafed to us by our Constitution. We believe in the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness of all our people. We are glad to make public acknowledgment of the manifold mercies and blessings Jehovah has so richly bestowed upon our land and its inhabitants. We, however, wish our beloved nation was more definitely a Christian nation. We believe the Person and authority of our Lord Jesus Christ should be recognized in our Constitution. We regret, and mourn over the manifest wickedness of multitudes of our people. The God-forgiveness and the desecration of our Lord's Day by many is a cause for sadness to the God-fearing citizenry. We should be honest enough to acknowledge our faults and failures, and brave enough to set about to correct them. We have been passing through a period of testing, perplexity and uncertainty. Perhaps a season of chastisement and correction. Maybe Jehovah would discipline us in the school of adversity and suffering for further usefulness. But possibly we have entered upon the judgment of the nations approximating the end of the ages, so far as the time-order is concerned. Yet it may be that prayer, humility and confession; sincere and earnest repentance on the part of our ruling classes and also on the part of the governed masses, issuing in a widespread manifestation of vital godliness and righteous living will prolong our tranquility. Under such circumstances the great God may be justified in granting us a kind reprieve and making us a benediction to the other nations of the world.

Other than the special prophets of God, perhaps no man is more qualified to speak or better prepared to judge regarding the situations and conditions confronting us, than our Chief Executive, the Honorable Herbert C. Hoover. In a recent speech, which we were privileged to hear over the radio, made before the Republican Club of the State of Indiana, in Indianapolis, he said, "The business depression is the dominant subject before the country and the world today. Its blight stretches from all quarters of the globe to every business place and every cottage door in our land." . . . "Depressions are not new experiences, though none has hitherto been so widespread." He continued to try to explain that, "the extreme violence and the long continuance of this depression came not from within but from outside the United States"; and that in spite of "Our wild speculation; our stock-promotion, with its infinite losses and hardships to innocent people; our loose and extravagant business methods." He proceeded to point out that "Some particular calamity has happened to nearly every country in the world, and the difficulties of each has intensified the unemployment and financial difficulties of all the others," and that "Political instability has affected three-fourths of the population of the world." What a picture of present day world conditions! Does it not remind one of the conditions foretold in the twenty-fourth chapter of Matthew, and the twenty-first chapter of Luke leading up to, and just preceding the statement, "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory." (Luke 21:27).

President Hoover in his political speech went on to express confidence and hope that our country would withstand this period of depression, and emerge into prosperity and success with precious lessons of lasting benefit having been taught us. If Jesus spares and tarries, we too, hope and pray this may prove correct. But we may not reasonably expect any such gracious results without penitence, reformation and faith in God. We have no right to expect future blessings from our Heavenly Father while we allow the betrayal of prohibition, the annulling of our laws protecting the Christian Sabbath, and the general crime wave to prevail against and over the prayers and protests of the church of the living God. Let us join with the various Christian organizations and movements and the multitude of devout believers who request our rulers, under God, to designate and set apart a time for fasting, prayer, humility and confession, with the hope God may be merciful a little longer, and grant us a kind reprieve, and once more smile upon our land and people. Amen.

Thus may we prove that, "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." (Prov. 14:34). And, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord; and the people whom he hath chosen for his own inheritance." (Ps. 33:12). Then still may we sing,

"Our fathers God, to thee,
Author of liberty
To Thee we sing;
Long may our land be bright
With freedom's holy light;
Protect us by Thy might,
Great God, our King."

A Tree is Known by its Fruit.

Those interested in Asbury College very properly ask the question, "What sort of product is Asbury turning out?" "Is our investment there a profitable one in Kingdom work?" "Are the graduates of Asbury truly spiritual, aggressively evangelistic and holy in heart and life?"

Of course it is possible to encounter a single individual who would totally misrepresent Asbury and the actual conditions on the campus today. It is unfortunately true that devout parents in desperation over some wayward son will send him to Asbury as a last resort. Every conceivable effort is made to get this young man converted; the school year opens with strong revival effort (this fall Dr. H. C. Morrison is the evangelist); there is a general atmosphere of earnest prayer, warm testimony and steadfast personal work, as well as faithful preaching and exhortation. If he continues to rebel against the will of God, ordinarily he leaves us before completing the first year, and in very few cases does such an one return for the Sophomore year. One interested in Asbury on encountering such a young man, if inclined to quick and too rash conclusions, might raise a question.

Asbury College stands or falls in the eyes of the holiness people of America by the fruit of its product. We believe that it is turning out a Spirit-filled people, and the very great majority wherever found will be young people who can witness to the joys of full salvation in their own hearts and life, and who will be aggressive in carrying the good news to others and urging that they go on unto perfection. A single letter from the many received during this summer's work from one of our Sophomores is direct evidence. I wish I could quote from the entire group of letters:

"Our campaign in the Kenmore district of Akron was much blessed of God. We started our meeting here on Wednesday the 15th and already souls have found the Master. This is but a small town but there is a great need.

"We say to the glory of the Lord Jesus Christ that during the five weeks that we have been ministering we have seen nearly one hundred souls find Christ either as their Saviour or Sanctifier. An interest in your prayers will be greatly appreciated."

Young people here are continually urged toward an evangelistic attitude; their lives do count and they are producing definite results in really spiritual leadership throughout America, which was never indeed so badly needed in the forty-one years of Asbury's existence, as that leadership is needed today.

We have an unusually large number of young people requesting help in the way of loans and special arrangements who otherwise cannot enter Asbury. It seems a dreadful thing to refuse any of these, especially when they are under a call to special work as preachers, missionaries, etc. Unless gifts are received for this purpose however, there is no way in which we can take care of them. Please remember this great need in your prayers. We want you to join in rejoicing over the results and to pray God that our facilities may be enlarged so that many more young people will have the benefits of Asbury training.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and pressed for time, you will always find Arnold's Commentary full of rich spiritual truths on the S. S. Lesson. You can't afford to be without it at this closing-out price of 50 cents.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

THE MYSTERY OF REDEMPTION.

Rev. Paul S. Rees.

Text: "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness."—1 John 1:9.

A very familiar passage is this. It is at once evangelical and evangelistic. Within its greatly gracious compass the sublimities and simplicities of the gospel are met together. Here are twenty-two words only four of which have more than a single syllable arranged in such fashion as to make the path of mercy and peace, holiness and heaven so plain that the wayfaring man though a fool need not err therein. While the redeeming love of God will always hold for us heights that we cannot scale and depths that we cannot sound, I am venturing to affirm that what we have in the text is the mystery of redemption through our Lord Jesus Christ resolved into its most easily grasped rudiments. The ruin of man, the mercy of God, the fact of human responsibility, the possibility of the remission of sins and the complete renovation of the heart from which those sins issued—these are the great evangelical verities with which we are here confronted.

FOUR C'S

In moving along the way of grace so luminously marked out by the text there are four guiding terms which I think may assist us and perhaps make easily memorable the message of this hour. They are: 1 Conviction; 2. Confession; 3. Cancellation; and 4. Cleansing.

I. CONVICTION.

"If we confess our sins," says John. But who is going to confess sins of whose sinfulness and wrong he has no deep and arousing sense? Back of and beneath all true repentance is an awakened conscience, an illumination by the Word of God and the Spirit of God upon the exceeding sinfulness of sin. When the Apostle Paul received from the Lord Jesus his commission to preach, it read: "To open their eyes, and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive the forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in Me." (Acts 26:18.) "To open their eyes!" That was the very first thing to be accomplished. They are asleep. Wake them up! They are dreaming their deluded way to ruin. 'Rouse them!

Men will not be saved until they profoundly feel their need of salvation. Nor will they feel their need of salvation until they are smitten through with a realization of sin, a conviction which, alas, is all too rare these morally flabby days. How prophetic were the words of the late Prime Minister Gladstone, who said: "I notice a decline in the sense of sin, which instead of being, as under the Christian system it ought to be, piercing and profound, is passing with very many into a shallow, feeble and vague abstraction." Is it any wonder? On the one hand we have a timid, apologetic, man-pleasing pulpit, by its silence aiding and abetting those utterly un-evangelical cults which seek to explain away evil by the magic and mystification of words, and on the other hand a materialistic, mechanistic, animalistic science interpreting life in such a way as to undermine the very foundations of moral responsibility. Between the two we have gone far toward the actual extinction of the sense of sin. Thoroughly in keeping with the modern trend is the poet who writes:

"Have you sinned? It is only an error—
Your spirit is pure and white.
It is Truth's own ray and will find its way
Back into the path of right.
Have you failed? It is only in seeming—
The triumph will come at length.
You were born to succeed, you will have what you need,
If you will but believe in your strength.
"No matter how poor your record—
Christ lives in the heart of you,
And the shadow will roll up and off from your soul,
If you will but own this true.
For 'Christ' means the spirit of goodness,
And all men are good at the core,
Look searchingly in thro' the coating of sin,
And, lo! there is truth to adore."

FALSE LABELS

By such poetic nonsense do we seek to hide the heinousness of the thing that nailed the Lord of Glory to the Cross of Calvary. By such vain devices do we sophisticate ourselves away from the old Puritan conviction that is something at which to be appalled, an offense against ourselves, against our fellow men, supremely against God. We have gone to the devil's dictionary for new and misleading terms with which to dress up old and ugly sins. Lying is "smartness." Drunkenness is "jollification." Adultery and immorality are merely "sex adventures." Smut and obscenity are given the false dignity of "frankness." Theft and robbery pass as "unadjusted acquisitiveness." Sensual indulgence even to licentiousness hides beneath such rippling expressions as the "gay life" and "stepping out." Black murder itself is white-washed with such over-worked terms of the new psychology as "thyroid deficiency" and "dementia praecox."

Yet cover and camouflage it as we will, sin remains the same dark, deadly, destructive, damnable thing that it is. The new phrases that soften its hiss are like veneer over rotten wood, like a rose-water label on a bottle of strychnine. Suicidal to one's own soul, ruinous in its influence over and offense against one's neighbors, high treason against the God of holiness and love, it is ever the same—rotten despite the roses that breathe it, fatal despite the phrases that flatter it.

It is doing its mischief in your life, some one now listening to me. Would to God you might get your eyes open! For conviction of sin is the first step in salvation.

II. CONFESSION.

"If we confess our sins." Mind you, confess! It is one thing to admit you are a sinner, it is decidedly another thing to confess it. One is often done with a smile, the other, more often than not, with a sob. Popular literature, whether of the cheap newsstand type or the more expensive novel variety, is a brazen-mouthed witness to the perverse willingness, not to say eagerness, with which men and women will flaunt their moral failures, make merchandise of their misconduct, and sordidly turn their sins into sources of revenue.

Others there are who neither admit or confess. They cover. They deny. But when the condemning, convicting hand of the Spirit of God rests upon them, they are in wretchedness of mind and heart. Indeed it not infrequently happens that between the impulse to confess and the determination to conceal a tension is created which snaps in suicide.

CONFESSION MISUNDERSTOOD.

Is there not after all a very general misunderstanding of the true nature and significance of confession of sin? I am bound to believe there is, else we should not have so many soul-blighting concealments and mind-maddening repressions. Confession is no part of the punishment of sin, it is the way of release from its burden. If you are looking for analogies, do not think of it as an assassin's dagger, think of it as a surgeon's knife. It is the instrument of incision for draining away virulent poison. It may hurt a bit, but the alternative is everlasting moral invalidism and spiritual death. It is the patient's one sure way of relief and recuperation. In the 32nd Psalm David says: "When I kept silence, my bones waxed old through my roaring all the day. For day and night thy hand was heavy upon me; my moisture is turned into the draught of summer." (Psa. 32:3, 4). What strange and haunting language this is, than which there is none in all the Bible more revealing with respect to the experience of a soul trying to hide sin from God. Hidden sin! Sealed lips! The roaring tempest of inward conflict! The unrelaxing pressure of a mighty Hand reaching down from above! And the result! Bones waxing old! Moisture turned into the draught of summer! "Myself am hell!" says one of our great poets. Yes, there is a hell upon earth whose fierce fires are kindled within the black crater of a heart wherein lie unacknowledged and unforgiven sins. And in the fires of such a hell David found that he was getting old before his time.

He became desperate. The next verse records the outcome: "I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin." (Psalm 32:5). Old as this ancient record is its very words breathe with a sense of that immense relief that came to the heart of the Psalmist.

It is a course like that, my friends, which is set before every one of us who would enter the kingdom of God. "If we confess! The conditional "if" is also the final "if." There is no other way. "There is no such thing," said the late Dr. James Denney, "as negotiation, transaction or compromise possible in the relations of God and man. We may take the gospel or leave it, but we cannot bargain about it." The words have a genuine New Testament ring. Surely you will not leave it, this gospel which is "the power of God unto salvation." I appeal to you to take it. Let your confession begin now. Let it be to those whom your sins have wronged and, supremely, to God. If there are questions as to how to make certain adjustments and reparations, how to deal with certain failures, seek out some Christian friend or minister whom you believe to be experienced, understanding and spiritually discerning. But let no man listen to the narrative of your sins in the false light of one who can absolve them. Turn your face to the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ and humbly, brokenly, trustingly, confess: "Against Thee, Thee only, have I sinned."

III. CANCELLATION.

Confession thus made needs only to have added the faith that receives the goldenly gracious word of promise to which we now come: "He is faithful and just to forgive us our sins." If there is not music in that sentence, the universe holds no melody in all its cheerless spaces.

A PAGAN QUERY

"Plato! Plato!" said Socrates, "perhaps God can forgive deliberate sin but I do not see how!" The brilliant peripatetic philosopher knew not the Christ. And be it remembered that without the revelation God makes of himself through his Son and by his Word we would have as little hope of forgiveness as that expressed in Socrates' earnest sigh.

But God hath declared himself. He is "faithful" to forgive. That is, he is true, dependably and absolutely true, to his character of love and to his promises of mercy. "Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon." (Isa. 55:7). More certain than the rising and setting of suns is this glorious pledge of pardon. God is faithful!

Moreover, he is "just" to forgive. Forgiveness as a matter of justice! Think of what a strange putting of it this is. To understand it we have to go to the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ. God's love is a holy love. It must express itself in keeping with the character of sin. To offer an easy forgiveness for sin is to minimize it, if not to sanction it. Since God could do neither, his measureless, matchless love for the sinner decided him upon another course, with the result that the Cross, which he had perpetually worn in his heart since man's first disobedience, was lifted visibly and symbolically on Calvary, and that once and for all. Sacrifice unto death is there, for sin is so terrible a thing that even God must die in grappling with it. Atonement is there, full and complete. Righteousness is there, its claims fully met. Love is there, streaming in crimson courses. Blessed be God, the last barrier in the Divine Holiness is removed there in order that forgiveness through the Divine Love may pass on to us. And in view of it all, the assurance of our acquittal has been written down in this incontestable document which we call the Holy Word of God. Here it is: "Being justified freely by his grace through the redemption that is in Jesus Christ: Whom God hath set forth to be a propitiation through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousness for the remission of sins that are past, through the forbearance of God; to declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just and the justifier of him that believeth in Jesus." (Rom. 3:24-26).

IV. CLEANSING.

"AND TO CLEANSE US FROM ALL UNRIGHTOUSNESS."

Full redemption is the Calvary message and the New Testament revelation. The God Who justifies will also sanctify. "The blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin."

CAN IT BE?

I have already referred to the Gospel message St. Paul was ordained to preach. He was to proclaim the "forgiveness of sins, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith." The other day in reading a sermon on this text I ran across some disconcerting words. Commenting on the inheritance of sanctification the preacher said: "I know well that this is an experience into which all do not enter. It is a range of well-being and felicity to which some men dare not aspire, and other men do not crave to attain. All our lives are lived on a needlessly low level. And the reason is that we will not enter into the consecration which alone receives the inheritance." The latter statements are all too true, but is it possible there is any man whose sins have been forgiven of God who does not aspire to the possession of a pure heart. I cannot believe it. "Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after righteousness," is a benediction we should be able to pronounce upon every man, woman and child who have been genuinely converted. And to all such is held out the promise: "they shall be filled." Having been cleansed from all unrighteousness they shall be filled with the pure love of God.

In closing, to put the distinction between forgiveness and cleansing as clearly as possible let me suggest the following contrasts, based upon the general teaching of the Word of God. Forgiveness is a judicial act; cleansing is a priestly ministry. Forgiveness takes place in the heart of God; cleansing takes place in the heart of the believer. Forgiveness deals with the wrong I have done; cleansing deals with the wrong I am. What I have done is volitional; what I am is dispositional. Forgiveness gives me standing before God; cleansing gives me union with God. Forgiveness makes me an heir; cleansing gives me an inheritance among them which are sanctified. Forgiveness provides peace with God; cleansing imparts the peace of God. Forgiveness inspires me to sing:

"My God is reconciled,
His pardoning voice I hear;
He owns me for His child—
I shall no longer fear.
With confidence I now draw nigh,
And Father, Abba, Father, cry."

Cleansing enables me to sing:

"I've entered the valley of blessing so sweet,
And Jesus abides with me here;
His Spirit and blood make my cleansing complete,
His perfect love casteth out fear."

IMPRESSIONS OF AMERICA.

WILL SCHUBERT.

AFTER fifty days in the United States, I am impressed by the following facts, which we must face honestly if we want a revival:

Many persons and groups are praying for a revival, but do not know that others are praying. There is no esprit de corps, no means of victory yet, and each one feels that he is fighting and praying alone, like Elijah, though there are more than seven thousand that have not bowed the knee to Baal.

Most of the preachers seem dead. Perhaps they have desires for good down in their hearts, but they are afraid to express them for fear of being misunderstood. As the prophet said, "They are all dumb dogs, they do not dare to bark." They don't hear God; are not alive to the situation, but are amused or think you are crazy or wanting a job if you talk about a national revival. The greed and other abuses of professional evangelists may be responsible for some of this, but if a man had a vision of the need and the possibilities and had an ear to hear God, these things would not move him. Pray for these preachers; maybe they are not as bad as they seem, though some are much worse than they seem, and nothing is as bad as to stand in the way and prevent others to enter the way of salvation, to know the truth and refuse to proclaim it.

Carnality is the root cause of this attitude of indifference or hostility. Two so-called preachers whose churches are on the same street within three blocks of each other, do not seem to know each other. That looks queer. Of course they are not called by the same clique name, but what does that matter, they ought to love each other and work together. We understand that every business meeting of a certain organization for promoting holiness is marked by dissension, and followed by backbiting. Paul says such people are carnal. It is sure not all of them are led by the Spirit, or they would agree, for he wouldn't tell one one thing and another something else. I am afraid there is too much planning in the wisdom of the flesh, rather than by the guidance of the Spirit.

Many have sold their birthright for automobiles, new houses, fine clothes, the good opinion of men who do not stand high in the eyes of God. Some are afraid of what will happen to them if they come right out for God, for they see it happen once in a while to somebody else. So they pat themselves on the back because they are liked, are satisfied with the crumbs of committee honors, but they are not doing what God wants them to do. Some day brother, you will wake up and say, "What profit had I in those things, of which I am now ashamed." But it will be too late then. Don't wait, do it now, that thing God has been talking to you about. Speak out plainly for God, "Tell my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sins." (Isa. 58:1). Don't trim, but don't be harsh either, be sure it's in the Spirit. Pray through to tears and love and then go on; "Diminish not a word." (Jer. 26:2).

"Yes," someone may say, "that's all very well, but what would you suggest?" The following is strongly impressed upon my heart:

1. Let everyone who reads this repent of his love of praise and his fear of criticism. Cut loose from the world by a new sacrifice. Go the limit—what have you really done lately to compare with what you intended to do when you were young? Give up the idea that you can really accomplish anything by mere plans, and advertising, and by man alone. Read the Bible, especially Acts, and see how it is done. The eternal God works in exactly the same way today, and anything else is merely human effort and will come to nought.

2. Hunt until you find a likeminded person. It may take quite a while, but keep on. Then get together as often as possible, daily if you can, for prayer only. If you are really trusting in God, put it up to him. Let him tell you what to do, then do it. Don't go too fast. Get over that old habit of planning for God. Let him plan for you. Many good people don't know anything about this. But God has a plan for you and he will tell you. Be careful of mere imagination, but when the Spirit, the Word, and the providential indications agree, then go ahead. When the Spirit and the Word agree, then often a letter or an invitation or a suggestion completes it. The advantage of two or more likeminded persons praying together is that you can "check" each other on guidance. When the Spirit tells you both the same thing it is quite surely of God. That is what the Lord meant when he said, "If two of you shall agree on earth as touching anything that they shall ask, it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven." In fifty days I have already found enough people who are agreed in asking for revival in the churches, to assure me that it can and will be done if we fulfil the conditions, plead the Blood, and continue in importunate prayer.

Responsibility of Church Membership.

L. F. GREEN.

SOME one has said that becoming a Christian is like enlisting in an army in the presence of a formidable enemy. Likewise, uniting with the visible, organized Church in membership is a serious responsibility, and should be so considered.

Why should Christianity be organized? Because in union there is strength. In group associations there is fellowship. Man is a social animal and as such, craves contact.

Stand in some of our great buildings and behold the massive pillars that hold up the structure. If the millions of atoms of these mighty pillars were in selfishness to cease to coalesce, the giant superstructure would crumble to the earth. The individual bricks, stones, timbers, and a thousand items each have their part in the construction and maintenance of the edifice.

If a spirit of selfish, parasitic seclusion were to dominate the material world, no beautiful homes, no splendid temples, no towering skyscrapers would rise above the world's wilderness to evidence the march of civilization.

The Battering Ram, an ancient weapon of war, illustrates the power of unity. This instrument consisted of a large timber with a head of iron, sometimes weighing several tons. With it, great walls were battered down. Such an engine of war was used by Titus in the final attack on Jerusalem, and with it the thick walls were pierced. Imagine a single Roman soldier pecking away with pick axe at those fierce battlements.

To batter down the walls of evil, to build the Kingdom of God, to express the united convictions of a group, to be effective, we must be united. To achieve, we must be militant. To triumph, we must march and fight together. "United we stand, divided we fall." "We must all hang together, or we will all hang separately," has had many applications.

What then are the vows made; the obligations entered into when individuals stand at the altar of our churches and come into our membership?

In view of the great army of inactive folks in our churches, and the lamentable fact that only one-fourth of our membership contributes to the world-wide program of the Church, calls for emphasis on the Responsibilities of Church Membership.

Let the obligations, as found in the questions of the Methodist Discipline be enumerated. These, I believe, are Scriptural, and in general, are also the requirements of all Evangelism.

1st. "Do you reaffirm your baptismal vows?"—which reads: "Dost thou renounce the devil and all his works, the vain pomp and glory of the world, with all covetous desires of the same, and the carnal desires of the flesh so that thou wilt not follow nor be led by them?"

This means nothing less than a sincere abandonment of all that is evil, worldly, profane, and dissolute; a forsaking of the selfish and beggarly elements of the world, even as a sailor forsakes a sinking ship never to return to it. For what is Repentance but a giving up of those habits which mar, spiritually, mentally, and physically? Such is the Baptismal Covenant, and such, in few words, the serious obligation of all our members.

2nd. "Do you receive Jesus Christ as your Saviour and confess him as your Lord and Master?"

Here is a declaration of saving faith. And the soul that implicitly makes this statement, accepts Jesus Christ, will come into a gracious experiential faith. This is the witness of the Spirit to our Justification, Regeneration. This is Conversion.

If the answer to this question is mere formality, then we have only the empty shell; but if it is fraught with earnestness of prayer, meaningful repentance and faith, then religion will be a joyous reality and the Christian life will have begun, and will move forward triumphant and victorious. From this initial experience, the soul can, through consecration, enter the deeper realms of Holiness which is the heritage of every Christian.

3rd. "Do you receive and profess the Christian faith as contained in the New Testament of our Lord, Jesus Christ?"

Here is the creed—the New Testament. Read it, study it, believe it. Be charitable toward those who don't interpret every statement as you do. Let us always remember that the three great principles of the Reformation were: "The right of every person to read the Bible." "The Bible, the sole authority in things Religious." "Justification by Faith." Not all can agree on the "What" of Predestination, the "How" of the Second Coming, the "Mode" of Baptism. But all can agree on the Saviourhood of Jesus, and the necessity of a clean life. Wesley said, "Is Jesus Christ your Saviour? Then give me your hand."

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dregs do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

Let's not forget: The "Wickersham Commission," after eighteen months study, stood (1) for the retention of the 18th Amendment and the National Prohibition Act (Volstead Law); (2) Against government sale of liquor; (3) for substantial increase in appropriations for enforcement.

4th. "Will you be loyal to the Church and uphold it by your prayers, your presence, your gifts, and your services?"

Loyalty—what a word! In that spirit the Spartans stood and died at Thermopylae... the Light Brigade rode into the mouth of hell... Daniel bearded the lions in the den. In that spirit, Jesus went to the cross, and the Church with the Gospel through the world.

Only as our millions of members, new and old, are stirred by the Divine Spirit of Loyalty in "Prayer without ceasing," in their presence at the House of God—"Forsaking not the assembling of themselves together"; in Gifts that place God on at least an equality with the groceryman; in Service that exclaims "Here I am, Lord, send me." Yes, in service that abolishes that unchristian "creed"—"I do not believe in missions," but rather exemplifies the heroic actions of Ned Spencer who saved seventeen lives from the sinking Lady Elgin, then became unconscious through his Herculean efforts, and when he was revived, his first words were, "Did I save them all?" When a like spirit of utter devotion to our Lord Jesus Christ, a living loyalty to the Church, and a reincarnation of altar vows shall possess the multitude of our members, then Babylon will fall and the kingdoms of this world will become the kingdoms of our Lord.

Friends in the church, or those of you who should be in, here is a challenge of your Lord and his Church—a challenge of a holy cause. Will you answer like the fire-baptized prophet of old, "Here, Lord, send me?"

Education Should Be Safeguarded.

There is food for thought in the news stories during the past few weeks of the efforts of the Roman Catholic Church to acquire control of education in countries widely separated. Early in February the Pope issued a note in which he rather querulously reproached the Fascist Government of Italy for its laxness along certain lines, particularly for permitting Protestant propaganda. Italy has a number of schools maintained by the Methodist Episcopal Church and other churches. In Brazil the liberalists and non-Catholics are now in a vigorous struggle to prevent public education from passing under the complete control of the Roman Church. Unless the liberalists are successful in withstanding the powerful ecclesiastical influence Brazil will repeat Mexico's experience in her educational development.

In England only recently has been fought a battle royal to prevent the Roman Catholics from gaining control of a part of the system of public education. The National Education bill under consideration was so amended as to provide that the Government should pay for improvements of Catholic school properties as well as pay the teachers; yet the schools were to remain under the authority of the Church. Anglican Church schools were also included in this group. Happily the bill has been defeated; it was vigorously opposed by the Free Churches. Our contemporary, the Methodist Recorder, (London) justly complains that if the Roman Pontiff could have his way Protestants in Italy would enjoy neither religious nor civil liberty; yet in Protestant England this church seeks to have its schools and teachers paid out of the public treasury. At no point do our Protestant people need to be more alert than in safeguarding their educational freedom. Wherever the Roman Catholics can do so, they endeavor to control the schools. In the countries where they have directed education ignorance and superstition abound, even though it may be superstition of the medieval Church. Since this Church is opposed to public education and under the rules of the Pope its members are not supposed to patronize the public schools, surely the schools should be left in the hands of the State and of the people who do approve of this method of overcoming illiteracy.—Nashville Christian Advocate.

ONE MINUTE SERMON.

BETHEL COOK.

MOTIVES COUNT.

Text: "A good man out of the treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things; and an evil man out of the treasure of his heart bringeth forth evil things." Matt. 12:34.

Jesus took a great deal of pains to impress upon his hearers the truth that outward appearances and acts are not always a true index to character. A man may do many worthy things and still be a sinner. It is the condition of the heart behind what we do that counts.

Only that which has the spirit of Christ back of it will count in Heaven.

Neither do evil deeds have to be committed for sin to be registered against us.

Murder, adultery, and like passions are conditions of the heart and react against our spiritual life.

Is thy heart right?

Dr. Ridout's Itinerary in South America.

When work finished in Argentina, will go to Brazil. Address care Rev. W. G. Borchers, Rua Jose de Alencar 176, Campinas, Sao Paulo, Brazil, South America.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

MRS. E. STANLEY JONES' LETTER.

Dear Friends:

A letter lies on my desk in which a friend says: "I wish you did not have to spend so much time wiping little India's nose!"

Well, I do admit that if you have a family as large as mine that a good deal of time does go to seeing that bodies and clothes are clean and that material needs are met. But at the same time we try to create clean minds. I used my hair brush on a little boy this morning for vile language to a little girl and later for unclean acts, and he sobbed, "I want to go to a school where men are in charge. They would not mind such little things." Poor lad! As I remember his home of one room for father, mother, brothers and sisters, and the village life where from infancy he has heard unclean songs and unclean tales and seen unclean sights, a great wave of sympathy comes over me. But he has been talked with and prayed with and threatened and punished lightly before, and I find a hair brush often helps to keep the evil spirit repressed until education and the Spirit of Christ eradicates it.

But not all my time goes to little India, by any means. There is the monthly meeting of the District Board and the Red Cross Society and the Public Health Committee and the Boy Scouts District Association and the Baby Week Committee and various and sundry other committees on which I am the only woman, the only foreigner and the only Christian. There are calls on the sick and the shut-in and there are the callers; who are, after all, my greatest opportunity. Yesterday a young Hindu priest called. Presently he said, "I am a Brahman." I said, "Yes, I know." He evidently felt that I was not sufficiently impressed, for after a bit he said, "You know people worship me!" I said, "Do you think you ought to be worshipped?" He replied, "Why not? I am a part of God." That opened the way to a long talk and when I quoted some verses from John to illustrate what we believe, tears came into his eyes. "Where can I find such beautiful things," he asked, and then I found that he had never seen or read the New Testament. As he read English, I gave him a copy of the Journey of Jesus, a beautiful harmony of the life of Christ in the words of the Testament, compiled by Mrs. Goodyear. The next day he came sadly, "My father was so angry when I told him of my talk with you that he refuses to speak to me and today he is sending me away. But I shall take the Book. And sometime I shall see you again."

I cannot betray confidences or put on paper many of the most interesting and inspiring incidents, for confidences are sacred. But "there is a stirring in the tops of mulberry trees." The educated man is groping after something that will satisfy his soul. Twelve years ago a man showed me the sculptured idols of a certain temple, with pride. The other day when I took a friend to see the same temple and idols, he was full of apologies. He tried to explain them as figurative; and then, catching my eye, he flushed and said, "Well, the truth is, they have lost their meaning to the educated man and stand for something that we would like to have rooted out of our civilization."

Hard times in America have affected us, too. But we deeply sympathize with those at home who have suffered and cannot now have the joy of sharing. God has always supplied all our needs and we can trust him for the future. If I should ever have any doubts of the efficacy of prayer and faith, they would at once vanish at the memory of the way our needs have been met during these twenty years in Sitapur. No child has ever gone hungry in our school and we have no unpaid bills. It gives us confidence for the future and keeps us from worrying. Of course we have no luxuries and we are economical. A Mohammedan gentleman laughed at me yesterday for trimming off the edge of a boy's letter to his patron so that the envelope would not weigh more than an ounce and I could save 2½ cents. But when I did a little arithmetic and showed him what 2½ cents will do for a boy who had nothing, he felt in his pocket and pulled out a ten rupee note. "Here," he said, "take this and see how far you can stretch it out."

Some one has asked how close we are to Sitapur. The school is in a nice quiet place on the tiny Saraen River which encircles the city. It takes us about a half hour to walk to the main part of the city. The two depots are about two miles away. There are no houses close to the Mission Compound.

And now it is time to call on a Mohammedan lady who was badly smashed up in a motor accident last week. I went at once to see her and she asked me most earnestly to pray for her. A little later she said, "If the British who came to rule us had prayed more and been more like their Christ, India would be a very different place today." I said, "Not only India, but the whole world would be different if we were all more true to our Lord."

Our thoughts and prayers are often with you and we thank God for the help and inspiration you are to us.

Yours in Happy Service,

Mabel L. Jones.

REVIVAL AT MT. PLEASANT.

At Mt. Pleasant, a rural church on the Jemison Charge, Alabama Conference, a great revival was conducted from July 19 to 26, 1931. Rev. T. N. Kitchens, a young man and a fine preacher, is the beloved pastor of this charge. Having used him as preacher in some meetings, I was called to do the preaching at Mt. Pleasant. Most of the church in regular attendance was revived. A number of souls were reclaimed, sinners converted, and believers sanctified. They came to the altar and made their way through in the "good old way." Homes were saved entirely. Immense crowds attended the services. People, young and old, became intensely interested in the messages of a full gospel.

I hope that rural ministers will not forget that what rural folks need is the unadulterated gospel. Many urban churches are not anxious for it. While they practice show, sham, and sin, let the rural churches "revive God's work in the midst of the years."

Aquilla Sharpston.

SEBRING CAMP MEETING, 1931.

'Tis a great religion,

A great religion.

A full atonement and Salvation free.

'Tis a great religion,

A great religion,

Living or dying it just suits me.

On August 26 marked the closing day of the Sebring Camp Meeting of 1931, and truly the seal of the Holy Spirit was upon the meeting from the first service and continued throughout with increasing depth and blessing until the last day when the camp was visited with a tidal wave of salvation that swept many lost and dying souls into that

"Fountain filled with blood,
Drawn from Immanuel's veins;
And sinners plunged beneath that flood,
Lost all their guilty stains."

Never was a meeting throughout blest with greater harmony, fellowship and co-operation among those upon whom the burden and responsibility for the success of the meeting rested.

Rev. G. W. McLaughlin, District Superintendent of the Canton District of the Evangelical Church, being chairman of the executive committee of the camp gave very splendid service as platform manager. Entirely given up to the work of the ministry his burden for the salvation of sinners, sanctification of believers and reclamation of backsliders made him a great blessing to the camp everywhere: in his unctuous sermons, his wise, tactful work around the altar and his quiet personal work around the grounds. Lawrence Reed, evangelist, one of Sebring's own preacher boys, holds a unique place in this camp. His life, his Christian experience and his service in meetings within a radius of many miles of this place have so been woven in with the warp and woof of Sebring Camp that thus far he just belongs here where his ministry is always so signally honored by the Holy Ghost. Rev. E. W. Petticoard was with us for the first time last year and we were very fortunate and happy in being able to secure him for this year's camp. What a delight to sit under the ministry of such a man of God; one who places all of his talents under the control of the lowly Nazarene and surrenders his life to preach his gospel to a hungry, lost and dying world. It was indeed an exceedingly rich ministry he gave to the camp and all who sat under his sermons so sealed by the Spirit are still feeding upon the rich feast of good things spread out before them. May it please the Lord to keep his hand upon Bro. Petticoard in fearlessly preaching the Word to bring salvation to multitudes who are hungering and thirsting to hear the gospel story in its strength and purity. Joseph H. Smith, so well known and beloved by the Sebring Camp Meeting folks, was thrice welcome this year, it seemed. The Lord has seen fit so to preserve him in health and strength of body, mind and spirit as to make his ministry exceedingly rich and fruitful. At 8:30 A. M. each morning there was a rush for the front seats in the tabernacle with Bibles, pencils and paper to attend Bro. Smith's "School of the Prophets," than which there is no richer ministry during the entire camp. In this way the Lord has used Bro. Smith's ministry in a very remarkable degree to provide spiritual meat and drink during the years for those hungering and thirsting after righteousness.

The music of the camp was under the direction of Prof. J. E. Campbell, who very ably conducted it throughout in a manner becoming holiness and inspiring worship. Thus has passed into history the Sebring Camp of 1931. Our hearts abound in gratitude and praise to our great Leader who so marvelously led the Camp through to victory. To him be all the glory.

Committee.

A NEW VISION.

Mrs. J. A. Shelhamer.

This summer has, so far, been a busy one. While husband has been evangelizing I have remained at God's Bible School to assist in the daily broadcast. This, of course, has necessitated turning down invitations to hold meetings elsewhere, but I felt that I could reach more people over the radio than in revivals. While thus located, I embraced the opportunity of attending school, as the Cincinnati University offered an attractive Summer Course which appealed to me. I have greatly enjoyed this work, though in a hot-bed of modernism. I saw what our dear young people have to face and decided that we would rather have our children not finish school, if by so doing they must lose their simple, heart-felt faith in the Lord Jesus. At this writing our family of four are assisting in a camp at West Union, Ohio. From here we go to three camps; husband to Rice, Kan., Everette and Esther to Maybee, Mich., and the undersigned to Hortense, Ga.

Mr. Shelhamer feels keenly the great need of ministerial conventions, where our young preachers may receive spiritual help and advice. Many of these do not have a deep experience in grace. Some have taken unto themselves helpmeets of a semi-worldly type and as a result are tame and powerless. This condition prevents revivals of the old-time kind, for a church can rise no higher than its leaders. Husband has caught a vision of a series of conventions where ministers may seek the Divine anointing. Such a meeting might be held in conjunction with every annual conference, assembly, or quarterly meeting; or it could be conducted as a Summer School of Evangelism.

We have calls to England, Scotland, Ireland, Belgium, and South Africa and are expecting to sail September 8. Address us: 1 Palm Grove, Birkenhead, England; or "God's Bible School," Cincinnati, Ohio.

MONTIER, MISSOURI.

Since last reporting in The Pentecostal Herald we have helped in three meetings and at present are in the fourth. In June we had a good meeting in a mission in Louisville, Ky. Brother T. W. Swartwood is the superintendent of the Mission. The Mission was started early in the spring and the plans are for a good rescue mission on second blessing holiness lines. The holiness people in and around Louisville should rally to the support of this Mission.

Next we went to Champaign, Ill., where we relieved Brother Garvin for a while in a tent meeting. After a few days at home Mrs. Thomas and I went to Seyfert, Pa., where we were the evangelists, with Rev. Harry Long assisting us. Brother Long is a young evangelist and this was his first camp meeting as an evangelist, and he fit in fine. Brother Long is a live, clean, sensible evangelist. He is a Spirit-filled preacher, his messages are full of interest and "pep" from start to finish. No church or mission will make a mistake in engaging him. The brethren said this camp was far more spiritual than any they ever had. They have a lovely, well shaded camp ground with plenty of good spring water. The camp is just five miles out from Reading, Pa., on the Birdsboro Trolley Line. Folks from five different states attended the camp this year and a number of visiting preachers were present. Gilbert Goins and wife of Jerry City, Ohio, had charge of the singing and music. Any church, mission or camp wanting good, spiritual singers who measure up to the gospel in conduct and appearance cannot make a mistake in calling Brother and Sister Goins. Brother Long and the Goins would make a wonderful combination for an old-fashioned revival. If you want a saved and sanctified Hebrew for a meeting I will do my best for you by the help of the Lord. Wife and I travel together. Mrs. Thomas is a National Evangelist for the W. C. T. U. We go anywhere for our entertainment and free-will offering. At present we are in a pioneer meeting in the Ozark Mountains. There are many hungry hearts and we believe God is going to give a great revival. We go from here to Baudette, Minn., where there isn't a church of any kind. We will preach in a schoolhouse and we hope to leave good results there. Please pray for our meeting in Baudette, Minn. Address, Samuel Thomas, 117 Eagle Drive, Indianapolis, Ind.

GOOD CAMP MEETING.

Vincent Springs Camp Meeting at Dyer, Tenn., closed with sweeping victory. Souls prayed through at every service. This was the third time I had been called to this camp and never saw more harmony. Very few left the altar without victory. A host of young men and women found God. At the close of a service in which some young men rose from the altar with shining faces, a fine young man, the son of Rev. M. C. Yates, of Medina, Tenn., followed me out on the camp grounds and put his arms around me and cried out, "Brother Williams, that was a great sermon and I want to be saved." We made an altar right there and he found God. His father and mother were nearby and rushed to their son crying and laughing and praising God. Bless God, it works and is good for the whole family.

Sister Emma Irick, wife of Rev. Allie, of Bethany, Okla., was my co-laborer. She is among the best women evangelists in the field. Sister R. B. Rawles, of Clarksville, Tenn., led the camp in song. President Syms is still singing, "No more, no more, no more, my Lord, I'll never turn back any more." Brother Hall, the Secretary, looked after the business in a real business way. The camp food was wonderful. Our next camp meeting will be on the old Hurricane Camp Grounds at Tolu, Ky., which will close August 30. I have some open dates in September and October, also some open time for camps in 1932.

My friends will be pleased to know that our daughter Aubra, has been selected by the National officials of the W. C. T. U. as a National Scientific Temperance Lecturer.

L. E. Williams.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt. Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                           |                                     |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.        | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.       |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.      | Rev. O. G. Mingledorf, D.D.         |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.        | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.     | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.         |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.   | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.             |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.C.  | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                    |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.   | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.               |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D. | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.               |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D. | Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D.   |

(Continued from page 1)

that you have some serious faults. You are young and may easily correct many of them.

Wishing you great blessing and a successful and fruitful ministry,

I am, faithfully your brother,
H. C. MORRISON.

Thoughts On Divine Healing.

DURING my months of illness a number of letters, tracts and pamphlets on the subject of Divine Healing have been sent to me by friends who were full of solicitude for my recovery. In the nature of things, I have been personally interested in that subject.

Some years ago I read a book on Divine Healing by Rev. A. B. Simpson. It was scriptural and reasonable. I also read a book on the same subject by Amanda Smith, the black saint. It impressed me as being scriptural and practical in a high degree. I recall that she gives this incident in her book: At one time a Christian gentleman who was suffering with a pain in his ear and considerable loss of hearing, requested her to pray that this pain might be removed and his hearing restored. She consented to grant his request, but asked him, when downtown in the afternoon, to step into his family doctor's office and have him look at his ear.

The brother came home in the afternoon and, laughing, said he had asked the family doctor to examine his ear and he had found a ball of hard wax lying against the drum of his ear producing both the deafness and the pain. He took a pair of tweezers and removed the wax and, at once, the pain was gone and hearing restored. Aunt Amanda proceeds with some wise and practical suggestions on the subject of praying for healing.

I well remember a young man at camp meeting asked me if I believed in divine healing, and I assured him that I did. He asked me if I would pray the Lord to heal his indigestion, and I told him I would not. He asked why? I assured him I could not conscientiously ask the Lord to do what I would not do, if I could. He wanted to know why I took that position, and I told him I had observed his eating and it was most extravagant; in addition, he carried a lot of cheap candy in his coat pocket and between meals was pouring it into his mouth by the handful. I was confident if he would eat with regularity and moderation, cut out candy and drink sufficient water at the proper time, he would have no further trouble with his stomach. I have not a doubt if he followed this suggestion, he was relieved of his indigestion.

Some years ago I suffered from indigestion; the trouble would come on after I retired and the pain in my stomach was very severe. I quit the evening meal, with the exception of a bottle of sweet milk and a piece of plain bread. I enjoyed this feast very much; the indigestion entirely disappeared. Not only so, but my general health was improved.

No doubt it is quite proper to pray for healing; it would seem that Christian people would pray about everything, but it would be the part of presumption, on examination, to find that we were doing the thing that destroyed our health, go to God in prayer for healing and, at the same time, continue the health-destroying practice. Sickness may be brought on by intemperance in eating or drinking or over work, exposure, contact with disease, ptomaine poison, the catching of a bunch of disease germs when the system is not in good order, or many other ways that need not be mentioned.

It is quite probable that a gracious heavenly Father may send sickness and chastisement. King David says, "It is good for me that I have been afflicted." "Before I was afflicted I went astray." There is a deep lesson here. Affliction gives one time for meditation, for thoughtful pondering of the teaching of God's Word. What greater compassion or manifestation of love than that the heavenly Father should arrest a wandering child and lay him or her down in sickness for some days, that they may have time to think seriously and turn from their erring ways. We read elsewhere that, "Whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth." The inspired writer tells us that if we are without chastisement we are not sons.

We make these quotations and remarks because of the fact that some people insist that all sickness is from the Devil. I can believe that sickness, or indisposition in one's health may come, not directly from God or the Devil. I have known persons to be caught in a rain and be down with cold for days. I have known preachers who overworked and had to lay up for some time, and have a pretty good time of it with their families. I believe in giving God credit for all good; and sometimes what we regard as evil, is good. Remember that the Lord Jesus said of the blind man he healed, "Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents; but that the works of God should be made manifest in him." So we see his blindness was for a purpose deeper than we can comprehend, but it was a good purpose. This ought to afford a degree of comfort to the afflicted, and should suggest to others, not to upbraid and abuse them in their sickness, charging that their affliction comes upon them because of their wickedness. There is much of life too high, too deep and too intricate to rush to conclusions and to speak as if we were final authority.

It is evident that, with God's permission, Satan sent afflictions upon Job. It turned out that Job was a much better man than Satan thought him to be and he got beat at his own game. The harder he hit the louder Job shouted. Job evidently thought he was going to die, and he seemed to long for death. That was a small matter, because he was so sure of the resurrection, and in that glorious future he should see his Redeemer face to face.

With reference to the power of Christ to heal; that should not be a debatable question with any Christian. After his resurrection our Saviour said, "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth." We have a Christ who is omnipotent. Who would dare say that he has less power or less love than he had while in the flesh on earth. We do not find in the gospels that he ever refused to heal the sick; he only asked that they have faith. This healing Christ is the "same yesterday, today, and forever." That he is answering prayer and healing many sick people today, there is no question. I have known so many of them, personally, who have been healed in answer to the prayer of faith that I cannot question their statement, or the fact of their healing.

During my three sieges of illness in the hospitals in Louisville I had a well trained nurse, and she told me that on two occasions I was as near death as any patient she ever saw, to come back, and she believed on both occasions it was in answer to prayer. While sick in San Antonio, Tex., my good physician sat at my bedside until late in the night. I could scarcely breathe and I did not think I could live until daylight. When he left he called my wife out, told her he must be frank with her, and that he did not think I could last through the night, and when I died to phone him and he would bring an undertaker. When wife came in, she and Solie McClellan, an Asbury graduate who lives in San Antonio, went to prayer and the next morning I was better. In ten days I was out of bed. During this illness I have had fine physicians, excellent nurses and took medicine; am very grateful to my doctors and nurses, but I am quite sure, but for the great Physician, the blessed Lord Jesus, I would not be alive today.

Let me say further, I believe there are humble children of our heavenly Father who have a simple faith for healing superior to that which I have been able to exercise, and have taken a shorter cut back to health than I have. God bless their precious souls. My friends, the capacity to believe, and the power of faith in an omnipotent Christ can hardly be exaggerated. Remember what he said about faith plucking up trees and removing mountains. Christ is omnipotent. If we can furnish the faith, no doubt he can furnish the power. It is probable, however, that no faith would have brought healing to Job until he had passed through the sufferings that God permitted in order to teach the Christian world some lessons that had to be learned through suffering. So, after all, this whole subject of sickness, health and healing is a profound subject, a realm where piety and wisdom will guard against dogmatism.

There is no doubt but God in his mercy gives us faith that is easy to exercise. The second time I was hurried to the hospital, during last year, my physical suffering was so intense that my wife and nurse had difficulty in getting my clothing off and putting me to bed. In addition to my excellent physician, I was placed under the care of one of the greatest surgeons in Louisville. After two or three days of examination with X-ray and otherwise, he assured me that I needed a major operation, but that he would not dare to take the responsibility of the operation, that I could not live through it. Instantly, faith in the great Physician came into my heart and I had to restrain myself from laughing in the surgeon's face. I felt perfectly sure that the Lord Jesus would see me through without the operation. The doctors gave me temporary treatment which was very helpful, but I am profoundly thankful to say that the trouble for which the doctor would have operated, but for my weakened condition, has largely disappeared. We get far more help from the Lord than we realize. I am quite sure that through the years of a ministry that severely taxed my physical powers, that a divine mercy has wonderfully cared for my body, although I cannot speak of any time or place when I received a definite, instant healing. I am confident many persons have had like experiences.

There is nothing more painful to me than to see a group of people making a great display of a healing service, followed immediately by a collection of money, and quite a bit of noise, without any visible healing, so far as the mere bystander can detect. The healings of Christ and the apostles were wonderful demonstrations of divine power. The Bible account of the healing of Naaman, the refusal of the old prophet to receive money, and the leprosy which came upon his servant for receiving money, would suggest that we be careful about mixing healing services and money collection close together. It would seem a startling thing to undertake to capitulate on the hopes and longings of the sick in order to pass the collection plate to advantage.

Personally, I see no reason why, except human weakness, pride, ecclesiastical ambition, and the rest, that the church should not have retained apostolic consecration, devotion, faith and power through the centuries, so that always real miracles of healing might not have been performed to the confusion of unbelief and the far more rapid advancement of the kingdom of God in the world.

“BE CAREFUL FOR NOTHING.” MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

THE above command given by Paul in his letter to the Philippians 4:6, seems impossible, but when we search into the original meaning of the word we find an explanation that renders it more within the bounds of finite possibilities. The entire scripture reads thus:

“Be careful for nothing; but in everything, by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving, let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.”

We came across a splendid exposition of this scripture written by Rev. A. Lowrey, D. D., which we give to our readers, as we believe it will help to unravel the tangle of our understanding of this wonderful admonition, not impossible, or would not have been given, but needs only to be explained in order to comprehend its depth of meaning. Rev. Lowrey says:

“First. It does not mean that we should be careless about our own souls. That which is first in order, last in order, and always in order, is concern for our own souls. Jesus says, ‘Seek first the kingdom of God and his righteousness.’

‘A charge to keep I have,
A God to glorify,
A never-dying soul to save,
And fit it for the sky.’

“All this implies serious attention and personal care. The first prayer therefore to be offered is, ‘Create in me a clean heart’ (Ps. li).

“Second. It does not mean carelessness about the salvation of our children and other kindred. A pious mother, whose children were wicked, is reported to have said, ‘I have committed them to Jesus, and have no further concern about them.’ If this is faith, then Paul was no Christian when he said, ‘I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart. For I could wish that myself were accursed from Christ for my brethren and my kinsmen according to the flesh’ (Rom. 9:2, 3). God intends that we should weep and suffer, and die if need be, for others, just as Christ suffered and died for us all.

“Third. It does not mean that we should be indifferent with regard to our present and prospective want. Forecast is a duty. Paul says, ‘Provide things honest in the sight of all men’ (Rom. 12:17). Again he says, ‘If any provide not for his own, specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.’ (1 Tim. 5:8). Indeed, Paul proposed to starve lazy and improvident people. He sternly says, ‘We commanded you that if any would not work, neither should he eat’ (2 Thess. 13:10). The providence of the little ant is commended to us in the Scriptures, ‘Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise’ (Prov. 6:6).

“Fourth. This precept does not mean carelessness in reference to our reputation and the opinions of men. Paul writes to Timothy that a bishop ‘must have a good report of them which are without’ (1 Tim. 3:7). Again, he exhorts Titus to so live, that ‘he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you’ (Titus 3:8). The great general precept that is to govern our carriage and carefulness before the world is this, ‘That ye may be blameless and harmless, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world’ (Phil. 2:15).

“But the question must now be answered, What is meant by being ‘careful for nothing’?

“According to Parkhurst, Robinson, and others, the original word signifies ‘anxious care,’ ‘fruitless solicitude.’ The same word is used by our Lord when he tells us to ‘take no thought what ye shall eat and what ye shall drink,’ but to trust in the providence of God, who feeds the ‘fowls of the air,’ and clothes the ‘lilies of the field.’ The care forbidden here is evidently a distressing solicitude, or concern nearly akin to distrust. It is that consuming discontent with the inevitable, that exhausting effort to accomplish the impossible, which the Saviour rebukes when he says, ‘Which of you by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?’

“The care here condemned is a damaging care—a care that wears and wastes, but brings no blessing. Like two millstones running swiftly, with no wheat between them, which produces no flour, but get hot, set the mill on fire, and burn up everything. Distrustful care is machinery running without oil, and to no purpose, doing no execution, except grinding itself to pieces. The lesson, then, is this, after using ‘all diligence, prayer, and supplication, with thanksgiving,’ stop and rest at the point where the human ends and the Divine begins. Here let faith, perched on the promises, sing its immortal carol:

“‘Though suns and systems swing in curves of light

Through realms sublimely fair,
No earth-born atom drifts beyond His sight,
But claims His constant care.

“‘No trill grows silent in the sparrow’s song,
Nor timid eye grows dim,
No lily pales amid the meadow throng,
But it is known of Him!

“‘He is our refuge! safe on either hand,
By noon-day or by night,
No pestilence can smite us where we stand,
Nor poisoned arrow’s flight.

“‘His presence wraps us like a garment round;
Together, day by day,
We journey on while sweeter streams abound
And fairer grows the way.’”

When Shall We Have A Revival?

We are hearing much talk of a revival. Quite a number appear to have the impression that the first thing we know a powerful revival of religion is going to break out in the world and bring a host of people to Christ. It would be a blessed thing if God should repeat a worldwide pentecost. Some believe that there is something in grace much like nature. Harvests do not come suddenly, by some mysterious power. There is mystery in the harvest, no doubt, but in order to reap a harvest there must be plowing, planting, and cultivation. Is it not quite so with reference to revivals of religion. Now is the day of salvation with God anywhere and everywhere the means of grace which is appointed are faithfully used. Any community can have a revival if the Christians of said community would use the means God has appointed to secure the ends which he desires. Earnest praying, Christian visitation, and invitation, with faithful gospel preaching, will always result in the salvation of souls.

In my experience, both as pastor and evangelist, it has been my privilege to be a co-worker in some very gracious revivals. I have witnessed some difficult situations, but I have never known a situation so difficult that Christians could not be revived and sinners saved, if the Lord’s people would give themselves to the work. I am thinking of instances when a group of Christians have united themselves and prayed all night for the Holy Spirit to come in convicting, regenerating and sanctifying power. I have never known such a prayer meeting to fail. Oh, yes, we can have revivals if we want them enough, if we use the means God has appointed to secure the means God desires. There can be no question but that God desires the salvation of souls. The tragedy of Calvary is full of proof of that fact. The one thing necessary is for the Lord’s people to get in earnest, to go to him in prayer and go to the people in love, with exhortation and entreaty. The results will be salvation.

H. C. MORRISON.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

What think you of a Christianity like this? It is ours,—yours and mine,—if we will have it! Does it not kindle our longing, and do not our hearts cry out for so complete a surrender of ourselves to Christ?—Mark Guy Pearse.

Is There a Question

in your mind about baptism, and especially infant baptism? If so, settle it by reading “Baptism, Its Mode, Subjects and Design,” by Means. We have handled several books on this subject, but this is quite the most convincing one. So many people argue against infant baptism and many times one isn’t sufficiently informed to meet these arguments. This book is just running over with scriptural information on the subject of Baptism, and you will be proud to own one. Published to sell at 50c; our special price 30c; or 4 copies for $1.00. Order of Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

PERSIA'S HEBREW QUEEN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

Part I.

As long as the great king, Cyrus, reigned in Persia the Jews lived in peace for he gave them secure protection. His son, Cambyses, lived only a short time. After him a nobleman of another family seized the throne. This king, Smerdis, or Artaxerxes, as he is sometimes called, was unfriendly to the Jews, allowing the people about them to hinder them in their work and harass them. But when Darius, a great and wise ruler, came to the throne the Jews once more enjoyed the king's protection. Darius was followed by his son Xerxes, sometimes called Ahasuerus.

When Ahasuerus wished to choose a woman to be his queen, he sent Hegai, the chief of his palace, to bring the most beautiful young woman of every province and every land to the royal palace at Shushan.

Now there lived in the city of Shushan a Jew of the tribe of Benjamin, named Mordecai, who had a young and lovely cousin, Esther, or "Star," who lived in his home since her father and mother were dead. Esther was not only very beautiful but was also good and bright and happy.

When the king saw Esther among the other young women whom Hegai had brought to the palace, he loved her and chose her for his queen. And Esther wore the crown of Persia and lived in the palace with rooms and servants of her own.

Old Mordecai could not go to the palace to visit with Esther, for none but the king could enter her rooms, but he sat at the gate where she could see him from her windows and every day she sent him word by her servants and received word from him.

And day after day, as Mordecai sat by the palace gate he noticed two men who acted very queer and secretive. He listened to their whisperings and found that they were planning to kill King Xerxes. He quickly sent word to Esther, who told the king at once. His guards seized the two wicked men and found that they really had hoped to kill the king.

(To be continued)

Dear Aunt Bettie: Many today are thinking of pleasures and amusements, but how many think about their souls, or how we may please Jesus. It is better to give your life here on earth than to lose it hereafter. Jesus died that we may find life everlasting. My husband is an M. E. preacher and we have five children.

Mrs. W. C. Sauman.
Rt. 2, Cosby, Tex.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Tennessee girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I have been reading the girls' letters on page ten and sure do enjoy reading them. I am fourteen years old, have fair complexion, light hair, dark blue eyes and weigh 110 pounds. I belong to the Methodist Church. Dorothea Lee Ware, the longest name in the Bible is Moershalahashbar, and all the alphabet is in the 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra. I am expecting to see this letter in print.

Mary Lee Wilkerson.
Rt. 2, Difficult, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I have never written to The Pentecostal Herald before but have been reading it for several years. My motive for writing this letter is to encourage the boys and girls in their Christian warfare. I certainly do enjoy seeing young people take a stand for the Lord. So many young folks of today think their "good times" are gone forever if they give themselves to the Lord, but we must have a real experience of salvation to really have a good time. Don't you agree with me? So let me urge each one of you to go deeper into the things of God and in so doing you will bless a dying world as you pass along "life's way." I am a primary teacher in the rural schools so you see I associate with young people quite a lot and enjoy helping them in life's problems. Though I am past thirty years of age, I count myself young yet. I am a member of The Church of the Nazarene, but enjoy the company of all God's people. May God bless and preserve Aunt Bettie and all the cousins until He comes.

Flossie Stuart.
Bradford, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little ten-year-old Mississippi girl join your band? I live on a farm and go to Sunday school every Sunday. In Mississippi we are sending our Octagon soap coupons to pay $40,000 on our Methodist Orphans' Home. We need eight million coupons by October 1st. If any of the cousins have Octagon coupons they will give the Orphans' Home please send them to me. I'll answer all letters that send coupons.

Eugenia Walker.
Rt. 1, Summit, Miss.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you make room enough for a South Dakota girl? This is my first letter to The Herald and I hope it will be printed. I am in the fifth grade and my teacher is Miss Miller. My Sunday school teacher is Mrs. Eggert. I go to church and Sunday school every Sunday I can. My father and mother are Christians. My birthday was July 21, and I was ten years old. Can any one guess my middle name? It begins with E and ends with T, and has seven letters in it. I will write to whoever guesses it.

Jane E. Holt.
Rockham, S. D.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I wonder if you will let a girl from dear old Arkansas join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter to page ten. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. I was saved July 28, 1930. I want all you cousins to pray for me that I may hold out faithful to the end. Can you guess my middle name? It begins with L and ends with A, and has seven letters in it. Ora J. Perry, I guess your name to be Jeanette. Mildred K. Wells, I guess your name to be Kathleen. Clyde McNair, I guess your middle name to be Geneva. If I have guessed your name write me a long letter. My birthday is June 13. I was sixteen. Have I a twin? If so, be sure to write and I will answer. Boys and girls of Arkansas, don't let the other boys and girls get ahead of us.

Mary L. Deere.
Box 6, Lambert, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my first letter to The Herald. I am a little girl eight years old and live on a farm in Kentucky. I am in the third grade. I have a little sister six and baby brother one. Mother is careful in training us to be good children and I hope we will not disappoint her. I have yellow hair and blue eyes. My first name begins with V and ends with T, and is the name of a spring flower. Who can guess it? My great-grandmother has The Herald sent to us and we enjoy page ten very much.

V. Elizabeth Chamberlin.
Rt. 3, Berry, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I take this opportunity to thank The Herald family for their letters and tracts. I received a nice letter and tracts from Mr. J. C. Crutcher, Webster, Ky. His kind words were much appreciated. He read my last communication to your paper and said it was good. I love flowers, birds and little children. They are the sweetest things in this world. I often tell my grandchildren a story with a good moral and try to make good impressions on them. I enjoy page ten in your good paper, because children write such sweet letters and so many are little Christians. This world affords no lovelier sight than a religious youth. I think you and Brother Morrison are chosen vessels and do much good with your paper. I find so much comfort from its pages. I want to appreciate our Father's loving kindness and tender mercies. I entered my eightieth birthday April 12, 1931. Very few have lived that long. I have been a hard worker and now not able to do much. I live with a precious daughter, who does all she can for me. I know I have passed over the longest part of my journey and am thankful that I have so much time for prayer and meditation. I enjoy reading good literature that tells about ministering angels and a glorious home above. I want to praise the blessed Savior through eternity. Trust we will meet where all will be joy and peace and no more trials. May Heaven's choice blessings rest on you and Brother Morrison and all of The Herald family. Again thanking those who wrote to me and sent interesting tracts. Hope to meet you in a mansion wearing a starry crown.

Mrs. B. F. Copeland.
922 N. 14th St., Nashville, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Mount Jackson girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am a very poor girl and if any of The Herald readers have clothing and shoes would be very thankful if they would pass them on to me. My address is Edith Jenkins.

Mount Jackson, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my first letter to The Herald. I enjoy reading page ten. I am twelve years old and in the seventh grade. I also go to Sunday school every Sunday. We have been taking The Herald about ten years. I hope to receive a letter from you and all the cousins. I will answer all letters I receive.

Opal Eagan.
Montier, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As all of the little girls and boys are writing to The Herald I will try. I am nine years old. I go to school and am in the third grade. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with R and ends with H, and has four letters in it. My sister's name is Reba; her middle name begins with L and ends with S, and has four letters in it. She is seven years old. I have two brothers; Doye, eleven years old, and Loyd Barnett, four years old. We help mother and father work on the farm. We have a popcorn and peanut patch of our own. I wish all the girls and boys would write to us. We go to the Nazarene Church. Esther C. Skaggs, I guess your middle name to be Lois. I guess M. R. House's name to be Mary Ruth. Am I right?

Lucy R. Timmons.
Rt. 2, Eddyville, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little girl from Kansas join your band of happy boys and girls? I have brown hair and eyes. I am four feet, three inches tall. I am nine years old and in the fourth grade. I guess Esther Youngman's middle name to be Modean and will expect her picture. My middle name begins with I and ends with E, and has five letters in it.

Dorothy I. Lenhart.
Rt. 1, Detroit, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Could I come in and visit the cousins? I am a young girl from Beverly, Mass., and attend Nazarene Sunday school. We have a nice Y. P. Society. Besides Sunday services, the Y. P. have Wednesday night cottage prayer meetings. They also visit Poor Farms, etc. Mother is in heaven and I keep house for the family. Would like to have the cousins write.

Hilda Field.
12½ Charnock St., Beverly, Mass.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I read in The Herald that we should be led by the Holy Spirit. I am a firm believer in the Holy Spirit. I am a West Virginia girl; have blue eyes, dark brown hair, weigh even 100 pounds, and was twenty years old last December 27. Have I a twin? I was wonderfully saved from sin when I was but a small girl, and I love the way of Christ. I am now the wife of a Methodist preacher. We did our first house-keeping in a Methodist parsonage. We are serving our fourth year on a charge. Last year I taught the girls' Junior Sunday school class, and I had the pleasure of seeing a number of

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

them bow at the altar this winter and pray through to victory. My husband and I are firm believers in the baptism with the Holy Ghost. He preaches it from the pulpit, and I pray for him while he preaches. God has very graciously answered our prayers, and given us many souls for our hire. We both enjoy and appreciate Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Morrison's instructions that come to us through The Herald. I would be glad to hear from any of the cousins that would care to write to me. I trust that these few words shall escape Mr. W. B.'s claws, as this is my first letter.

Mrs. Claris Shamblin.
Ten Mile, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here I come again for a little visit if you will give me admittance. I certainly do enjoy reading the letters, especially those from Christians. It means a lot to be a Christian in these days. I love my Jesus and want to serve him. I definitely feel a call to his service, and if it is God's will I plan to attend God's Bible School this coming year. Once I had plans and ambitions of my own. I was far away from God, but he came and spoke to my soul. Now my only desire is to be a soul winner. I can say in the words of the old hymn:

"Perish every fond ambition,
All I've sought and hoped and known;
Yet how rich is my condition,
God and heaven are still my own.

"Go then earthly fame and treasure;
Come disaster, scorn and pain,
In thy service pain is pleasure,
With thy favor loss is gain."

And again:

"Though the way seems straight and narrow,
All I claimed was swept away,
My ambitions, plans, and wishes,
At my feet in ashes lay."

I do want the Lord to have his way in my life. I would like to receive letters from the cousins. I am nineteen years old. I'll try to answer any letters received.

Esther Needels.
2631 Illinois Ave., Topeka, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I wonder how many of you remember me? Since my last letter I have made quite a few nice friends in America. I am writing again, as I think that all those who wrote to me did not get a reply to their letters, as I did not have the time to write, for in those days I was very busy with my school work. Now I am home, helping with the Mission work. I love this work, and I am glad I can do something for the Master. My father and I were the only Christians from our whole family. My father is in heaven now and I hope to meet him one day. All my other relations are Hindoos. I'm glad I know of the true God. He is so very good to me. I want to live for him and do things to please him. I hope to hear from some of the dear cousins. I will gladly answer all letters and questions. I forgot to say that I am a girl of eighteen. Please try to enclose snapshots of yourselves when you write, cousins.

Your Indian cousin,
Rupalic Ruth Singh.
Letcharie Sanioodi P. O., Almora Dist., U. P., India.

Lansing, Mich., where I shall be assisted by the Vaughn Radio Quartette. Home address is 1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif."

Rev. Thos. J. Folger, of Dobson, N. C., is available for meetings. He is willing to go anywhere without making any financial demands, taking what the people may give as freewill offerings. Brother Folger has had twelve years experience in pastoral work and a number of years in evangelistic work. He preaches the old doctrines of Methodism. He would like to get in touch with ministers anywhere, preferably in Ohio, West Virginia, or Kentucky, as to holding meetings for them.

"ONCE UPON A TIME—"

"* * * let me tell a few incidents of real life, told to us one evening by my grandfather," writes the author of essay number thirty-five written for the Annual Church-Wide Prohibition Essay Contest of the Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Then follow the tales told by the grandfather of the high school pupil who writes the essay:

"If people could have seen all that I saw the winter I was night policeman in a small town where saloons were running full blast," remarked Grandfather, "they wouldn't need any arguments to make them teetotalers. Night after night I was called into saloons to take men home who were too drunk to go alone. Such homes! Poverty stricken and generally full of half starved children, who kept out of sight when their father came home drunk.

"A little boy came to me one cold winter night and said that his father came home drunk and drove them all out of the house. I returned with him and found the mother and five children huddling together in a chicken coop to keep from freezing to death.

"Farmers drove to town with their produce, and after disposing of it, entered the saloons where they stayed until every penny was spent; then they were often dumped into their sleighs to be taken home by their faithful horses, minus the groceries expected by the family.

"A team, apparently without a driver, came by me one night and stopped near one of the saloons. Upon investigation, I found a man lying in a drunken stupor, in the bottom of the wagon box. The blankets covering him had caught fire and were slowly burning. With help I got him into the jail to spend the night.

"Never once was that old jail empty, while I was night watchman. Times without number I was asked to take care of teams standing out with no blankets over them.

"Women didn't go into the saloons often, but they got drunk, just the same, on whisky carried to them, and they were participants in drunken fights quite often.

"Liquor was sold to minors. More than one saloon keeper had to pay a fine on such charges—and for every fine paid there were dozens which should have been imposed, and were not. What could not lawfully be handed out from the door and over the bar, was handed out the back."

Story after story of the "good old days" came from the old night-police-man.

"You ought to see that town now," he concluded. "Everybody has plenty and the farmers are among the best in the state. The homes are kept up and the children taken care of."

And the writer of the essay, who in all probability has not seen a half-dozen intoxicated persons all his life, concludes:

"After Grandfather had finished we all sat silent, trying to get rid of lumps in our throats."

TESTIMONY.

I was raised in a Primitive Baptist home where they had no family prayer. I did not like holiness; I did not think one could live it.

Brother Bussey came to Albany, Ga., eighteen years ago to hold a meeting. At that time my health was very bad. I had lived on raw eggs and milk for two or three years. One night he got the consent of my wife, and son and his wife, to start a family altar. He called me up to ask me about it. I told him we would do so, but I did not mean it. I wanted to get away from him. When I came home on the night appointed, they gathered around. My wife got the Bible and read a chapter, and knelt down to pray. Finally, my time came to pray. I did not know how to start. My son's wife came over and put her hand on my head and asked me if I could not think of anything to say. I was forty-four years old, and my heart so hardened that I could not pray. Next day I was riding along thinking of my life, and how I had lived. On account of my ill health I thought my days were few. For the first time in years I thought of dying. The question of what kind of father and husband I had been, was presented to my mind. I had not even been a good citizen. I said, "Lord, if you will hear my prayers I will live better." That night I started a family altar. Next day I apologized to a negro for having talked bad to him without a cause, and also another man whom I had mistreated. I had a pair of scales I shortweighted with to cheat the people. I threw them into the river. I had to back track and pay up and confess the wrongs I had done, and it took me several weeks. One night at a prayer meeting the Lord forgave me of my sins. It seemed that I could never stop telling what he had done for me. I found in a few days that I needed something else done for me. I fasted and prayed. Finally, Bro. Carradine came along, and after the message one night I went to the altar, and after two hours of prayer the Lord sanctified me. I started praying at ten o'clock, and it was twelve when the fire fell. They tried to talk to me, but I did not have time for them. My wife wanted to get a doctor; she thought I was dying—so I was—dying out to this old world and sin, thank the Lord. That was seventeen years ago, but my experience holds good today.

Sometime ago the doctor said I could not live unless I underwent an operation. I went to Indian Springs Camp Meeting and the Lord healed me. I am shouting glory hallelujah today. I have been in the way nineteen years and it grows brighter every step of the way. My wife has gone on to glory and awaits my coming. If you hold on and don't give up the battle you can meet us there.

H. J. Fountain,
Lakeland, Florida.

I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears. Psalm 34:4.

MAKE CHRIST FIRST.

Make Christ first in all your plans,
Take Christ in your confidence,
Make Christ first in all your work,
And you will not want to shirk.

He your hungry soul will feed,
He supplies your every need,
He will quench the soul that thirsts,
Just arise and make Christ first.

Make Christ first in every thought.
To this world he wisdom brought,
Make Christ first and take your stand,
Every heart he understands.

He will give you joy and peace,
And your life will never cease,
He through life will be your guide,
Ever present at your side.

Make Christ first in every song,
Make him first the whole day long;
Praise him for his tender care,
Praise him here, and everywhere.

Sara E. Selle.

WHAT THE "WOMAN VOTER" MEANS TO OUR COUNTRY.

Lifters vs. Levellers.

The following letter has been received by the "Woman Voter" from Mrs. Elizabeth Tilton, Chairman of the Woman's Committee Against Repeal, and a Director of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement:

Dear Woman Voter:

I am convinced that you are rendering imperative service at a most critical time. You refused in 1928 to bow the knee to Tammany and you now threaten to "bolt" unless the Democratic party gives you a dry candidate. This advice of yours to "bolt" is much more far-reaching than appears on the surface.

It is a fact that civilization has advanced not by giving in to the gangster but by lifting the gangster up. And, note well, the lifter has invariably been the middle class, the farmer-artisan group. Rome collapsed when the rich nabob and the underworlds combined and politically extinguished the middle class. Today in the North, in certain states, reaching from Massachusetts to Illinois, the tendency is to shelve the middle class politically. Capitalists craving votes, are combining (in both parties) with undeveloped groups. They draw these groups to them by playing up in their newspapers the wet issue. In short, in the North, the financiers are not lifting up the gangster but tending to reach down to his wet level.

Now, I fear me, that Southern politicians, greedy for patronage, desire to give in to this levelling process that is going on in the North. But if the South gives in to this Democratic-Republican coalition where will the Lifters be? The West cannot carry forward alone the party of vision.

I note already that Col. House is talking about a wet acceptable to the dries—Governor Roosevelt. I hope the South is not listening to Col. House. If they do, if they are willing to accept the wet Governor Roosevelt, it will mean that it was not the wet issue, but another issue that carried the South in 1928 away from Tammany. This would be a pity.

We stand at the parting of the ways for the Democratic party. Shall it be a party of vision or shall Tammany finally become the national party because the South gave in? Southern women, you will decide this great question. The "bolting" of the Southern women and her men, too, is the crux of the situation.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

Bible Case

that is neat and attractive, water proof and will last years and look nice. Price 50c. Guaranteed to please. Stamps O. K. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

EVERY Pastor
Should Have
This IDEAL
Funeral
BOOK

214 Pages

BY A. H. DELONG.

A ready aid for pastors of all denominations. Contains Scripture Selection, Topics, Texts and Outlines, Suggestive Themes and Prayers, Quotations, Illustrations, Form of Service, etc. Over fifteen hundred suggestive themes and texts for every possible occasion. This book will enable you to get up an appropriate funeral service for any occasion in fifteen minutes of time.

The sermons and illustrations are good for other occasions also. A limp leather-bound, gilt-edge book, pocket size, for $1.75.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Kentucky

There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere.

While "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" is an entirely new 1930 publication, its inspiring words and memorable melody are already indelibly impressed upon the song-consciousness of millions of sacred music lovers throughout the United States by reason of its introduction over the radio by MR. HOMER RODEHEAVER, known the world over as the foremost interpreter of gospel songs.

Soloists everywhere have reported most favorable responses from their audiences when they use this inspiring song, because it brings a genuine heart message of comfort and cheer which people want to hear. Suitable for all types of services. Send for your copy now and give your audiences the benefit of this helpful song message. Per copy, postpaid, 40c.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

A SPEECH FOR EVERY OCCASION

By A. C. Edgerton, published by Noble & Noble, New York. Price $2.00.

This is an invaluable volume for any one to have in their library as there is suggestive material for making a speech on most any occasion that you can think of. There are 417 pages and almost as many speeches for Mothers and Fathers, Day School Graduates, Presentations, Patriotic, Weddings, Business, Holiday, etc.

Camp Meeting Calendar

ILLINOIS.
Springerton, Ill., Sept. 3-13. Workers: Rev. J. L. Cox, Helen Peters, Frank Doerner, Jr., and wife, Address Frank Doerner, Jr. Norris City, Ill., Sec.

INDIANA.
Poneto, Ind., Aug. 9-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. E. DeWitt Johnston and Party. Address Elmer W. Harris, Rt. 1, Poneto, Ind. Bryantburg, Ind., Aug. 23-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. Elmore Hanna, Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Wade. Write Chas. Cleek, Rt. 1, Madison, Ind.
Greenfield, Ind., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. D. E. Wilson, Alvin Young, Kate McKinley. Hansel Williams, Sec., Rt. 6, Greenfield, Ind.

MICHIGAN.
Gaines, Michigan, Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Dr. John L. Brasher, Dr. C. W. Butler, Mrs. Blanche S. Francis, and Mrs. Grace B. Heneks, all full time. Write Mrs. Grace Millard, 614 Michigan Ave., East Lansing, Mich.

NEBRASKA.
Kearney, Neb., Aug. 20-30. Workers: Rev. J. Aycock, wife and daughter, Rev. R. E. Gilmore, Rev. E. O. Rice and wife. Miss Annabel Watts children's worker. Address Mrs. B. J. Patterson, Rt. 4, Kearney, Nebr.

NEW JERSEY.
Delanco, N. J., Aug. 28-Sept. 7. Evangelists, Rev. John F. Knapp, Rev. John Thomas, Rev. J. F. Boughn, Singer, Rev. Charles C. Mourer. Male Quartettes from Asbury College and God's Bible School.

OHIO.
Carysville, O., 7 miles north of St. Paris, August 20-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. G. W. Cary, Rev. R. H. Williams, Mrs. Jennie Lynn and others. Write Mrs. W. K. Williams, 160 Wilson Ave., Columbus, Ohio, manager of camp.

TENNESSEE.
Louisville, Tenn., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Rev. John Fleming, evangelist. Rev. Eddie Patysch, singer. Mrs. Walter D. Fouché, Sec., Maryville, Tenn.
Greeneville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20. Workers: Rev. John P. Owen, evangelist and Rev. M. V. Lewis, singer. Mrs. H. A. Lamons, Sec.

VIRGINIA.
Draneville, Va., August 16-30. Rev. A. E. Wachtel in charge. For information write Mrs. Z. F. McMillen, Rt. 2, Herndon, Va.
Salem, Va., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. Robert Young, evangelist; Prof. M. V. Lewis, song leader; Rev. E. O. Rice, Secretary-Treasurer of the Oriental Missionary Society; Mrs. E. O. Rice, pianist; and Rev. Orville French and wife, missionaries from the Orient, who will represent the missionary cause.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ALBRIGHT, TILLIE, Evangelist.
(238 2nd St., N. W., New Philadelphia, O.)
Richland, N. Y., Aug. 25-Sept. 2.

ARTHUR, FRANK E.
(240 N. Waller Ave., Chicago, Ill.)
Richland, N. Y., Aug. 23-Sept. 7.

AYCOCK, JARRETTE.
(2923 Troose Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13-27.

BABCOCK, C. H.
Cape May, N. J., Sept. 11-21.

BECK, A. S. AND R. S.
Glasgow, Ky., Aug. 20-Sept. 1
Columbia, Ky., Sept. 5-Oct. 1.

BEVINS, C. J.
(1474 Steiger Rd., Columbus, O.)
Open dates.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Kingsfisher, Okla., Aug. 25-Sept. 6.
Chickasha, Okla., Sept. 8-20.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Circleville, O., August 19-30
Cooperdale, Ohio, Aug. 31-Sept. 13.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

DAVIDSON, OTTO AND WIFE.
Union City, Pa., Aug. 30-Sept. 14.

DICKERSON, H. N.
(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Ballston, Va., August 30-Sept. 13.

EDWARDS, J. R.
(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 20)
Lima, Ohio, Sept. 6-27.
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN.
Louisville, Tenn., Aug. 28-Sept. 6.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
Kingswood, Ky., Aug. 28-Sept. 6.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Richland, N. Y., August 16-30.

FUGETT, C. B.
Denver, Colo., August 21-30.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Beulah, Mich., Sept. 1-13.
Marion, Ohio, Sept. 14-27.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GOODMAN, M. L.
(Burnips, Mich.)
Boyne City, Mich., August 21-31.

GROGG, W. A.
(418 24th St., West, Huntington, W. Va.)
Barrett, W. Va., September.

HAMES, REV. J. M.
Charles City, Ia., August 18-30.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Open date, August 16-Sept. 6.
Anderson, S. C., Sept. 13-27.
Open date, Oct. 4-18.

HENDRICKS, A. O.
(1436 E. Washington St., Pasadena, Calif.)
N. Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 26-Sept. 6.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.
(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)
Fowler, Kan., Aug. 27-Sept. 13.

HEWSON, JOHN E.
(127 N. Chester Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.)
Open dates.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 5-29.

HOWARD, F. T.
Cynthiana, Ky., Aug. 18-30.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.
(Berhany, Okla.)
Austin, Tex., Aug. 26-Sept. 7.

JOHNSTON, E. DEWITT
(676 Calvert Ave., Detroit, Mich.)
Poneto, Ind., Aug. 9-Sept. 6.

JOHNSON, ANDREW
Toronto, Can., Sept. 6-20.

JOHNSON, H. C.
(406 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Seymour, Ind., Sept. 7-20.
Lexington, Ky., Sept. 2-6.

JONES, LUM
Altus, Okla., Aug. 18-30.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Spottsylvania, Pa., Aug. 16-31.
Point Pleasant, N. J., Sept. 6-27.

LEWIS, M. V.
(Wilmore, Ky.)
Figg, N. C., Aug. 19-30.
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

LINN, JACK AND WIFE.
Oregon, Wis., August 14-30.

LINCICOME, F.
Lima, Ohio, Aug. 19-30.
Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6-20.
Toronto, Can., Sept. 27-Oct. 7.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Flat River, Mo., August 17-30.
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6-20.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

McBRIDE, J. B.
Lansing, Mich., August 23-Sept. 7.
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILBY, E. C.
(Song Evangelist, Greensburg, Ky.)
Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 1-13.

MINGLEDORFF, O. G.
Pavo, Ga., August 16-30.
Columbus, Ga., Sept. 6-20.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Belle Plane, Kan., August 23-Sept. 13.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 E. 13th Ave., Columbus, O.)
Mulberry Grove, Ill., Aug. 27-Sept. 6.
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

PARKER, J. R.
(415 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Athens, Ohio, Aug. 16-30.
Abbeville, S. C., Sept. 7-27.

REES, PAUL
Circleville, Ohio, Aug. 21-30.

REED, LAWRENCE.
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Jerusalem, Ohio, August 28-Sept. 6.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Cale, Ark., August 29-Sept. 7.

SPARKS, BURT
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Normal, Ill., August 20-30.
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Mich.)
Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21.
Brooms Island, Md., Sept. 4-20.

SWEETEN, HOWARD
Portage, Ohio, Aug. 24-31.

THOMAS, JOHN
Delanco, N. J., Aug. 28-Sept. 7.

VANDALL, N. B.
(Song Evangelist, North Reading, Mass.)
Hopkins, Mich., August 20-30.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Loveland, O., Aug. 23-Sept. 6.

WHITE, MR. AND MRS.
Pekin, Ill., Sept. 9-19.

WILLIAMS, L. E.
(Wilmore, Ky.)
Tolu, Ky., Aug. 19-30.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN B.
(Jacoby, Louisiana)
Broken Bow, Okla., August 18-30.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Cleveland, Ind., August 28-Sept. 6.
Delmar, Del., Sept. 8-27.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(Somerset, Ky., 304 S. Main St.)
Campton, Ky., Aug. 12-30.
Winchester, Ky., Sept. 1-8.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on, fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                     | $16.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition
Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.
Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick, weight 25 ozs.
This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.
It has the large, easy-to-read, open face burgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.
It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size  $8\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$  inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.
No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.
It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{4}$  in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at \$7.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.
The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ .
The regular net price is $6.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick.
A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$  in.
Regular price $1.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ , bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price \$1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only  $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4} \times 1$  in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.
It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.
You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.
It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ , only 15-16 of an inch thick.
This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.
It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, linen lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ . Regular net price \$3.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00
90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is  $6\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.
The regular agent's price is $12.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at \$4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50
A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.
A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.
Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$  in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price \$5.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.
The size is  $5 \times 7$ , less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular \$10.00 value.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00
Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.
It has the revised version in footnotes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size  $5 \times 8$ . Regular price \$4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size  $2\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price \$1.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which send Bible marked above
Name .....
Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                              |        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....                           | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....                          | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....                            | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson .....                     | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison .....                  | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....                              | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....                                | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards ..... | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson .....          | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison .....     | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                                        | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....                                | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest, Huff .....                 | .20    |

Biography

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....            | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....                        | .50 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life..          | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout ..... | .10 |

For Children

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....            | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....                | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor ..... | .10 |

Evolution

|                                                             |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....                          | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke .....     | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan .....               | .25 |
| Joeko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock ..... | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....                            | .15 |

Hell

|                                                       |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years in Hell .....                  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor ..... | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor .....          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor .....           | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....                     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly .....               | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....                    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner .....              | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt .....                | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....                      | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper.....                      | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn..                    | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....                      | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....                        | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith ..... | .10 |

Holiness

|                                                               |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul .....                          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....                            | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth .....                          | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....                                | .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller .....         | .25 |

|                                                                    |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....                                       | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt .....                        | .25 |
| A Clinic in Holiness, Springer.....                                | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff .....                  | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....                                         | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....                                      | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..                                | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergusson..                                | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul .....          | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley .....         | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                                              | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....                                | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley .....                      | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..                               | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....                                       | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames .....                        | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul .. | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison .....                        | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....                                | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper .....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                              |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow .....                   | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout .....                        | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout .....                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout .....                                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout .....                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout .....                    | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout .....                             | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd ..... | .05 |

Baptism

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects .....       | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly .....                   | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett ....                           | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means ..... | .50 |
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin .....            | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....                            | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock .....                  | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....                                 | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                      |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper .....                                   | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....                                     | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper.... | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                                    |     |
|----------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, Coward ..... | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....                | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers .....         | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett ..... | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett .....       | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....              | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....                   | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss ..... | .15 |

Assorted

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..                           | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....                                 | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....                                    | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....                          | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....                           | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett .....         | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....                            | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....                            | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....                          | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..                           | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims .....              | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt ..... | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly .....              | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor .....        | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper .....  | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly .....                   | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett .....              | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George .....        | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....                           | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly .....                           | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....                                    | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....                            | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart..                         | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus... ..                       | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....                          | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....                                      | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout .....     | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....                            | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....                                    | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....                            | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper ....                         | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor .....              | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell .....        | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1931.

Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 35.

YE ARE COMPLETE IN HIM.

By The Editor.

A PART from the atonement made by the Lord Jesus Christ there is no salvation; but in his atonement made upon the cross there is a salvation provided which meets all the needs of the human soul and all the requirements of God. To accept Jesus Christ in his fulness, in the provisions he has made for our redemption, and in the teachings he has given for our conduct, is absolute safety for this world and all other worlds.

Again and again, in Old Testament and New, in prophecy, Psalms, gospel and epistles, Jesus Christ is offered to mankind as a full and complete Savior. Faith in him secures all the benefits that he brings to earth and provides upon the cross. We must not, for one moment, leave out the cross. Jesus Christ was faultless as a man, great teacher, miracle worker, a holy liver, beautiful companion, loving friend, but first of all, and most of all, he is a Savior. He pardons and cleanses. His chief work in the world was to give himself a ransom for men.

Jesus Christ being sinless, absolutely and eternally holy, took the sins of the world upon himself. He took the place of the guilty sinner, died in his stead, died for him. The wages of sin is death, and Jesus paid the wages. He died to satisfy eternal justice, to make an atonement, to make possible the sinner's pardon, to take away his guilt, to remove the stain of sin, to tear up, and tear out, the roots of sin, to bring the sinner back out of rebellion into harmony and fellowship with his Maker; to restore man to original purity of heart, and the peace and joy of righteous living, communion and co-operation with his Creator.

This is all very wonderful. Jesus himself explains it in John 3:16: "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The whole of redemption hinges on the love of God. When we sinned against him we separated ourselves from him, but we did not go beyond the limits of his love; his love followed us; it clung to us, it reached out after us; it sent out the blessed Shepherd from heaven to seek the lost sheep; he found them in Gethsemane, he lifted them on his omnipotent shoulders on Calvary. When he bowed his head on Calvary and said, "It is finished," he broke the power of Satan and sin, he shook loose the doors of our captivity and bade us go free. He had paid the debt to the last farthing; he had drained the cup to its last bitter dregs; he had poured out the last drop of blood that sealed the eternal covenant of our redemption. God had laid on him the iniquity of us all; he carried the tremendous load up the hill of Calvary; its weight had crushed the life out of him, but it had brought the possibility of eternal life to a lost and ruined race. On the cross he triumphed over sin, and in Joseph's new tomb he triumphed over death. He is an all-sufficient Savior, mighty to save to the uttermost. Come to him. Trust in him. Forsaking all sin, cast yourself at his feet, trusting in the merits of his death. You need not fear to enter heaven and stand in the presence of the great God if you, by faith, have plunged beneath the cleansing power of Jesus' blood and embraced the atonement in all of its fulness made by him on the cross. Amen.

Yes, You Can Have a Revival.

YES, my dear preacher brother, you can have a revival; in spite of the fact that there is much wickedness in your village and the surrounding community, God will hear prayer and bless his preached word, and you can awaken sinners and bring them to repentance and saving faith in Christ.

I understand something of the difficulties with which you have to contend. I believe that Sunday baseball in a town like yours, is a fearful sin against God and that the whole tendency is evil. Sabbath desecration hardens the heart and deafens the ears of the soul. I am sure the movie, as you have it, with its lewd pictures and its ridicule of true Christians, has a very bad effect. It is most discouraging to have your prayer meeting almost without attendance, while your members crowd the building at the moving picture show. The profanity and bootlegging you mention are certainly of the devil and most hurtful to the community and all individuals participating in such wickedness.

In spite of all this you can have a revival. Preach Sunday morning and evening on sin and its fearful effects. Don't be abusive, but be a lamenting prophet. Condemn the wickedness of the people in plain, earnest language, but be sure that you do it in the spirit of pity and love. I understand that you cannot hope to pay an expensive evangelist, but there are a number of very earnest men who will labor with you without any financial stipulation and will do excellent work. They are plain, clean, earnest men of God who know how to bombard Satan's strong places with the word of the Lord. It would be well for you to get a few people and go about from house to house and pray, exhort; if you can get real happy in your heart and shout the praises of God in the homes of the people, it will wonderfully help to start a revival.

You, with one old shoemaker who has the love of God in his heart, a couple of devout old widows, one old maid full of the Holy Spirit whose heart is crying out to God for the salvation of souls, a young local preacher and an old brother who is staying in your town for a few months making a meager living by peddling Bibles, can get together and cry to God until he will endue you with such power that you can conquer all the powers that hell can bring against you, stir the community, capture a host of sinners and turn the little world in which you are living, upside down and right side up.

I have been in many a village, wicked, church appearing to be dead, people indifferent, but we have turned on the word of God, we have wept and prayed, we have preached and visited, we have warned the people that they were hastening headlong to eternal punishment. We have lifted up Christ, willing and mighty to save. We have held on, preached, prayed, visited, believed and rejoiced until we have seen the little town and community under conviction and many souls turning to Christ.

If you can't find the widow, the old maid, the young local preacher and the old Bible agent, with the shoemaker—they are first choice—but if you can't find them, pick up a little group of what you can find whose hearts are burdened, who are longing for a display of God's power, who want Jesus Christ glorified in the salvation of souls. Nurse and stir up your own heart to believe in the Holy Ghost, in his presence, and his power, and preach with all your might. Don't stand up and talk like a mealy-mouth school-teacher, but hollow, beat the pulpit with your fist, stamp your foot; put your whole being, body, mind and spirit into the work. Pay no attention to your critics, but pray for them and keep at it. Shake hands with the worst sinners in town when you meet them on the street. Look them in the eye and tell them you love them. Go into their stores, offices and homes. Oh yes, you can have a revival. I feel in my heart that I would rather be a young man called to the ministry, filled with the Holy Ghost and turned loose on just such places as you describe, with the almighty God of the universe backing me up, to fight and conquer Satan and his emissaries and win immortal souls for Jesus, than to have all the crowns of all the kings, and all the money of all the millionaires in all the world.

May God bless you, my brother. May the precious blood of Jesus Christ wash you whiter than the snow. May the Holy Ghost, like a torch of fire, cleanse you within and burn with holy love for Christ and for those for whom he died, and to whom he has sent you with the gospel of his grace. Let the blessed Trinity know that you will have a revival or die in tremendous combat against Satan and his emissaries. I don't believe you will die now, but I do believe that you will have a victory.

Look here, preacher, don't you hang around and eat and sleep and lay about and complain of the dearth of interest in your church and the wickedness in your town and community, and get discouraged and go fishing, and whine about while the people are going to the devil. Stand up like a man of God, put your armor on, draw the sword of the Spirit and go in for a revival and you cannot fail.

"For by grace are ye saved thro' faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: not of works, lest any man should boast" Ephesians 2:8, 9.

SALVATION NOTES FROM ARGENTINA.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

After crossing the Andes Mountains by the Transandine Railway and dropping off at Mendoza, I made my way through the Pampas of Argentina till we started our itinerary of meetings ranging from General Pico to Azul. Rev. S. R. Barnes, a missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, accompanied me and was my interpreter. Bro. Barnes has a circuit as large, I reckon, as the State of New Jersey. He runs a Bible School at Azul and has over thirty Argentine preachers and evangelists at work.

Our series of meetings in this section of Argentina were in large towns and cities, and the Lord was with us in blessing and in power as we preached the Acts of the Apostles and its pentecostal privileges and blessings. The sacred fire fell in many a meeting and souls were saved and sanctified. Though everything had to be done in Spanish the Holy Spirit witnessed to the work in all the meetings.

II.

I was preaching last Sunday in an interior city of Argentina; when we started out for a thirty mile drive to the 9 A. M. service frost was on the ground and I preached in a church where there was no sign or feel of heat. I preached with overcoat on and we had a service of blessing and of power. Toward noon the sun was out good and strong and warm. It was delightful to sit in the sun, but now and then cold winds would strike one; these winds were ice cooled as they came from the mountain regions where it had been snowing.

Now those cold winds reminded me of some spiritual conditions. Many a church is ice cooled by the winds of Modernism and Materialism, and many a preacher is ice cooled because he has dwelt too much in the regions of intellectualism and philosophy. Some one has said that some people are so hightone, that they cannot come in anywhere without lowering the spiritual temperature of the meeting. Many a preacher has been sent to a hot church and within a year or so he has greatly changed the atmosphere and cooled things off greatly. The trouble with the church today is, we have too many refrigerators and not sufficient furnaces. Methodism is suffering more, perhaps, than any other church from the cold winds of modern thought and intellectualism. Education takes the place of salvation; reason has supplanted faith; "new gods that came newly up" (Deut. 32:17) have taken the place of the God of our fathers and the God of salvation. Many a fine young fellow destined for the ministry has been cooled off and lost his passion by coming into contact with the ice cooled winds of Modernistic theology. I heard recently of a theological seminary in South America who lost a large percentage of their students after educating them for the ministry. The students lost their vision and their passion for souls and went into business, and why? The only answer that can be given is that said Seminary (Union of course) was conducted on such modernistic lines that the supernatural was little in evidence; the Holy Spirit was not honored; the cold winds off the icy regions of intellectualism and modernistic theology chilled the souls of the students and they lost their fire. You may put it down as inevitable that when a theological seminary becomes a Union Seminary that it will be dominated by Modernists. Many devout souls were glad when the Union Seminary at Santiago had to close for want of students. There was such a degree of modernism taught there that it was a good thing for conservative Christianity when it expired. They tell me the Presbyterians are going to send men down to revive it; well it will only be good Presbyterian money thrown away until a revival comes. Presbyterianism needs in South America the kind of revival Korean Presbyterian churches experienced in 1907 when the church grew from 9,756 to 19,654 in two years. Presbyterianism has had slow growth in Chili according to the statistics which show 1392 members after eighty years' work. Ask Dr. Goforth, that great Presbyterian soul winner of Manchuria, China, the secret of increase and growth of the kingdom of God and he will say, get back to the Acts of the Apostles and the power of the Spirit! I wish that we might have a Spanish translation and a cheap edition of that notable little book, "Praying Hyde," to circulate in South America. I believe it would put prayer fire into the work.

III.

I would record it as a deep-set conviction after visiting the mission fields pretty nearly all around the world that when missionaries put the emphasis on education and schools it invariably is a sure indication that they have lost both the vision and passion of souls and they no longer look upon the mission field as a place to preach and teach the Great Re-

"BETHEL" EVANGELISTIC BAND
Philip, Frank, Andrew, Lincoln, of Shanghai, China.

demption and to plant the banner of the Cross.

General Booth, of the Salvation Army, made a mighty stir in India when he visited it years ago. I believe great revival waves followed his mighty ministry there. He said concerning education in India: "It is said we must educate the people in order that they may read the Bible. But alas, in teaching them to read their Bibles you have enabled them to read the works of unbelievers and doubters. I have an impression that for every one who through boasted education is today reading his Bible a hundred are lost to all regard for God and religion. I believe thoroughly and say deliberately that so far as the salvation of souls is concerned the Christian Church in India has by her colleges and schools done more harm than good." Now this we must admit is a strong saying. I have quoted it from one of Dr. Speer's books on Missions.

On one of the South American fields a modernistic missionary came filled to the brim with educational notions; he closed up prayer meetings and preaching services and shut down on evangelism and put emphasis only on schools and education without salvation. Everything of a spiritual character wilted under his administration. It was a happy event when his furlough came on and he went back to U. S. A. While he was away the native believers and some devout missionaries worked and prayed hard enough to prevent his return. The work took on again an evangelical and evangelistic spirit and the situation was saved.

William Taylor had to begin his work in South America by means of schools. Romanism was so fierce and dominant that it was an impossibility to open churches, so he began with schools. Some of his teacher-missionaries fell into the snare of thinking only in terms of education and lost their evangelistic vision. The Southern Baptists carry on schools linked to evangelism and they welcome evangelistic meetings in order to bring their students to Christ. Their evangelism has resulted in a remarkable growth of their work in South America; they have outgrown some of the older denominations because of their evangelism and fervor.

IV.

I have been looking over some of the old Hymns while travelling; what a pity that such frightful amount of cheap songs are permitted or endured in the average church, and what the Methodists have lost by the neglect of the great hymns of Wesley and Watts and other inspired poets of the Christian religion! The old Wesley hymn book has always been a blessing to me next to my Bible. What a sweet singer of Zion was Charles Wesley, and what wonderful translations from the German hymn writers John Wesley gave us. What holy aspirations are voiced in these Wesley hymns. Listen to a few stanzas:

"My God I know, I feel Thee mine,
And will not quit my claim;
Till all I have is lost in Thine,
And all renewed I am.

"Oh that in me the sacred fire,
Might now begin to glow,
Burn up the dross of base desire,
And make the mountains flow.

"Long my imprisoned spirit lay,
Fast bound in sin and nature's might,
Thine eye diffused a quickening ray,
I woke; the dungeon flamed with light.
My chains fell off, my heart was free,
I rose, went forth and followed Thee.

"Stung by the scorpion sin
My poor expiring soul,
The balmy sound drinks in
And is at once made whole.
See there my Lord upon the tree
I hear, I know, He died for me.

"Oh for a trumpet voice!
On all the world to call,
To bid their hearts rejoice
In Him who died for all—
For all my Lord was crucified
For all, for all, my Saviour died.

"Come as the fire and purge my heart,
With sacrificial flame;
Let my whole soul an offering be,
To my Redeemer's name."

V.

About sixty years ago Spurgeon, the great gospel preacher of London, England, uttered the following: "We live in perilous times: we are passing through a most eventful period; the Christian world is convulsed; there is a mighty upheaval of the old foundations of faith; a great overhauling of old teaching. The Bible is made to speak today in a language which to our fathers would be an unknown tongue. Gospel teachings, the proclamation of which made men fear to sin, and dread the thought of eternity, are being shelved. Calvary is being robbed of its glory, sin of its horror, and we are said to be evolving into a reign of vigorous and blessed sentimentality, in which heaven and earth, God and man are to become a heap of sensational emotions."

These words exactly describe conditions today. Dr. Riley, or Dr. Morrison, could say them and they would be absolutely true. It is amusing to us older men to see what a fuss is made about Evolution, New Theology, just as if it was some new thing. When I was a boy in school Evolution was raging in England. Darwin and Huxley were making things lively. But thank God, that age had a strong pulpit and the vital, positive gospel preached by Spurgeon, Parker, Liddon, Hugh Price Hughes, and others kept the church from being invaded with evolutionary teaching. I regard it as a great mercy that in my young days of schooling and training our preachers kept the pulpit pure and they preached the gospel; we had no intellectual essays on Evolution and a lot of other divergent questions, but the preachers preached repentance, salvation, the judgment, heaven, hell and our duty to our never-dying soul.

The reason Evolution and kindred things have made such an inroad upon the faith of our churches today is because we have such a weak, vacillating pulpit, and so many who preach have no intense conviction as to the things of God and the Holy Spirit.

Education and culture, science and philosophy, have been gods that we have bowed down to for the past few decades, and Divine Revelation has been ignored, forgotten and often repudiated and God has been pushed aside in our thinking. What a frightful harvest we are reaping! As I write this in South America the papers are telling of nations almost on the verge of bankruptcy. The whole world is in a terrific dilemma! God forgotten! The Bible neglected! The gospel treated as old foggyism! The Judgment Day ignored! Christ and the Cross and the precious Blood cut out of the gospel message! What a terrible harvest we are reaping!

This, That, and The Other.

Thomas Clark Henderson.

A STAFF OFFICER OF THE SALVATION ARMY

SAID to me a while ago, "We have a lot of seekers at the altar of the Salvation Army, but not many finders. Indeed, we are asked to report to headquarters the number of seekers but not the number of converts. I confess that I do not see many definite conversions now-a-days." It is my observation that such is the truth about much of our evangelism outside of the Salvation Army. It will not do to wholly discount the fact that men and women actually seek at the altars of our revival crusades, but there is real peril that we come to think that seekers are to be counted and conversions taken for granted. The pastor of a seemingly alive and busy holiness church said to me recently: "We have had more than seven hundred seekers at our altars during this past year;—seventy-eight this present month." I expressed my pleasure in such a record, and asked him what was the membership of his church. He replied that his church, which was then five years old, had a total membership of "84 persons including all ages." I thought then and think now that there is something incongruous about such a record. Surely seven hundred and more "seekers" did not mean that seven hundred different persons sought personal salvation. Every person who came to the altars on any sort of a call and for any sort of a reason must have been counted. Sometime ago I received word from one of my evangelistic brethren reporting and closing of a "great revival" under his ministry in which more than "six hundred seekers" were at the altar in three weeks of meetings. Mrs. Henderson and our son and I had the privilege of worshipping in the church where that revival had been held exactly two weeks after the close of the crusade, and though it was a mild and fair day, very suitable for church attendance, the total attendance in that church that morning was 28 persons. I asked one of the officials of the church about the revival and especially about the "more than six hundred seekers." He said: "We had what I consider a very good revival meeting, but there must be some mistake about the estimate of the number of seekers at the altar. Perhaps the evangelist counted everybody who knelt at the altar for any reason." Evidently! I have an additional think about that—somebody had very uncertain eyesight as he looked at the group around the altar and failed to recognize any difference in those who were kneeling there. I notice that many of the pastors and evangelists who report their evangelistic labors in one of the holiness church papers often qualify their reports of large numbers of seekers by writing that they were counted "as they came." That is a significant and illuminating qualification. It is possible that the honest reporter, if he had counted them as they left the altar instead of "as they came," would have had to classify them into seekers, finders and repeaters. I believe that our revivals should be reported for the encouragement of all the lovers of evangelism, though Mrs. Henderson and I never do report our work personally, however I am convinced that there is a snare in it. We must all be less content with the numbers of seekers at our altars and more concerned that people are clearly saved, restored or sanctified. There are tricks in every trade, we are told, but tricking ourselves into thinking that our first task is to get numbers at our altars in our evangelistic meetings is not worthy of our trade or ministry. There is a great need for more of the older type of stern and searching and warning preaching of the Gospel, more of the older type of conviction for sin, and for real conversions and sanctifications—regardless of catalogable numbers of "seekers."

CHRISTIAN FAITH AND LIFE

Is the new and meaningful name of a magazine which is the merging of "The Bible Champion" and "The Essentialist." Dr. Harold Paul Sloan is the editor-in-chief of this new monthly. Associated with him are some of the strongest and most-to-be-trusted Christian scholars and leaders of conservative thought of this day. The editorial department is both masterful and interesting. The articles discussing current religious thought are so vital as to deserve the preserving of each issue. Those who are looking for a strong, orthodox, scholarly and usable magazine to feed the mind and soul will appreciate this recommendation of this monthly journal of more than sixty full pages of solid and healthful reading matter.

POSSIBLY THE MOST COMMON COMPLAINT

Against pastors which thoughtful laymen make in my hearing is that too often they behave as though they were afraid of losing their job. They act as though their place and if Christians are prayed for that they keeping peace in their church, and in being in favor with their superior officers in the church. I am very sure that I know some pastors against whom such a criticism is not due, but I fear that I know some others who have sold their soul to some lesser loyalty than to the Lord of the Harvest.

IT IS VERY NOTICEABLE

That many of the brethren who are leading the fight for doctrinal orthodoxy have almost no ringing message about conscious and actual Christian experience. They are evangelical but not evangelistic. I listen to and read the courageous men who are battling for the Divine inspiration of the Bible who do not display enough of the inspiration of the Holy Ghost to drive them to passionate and self-sacrificing labor for the conversion of one sinner. Along-side of, if not beneath and back of this battle for orthodoxy, is the war for the reality of Christian experience of forgiveness of sins, the witness of the Spirit, the impartation of Divine life within, personal and inward purity and unbroken and real fellowship with the Holy Ghost. This is not a new issue. General Booth observed in his later life that he was sorry to note that "The Salvation Army is producing more soldiers than saints." There is the issue of issues in all weighty Christian movements and life.

Even Evangelism has betimes been affected by this thing. The fight to preserve true forms of Christian thought is not the only issues to the fore now-a-days, but as great and perhaps greater one is that of the reality and possibility of Christian experiences. While some are especially fitted to lead in the controversy over doctrines, many of us must give our every energy to witnessing to the genuineness of holy and real and transforming Christian experience. People need to be taught, but they need to be actually saved. The church needs to be intelligent about its faith, but it also needs to be sanctified. It is sadly possible for one to go to seed contending for orthodoxy while his heart is dry and spiritually empty. We very much need a great and growing emphasis on the fact of personal and conscious and complete salvation from all sin to holy fellowship with God and to holy service. Why not insist on evangelical faith being married, happily, to evangelism. It does not look good for evangelicals to neglect or slur evangelism.

THERE IS ONE GREAT REASON

Why prohibition is not succeeding better than it is, and that is because we have not yet elected a political party which is wholly pledged to the principle of prohibition. Probably no one doubts that President Hoover is a good man, and is personally on the side of prohibition, but no intelligent observer believes that his party is like him. It has been abundantly proven that it is not enough to elect a good man into office; we must elect a party that is pledged from top to bottom to work for the control of the liquor business at the source of it—its manufacture. It is hopelessly too late to control the stuff after it is manufactured and for sale. The manufacture and sale of it must be prohibited if the corrupting business is to be controlled. There is no control of the stuff when it is on the market, Al Smith, Mr. Raskob, President Butler, Mr. Morrow, the Du Pont millions and all that ilk, to the contrary notwithstanding. The best and shortest and final way to solve this prohibition problem is to get the people who believe that the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor is wrong to quit voting with those who believe that it is politically right. Amen!

THE MEANING OF A WORD OR TRUTH

Can often be quickly determined by observing what it implies. For instance; sanctification is cleansing from sin, which implies a previous state of impurity. Sanctification is perfect love, which implies a previous state of incomplete love. Sanctification is moral healing, which implies a previous state of moral disease. Sanctification is the making whole of one's spiritual life, which implies a former state of broken and imperfect life. If the Word of God calls us to become sanctified, if sanctification is promised to Christians, and if Christians are prayed for that they may be sanctified, then the implication is that there are Christians who are not pure in heart, who are morally diseased, who are not perfect in love, who are still broken and in-

(Continued on page 6)

THE MOUNTAIN PEAKS OF CHRISTIAN EXPERIENCE.

Rev. John W. Veal.

Text: "But perfect love casteth out fear."
—1 John 4:18.

JOHAN is the Apostle of love. He writes more about love than any other subject. Among the many good things he writes is the statement of the text, "But perfect love casteth out fear."

Perfect love is loving God with all the heart, soul, mind and strength, and our neighbor as ourselves. It consists of possessing and retaining a fulness of divine love for the creator and his creatures.

Perfect love is being like Jesus. In the context John says, "As he is, so are we in this world." We are like Jesus in the sense that the three-year-old boy resembles the father, or the bucket of water from the ocean is like the mighty deep. As Jesus was true to the Father, so are we; as he was meek and lowly in heart, so are we; as he was chaste in word and in life, so are we. Like Jesus in our public life, business life and home life.

"Be like Jesus, this my song,
In the home and in the throng,
Be like Jesus all day long,
I would be like Jesus."

Sheridan Baker says, "Perfect love implies the removal or extinction of all selfishness." Self love is the name for that implanted desire of happiness which is natural to the human mind; selfishness is the undue, excessive or inordinate exercise of the principle of self love. There are two elements of love—a complacency or pleasure in the mere contemplation of the object which is loved, and a desire of good to that object. Love applied to God is a pleasure or complacency in his character, and a desire to promote his glory. Perfect love is a full and hearty submission to the divine mind and entire coincidence of our own wills with the will of God, like Jesus, who said, "My meat and my drink is to do the will of him that sent me and to finish his work." A person who has perfect love will love his Bible above all other books. Perfect love will exhibit a trait of permanency and perseverance under the most trying circumstances. Our fears and hopes, joys and sorrows, vary, but perfect love will continue the same. With perfect love we shall love the brethren with a peculiar strength.

This sort of an heart experience which we have attempted to describe will cast out fear. Fear is a painful emotion or passion, excited by an expectation of evil or the apprehension of impending danger. David felt it when he said, "I shall yet perish by the hand of Saul." It is as old as Adam, who after he had sinned hid from God and said he was afraid.

He who yet feels from the evils of his own heart a dread of the day of Judgment is not perfect in love. It is a sign our love is far from being perfect, since our doubts and fears and dismal apprehensions of God are so many. Wesley says, "Many doubts and fears may still remain even in a child of God, while he is weak in the faith, but when his faith is strengthened, doubts and fears vanish away." "If I fear," says one, "I either do not believe or I do not believe enough."

"Perfect love casteth out fear," but not filial fear; that state of heart in which we dread to grieve or hurt the feelings of our Maker. Full salvation multiplies our dread of offending God, and the Lord knows we live in a day when the fear of God needs to be multiplied. Holiness will make us more fearful of displeasing our Lord than the public or ourselves. Jesus says, "Fear not them which kill the body and after that have no more that they can do. But I will forewarn you whom ye should fear. Fear him who after that he hath killed hath power to destroy both soul and body in hell, yea, I say unto you, fear him." Filial fear consists in knowing, loving and obeying God.

Again, perfect love does not cast out natural fear, that fear which is necessary to the preservation of life and salvation, such as the fear of railroad crossings, fire, water or the dread of dangerous sickness, or those places and practices which wreck men's souls. Natural fear is indispensable to our own safety. But perfect love casteth out carnal, wicked, sinful, guilty fear that springs from lack of faith in God.

I.

Perfect love casts out the fear of future punishment, or judgment to come. John says, "Herein is our love made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment." This is the special fear to which the Apostle has reference in the text, the fear of judgment. Perfection in love will give us boldness in that day. None can look forward to the day of retribution with any comfort only on the ground that the precious blood of Jesus cleanses him from all sin, and he shall be kept from sin by the power of God through faith; while on the other hand, no soul can dread meeting the great Judge who loves God with all his heart, soul, mind and strength.

II.

Full salvation casts out the fear of the failure of God's promises. The Bible is a book of promises, a book of exceeding great and precious promises. It contains three thousand and three hundred pledges. Not one of them can fail. Jesus says, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away till all be fulfilled." The Old Testament says, "God is not a man that he should lie, neither the son of man that he should repent. Has he said and shall he not do it, or hath he spoken and shall he not make it good?" Yet many are afraid to venture on one of his promises. Heart purity will save us from doubting, distrusting or questioning or quibbling over the eternal and unchangeable promises of God. Heart purity says, show me the promise that I may believe it.

III.

Perfect love casts out our personal fears and our fear of persons. It saves us from our personal fears, those fears which are characteristic of our personality. Without grace we all have them. Some are afraid they never were converted or never will be, or have long ago fallen from grace and never will get back to God, or they will soon fall from grace; their good works will not be accepted, and they never will reach Heaven. But the Book says, "I sought the Lord and he heard me and delivered me from all my fears." Furthermore, the Book says, "The Lord shall give thee rest from thy fear." And as to the fear of our fellow creatures, the Bible says, "Thou shalt lie down and none shall make thee afraid." "Though an host should encamp against me, my heart shall not fear." "In God have I put my trust. I will not fear what flesh can do unto me." "The Lord is my light and my salvation, whom shall I fear. The Lord is the strength of my life, of whom shall I be afraid." A hotel keeper told Clarence Strouse if he did not stop speaking against his business he would kill him. Clarence said, "You bring out your gun and you'll find me here fighting rum."

IV.

Perfect love casts out fear, the fear of the future providences of God. Whatever our future may be, it will be for our good, for "All things work together for good to them that love God." Why may we not sing and be happy over it, as we face our future? "So without a doubt or fear, along life's way I go; in the fiercest fight I'll conquer every foe; only good can come to me, for this I surely know, Jesus has his way with me." The Word of God says, "Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night nor for the arrow that flieth by day, nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness, nor for the destruction that wasteth at noon-day. A thousand shall fall at thy side and ten thousand at thy right hand, but it shall not come nigh thee." "God is our refuge and strength. A very present help in trouble. Therefore will we not fear though the earth be removed and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the sea." The Moravians sang sweetly in the midst of a great storm at sea, when it looked as if they might go to a watery grave any moment. They told John Wesley they were not afraid.

V.

Perfect love casts out the fear of following God. Holiness knows God so well and gives us such an insight of the loving character of God that we feel perfectly safe in following God. Are we afraid to say yes to God? Are we afraid to mind our Maker? Shall we not say:

"I will follow where He leadeth,
I will pasture where He feedeth,
I will follow all the way Lord,
I will follow Jesus every day."

In conclusion, a few words as to how we come into possession of this great experience. We do not come into the experience of perfect love by the new birth; we do not come into the experience of perfect love by growth; but we are made perfect in love. "Herein is our love made perfect." We are made perfect in love by God. God only can make our love perfect. He alone promises to do it. The Book says, "The Lord thy God will circumcise thine heart and the heart of thy seed to love the Lord thy God with all thine heart and with all thy soul." Hence we must pray to God, look to God, trust God to supply us with that which is lacking in our love. There is no other way to be made perfect in love.

Public Reading of The Scriptures. R. B. SHATTUCK.

DNE has truly stated that, "Prayer is man's message to God," the sermon is man's message to man, but the Bible is God's message to man." This being true, how lamentable is the fact, that the latter, God's message to man, should receive so little time and thought in preparation for its reading in the religious service. We shall here seek to emphasize its importance, and consider three necessary elements in preparation for an intelligent, comprehensive and fruitful reading of the Word.

A thorough acquaintance with the incidents pertaining to the writing of the particular passage is of great importance, that is, a mental picture of the setting, an understanding of the character of its author, and a knowledge of the facts which inspired the writing of the given selection. A few concrete examples will best make this thought clear.

One may read Paul's address recorded in the twenty-second chapter of Acts, losing all of its force and significance, unless there be in the reader's mind at least a general conception of the setting and a knowledge of the incidents relative to the delivering of the speech. The several verses preceding this chapter give the incidents which we need for its understanding. Paul had been forced out of the temple, had been beaten and carried to the castle by soldiers who protected him from the mob. He was in the clutches of the bonds and afflictions which the Holy Ghost had witnessed to him should "abide" him in Jerusalem. Here on the steps, the chief captain gave him permission to speak. He beckoned with his hand, and the angry mass of Jews stood silently under the power of the great man of God, as he spoke in his own defence. With this simple background the oration gains new force and new interest as we see and hear him call upon the men, his brethren, and the fathers of Israel.

A scripture illustrating the importance of a knowledge of the incidents prompting a specific text is found in Psalm 68:13: "Though ye have lain among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver, and her feathers with yellow gold." This is a beautiful, inspiring passage, yet suggesting little to our minds until we know something of the peculiar habits of the birds to which the Psalmist has alluded. Miss Whately, traveling in the East, observed the following facts: The flat roofs of the houses "are usually in a state of great litter; were it not that an occasional clearance is made, they would assuredly give way under the accumulation of rubbish. One thing seems never cleared away, however, and that is the heap of old broken pitchers, shreds and pots that are piled up in some corner. A little before sunset numberless pigeons (or doves) suddenly emerge from behind the pitchers and pots and other rubbish where they have been sleeping in the heat of the day, or pecking about to find food. They dart upward and career through the air in large circles—their outspread wings catching the glow of the sun's slanting rays, so that they really resemble 'yellow gold'; then, as they wheel round and are seen against the light, they appear as if turned into molten silver, most of them being pure white or else very light colored. This may seem fanciful but the effect of light in these regions can scarcely be described to those who have not seen it." She stated that evening after evening they watched the circling flight of doves, and always observed the same appearance. See how our verse now illuminates as we interpret it dispensationally as applied to the Jews, or personally including ourselves. "Though ye have lain among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a dove covered with silver and her feathers with yellow gold."

Many of the deep spiritual truths cannot be fully comprehended by our human intellects, but that is no reason why we should not strive to the utmost to grasp these verities. If the judgment scene in Matthew 25, be read with no conception of the awe of the solemn occasion—the audience hearing it read will respond accordingly. The passage—"Depart from me ye cursed," and "Come, ye blessed of my Father," are not to be read in a common conversational style, but such will be the case, if one attempts to read them without deeply searching for a clear comprehension of the significance of the expressions. The reader should see, in his imagination and in his inmost soul, Christ the Judge, sitting upon the throne of his glory, and the innumerable multitude of angels with him. He should see the nations of lost ones on Christ's left, and the host of redeemed ones on the right. He will then read the curse pronounced upon the lost with the thunderings of God Almighty's wrath: "Depart from me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels."—He will read the invitation of the Savior with the gentleness of an angel's whisper: "Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world."

These illustrations will suffice to show the importance of a complete knowledge of the subject matter and of the facts bearing upon a given reference. After this knowledge has been attained, the reader's duty is to study the passage from a literary point of view. He will note whether it is an oration, as Paul's before King Agrippa; an exposition, as the book of Hebrews: a dramatic work as the book of Job; or whether it is poetry, as the Psalms of David. Having ascertained this, he will read accordingly. Again, he will study it from the elocutionist's standpoint; being particularly careful therefore in his preparation, to observe the fundamentals of correct reading. The positive necessity for the observance of these basic rules is well illustrated in the reading of the prologue to the Gospel of John. Here the proper pauses are especially in demand—"In the beginning—was the Word." It is here essential to pause sufficiently long for the mind of men to gather some thought as to this duration of time. Also, accent, appropriate changes of pitch, and of tone color are requisite to a satisfactory rendering of all such passages. These laws cannot be applied to a sentence embodying such profound truth as this without much careful, studious preparation. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." To read this one verse intelligibly requires many hours of thought and prayer.

The foregoing principles for the preparation of the reading of the Book are fundamental and basic, yet they are not of primal importance. The first, last and all important preparation is the spiritual, through prayer and a personal acquaintance with the author of the precious Book. Without this preparation it is better that a man should not attempt to perform so sacred a part of the ministry.

A few thoughts in this connection may be drawn from a mother's letters to her son during an illness. The boy lay in bed day after day with a high fever which was rapidly consuming his energy and vitality. One of the brightest moments of his day was when the letters, one or two daily, came from the mother a thousand miles away. How did he read these letters? In his eagerness to get the words of mother he felt no pain. Suffering ceased for a moment. He did not see letters or words, or sentences—he saw past these—he saw and heard his mother. Now consider what would be the impossible task of the room-mate if his afflicted companion had been too weak to read his own letters. What perfect pronunciation, accentuation, inflection, and articulation would be necessary to prevent annoying the boy and detracting from the thought. How necessary it would be for the reader to understand all the circumstances—especially to know the peculiar fellowship between that mother and son. What enthusiasm and sympathy, yet what freedom from undue dramatic effect would be necessary in the reading, to have the boy unconscious of words, sentences, reader, and all surroundings, in order that he see past all these, only to see his mother and hear her words. Almost an impossible task it would be, to read thus. Yet—the importance of such a duty as that cannot be compared with the solemn obligation of one who attempts to read "God's message to man" in the public assembly. Doubtless it cannot, in most instances, be read in such a way as to enable the hearers to get the truths as they would from their own private study and meditation, but because the great majority neglect its reading, we must therefore read—and seek to read it effectively.

How then are we to read? First, we shall thoroughly familiarize ourselves with the text or passage to be read; secondly, we shall, by a prayerful preparation in the inner life, read it as a mother's letter to her afflicted son, giving careful note to details in grammatical construction that there be no errors to annoy or distract the minds of the hearers, and be so filled with the Spirit of Christ that men who listen will not hear mere words, nor see us—but so read that they may see beyond us, seeing the Christ and hearing his words from his own lips as the Holy Spirit speaks them to his consciousness. With this conception of Scripture reading, and only with this conception, may we hope to effectually give the Word and have it reach through the intellects of men, down into their hearts.

Co-laborers in the great work of our Lord, whether we sing or speak the Word of God, let us give it, not as the least important part of the service for worship, not give it the least preparation, but rather give it the most careful consideration and preparation. May we read with all the command and authority with which a judge reads sentence to a criminal, backed by the laws of his state. May we read it with the tenderness with which we would read a dying soldier's letter to his mother. May we read it,—losing all sight of self, as we would in reading a Daddy's word to a blind daughter. May we read it as the very Word of life. Read it, comprehending as best our finite minds are capable, that the Scripture is "God's message to man," a love note from our Heavenly Father, he who is the supreme, eternal God of the universe.

Is There a Question

in your mind about baptism, and especially infant baptism? If so, settle it by reading "Baptism, Its Mode, Subjects and Design," by Means. We have handled several books on this subject, but this is quite the most convincing one. So many people argue against infant baptism and many times one isn't sufficiently informed to meet these arguments. This book is just running over with scriptural information on the subject of Baptism, and you will be proud to own one. Published to sell at 50c; our special price 30c; or 4 copies for $1.00. Order of Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

THIS, THAT AND THE OTHER.

(Continued from page 3)

complete in their inward life, and that they may, by the grace Divine, come to the end of all this unfinishedness. "This is the will of God, even the sanctification of you."

A TRUE REVIVAL

Is much more a matter of atmosphere than of methods. Souls can be saved and some real spiritual work accomplished with individuals in a cold and unsympathetic atmosphere, but you cannot have a general revival there. When the Bible is honored as the Word of God, when the atmosphere is warm with earnest and expectant prayer, when sin is rebuked, when confessions are made, when brethren truly love each other; then you have an atmosphere in which the Holy Ghost can work, and in which he will convict sinners of their guilt, and he will display the supernatural, and a genuine revival of scriptural and spiritual Christianity will be on. I have seen individuals definitely wrought upon by the Holy Ghost in cold, worldly churches; in churches where the pastor was too timid to stand by the disturbing truths of a saving Gospel, where the church officials were wicked and opposed to the work of the revival, and where the majority of the church members so lived that they gave the lie to all that I preached, but I have never seen a general revival under such conditions. It takes an atmosphere in which the Holy Ghost is presiding to have a real and lasting revival.

THERE ARE WHOLE CORNFIELDS FULL OF PEOPLE

Who are using this much advertised "depression" as a shield from pleas for sacrificial giving. This is no time for any one to pity himself and refuse to invest his all in the work of God. Many are suffering, of that there is no doubt; but many others are howling much more than their hurt justifies.

ARE YOU A WISE STEWARD?

TWO years ago last winter I approached a man in Chicago seeking a gift for one of our holiness schools. He was a bachelor aged sixty-five with no near relatives living. He had an estate of about $75,000, and in one of the interviews I had with him he told me that if he died intestate this money would go to some second cousins whom he disliked, who were thoroughly wasteful and spendthrifts, and they would receive the greater hurt instead of benefit if this estate came to them. I urged very strongly the need of Asbury College and of support for the holiness work as well; the tremendous need this country had for spiritual leaders, filled with the Holy Ghost, ready for a sacrificial ministry. He visited the school and seemed much interested in the work being done. Twice thereafter I called upon him urging that he make his will in favor of this work. He admitted there was nothing else he had in mind to give it too, and that he was favorably inclined to the institution. I had a final interview in June two years ago. After having been put off a number of times, as strongly as I dared, I urged the need for immediate action, mentioning the uncertainty of the future. I spoke of his responsibility to God for this property of which he was only a steward, and that he would have to answer for its proper disposal or waste. When I urged immediate action he became peevish and said, "You are pressing me too hard; you are hurrying me too much; I can't be bothered with this right now. I have some business matters which demand my immediate attention. Come back in the Fall." Realizing that any further pressure would merely make him angry, I left. In July he went to an Indiana lake for vacation. One hot afternoon he went out a little farther than usual and as he returned it was noted that he seemed very tired. He reached the bank, lay down in the sand, gave two or three gasps and his soul went out to meet God. This considerable sum of money went into the hands of the wasters to add to their ability for mischief and hurt. The holiness institution received not one penny for he died intestate. What account could he give of his stewardship? "I was busy," will not avail at the Judgment.

It is the common thing for those who are out seeking money for the holiness schools and institutions to be told that they must use a great deal of tact toward people with money; must not rush matters, and must at all times try to maintain a friendly atmosphere and pleasant relationships. Experience proves that this is undoubtedly correct procedure, but perhaps in the light of eternity we are not sufficiently faithful to these stewards of God's money. We say a man is worth $10,000. If he is a sanctified man that means that he is God's steward for $10,000. Regardless of his spiritual condition he has to answer for this money. Doubtless there is too much disregard of James 2:1-6: "My brethren, have not the faith of our Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons. For, if there come unto your assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel,

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dries do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

"The decrease in juvenile delinquency during the past ten years is due to prohibition because of a higher living standard since the dry law went into effect. There are other factors in the improvement, all of them taken together not equalling in my judgment, the effect of prohibition."—Herbert C. Parsons, Massachusetts State Commissioner of Prohibition.

and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment; and ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool: Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?"

The hurt then is first to the people of wealth themselves that they are not sufficiently warned of the result of unfaithful stewardship.

Second, our holiness institutions go on in great need of money unable to receive young men and women who are poor and who consequently have to go to state universities and schools where their faith is destroyed. There are hundreds of holiness people throughout the United States who have plans in mind to help Asbury, but they are delaying action. They were going to do this in 1925, but there were such wonderful chances to make money; they were so busy buying and selling real estate, and money was so tied up that they couldn't. They were going to do something in 1929, but the stock market was so active, prices were advancing so fast that they delayed until a little later. They are going to do something in 1931, but the business depression requires caution and they must hold their money until times get better. Precisely what is the difference in the sight of God between the man who disregards his obligations and refuses to consider the appeal of Asbury College and other holiness institutions and the man who says, "Yes, I am going to do something but not now," and who dies with plans uncompleted. At least, as far as the schools are concerned, both people are in the same category.

If the reader of this has a plan to help Asbury College it might be well to remember that life is uncertain; that God makes us responsible for what we do today, and finally what in this time of business depression a dollar means a great deal more, proportionately, than when times are easy and everyone has money to give.

I find in my Bible the statement, "The King's business requires haste." The young people of today, if they lose their chance to enter Asbury and receive an education under spiritual conditions, may go to other colleges where their faith is destroyed; then they will go into the world to curse and blight. As help comes and they are privileged to enter Asbury, they will go out Spirit-filled to preach the gospel of full salvation and to help many souls into the Kingdom.

Special Notice!

My Toronto, Canada, Tabernacle Meeting has been cancelled. Hence I have Sept. 6-20 open which I could give to some church for a meeting.

Yours in Christ,

ANDREW JOHNSON,
Wilmore, Ky.

Your Opportunity

to share in one of the most wonderful "hard-time" purchases it has been our privilege to make. The book is the "Beautiful Story of the Bible," in simple language, containing nearly three hundred stories from the Holy Book. It is a fascinating, inspiring and instructive historical narrative of the Old and New Testament times, including the lives of the prophets, of the rulers and the beautiful story of Jesus and his disciples. The book is designed as a course of instruction for the fifty-two weeks in the year, or for daily reading followed by a series of questions which simplify the stories and emphasize their important truths. Durable cloth binding.

There are about 200 illustrations in the book many of them full page in colors. There are 468 pages of double-column, intensely interesting reading matter, besides the fifty-two sets of questions. While we are writing this notice, a distinguished author and minister comes into our office, picks up the book and remarks that it is the finest child's story book that he knows of.

If you want to furnish your own child with one of the best Bible story books to be had, now is the time; if you want to furnish a relative or neighbor's child, now is the time; if you want one for your own use to help you in simplifying and teaching a spiritual Sunday school lesson, now is the time; if you are looking for something inexpensive, and something that will bless, in the way of a birthday or Christmas gift, now is the time.

When this remainder of the edition is exhausted, the book will not be reprinted. It was published to sell at $2.00, but the circumstances under which we bought these copies enable us to sell them out at $1.00 per copy, postpaid. Don't let this opportunity pass, but send The Pentecostal Publishing Company $1.00 worth of stamps, a money order or currency right away, and get your copy.

Christian, it is contrary to every promise of God's precious Word that thou shouldst ever be forgotten or left to perish! How can we ever grieve him by doubting his upholding grace? Banish those unbelieving fears which so dishonor God.—C. H. Spurgeon.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

ELDORADO CAMP MEETING.

C. F. Wimberly.

I was one of the workers this year by accident, as one of the preachers was unable to come. From the very opening service, the old-time camp meeting spirit seemed to obtain. This camp has been organized for nearly thirty years, and it was reported that, for sometime, it had fallen off in interest and attendance. We opened up July 30. My co-workers were Rev. Allie Irick, and Rev. Harry Blackburn. Bro. Irick is well known to all the holiness people throughout the nation, and was a true yokefellow. Mrs. Irick was to have been with us, but was called away on an emergency to help in another camp. Brother Harry Blackburn is an old Asbury graduate, now pastor in the South Dakota Conference. His sister presided most efficiently at the piano. We have heard all the song evangelists, and I do not hesitate to say that Harry Blackburn is a top-notch, both as a singer, and as a leader. He can put more pep and enthusiasm into a song service than any one I know of. He has made a great record in his conference, and is doing a fine work. While he was in college he sang for me at Harrodsburg, Ky., and from that time I have loved and appreciated this gifted, consecrated servant of the King's hosts. It was a genuine joy to be with him again. Bro. Irick is one of the best camp meeting preachers I know. He has a style of preaching wonderfully adapted to a camp meeting. He preaches with unction and power, and at the same time, with sledge-hammer truths. He and I are as different as two preachers could be, and yet it was perfect harmony. What I lacked he more than made up, and the people enjoyed it.

We have been attending camp meetings as a visitor and a worker for many years, but the Eldorado camp was the best we have seen in twenty years. The great throngs reminded one of the big times at Des Moines, Iowa, back in the years 1902, 3, and 4, when the forces were led by Drs. Fowler, Carradine, Morrison, and Bud Robinson. Of course the long altars crowded with penitents did not obtain as it did in those days; but from the opening night, the crowds were great, and there was not an off night in the meetings. The big Tabernacle was filled every night, and often there were people on the outside enough to fill the tabernacle again. Even at the big camp at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, we have not seen greater crowds. The Saturday night crowd was the largest we ever saw at any camp on that off night.

The people from Eldorado turned out, and were loud in their praise of the work being done. They came from every nook and corner of Southern Illinois. There were perhaps no less than one hundred preachers and district superintendents who visited the camp, and led the opening prayers with the unction of the Spirit. There were very few services that did not have seekers for heart purity, and many got into the fountain. It was a time of great rejoicing, and a veritable Feast of Tabernacles. One feature of the meeting that was noteworthy—when the sermon was over, and the altar call made, the great crowds sat until the close, awed into silence. They looked upon the scenes with reverence and respect. We never preached to more attentive and appreciative hearers. It was far in advance of this camp four years ago when I was one of the workers.

This brief sketch would be incomplete, were I not to mention the personnel of the committee: Brother Harper, the president, and associated with him were Brothers Lamb and Devere, and all of the Methodist preachers belonging to the Southern Illinois Conference of the M. E. Church. We were gratified at the many Methodist preachers who were there, and entered into the spirit of the meeting. This was one of the most hopeful signs to me of the entire camp. We believe the direct and indirect influence of the Eldorado camp can never be measured. We did not mention other members of the committee, some of whose names we do not recall; but Bro. Westbrook, and Bro. R. M. Johnson were careful attendants on all the needs of the camp. Bro. Johnson is one of the charter members of the camp, and looks well to the good of all. We never were associated with men more brotherly and kind than this committee. The camp is sure to go forward with leaps and bounds under such leadership.

Besides all the other good things accomplished, over one hundred new members were secured to the Association, which promises more and stronger backing to carry the work on from year to year. We gathered from various sources, that Eldorado sat up and took notice at the work, and that little city will doubtless give this great spiritual aggregation its moral and financial support in a way they have not done before. The morale of the camp went up many degrees. We heard it from every side that it was the best camp meeting Eldorado had seen for two decades.

The children's worker was Miss Jean Pound, a returned missionary who, in addition to her daily work with the children and young people, represented the Oriental Missionary Society. Miss Stillman, also a returned missionary from China, represented the National Holiness Missionary Society on Missionary Day. It was a most delightful ten days, and we shall treasure the happy associations both with our co-workers and with the management of the camp. We believe the old Eldorado camp is coming into its own and will stand as a great Gibraltar of spiritual strength for the coming years.

GOOD MEETING.

We began a revival in my church of the Nazarene, at Greenwood, in Jefferson county, near Louisville, Ky., on July 19, with Brother S. C. Figg, of Louisville, Ky., and Brother J. H. Fowler, of Indianapolis, Ind. God in a wonderful way poured out his Spirit on the people and fifteen were converted, five were sanctified and five healed. Eleven united with the church and others will join next Sunday. Bro. Fowler had to go back to his church in Indianapolis the 2nd of August, and Brother Figg stayed with us until the 9th.

Bro. Wells, our superintendent, came to us then and we dedicated our church. Every dollar was paid and notes all burned. All benevolences were paid in full for the year. The Lord wonderfully blessed us while we were burning the notes.

We had our baptizing in the afternoon, and Bro. Figg preached for us the closing message. We know Bro. Figg and Bro. Fowler are men of God. To any one wanting a Holy Ghost revival we recommend them. We believe they will pray a revival down most anywhere.

E. C. Elam, Pastor.

CHINKIANG, CHINA.

Report of Brother Chiang Wei Shan.

Last month our report to you came from our oldest Chinese station. This month we are giving you a report from one of our newest mission stations, which station is located in the city of Chinkiang. The Lord is stirring our hearts to do great things for him here in this land of China, and we believe that information concerning our mission stations here will be a means of blessing to you in putting upon your heart a mighty burden of prayer for the speedy evangelization of these people. The plan which God has given is no doubt before you by this time through recent issues of the Standard and we pray God that it will grip your hearts as it has ours.

Brother Chiang is one of our 1931 graduates and was appointed to open a new station in Chinkiang in the month of February. The first two months of his work there bring to us splendid reports of the workings of the Holy Spirit in the hearts of men and women through this consecrated worker. The first two weeks after the opening of the mission were bitterly cold and very few people ventured out on the streets. But the meetings continued, and Brother Chiang took the matter to the Lord in prayer that precious time might not be spent in vain and that he might have many opportunities to reach the people with the Gospel. The Chinese New Year was being celebrated about this time and in spite of the discouragements of the enemy that he could not carry on an evangelistic meeting alone, Brother Chiang put on a four-days' meeting in which over five hundred people heard the Gospel in that mission hall! Praise God! And all heaven rejoiced over the 29 souls who knelt at that altar seeking salvation. Besides these meetings, 25 evangelistic meetings were held in which over 700 heard the Gospel and 50 souls sought the Lord. In answer to prayer God does the exceeding abundant, and what he does for one Chinese pastor he can do for others scattered all over this land, until the banners of full salvation shall be lifted high and every soul shall hear of the power of Christ to save.

One of the first remarkable conversions was that of a government official who heard the drum beating and the singing inside the mission. He came in and longed for the peace which the preacher was talking about. The next night he came back for more. After the service Brother Chiang dealt with him personally and he knelt and confessed all his sins to the Lord. He had been a very wicked man. He told of a bomb he had prepared to kill the president of China, but something went wrong and when it exploded the president was only slightly injured and two small children were killed. He confessed to having killed twenty-four people. He had set fire to many homes destroying both property and life. He did not keep back anything, but told everything to the Lord and humbly asked for forgiveness. He said he was determined to follow the Lord and asked for help. God wonderfully saved that man and gave him peace in his heart. The next night he was there early, and during the meeting testified of the change which had come to his life. He consecrated himself to the Lord for his service and there is a great burden upon his heart to go out and open up other churches and preach the Gospel that all might hear of Jesus.

Two brethren who accepted Jesus were tested by various means as to their steadfastness. Mr. Liu found that his parents did not sympathize at all with him in his becoming a Christian and one day when he came home from the mission, they refused to give him anything to eat. But God is wonderfully strengthening him and his spiritual life is growing stronger as a result. The other brother walked by the door of the mission and heard the singing. He sat there with a lighted cigarette in his fingers, but soon forgot all about it in his interest in the message. He was saved that very night and accepted Jesus as his Saviour. Three days later some of his old friends asked him to go to an opium den with them and upon his refusal because he was a Christian, they forced him bodily. They were about to force some opium down his throat when the police knocked at the door, and the landlord quickly hid the opium and all the men hid. Mr. Yang, our Christian brother, was left alone. They were going to arrest him, but he told them he had not smoked, and he prayed and asked the Lord to help him. The police found the other men and the opium so they let Mr. Yang go and took the others to the police station. Mr. Yang came to the mission and testified that he was determined to follow the Lord and do his will.

A woman who was a cigarette fiend found Jesus as her Saviour. She was very poor and when she had no money for cigarettes she picked up the stubs she found on the street and smoked them. The Lord led her to the mission and the Gospel pierced her dark heart. She threw her cigarettes away and is now living a new life in Christ Jesus. Hallelujah! A Mr. Chu who is a soldier was also saved and threw his tobacco away.

Another who is typical of thousands of his people had a hunger in his soul for joy and peace. He had tried other religions and found them empty and without life. He lost interest in life and felt there was no use in going on and decided to commit suicide. The Holy Spirit led him along the street on which the mission was located and he found that the songs that were sung and the Gospel that was preached had life, and promised joy and peace through Jesus. He went to the altar and confessed his sins and was saved. Amen. He is studying his Bible and is now happy in the Lord.

These new converts have been organized into a Bible Class and they are daily drinking the new wine of the kingdom and God is blessing them. Your earnest prayers for Brother Chiang in his new station, his first station, are coveted. He has a real burden for souls and is contented only as he sees them go on and receive the baptism of the Holy Spirit.

The Oriental Missionary Society, Shanghai, China.

TWO GOOD MEETINGS.

Since reporting our work we have held two meetings. The first one was in a Mission in Covington, Ky., June 21 to 28. This Mission had not been organized a great while, and other meetings near being held at the same time militated against the work of soul-saving, the congregations being small at times; however, some clear cases of salvation were some of the results of the meeting, and the saints testified that they were greatly blessed and helped.

The other meeting was a camp meeting held near Buckingham, Va., July 26 to August 2. This meeting was the thirty-first one held on those grounds consecutively. Some of the most distinguished preachers of this country have labored in those meetings in former years, but in recent time the camp has been in a rundown condition, as it was this year. The attendance on the two Sundays and in the night services was large, but the weekday attendance was very small. Despite these unfavorable conditions there was a good spirit in the services, and the work of salvation began early in the meeting, a number professing to be converted, reclaimed, or purified, and the saints were blessed.

But for the fact that a cloudburst accompanied by terrific thunder and glaring lightning which struck some timber near the grounds, it was thought that the Friday night meeting would have been a great success, but because of these things, and the fact that another thunderstorm struck the camp as we were about to make the altar call the closing night of the meeting, no altar service could be held. However, on the last Sunday the attendance was large, and the results of the meeting were encouraging. To God alone be all the praise and glory.

We will render some service in meetings between now and October 4 to 18, when we will begin our Fall campaign at Everybody's Mission, in Homer City, Pa., near Pittsburgh, Pa. It will be agreeable to us to hold one or two meetings in that part of the country at the close of the Homer City meeting. Persons desiring our services there or elsewhere should address us, 1350 Grace Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

J. L. Glascock.

A GOOD SUMMER.

This has been a glorious summer. God has given us freedom in the Spirit and his word has been productive of great good in convicting, converting and sanctifying power. Crowds have flocked to hear the gospel and people have seemed more interested and burdened than ever before. Many prayed long into the night that conviction would seize the people and lead them to realize that they were lost.

One pastor asked us if we found the power upon the camps as we used to see it. Most certainly, when the conditions of prayer and earnest presentation of the Word are met. The trouble with most of the camps is, that the leaders do not get under the burden as they should. It would be better not to have too many workers, so that the preachers would feel more of the responsibility of the meeting. Two workers will bring more fruitage and cost less than so many. It is a good plan to have only one preacher for the night services, then he will know how to follow up his message so as to produce conviction upon the unsaved. We must get back to fasting and prayer if we expect God to manifest his power among the people.

We have three open dates for 1932 camps. First come will be first served. Always write us Wilmore, Ky.

W. J. Harney.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                                     |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.       |
| Rev. Percy P. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Mingledorn, D.D.         |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             |                                     |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.           | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.         |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D.          | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.             |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                    |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.               |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.               |
| Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D. |                                     |

Open Letter to a Young Preacher. No. II.

My Dear Young Brother:

I am pleased to notice that you have not taken offence at my exhortations and suggestions. I am sure you understand that I do not assume the position of a dictator, but I do believe if you are able to keep the things in mind which I write, they may have a beneficial influence on your ministry.

I have a thought for you now which I fear I shall have some difficulty to express. It is this: The true prophet of the Lord must have within him a certain self-respect, a something of independence that does not crouch or fawn before any man or class of people. There must be something in him that never has, and never will, bow at the altars of Baal, however Baal and his altars may be changed, robed, or polished and called by some other name. In other words, the preacher must be so absolutely loyal to the God who has called him, the Christ who has saved him, and the Holy Ghost who abides within and guides him that, under no circumstances, will he worship any other god, or be browbeaten into submission to any power or authority that will compel him to diminish his loyalty one iota.

You will not understand me to encourage any sort of rebellion against the doctrines and laws that are for the regulation and guidance of your ecclesiastical body; but there will come times in any preacher's life where influences will be brought to bear against him that may, for the moment, appear that it will be best he should submit to that which he knows to be out of harmony with this hidden man in his soul, and where this infringement of his real convictions and principles will "give him a bit of a heartache at the setting of the sun."

Have convictions—deep convictions—not only well based upon the Holy Scriptures, but, as the Apostle puts it, "rooted and grounded in the truth." Be so honest, so true to your God, yourself and the message he has given you that you cannot fear the face of man; that no ecclesiastic can deprive you of your Christian manhood, of your holy courage, of your face set like a flint for Christ and his gospel; that no board of church officials or individuals of wealth and influence in your church, can dictate to you; that no group of fashionable society people can laugh and sneer your convictions away, and keep you from standing brave, loving and true to preach like a man of God of the sinful and lost condition of the people, the mighty power of Christ to save, and the fearful consequences that must inevitably follow to those who refuse to repent and accept the Lord Jesus Christ.

One of the greatest needs of our times is a clear, positive preaching on sin, the sin principle, the lost condition of humanity, sinful actions, the guilty state of the impenitent, unsaved society; not an occasional sermon on the subject say, once in twelve months or, maybe, five or ten years, or not at all, but a series of sermons, and a few shuttles with the black thread of sin thrown into the woof of the weaving of almost, if not every, sermon.

The gospel preacher should always deliver his message with the understanding that the Holy Spirit will make it a sword where the sword is needed, and a healing balm where the balm is needed. It is marvelous what power the Holy Spirit can give to a very simple gospel message. I have heard sermons from unlearned and very ordinary men; their grammar was faulty, their logic was disjointed, their illustrations were poor and commonplace, and yet as they closed their message with holy fervor, the audience would be moved and the altar would be crowded with stricken souls weeping over their sinful lives and pleading with God for mercy.

There is nothing more pitiful than a spineless man in the pulpit. He has toadied to ecclesiastical authority, he has fawned about the rich and influential, he has flattered the society leaders in the church, he has petted his worldly young people, he has sought, by all sorts of means, his own advancement until he has no principles for which he would suffer, no convictions that fire and warm his soul, no message that draws and stirs the hearts of the people. He deludes himself that he is carrying on this sort of thing most successfully without any suspicion on the part of those who are over him, of the selfish game he is playing. His motives are thoroughly understood. The ecclesiastics become tired and disgusted at his toadyism; the rich see through his hypocrisy, society sneers at him behind his back, and the young people, while they may flatter him to his face, have a contempt for his pretext of deep interest in their welfare, when they know it is himself in whom he is supremely interested. The most ordinary people, even among the very wicked, have quite a deal of discernment. They understand men to a remarkable degree. There is something in sincerity that brands itself, that can be seen and understood by a little child.

Guard carefully against self-seeking. Starve to death before you will toady to the "powers that be." Be driven from place to place and preach on the streets, before you will be dictated to by the rich at the surrender of your sacred convictions, or flattered out of your full purpose of heart to preach the truth by the society who may cumber the spiritual life of your church.

I am quite sure that you will not so far misunderstand me that you will conclude for a moment that I am suggesting that you shall array yourself against, or be discourteous to the powers that be, or that you will be resentful against the wealthy or be rude toward your society people, or negligent of the best interests of the young people. What I am suggesting is, that you be true to God, true to yourself, true to your fellowbeings, and that with deepest conviction and sincerity of heart, you preach the gospel of our beloved Christ and Lord which brings to the hearts of men full salvation from sin.

Faithfully your brother,

H. C. MORRISON.

TOO BUSY.

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

THIS is a busy age—I suppose the most rushing the human race has ever seen. We are too busy to eat, almost, too busy to pray, too busy to be kind, too busy to give attention to our loved ones around the home circle, too busy to read God's Word, too busy to do a thousand and one things that would make life more worth while to others and bring a blessing and satisfaction to our own lives of which we little dream.

Sunday morning comes, but you are too busy doing "nothing" so that you decide you have no time to attend Sunday school and church, either morning or evening, consequently there is a vacant pew which speaks, more loudly than you imagine, of your indifference and lack of reverence for God's house. Prayer meeting night comes and you are too busy looking after this, that and the other to even consider that you have an obligation to meet in attending the house of prayer.

Yes, there is a sick neighbor lying upon a bed of suffering, with little of this world's goods to make her comfortable, but you are too busy to go to see her, to speak a word of encouragement, and perhaps take along some little delicacy that would mean much to her famished body and empty stomach.

Yes, I know my neighbor has lost a dear one out of the home, but I am too busy to go over and speak a word of comfort, and to mingle my tears of sympathy with the bereaved ones. Some one else will go, but I must attend to my affairs, regardless of how much others may need me.

We are even too busy to give the loving attention to our dear ones; our little ones play around our feet, but we do not let them know we see them, or that they mean anything to the place we call "Home." How often would the tiny arms love to entwine about our necks, and press the kisses of tender affection upon our cheeks, but they fear to bother us, as we always seem too busy to notice them.

HOW MUCH WE MISS

by being too busy! In after years when the patter of little feet are heard no longer on the floor; the chirping of baby voices no longer greets us as we meet them at the door; the toys will be laid away, and then how we shall "long for the touch of a vanished hand, the sound of a voice that is still!"

Just here I want to give a real story for the benefit of mothers and fathers who are too busy to listen to the prattle of baby voices, or bend the cheek for proffered kisses. It was written by a Rotarian, and was printed in the Pacific Methodist. Here is the touching story:

TOO BUSY.

"One year ago today I sat at my desk with the month's bills and accounts, when a bright-faced, starry-eyed lad of twelve rushed in and impetuously announced: 'Say, dad, this is your birthday; you are fifty-five years old and I am going to give you fifty-five kisses, one for each year.' He began to make good his word when I exclaimed: 'Oh, Andrew, don't do it now; I am too busy.'"

"His silence attracted my attention, and looking up I saw his big blue eyes filled with tears, and apologetically I said: 'You can finish tomorrow.' He made no reply, but was unable to conceal his disappointment, his face wearing a grieved expression as he quietly walked away.

"That same evening I said: 'Come and finish the kisses now, Andrew.' But he did not respond to the invitation.

"Two months later, in consequence of an accident, the waves of the river closed over his body and we carried him away to sleep near the village where he loved to spend his vacation.

"The robin's note was never sweeter than his voice, and the turtle doves that coo to their nestlings where he sleeps were never so gentle as my little boy, who left unfinished his love-imposed task.

"If I could build a ladder to the skies and find him there; if I could only tell how much I regret those thoughtless words spoken, and could be assured that he understands and knows how my heart is aching because of my unkind request, there would be no man in all this wide world so inexpressibly happy as the one who sits today and thinks how he prevented an act that love inspired and grieved a little heart as tender as the mercy of God."

Can We Enforce the Laws We Have Made.

BISHOP ARTHUR J. MOORE.

HOSE who attack the Constitution in order to gratify their own appetites or advance their own interests are doing what blind Samson did: they are pulling down the pillars upon which our civilization rests, and they, as well as their opponents, will be buried in the same ruins.

The adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment of the Federal Constitution was but another step toward the promotion of those righteous principles which have made America the leading nation of the world. This law struck down 177,790 saloons at a single blow. It turned two and a half billion dollars that were being expended annually for a liquid poison that rotted the brain, consumed the substance and damned the souls of millions into channels of trade and blessing.

Nothing could be further from the truth than the statement so frequently heard that national prohibition was adopted without due and careful deliberation. This victory, fairly won, was the result of a struggle that had continued against the liquor business for more than a century. When this battle began the liquor traffic was so well entrenched that its bulwarks were thought to be impregnable. The government gave a legalized status, and the strong arm of its protection was about it. In return the saloon poured into the treasury millions of dollars of ill-gotten gain.

The first movement against this business was the creation of sentiment by exposing its deadly work. The preachers who dared to stand up and defy the liquor interests were called fanatics, and warned then, as now, to "stick to the gospel." As fast as influence was gained it was converted into law. The first laws enacted dealt with selling to children, keeping open on Sunday, etc. Then came local option, followed by state-wide prohibition. The liquor dealers met all of these efforts with defiance. Gradually the sentiment for a dry nation spread. The moral and religious portion of our population kept up a steady attack on this deadly menace. Brave preachers everywhere told of its evil effects. Brave women with prayers, tears and earnest pleading threw all of their influence on the side of a sober nation. At last came victory: the National Congress by an overwhelming vote outlawed the liquor traffic.

Let it be stated here that already thirty-four states had passed state-wide prohibition laws. When the Eighteenth Amendment was submitted to the State Legislature it was rapidly ratified by forty-six of the forty-eight states. Thus the American people, through the due and solemn process laid down by the Constitution for its own amendment, made the liquor traffic an outlaw on every foot of American soil. Therefore, the Eighteenth Amendment carries the same sanctity and force as any other part of the Constitution.

Prohibition has been in effect little more than a decade. From the beginning it has received the vigorous opposition of the liquor interests, who have been supported by a small per cent of our population. In every conceivable manner the liquor interests have sought to create the impression that prohibition is a failure. One cannot here recount the marvelous achievements of this law. Our great economists and statisticians, like Fisher of Yale, and Roger Babson, are agreed that the great improvement in business conditions has been largely the result of prohibition. Millions of pay checks are going now to the mothers and children of our country instead of the saloon-keeper. Despite all we hear to the contrary, prohibition has meant more of everything good and less of everything bad; more manhood, less meanness; more gain, less groans; more bread, less brawls; more clothing, less cussedness; more happiness, less heartaches.

For such results one would expect the people to be grateful, and I am convinced a large majority are. However, the liquor interests of America and the world with their strong organizations and untold wealth are combined against us. They know that unless prohibition can be discredited and overthrown in America it will sweep the world, and at last drive this deadly menace of the human race back into the pit from which it came.

If this splendid piece of moral legislation is ever overthrown it will be due, not so much to the activity of the vicious, but to the indifference of the Christian people who knew their duty and did it not. We have driven the liquor traffic from the position of a legalized business. Today it occupies the place of an outlaw and a criminal. In the name of all that is pure and true and vital in Church and state every lover of home and country must work and pray to forever make it impossible for the saloon in any form to return.

The Christian Church believes that what is morally wrong can never be made politically right. We will fight to the last ditch any movement that means giving the liquor traffic a legalized status. We are not unmindful of many unsatisfactory features in the present situation, but prohibition at its worst is better than the thing we got rid of.

As Christian men and women we propose to stand for observance of enforcement. We are determined to walk in the pathway of duty and obedience to law. The integrity of American character and the perpetuity of democratic institutions are at stake. To win this battle will require the time and vigilance of every honest and patriotic citizen. We must meet all the attacks of the liquor interests with an unbroken and aggressive front. Our laws must be upheld. Remembering the mental blight, the moral corruption and the physical ruin wrought by liquor we will continue to preach, teach and pray against it until it is finally driven from every foot of American soil.—Pacific Methodist.

That We May Think God's Thoughts.

There is a beautiful thought, a standard we call holiness, which originated with Christ. Indeed it appears in the prophecies concerning him, adorning the visions of the prophets of old.

Too often when touched by human logic the thought has been marred. It is easily spoiled by caricature or loaded with associations that make it foolishness to the modernists and a stumblingstone to the fundamentalists.

This message and testimony of Christian holiness, revived under Wesley, Fletcher, Whitefield and Finney, has received emphasis under varying heads and has been the secret of power among the foremost revival movements of Christendom for the last seventy-five years. Its chief merit is in that it involves the Holy Spirit and exalts Jesus Christ as an uttermost Savior.

A convention, definite but tolerant, including all earnest Christians who will let themselves be included, is to be held around this theme of holiness, at Chicago, the first half of September, 1933. The chairman of this convention program was not selected by his own candidacy, and he invites all who are interested to share with him their suggestions on the talent and topics of the program, which should be tentatively outlined by the close of 1931.

JOHN PAUL,

Chairman of Program Committee, World Conference for the Promotion of Holiness, 1410 N. LaSalle St., Chicago, Ill.

My Sinner Friends—May God Bless Them.

My heart has been moved and warmed by the glad helping hand of my sinner friends at Pentecostal Park. We set up this camp some thirty-two years ago; used tents for several years, under which many sinners were converted and a number of believers sanctified. All of the older people who were sanctified in the earlier years of the camp have gone shouting home to glory; as I think of them my heart rejoices at the thought of meeting them in Father's House. Two of the most useful preachers in the Louisville Conference are products of this camp. They have won many souls to Christ. Full salvation gospel seed is most productive; it multiplies and spreads abroad.

We erected a tabernacle, but it was badly arranged; the seats were uncomfortable, most of them just the hard side of the plank with no back. The Lord blessed the work for a time, but I was forced because of the burdens of the College and HERALD, and other things, to work in other fields, and the camp ran down. God laid it on my heart to go down last summer and we had a basket dinner one Sunday. The brethren preached for several days, and we proposed a new tabernacle. They tore down the old building, put up a new one, far better than the first. Several devout Christian men led the work. The neighbors came in from all about and the work went forward. The most expensive part was the lumber making comfortable seats, and we had to hire carpenters for that work.

But I am thinking of the unconverted men who have rendered such help, and manifested such an interest in the work. Fifty-six years ago I plowed this hillside; it is a beautiful forest now. Tomorrow, August 20, I put my old hands to the gospel plow for the salvation of these people so dear to my heart. May the blessed Trinity lead, empower and save. I shall write of the meeting later.

H. C. MORRISON.

"How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?" Hebrews 2:3.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

PERSIA'S HEBREW QUEEN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

Part II.

Now there was in the kingdom of Persia at this time a man named Haman, who arose to great favor with the king. The king asked his advice in all his decisions and permitted him any favor he asked, so that everyone came to realize that Haman's power was next to that of the king. Of course, all this made Haman very proud and he made a rule in the kingdom that whenever he passed along the streets everyone in his presence must bow their faces to the ground.

But Mordecai, the queen's cousin who sat at the gate every day, waiting for a message from the queen—would not bow down his face before any man, but only before God. When Haman discovered that the old man by the gate was a Jew he was furious to think that one of this hated race should dare to show such scorn to the powerful friend of the king. His pride was so deeply hurt that he planned a most terrible revenge on the quiet old Jew, and on all his people.

One day when Haman sat at lunch with Ahasuerus he said to him, "Oh king, there is a race of people in your land who do not obey your laws. Not only that but they set up laws of their own which hold them apart from all other people. This is not well, and it would be wise to destroy the whole race. If the king will permit me to pass a law whereby this strange people may be put to death, I will pay all the cost of their destruction."

The king knew nothing or cared nothing for the Jews and since he believed all that Haman said, he took the ring from his finger on which was his great gold seal, and giving it to Haman said, "Write the law as you choose, and do as you please with this strange people."

Haman was delighted and had a law written at once by which all the Jews throughout Persia were to be destroyed on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month. And as a reward for killing them, the murderer was to receive all the money, garments and any other wealth to be found in their houses. Many copies of this terrible law were sent throughout the Empire, stamped with the royal seal of Ahasuerus.

All the people marvelled at this strange decree for the Jews had been guilty of no wrong doing nor any evil against the king. But since many of the Jews in the empire were very wealthy, their enemies were glad to destroy them and seize their riches.

(To be continued)

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a West Virginia girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I belong to the Methodist Church and attend every Sunday. I also take part in Epworth League. I am fifteen years old, five feet, three inches tall, have light brown hair, blue eyes and fair complexion. My birthday is Dec. 30. Have I a twin? If so, please write. I saw a twin in the paper not long ago but failed to write. The first name was Ruby.

Luella Florence Martin.
Kirby, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Please allow me to come in again to see you as it has been some time since I have written to you and the cousins. I am glad to see so many boys and girls who are Christians. Miss Elizabeth Mae Noe, I am glad you read a chapter in the Bible every day and say the Lord's Prayer every night. I am the superintendent of the Allenton M. E. Church, and a teacher of the young folks class. I don't feel like I am able to do very much but I am willing to do anything the Lord wants me to do. I am determined to do the Lord's will. I am a mother of five children. I like to go to Sunday school and church. Our preacher is Rev. C. Postom.

Mrs. Mary T. Ender.
Allenton, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band? A dear friend subscribed for The Herald for mother. I am glad the Lord saved me and sanctified me. Jesus is so good to us, but some people don't thank him for what they have. Jesus has called me to go out and tell sinners about him. If I go out to tell sinners about Jesus I will have to study the Bible. Pray that Jesus will open the way for me. I would like to get letters from girls and boys. I won't promise to answer all letters received for I might get as many as one girl did; she got 100. I hope Mr. W. B. won't get this letter.

Venie Taylor.
Rt. 1, Lindale, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band of boys and girls? Grandfather takes The Herald and I always like to read it, especially page ten. Wake up, Mississippi boys and girls! Don't let the other states beat us, for I'm sure we enjoy reading the letters as well as they do. My birthday is March 9. Have I a twin? I am eleven years of age. I am in the fifth grade. I have fair complexion, light long curly hair and weigh eighty pounds. I am four feet, five inches tall. If I have a twin I will be glad to hear from you. Will enjoy corresponding with any of the cousins.

Eunice Craft.
Raleigh, Miss.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let me join your boys and girls for the first time? I am a mountain girl. I go to the President Hoover mountain school. Miss Christine Vest is my teacher. I like her fine. My age is fifteen. I have blue eyes and fair complexion. I would like to hear from all the boys and girls. I have four brothers and five sisters. My little brother has been to the hospital and had an operation. We live way up in the mountains and have a large family. If any of the cousins have clothing we would greatly appreciate it. Our baby is one year old.

Rosa Hurt.
Syria, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you give me space for a short chat? Sister and I are spending our vacation with our grandmother and grandfather. They take The Herald and I enjoy reading page ten. My home is at Alachua, Fla. We ship corn, beans, watermelons and cucumbers. Alachua is noted for Tung Oil. My cousin gave a fish fry Friday and I enjoyed swimming and being with the crowd. I enjoy going to Sunday school and go to Sunday school every Sunday I can. I have been attending League every Sunday I've been here. I am a girl twelve years old and am in the seventh grade at school. Good-by to Aunt Bettie and all the cousins. I will answer all letters that I receive.

Alice Blanche McCullough.
Box 71, Lee, Fla.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here I come praising God for victory down in my soul. I feel like traveling on. He is so dear to me since I found him. I wrote to The Herald once before and thank Aunt Bettie for printing it. I received a few letters but hope to receive many more. Since I wrote about three and a half years ago I have been saved. I am glad so many of the cousins are Christians. I only wish every one was living for Christ. I'm five feet, two inches tall, weigh nearly 100 pounds. I have red hair (long), and am fifteen years old. Has any one my birthday, Oct. 3? If so, please write to me. Daddy takes The Herald and we all enjoy reading it. I don't know what we would do without it.

Pansy Wade.
Box 108, Hundred, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Hello, Aunt Bettie and all of the cousins. Would you object if I should step in a few minutes and have a little chat with you? I have dark brown hair and eyes, have dark complexion, my height is 65 inches, and I weigh 113 pounds. Can anyone guess my first name? It begins with S and ends with H, and has five letters in it. The ones who guess it I will write them a letter. I will be in the eighth grade at school this year. My teacher is Mrs. Daisy Baker. I like her fine. We live on a farm near Normal and I enjoy farm life. I enjoy reading The Herald, especially our Girls and Boys' Page. Grandpa died May 14, and we sure do miss him. He enjoyed reading The Herald and many other religious papers and books. We attended the camp meeting at Normal last year and intend to go this year. They have some fine preaching. Rev. C. B. Fuggett and Rev. J. C. Long were the evangelists. Pearl Morris and Eunice Taulbee, I enjoyed your letters in The Herald. I am saving a lot of the interesting articles of The Herald to make a scrapbook.

Josephine Dunn.
Rt. 2, Normal, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I have written twice before to your wonderful Christian Herald and have had my letters printed. I promised God if he would let me pass in my school work that I would testify through this paper of his goodness and kindness to me. I received my report card the other day and decided to write to The Herald. The last letter to The Herald made me several pen pals and as I like to receive letters from people from different people I would like to hear from all who would care to write. I will always be thankful for what Jesus Christ has done for me.

Eva Vincent.
Spofford, Texas.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little girl from Oklahoma join your little band of boys and girls? We take The Pentecostal Herald and I like to read page ten. I am thirteen years old, four feet, nine and one-half inches tall, and I have brown hair. I belong to the Methodist Church at Roosevelt. I will be in the eighth grade next year. If you can guess my middle name write to me. It starts with R and ends with A, and has four letters in it.

Leacie R. Foster.
Roosevelt, Okla.

Dear Aunt Bettie: My! how time does fly! It has been two years since I have written to you. This year I finished high school. I am going on to college this fall. I was eighteen years old May 4. I still enjoy reading The Pentecostal Herald. I have several correspondent friends yet from my last letter to you. I surely enjoy writing to them. I still work in the 4H Club work. Last year I was sent as a representative to Columbia, from my county as the outstanding leader and as style girl. I received fifteen dollars from the Burlington R. R. for receiving the leadership honor. I still have my Sunday school class, and it has grown in number, considerable. I will not write more, but in closing I want to say "hello" to my far-away correspondent friends and I will be glad to hear from many more and promise to answer all letters I receive; also, I will exchange snapshots with anyone wishing to.

Beulah Flo Westcott.
Turney, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: It has been so long since I chatted on page ten. Perhaps you take me for a stranger, but not so. I am keeping up with all of you through the dear old Herald. We have a dear mother of Israel in our home who is so very deaf, but loves to read the Bible, hence we formed a class of eight of us and she reads to us and we sing and have prayer. We enjoy it very much. Will you please to pray for us that we may not become discouraged but ever press onward and upward.

Lizzie M. Perry.
Protestant Home, Rt. 9, Wash. Ave.,
Evansville, Ind.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Georgia girl join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter to the Children's Page. I am eight years old and will be in the fourth grade next year. Mother takes The Pentecostal Herald. I like to read page ten and know what other boys and girls are doing. I wonder how many of the cousins are trying to live right. I am doing my best to live

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

right. I go to Sunday school every Sunday I can. Our class is memorizing the Twenty-third Psalm. I think the cousins ought to memorize all the verses we can while we are little. Who has my birthday, Nov. 16? Guess what my middle name is. It begins with R and end with H, and has four letters in it. Hope you can print this one as it is my first.

Clara Riggs.
Manassas, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes one from the Ozark region, within a short distance from the setting of "The Shepherd of the Hills." Some day, the Lord willing, I hope to visit that section. But I can feel the rugged strength of the hills where I live and often think of what the Psalmist said "I will look unto the hills from whence cometh my strength." I'm sure that David was a keen lover of the beauties of God's creation, nor did he forget to whom praise belonged. We sometimes forget to whom we owe all of the innumerable blessings and mercies, don't we? Just now it is almost impossible for me to take much of an active part in the work of the Kingdom but I know that God understands all about it so I will just abide in his goodness. But I have lately discovered a talent which God has given me and for which I thank him every time I use it, and I trust that through it, I may send a message to countless more than the few with whom I come in daily contact. That talent is for composing poetry (I trust it is that in the true sense) and I am sending one of my poems with this letter and pray God to bless it to many. Now my letter seems to be getting quite lengthy and I mustn't monopolize the floor. On Oct. 8th, if I live, I shall be 49 years young, so you see that I have but a short time to live until I reach the three score years and ten. Am five feet, eight inches tall, brown hair (not very gray yet) and brown eyes and weigh about 180 pounds. If any of you cousins are making up a poetical scrapbook and would like any of my poems, I shall be pleased to hear from you. And now I will say au revoir and my love to all of you.

Mrs. Eleanor A. Tatman.
Newburg, Mo.

Highway of Faith.

I am happy in the Savior
In His saving, cleansing power,
And I feel His Holy Spirit
In my soul each day and hour.
I was worn, sick and weary,
When unto the cross I came,
Now I'm filled with joy eternal
Just through faith in his great Name.
Though the way looks dark before me
Though I know not what betide,
He will be to me a shepherd,
My stumbling footsteps He will guide.
Would you know this blessed comfort?

From your sins would you be free?
Then just come in faith to Jesus,
Who rich blessings has for thee.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES

in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

"HE MAKETH THE STORM A CALM."

Everette Shelhamer.

"He maketh the storm a calm"—
What comforting words, tossed soul!
He holdeth the seas in His right hand with ease,
And the tempests are in His control—
The tempests are in His control.

"He maketh the storm a calm"—
He did it on blue Galilee:
When He spoke, "Peace be still," every huge wat'ry hill
Melted smooth as a soft mossy lea,
As smooth as a soft mossy lea.

"He maketh the storm a calm"—
He did for the man in the tombs:
Though his spirit was wild, he was calmed as a child,
When the Master dispersed all his glooms—
Our Master dispelled demon-glooms!

"He maketh the storm a calm"—
I am sure, for He did it for me;
When my soul could not rest—to His sweet, tender breast
He drew it compassionately,
He kissed it in love tenderly.

"He maketh the storm a calm"—
Let Him do it for thee, troubled heart;
Let Him banish thy fears, and dry all thy tears,
And His presence and peace now impart—
His wonderful peace now impart.

Written between Sargon and Singapore.

ASLEEP.

M. M. McGrary.

Sam Jones was once holding meetings in Philadelphia; a wealthy woman invited him and a number of preachers to dinner one evening, after the meetings ended. She became very ill. The husband announced the doctors would let no one in her room but
Mr. Jones. When Mr. Jones returned to the dining room the husband asked,
"How is the wife?" Mr. Jones said,
"Man! Do you realize your wife is dying and those doctors are putting her to sleep?"

There is a lethargy over many of those who profess to have the life of God indwelling within them. Our Lord said the Laodicean age of the church would be lukewarm, that might mean drowsy, or indifferent. Laodi-cean might mean age of the laity,— when the people will rule,—but the condition is to be sleepy, lukewarm, indifferent. If you do not think we are living in this very age, look around.
Are there as many praying people as there were thirty years ago? Are the young folks praying as they did thirty years ago? An infidel said, If I believed what you Christians say you believe I would go to every house and warn them of eternity.

If God has committed these truths to us should we want to tell others. A legend tells of one who had a dream in which an angel asked our Lord,
Who will carry on the work on earth until you return? Our Lord, (in the dream) answered, "It will be carried on by those individual Christians on earth." The angel asked, "And, if they fail, what?" The reply was,
"The work will fail to be completed."

None but the Holy Spirit can win a soul to Christ, but he asks us to be channels emptied of self and selfish desires through which he can flow his word.

Does he not picture these days by saying, "And they all slept." The five foolish virgins who did not go ahead and keep awake and get sufficient oil in their lamps were asleep; but did the other five warn them the time was approaching? Were they awake?
Were they about their Master's business? Were the five wise not drowsy until the cry, Behold he cometh?

Paul, under the unction and inspiration faithfully warns us not to be children of the night, not to be asleep at this time. He is talking of the Lord's return and says don't be children of the night, stumbling around sleepily in the dark. You have heard the word of God. He wrote them in 2 Thess. 2:13; he was thankful that they had received it as God's word and not man's. So he thinks the word should be a lamp to their feet and a light to their path. That the entrance of God's word should be light; that they should not be in darkness, that that day—the day of our Lord's return,—should overtake them unawares, but to be awake and have on the whole armor (1 Thess. 5:8).

God knew there would be many asleep or lukewarm, but here he is pleading and warning us not to be sleepy.

If Satan can give us a lotion to ease the anxiety; to get us to be at ease in Zion; to ask for more power to sit in a rocking chair; to point out the great scientific discoveries, our great educational systems, our humanitarian efforts; and say to us, Don't get fanatical, or over zealous, the world is growing better, he will be lulling us
to sleep.

A little girl was bitten by a serpent.
The doctor treated her for bee sting.
She died in a few hours. To tell people the church is wide awake is treating for bee sting.

The President of New York City's largest bank, said a couple of years ago, "False optimism is going to ruin our country." Have his words come true, temporarily? Cry aloud, spare not. Isa. 51:9 reads, "Awake, awake, put on thy strength." That was a prayer to God but it can be applied to
The Church today, as we read in 52:1,
"Awake, awake, put on thy strength
O Zion;" and verse 2, "Shake thyself from the dust."

"Why sleep ye? rise and pray."
Luke 22:46. While we sleep men are sowing tares of Christian Science, modernism, world growing better, humanism, universalism, or its twin sister, Final Reconciliation. Lulling people to sleep by saying, no need of repentance, just believe, sowing seed among rocky ground where they receive the easy way joyfully. Let us get awake and tell of the necessity of soul exercise and heartfelt repentance.
The Lord is at hand. "Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober." 1 Thess. 5:6.

THE NARROW WAY.

Some one said of a friend of mine,
"Oh, but she is narrow, she is so awfully narrow." I did not ask just what was meant by narrow, for I thought I understood well enough. We hear a lot of talk these days about
"narrow people." But I wondered, and wondering still. I read in God's word: Matt. 7:13, 14, "Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat: for strait is the gate and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life and few there be that find it." And then Luke 13:24, mark ev-

Adam Clarke---Great Commentary

Dr. Clarke was one of a long succession of men who,
in every age of the Christian Church, have applied the best energies of their intellect and heart to the study and interpretation of the Scriptures. The seven gifts which, according to Augustine, the true expositor of Scripture must possess—reverence, piety, science, fortitude, prudence, cleanness of heart, and heavenly wisdom—were his portions.

The studies of his earlier years always had a bearing on this great work. From the beginning he felt the need of being taught by God to understand his own word. Referring to this, he says: "No man ever taught me the doctrine I embrace; I received it singly by reading the Bible."

Sufficiently critical to aid the inquiries of the more serious student, and yet sufficiently popular to serve the purpose of general edification. He gives a lucid view of the several books of Scripture, as to their dates and authors, their scope and connection; he expounds the original text in a manner adapted to the deficiencies of the reader; he elucidates difficulties in chronology, history, and oriental manners; he develops the grand doctrines of revelation, and applies the whole to the great concerns of human salvation and duty.

One leading feature in its character is independence in thinking. While he availed himself of the labors of others, the great number of his expositions are emphatically his own.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

is one of the noblest works of the class in the entire domain of sacred literature. It is a thesaurus of general learning.

Its luminous expositions of the Law and the Gospel; its earnest and forceful appeals to the conscience of the sinner and the unbeliever; its rich counsels for the well-understood wants of the Christian's inner life; its endless exhibitions of general knowledge; and its valuable aids to the students of those holy tongues in which revelation took its first recorded forms—all will render this book the companion and the counselor of multitudes as long as the English language may endure. The man who accomplished it achieved immortality, his name having become identified with an indestructible monument of learning and religion.

We commend it as the most spiritual commentary published. Six large volumes, good paper, good binding, new type.

Special Net Price, $14.90, Postpaid

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Kentucky

ery word closely, for it carries such a message: "Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able." Then the way is narrow, and that it is awfully narrow this is proof;
no warning is given about being too narrow, on the other hand, we must strive to enter in at the strait gate.
One cannot be broad, and walk in a narrow way. In other words, we must walk God's way to reach God's heaven. There are those who think they can enter but they shall not be able. They cannot enter as they are, but they can come to Jesus as they are, and be cleansed from all unrighteousness.

To enter in at the strait gate one must leave off all worldliness. 1
Thess. 5:22 reads: "Abstain from all appearance of evil." We must be born again. When we have experienced the new birth, we are indeed new creatures. We have new interests, new desires, and a love and passion to win lost souls to the "narrow way." Then I believe we shall understand 1 Thess. 5:17, "Pray without ceasing." It is glorious to be in constant communion with God.

"No need to be so awfully narrow,"
One said, who walked a broader way.

"I'll just be good, and not go far,
But if by chance I do go far,
I will return at close of day.

Another said, "It does not matter,
For I believe that God is kind,
So to my friends I'll just be me,
And God will understand and He Will not require a change of mind."

And still another human muttered,
"There's not a sin that I have done,
That would deserve such depths of woe."

Yet choose the way that he would go,
Refusing still the narrow one.

So down the broad way, on they travel
Their future destiny quite plain.

Ask them to come this other way,
To come and walk this narrow way.

Tell them, "Ye must be born again."

In the narrow way, the Savior leads.

Be born again, and from today:

New hopes, new joys, new mines of thought,

You change, a man by Jesus bought,
And leave behind that broader way.

Lela N. Turner.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

Mrs. R. J. W.: "Please to pray for my son that he may be saved from
sin."

Pray for the conversion of my brother, and for two friends to be saved.

Mrs. V. H. S.: "Pray for a young woman who is having a struggle with the enemy, that she may gain complete victory for her body."

THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS.

By Rev. G. W. Ridout.

This book is prepared especially to help people lead a holy life. It takes up the sevenfold beauty of the Christian life. It is the only book of its kind for holiness people. Price 75c.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson XI.—September 13, 1931.

Subj.ect.—Some Missionary Experiences. Acts 14:8-23.

Golden Text.—Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven. Matt. 5:10.

Time.—About A. D. 48 to 50.

Places.—Lystra, Derbe, Iconium, Antioch in Pisidia, Perga, Antioch in Syria.

Introduction.—Missionaries are the vanguard of the church. No matter how kindly they may feel toward the nations among whom they work, theirs is always a combat between Christianity and heathenism, or some other false religion. During the early part of Paul's missionary labors he was battling against Judaism, and the conflict was fierce. Missionaries invading Mohammedan lands must expect severe opposition; for that religion is a bitter enemy of all other religions. Protestant missionaries working in Roman Catholic lands cannot expect even the toleration that Romanists are calling for in Protestant countries; but why not? If Rome wishes to be tolerated in America, why should she be intolerant in Italy? We may expect heathen priests to fight for the maintenance of their systems of religion; for it is the purpose of protestant Christianity to uproot them. God's command is emphatic: "Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness? And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel? And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God."

In some sense Paul must have been prepared for the persecutions that were waged against him. He had been an arch-persecutor of Christians before his conversion to Christ. Perhaps this did not make the persecutions through which he had to pass any lighter; but his own conduct as a Pharisee did tell him what to expect from all non-believing Jews. He had shown no mercy, and it was hardly possible that they would show any. "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Paul had done large sowing, and had no little reaping. "With what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again." All this would be true if the Bible had never been written. Things are not true because we find them in the Book; they are there because they are true.

Comments on the Lesson.

8. A certain man at Lystra.—Amid great opposition the apostles had tarried sometime at Iconium; but when both Jews and Gentiles combined against them with purpose to stone them to death, they fled to Lystra where we find them in this lesson. This cripple, who had never walked, seems to have been one of the first matters that called for help after their entrance into the city. It furnished a good opportunity to begin their blessed work by an exhibition of God's healing power. That would, perchance, open the way for their message of salvation.

9. Steadfastly beholding him.—It is wonderful how Jesus always had time for sick and helpless people; and here we find Paul imitating his Master. He had faith to be healed.—Jesus did not waste time on such as had no faith in him. Unbelief paralyzed his work; and even he could do no mighty works in some places because of it. He who heals must have faith in God; but he who is sick must have faith to receive healing.

10. Said with a loud voice.—"This thing was not done in a corner." Paul did not speak with a loud voice to advertise himself, as the hypocrites did when they went to prayer; but he did want the people to give attention to the work that God was about to do through him. Stand upright on thy feet.—Why Paul, that man has never been able to do such a thing in all his life. Never mind about that. God's power is sufficient. And he leaped and walked.—I like that sort of divine healing; but I do not know what to do with the sort that takes a month or a year to get a man on his feet. If the healing is divine, God does not need so much time in which to do the work. "Maybe I am from Missouri."

11. When the people saw it.—That was a mixed mob—Jews and Gentiles of all grades and classes, from Pharisees down to pagans. In the speech of Lycaonia.—Lycaonia was the country in which Iconium was situated. They were speaking their native language. The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.—This speech must have come from the heathen, not from the Jews who were present. The latter knew better; but the heathen did not. It is possible that Paul was preaching in the Greek tongue, which was understood among that people.

12. Jupiter.—As Jupiter was supposed to be the father of the heathen gods, some have supposed that the heathen people called Barnabas by this name because he was older and, perhaps, more venerable in appearance than Paul—just a guess. Mercurius.—The heathen god Mercury. He was supposed by his worshippers to be very eloquent in speech; and, as Paul was "the chief speaker," it was natural that the people should suppose him to be this god in human form. The language of the text calls for this interpretation.

13. The Priest of Jupiter.—Some of these old heathen cities had before their gates an image of Jupiter, known as Jupiter Custos, or Jupiter Guardian. This god was supposed to protect the city; and there was a priest whose duties called for sacrifices to the god upon all proper occasions. When Paul and Barnabas appeared in their city working miracles, the people naturally believed that Jupiter and Mercury had appeared in human form. This was in accord with the teachings of their religion. The garlands were for the decoration of the altar and the oxen that they had brought for an offering unto the two apostles.

14. They rent their clothes.—The apostles were horrified at what they saw. Rending one's garments among the Orientals was expressive of such feelings. It set forth in the strongest manner their disapproval of the sacrifice that was about to be made to them.

15. Why do ye these things.—Far be it from them to permit the people to commit such an act. "We are men of like passions with you." That would have been a great opportunity for hypocrites to win public favor. It gave the apostles a new opportunity to preach Christ to the people.

16. This verse is in keeping with Acts 17:30: "And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent." God is longsuffering and merciful; but when he turns the light upon us, we must walk in it or perish.

17. Left not himself without witness.—If we but look around us, we can see ten thousand witnesses for God in nature. Only "the fool hath said in his heart there is no God." He could not say it in his head.

19. Certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium.—They were so embittered and so full of hatred against Jesus Christ, that they were following the apostles like sleuth-hounds. Persuaded the people.—They were thirsting for blood. Stoned Paul.—That was the Jews' mode of capital punishment. They meant to kill him, and thought they had so done; for they "drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead." A frenzied mob has neither conscience nor mercy—it has lost its brains.

20. As the disciples stood round about him.—Some had believed, and had sided with the apostles. These, with Barnabas, were standing viewing what they supposed was the dead body of Paul. He rose up.—Not dead, as the mob had thought. It is, however, a bit surprising that he re-entered the city where the danger was so imminent. He seems to have spent that night in the city; but "the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe." That was not cowardice, but good sense. One should protect his life in God's service; although, under some circumstances, one must die for his Master's sake.

21. They returned again to Lystra.—Did the world ever see braver men? They preached awhile in Derbe; but as soon as things quieted down in Lystra, they went back there to complete the work they had begun; and went back through Iconium and Antioch. This Antioch was in Pisidia.

22. Confirming the souls of the disciples.—These disciples were converts made during their former preaching in these cities. Revival work must always be followed up by careful pastoral service, if the converts are to be able to stand true to God. The apostles had no disposition to mislead their converts by painting rosy pictures of an easy life in the service of Jesus Christ. That will never be true. "We must pass through much tribulation to enter into the kingdom of God."

23. Ordained them elders in every church.—There is a little too much tendency towards looseness in some matter in the modern Church. Different orders in the ministry are ordained of God. There are two extremes. On the one hand, orders have become a fetish in some denominations; while in others they scarcely mean anything at all—any one who may so desire may officiate in sacred matters. In the services of God's house everything should be done decently and in order; although there should be sufficient freedom as not to permit our worship to become stale and monotonous. There should be room for the Holy Spirit to have full control in every service, that God may be glorified.

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                        |             |
|------------------------|-------------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund | .....$1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund | .....1.50   |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund   | .....5.00   |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund   | .....1.00   |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe. The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS
Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature
—is the estimate of all who read these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00
The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid
PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - - - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailer and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Buried With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?
These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

A PITCHER OF CREAM

By BUD ROBINSON

Rev. C. F. Wimberly says: "It is fresh, juicy, unctious and witty. He has given us the cream of his thought, feelings and imagination under the tuition of the Holy Spirit. There is not a dull or uninteresting page or paragraph in the book. The book will enrich the soul of every one who reads it. It should be in ten thousand homes that love full salvation. It is toothsome."

160 pages. Price $1.00
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

"BEHOLD HOW GREAT A MATTER A LITTLE FIRE KINDLETH."

(James 3:5)

These words brought to mind how little effort on our part is required, sometime, to bring down a blessing—small or great. To further prove the correctness of the above Scripture, permit me to recite one incident in my life.

Some years ago I was accustomed to visit a certain barber shop in my neighborhood. While having my surplus beard removed I found it quite convenient to talk to the barber about his soul. My first question to him was: "Are you a Christian?" To which he quickly responded: "Why, sure, I am. I am a Catholic." I then informed him that neither his church nor my church could make us Christians, but that nothing less than acting faith in the atoning blood of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ could do that. Well, for a month or two it seemed my prayers and entreaties did not accomplish anything, but one day after visiting his shop and returning home, I had scarcely reached the rear part of my house when my door-bell rang, and who should it be but my barber friend, and before entering he blurted out: "You got me all broken up. Will you pray for me?"

I opened the door of the living room and in an instant he was on his knees beseeching me to pray for him. I told him I would, but that he, too, must pray for himself. He then wanted to know if he should say the, "Hail Mary, Mother of God," to which I answered that Mary could not help him. I pointed the way to salvation unto him and he quickly saw the light and exclaimed: "I am saved, Hallelujah!" Without delaying he entered heartily in Christian work in Sunday school and church.

Shortly after his conversion by a strange coincidence, our preacher came into our home and was invited to take lunch with us. While the family was seated at the table our door-bell rang and who was it but my barber friend. I extended an invitation to him to come and take lunch with us, which he reluctantly accepted. It seemed nearly impossible for him to talk of anything else but salvation—his salvation. The preacher nor myself could get a word in edgewise; finally the minister said, "Brother N., you ought to be preaching the gospel. Would you not like to do that?" The young convert responded that he would very much like to preach, but that he thought a preacher should be highly educated, and I am not educated. My visiting minister friend suggested that he could go to college. "But," replied my barber brother, "I haven't a dollar to my name." Well, suffice it to say the minister friend raised the money to put this young man through Centenary College, and today this untutored Roman Catholic boy is one of our leading editors of one of our church papers on the Pacific Coast.

I could write a score of pages on the trials and persecutions this young man suffered in the early days of his Christian life, at the hands of his very mother and brothers. They would destroy the Bibles given to him before his face; on one occasion he was beaten to insensibility and left for dead on his mother's floor.

The minister friend, who played the part of the Good Samaritan in helping to educate my young Irish barber friend, Brother Perry Lowery, has gone home to his reward; but our barber brother friend is still preaching the gospel by word of mouth as well as by flaming truth through his wonderful editorials.

So much can be accomplished, sometime, by just a few words of testimony and a little effort in winning a brother to Christ. It is so beautifully expressed by the Poet in these words:

"Just a little word of Jesus' love,
Some precious soul may help decide.
To forsake the wrong and look above,
And let the Lord his footsteps guide.
Wondrous things the Lord may do,
By just a little help from you."

Dr. R. L. S.

PLAIN TALK FROM THE PRAIRIES.

I know of no more skillful deflation than that which Alfred MacArthur recently gave an eastern society matron who was self-puffed with the work she was doing against prohibition. Fancying herself as a leader of public opinion, she was patronizing the women of the west as ignoramuses who could be wooed away from their "ridiculous" support of the "dry" cause.

"Madam," said the western Mr. MacArthur, "it will take 200 years to change the women on this question. They are 'dry' because they have a memory of an outrage—the outrageous conduct of the rural saloon, which killed their fathers, husbands, brothers, and starved women and children. Madam, I know women in Kansas who still hate Indians because the redskins scalped their grandfathers. I know women in Georgia who hate the American flag because Sherman's barn-burners waved it under their grandmothers' noses. When you talk of prohibition, you are dealing with emotions and hatreds that you know nothing about. Whether you or I like prohibition doesn't matter in the slightest. It will remain at least until six generations of American women have come and gone. The scar left by the saloon may disappear in time, but not likely."

HOW YOU CAN HELP!

Rev. L. T. Wallingford, Scuddy, Ky., has been engaged in Kentucky Mountain Mission work for about two years, and is interested in distributing back numbers of holiness papers. The people are glad to get such papers and God uses them. He asks that any readers of The Herald who can send their back numbers to him for distribution, they will be most helpful to the people who have no reading matter. Send them to L. T. Wallingford, Scuddy, Ky.

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCE- MENT.

During the past summer it has been the writer's privilege to labor in camp meeting work with some very fine full salvation preachers, but with none finer than the Rev. Roy L. Hollenback. We were the called preachers to the Gordon, Nebraska Camp and the Lord's gracious blessing was upon the work there.

While in the above camp the Rev. Hollenback told us that he felt strongly drawn back into the field of evangelism. Out of the seventeen years he has spent in the ministry, twelve of those years have been devoted to the work of evangelism. So it goes without saying that having had all those years of experience as pastor and evangelist, that he now is better prepared than ever to do effective work for the Master. He is a very fine camp meeting preacher. His sermons are well thought out and are delivered with divine unction. The tender spirit he manifests, is used of the Lord to melt the hearts of the listeners while bringing messages on the rugged truths of the Bible. So, we feel safe in saying that no camp meeting association or church will make any mistake in giving our good brother a call. He may be addressed at 57 Fremont St., Lowell, Mass. He is pastor of the First Church of The Nazarene in that city.

Yours for God and souls,
George Bennard, Evangelist.

A CHILD'S DEATH-BED SCENE.

On a bright chilly day in November in an humble home in a Louisiana town, there lay a bright, twelve-year-old boy sick unto death. Loving hearts were near. Father and mother seated at his bedside, while at the foot of the bed stood his three sisters with tear-filled eyes. The only son of a loving family and by his gentle, manly demeanor and bright sunny disposition had endeared himself to the hearts of the community. S—, was a very obedient child, never disobeying his parents even in so small a matter as visiting his playmates in the neighborhood. Having been reared in a godly home, quite naturally he loved the Sabbath school and church services.

About mid-day on September 22nd, he lost his eyesight and requested his mother to raise the shades and open the blinds—the which had already been done. The broken-hearted father recognizing that the hour for his precious boy's departure from this world was at hand, leaned over him and tried to comfort him by telling him that it would not be dark long, for his blessed Saviour was near at hand, and would brighten the way. That the same Jesus whom mama and papa loved would be with him all the way. Referring to the Saviour I reminded him that "He was papa's and mama's Friend and his Friend too." He quickly responded, "He's our best Friend." Puckering up his lips he placed special emphasis on the word "best" and, in tones louder still, exclaimed: "Good bye, papa! Good bye, mama! Good bye, all!" He closed his lips and his little soul departed with the convoy of Angels whom God saw proper to send to escort his precious soul to his heavenly home.

Did those parents get rebellious against God for this order in his Divine plan in the life of this precious boy and loving son in his relationship to his earthly parents? No! Never! They exclaimed with Job, "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Dr. R. L. S.

NOTICE!

To Radio listeners in Pittsburgh area, Rev. L. S. Hoover, Radio Evangelist, will broadcast from KOV, Pittsburgh, on the Bob Jones' hour, September 2, 2:00 P. M., Eastern Standard time, and 1:00 P. M., Central Standard time. Friends are asked to listen in at this time.

A GREAT REVIVAL.

Rev. Sam Maxwell, professor of Religious Education in Asbury College, is spending his vacation in revival meetings. He is now in a great campaign in North Carolina, with Rev. B. W. Lefler, an Asbury boy. There have been twenty-five definite conversions, and ere the close of another week they expect a great ingathering of souls.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

EVERY Pastor
Should Have
This IDEAL
Funeral
BOOK

214 Pages

BY A. H. DELONG.

A ready aid for pastors of all denominations. Contains Scripture Selection, Topics, Texts and Outlines, Suggestive Themes and Prayers, Quotations, Illustrations, Form of Service, etc. Over fifteen hundred suggestive themes and texts for every possible occasion. This book will enable you to get up an appropriate funeral service for any occasion in fifteen minutes of time.

The sermons and illustrations are good for other occasions also. A limp leather-bound, gilt-edge book, pocket size, for $1.75.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Kentucky

There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere.

While "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" is an entirely new 1930 publication, its inspiring words and memorable melody are already indelibly impressed upon the song-consciousness of millions of sacred music lovers throughout the United States by reason of its introduction over the radio by MR. HOMER RODDEHAVER, known the world over as the foremost interpreter of gospel songs.

Soloists everywhere have reported most favorable responses from their audiences when they use this inspiring song, because it brings a genuine heart message of comfort and cheer which people want to hear. Suitable for all types of services. Send for your copy now and give your audiences the benefit of this helpful song message. Per copy, postpaid, 40c.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

A SPEECH FOR EVERY OCCASION

By A. C. Edgerton, published by Noble & Noble, New York. Price $2.00.

This is an invaluable volume for any one to have in their library as there is suggestive material for making a speech on most any occasion that you can think of. There are 417 pages and almost as many speeches for Mothers and Fathers, Day School Graduates, Presentations, Patriotic, Weddings, Business, Holiday, etc.

Camp Meeting Calendar

ILLINOIS.

Springerton, Ill., Sept. 3-13. Workers: Rev. J. L. Cox, Helen Peters, Frank Doerner, Jr., and wife, Address: Frank Doerner, Jr. Norris City, Ill., Sec.

INDIANA.

Poneto, Ind., Aug. 9-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. E. DeWitt Johnston and Party. Address: Elmer W. Harris, Rt. 1, Poneto, Ind. Bryantsburg, Ind., Aug. 23-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. Elmore Hanna, Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Wade, Write Chas. Cleek, Rt. 1, Madison, Ind.
Greenfield, Ind., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. D. E. Wilson, Alvin Young, Kate McKinley, Hansel Williams, Sec., Rt. 6, Greenfield, Ind.

MICHIGAN.

Gaines, Michigan, Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Dr. John L. Brasher, Dr. C. W. Butler, Mrs. Blanche S. Francis, and Mrs. Grace B. Heneks, all full time. Write Mrs. Grace Millard, 614 Michigan Ave., East Lansing, Mich.

NEW JERSEY.

Delanco, N. J., Aug. 28-Sept. 7. Evangelists, Rev. John F. Knapp, Rev. John Thomas, Rev. J. F. Boughton, Singer, Rev. Charles C. Mourer. Male Quartettes from Asbury College and God's Bible School.

OHIO.

Carysville, O., 7 miles north of St. Paris, August 20-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. G. W. Cary, Rev. R. H. Williams, Mrs. Jennie Lynn and others. Write Mrs. W. K. Williams, 160 Wilson Ave., Columbus, Ohio, manager of camp.

TENNESSEE.

Louisville, Tenn., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Rev. John Fleming, evangelist. Rev. Eddie Patysch, singer. Mrs. Walter D. Fouché, Sec., Maryville, Tenn.

Greeneville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20. Workers: Rev. John F. Owen, evangelist and Rev. M. V. Lewis, singer. Mrs. H. A. Lamons, Sec.

VIRGINIA.

Salem, Va., Aug. 28-Sept. 6. Workers: Rev. Robert Young, evangelist; Prof. M. V. Lewis, song leader; Rev. E. O. Rice, Secretary-Treasurer of the Oriental Missionary Society; Mrs. E. O. Rice, pianist; and Rev. Orville French and wife, missionaries from the Orient, who will represent the missionary cause.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ARTHUR, FRANK E.
(240 N. Waller Ave., Chicago, Ill.)
Richland, N. Y., Aug. 23-Sept. 7.

AYCOCK, JARRETTE.
(2923 Trosse Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13-27.

BARCOCK, C. H.
Cape May, N. J., Sept. 11-21.

BECK, A. S. AND R. S.
Columbia, Ky., Sept. 5-Oct. 1.

BEVINS, C. J.
(1474 Stelger Rd., Columbus, O.)
Open dates.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Kingsfisher, Okla., Aug. 25-Sept. 6.
Chickasha, Okla., Sept. 8-20.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Cooperdale, Ohio, Aug. 31-Sept. 13.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

DAVIDSON, OTTO AND WIFE.
Union City, Pa., Aug. 30-Sept. 14.

DAVIS, C. C.
(Sta. B., Evansville, Ind.)
Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 28-Sept. 13.

DICKERSON, H. N.
(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Ballston, Va., August 30-Sept. 13.
Oxford, Pa., Sept. 15-27.

EDWARDS, J. R.
(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Lima, Ohio, Sept. 6-27.
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FAGAN, HARRY
(Blind Song Evangelist and Pianist. R. F. D. 1, Carmichaels, Pa.)
Jerusalem, Ohio, Aug. 27-Sept. 6.

FLEMING, JOHN
Louisville, Tenn., Aug. 28-Sept. 6.
Ephrata, Pa., Sept. 13-27.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
Kingswood, Ky., Aug. 28-Sept. 6.
Lock Haven, Pa., Sept. 10-20.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
South Manchester, Conn. Sept. 20-Oct. 4.

FUGETT, C. B.
Hoxie, Kan., Aug. 31-Sept. 7.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Beulah, Mich., Sept. 1-13.
Marion, Ohio, Sept. 14-27.
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GROGG, W. A.
(418 24th St. West, Huntington, W. Va.)
Barrett, W. Va., September.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Anderson, S. C., Sept. 6-20.
Forest City, N. C., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Open date, Oct. 4-18.

HENDRICKS, A. O.
(1436 E. Washington St., Pasadena, Calif.)
N. Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 26-Sept. 6.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.
(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)
Fowler, Kan., Aug. 27-Sept. 13.

HEWSON, JOHN E.
(127 N. Chester Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.)
Open dates.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 5-29.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

HOOVER, L. S.
(Fionesta, Pa.)
Clay City, Ind., Aug. 21-31.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.
(Bethany, Okla.)
Austin, Tex., Aug. 26-Sept. 7.
Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21.
Bethany, Okla., Sept. 23-27.

JOHNSTON, E. DEWITT
(676 Calvert Ave., Detroit, Mich.)
Poneto, Ind., Aug. 9-Sept. 6.

JOHNSON, ANDREW
Toronto, Can., Sept. 6-20.

JOHNSON, H. C.
(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Lexington, Ky., Sept. 2-6.
Seymour, Ind., Sept. 7-20.
Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Point Pleasant, N. J., Sept. 6-27.
Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.

LEWIS, M. V.
(Wilmore, Ky.)
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

LINCICOME, F.
Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6-20.
Toronto, Can., Sept. 27-Oct. 7.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6-20.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

MCBRIDE, J. B.
(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Lansing, Mich., August 23-Sept. 7.
Tillamook, Ore., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILBY, E. C.
(Song Evangelist, Greensburg, Ky.)
Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 1-13.
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 9-29.

MINGLEDORFF, O. G.
Columbus, Ga., Sept. 6-20.
Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 20-Oct. 44.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Belle Plaine, Kan., August 23-Sept. 13.
Whiting, Kan., Sept. 16-Oct. 4.

OWEN, JOHN E.
(262 E. 13th Ave., Columbus, O.)
Mulberry Grove, Ill., Aug. 27-Sept. 6.
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

PARKER, J. R.
(415 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Abbeville, S. C., Sept. 7-27.

REED, LAWRENCE.
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Jerusalem, Ohio, August 28-Sept. 6.
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-13.

REID, JAMES V.
(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 30-Sept. 13.
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 14-27.
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Cale, Ark., August 29-Sept. 7.
Boswell, Okla., Sept. 7-20.
Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 30-Oct. 4.

SPARKS, BURL
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21.
Brooms Island, Md., Sept. 4-20.
Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.

THOMAS, JOHN
Delanco, N. J., Aug. 28-Sept. 7.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Loveland, O., Aug. 28-Sept. 6.

WHITE, MR. AND MRS.
Pekin, Ill., Sept. 9-19.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN B.
(Jacoby, Louisiana)
Broken Bow, Okla., August 18-30.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Cleveland, Ind., August 28-Sept. 6.
Delmar, Del., Sept. 8-27.
Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(Somerset, Ky., 304 S. Main St.)
Winchester, Ky., Sept. 1-8.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson: "It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public." Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe; by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                        |         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ.                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages.                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages.                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages.                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages.                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From the Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages.                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages.                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages.                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages.                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages.                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages. | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding.                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages.                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding.                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages.                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages.                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages.                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages.                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages.                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total                                                                                                                                                                      | $18.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Signed .....

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only 5½x8½x1 in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face burgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size 5½x8½ inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size 5½x8½x1½ in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at $7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotol, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is 5½x8½. The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 3½x5½x1 inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold.

It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size 4½x6½ in.

Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size 5½x7¾, bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only 3¼x5¼x1 in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size 4½x6½, only 16-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 4½x6½. Regular net price $3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is 6x7¾x1 in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is 4¼x6¼x1 in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size 5x7x1 in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price $5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in foot-notes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size 2½x4½. We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                       |        |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....    | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....   | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....     | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson    | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....       | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....         | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry      |        |
| God, Jonathan Edwards .....           | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—        |        |
| Which? Robinson .....                 | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son    |        |
| Is He? Morrison .....                 | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                 | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....         | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest,     |        |
| Huff. ....                            | .20    |

Biography

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....   | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....               | .50 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life.. | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .10 |

For Children

|                                         |     |
|-----------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....      | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....          | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | .10 |

Evolution

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....    | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Un- |     |
| masked, Cooke .....                   | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech,     |     |
| Bryan. ....                           | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King      |     |
| of the Zoo, Shaddock .....            | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....      | .15 |

Hell

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell .....  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. |     |
| M. Taylor .....                       | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S.       |     |
| Taylor .....                          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly     | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt   | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....   | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper....    | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn.. | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....   | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....     | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should     |     |
| Not Dance, Smith .....               | .10 |

Holiness

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It    |     |
| Is—How It Is, Collins .....          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....   | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth ..... | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....       | .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The      |     |
| Fathers? Miller .....                | .25 |

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer.....   | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing,   |     |
| Cundiff .....                         | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..   | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson.    | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent  |     |
| Jew, John Paul .....                  | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfec-  |     |
| tion, John Wesley .....               | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wes- |     |
| ley. ....                             | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..  | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power,       |     |
| Hames. ....                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our       |     |
| Scriptural Re-making, John Paul ..    | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Mor-     |     |
| risson .....                          | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper. ....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, |     |
| Abbie C. Morrow .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious       |     |
| Tongues, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian      |     |
| Science, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism,    |     |
| Ridout. ....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism,    |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day    |     |
| Adventism, Ridout .....              | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism,  |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The    |     |
| Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues,      |     |
| Budd. ....                           | .05 |

Baptism

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design  |     |
| and Subjects .....                   | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett ....   | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and De-   |     |
| sign, George H. Means .....          | .50 |

Devotional

|                                     |     |
|-------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, |     |
| Danskin. ....                       | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....   | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Ay-  |     |
| cock. ....                          | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....        | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                    |     |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper ..... | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....   | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will |     |
| Come Home to Roost, Culpepper....  | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, |     |
| Coward. ....                          | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....   | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers   | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events,   |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....  | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....       | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, |     |
| Seiss .....                          | .15 |

Assorted

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..   | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....            | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....  | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....   | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the        |     |
| Sabbath, Pickett .....               | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....  | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..   | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. |     |
| Sims. ....                           | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcom-    |     |
| ers, Culpepper .....                 | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie      |     |
| Ever Justifiable? Hunt .....         | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist,     |     |
| Wimberly .....                       | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Dis-  |     |
| robed, Taylor .....                  | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Bet- |     |
| ter Day? Culpepper .....             | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure,    |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to      |     |
| Keep It, George .....                | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....   | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly .....   | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....            | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....    | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart.  | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus...  | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....  | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....              | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abom-  |     |
| inations, Ridout .....               | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....            | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper .... | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained,   |     |
| Taylor. ....                         | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of       |     |
| Heaven, Mackrell .....               | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked
above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Sept. 9, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 36.

HOLINESS OR HELPLESSNESS.

By The Editor.

IN the long, hard battle for the maintenance and proclamation of a full salvation, we have never been more fully convinced that, after all, for the individual, the church, and the poor, old sinful world, it must be holiness or hopelessness.

* * * *

We cannot see any way out of or around the fact that if we would serve and worship God acceptably, if we would hope for fellowship and communion with him, we must love what he loves and hate what he hates, for nothing can be truer than that God loves holiness and hates sin.

* * * *

All of the teachings of Jesus go to prove that the heart of God is compassionate and tender toward the repentant sinner—that for such an one there is a glad invitation, a glorious promise, and the wide-open arms of a loving and forgiving Father. God's heart of mercy turns toward the sinner when the sinner turns away from sin.

* * * *

When the sinner, in the depth of his degradation begins to sicken of the swine, loathe the far country, despise his occupation, lament his condition, and long for the Father's house, preparation for his reception at home begins. As he trudges homeward with fears, misgivings and heartaches, robe and ring and shoes and feast are being prepared for his glad reception. He must leave his swine, degraded women and the riotous living and associations all behind him and come home with contrition in his heart and confession upon his lips, willing to creep into the back door, to work in the back yard, and to eat his food off the corner of the kitchen table. When God looks down into a heart thus filled with penitence and humility, he would stop, if necessary, the building of a planet to go with open arms to meet the returning and penitent prodigal.

* * * *

The believer cannot please the infinite One when he excuses sin, entertains carnality, apologizes for evil, inward uprisings, and sinful tendencies—when he magnifies the power of Satan and minifies the power of the Lord Jesus; but when he loathes his own evil uprisings, when he despises every evil imagination and unclean thought, when he longs for purity of heart and closer communion with Jesus, when he hungers and thirsts after righteousness, then God is pleased, the Holy Ghost draws near with his illuminating and cleansing power. The Lord Jesus beholds the travail of his soul and is glad.

* * * *

We can see no standing room for a Christian, a Spirit-born soul, to dodge, to squirm, to hesitate and hiddle on the subject of holiness. To doubt that the infinitely holy God desires and provides for our holiness, is to doubt the perfection of his nature. To doubt that the blood of Jesus can cleanse from all sin is to doubt his Godhead. To doubt the power of the Holy Ghost to come in, cleanse, abide and keep the temple, is to question the omnipotence of the blessed Trinity. To believe in the almightiness of God, the all-sufficiency of the atonement made in the suffering of Jesus, the presence and power of the blessed Spirit to purify as with a baptism of fire, and to keep the temple of God against all comers, is to glorify God. To let one's faith become a personal trust in the merit of Jesus, is to win the greatest victory this side of the eternal city.

* * * *

We have no hope for ourselves, our immortal soul within us, in the battle of life, in the hour of death, on the day of judgment, and in the vast eternity that stretches beyond, without holiness—the holiness that comes through the atonement of Jesus, received by simple faith in the merit of his blood. We have no hope for ourselves, our family, our friends, our church, the great unbelieving, wicked world, and the vast millions of heathendom, outside of holiness.

* * * *

We have nothing wherein we may boast, nor for one moment dare we exalt ourselves above our fellowbeings. If there is anything good that the worst about us have not, it came through the sacrifice on Calvary, of divine mercy, without which we would be as vile as the vilest, as low as the lowest, as lost and hopeless as the most wretched sinner. That we have made mistakes and blunders we admit to our shame; that we are not all we desire and ought to be, we admit also. There are glorious heights of faith and love and power beyond us toward which we bend our longing eyes. We know that there is yet much to attain, but we believe in Jesus, we trust his sanctifying power, we anchor our souls in him, knowing that he is able to save to the uttermost. We would rather be a homeless, friendless, despised outcast wanderer, hugging to our immortal soul this great and precious truth—that the crucified, risen and coming Christ can save, sanctify and keep from all sin—than to have all the world, with its honor, friendship, flattery, and our heart be robbed and desolate of this saving, restful faith in the entire sanctification received through the blood of Jesus. With us, it is holiness or hopelessness. In a dying hour it will be so with you. "Without holiness no man shall see the Lord."

* * * *

"O for a heart to praise my God,
A heart from sin set free;
A heart that always feels thy blood
So freely spilt for me.

"A heart resigned, submissive, meek,
My great Redeemer's throne;
Where only Christ is heard to speak,
And Jesus reigns alone.

"A heart in every thought renewed,
And full of love divine;
Perfect, and right, and pure, and good,
A copy, Lord, of thine."

Indian Spring Camp Meeting.

THERE had been some fear that the widespread financial depression would affect the attendance at Indian Springs, Ga. The fears were groundless; the attendance was very large; the vast auditorium was well filled almost every evening. The Sabbath congregations could not be seated at the morning services; the day services were largely attended, not only by the campers on the ground, but many visitors from the adjoining communities.

The hotel was in charge of Mrs. Clarke, assisted by several of her wonderful sisters so well known in Florida and in religious work, especially the handmaidens of the Lord in camp meeting services. Brother Clarke, the husband, had charge of the booking office and was full of kindness and courtesy looking after the needs of the host of people that stopped at the great hotel. The old-time colored women, who cannot be surpassed, had charge of the kitchen and served excellent meals. Georgia is a great state for vegetables, string beans, lima beans, potatoes, lady peas and new corn. I don't believe I ever ate more well cooked vegetables at any camp meeting in my life. I do not know that there was a day at the workers' table that it was not supplied with spring chicken. We are not disposed to lay special emphasis on these temporalities, but it is pleasant to be well fed on choice food prepared by the best of cooks. Indian Springs, I think, has never been surpassed in the matter of table service to workers and guests.

We were delighted to find Brother R. F. Burden, of Macon, Ga., president of this camp meeting, in excellent health. He was just about to cross the line into eighty. We have not seen him look better, more vigorous and happy in years than at this summer's camp meeting. The Georgia people, regardless of denomination, love and respect Brother Burden. He is a great spiritual blessing to his home city and the camp meeting.

Many people remember with love, the sainted George Mathews, who was president of this camp for years, a man greatly beloved, will be glad to know that his devoted wife bears the holiness banner with beautiful devotion and consecration. She was one of the quartet consisting of herself and three brethren who sang to the edification of the people. Her faith and zeal are a benediction. As is her custom, she had the workers to take dinner in her home on the Sabbath. I should think there were not less than twenty people in her spacious dining-room the day we sat down at her table.

Charlie Tillman had charge of the music, with a great choir, with many instruments. The song services before preaching were remarkable. The people did sing! They were inspiring.

(Continued on page 8)

THOUGHTS AND MEDITATIONS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Someone has said, "No great civilization has ever outlasted the demise of its religious faith." As we look at the tide and turn of things in this generation we wonder what is going to happen next. Many signs point to some great event in the not distant future which will be the fulfillment of prophecy and the carrying out of God's eternal purpose for the Gentile and the Jew. My good brother and able writer and preacher, Rev. John J. Hunt, B.A., writing in the "Midnight Cry" on 2 Tim. 3:1, "In the last days," mentions in his article the following last signs:

1. The last Call of the Spirit.
2. The last corruption of the church is now on.
3. The last confederation of nations is in sight.
4. The last political confederation.
5. The last cult of religious falsehood.
6. The last castigation of the Jews.
7. The last catastrophe of this dispensation.

II.

Whatever the signs of the times might indicate, the Christian in his Bible sees beyond everything, God in Christ working out his sovereign purposes.

"How are thy servants blessed, O Lord,
How sure is their defence;
Eternal wisdom is their guide,
Their help Omnipotence."

And praise God no matter how hard the battle is, how great the foe, though evil is enthroned and Satan and his hosts are mighty, God is in the Heavens and he will work out his great plans and purposes for his own glory, for his people and his Kingdom.

"But right is right since God is God;
And right the day must win;
To doubt would be disloyalty,
To falter would be sin.

"Within God's plane of progress,
It matters not at last,
How wide the shores of evil,
How strong the reefs of sin—
The wave may be defeated
But the tide is sure to win."

III.

The name of Jesus has a power above every other name. (Acts 4:12). In heathen lands this name is wonderful:

"They tell me of lands of sin and shame,
And of hearts that break and tire;
But I know of a Name, a Name, a Name,
That will set those lands on fire."

A missionary in a foreign land many years ago had a spirit of holy venture on him and went to a savage tribe whose language he did not know; not long after reaching them he was surrounded by hundreds, all armed with spears; as a lamb among wolves he stood; he took his violin and began to sing in English, "All hail the power of Jesus' Name,
Let angels prostrate fall."

He closed his eyes as he sang so as to not notice anything that was going on. When he reached the verse,

"Let every kindred, every tribe,
On this terrestrial ball,
To him all majesty ascribe,
And crown him Lord of all."

He opened his eyes and every spear was dropped and tears coursed down their cheeks. The song broke their hard hearts and they gave the lone missionary shelter and food and every kindness; he learned their dialect, preached Jesus to them and hundreds were converted to God.

IV.

From an English periodical I clipped the following which some of our readers will enjoy:

THE SWEETNESS OF HIS NAME.

Cant. 1; 2; Rev. 3:12.

Thy names, O Lord, are sweet to me,
Whether in far-off Galilee,
By Casarea-Philippi,

They called Thee "Christ."
Or Mary, in her household care,
Illumined by her faith and prayer,
Said "Jesus" softly, half-aware—
Thy names are sweet.

Or, if upon the green hill-side,
With its horizons far and wide,
They called Thee "Rabbi, Teacher, Guide,"

Thy names are sweet;
Or if when Jericho is near,
The blind man's pleading rises clear,
"O Jesus, Son of David, hear"—
Thy names are sweet.

May faith and courage lend me wings
To rise above all earthly things,
And worship Thee, Thou King of kings,
And Lord of Love:

And when for me eternity
Shall dawn upon the crystal sea,
Then Saviour wilt Thou write on me,
THY OWN NEW NAME?

V.

THE TRINITY.

All Evangelicals are believers in the blessed Trinity. When we cease to believe in the Trinity we become Unitarians. Split that word in two, and you have "Unit" "Arians," and that recalls at once Arius and the Arians of the third Century and the big fight over the question of the Trinity. Unitarians are Arians; good Methodists are Trinitarians.

The best answer to opposers of the Trinity are the words of the Lord Jesus Christ in Matthew 28:19: "Go ye, therefore, and teach (or make disciples) of all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost."

The Trinity is a Mystery. Dr. Boardman sums it up good in the following words: "The Father is all the fulness of the Godhead invisible. John 1:18. The Son is all the fulness of the Godhead manifested. 1 John 1:14-18. The Spirit is all the fulness of the Godhead acting immediately upon the creature." 1 Cor. 2:9, 10.

Charles Wesley sings sublimely about the Trinity in his hymns. In one of them he sings:

"Almighty God, to thee
Be endless honors done,
The undivided Three
And the mysterious One.
Where Reason fails with all her powers
There Faith prevails, and Love adores."

VI.

A devout writer in India has given us this thought: "Are we quite sure that it honors God most to expect evil to be worn down only by imperceptible degrees? Might it not be a greater evidence of faith and bring God more glory if sometimes we dared to pray for the unprecedented?"

We need more often to adopt William Carey's plan,

"EXPECT GREAT THINGS FROM GOD, ATTEMPT GREAT THINGS FOR GOD."

VII.

A story is told that in 1269 the Chinese Emperor, Kublai Khan, despatched some envoys to the Pope requesting him to send 100 missionaries to teach Christianity; he asked for 100 men of intelligence acquainted with the seven arts, able to prove that the law of Christ was the best, and if they could prove it he and his people would become Christians. He also charged his envoys to bring back some of the oil of the lamps which burned on the holy sepulcher in Jerusalem.

This message reached Rome when the Papacy was in uproar. It took them two years to settle on a new Pope. Gregory at last sent two dominican friars, who got as far as Armenia and turned back. "All Asia was white unto harvest, but there was no effort to reap it." They were too busy discussing things, and fighting among themselves.

If Conferences, Commissions, etc., could bring the Kingdom in it would have happened long ago, but we observe that the more conferences we have the more we get into a rut, and the more machinery and the less power. What marvelous things might be done on the mission fields if the workers, in addition to their mental equipment, were clothed with power from on high! We are too busy discussing plans and holding conferences and not busy enough on our knees in prayer and intercession. An old lady died over here in Peru; she had gone to so many doctors, and been in so many hands that it was said when she passed away that "She died of too many consultations." Let us hold less time in consultations and more time in prayer, and live more in the atmosphere of the Acts of the Apostles.

VIII.

The story of Peru and its conquest by the blood-thirsty Spanish adventurers under Pizarro is a thrilling one. It is said that Atahualpa, the Emperor of the Incas, received Pizarro with unbounded hospitality. The Spaniards with their terrible weapons of war struck terror into the hearts of the Incas. That emissary of Rome, Valverde, demanded with a cross in one hand and a Bible in the other that Atahualpa should declare himself a subject of Spain. The Emperor refused, and then a fight ensued in which he was made a prisoner by the Spaniards. Then for his freedom the Inca King offered a mighty ransom. He was confined in a room eleven feet by twenty. He said: "I will fill this room with gold as high as I can reach if only you will liberate me." Pizarro drew a long red line nine feet from the floor and agreed to the contract. From every quarter gold poured in to ransom the Emperor, gold plates, cups, vases, shields—all of gold, were thrown into the room, $15,000,000 of gold value. Pizarro accepted the ransom but acted the traitor and the liar. He called for a trial for the Emperor, trumped up charges were brought against him and he was put to death. In the long run, Pizarro was killed himself through the treachery of his friends.

This story reminds us so much of how the Devil deceives people with his fair promises and false hopes. He promises health and he gives sickness, life and he gives death, riches and he gives poverty, liberty and he gives slavery.

"Men don't believe in the Devil now
As their fathers used to do;
They have opened wide their broadest creeds
To let his majesty through.

The Devil is voted not to be
And of course the Devil is gone,
But simple people would like to know
Who carries his business on."

How different is a life that is hid in Christ with God. Such a life was that of the great missionary, William Taylor, who lived a life of whole-hearted consecration. His life was lived constantly in the will of God. During an earthquake Taylor went to his room. He said, "I searched to see that I was wholly submitted to God and quietly entrusted soul and body to the care of the Saviour. I could not call to mind one act of my life on which I could have my hope of heaven, but sweetly resting my all in the hands of Jesus, I had sweet assurance that all was well . . . As I was dropping off to sleep I counted ten shocks that caused a creaking of the timbers of the building, but I soon fell off to sleep and waked up in the clear light of a peaceful morning."

"On the eve of my departure from London to Australia a gentleman said: 'Mr. Taylor, what is your address now?' 'I am sojourning on the globe, at present, but don't know how soon I shall be leaving.'"

"It was one of those nights of waking visions, such as I used to have in Bombay, when God made known his way to his poor, ignorant servant. I don't mean miraculous visions, but an intelligent manifestation of God's will, showing me my path of duty through unexplored regions where there were no signboards nor blazed trees to indicate the right way. The revealings of that night widened my field of operations."

"Why I Wanted My Wife To Be My Wife."

Commissioner Samuel L. Brengle, D. D.

T was my pleasant privilege once to be entertained for several days in the home of some Swedish friends. The family consisted of husband and wife, and three exceptionally bright and lovely children. He was a strong, manly fellow who had made his way to the front rank in his chosen work by sheer force of character, industry and ability. She was a happy little wife who did her own housework, rejoiced in her husband's success, and mothered the children with wise and loving care.

One morning at breakfast, in the most charming broken English, she told me the one test by which she decided the fate of several suitors, and by which she was assured that in her husband she had at last met her heart's mate with whom she could gladly and unflatteringly link her life for better or for worse till death. During her childhood in her old-fashioned, economical Swedish home she had had to darn stockings and socks, something she disliked very much to do, but which unwittingly was developing in her a selective instinct which was finally to bring her great joy.

When she had grown into the radiant beauty of young womanhood, and young men began to pay her attention, each appeared as a prospective husband, and to each she applied this test: "Would I be willing to darn his socks?" and in each instance there was a revulsion of feeling that settled the fate of the young man, until she met him who was to be her husband. When she applied the test to him, her heart leaped with joy at the prospect. She felt she would gladly spend her life darning his socks, and she longed to begin at once on whole bureau drawers full of them.

She did not tell, and possibly she could not tell, what it was in him that made him to differ from all others. But something in his presence or person unlocked a treasure-store of love and sacrificial devotion in her heart that made her sure that of all men he was the one to whom she could commit herself without doubt or fear. It was what she discovered in herself quite as much as what she found in him that made her certain.

When Lincoln made his call for volunteers my youthful father heard and responded to the call, left his girl-wife and baby-boy and went off to the war, and at the siege of Vicksburg paid the last full tribute of devotion to his country, while the young widowed mother wept and the little boy looked on with wide-eyed and uncomprehending wonder. He had been an ideal husband, and for three years had made mother supremely happy. Never once did he speak a cross word or show to her other than the most tender and chivalrous devotion. The memory of his love was ever with her, and as I grew she would hug me to her heart and tell me how happy my father had made her, and then she would add, as she looked me straight in the eyes: "And some day my boy will make some little woman unspeakably happy." So naturally I came to feel that that was part of the mission of my life, one of the objects of my being, to make some one little woman happy; while to injure a woman, to mar her life and blast her happiness seemed to me, and still seems, the supremest cursedness and treason against the most sacred rights and claims of humanity.

From mother I unconsciously got a high ideal of gentle sweetness and purity, and all womanly virtues which adorn a home and make it a haven of rest and a center of inspiration and courage and noble ambition. Then one day at school word came to me, "Quick! Come home; mother is dying!" When I got home mother was dead. The love-light had fled from her beautiful eyes, but a smile was on her sweet face. They buried her, but her spirit was with me and the memory of her sweet, womanly character was enshrined deep in my heart, and in all my boyish loves and dreams it was sweetness and purity rather than flashing beauty and wit that kindled tender emotions within me. My wife must be gentle and sweet and pure of heart. This I gathered unconsciously from my mother.

Following mother's death I prepared for college, and spent four years in a co-educational university in the Middle West. What a bevy of lovely girls surrounded me there! We frolicked and flirted and picnicked, and were as frank and open and wholesome in our relations with each other as brothers and sisters, but my heart was lost to none of them. Two of them were as beautiful as any picture Sargeant ever painted, but they were frivolous. One had the most wondrous eyes and the most perfect complexion I ever saw, with masses of lovely hair, and a form that would have graced a ducal palace; she was intellectual, also, but it was Lady Clare Vere de Vere transplanted to the Ohio Valley:

Faultily faultless, icily regular, splendidly null,

Dead perfection, no more.

Another was very charming, but she lacked depth of character, I thought, and was too petite. Yet another was rich in character, one of the best students I ever knew, and one of the finest of women, but stiff in manner, and there was an irregularity about her features that I regretted. (In the callow years of young manhood very small defects, which may not be defects at all, and would probably be unnoticed by older and wiser men, may cause "Cupid's darts to miss the mark.")

My intellectual awakening was slow, and I do not think these four years quite completed the process, but I was sufficiently awakened to see and feel that my wife must have a range of vision and thought beyond the neighborhood in which we might live, else I could not be happy with her. She must be educated, must know books, have some knowledge of the world's best thought, and the culture that only this can give.

I was not myself deeply religious, though I was a member of the Church, taught in the Sunday school, sang in the choir, and worked in the college Y. M. C. A., but I missed in all those lovely girls a religious conviction and influence which I now see I needed and craved, and should have heartily welcomed from any one of them. Young men may appear careless concerning matters religious, but I am persuaded from a rather wide acquaintance and experience that they do not resent but respond promptly, though it may at first be jauntily, or for a time silently, to the gentle spiritual touch of the young woman who has vital spiritual knowledge, and who is frank and natural and modestly courageous in the expression of her convictions, who appeals to everything that is best in them, who shames everything that is false and morally wrong. In these things young men are often more willing to be led than to take the lead, and here, if they would, young women could often gain a commanding and gracious and life-long influence over young men, an influence which would be welcomed as guiding, restraining, and inspiring, and greatly longed for and needed in the midst of fierce temptations to which young men are ever subject.

It was while continuing my professional studies in an Eastern university that the conviction possessed me that my wife must not only have sweet womanly virtues, be adorned with refinement and the culture of the schools, but that she must be genuinely religious, must love God and his law supremely, for without this I realized we should fail in the highest fellowship. With this love and loyalty to God abounding, I knew then that her love and loyalty to me could not fail. Indeed, I came not through any experience, but through awakened spiritual insight, to distrust the permanency of a human love that is not replenished and enriched by the overflow of a Divine love, and a loyalty that is not purified and reinforced by the reverential fear and love of God. Where this fear and love abide there can be no failure. "Many waters cannot quench love" kindled and fed from this central and exhaustless fire. But where could I find such a woman? Solomon was a very wise man and had a very wide marital experience, and he said, "A prudent wife is from the Lord." If she is from the Lord, why not ask him for her? Why not pray to him to find her? And this I did.

Marriage is a Divine institution, is surrounded by Divine sanctions, and should be entered into with a sense of its Divine character and responsibilities and blessings, which, abused, can turn into the most fearful curses; therefore God's blessing and guidance should be sought in every step that leads to it. The year I went East to study, three girls from one of the leading women's colleges of America went abroad to see Europe, and in London, to their utter surprise and joy, they found the Lord in The Salvation Army. One of them he had chosen for me. To her heart of sweet womanly graces, and to her culture, he added his grace and spirit. Two years later we met, and I fell in love—I lost my heart. Here she was, the sweet, gracious, cultured woman, filled with God's love, won my head and my heart approved, and for whose dear sake I had denied myself in lonely hours of fierce temptation, though I had not seen her face, and for whom I had prayed and watched and waited.

At an appropriate time, not then being able to see her, I wrote and told her all, and she sent me the sweetest letter—and the bitterest—that I ever had. She said she wept at the pain it must give me, and she felt that my love and union with me would put the crown upon her womanhood, but there were obstacles in the way—obstacles which she feared were insuperable. She then generously mentioned two others, with either of whom she thought I might be happier than with her. At her invitation I met them, and they were lovely women, but to my mind they were "as water unto wine," and I pressed my suit in spite of obstacles. One day she gave me an anonymous little book. I read it with the deepest interest and emotion, not once suspecting who had written it, and when I learn-

(Continued on page 6)

ASKING FOR BREAD, GIVEN A STONE.

Mrs H. C. Morrison.

THIS is a day in which one needs to be a discerner of spirits in order to select that which will be for his good, physically, intellectually, and spiritually. Man is a trichotomy, his nature being divided into body, soul and spirit. It is given unto each of us the responsibility of caring for these several parts of our being, and we need to be on our guard that we select the very best mediums through which they are to be developed.

Physically, many of us treat our body as if it were an old worn-out, cast-away machine, good for nothing but the junk pile. Indeed, some of us treat these bodies worse than a machine, for we pour all sorts of food into them, and many are debauched with strong drink, others are mutilated by indulgences that not only destroy the body, but destroy the mind and soul. We are reminded that our bodies are the "temples of the Holy Ghost," and that they should be used only as the Spirit dictates. What a world of contentment and happiness we should have if every one would only use their bodies as they were intended, but alas!

It is the duty of every parent to give their children the best opportunities for improving the mind, as one's capacities for doing good and ministering largely to his fellowmen are greatly increased by thorough intellectual training. One of the most interesting experiences that has come to me, has been to watch the unfolding of youthful possibilities as they sought to prepare themselves by diligent application to the courses of study that develop and prepare them for the largest usefulness.

But, by far is it of the utmost importance that the physical and intellectual training be given where the soul will have an equal opportunity to be brought into the full bloom of Christian manhood and womanhood. It is astounding that the large majority neglect the most important part of one's being, indicating how deep-rooted the enemy of all good has planted within us the bent toward an independence that feels it can get along without super-human assistance. Truly, God is not in all their thoughts, consequently not in all their ways.

But, I started out to caution us against becoming influenced by the new bill of fare that is being served from many of our pulpits today. Yes, there is good and not so good, and we must discriminate between that which will make us more skeptical. To give a concrete case of what I mean, I shall give some excerpts from a letter recently received from a friend who gives her experience in a large city where she recently attended church. She speaks of attending a service in which the preacher lifted her above things earthly, into the heavens.

She comments thus: "Oh, what a sermon! The preacher preached on the epistles of Peter and showed us what there was in the man that led to his being able to make the great confession, 'Thou art the Christ.' He said Peter has what every builder of the church must have—loyalty, vision, love. He said Peter's natural capacities were very great, but that human as he was and full of faults, his power for development in the hands of Jesus and through the power of the Holy Spirit was unlimited.

"Last Sunday I was tired and so took the easier course of dropping into the church next door. I heard an address on evolution—very learned—very modern, but absolutely empty. He spent most all the time in ridiculing W. J. Bryan, and citing famous scientists to prove man's descent from the lower forms of animal life. I saw a very intelligent appearing man sound asleep—and no wonder! Dry as dust! And why be a

ALL ABOARD FOR ASBURY COLLEGE! SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 22nd.

Asbury College in the heart of the beautiful bluegrass country of Kentucky will open its doors for its forty-second year Tuesday, Sept. 22nd. Encouraging are the reports as to enrollment. Both boys and girls' dormitories are about filled and those who have been waiting until the eleventh hour to complete their arrangement for college should make their reservations at once. The young ladies should write Miss Minnie Carmichael, House Dean, and the young men should address Dean J. B. Kenyon for room reservations.

No school in the country excels Asbury College in its fine fellowship, happy family spirit, and spiritual ideals. This college has stood for forty-one years for the full orb, well rounded life that comes from a satisfying personal experience within, of full redemption. The year begins with a short but intensely interesting series of services relating to the inner spiritual life of the students. We are fortunate this year in having as our leader for these services our honored President Emeritus, Dr. H. C. Morrison, whose preaching for many years has stirred America.

The opening day of activities, following the entrance examinations on the 22nd, is a general meeting of all Freshmen in the Hughes Auditorium at 9:30 A. M., Wednesday, Sept. 23rd. A most interesting program of 30 minute sessions covering all the departmental activities of the college then follows throughout the day and the day following, closing Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock with the welcome of new students by the junior class in the Auditorium.

Friday morning at 9:50 the first regular chapel service will be held with a short address by the President. An organ recital Saturday evening is one of the interesting features of the opening week at Asbury.

When one considers the beautiful location of the college almost at the center of population, the picked Christian youth from almost all of the states as well as from foreign countries, the finest wholesome Christian fellowship to be found, an "A" grade rating together with low expense it is not to be wondered that the Christian fathers and mothers of the nation who see in this school a safer atmosphere for their children, even than in their own homes, are looking in increasing numbers to this educational and spiritual lighthouse as the future college home for their children. Here under devout faculty advisers the best training of body, mind, and soul is secured.

Asbury College stands ready to welcome its college family at the threshold of the new year with the prayer that this may be the best of all the years in its interesting history.

L. R. AKERS, President.

doubter like that? Who is benefited by this modernist theory? I could find no one who seemed to be inspired by the address—all looked as cold as the grey stone of the walls.

"Today the same man advertised to talk on 'The Truth in the Bible Narrative of Man's Origin.' I wondered what he would say, but really, I could not bring myself to waste another Sunday on him. I could almost believe that such men, in spite of all their wisdom, are closely related to lower forms of life, but I would say, since they are so lacking in spiritual insight, that they were brothers of the mud and stones of earth. For what is man minus spirituality—a handful of dust—no more!

"I hear in the educational world where specialists make intelligence tests, that we are socially burdened with morons, those people who never get to be over twelve years old mentally no matter how old they grow. Well! How about our spiritual morons? That is my question! Are they not a greater menace than the mentally incapacitated? And only God can work the miracle of their salvation—for with these there is hope—for, as Canon Mallett said this morning, 'With God there are no outcasts from salvation.' If a man will, he can be redeemed, and his life made to blossom like the rose, even though mentally, morally, and physically, he is a victim of sin—his own or inbred (of course both.)

"Some difference between the sermons of today and that of last Sunday! I thank God for the remnant of the faithful! I bless his name for the long list of ages past, and for men like your dear husband, the standard-bearer of our own age."

I have given quotations at length for they serve so concretely to illustrate the difference between asking for bread and receiving bread, and asking for bread and receiving a stone. To any minister of the Word whose eyes may chance to fall upon this, allow me to ask you in all candor, which of the above preachers represents your case? I think it is more than likely that a minister who enjoys THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD will not be found in the second class, whose auditors "ask for bread but are given a stone." It might be well to remember that, bread nourishes, but stones kill. And who shall be responsible for the killing!

"Born Above Ground."

More than a year ago my physician thought I was going to be sick, put me to bed, and summoned a nurse. She was a registered nurse, but preferred a variety in her employments; so that she had worked in hospitals, in private practices, and also as a district nurse. As she had nothing to do for me as nurse, she told me many stories about her experiences with patients, with physicians, and with hospital authorities. The most interesting of all her stories was the one which follows:

"While working as a district nurse in a small town which contained several large factories served by many different races, she was told to call on a woman said to be very poor who was expecting her fourth baby. The nurse called promptly at the building indicated, but was surprised to find the woman established in a comfortable apartment which was pretty well furnished. The patient informed the nurse that the coming child would be the first one of her children born above ground, and then explained that since the Volstead act had been enforced in the town her husband no longer came home drunk every evening, and on pay day handed her the money he had earned instead of spending most of it on his way home at the saloon. The nurse found it necessary to visit this prospective patient every day for more than a week. One Sunday morning she came upon the father of the family sitting holding his nine-year-old girl on his lap and twisting her pretty curls around his forefinger. When the nurse looked at him with interest and an inquiring expression, he remarked that he wanted to make his little girl look as nice as possible this morning because he was going to take her to Sunday school for the first time. This was the man who before prohibition had never paid any attention to his children except to scold and curse them and push them roughly out of his way, and whose wife's only way of getting any of the money he earned was to pick his pocket as he lay helpless in an armchair on pay day evening.

"In due time the expected baby was born 'above ground' into a happy family."

CHARLES W. ELIOT.

Here Is A Great Book For You.

"Great Revivals and the Great Republic," by Bishop Warren A. Candler, D.D., LL.D. The name of the man and the title of the book ought to be recommendation enough for its ready and wide sale. Bishop Candler is one of the deepest thinkers of our times. He has a great subject. The book contains 344 pages, it is well bound, clear print, and on good paper. It can be had of The Pentecostal Publishing Co., for $1.00. The original price was $1.50. This special price will bring you a most valuable book. Send for it at once.

H. C. MORRISON.

DRY VOTERS IN WET PARTIES

REV. A. S. HUNTER.

WHY should dry citizens continue to vote with wet political parties? The wet and dry issue, including its economic, social and moral bearings, is the biggest political question now before the American people, and has been for more than a generation; if not before the whole world! It is far more than just a political football, as tariff, currency, etc., have been made, during fifty years past.

Both the Democratic and Republican parties are wet! Not all the people who own the party names, but the party bosses on both sides are wet. For many years, Herman Raster, a big Chicago brewer, wrote the "temperance" plank for the Republican national platform; and it never suggested anything which would interfere with the legalized liquor traffic. During the same time, the Democratic party was on record, nationally, as being opposed to all "sumptuary legislation." That meant exactly the same as the Republican "temperance" plank, and both of them together meant precisely nothing so far as protecting the people from the ravages of legalized rum! The infamous liquor traffic was entirely safe with either party in power.

To this day, neither party has ever touched the liquor question as a party measure. And that condition in each party is incurable, having become chronic with long standing. Constitutional prohibition came as an economic and moral reaction in war conditions. Except for the imperative necessity growing out of the war, so far as either political party is concerned, we would still be under the old iniquitous license system. Since we have had prohibition, neither party, either in any state or in the nation at large, has championed its enforcement. As shown by the national campaign of 1928, a great majority of the people of the country, regardless of party, are dry; and that has been corroborated by the nationwide elections of 1930. The dry Democrats and Republicans are now alike disappointed with the way the administration has handled the enforcement question. Because of the hesitant policy which has prevailed, the wets in both parties have taken new hope and courage, have grown arrogant and insolent, and are openly making a big drive to discredit prohibition now, and to ultimately overthrow it.

In New York, the Republican party split on the prohibition issue, the party machine nominating a candidate for governor on his own dictated wet platform, though he had been a United States district attorney in charge of enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment. The wet Democratic candidate was elected by an unprecedented majority.

In New Jersey, the wet Republican candidate, nominated on his own dictated wet platform, was elected. In Pennsylvania, the Republican machine worked to the bitter end to keep a dry man off their ticket; and half a million to a million wet Republicans voted for the wet Democrat, and many dry Democrats voted for the dry Republican. It was given out during the campaign that the wet Republican candidates in New York and New Jersey were acceptable to the administration at Washington, but nothing about the dry Republican candidate in Pennsylvania, except "hands off."

Wherever we look, the bosses of both parties are subservient to the dictation of wet influences. In many instances the dry voters defeat the schemes of the wet bosses of their own party; but both party machines and bosses are wet! The prospect now is that, in 1932, both parties will put up wet national tickets. Influential Republicans are warning the party leaders that they must repudiate prohibition in order to save the party—they sacrifice principle for party, and hope the people will ratify that. The Republican wets are hounding the trail of their national chairman, because he speaks dry; and they demand that the party be reorganized on a wet basis! The Democratic party leaders are either sympathetically wet, or are hog-tied by the wets.

The present outlook is for a three-party campaign in 1932; the Democrats and Republicans, wet; and the Prohibition party, dry. Things are shaping up much as they were forty years ago. At that time, millions of Democratic and Republican dry citizens, sick of the wet policy of their respective parties, were swinging to the dry Prohibition party as the only one which represented their dry principles. Then, the Anti-Saloon League was devised, with the catchy slogan, "Stay in your own party and vote for the best man in either party." The theory was that this would compel both parties to put up only good men, that is to say dry men. Alas! for human theories! The history of the past forty years shows how easily the wet politicians circumvented that, and both parties have continued wet. But, that flank movement deferred prohibition twenty-five years; and when it did come as a war measure, it was left in the hands of wet administrations, and we know how they have not sincerely enforced it.

Why should dry citizens continue to vote with wet political parties? Your ballots are powder for their guns, and those guns are manned by wet gunners! Put your powder into the dry Prohibition party gun, which is manned by dry gunners! No interest of the country will suffer thereby, and we will be delivered from the greatest curse of this or any other people! The Prohibition party leaders have pioneered a number of the great reforms which have been adopted by our nation in the past sixty years, of which women's suffrage is one. No party, of any name, would have done worse for the country than the two wet parties have done. Why longer be a party to that regime?

"Thou shalt not follow the multitude to do evil!" "Come out from among them, and be ye separate, touch not the unclean thing!"

Are You Interested in the Wedding?

Revelation 19:7.

What wedding? And who are to be married? When and where will the wedding occur? It was the wedding of which two young women spoke on their way home from church on a Sunday morning. Their pastor had preached on the subject, and they heard things they had never heard before, and did not know were in the Bible. But both of them expressed deep interest in the subject, not only to each other, but also to the pastor. He had said the wedding would be a most brilliant and rapturous event in which all heaven would be interested. And that the interest would be manifested by a great multitude of voices with ringing ascriptions of praise to God, because of the marriage about to take place between the heavenly Bridegroom, the Lord Jesus Christ, and his purified and prepared church. The joyful notes that reverberated throughout the celestial habitation were, "Allelujah, for the Lord God Omnipotent reigneth. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honor to him, for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready."

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

Of the two young women referred to above one of them said, "Oh, I wonder if we will belong to the bride? We've been professing Christians and workers in the church, but I fear we do not measure up to the real Bible standard." The other one answered, "I feel that we have not fully come out from the sinful world as we should, and I intend to give further serious attention to the sublime subject about which we heard today."

My dear Christian reader, let us, by the astounding grace of God, aim at the spiritually lofty attitude of full overcomers over all the combined powers of Satan and the world. That is indeed our high and holy privilege and duty. That will surely enable us to participate in the millennial exaltation, as also to dwell and reign with Jesus Christ "forever and ever." (Rev. 11:15). Hallelujah! A. W. ORWIG.

Be Filled With the Spirit.

REV. EDWARD R. KELLEY.

Be filled with the Spirit, for He's thine; He is thine.

Let Him fill thee daily with His presence divine.

O thou dear child of God! He will make thy soul free,

And He'll reign in thy life so that all men may see

The image of Thy Lord e'er reflected in thee.

He will flood thy soul like rolling waves of the sea,

As the Spirit divine shall abide within thee.

He will mellow thy life; He will banish all fear;

He will bless thee and guide thee, and answer thy prayer;

He will fill thy soul with joy as He leads ev'rywhere.

He'll ever be with thee, and He'll stand by thy side,

For He'll make thy soul strong, and forever abide.

He will let thy heart know that ALL things can be done

Through the grace and the power of God's only Son.

He'll witness to thee of the Resurrected One.

He will cleanse from all sin with fire from above;

He'll be first in thy thoughts as He fills thee with love.

And thy storm-tossed soul before Him will be stilled,

As thy heart with His own blessed presence is filled.

He is thine; He is thine, for the Lord has so willed.

Open wide thine heart and let the Spirit come in;

He will save you and cleanse you, and keep you from sin.

As God's own dear child, He'll surely keep thy soul pure

If thy faith in Jesus remains lasting and sure;

Meekness and love will He give while taking you through.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and pressed for time, you will always find Arnold's Commentary full of rich spiritual truths on the S. S. Lesson. You can't afford to be without it at this closing-out price of 50 cents.

"WHY I WANTED MY WIFE TO BE MY WIFE."

(Continued from page 3)

ed it was her book I loved her none the less.

On another day we were driving among the beautiful hills around her home, and some occasion arose that led her to tell me of a nameless baby, a little child of lawless passions and the night, whose tender life was wasting away through the ignorance and lack of care on the part of its girl-mother. She coaxed the girl to let her have the baby for awhile, and took it home and kept it for months, nursing it back to rosy health and dimpled sweetness; and as she talked about that baby I felt that in her heart were the germs of the richest and tenderest mother-love, and for this I loved her all the more, for I felt that if I ever had a wife I wanted one who would not shun but welcome motherhood with great and solemn joy.

On yet another day we stood by the piano in her father's home, and suddenly she turned, slipped out into the hall, and left me. My eyes followed her and my whole heart went out after her. I did not want to die for her, but to live for her. I wanted to put my arms about her, to comfort her, provide for her, protect her, bear her burdens, be her shield, and receive every blow of adversity or sorrow or misfortune that might befall her. I no longer thought of what she might bring or give to me, but only of what I might give to and suffer for her. And then and there, at last, I had found and entered the pure world of sacrificial love and utter devotion reached by the little wife of my Swedish friend—the world in which alone I could fulfil my mother's prophecy.

The key that will open a Yale lock was made for the lock, and the woman who can open the inmost treasure-store of a man's heart, and can bring forth the refined gold of unselfish love, was made for that man, and by this I knew that she, who for twenty-eight wonderful and blessed years was my wife, and became the happy mother of my children, was God's woman for me. And that is why I wanted my wife to be my wife!

A Revival of Regeneration.

U. T. HOLLENBACK.

NOT long since I was riding in the auto with a leading holiness evangelist and editor of a great weekly, when I was somewhat struck with an expression he made to me. Turning to me after seeming to study carefully, he said: "I tell you, sir, there are few people getting converted these days." And I began to think about the church as a whole to see if the same conclusion would come to me.

And the more I thought of it the more I was inclined to believe it. It is impossible for me to judge accurately every case of profession that comes under my observation; and it is impossible for me to know all that is going on in churchdom in the country. Nor do I ever want to be unthankful for the many who are seeking to save the lost and for the success that they are having; but when I consider the country as a whole and see the many, many places of worship where conversion is unknown, and the witness of the Spirit is unheard of I am inclined to agree that it is sadly true.

I was told by a good brother this week that there were thirteen church buildings of his denomination in one county close by that were to be ordered sold this year. And many, many are the churches that are financially bankrupt, and many more that are morally and spiritually bankrupt. And then I thought of the hosts of holiness evangelists in many denominations who do not get calls and who are not wanted, and of those in the holiness churches who are not wanted because it "costs too much to have evangelists." (This is not true for the evangelist is the "enthusiasm and blood of the churches.") But there is a cause for the gospel of holiness not being wanted. And it lies in the fact that there is so little regeneration.

The holiness evangelist of forty years ago appealed to a church in which were a goodly number of converted and praying people. The holiness evangelist today, in the same place appeals to a crowd of sinners with scarcely a soul who has experienced the new birth and has enough life to "hunger and thirst after righteousness." If the people are there at all they stare at him as if they were void of comprehension. He is appealing to a vacuum. They have never had the love of God shed abroad in their hearts and therefore, cannot receive either the meaning or the person of the Holy Ghost. And such is their lack of hunger for spiritual things they will perhaps not even be present when the appeal to holiness is to be made.

The few decades of preaching doubt, of infidel ministers, of evolutionary guesses, and humanitarian discourses, and worldly ministerial examples have brought forth a church that is "twice dead and plucked up by the roots." And it seems that in order for the forces who believe in holiness as a second work of grace to survive, they must pray down a revival of regeneration. There must be a great increase in the number of people truly converted. For did not the Lord Jesus tell us that "the world could not receive the Holy Ghost"? And is there any line of demarcation between the world and the unconverted church? Then to urge the average present-day church member to seek the "Spirit-filled life" or "the pentecostal fullness," or "the power for service," or "purity within" or the "baptism with the Spirit" is to mock Christ and to put a vain hope in front of that soul. The world cannot receive the Holy Ghost, so why deceive them with false hopes. They must get out of the world and the world out of them through a real regeneration before there is hope of their receiving the Holy Ghost. Not that every churchmember today is void of grace. There are many thousands who can testify to the saving grace of God and the witness of the Spirit; but compared with the many millions of church members they are comparatively few. Nor is there no need of teaching believers the necessity of going on to perfection and pressing after entire sanctification. As long as there is one believer unsanctified, he should be urged to "follow after that holiness without which no man shall see the Lord." But a real extensive revival of second blessing holiness depends largely upon a revival of regeneration.

Many of the "holiness churches" of the country, which contain choice saints and sound doctrine, are so busy raising their budgets, paying their bills, building houses of worship, that their pastors have little time to get alone with God or their people and pray for a revival of regeneration. To build a new ecclesiastical structure takes most of the time and prayers and all their money; and while the souls that do get converted are precious, and for them we are thankful, yet the rate of increase in the number of true converts is far behind the rate of increase of the population of the country. There must be a sweeping revival of regeneration and it must be soon. It is needed because there are so few who have ever experienced the new birth. There is no other way into the kingdom of heaven. There is no other way for God to establish a father-child relationship with any human being. There is no other way to have a church that is eligible for sanctification.

But there are possibilities of such a revival. It lies in the infinite resources of God. Nor can the deadness of the church or the wickedness of the people exhaust these resources. It may never start with the regularly ordained ministry. It may not start with the professional evangelist who is used to "putting the thing over." The first may be too busy attending to the "affairs of the kingdom" to assist in the revival; or he may be too much entangled with the world to have any influence; or he may be too proud to acknowledge his own loss. The latter may be too much tied to his psychological stunt methods to get down in prayer for the conversion of sinners. But God has a way.

And there are some probabilities of God working in this manner. For of late there has been expressed to me by many from different churches and from unlikely sources, a desire for such a revival. Many church members are hungry for something beside current events and church affairs. They know not what they need but they are hungry. And is not that hunger a prayer? And there are members in many churches who are praying for such a revival; and humble ministers are desiring such a revival, and many in the holiness churches are looking beyond the pole of denominational building and praying that God will send a revival of more extensive proportions.

Could not God put it into the hearts of some humble ministers and laymen to lay aside the ponderous weight of "affairs" and gather the unsaved churchmembers together in the parlors of home and church rooms, and tell them simply about the new birth and urge them to pray for that experience? And could he not put it into the hearts of traveling business men to gather their unsaved friends in private rooms in hotels and just tell them about the new birth and urge them to pray and confess their sins privately and humbly before the little crowd and seek the new birth? And could God not put it into the hearts of some godly women to gather the unsaved neighbors into their homes for a visit and get up under the power of the Spirit and tell them humbly of the new birth and urge them to pray about it? And Sunday school teachers to gather their pupils into the home some evening and tell them the necessity of the new birth, and urge them to pray themselves until they are converted. And could there not spring up under divine direction, new birth societies all over the country that would be so far from appearing to be regular church departments that it would sweep many into the kingdom of God who are prejudiced against the church? Could not God spread out cottage meetings and church parlor meetings, hotel room meetings all over the country in which one man would tell another of the blessed experience of being born again and that others get hungry for the same thing? And could he not give us a revival that would even invade the ranks of Romanism and Jewry with its soul-saving power?

Yea, God could and if we pray he is willing to send such a revival. Nor is he limited to times of temporal prosperity, for he could send a revival with no expense at all for overhead, no building program at all, no disturbance of the present ecclesiastical mausoleum whatever, with no "program for the extension of the kingdom." He could extend it without any human program. All he needs is just human beings who are simple in their faith and trustful in their prayers, unspoiled in the prejudices and obedient in their loyalty. It might jump over the regular channels of religious activity, and cross denominational lines diagonally. It might astonish ecclesiastics into madness and opposition. But God could give it.

Let us pray for a revival of regeneration, where countless thousands will be led into the experience of the new birth. It will lead the way for a great number to receive entire sanctification. It would cause missionaries to go to the foreign lands (if such there be) without home boards back of them; traveling men on the high seas would hold meetings in their berths, business men in the foreign lands would testify to their customers abroad, and the gospel be carried without the gigantic necessity of keeping the church in the banking business. Let us pray and trust for a widespread revival of regeneration!

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

WHAT ANSWER SHALL WE GIVE TO GOD?

"Send us an evangelist." How shall your missionaries answer this request?

"If you will build a church here, we will send you an evangelist." Do you want your missionaries to keep this promise?

The following article was written by Shutsha Abele, the assistant native pastor of Wembo Nyama Station, after an extended trip by automobile in company with Rev. Alexander Reid, evangelistic missionary at Wembo Nyama, Methodist Episcopal Congo Mission, Congo Belge, Africa.

Dear Friends: I am writing the events of our trip during the month of April, 1931. We left our Mission in order to go to many out-villages and to teach the people the palavers of God.

We came to the village of Lukuluowo, and there they besought us for an evangelist from our Mission, and since we had an evangelist with us that day, we gave them Lusuna Djosefu, and I stayed with them three days to teach the Word of God. These people were very happy, and many came to hear the Word of God. We laid out the measurements for a large church, and the people went immediately to the woods to cut the timbers. Their village is beautiful, and has a good road going to it.

We also went to the village of Chief Otete; he is a big chief with medals, has sense, and can read a book well. At that village we saw hundreds of people who wanted the palaver of God. They have two churches there and still many people have to stay outside. The Spirit of God helped us there, and at night when we were preaching the Word of God the people were very quiet, and many of them forsook their sins. The village is beautiful, with many palm trees and clear water. It is on a State road, but the road is soft. Many of the people begged us to stay, and so we stayed there three days.

We went all the way to the village of Chief Uvungu but found his road poor, not at all nice, and the bridges were bad. We had a hard time crossing with the automobile. We finally came to the village, it is large and beautiful, and we gathered with the people in the church. The church was crowded inside and outside, seven or eight hundred came to hear the Word of God. Many Witch Doctors came to hear the Word of God, and begged us to stay with them a long time. We stayed there nine days and many people forsook their sins and their medicines, and said, "We want to trust Jesus only." We therefore rejoiced very much. Their church is large and beautiful. Chief Uvungu has strong laws for his people, therefore his people are not lazy, neither is there noise in his village at night like there is in other villages. They have plenty of food and meat, good water, and many palm trees. The country is beautiful and there are no mosquitoes. We were very happy there, and well, and we taught the people every day.

From the former village we went by road to Katoko Kombe; we passed many villages, and some of them begged us saying, "We want evangelists from the Mission." We came by the village of Djeka which is under Chief Ngongo; we were then on the border line of the Katoko Kombe territory. We saw other people at Uma Songo and Diwamba who besought us saying, "Stop here." We stopped a little while and then went on to the village of Ngongo. Chief Ngongo is a chief with sense, and knows how to read a book well. He besought us to stay in his own house. Mrs. Reid did not want to at first, but when we did not see a rest house for white people, she and Mr. Reid finally decided to stay in the house of the chief. It is a beautiful house. Many people came to hear the Word of God, and begged for an evangelist. We laid out the measurements for a church. The village is large but not beautiful; it is on a hill, and large crickets destroy everything in the village. There are many palm trees there, and the water is good, but the road is very soft.

We returned to the village of Chief Djeka and stopped a short while. This village is beautiful; it has a garage for our automobile, and the road is very good. The forest there has many hard wood trees for making beautiful boards, and fine clay for making brick. This village is on the border of the Katoko Kombe and Lodja territories.

We entered Lodja territory and saw many villages where they begged us saying, "We want an evangelist from the Mission." Many of the natives want missionaries and evangelists from our Mission. We also saw the village of Chief Kangolo which is a large and beautiful village of three thousand people. The people there pleaded very much saying, "We want an evangelist from your Mission." That village has no Catholic evangelist, they want an evangelist from our Mission only. The chief has a beautiful brick house. The village is full of palm trees, and there is plenty of food. There are hills near by, and the soil is rich. There are no mosquitoes there.

We saw the village of Chief Lunganga where they besought us saying, "We want the Mission to come here quickly; the Missionaries are our chiefs; we are in darkness here; we do not know God; we want you to send evangelists to us; we are lost in sin!" The road to this village is very good.

We next went to Omeunga and on the way saw many villages that had great longing and besought us saying, "We want an evangelist." When we came to Esonga Djinzra, we there gathered the people and spoke the Word of God to them. They begged us for an evangelist and so we measured out a place for a church and said to them, "If you will build a church here, we will send you an evangelist." When we came to Omeunga, where we have an evangelist, the people were leaving the village because they were moving to a new place. There are many Christian people there, and because the church was left at the first place we laid out the measurements for a new church. This village is not pretty because it is a new site, however, there are palm trees, there is fertile soil, and good water. There is a path but no automobile road.

We left Omeunga and went on our way to Lodja. We came to the village of Chief Mundala who is an old man and sick as well. We were besought by many people who wanted an evangelist. Many people are truly hungry (for the Gospel), we had evidence of their hunger when they besought us saying, "We want white people from the Mission only to send us evangelists." (Meaning that they do not want evangelists from the Catholics.) We came by the village of Chief Lusele and they too said, "We want an evangelist." The auto road was good and we saw many villages along the way, and many small paths (leading to other villages).

Finally, we came to Lodja, and stayed with Chief Shutsha. We spent two days there and taught the people the Word of God. The whole village begged us saying, "We want an evangelist, and we want a Mission station here at Lodja." The soil is rich here, and water is good, and there is a great forest with large and beautiful trees. There are no mosquitoes.

On our return journey we came through Katoko Kombe and then on to the village of Chief Lutundula where the road is very soft. We did not sleep there although the people besought us to stop, but we took another road by way of Ngombe, and came all the way to Chief Longonga. We had a hard time at night because the road was bad. This village is in Lubefu territory. The people begged us saying, "We want an evangelist of the Mission." The Catholic Christians also besought us saying, "We want an evangelist from your Mission." In that village there are many people, and we measured out a place for a church and promised them saying, "If you will finish this church, we will send you an evangelist in the month of July."

This article was translated from Otetela into English. The native mode of expression was preserved as far as possible. The words in parenthesis are for explanation.

William De Ruiter, Wembo Nyama Station.

SCOTTSVILLE CAMP.

The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Scottsville Holiness Camp is now history. This camp is located on the highway between Marshall, Tex., and Shreveport, La., among the tall pines, oaks and hickory trees, adjoining a beautiful park with a natural spring and lily pond and a monument dedicated to the Confederate dead of the community.

The workers were Rev. Jarrette Aycock, wife and daughter of Bethany, Okla., and Rev. O. H. Callis, of Wilmore, Ky. Mrs. Callis was also with us and delighted the camp with her beautiful violin music. The sweetest and most Christlike spirit prevailed throughout the entire camp. Both Bro. Aycock's and Bro. Callis' messages brought conviction to the sinner, inspiration to the child of God, and a deeper determination to live for God and press the battle for holiness till Jesus comes. Many found their way to the altar of prayer, eighteen in one service.

Mrs. A. B. Richards, a missionary to China, who is being supported by the Scottsville camp, was with us and gave the message the last Sunday morning on the work in China. Praise God for the holiness camps.

REVIVAL AT ZOAR METHODIST CHURCH.

We began our revival at Zoar M. E., South, the first Sunday in August and ran ten days. The pastor, Rev. C. F. Bartow, was assisted by Rev. O. H. Rhodes, of the Altamaha Circuit. Brother Rhodes is a man full of faith and the Holy Ghost. He preached with no uncertain sound on the doctrine of repentance, confession, restitution and entire sanctification as a second work of grace. It was at a time when a great battle was being waged between holiness and sin. The Holy Ghost came down like a mighty shaft out of the skies and settled on the entire community for several miles around. We did not count the ones who came to the altar, but counted the ones who prayed through to a definite experience. There were 42 saved or reclaimed and 20 sanctified. Many others were blessed. Eight were added to the church on profession of faith.

We are praising God the days of revivals are not past when Jesus is lifted up to save from all sin.

Roy C. Landrum, Layman.
Stapleton, Ga.

ELDORADO, ILLINOIS.

The Eldorado camp, 1931, is history now. It surely was a great success, the largest crowds present we have had for years. Upward of one hundred preachers in attendance. This is very gratifying to those who have been carrying the burden for the camp. At most every service we had people praying through, either for pardon or purity. Often the lone altar was filled with seekers. Rev. Allie Erick, of Bethany, Okla., and Rev. C. F. Wimberly, of St. George, S. C., were the preachers; Rev. Harry Blackburn, of Wessington Springs, S. D., song leader, with his sister at the piano; Miss Jean Pound was the representative of the Oriental Missionary Society and Miss Fern Tillman represented the National Holiness Association missionary work. Both have given service in China. Miss Pound had charge of the young people's and children's work during the camp. People who have been attending the camp say that this was the greatest camp we have had for fifteen years. Over 100 new members were added and the end is not yet. "Praise the Lord!"

Reader, begin now to plan to spend the ten days with us next year. The cottages were pretty well all filled but we can use tents when all the cottages get full. The workers for next year are C. M. Dunaway and Joseph Owen, preachers, with the Suttons as singers. The object of this camp is to spread Scriptural holiness. It is interdenominational, having fine representatives from different churches.

Thos. E. Harper.

Elected President for 5th Year.

INDIAN SPRING CAMP

Dear Herald Family:

At this writing, August 20, I am just back from Indian Springs Camp Meeting which closed the night of the 16th. It was such a wonderful occasion and such a great blessing to so many of us, I cannot refrain from adding my testimony (I am sure some one else will give a good report of the meeting). We had good crowds from the beginning and the longer we ran the greater the interest and the better the singing. I have never heard such singing as we had.

Since my part in the meeting was the singing end of it I am sure you will allow me to mention the splendid work of the orchestra under the direction of Rev. J. W. Lilley, of Macon. This with the marvelous piano work was a great support to the chorus and congregational singing.

One of the outstanding choruses was one that I got from the Salvation Army: "I have an interest in the bleeding Lamb of God who died on Calvary." This was in the souvenir edition of the song book I arranged for the camp meeting (and by the way I have some of these left over which I can mail to you for 25c). Speaking of this one special chorus, some words came to us fitting it for the occasion such as "I have an interest in the old camp ground where waves of glory roll," and another suggested by Rev. E. M. Wise, of Palmetto, Fla. "I got a blessing at the old camp ground when the Holy Spirit came." Dr. Morrison and others fell very much in love with this song.

Before closing I must tell you of the wonderful meeting the Lord gave us in Naples, Fla., just before returning home for camp meeting work. We put in two weeks there, holding night services only and with the wonderful co-operation of some earnest laymen there as well as the pastor, Rev. J. S. Jones, we were enabled to more than triple the membership. Some of them were planning to come to Indian Springs for a special anointing but their plans were thwarted. Thank you for this much of your time.

In Him and His service,

Charlie D. Tillman,
Tillman's Crossing, Atlanta, Ga.

REPORT.

Like a dream the summer is slipping by and it has been a long while since I have made my whereabouts known through The Pentecostal Herald. It is always a joy to find friends here and there across country who say, "I am keeping up with you through The Herald." And there is always a feeling of peculiar fellowship with those who read this wonderful paper.

It has been a happy, busy summer with this writer. After having all plans changed for evangelizing in Brazil this year I adjusted myself to the change and have found fertile fields for service in the homeland. I believe I can truly say I have a greater faith in the eternal purposes of God, a clearer consciousness of His abiding presence and a firmer grasp on Romans 8:28 than ever before in all my life.

Recent months have been spent in revivals, young people's assemblies and missionary programs. Missionary work continues to be the dominating interest of my heart, and God has graciously set his seal upon our efforts by giving us some remarkable answers to prayer. Brazil is still upon my heart as my next field of service, as clearly as was Paul's call to Macedonia, and as soon as a few more things are accomplished by way of preparation, I am confident that God will give me the privilege of evangelizing there.

Having had a place on the faculty of four young people's assemblies recently I am more and more convinced that all the young people of the country are not going to the bad. The fervent testimonies, the spirit of devotion, the consecrated lives of these young people, all attest the fact that the church of tomorrow will still be waging battle against sin.

James V. Reid.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                           |                                     |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.        | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.       |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.      | Rev. O. G. Minglehoff, D.D.         |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.        | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.     | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.         |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.   | Rev. G. W. Riddout, D.D.            |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D.  | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                    |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.   | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.               |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D. | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.               |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D. | Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D.   |

(Continued from page 1)

Rev. Joseph Smith and Dr. John Paul were my fellow workers. They broke the bread of life to multitudes to the delight and edification of all. Joseph Smith is a great Bible teacher. After years of close and illuminating study he is able to lead the people into the deep things of the New Testament. We cannot at the moment, think of any one who is a clearer, more helpful teacher of full salvation, as taught in the New Testament. He had his School of the Prophets every morning, and it was largely attended. We heard many expressions from those present of the gracious benefit received. One of the great needs of the people today is thorough teaching and grounding in the Word of God.

Dr. Paul is a unique preacher, quite unlike any one else. He turns his subject about, revealing many sides of Bible truth in an attractive and striking fashion. The ministry of these brethren was fruitful in altar services. During the camp there were a great many forward for prayer, and most of them who came to the altar were either converted, reclaimed or sanctified.

Dr. J. M. Glenn and wife had charge of the Young People's and Children's Meetings held in the young people's tabernacle. The meetings were largely attended with gracious results. The altars were often crowded with seekers and many were graciously blessed. This young people's meeting is one of the very best of its kind held in all the circuit of holiness camp meetings. Brother Glenn presses the work with fervor, and many young people are saved and sanctified in these services. Quite a number were blessed in their tabernacle who volunteered for life service.

Brother Benson, a faithful, devout layman, had charge of the 6 o'clock prayer meeting, which was attended with power. He is a man much beloved for his zeal and devotion. Several families spending their summer on the camp ground kept up earnest prayer services for two or three weeks before the opening of the camp meeting. They had an atmosphere of prayer and devotion in the place when the meeting began, and it was believed that these earnest prayer services preceding the meeting had much to do with the very gracious results. A quartette of Asbury students, a fine group of Christian young men, spent several days at the camp singing to the delight and edification of the people. They rendered very good service in Dr. Glenn's young people's meetings. One of the very interesting things of this camp ground are the many prayer services held in different places between the evening meal and the evening service. One can but be impressed as the quietness of the evening falls upon the place with the voice of prayer ascending from various quarters. No one but God knows how to distribute any stars that may be handed out in the crowning day for results at a camp like Indian Spring.

A host of people have gone up to worship at the feet of the Master who have been blessed at the altars of the Indian Spring camp. Many of the veterans, myself among the rest, are growing old; as the years pass the ranks are being thinned down here, and the ever growing colony of those regenerated, sanctified and built up in the faith at Indian Spring in Paradise is increasing. No one will ever be able in this, or any other world, to accurately calculate the spiritual blessing that has come to the vast thousands of people who, through the years, have attended Indian Spring camp meeting. May the blessing of God rest upon the managers, and so direct the work that it may stand firmly for full salvation, a whole Bible, and a mighty Christ able to save to the uttermost.

I must not close this report of the camp meeting without some words of commendation of Dr. J. M. Glenn and Rev. Sam Haynes. They are both members of the camp meeting Board and untiring workers for the very best spiritual results at this camp. There are no men connected with the great revival of the Wesleyan doctrine and experience of entire sanctification more faithful and devout in the evangelistic field, than Glenn and Haynes. They are men of intelligence, consecration, untiring zeal and effectiveness. We commend them as worthy men in the great white harvest field of true revivalism everywhere. In a great camp like Indian Spring, with the vast multitudes, the immense auditorium, the coming and going, the task of preaching is one of the most exhaustive that can be laid upon anyone. The brotherly love, the sympathy, the amens and the helpfulness of these men are like that of Aaron and Hur to Moses in the olden time. May God bless and use them. It were a pity, indeed a tragedy, for fruitful fields to be neglected, and human souls be lost without effort when such men are ready to lay themselves out for the redemption of the people. Keep them busy fishing for men, winning the lost, building the church, and pouring the saving salt of full salvation out among the people.

Toward the close of the meeting two very interesting British evangelists, Clark and Bell, who have been laboring in some gracious revival work in Georgia and other parts of the south, visited the camp ground and held an afternoon service. We had looked forward to this service with great pleasure, expecting a time of wonderful brotherly love and spiritual refreshing from over the sea. They are no doubt earnest, devout men. May the Lord bless and use them. One of these brethren is from Wales, the other from Scotland. We judge from some of their remarks that this camp meeting, with its methods, exhortations, weeping and shouts of praise, was a bit strange and appeared somewhat noisy and crude to our British cousins.

I was able to preach daily throughout the ten days, but speaking in the great tabernacle, and climbing the long hill to the dining-room about exhausted me. I left the camp much worn and feared I would not be in condition to do much at our dear old camp at Pentecostal Park. The day was warm and fatiguing. I got into Nashville about five P. M., and put up at a hotel and went to a cafeteria for supper. Walking in, who should I meet but Dr. Powell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Nashville, one of the great pastors of one of the great churches in all the southland. He had finished his supper but sat at the table with me, and after supper took me in his car for a long quiet drive. He is one of a number of outstanding Baptist preachers in this country who stands for a whole Bible, a virgin-born Christ, and a gospel that is the power of God unto salvation. His fellowship refreshed me soul and body. He drove far out to quiet places and we had a most restful three hours' drive; got back to my hotel at 9 P. M., in fine shape for a good night's rest. Tuesday found me wonderfully refreshed. I got to Glasgow at noon, bought a loaf of bread, a quart of milk, and a friend drove me out to my little shanty in the woods. What a quiet, restful place! After two nights' rest alone among the trees, I felt ready for the opening of our camp. Sabbath morning our new tabernacle was filled with a great audience, as quiet and orderly as a city church. As I preached full salvation to my relatives, some of my school-boy friends, their children and grandchildren of those I knew and loved more than a half century ago, the Lord wonderfully blessed my soul and the people were graciously refreshed. I must have shaken hands with two hundred of them. The meetings have moved along, have had much rain, some have been saved, others are seeking, and we are expecting great things.

I was invited back to Indian Springs for next year, and if the Lord spares me I hope to visit that dear place with its delightful memories and wonderful people, at least once more. There is a great colony of souls shouting around the throne of our glorified Saviour who were converted and sanctified at Indian Spring camp meeting.

H. C. MORRISON.

Monthly Sermon.

THE OLD MAN AND HIS CRUCIFIXION.

Text: "And I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto spiritual, but as unto carnal, even as unto babes in Christ. I have fed you with milk, and not with meat: for hitherto ye were not able to bear it; neither yet now are ye able. For ye are yet carnal: for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk as men?"—1 Cor. 3:1-3.

A careful reading of this third chapter of First Corinthians will reveal the fact that the Apostle Paul is seeking to allay contention, strife, and division among the Christians at Corinth. He has learned that some of these young converts to the faith in Christ are claiming Paul as their spiritual leader and others are railing about Apollos. He calls their attention to the fact that Apollos and himself were only agents in the hands of God, Paul planting, Apollos watering, but God alone giving the increase. He insists that Jesus, and Jesus only, is the foundation of our faith and salvation, and no man can lay any other.

It is our purpose to notice the cause of the dissension and strife among these Corinthian Christians which Paul very clearly points out. He does not hint that they are not converted; he admits that they are babes in Christ, which shows that they have been born again. They were not babes physically; having been born of the Spirit they were in their spiritual babyhood. Being born again they had become children of God, but notwithstanding this fact there were divisions and strife among them and, in our text, the Apostle points out the cause—they were "yet carnal."

Careful and accurate diagnosis is one of the most important items in the treatment of all physical diseases; without knowing the cause of the sickness, the physician may administer a medicine that would hinder, instead of help, in the cure of his patient. St. Paul was an inspired diagnostician of spiritual diseases; he fully understood the cause which lay at the root of the distractions and divisions among the young Christians at Corinth. They were "yet carnal." There was in them a root sin from which these outward evils sprang and manifested themselves.

In order that we may better understand the nature of this malady and the treatment necessary, let us seek further information from Paul on the subject of carnality. It will be found that the Apostle has much to say about the carnal nature remaining in the children of God. He has a number of names for this inward evil; sometimes he calls it, "sin that dwelleth in me"; sometimes he names it, "the old man," and at other times he denominates it, "the flesh." In the text, it is "carnal"—the carnal mind. Looking into the subject we find that all of these names refer to the same thing, that they never refer to the acts of the Christian, but always to an inward state, or condition, which may lead to improper action; an inward nature, the whole tendency of which is to manifest itself in sinful deeds.

We observe that this carnal nature is something that must be restrained and kept inactive in order to retain a state of justification; that it is so aggressive and active it is very difficult to control, and that to be delivered from all sin and the strong likelihood of many outbreaks, it must be cleansed out and cast away in order to entire sanctification—the indwelling and abiding of the Holy Ghost.

In Romans 8:6-7, we find Paul saying "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace. Because the carnal mind is enmity against God; for it is not subject to the law of God, neither indeed can be." From this declaration of the Apostle we learn that the Corinthian Christians had an element of death in their life; that the carnal mind in them about which the Apostle is so solicitous was in rebellion against God and was of a nature that it could not be subject to him. It is of vast importance that we know something of this strange inward state which was causing division and strife among God's children; this something that is not, and cannot, be subject to God.

If we turn to Galatians 5:17, we find that this carnal, or flesh nature, which is not subject to God, is also at war against the Holy Spirit:—"For the flesh, (carnal nature) lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh; (carnal nature) and these are contrary the one to the other; so that ye cannot do the things that ye would." A little further on in this same chapter, we find a graphic pen picture of this inward antagonist to spiritual life which the Apostle denominates the flesh. He makes no reference to the meat on your bones, but to the carnal, sinful something in the heart. Follow the Apostle in Gal. 5:19-21, as he describes the flesh life and the Spirit life in contrast with each other.

"Now the works of the flesh (carnal nature) are manifest, which are these; adultery, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies, envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have told you in time past, that they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God." It must be understood that this carnal nature is not in rulership over a regenerated soul, but neither is this carnal nature entirely cleansed out in the act of regeneration. Paul has already shown us that one may be born of the Spirit—be a babe in Christ—and, at the same time be "yet carnal."

The contrast between the full life of the Spirit and this carnal life is most striking, as seen in the picture in this same chapter, verses 22 to 25: "But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law. And they that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts. If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." Note the Apostle says, "They that are Christ's have crucified the flesh" that is, the (carnal nature) "with the affections and lusts." The young Corinthian Christians had been pardoned; they had been regenerated, but they had not yet been wholly sanctified. They had not yet crucified "the flesh with its affections and lusts."

In order that you may see that St. Paul has not overdrawn the picture of the fallen, carnal heart of man, we call attention to the words of our Lord Jesus found in Mark 7:21-23: "For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: All these evil things come from within, and defile the man." Our Lord Jesus says emphatically that all these evil things come from within and defile the man. They could not come from within if they were not there. They are there, entailed from the fallen and sinful nature of our federal head. "As in Adam all die, so in Christ shall all be made alive." All along the stream of human life there has been much inheritance of corruption from the turbid tides of sin; the whole race has felt its defilement.

We must now turn back to Galatians 5:22-24, calling your attention to one word that has already been mentioned in this last verse quoted above. It is a significant word loaded down with profound meaning. It is the word, "Crucified." This significant word means death. To crucify is not to restrain, or curb, or control; it is to kill. There is something inside of men, according to the teaching of our Lord in Mark, that is most obnoxious and desperately wicked; an immortal fountain from which flows the entire stream of wickedness. This something is dangerous in the highest degree. The teaching of Paul shows that this something, to some extent, remains in those who have been born again, who, although babes in Christ, "are yet carnal." This strange nature which is at enmity with God, fights against and would destroy the new life begotten of God in those who have been regenerated, and have not yet been sanctified; it is the Ishmael of carnality, or the flesh, fighting against the Isaac of the Spirit. It is the Esau of death struggling against the Jacob of the new life in the womb of the regenerated soul. These two principles in man—the Christian man—mark you, battle for the supremacy.

So clearly defined are these inward principles, and so antagonistic are they to each other, that Paul likens them to men at war with each other. In Ephesians 4:22-24, we read: "That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the spirit of your mind; and that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness." It will be seen at once that the old man represents the "flesh," the carnal nature, and that the new man represents the new life begotten in the soul by the Holy Ghost in regenerating power. This old man and new man, as we have seen in the pen pictures of the flesh life and the Spirit life, are entirely different and in antagonism with each other.

This Scripture is very illuminating. It brings the whole subject into the clear daylight of inspired truth. Here we find the old man full of all sinfulness and corruption spoken of by our Lord in Mark's Gospel, and we find the new man so entirely different, who "after God is created in righteousness and true holiness." What is to be done with this Ishmael of the old life who strives against the Isaac of the new life? What is to be done with this Esau of sin who fights against the Jacob of salvation? Let us turn again to the Apostle for information on this all-important subject: "Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin." It is obvious that the crucifixion of the old man, the destruction of the body of sin, the purifying of the hearts of believers, is not the work of regeneration. It is a work wrought by the baptism with the Holy Ghost subsequent to regeneration. This is the thought in that expressive verse of Charles Wesley's:

"Speak the second time, Be clean,
Take away my inbred sin."

The entire Methodist doctrine of full salvation as taught by John Wesley, the fathers, and founders of Methodism, rests upon the fact of the carnal nature and the teaching of the Holy Scriptures that, notwithstanding men by the regenerating power of the Holy Spirit are born again and become babes in Christ, they are yet carnal until the old man is crucified—the body of indwelling sin is destroyed.

Human experience is in perfect harmony with biblical teaching. Christians everywhere have realized that, notwithstanding their regeneration, their love for our Lord, and their full purpose to obey him, they have been conscious of an inward "prone to wander," a strong tendency toward those things which their intellect and conscience condemn. They also have been conscious of a "hungering and thirsting after righteousness," a longing for a full deliverance from these inward carnal appetites and sinful tendencies. They have sighed, prayed and longed for an application of the blood of our Lord Jesus Christ which cleanseth from all sin, and many tens of thousands have, by the baptism and incoming of the Holy Spirit, realized a full deliverance in the crucifixion of the old man, and the abiding of the Holy Spirit revealing to them the wondrous grace and love of the Lord Jesus in his power to save his people from their sins.

The old man can be crucified, destroyed and cast out, and the Holy Ghost can come in to dwell with the new man, to nurture, to comfort, to guide, and to empower for witnessing and for service.

Having attended to the first principles of the doctrine of Christ let us go on to perfection. Let no Christian be satisfied without the gracious work of the Holy Spirit perfecting him in love. We must not remain in a state of carnal babyhood. God would bring us into man and womanhood in Christ. It is not only our blessed privilege, but our bounden duty, to seek with all earnestness the expurgation of the carnal nature, the crucifixion of the old man, the casting out of the entire body of sin that our Lord Jesus who died for us, and whose blood cleanseth us from all sin, may present us to his Father without spot or wrinkle, the trophies of his grace, the sanctified and purchased price of his agony on the cross to redeem us from all sin, and bring us into that holiness without which no man shall see the Lord.

Let me close this message with the words of our Lord, "Blessed are they that do hunger and thirst after righteousness, for they shall be filled." There is an entire consecration, an undoubting faith in Jesus Christ and the Atonement he has made for us, which brings to the hungering and thirsting soul a gracious baptism with the Holy Ghost, a divine fire that consumes all sin and sets up the Kingdom of God within the soul—a kingdom of "righteousness and peace and joy in the Holy Ghost." Amen.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

PERSIA'S HEBREW QUEEN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

When old Mordecai, the queen's cousin who daily sat by the palace gate, heard of this dreadful butchery which had been decreed for his people, he rent his clothes and with ashes in his hair, he went through the street by the palace crying out in a loud and bitter voice. Queen Esther, looking down from the windows of her apartment, saw her kinsman and knew that some terrible calamity had befallen to make him behave in such a sad manner. She sent her chamberlain, Hatach, down to the gate to find the cause of Mordecai's great grief. Then Mordecai gave Hatach a copy of the dreadful law which Haman had written for the destruction of the Jews on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, and told Hatach to ask Esther to go to the king and beg for the lives of her people.

Esther received Mordecai's message and read the fearful story of her people's doom in Haman's decree, and she sent Hatach back to Mordecai to say that it was unlawful for anyone to appear before Ahasuerus without a summons from the king. Anyone who presumed to enter his presence without this invitation was straightway put to death unless the king permitted him to touch the golden scepter, or rod, which he held in his hand.

But Mordecai only sent Hatach back to say that unless the queen attempted to save her people, she would doubtless perish with them, even though she dwelt in the very palace of the king. He added that God may have placed her on the Queen's throne for just this test and if she failed now God would surely punish her.

Then Esther sent word for Mordecai to gather all the Jews of Shushan together for three days of fasting and prayer, promising that she and her maids would do likewise, asking God's mercy and blessing on her effort to save her people. So for three long days all the Jews in Shushan cried mightily to God.

On the third day Esther made herself beautiful with the royal robes of the queen, and she left the queen's house in the palace, and crossing the outer court, came to stand in the door of the room where the king sat upon his throne. When Ahasuerus saw the lovely queen standing timidly in the door, he smiled as he held out the golden scepter for her to touch. Then Esther was no longer afraid. But she was very wise and did not tell the king at once all that she wished to ask. Instead, she invited him and Haman to dine with her that day.

(To be continued)

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am a subscriber of The Herald. I sure like it. Mable Love, the 7th chapter and 21st verse of Ezra contain all the letters of the alphabet, except J. The 19th chapter of 2nd Kings and the 37th chapter of Isaiah are alike. You tell me where the longest word is found in the Bible. It has eighteen letters in it. Honine to see this in our Boys and Girls' Page.

M. B. S.
Rt. 2, Cozaddale, O.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Lagro girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am a little girl eight years old, have blue eyes and light hair. I have one brother and one sister. I am in the third grade. Can you guess my middle name? It starts with I and ends with E, and has four letters in it. Betty J. Koehler.
Lagro, Ind.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you move over and let a little Tennessee girl in your happy band of boys and girls? I am eight years old and am in the second grade. I go to the M. E. Church. Father is an M. E. preacher. I have three brothers and one sister. Their names are Joe, Claude and W. C. Jr. My sister's name is Wanda. We live in the M. E. parsonage on the Newport circuit in the mountains. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with B and ends with E, and has five letters in it. I have five pet cats. I hope Mr. W. B. is hoeing his garden and won't get this for I want to see it in your good Herald.

Dorothy B. Sauceman.
Rt. 2, Cosby, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let a little Illinois girl move in your band of boys and girls? Grandma takes The Herald and she reads it to us. I live in the country and I like it very much. This is my first letter to The Herald and I wish to see it in print. I go to the Edwards School. I am in the sixth grade. I am ten years young. My birthday is Sept. 29. I go to the M. E. Church. I am not a Christian but would like to be. Cousins, pray for me. My second name begins with L, and ends with S. Has four letters in it.

Anna L. Gann.
Rt. 3, Eldorado, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Illinois girl join your happy band of boys and girls? This is the first time to write to The Pentecostal Herald and I hope to see this letter in print. I will answer all letters received. I am fourteen years old, my birthday is June 12. I am five feet, two inches tall. I have brown hair, blue eyes and medium complexion. I hope Mr. W. B. is out catching fish when this letter arrives. Guess my middle name. It begins with M and ends with A, and has seven letters in it. Please answer this letter.

Lillie M. Hutchcraft.
Rt. 2, Macedonia, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Kansas girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am ten years old, have blue eyes and light hair. I will be in the sixth grade. My school teacher is Miss Verna Miller. My Sunday school teacher is Mrs. Bert Pierce. I like to read page ten. I go to the Alida Evangelical Church. Our pastor is Rev. Miller. I have one sister and two brothers. Margaret Sauceman, I guess your name is Mary. If I am right remember your promise. My middle name is Alberta.

Wilma Steinfeld.
Alida, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you slide over a little and let a South Dakota girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am fifteen years old and have dark hair, dark eyes, dark complexion and am five feet, two and one-half inches tall and weigh 116 pounds. My birthday is September 13th. Have I a twin? If so, write to me and I will answer. I go to Cavour High School and will be a sophomore when school begins. I like to go to school very well, and am especially fond of basket ball. I enjoy reading page ten. I will close with love to Aunt Bettie and all of the cousins, and also hoping to see my letter in print.

Audree D. Skow.
Cavour, S. D.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please let a South Dakota girl join your happy band? I go to Sunday school almost every Sunday. We are having revival meetings in our community at the present time with Rev. Mr. Gordon as evangelist. I live on the broad prairies of South Dakota and enjoy it very much. I am five feet, three inches tall and am a blonde. I weigh 112 pounds. My birthday is September 5th. Can you guess my middle name? It begins with I and ends with E. It has five letters in it. Any one guessing it correctly I will write to them. I enjoy reading page ten very much. This being my first letter to The Herald I hope to see it in print.

Charlotte Skow.
Cavour, S. D.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please make room for a little South Carolina girl to join your happy band of boys and girls? I have brown hair, blue eyes, fair complexion and weigh eighty-two pounds. My birthday is Sept. 28. Have I a twin? I love to read The Herald and am very fond of page ten. My father takes The Herald and has been taking it for about seventeen years. I have been reading The Herald ever since I got large enough to read. My father used to read to me when I was small. I have one sister and two brothers. All of them are larger than myself. Who can guess my age? It is between ten and fifteen. If any one can guess it let me know and they will receive a letter from me. My father is the preacher of two churches. Aunt Bettie, please print this. I want to surprise mother and father. This is my first letter and it is getting long. I expect I better leave a little space for someone else. I hope Mr. W. B. is out milking the cow when this letter arrives. With lots of love to Aunt Bettie and all the cousins.

Mell Black.
St. Matthews, S. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May a Florida girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am eleven years old, my birthday is Nov. 26. Have I a twin? Mary Berry, I guess your middle name to be Olie. Am I right? Who can guess my middle name? I will write to them. It begins with B and ends with E, and has eight letters in it. This is my first letter to page ten. I would like to see it in print. My brother takes The Herald. I like to read page ten very much. Some of the cousins write to me. I will answer all letters received.

Marie B. Turner.
General Delivery, Auburndale, Fla.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I haven't seen any letters from Enon in The Herald so decided to write. I have two brothers and one sister. My birthday was August 7. I was thirteen years old. I am five feet, six inches tall, have brown hair, blue eyes and fair complexion. Aunt Bettie, please print my letter for I would like to have some good pen pals from everywhere. Everyone write and I'll send you something from West Virginia.

Opal Carden.
Enon, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Texas boy join your happy band of boys and girls? I am four feet, eleven inches tall, weigh 83 pounds. I have light complexion, light hair and blue eyes. I will be thirteen Nov. 2. Who has my birthday? Say boys, what is the matter with us? Come on boys, let's don't let the girls get ahead of us. I believe the girls are smarter than us boys. Don't you all think so? My father takes The Herald. We think it is the best paper ever printed. As this is my first letter to The Herald I guess I had better stop and give some one else a place. Cousin, give me a letter shower. I will answer all the letters I receive, so let the letters fly to.

Willie Smith.
Rt. 1, Hughes Springs, Tex.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you and the cousins please move over and make room for a little Washington girl? I am thirteen years old, a blond with bluish gray eyes. My birthday is July 16. Who is my twin? We do not take The Herald but a friend of ours does and I certainly enjoy reading page ten. I will answer any letters received from the boys and girls.

Ella White.
Okanogan, Wash.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you allow a Virginia girl to join your jolly band of boys and girls? I live on a farm and like farm life very well. I enjoy reading The Herald. It sure is a fine paper. My birthday is Oct. 27. I will be twenty-one years old. I wonder if I have a twin? If so, please write to me. As this is my first letter to the page I hope to see it in print. Well, I guess I had better close as my letter is getting long. Cousins, please write to me.

Eliza Bandy.
Sayersville, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let another Texas girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am staying with my grandmother in Colorado Springs. My grandmother takes The Herald and I got so interested in page ten that I want to write. This is my first letter and I hope to see it in print. Sav. cousins, can any one guess my middle name? It begins with J, and ends with N, and has four letters. I

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

am eleven years old and am in the fifth grade. I like to go to church and go every Sunday I can. I am going to get my father to take The Herald. My grandmother is going to get me Sparkling Waters. Well, I hope Mr. Wastebasket is out playing golf when my letter arrives.

Reba J. Eby.
Harlingen, Texas.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my first letter to The Herald and would like to see it in print. I go to Sunday school every Sunday. I hardly ever see a letter from Arkansas, so Aunt Bettie, be sure and print this for me. I guess you all are wondering what kind of a creature I am. I have dark brown hair, gray eyes, and am about five feet tall. I weigh 85 pounds. I was fourteen years old Feb. 23. Who is my twin? I wonder who can guess my middle name? It begins with E and ends with E, and has six letters in it. I must go, hoping to hear from all you cousins. I will answer all that send a stamp.

Wilma E. Dotson.
Sitka, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I have a little chat with the boys and girls? This is my second letter to The Herald. I enjoy reading The Herald very much. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with C and ends with E, and has seven letters in it. The one who guesses it I will write to them. Lorene B. Rader, I guess your middle name to be Bernice. Am I right? Reba A. Swindell, I guess yours to be Annie. Minnie M. Whitaker, I guess yours to be Mamie. If I am right please remember what you said. When this arrives I hope Mr. W. B. is full up so this may be printed.

Ova B. Walker.
Rt. 1, Big Rock, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you just move about a half inch to let a little Florida girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I have a dear friend who takes The Herald and she lets me read it, and she showed me page ten. I am more interested in it than any other page. I have light hair, light eyes and fair complexion. I am fourteen years old. My father is dead and I am living with my dear old mother and two sisters. I want to see this in print, as I want to surprise my mother and sisters. I want you to tell all the cousins to write to me and I will answer all letters I get.

Lila Margarite Ricketts.
Rt. 1, Box 98-A, South Jacksonville, Fla., care Mrs. H. R. Foster.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Having survived from another year of school, I have found a little time to write to The Pentecostal Herald. I am in the third grade and am seven years of age. I have three sisters and five brothers; one of my brothers goes to Asbury College. I want to get an education so I can help to carry on God's work when I get big. God is very good to us. He lets us have family prayer, go to Sunday school, sing for the Epworth League and have a good time. I live in the country, and like it fine. When I arise in the morning I can see God's love in the singing of the birds, the sun, and in all of nature. I have fair complexion, blue eyes, light brown hair, and weigh about fifty pounds. Say, friends, it surely is easy to read these letters and say you're going to write, but any way you don't. But please write me, I like to correspond with unseen friends.

Martha Marie Hager,
Nicholasville, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Tennessee girl join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter to The Herald and I hope to see it in print. I am twelve years of age and am in the seventh grade at Big Rock school. I enjoy reading The Herald, especially page ten. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with M and ends with Y, and has five letters in it. My birthday is May 14. Have I a twin? Thanks for the chat with you and the cousins.

Eloise M. Walker,
Rt. 1, Big Rock, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my first letter to The Herald. I am a little girl eight years old and in the fourth grade. I go to the M. E. Church, and I go to Sunday school most every Sunday. Who can guess my first name? It begins with M and ends with Y, and has five letters in it. Martha Allen, I guess your first name to be Mary. Am I right? Margaret L. Gray, I guess your name to be Leah. I hope Mr. W. B. has gone visiting when this arrives, for as this is my first letter I would like to see it in print.

M. Juanita Walker,
Rt. 1, Big Rock, Tenn.

THE SPARROW.

The smallest bird that wings the air
The Master cares for thee.
And if he thinks of one like thou
Will he not care for me?
His eye looks on thee from above,
He notices thy fall,
And if he cares for such as thee,
Does he not care for all?
He feeds thee in the sweet springtime,
When skies are bright and blue,
He feeds thee in the autumn time
And in the winter, too.
He leads thee through the pathless air,
He guides thee in thy flight,
He sees thee in the brightest day
And in the darkest night.
Oh, if his loving care attends
A bird so mean and small,
Will he not listen to my voice
When unto him I call?
Will he not guide me with his eye,
And lead me with his hand,
And bring me in his own good time
Into the Heavenly land?
Oh he who feeds the little birds,
And guides them in their flight,
Will watch above a little child
And guide her feet aright.
He'll take my feeble hand in his
And lead me to the skies,
And feed me with the pleasant fruits
That grow in Paradise.

Matilda Edwards.

"Communing With Communism." By William B. Lippard. 153 pages. Illustrated. $1.50 net. The Judson Press, Philadelphia.

The author, a Yale graduate, has traveled extensively. He is a well-known writer and lecturer. This work is the outcome of a recent summer in Russia. In it we have the record of his findings. He is an artist at his task. Next to the actual experience is to follow him.

The name is apt and is finely lived up to. He gives the information hundreds of hearts are hungering for. For the ordinary reader his is perhaps the best book on Russian conditions. It should have a million readers. His frank, unprejudiced setting forth of conditions as he found them, is one of the excellencies of the book. He makes us to see communism at work. Some of his revelations are tragically startling. He reveals the iron rule of a small minority.

The efforts of the powers that be are startling. They are seeking to their utmost to banish God. That the leaders are in dead earnest is evidenced by the fact that they have their emissaries today in all parts of the Christian world.

Especially fitting is it that aspiring youth read this or some similar work and watch the developments of the coming years. The book once opened it is hard to lay it aside till finished. Get and read this timely book.

M. P. Hunt.

N. B. To be had of the Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION.

On Sunday, August 16th, a general gathering and birthday service was held at the Elton Methodist Church in honor of Rev. S. L. Porter's birthday, he being eighty years old. It was a great privilege to have Rev. Porter present as he has been in very poor health since about the first of June. A musical program was rendered by the choir of twenty voices with special numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Porter, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Orr and daughter Wanda, little Gladys Porter and Nona May Orr. The birthday wish was presented by little Bobby Porter. Two large cakes properly decorated with candles were placed in front of the platform on a table, the second cake being for Mrs. Hiram Rice, a member of the church, whose birthday was also celebrated on this day.

Rev. Porter has faithfully served as pastor of this church for twenty-two years, having come here from Lairton, Ky. He founded this church at that time. With hearts full of love and gratitude, friends from Bryant, Crandon and Antigo, as well as Elton, met with him on this day. The assistant pastor, Mrs. Jeanette Orr, read a poem, "Our Dear Pastor," which she composed in honor of Rev. Porter, after which she preached from the subject, "The Good Shepherd." The Scripture reading was given by Mrs. Roy Porter, it being the Twenty-third Psalm. There were about one hundred people in the congregation. The poem, "Our Dear Pastor," is as follows:

For many years this noble man of God
Has been faithful and truly borne the Shepherd's rod,
He's tenderly watched each sheep of his fold;
Nor has he ever forgotten the lost out
in the cold.

He's been with you in sorrows and cares;
No trouble so great, but he gladly would share.
When death came knocking at each one's door,
His soul was touched, his heart made sore.
That one who had wandered away
from the fold,
Lost out on the desert, bleak and cold.
His name he has carried to the Father in prayer,
Never doubting a moment God's love and care.

Now many winters crown his head,
But his soul lives in close contact, and by God is fed.
We see Jesus mirrored on his noble face,
A perfect reflection of God's love and grace.

With patience and pain his cross he bears,
Till Jesus says, "Come up higher, my glory to share."
All this, and more, can we say of you,
For we ever found you faithful and true.

Naught can ere repay for what you've done,
But our hearts and love forever you've won.
So we thank our God for this your 80th birthday,
For you've made the world better as you've walked life's way.

So we tell you we love you, and with it we say,
We are all here to wish you a Happy Birthday.

Mrs. Jeanette Orr.

Adam Clarke---Great Commentary

Dr. Clarke was one of a long succession of men who, in every age of the Christian Church, have applied the best energies of their intellect and heart to the study and interpretation of the Scriptures. The seven gifts which, according to Augustine, the true expositor of Scripture must possess—reverence, piety, science, fortitude, prudence, cleanness of heart, and heavenly wisdom—were his portions.

The studies of his earlier years always had a bearing on this great work. From the beginning he felt the need of being taught by God to understand his own word. Referring to this, he says: "No man ever taught me the doctrine I embrace; I received it singly by reading the Bible."

Sufficiently critical to aid the inquiries of the more serious student, and yet sufficiently popular to serve the purpose of general edification. He gives a lucid view of the several books of Scripture, as to their dates and authors, their scope and connection; he expounds the original text in a manner adapted to the deficiencies of the reader; he elucidates difficulties in chronology, history, and oriental manners; he develops the grand doctrines of revelation, and applies the whole to the great concerns of human salvation and duty.

One leading feature in its character is independence in thinking. While he availed himself of the labors of others, the great number of his expositions are emphatically his own.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

is one of the noblest works of the class in the entire domain of sacred literature. It is a thesaurus of general learning.

Its luminous expositions of the Law and the Gospel; its earnest and forceful appeals to the conscience of the sinner and the unbeliever; its rich counsels for the well-understood wants of the Christian's inner life; its endless exhibitions of general knowledge; and its valuable aids to the students of those holy tongues in which revelation took its first recorded forms—all will render this book the companion and the counselor of multitudes as long as the English language may endure. The man who accomplished it achieved immortality, his name having become identified with an indestructible monument of learning and religion.

We commend it as the most spiritual commentary published. Six large volumes, good paper, good binding, new type.

Special Net Price, $14.90, Postpaid

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Kentucky

"The Life of the Holy Spirit." By James R. McIntire.

Mr. Charles C. Chapman, Fullerton, Calif., writes as follows: "Your recent publication, The Life of the Holy Spirit, is one of the best contributions that has been made to our church literature for a long time. We are so prone to take up the material things and think of them only, that the deeper and richer teachings of the Scriptures are overlooked. You have in this book brought out in a very forceful and readable way the influence and work of that mighty power in the church, the Holy Spirit. This book should be in the hands of every minister and all church leaders. I want to thank you for giving to the church, especially the thoughtful people, a book of this type."

Mrs. Laura A. McClurkin, Vice President, California W. C. T. U., expresses her appreciation: "Your book is a real Bible study text book. Fine for daily reading, chapter by chapter. What the Word tells of the Spirit is brought together, arranged, and classified, so that the Spirit himself can teach. Your clear, terse comments are only a connecting link, or commentary, to explain the text. No one could read your book and not see the large place, in the Word and Work of God, that the Holy Spirit fills, and not have a desire to honor the Spirit more in one's life."

Rev. Oscar Sweeney, Los Angeles: "I have read your book with great interest. The title, The Life of the Holy Spirit, is something of an index to the character of the book. Nothing like it has appeared before. The Personality, power, indwelling, the vital need for and the possibility of being possessed and guided by the Holy Spirit are brought out and emphasized in a way I have not seen elsewhere."

Rev. A. L. Chase, Bend, Ore.: "Have just read your book, and it has helped me. Am beginning to re-read. Am particularly pleased to notice how you in so many places sustain what you say by what the record says. It is like what the cabinet maker's dovetail work, Put, to stay put."

World Call, Indianapolis, Ind. "The author has made an exhaustive study of the Scriptures and has selected for us many references which reveal the power. The fifteen chapters of the book cover themes of tremendous importance. While the author has been most ambitious in his selections of themes, yet the very nature of these subjects would exhaust the ripest scholarship in many fields of research. The Life of the Holy Spirit is spiritual and leads the reader to have the reverence for the Holy Spirit which characterized our ministry two generations ago."

Price $2.00. Order of Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES

in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson XII.—September 20, 1931.
Subject.—The Council in Jerusalem. Acts 15:22-29; Gal. 2:1, 2, 9, 10.
Golden Text.—For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but by love serve one another. Gal. 5:13.

Time.—About A. D. 50.

Places.—Antioch and Jerusalem.

Introduction.—Some introduction is important in the study of this lesson. After Paul and Barnabas had finished their missionary journey told of in our last lesson, they returned to Antioch in Syria, their former starting point. Trouble had arisen in the Antioch church. Certain Jews from Judaea had come down, and were telling the brethren, "Except ye be circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saved." This was natural. In all ages of the Church there have been certain narrow-minded bigots who have given trouble. We have them now, and shall always have them. According to their contention one must be baptized in a certain manner, or be lost forever. Some are very intolerant in their claim that one must keep Saturday for the sabbath day, or perish in the end. Others can see no hope whatever without foot-washing. It is the old saying repeated: "One may get a dollar so close to his eye that he cannot see a mountain."

When Paul and Barnabas returned to Antioch from their mission work, they met these contentious brethren, and took issue with them. When the matter could not be settled, Paul and Barnabas, and certain other brethren decided to take the question up to the Mother Church in Jerusalem. The apostles were connected with that church, James being the President of its council; and it was nothing unnatural that it should claim certain ruling prerogatives; nor that the brethren outside of Jerusalem should concede as much. Accordingly they went to the Mother Church for a settlement of their difficulty.

The visiting brethren were received by the Jerusalem church with great cordiality; and after much discussion, during which Peter related his visit to the household of Cornelius, the council came to a conclusion that should forever silence brethren who quibble about mere trifles. When Paul and Barnabas had given some account of their labors among the heathen, James made a beautiful little speech, showing how God had purposed that the Gentiles should have part in Christ, and offered a simple solution to the difficulty. He would have Gentile converts "abstain from pollutions of idols, and from fornication, and from things strangled, and from blood." This suggestion met the approval of the apostles, the elders, and the entire church; and so the contention was settled.

Comments on the Lesson.

22. Chosen men of their own company.—There were two of these; namely, Judas Barsabas and Silas. They were to accompany Paul and Barnabas back to Antioch, and confirm by word of mouth the decision of the church at Jerusalem, which seems to have been committed to writing, as the next verse shows.

23. The foreword of this letter is good. "The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia." That sounds brotherly. It is Christlike. One can detect no sort of Jewish prejudice in it.

24. Certain which went out from us have troubled you.—They call no names, but deal with the troublers in no uncertain terms. Their language is almost harsh: "Subverting your souls." That was severe. Saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law.—The reference is, of course, to the ceremonial law given through Moses. The moral law must stand forever. The last words in the verse are fairly blunt: "To whom we gave no such commandment." In other words, those fellows who were bothering the church at Antioch were absolutely without authority in what they were doing. God does not intend that irresponsible persons shall run about and subvert the faith of his people. And I would like to add that such as are placed in authority should be conscientiously careful as to what sort of men they send out to preach Christ's gospel to a perishing world. When such as do not believe the Bible are ordained and sent forth to be pastors and teachers and missionaries, it is a crime that cries to Heaven for very shame.

25. It seemed good unto us.—They had come to a definite conclusion to send chosen messengers with Paul and Barnabas whom they termed "beloved."

26. Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Jesus Christ.—Often times the lives of Paul and Barnabas had been in jeopardy since the day of Paul's conversion; but they went forward in their labors not counting their lives dear unto themselves, seeing that they were not their own—they had been bought with a price, even the precious blood of the Son of God.

28. It seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us.—It seems a bit bold that these brethren should so couple themselves with the Holy Spirit; but it was legitimate since they were in perfect accord with the Spirit. No greater burden than these necessary things.—Peter had used very strong words concerning the burdens of the ceremonial and the traditional laws of his people: "Why tempt ye God, to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear? But we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jesus Christ we shall be saved, even as they."

29. Here we find a list of the necessary things. They are all sane. That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication." The first member of the group is against idolatry; the two next are sanitary Jewish laws; the third is a moral law. One is surprised at the fewness of the demanded precepts. Most of us would have added several more.

There was much joy in the church at Antioch when the messengers returned from Jerusalem with this report of the meeting of the council of the Mother Church. The burden was lifted—they could be Christians without being Jews.

In later years Paul in his epistle to the Galatians wrote about this work in Jerusalem, as the verses given from the second chapter of the epistle in our lesson will show. The ninth verse of this chapter is especially clear as to the determination of the council.

The last verse is good. A church that does not care for its poor can hardly claim to belong to Jesus Christ.

EVANGELIST J. M. HAMES

A Great Camp Meeting Evangelist.

After having been in camp meetings with Evangelist J. M. Hames, I feel I have the right to introduce and recommend him to the camp meeting committees of America.

Brother Hames rings clear and strong on the great cardinal doctrines of Christianity. His well thought out and carefully prepared messages are constructive and brimful of facts for saints, and fastens conviction on sinners.

God is mightily using the godly, gifted, and Spirit-filled man. In my opinion, Evangelist Hames stands in the front ranks of holiness preachers of today. He is not only a great preacher but a real teacher. He goes down into the word and brings out the deep things of God. Camp meeting committees keep this evangelist busy and he has the right to be kept busy in the larger camps. Reach him through The Herald office, Louisville, Kentucky.

Evangelist F. Lincicome.

We received the above from Brother Lincicome. Let us add that you can become acquainted with Brother Hames by reading his books. They are:

|                                          |        |
|------------------------------------------|--------|
| Orthodox Psychology . . . . .            | $1.00 |
| Beulah Land Saints . . . . .             | 1.00   |
| Deeper Things . . . . .                  | 1.00   |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power . . . . . | .25    |
| Spiritual Shocks . . . . .               | .25    |

Pentecostal Publishing Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

NORTH CAROLINA CAMP.

Bethel Springs, on Highway No. 60, midway between Greensboro and Winston Salem, N. C., September 9-20, under the direction of A. E. Walker, President Bethel College. Workers: Dr. C. W. Butler, Rev. James R. Bishop, Prof. H. J. Hervey, Rev. E. E. Watts, Rev. Thomas Kenyon; William M. Smith, Bible teacher. Children's worker, Mrs. Thomas Willey. Music in charge of Miss Rachel Gillespie, Mr. David Wachtel, Mr. V. G. Osepaff, famous Russian violinist. Pianist, Miss Janie L. Hervey; band and orchestra director, Miss Edith Crouse. For information write Miss Sarah Haviland, Sec., 358 Ashe St., Greensboro, N. C.

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                                  |        |
|----------------------------------|--------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund . . . . . | $1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund . . . . . | 1.50   |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund . . . . .   | 5.00   |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund . . . . .   | 1.00   |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe.

The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF
CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS

Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature
—is the estimate of all who read
these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00
The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid

PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailer and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Buried With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?

These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

A PITCHER OF CREAM

By BUD ROBINSON

Rev. C. F. Wimberly says: "It is fresh, juicy, unctious and witty. He has given us the cream of his thought, feelings and imagination under the tuition of the Holy Spirit. There is not a dull or uninteresting page or paragraph in the book. The book will enrich the soul of every one who reads it. It should be in ten thousand homes that love full salvation. It is toothsome."

160 pages. Price $1.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

REV. ROBERT LEE STUART, D.D.

When Taylor University opens its 85th year on September 16, the new president, the Rev. Robert Lee Stuart, D. D., will be presented. Dr. Stuart was elected to the presidency last April, and comes to us from a successful pastorate in the First Methodist Episcopal Church, El Dorado, Kan.

He is a Virginian by birth. He was graduated from Taylor University in 1906. He has given twenty-five years to the ministry of his church, serving principally in Iowa and Kansas.

Since Dr. Stuart's ministry has always been of an evangelistic character, with frequent revivals, it is easy to predict that the spiritual accent, for which Taylor has always stood, will not be lost.

TENNESSEE CITY, TENN.

Rev. J. Rowland has just closed a gracious revival in Tennessee City, M. E. Church, South. There were quite a number of conversions resulting in thirteen additions to the Methodist Church. Bro. Rowland is a preacher of the John Wesley type. He is one of the strongest scriptural preachers I have heard in many days. His address is Jamestown, Tenn.

Noel Thompson.

WHAT ARE WE PREACHING?

I stood by the bedside of a young man and watched him as his life was ebbing away. He was dying from poison booze; his life had been one of dissipation. He had been of no value to his community; he had been down in the mire of sin, and very few cared for him; just another picture from the other side of life.

Who cares! That is the trouble today. There are so many cases like this and no one seems to care. We like to justify ourselves by saying, "I am not to blame. I did not put them down in the mire of sin." No, but are you doing anything to keep these boys out of the rut!

When we come to the Judgment Bar of God it is not going to be, what did we do to cause them to fall, but what did we do to keep them from falling, or, what are we doing to help them up after they fall.

In a revival meeting I stood with my arms around this boy and talked to him about his soul, but when he said he would take his chance in sin I left him. Now the question that I face is, did I say all I should have said? Did I give him up too easy? Was I concerned about his soul as Christ would have been?

Too many times we see the boy or girl down in sin and we feel that, because they are sinners, we must not talk to them. We say they are not the kind that we want in the church; they are beyond redemption. But are we not losing sight of the fact that it was this very kind of people that Christ died for?

A church that does not save sinners is not going to prosper; and the preacher that does not preach to save lost souls will be a failure in preaching. Christ came to call the sinner, not the righteous, to repentance.

Are we afraid to tell them that they must repent, that they must be born again? Are we afraid to see sinners down on their knees at the altar? Are we getting to the place that we are losing sight of the mission of Christ? If it had not been for the altar and the pleading of some good old saint, where would some of us be today. What was it that brought many of us out of sin; yet we are afraid to take the same message to someone that is in sin.

This winter I have had the most successful year of my ministry. We had three hundred forty-two conversions. I only had one message for the sinner and that was Christ and him crucified.

We must preach the truth, and the whole truth, and be not afraid. It is what the people want. Oh yes! you will hear some criticism, but that is the best proof that you are causing people to think. How can you save any one if you do not get him to thinking about his soul. Wake up, and you will wake the people.

I want to ask the preacher that is afraid to preach the old style gospel sermons, how far is he getting without it? Why are churches losing in church membership? John the Baptist said, "Repent." Christ said, "Repent and be born again." Peter said, "Repent and be converted and be baptized." The question is, what are we telling the people today? Are we trying to lead them to Heaven in some other way? Christ said, "I am the way." There is no other way. We call ourselves the followers of Christ, but many of us are getting far behind him. Try a few old-time sermons in the old way, and see the change.

N. O. Warren.

Pastor M. E. Church, Portland, O.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Rev. George Breaden, missionary on furlough from Jerusalem, who was graduated from Taylor University last June, is completing aviation courses, and will receive his pilot's license before returning to his duties in the Orient. Mr. Breaden will use his airplane to visit and evangelize distant tribes. His mission station is at Ma'am which is located in Hejaz, the sacred land of the Moslems. The station is protected by Moslem soldiers, and at present there are no privately owned airplanes in that country. The British government, however, uses them in its activities. Mrs. Breaden and three little daughters will accompany the missionary, sailing from New York, Sept. 18, leaving an older daughter at Taylor University.

M. G. Wray.

Dear Good Friends:—

I write you this letter to tell you about my awful misfortune and how I have to earn my living. I fell when I was a little boy and injured my back and side and became an invalid, a helpless bedridden cripple and I have been down in bed thirty years. I cannot walk a step or even sit up, and I have been a poor boy all my life, and rather than become a country charge and go to the poor house I try to earn my living by securing subscriptions to magazines and newspapers and The Pentecostal Herald, one year $1.50 for new subscribers only. I have a hard, weary and lonesome time but if there had not been newspapers and magazines for me to read I know my lot would have been so much harder for me to pass my time in bed through so many long suffering years. Dear friends, please do not forget me in my hard times and distress and I hope you all will send me subscriptions to The Herald.

Yours in misfortune,

Joe Morphew.

R F D No. 1, Zionville, N. C.

It affords me great joy to introduce our son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Frye, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Frye who, after several years in the business world, having been affiliated with the office of the Ohio Oil Company, Findlay, Ohio, later as Secretary of Edwin S. Carman, Incorporated, Engrs., Cleveland, Ohio, has, with Mrs. Frye, heard the call of God and dedicated themselves to the field of Evangelistic Singing, Personal Work, Children's Meetings, etc. Mr. Frye's experience as Choir Director for several years, also in revival campaigns and conventions, and Mrs. Frye's training in voice and piano at Taylor University, Upland, Ind., and student representative in the camps throughout the east; these with a rich experience in the grace of God, qualifies them for this sphere of Christian service. May the anointing of the Holy Spirit continue to rest upon them. They may be reached by mail by addressing them at 15500 Oak Hill Road, Cleveland, Ohio.

Evangelist H. A. Frye.

Our revival meeting at Worthville closed Sunday morning. The preaching was done by Professor Samuel A. Maxwell, of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky. Brother Maxwell is a clear, scriptural preacher of full salvation and an ardent believer in the power of the Word of God to instruct in salvation. The singing was in charge of Charlie Hartsell, of Concord, N. C., who led a splendid choir of fifty voices. After the third sermon by Brother Maxwell people crowded to the altar each service. It was indeed a most remarkable revival among the young people. There were 57 conversions; of this number 27 were received into the membership of our own Methodist Church. The remainder of those converted will join the Methodist Protestant and Baptist churches of the town. We are truly praising the Lord for gracious revivals in all of our churches and a marked increase in membership as a result of each revival.—B. W. Lefler, Pastor Cedar Falls Charge.

Sam Maxwell: "The camp meeting is going fine. The congregations have filled the tabernacle and several hundred on the outside. The Lord blessed at a gracious altar service last night. Pray for us that mighty things from God may come on us."

Star of peace, beam o'er the billow
Bless the soul that trusteth thee
Bless the Christian's lonely pillow
Far—far at sea.

Seek ye the Lord while He may be found, call ye upon Him while He is near. Isaiah 55:6.

Bible Case

that is neat and attractive, water proof and will last years and look nice. Price 50c. Guaranteed to please. Stamps O. K. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

EVERY Pastor
Should Have
This IDEAL
Funeral
BOOK

214 Pages

BY A. H. DELONG.

A ready aid for pastors of all denominations. Contains Scripture Selection, Topics, Texts and Outlines, Suggestive Themes and Prayers, Quotations, Illustrations, Form of Service, etc. Over fifteen hundred suggestive themes and texts for every possible occasion. This book will enable you to get up an appropriate funeral service for any occasion in fifteen minutes of time.

The sermons and illustrations are good for other occasions also. A limp leather-bound, gilt-edge book, pocket size, for $1.75.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Kentucky

There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere.

While "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" is an entirely new 1930 publication, its inspiring words and memorable melody are already indelibly impressed upon the song-consciousness of millions of sacred music lovers throughout the United States by reason of its introduction over the radio by MR. HOMER RODEHEAVER, known the world over as the foremost interpreter of gospel songs.

Soloists everywhere have reported most favorable responses from their audiences when they use this inspiring song, because it brings a genuine heart message of comfort and cheer which people want to hear. Suitable for all types of services. Send for your copy now and give your audiences the benefit of this helpful song message. Per copy, postpaid, 40c.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

A SPEECH FOR EVERY OCCASION

By A. C. Edgerton, published by Noble & Noble, New York. Price $2.00.

This is an invaluable volume for any one to have in their library as there is suggestive material for making a speech on most any occasion that you can think of. There are 417 pages and almost as many speeches for Mothers and Fathers, Day School Graduates, Presentations, Patriotic, Weddings, Business, Holiday, etc.

Camp Meeting Calendar

ILLINOIS.

Springerton, Ill., Sept. 3-13. Workers: Rev. J. L. Cox, Helen Peters, Frank Doerner, Jr., and wife, Address Frank Doerner, Jr. Norris City, Ill. Sec.

TENNESSEE

Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20. Workers: Rev. John F. Owen, evangelist and Rev. M. V. Lewis, singer. Mrs. H. A. Lamons, Sec.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

AYCOCK, JARRETTE.

(2923 Troose Ave., Kansas City, Mo.) Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13-27.

BABCOCK, C. H.

Cape May, N. J., Sept. 11-21.

BECK, A. S. AND R. S.

Columbia, Ky., Sept. 5-Oct. 1.

BEVINS, K. J.

(1474 Stelzer Rd., Columbus, O.) Open dates.

BUSSEY, M. M.

Chickasha, Okla., Sept. 8-20.

CARNES, B. G.

(200 Morrison Ave., Wilmore, Ky.) Cooperdale, Ohio, Aug. 31-Sept. 13.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.

Bennington, Kan., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

DAVIDSON, OTTO AND WIFE.

Union City, Pa., Aug. 30-Sept. 14.

DAVIS, C. C.

(Sta. B., Evansville, Ind.) Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 28-Sept. 13.

DICKERSON, H. N.

(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.) Ballston, Va., August 30-Sept. 13. Oxford, Pa., Sept. 15-27.

EDWARDS, J. R.

(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29) Lima, Ohio, Sept. 6-27. Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN

Ephrata, Pa., Sept. 13-27.

FLEMING, BONA.

(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.) South Manchester, Conn. Sept. 20-Oct. 4.

FLEXON, R. G.

(Shacklefords, Va.) Lock Haven, Pa., Sept. 10-20.

FRYE, H. A.

(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio) West Chester, Pa., Aug. 23-Sept. 13. Grover, Pa., Sept. 20-Oct. 4. East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.

(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio) Beulah, Mich., Sept. 1-13. Marion, Ohio, Sept. 14-27. Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.

GLASCOCK, J. L.

(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.) Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GROGG, W. A.

(418 24th St., West, Huntington, W. Va.) Barrett, W. Va., September.

HARVEY, M. R.

(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.) Anderson, S. C., Sept. 6-20. Forest City, N. C., Sept. 21-Oct. 4. Open date, Oct. 4-18.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.

(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio) Fowler, Kan., Aug. 27-Sept. 13.

HEWSON, JOHN E.

(127 N. Chester Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.) Open dates.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.

(Seymour, Ind.) Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 5-29. Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.

(Bethany, Okla.) Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21. Bethany, Okla., Sept. 23-27.

JOHNSON, ANDREW

Toronto, Can., Sept. 6-20.

JOHNSON, H. C.

(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.) Seymour, Ind., Sept. 17-Oct. 4. Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.

LARKIN, BESSIE

Point Pleasant, N. J., Sept. 6-27. Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.

LEWIS, M. V.

(Wilmore, Ky.) Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

LINCICOME, F.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6-20. Toronto, Can., Sept. 27-Oct. 7.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE

(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.) Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6-20. Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

MCBRIDE, J. B.

(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.) Tillamook, Ore., Sept. 17-Oct. 4. San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILBY, E. C.

(Song Evangelist, Greensburg, Ky.) Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 1-13. Jackson, Miss., Sept. 9-29.

MINGLEDOFF, O. G.

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 20-Oct. 44.

NICE, N. W.

(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.) Belle Plane, Kan., August 23-Sept. 13. Whiting, Kan., Sept. 16-Oct. 4.

OWEN, JOHN F.

(262 E. 13th Ave., Columbus, O.) Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

PARKER, J. R.

(415 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.) Abbeville, S. C., Sept. 7-27.

REED, LAWRENCE.

(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.) Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.

REID, JAMES V.

(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.) Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 30-Sept. 13. Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 14-27. Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.

(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.) Boswell, Okla., Sept. 7-20. Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 30-Oct. 4.

SPARKS, BURL.

(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.) Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.

(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.) Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21. Brooms Island, Md., Sept. 4-20. Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.

VAYHINGER, M.

(Upland, Ind.) Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 15-21.

WHITE, MR. AND MRS.

Pekin, Ill., Sept. 9-19.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN B.

(Jacoby, Louisiana) Broken Bow, Okla., August 18-30.

WILSON, D. E.

(357 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.) Delmar, Del. Sept. 8-27. Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.

THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS.

By Rev. G. W. Ridout.

This book is prepared especially to help people lead a holy life. It takes up the sevenfold beauty of the Christian life. It is the only book of its kind for holiness people. Price 75c. PE7NTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.

"THE OLD RUGGED CROSS"

stands out at this season of the year like a mighty mountain peak. What could be more appropriate to place in the hands of a friend than a copy of The Story of The Old Rugged Cross? It is by the author of this world famed gospel song and contains data on how it came to be written. Also, fifteen GREAT SERMONETTES on various phases of the CROSS by outstanding American gospel preachers. In two bindings, 75c and $1.00.

BOUNTIFUL GRACE.

By Mrs. Woodford Talvor.

Introduction by Dr. John Paul. A new booklet just off the press. Life Story of one of the Chinese evangelists of the National Holiness Association Mission in China. In the five intensely interesting chapters of this booklet the reader will find a concrete example of the desperate poverty of the masses of "China's Millions," a vivid picture of the woes of her womanhood and a thrilling account of the power of divine grace to transform, bless and use one of her "weakest and poorest." You will want it! 25c per copy, or five copies to one address for $1.00. Order from Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

HERALDS OF A PASSION

By Rev. Chas. L. Goodell, is a book that will interest you. Lest you be misled by the word Passion, will state the book is no plea for emotionalism. Dr. Goodell maintains that life is a passion, and religion being a life must be impassioned. The book will be a valuable addition to your library.

An interested layman, desiring to help me (a Superannuate) has arranged for me to sell the book for $1.00. Send your orders to me.

Rev. C. R. Crowe, 2725 Victor Place, Louisville, Ky.

He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us. Ephesians 3:20.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson: "It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public." Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY, Louisville, Kentucky.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                     | $16.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for . . . . .

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY, Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $ . . . . . for which please send me books checked above.

Signed . . . . .

Address . . . . .

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only 5½x8½x1 in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size 5½x8½ inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size 5½x8½x1½ in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at $7.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is 5½x8½.
The regular net price is $6.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 3½x5½x1 inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index.

An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size 4½x6½ in.

Regular price $1.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size 5½x7½, bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only 3¼x5¼x1 in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size 4¼x6½, only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 4½x6½. Regular net price $3.50.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is 6x7½x1 in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is 4¼x6¼x1 in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at $4.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50
A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size 5x7x1 in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price $5.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes. Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00.
Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size 2½x4½. We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price $1.50.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                        |             |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison                           | .....$0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper                         | ..... .15   |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith                           | ..... .25   |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson                     | ..... .10   |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison                  | ..... .10   |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson                              | ..... .10   |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames                                | ..... .25   |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards | ..... .20   |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson          | ..... .10   |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison     | ..... .15   |
| Mothers, Gamble                                        | ..... .25   |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin                                | ..... .20   |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest, Huff                 | ..... .20   |

Biography

|                                         |           |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor            | ..... .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson                        | ..... .50 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life      | ..... .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout | ..... .10 |

For Children

|                                         |           |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------|
| Just For Children, Culpepper            | ..... .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow                | ..... .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | ..... .10 |

Evolution

|                                                       |           |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett                          | ..... .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke     | ..... .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan               | ..... .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock | ..... .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan                            | ..... .15 |

Hell

|                                                 |           |
|-------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell                  | ..... .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor | ..... .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor          | ..... .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor           | ..... .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt                     | ..... .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly               | ..... .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff                  | ..... .10 |

The Dance

|                                                   |           |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner              | ..... .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt                | ..... .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly                     | ..... .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper                     | ..... .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn                | ..... .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones                      | ..... .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle                        | ..... .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith | ..... .10 |

Holiness

|                                                         |           |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins | ..... .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul                          | ..... .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff                            | ..... .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth                          | ..... .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle                                | ..... .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller         | ..... .25 |

|                                                                 |           |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Fletcher on Perfection                                          | ..... .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt                           | ..... .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer                                  | ..... .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff                     | ..... .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward                                            | ..... .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor                                         | ..... .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor                               | ..... .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson                               | ..... .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul             | ..... .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley            | ..... .15 |
| Power, Wimberly                                                 | ..... .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett                                   | ..... .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley                         | ..... .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke                              | ..... .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm                                          | ..... .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames                           | ..... .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul | ..... .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison                           | ..... .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett                                   | ..... .15 |

Sin

|                          |           |
|--------------------------|-----------|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul | ..... .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper           | ..... .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                        |           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow                   | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout                         | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout                        | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout                               | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout                                | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout                               | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout                    | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout                             | ..... .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd | ..... .05 |

Baptism

|                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects       | ..... .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly                   | ..... .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett                          | ..... .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means | ..... .50 |

Devotional

|                                             |           |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin | ..... .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse               | ..... .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock       | ..... .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks                      | ..... .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                  |           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper                                     | ..... .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt                                       | ..... .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper | ..... .05 |

Faith

|                                |           |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell | ..... .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey        | ..... .25 |

Tobacco

|                                              |           |
|----------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, Coward | ..... .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward                | ..... .15 |

Second Coming

|                                            |           |
|--------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers         | ..... .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett | ..... .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett       | ..... .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett              | ..... .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett                   | ..... .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss | ..... .15 |

Assorted

|                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone                       | ..... .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper                                 | ..... .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper                                    | ..... .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison                        | ..... .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout                           | ..... .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett         | ..... .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| Problems of Mammoth, Taylor                            | ..... .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor                        | ..... .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson                       | ..... .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims              | ..... .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper         | ..... .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt | ..... .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly              | ..... .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor        | ..... .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper  | ..... .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly                   | ..... .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett              | ..... .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George        | ..... .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor                           | ..... .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall                                    | ..... .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey                            | ..... .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart                     | ..... .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus                       | ..... .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor                        | ..... .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper                                      | ..... .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout     | ..... .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor                            | ..... .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly                                    | ..... .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper                        | ..... .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor              | ..... .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell        | ..... .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Sept. 16, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 37.

CHRIST THE ONLY AND ALL SUFFICIENT SAVIOUR.

By The Editor.

AFTER all, you will have to come to the great central truths of the Bible. The fall of man, the sinfulness of human nature, the general depravity of the entire race, the full atonement made in the blood of Christ, and its cleansing effect received through entire consecration and simple faith.

* * * *

After all of your books, pamphlets, newspaper articles, smart sayings, human notions, and false theories, you will have to come to the blood of Jesus Christ for cleansing, or you will have to go unprepared to the judgment bar of God. The whole sin problem must be solved and settled at the feet of Jesus. Come to Jesus at once and be forgiven of all your sins. Let the child of God come to Jesus and be cleansed from all inward sin.

* * * *

To seek to enter heaven with an impure heart will be to stand rejected at the gate; to seek a pure heart elsewhere than at the fountain of the Saviour's blood, is to seek in vain; so, after all, you will have to fling away your prejudices, crucify your pride, and come to Jesus by simple faith for purity through the atonement made on the cross.

* * * *

The only atonement for sin inherited or sins committed, is found in Jesus' blood; in his sufferings and death there is a full and complete forgiveness for all sins committed, and a gracious cleansing from all sin inherited. It is obtained by faith in Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ alone is able to save, and he is mighty to save to the uttermost; there is no limit to his power. There is no stain placed by Satan upon the human soul that Jesus cannot wash away. It is high time to turn away from all theories, excuses, apologies and dodgings and to come to Christ, in whom alone is salvation—full salvation. Come to Jesus!

* * * *

The One who "spake as never man spake," said, "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber." This lays aside all other theories and conceptions which may be the product of man's ingenuity. How natural it is for man to want to devise some way by which he can work out his salvation other than that provided on Calvary. But the fact remains as immutable today as when it was uttered, that there is no other name given among men whereby we must be saved. "Christ is the door: by him if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture."

* * * *

Many have tried to slake their spiritual thirst at fountains, other than the one opened up in the house of King David for sin and uncleanness, but to no avail. The Psalmist declared, "All my springs are in thee," and this has been the experience of every one who has trusted in him, who alone, has

Where is Al Capone?
Where is Protection of Life and Property of Good Citizens?
Where is your Uncle Samuel, and What is he Going to do about it?
Where is Justice, Respect for Law, the Protection of the Innocent and the Punishment of the Guilty?
"Where is the Lord God of Elijah?"

the power to give the water, of which if we drink, we shall never thirst. Luther tried to satiate his heart hunger by doing penance as he climbed the stairway, but not until God flashed the truth that, "The just shall live by faith," did he find the fountain of life for which his soul thirsted. Charles Wesley had fathomed the truth when he wrote:

"By faith I to the fountain fly,
Opened for all mankind and me,
To purge my sins of deepest dye,
My life and heart's impurity.
From Christ, the smitten Rock, it flows;
The purple and the crystal stream
Pardon and holiness bestows;
And both I gain through faith in him."

*****

RELIGION IN POLITICS.

*****

IN a republican form of government, where the officials who make and enforce laws, are elected by the votes of the people, political organizations, or parties, is a logical result. In the nature of things, organizations will spring up with certain fundamental views with reference to the polity of government, and the best interests of those governed. These organizations build what they call "platforms" in which they place the planks or principles upon which they appeal to the suffrage of the people.

Various party organizations will undertake to prove to the public that their plans for the administration of the government are most economic and will bring best results in the way of smallest taxation and largest good in the proper adjustment of society, the developments and progress of all those things which contribute to the highest welfare of the people.

In a nation like ours we are not to be surprised that selfish men become political leaders in which case they labor to control and direct the votes of the people, not be the best economic conditions of the masses, but for themselves. As a party becomes strong, puts its leaders into office where they have opportunity to enrich themselves at the expense of the multitude, they are sure to become dictatorial, to seek to deceive and control the suffrage of the people, not for the general welfare but their own aggrandizement. Any party long in power in city, county, state or nation, is in great danger of coming under the control of selfish men who enrich themselves while the people are burdened with taxes, and their highest interests are entirely overlooked.

It is not best in any government to be a long while under the domination of any political party. Men who would go to war and fight to the cannon's mouth before they would be under the rule and dictation of a monarch, will so surrender themselves to the control of a political organization that they are no longer free men. They must sacrifice, not only the welfare of the masses of the people, but they must also stultify their moral and religious convictions while, like cowardly slaves, they leap in obedience at the crack of the whip of their political masters. It were far better in any republican form of government to have two great parties, so nearly equal in their voting capacity, that the party in power will fear to encroach upon the liberties of the masses of the population, pile up the taxes and legislate and administer the affairs of the government for the benefit of a comparatively few and the disadvantage of the common people.

In a republic like ours the independent voter is an important factor. The men and women who are not the slaves of any party, and will only vote for any one of the larger parties when they can do so with good conscience and with honest belief that they are promoting the best interests of the whole people. For several decades there has been developing in this nation a body of independent voters who have no political masters, but they go to the ballot-box with something like an intelligent conception of the conditions of the people and their great needs, and cast their ballot as they believe, in the fear of God, and a spirit of altruism for their fellowbeings.

Give this nation some millions of independent voters who laugh in the face of tyrannical leaders, and are sufficiently strong to cast their vote with any one political party whose platform they believe to be most in harmony with the general welfare and true progress of the people, and you will find that the dominating party, in building their platforms, will consider the large number of independent, conscientious voters, and it will have a most salutary effect. The independent voters shall become the salt and light that will purify our political life and lead forward to the highest and best things in our modern civilization.

Harking back to the words of our Saviour, in which he declares that "No man can serve two masters," we are ready to say that no Christian man who is a true servant of God, a follower of Jesus Christ, and a lover of humanity can, at the same time, be the slave of a political party who can be forced by any means to cast a vote for men and principles that he believes to be unsound and untrustworthy.

The thought that we desire to impress deeply upon the Christian men and women of our republic is, that they cannot be the slaves of political parties, cast away their moral standards and religious convictions, and

(Continued on page 8)

SPIRITUAL NOTES AND LESSONS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

The Believer's Life is a spiritual one. Too many live in the seventh chapter of Romans instead of the eighth. The contrast is great. Dr. Daniel Steele, writing on Romans seven, said: "How sad the blunder of mistaking the profile of a sinner for a saint and hanging it up for imitation by believers."

The Seventh of Romans is a chapter of defeat. The language of the struggling soul may be expressed in the language of the ancient Ovid.

"My reason this; my passion that, persuades;
I see the right and I approve it too;
Condemn the wrong and yet the wrong pursue."

The Eighth of Romans is a chapter of victory. It begins with "No condemnation" and closes up with "No separation." It is a Holy Spirit chapter.

1. We are set free by the Spirit. Verse 2.
2. We walk after the Spirit. Verse 4.
3. We love things of the Spirit. Verse 5.
4. We are led by the Spirit. Verse 14.
5. We are Spirit indwelt. Verse 11.
6. We enjoy the Witness of the Spirit. Verse 15.
7. We pray in the Spirit. Verse 26.

II.

"What think ye of Christ?" Matt. 22:42. As we study our New Testament we are constantly reminded that what Christ is to us must be a matter of personally experienced Revelation. Look at such scriptures as Gal. 1:11, 12; also verse 16. Here Christ was to Paul a matter of direct revelation, also the Gospel he preached.

Look at that expression of Paul's in 1 Corinthians 12:3: "No man can say that Jesus is the Lord but by the Holy Ghost." That will settle the question of the Lord's Divinity to any doubting heart.

The great invasion of Doubt and Skepticism that we have today is due to the absence of the Holy Ghost in our thinking and in our convictions. When Napoleon was on St. Helena, it is said, he once said to Count Montholon, "Can you tell me who Jesus Christ was?" And when the Count declined to answer, he said, "Well, then, I will tell you. Alexander, Cæsar, Charlemagne and I have founded great empires; but upon what did these creations depend? Upon force. Jesus has founded his empire upon love, and to this very day millions die for him.

"I think I understand something of human nature and I tell you all these were men and I am a man. No one else is like him. Jesus Christ was more than a man. . . . I have inspired multitudes with such devotion that they would have died for me, . . . but to do this it was necessary that I should be visibly present, with the electric influence of my looks, of my words, of my voice. When I saw men and spoke to them I lighted up the flames of self-devotion in their hearts."

Napoleon's conceptions of Christ were only intellectual. How different was that of Saint Bernard whose heart glowed with the love of Jesus. He sang:

"Jesus, the very thought of Thee
With sweetness fills the breast;
But sweeter far Thy face to see,
And in Thy presence rest.

"Jesus, Thou Joy of loving hearts!
Thou Fount of life; Thou Light of men!
From the best bliss that earth imparts,
We turn unfilled to Thee again."

III.

It is said that McCheyne, that holy man of Dundee, Scotland, once said to some friends: "Do you think Christ will come tonight?"

A PRAYER.

Monod, that great French Evangelical, who wrote and preached much on the holy life, used to pray thus: "Lord, take me; Lord, shake me; Lord, break me; Lord, make me." The following lines written by W. Robertson follow out the thought of Monod's prayer:

"Oh, make me, Lord, so much like Thee,
My life controlled by power Divine,
That I a shining light may be
From which Thy grace may ever shine;
And by Thy spirit led each day
To use my lips, my hands, my feet;
Some souls I'd bless, some heart I'd cheer,
And shed around a fragrance sweet.

"Oh, shake me, Lord, lest I become Like those that go down to the pit;
Oh, wake me up and make me, Lord,
A vessel for Thy service fit—
Lest sleep o'ertake me on the way
While precious moments swiftly fly;
And in enchanted grounds I stay,
While souls around me droop and die.

"Oh, break me, Lord, lest I become Too hard Thy service to perform,
While souls around me vainly seek
Some shelter from sin's awful storm;
And I, Thy servant out of touch
With Thee, no help to them can give;
Oh, break me till with grace I plead
With struggling souls to 'Look and live.'

"Oh, take me, Lord, up where Thou art,
For this I watch and wait and pray;
To be beside Thy loving heart,
Throughout eternity's long day;
To pillow on Thy loving breast,
Thy gentlest whisper, Lord, to hear;
My bliss, my Lord, to be so near,
My soul's eternal joy and rest."

One after another they said, "I think not." When all had finished he quoted solemnly from that scripture: "The Son of man cometh at an hour that ye think not."

The Second Coming of Jesus is one of the glorious doctrines of the Bible. In the 260 chapters of the New Testament there are, it is stated, 318 references directly and indirectly to this great doctrine. It is the blessed hope. Titus 2:13.

Spurgeon, in one of his sermons, said:

"If our divine Lord were to appear in a moment, we should not lose our tongue through fear, but would welcome him with glad acclaim. To desert our Lord would rob us of that ease of mind which is betokened by free speech but to cleave to him will secure us confidence. We now speak to him in secret, and he speaks again to us; we shall not cease to speak in tones of reverent love when he appears. I have preached concerning my Lord while he is not seen, those truths which I shall not blush to own before his face.

"O, my hearers, if you are with Christ, see to it that you so abide in him that should he suddenly appear, you would behold him with confidence. If we abide in him, if he were to unveil his majestic face, we might be overcome with rapture, but our confidence in him would grow stronger, our freedom with him would be even more enlarged, and our joy in him would be made perfect. Has he not prayed for us that we may be with him and behold his glory, and can we be afraid of the answer to his loving prayer? If you abide in Christ, the manifestation of Christ will be your manifestation, and that will be a matter of delight and not of fear."

IV.

There is a great deal of teaching and preaching of Christ in our day from a philosophical standpoint. The divinity and lordship of Jesus is the subject of much discussion. Napoleon had far more orthodox views of Christ than many of our preachers and theological leaders. He paid a beautiful tribute to Christ in the following words:

"Our Lord Christ alone has succeeded in so raising the mind of man toward the unseen that it becomes insensible to the barriers of time and space. Across a chasm of eighteen hundred years Jesus Christ makes a demand which is, above all others, difficult to satisfy. He asks for that which a philosopher may often seek in vain at the hands of his friends, or a father of his children, or a bride of her spouse, or a man of his brother. He asks for the human heart. He will have it entirely to himself. He demands it unconditionally, and forthwith his demand is granted. Wonderful! In defiance of time and space, the soul of man with all its powers becomes an annexation to the empire of Christ. All who sincerely believe in him experience that remarkable supernatural love towards him. This phenomenon is unaccountable; it is altogether beyond the scope of man's creative power. Time, the great destroyer, is powerless to extinguish the sacred flame; time can neither exhaust its strength nor put a limit to its range. This it is which strikes me most. I have often thought of it. This it is which proves to me the divinity of Jesus Christ."

V.

Dr. F. W. Boreham, in one of his suggestive books, tells this story about Faraday, the Scientist of other days:

"A crowded gathering of distinguished scientists had been listening, spellbound, to the masterly expositions of Michael Faraday. For an hour he held his brilliant audience enthralled as he demonstrated the nature and properties of the magnet. He brought his lecture to a close with an experiment so novel, so bewildering, and so triumphant that, for some time after he resumed his seat, the house rocked with enthusiastic applause. And then the Prince of Wales, afterward King Edward the Seventh, rose to propose a motion of congratulation. The resolution, having been duly seconded, was carried with renewed thunders of applause. But the uproar was succeeded by a strange silence. The assembly waited for Faraday's reply; but the lecturer had vanished! What had become of him? Only two or three of his most intimate friends were in the secret. They knew that the great chemist was something more than a great chemist; he was a great Christian. He was an elder of a little Sandemanian Church, a church that never boasted more than twenty members. The hour at which Faraday concluded his lecture was the hour of the midweek prayer meeting. That meeting he never neglected. And, under cover of the cheering applause, the lecturer had slipped out of the crowded hall and hurried off to the little meeting house."

What an exhibition of faithfulness to his church and his God the Scientist showed in this incident, and what a rebuke to the skeptical scientists that abound in our midst today who take delight in sneering at everything religious, who take pleasure in dishonoring the Bible, and who seem to excel in the art of demolishing the Christian faith of their students.

Dr. Harry Rimmer tells the following story apropos to the foregoing:

"I recently talked with a judge of the United States Circuit Court, who had just gone back to his alma mater for a visit, the first since his graduation. He was received as an honored guest, a famous 'old grad,' and was made to feel at home. He spoke a few words in the assembly, words of faith and trust. After the assembly he dropped into a science class, and was in time to hear the professor make some facetious remarks about 'the old fossil who had talked in chapel.' The professor's remarks were so well received by the class that he felt encouraged to go on, and he sneered at the virgin birth of Jesus Christ, called him a martyr who died for a foolish ideal, scoffed at his resurrection, and rudely jested about his return. The old judge rose in indignation to defend the Lord Jesus, and the class jeered him to silence! He said he was so amazed that he went on a tour of investigation, and found that the 'faith, manners, and morals' of the student body were gone."

VI.

Holiness is a great Bible doctrine. By Christian Holiness we mean that state of grace by which all spiritual pollution, all inward deprivation of the heart is cleansed through the precious blood, and our fallen nature is by the Holy Ghost purified and we are enabled, through grace, to love God with all our hearts and walk in his holy commandments blameless.

The Bishops in 1840, said in their Episcopal address:

"The doctrine of entire sanctification constitutes a leading feature of original Methodism. But let us not suppose it enough to have it in our standards; let us labor to have the experience and the power of it in our hearts. Be assured, brethren, that if our influence and usefulness, as a religious community, depend on one thing more than any other, it is upon our carrying out the great doctrine of sanctification in our life and conversation. When we fail to do this, then shall we lose our pre-eminence, and the halo of glory which surrounded the heads and lit up the path of our sainted fathers, will have departed from their unworthy sons."

Bishop Jesse T. Peck, one of the great Episcopal preachers of holiness among the Methodists, said:

"The reception of the Holy Ghost is a baptism of holiness. He is, by way of eminence, the Holy Ghost, as the sanctifier of believers, as the great source and efficient agent of holiness in the church. He alone can give the light which reveals the necessity of purification. He alone can move the great deep of the heart to abhor sin and pant for holiness. He alone can excite that abandonment of self, that complete reliance upon Christ, which consecration implies. His power can cleanse and renovate the soul; can fill it with 'perfect love.' It is the Church, the whole Church that needs this purification. Its worldly tendencies mar its distinctive character. Its corruptions cripple its energies. Its imperfections make it fearful, where the boldest courage is demanded. 'Inasmuch as the vision of the Church is obscure, the life of the Church feeble, the holiness of the Church deficient, and the power of the Church inadequate; and as the special gift of the Holy Ghost, promised in the Gospel, is alone a baptism of light, a baptism of life, a baptism of holiness, and a baptism of power, it follows conclusively that the baptism of the Holy Ghost is the great present want of the Church.'

*****

OUR DUTY TO PRAY FOR ALL MEN.

Rev. R. Heber Wightman.

1 Tim. 2:1-4.

PRAYER is objective as well as subjective. It is to be offered to God subjectively in behalf of ourselves for the material and spiritual blessings that we need.

It is also to be offered up objectively in behalf of others, that these same blessings for life and godliness may be likewise imparted to them. The catholicity of prayer is taught in the words of the text. As God is the Maker and Redemer of all men—as the provisions of the atonement are world-wide and all embracing, therefore, it is in accordance with his will that prayer be addressed to him in behalf of the happiness and salvation of all men. It is difficult to know the precise difference between the four terms used by the apostle; and in consequence of the difficulty they are regarded by some ancient and modern commentators as synonymous.

St. Augustine interprets the first term in the original, "Deseis, deprecations that evils may be averted from rulers; the second term, pro-suxas, petitions that good may be obtained for them; enteuzeis, occasional intercessions that needful grace may be conferred upon them; the fourth term, euxaristias, thanksgiving when they have filled the high functions of their station, by effecting the deliverance of their people from impending danger, or by diffusing general happiness in the regular administration of government." As it is a positive maxim of Christianity to pray for all men, so it has ever been the practice of Christians in all periods of the church's history.

When St. Cyprian defended himself before the Roman Proconsul he said, "We pray God not only for ourselves, but for all mankind; and particularly for the Emperors, that God may grant them long life, a secure government, a prosperous family, vigorous troops, a faithful senate, an obedient people; that the whole world may be in peace; and that God may grant to Cæsar and to every man the accomplishment of their just desires." Origen uses these words, "We pray for kings and rulers, that with their royal authority, they may be found possessing a wise and prudent mind. While supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks are to be made for all men; they are to be made especially for kings and all who are in authority—that is the powers that be, the different forms of civil government, under which it may be our lot to live.

The doctrine of the Bible is, "The powers that be are ordained of God." Civil government is of divine origin and sanction. It has been instituted on the ground of the social element in our nature which craves the mutual and reciprocal fellowship and protection of organized communities and commonwealths. Under the checks and balances of a well regulated constitutional government the constitution that was given by God to his ancient people the Israelites, may be properly denominated a Theocracy, that is, a government in which God himself was the Sovereign, communicating his will by certain authorized ministers. The priests through whom the divine commands were made known, could only be chosen from the descendants of Aaron, and all the inferior ministers of religion belonged to the tribe of Levi. All the institutions appointed for the people were directed to one great object, the preservation of the purity of religious worship; the Israelites were not chosen to be the most wealthy or powerful of nations, but to be the guardians of the knowledge of the true God, until the arrival of that divine Saviour who was to unite both Jews and Gentiles as one flock under one Shepherd.

Do not the Scriptures represent Almighty God as the moral governor of nations, deeply interested in the welfare of his creatures, as the subjects of his government? and his providence as permeating, overruling, and controlling all human contingencies, in the social, political and ecclesiastical history of the world? "For the kingdom is the Lord's, and he is governor among the nations." Again, "The Lord hath prepared his throne in the heavens; and his kingdom ruleth over all." Now the evident and undeniable teaching of the Scriptures is, that the overruling and controlling providence of God is in the history of nations. We cannot isolate and detach the Almighty from our sight and control of his intellectual and rational creatures. Was he not with solemn emphasis in the history of the Jews not only under their Theocratic form of government but also under the Monarchical rule which they selected for themselves in imitation of the surrounding nations? Did he not reward them with national peace and prosperity as long as they were obedient and loyal and faithful? And did he not also punish them with grievous afflictions and grinding bondage to their enemies, when they forsook his worship and bowed down to the idols of the heathen?

We feel safe to affirm from the Bible standpoint, that the government which does not recognize the Sovereignty of God, which ignores his general providence, which plans and executes in its legislative and judicial departments, without reference to his recorded will, shall sooner or later be inevitably blasted and overthrown and trampled in the dust. (Jer. 8:9, 10). Look at Egypt the proud and haughty mistress of kingdoms in her day, and Pharaoh her idol worshipping monarch, throned and sceptered in all the pride of heraldry and pomp of power. Did not God, insulted by idol worship, pluck her up and pull her down, and destroy her overwhelmingly in the Red Sea? her imperious monarch, with thousands of horsemen and chariots?

Look again at the Empire of Medes and Persians; contemplate the Grecian states and colonies before and after the Persian wars; open the book of nations, turn over page after page, view the rise and progress, and overthrow of kingdoms and dynasties; and you must be impressed with the conviction that God's providence is remarkably displayed in the history of them all, either to build and plant, or to pluck up and pull down. Is not the word of the Lord as true and applicable to nations as it is to individuals? "For them that honor me I will honor, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed." The inspired wise man declares, "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." Suppose the rulers who are in authority in any kingdom or commonwealth are unscrupulously wicked, neither fearing God nor regarding man; you perceive at once that, in the administration constitutional laws and guarantees may be ignored, and to that extent of culpable laxity in the discharge of official duty sin will prevail and life and property be imperiled. Rulers are intended by God, so teaches the Bible, not to be a "terror to good works but to the evil; they are not to bear the sword in vain" in the execution of penal laws, and the condign punishment of transgressors, for they are the ministers of God avengers to execute wrath upon evil doers.

We make this declaration, that as a people, if we would lead a "quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty," it is indispensably necessary that our rulers should govern in the fear of God and with an eye single to his glory, and the national well-being. But thus to govern they must uphold constitutional law and defend constitutional liberty; they must be, as executive officers, a terror to evil doers, God's avenging ministers to execute wrath upon all lawbreakers. (Hos. 4:1, 2, 3). Is not God's providence as conspicuous in the history of our nation as it was in the history of the Jewish people and all the empires and kingdoms that have flourished in the centuries past and fallen into decay and ruin. As he doth not change, as the principles involved in the ministration of his moral government are immutable, so it is reasonable to conclude the same cause producing the same effects, that similar judicial punishment will be inflicted upon us, as inflicted upon the Jews and other nations now

(Continued on page 6)

DELUSIONS OF THE LAST DAYS.

Rev. George W. Hanners.

Text: "In the last days perilous times shall come." 2 Tim. 3:1.

ANY biblical scholars are agreed that we are in the last days. A study of the word of God reveals that the last days will be characterized by unusual perils and delusions. It is remarkable how delusions have multiplied in the last fifty years; notably Russellism, Christian Science, New Thought, and other isms as well as resurgent of atheism, spiritualism, and old disbeliefs under a new name of modernism. Jesus predicted the nature of these delusions in the parable of the tares, when he said, a man sowed tares among the wheat. Tares resemble the wheat so closely that it is impossible to distinguish them until harvest time. It is interesting to note who will be affected by the delusions of the last day.

I. THE CHURCH.

It is natural that Satan should attack the church first, because it has been the greatest obstacle to the advance of his kingdom and rule. Satan has attacked the church at a strategic point, namely, in its leadership. This was prophesied by the Apostle Peter. 2 Peter 2:1, 2. The theological schools have a large responsibility in training the leadership of the church and, facts show that there are hardly any theological schools in America today that have not, more or less, been affected with delusions.

Multitudes of preachers and church leaders deny the Virgin Birth. They deny also the divinity of Christ. They say that he was a good man and a great teacher, but divine, only, as all men are divine. The strategy of Satan is to make much of Christ, but not all.

There are delusions also to the bodily resurrection of Christ. Many church leaders deny the fact of immortality as well as the bodily resurrection of Jesus; but the Apostle Paul declares that, "if Christ be not raised from the dead, then is our preaching vain, your faith is also vain, and you are yet in your sins." The resurrection of Christ is the very foundation stone of the Christian faith and hope.

There are delusions relative to the new birth. Jesus declared that "we must be born again." Multitudes in the church, as well as out, are seeking to be saved by their morality or goodness, unmindful of the fact that in the sight of God we have no righteousness of our own. Our present goodness saves no individual for "all have sinned and come short of the glory of God." Many who have lived a moral life will be lost because they refused to accept God's plan of salvation.

There are delusions relative to the truth and authenticity of the Bible. Modernism, a new name for an old delusion, denies the fact of hell, sin, repentance and judgment. That the church is "honeycombed" with modernism needs no argument. Satan's ministers today are not the bootlegger, and the white slave trafficker, but ministers of righteousness who are propagating delusions in the church.

II. MEMBERSHIP.

It is reasonable to expect Satan to attack the membership of the church; here he attacks a vital point, namely, the archway of truth. Paul, in 2 Thessalonians 2:11, prophesied of the delusions that would come upon the membership of the church in the latter days. Jesus declared truth to be fundamental and said, "If ye know the truth, the truth shall make you free." The scribes and pharisees rejected the truth because they loved darkness rather than light. Jesus preached the truth, lived the truth, and died for the truth, but multitudes of members in the present day church do not want the truth and, because they have rejected the truth, God has permitted them to "believe a lie." If a preacher declares the truth today, in many churches, he is looked upon as narrow or abnormal. They do not wish to hear the truth about sin. They do not believe that Christ can save from all sin; that Christ can create a clean heart. They have a form of godliness, but lack its power. The Bible and Wesley insisted upon a religious experience that we might know that we had passed from death into life.

Another delusion of membership is to live like the world, but die like a saint. Multitudes in the church think they can live as the world, act as the world, and that in some mysterious way, death will make them holy and prepare them for the kingdom of God. Death does not change our character or nature, but simply separates soul from body so that the soul comes into the presence of God for judgment. Death is a penalty for sin. They seek their pleasure in the world instead of in God, unmindful of the fact that John declared that, "If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him."

There is the delusion relative to the rejection of the Bible and the Holy Spirit. These two sources are infallible guides for God's children, but multitudes follow the attitude of the crowd, instead of the counsel that comes from God's word and through the Holy Spirit. This was the attitude of the Antediluvians and the people of Sodom and Gomorrah. It is never safe to follow the majority on questions of right and wrong.

Another delusion is that of lack of love. Jesus prophesied relative to this delusion in Matthew 24:18-12. The early Christian church was characterized by a divine love for all people, but many professed Christians today manifest the spirit of pride, jealousy, envy, criticism, which indicates a lack of the one thing that Paul declared to be the "greatest thing in the world," namely, love.

III. THE WORLD.

It is not strange that the world should be troubled if the leaders of the church and its membership are affected by this depression. Isaiah declared that where there is no vision the people perish. The leadership of the world today in politics, business, etc., largely lacks spiritual vision. The delusions are noted under various ways to bring peace. World leaders are seeking peace, but they are deluded by thinking it can be attained by treaties rather than changing human hearts and lives, as nations are only aggregates of individuals. The apostle indicated that fightings, strifes, and wars have their seat in the human heart, and the sure method to obtain peace is to let Christ come into the individual heart and life. When he comes the second time there will be world peace.

Many American leaders reveal the deluded side of their mind by proposing to legalize one of the world's greatest evils to cure depression and bring back prosperity. They advocate legalizing strong beverages to put people to work, unmindful of the fact that in the days of its legality, it did more to pauperize individuals and families than any other thing in the world. They also advocate legalizing the movies on the Sabbath day, unmindful of the fact that violation of God's law has always brought suffering and sorrow instead of happiness and prosperity. Many are advocating bringing happiness to the American people by voting out the Sabbath by referendum if the majority wants it. This is exactly what brought death, suffering and sorrow to our first parents, who thought they could be happy in violating God's command not to partake of the forbidden fruit. The world leadership today is largely blinded by the influence of the movies. The devil is using the modern movies to delude the world. One hundred fifteen millions of people in America weekly attend the movies. They are, in many instances, inspired by what they see on the screen to a life of lust, sin, and crime. Roger Babson, the financial expert, states that two-thirds of the crime and lawlessness in America can be traced to motion pictures. Since talking pictures have been introduced the movie crowd has been practically doubled, while churches are nearly empty. Any one who has made a study of the Bible and prophecy, and who has observed present conditions, will not doubt that the leadership of the church, the membership of the church, and the world are affected by depressions and delusions. Delusions will become worse and worse until, if possible, the devil will deceive the very elect. There is only one avenue to safety—to follow obediently the teaching of God's word and the guidance of the Holy Spirit; to have an experimental knowledge of the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ.

IN THIS BUSY AGE

young women who are struggling, trying to live Christian lives, need a message of encouragement—a message that really creates in one a desire and determination to find time for the deep devotional life.

The little book, "Mary of Bethany," is one of the fullest, richest messages on the devotional life we have read. She had nothing too precious for Jesus and to read this wonderful little book will encourage, inspire and enrich any heart.

The price is only 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00. Order some to hand out just for the good they will do. It will be doing good preaching.

Mania for Inter-Collegiate Sports.

BISHOP WARREN A. CANDLER.

HE mania for intercollegiate games grows, and the growing extravagance of these sports is provoking a marked opposition in the public mind to them.

There seems to be no limit to their excesses. They have assumed the character and proportions of "big business," and they are commercializing many institutions of learning, while corrupting the youths that clamor for them.

Colleges and universities vie with one another in the erection of costly stadiums which are built out of the income of the games, which incomes are often enormous—as the gains of gambling establishments, are derived in great measure from men of gambling habits.

Around every "match game" a cordon of gamblers are gathered, among whom are many professional gamblers and not a few young men who are supposed to be seeking education at the rival institutions represented by the players.

Perhaps the very excesses of this extravagant athleticism will eventually bring the folly to an end. At any rate, opposition to the evil is growing rapidly.

Conspicuous condemnation of it was uttered by the late Chief Justice Taft, of the supreme Court of the United States.

Ex-President Taft was a man of a judicial mind, whose well-balanced opinions are expressed with marked moderation and notable fairness. He is utterly removed from fanatical warmth and fierce speech.

Recently he gave what seems to be a carefully considered interview, apparently authorized by him, from which the following extract is taken. The interviewer reports the great jurist and statesman, in part, as follows:

"The chief justice beamed his famous smile. 'The other day in Washington, when I spoke at a convention of the Psi Upsilon Association, I also made a few remarks about American college life today,' he observed. 'I said then that as a man grows old and theoretically wise he feels like using some profanity at the misconception of life that so many of our young people gain out of their college experiences.'

"They do not seem to appreciate at all the great chance for education that is given them, but instead are carried away by the lure of college athletics and other activities, which I believe I termed extra-curricular duties.

"The more I think about it, the more I am convinced that there is something radically and fundamentally wrong with our whole college system today. The emphasis in college life is wrong. Scholarship has been pushed aside and dwarfed by a super-importance that has been given to athletics.'

"Slowly and carefully, as if weighing and propounding a judicial opinion, the chief justice studied aloud:

"My deep concern is the danger that in the student's mind a college education no longer means scholarship. In his conception it means success and attainment in other things, mainly athletics and the social side of student life.

"Scholarship has seemed definitely to assume a secondary place," he continued. "In most of our colleges and universities the winning of an athletic letter is regarded as more important than the winning of a Phi Beta Kappa key.

"After all, what is the true purpose of education? I take it that it is the preparation of the student for the duties of life, of citizenship. This seems to be forgotten in the modern college.'

"For some moments he looked out of the window, as if reviewing his own undergraduate years at Yale, and his ripe years there as professor of law. Then he resumed:

"Everyone sincerely interested in educational problems and the future of our country feels deeply this overemphasis of athletics and other outside, non-educational activities, and all are agreed that this condition constitutes a menace to our whole American educational system.

"These are not vague theories or hearsay. I have personal knowledge of what the real condition is.

"For one thing, athletics have assumed a tremendous business importance. Most of our great universities and colleges today have professional athletic business managers, trained publicity agents, high-priced coaches and, I am told, million-dollar football seasons.

"There is a definite professional side to all this that is not in keeping with educational ideals and purposes. The stadium overshadows the classroom—athletics have a dollar sign in front of them.

"College alumni are by no means free from their share of the blame that is attached to this condition. The Old Grad wants a winning football team, and his over-emphasis of the importance of athletics makes a willing disciple of the undergraduate.

"Let me state again that this is the real seriousness of the situation; the cheers and drama and color of athletics have so outweighed scholarship as to create in the mind of the average undergraduate a misconception of the purpose of education.

"In this connection we should remember that it is not the successful athlete who is most successful in after life," he observed. "Tradition to the contrary, the better student becomes the better and the more successful citizen."

"I asked him what could and should be done about all this. He replied:

"There must come a reaction against this state of affairs that will bring about a readjustment of values in the student's mind. The average undergraduate's view of the true purpose of education must be revised; scholarship must again take its place as the true goal of college life."

The words of the chief justice and ex-President are weighty and wise. What he says should be laid to heart by boards of trustees and parents. From them must come the reforms which the facts call for so loudly.

The supporters of these demoralizing games cannot be trusted to correct the evil. They have too much money at stake to care for either right or reason, as will appear from noting the net profits from football games in 1928 received by eleven of the leading universities of the north and west.

The figures are as follows:

|                        | Gross Income   | Net Income    |
|------------------------|----------------|---------------|
| Yale . . . . .         | $1,033,211.98 | $ 543,094.76 |
| Harvard . . . . .      | 845,311.31     | 420,787.31    |
| Princeton . . . . .    | 413,620.00     | 298,880.00    |
| Cornell . . . . .      | 214,885.04     | 116,363.74    |
| N. Y. Univ. . . . .    | 216,000.00     | 88,000.00     |
| Michigan . . . . .     | 624,407.00     | 415,328.00    |
| Illinois . . . . .     | 501,555.42     | 356,263.51    |
| Northwestern . . . . . | 502,760.23     | 193,638.10    |
| Ohio State . . . . .   | 618,000.00     | 316,000.00    |
| Iowa . . . . .         | 246,500.00     | 160,000.00    |
| Indiana . . . . .      | 163,166.93     | 138,765.91    |

Total . . . . . $5,379,417.91 $3,045,101.33

In view of the enormous incomes derived from these lucrative games their managers and promoters will not consent to abandon them whatever may be the evil results which flow from them. On the contrary, these profiteers on educational institutions will defend their profitable performances with all sorts of specious arguments even though they defeat the ends of education and denature colleges and universities. It is idle to argue with them; for what is not founded in reason can never be removed by reason.

These games will doubtless continue as long as they are profitable.

But the educational institutions of the country should be separated from them, and that soon. These games have nothing in common with education and bear no relation to the serious pursuit of learning. They are parasitic growths on the educational enterprises of our country, which are impairing the cultural vitality of every institution upon which they have fastened themselves.

The large sums expended upon their maintenance would endow many colleges, or give educational advantages to many thousands of worthy young men who hunger and thirst after knowledge. But these extravagant expenditures are devoted now to the commercializing of colleges and the demoralizing of youth.

The difference between the gross incomes and the net incomes of the eleven institutions mentioned is the amount they expended on their games during the autumn of 1928—a brief space about two months. The sum thus expended was $2,334,316.58, and out of that huge outlay they obtained a profit of $3,045,101.33. The statement of the figures for two months in one year is strong condemnation of this investment in games. There can be no misunderstanding of the meaning of the figures. The immense sums which they expend were worse than wasted.—Atlanta Journal.

From the founding of Asbury College forty years ago, by John Wesley Hughes, to the present time, this school has taken far more interest in the intellectual development of the brain and the spiritual state of the heart than in the footability to make a record in the athletic field, and yet, when it comes to fine physical development and a good long hike, Asbury students can keep up with the best of them. Of course, we have received no little criticism because we have abstained from all sorts of intercollegiate games, and we have had to contend for these principles, but we have kept a good heart and held on to our convictions, and we are beginning now to receive approval from sources from which we never expected it.

With us at Asbury, salvation from sin, and a great objective for wholehearted consecration to our Lord Jesus, and the service of our fellowbeings, has been kept to the fore and God has honored and blessed in a remarkable way, for which we give him all the praise, and go forward. H. C. M.

Here Is A Great Book For You.

"Great Revivals and the Great Republic," by Bishop Warren A. Candler, D.D., LL.D. The name of the man and the title of the book ought to be recommendation enough for its ready and wide sale. Bishop Candler is one of the deepest thinkers of our times. He has a great subject. The book contains 344 pages, it is well bound, clear print, and on good paper. It can be had of The Pentecostal Publishing Co., for $1.00. The original price was $1.50. This special price will bring you a most valuable book. Send for it at once.

H. C. MORRISON.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and pressed for time, you will always find Arnold's Commentary full of rich spiritual truths on the S. S. Lesson. You can't afford to be without it at this closing-out price of 50 cents.

Is There a Question

in your mind about baptism, and especially infant baptism? If so, settle it by reading "Baptism, Its Mode, Subjects and Design," by Means. We have handled several books on this subject, but this is quite the most convincing one. So many people argue against infant baptism and many times one isn't sufficiently informed to meet these arguments. This book is just running over with scriptural information on the subject of Baptism, and you will be proud to own one. Published to sell at 50c; our special price 30c; or 4 copies for $1.00.

OUR DUTY TO PRAY FOR ALL MEN. (Continued from page 3)

entombed, if our rulers are wicked, godless men, violators of constitutional freedom and tolerating in their subordinates and in the people generally, fraud and dishonesty, corruption and contempt of the laws.

Is it not truth, standing out in bold relief in the annals of the past and like a lighthouse upon the coast of time, casting its gleams of warning upon the nations as they come floating down the currents of the ages, that God preserves a nation only so long as it is worth preserving? Was it not the case with his own rebellious people, the Jews? Has not such been the case with the kingdoms and dynasties of antiquity long since blotted from the pages of memory? See the convulsions that with earthquake power are shaking the governments of the world from center to circumference in the wonderful transformation now passing over the social condition of the masses, and you must admit these are not fitful ebullitions of mobocracy, but the judicial ordinances of providence, as God rules over the nations of earth indicating his Sovereignty and upholding his moral administration. God is manifestly interested in the well-being and happiness of all men, as they are banded together in social compacts under different forms of organized government, or why should he exhort by the pen of apostolic inspiration that, "first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions and giving of thanks, be made for all men."

But what is our duty as stated in the text, and to the faithful discharge of which we are exhorted by the apostle? Is it not to offer to God publicly and privately, supplications, prayers, intercessions and giving of thanks for our rulers, that as a people we should live "a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty?" But how is such a quiet and peaceable life to be obtained but through the objective influence of our prayers upon those who are in authority, in restraining, guiding and encouraging them in the official discharge of their high and solemn obligations? Are they not our sentinels upon the watchtower of constitutional liberty and religious toleration? Has not the guardianship of our national weal and prosperity been committed to their keeping? Are they not delegated as the ministers of God to defend, maintain and uphold constitutional law? Has not God himself girt upon their thighs and put into their hands the sword of vengeance which is to flash its gleams of terror in the face of evildoers and cut them down as lawbreakers and disturbers of the peace?

The powers that be which are in authority over us need wisdom from above to enlighten and direct. They need courage to discharge with fidelity and impartiality, the functions of their office and to execute with promptness and zeal the penalties affixed to violated law. But whence and how are they to obtain this wisdom? In what way are they to be endowed with moral courage to do their whole duty as the faithful representatives of the people? Prayers are to be offered to God that wisdom and courage may be obtained for them, in the courageous and faithful execution of official trusts. Our rulers are exposed to the hatred of evildoers, the plots and machination of lawbreakers, and their property and persons, consequently endangered. We are to offer to God in their behalf our supplications, deprecating prayers, beseeching him to avert from them these evils which threaten to which they are exposed. And when they have filled the high functions of their office, by diffusing general happiness among the masses of the people in the regular and orderly administration of government. Then there is to be the giving of thanks to God, and he is to be adored for the watchcare and benefactions of his providence. It is our duty to pray for the government under which we live that, in the equitable administration of the laws, the public peace may be preserved. Good rulers have the power to effect much good; we should pray that their authority may be preserved and well directed. Bad rulers have the power to effect much evil; we should pray that they be prevented from using their power and be converted from the error of their ways, so that whether the rulers be good or bad, prayers for them is the positive duty of all Christians. If the government be imperiled and the public safety be endangered through the misrule and despotism of the legally constituted authorities, it is very manifest that the individual citizen cannot be secure in property or person. Self-preservation therefore, should induce men to pray for the rulers who are in authority in the government.

Can a Christian consistently vote to put into office wicked and unprincipled men, devoted to intemperance and voluptuousness, when the teaching of the Bible is, "When the wicked beareth rule the people mourn." If when the wicked beareth rule the people mourn—if there is no quiet and peaceable living in society—if life and property and freedom are all jeopardized and anarchy threatens to engulf the dearest rights of citizenship, then is it not the imperative duty of every good man by his vote and influence to aid in electing to office those alone who fear God and regard the welfare of their fellows. It is said of Mary Queen of Scots, that she dreaded the prayers of John Knox more than all the armies of Scotland. If the prayers of

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dries do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

"The fundamental reason for the world-wide interest in the American law of prohibition is its universal appeal. It strikes at the roots of an old evil in all nations. Never before did any nation dare to adopt so sweeping and far-reaching a law and set it before its people. Never did a law call for so much sincerity and faith and individual morale."—S. Duva of Copenhagen, Denmark, in the Christian Science Monitor.

the pious Reformer made the bloody, bigoted Mary tremble on her throne in her iniquitous career of persecution and intolerances, what limit shall we put to its prevailing power when the thousands of religious people all over the land are united in prayer, public and private, for the government, that it may be administered in all equity and fairness, by the powers that be, so that we may lead a "quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty." If the rulers of any nation are wicked and unscrupulously ambitious, bent upon the maintenance of their power and aggrandizement upon the downfall and ruin of thousands, Oh, how easily God can depose them in answer to the people's prayers, and strip them of official authority and deprive them of life if need be, by angelic or human instrumentality.

We live in times of unparalleled iniquity when the landmarks of constitutional freedom have been broken down; restless demagogues infuriated by the lust of power and run mad with fanaticism, are trampling upon the civil and religious rights of freeman, and under the iron heel of oppression the wails and lamentations of thousands rend the skies and pierce the ears of Jehovah God. If ever there was a crisis in the history of our country, surely the crisis is upon us and our country stretches her hands imploringly to the people of God. Have we not depended too much upon the eloquence of statesmen, orators, upon huskings, and relied too greatly upon secret cabinets and conventions, and too little upon the prayers of the righteous?

I tremble for my country if practical infidelity prevails among the people, ignoring the divine providence in the administration of the government, and depend upon secret cabinets and conventions for electing to offices of responsibility and power, unprincipled men who fear not God nor work righteousness. If the North American Republic shares the melancholy fate of the republics of antiquity, going down like a ship at sea, amid the billows of a bloody revolution, it will be because, like these republics, she was cut loose from the moorings of constitutional liberty and virtue and patriotism, to drift without chart or compass upon the sea of anarchy driven by the winds and tossed. Religious people are the salt of the nation. But oh, if there be a general apostasy from the faith, a backsliding from the inspired word of God then, the salt will have lost its savor, the government bereft of all conservative elements of unity and power will fall into pitiable disintegration and become the laughing stock to all surrounding nations.

My friends, believe me, a people's prayers for the security and stability of constitutional liberty, and the general diffusion of peace, contentment and order among the masses are more influential than armies and navies. Your armies splendidly equipped and terrible with banners may be overwhelmed with defeat and routed upon the battlefield. Your navies proudly riding upon the billows with the flag of stars and stripes may be engulfed in stormswep seas; but prayer winged with faith and baptized with atoning blood must and shall prevail with God.

"A Man Named John Wesley."

In one of her lectures, Frances Willard told the story of a young nobleman who found himself in a little village in Cornwall, where he never had been before. It was a hot day and he was thirsty and his thirst increased as he rode down the village streets seeking in vain for a place where something stronger than water could be had.

At last he stopped and made impatient inquiry of an old peasant who was on his way home after a day of toil.

"How is it that I can't get a glass of liquor anywhere in this wretched village of yours?" he demanded, harshly.

The old man, recognizing the questioner as a man of rank, pulled off his cap and bowed humbly, but nevertheless there was a proud flash in his faded eyes as he answered quietly:

"My lord, something over a hundred years ago a man named John Wesley came to these parts," and with that the old peasant walked on.

It would be interesting to know just what the nobleman thought as he pursued his thirsty way. But what a splendid testimony was this to the preaching of John Wesley! For more than a century the word that he had spoken for his Master had kept the curse of drunkenness out of the village; and who can estimate the influence for good this exerted upon the lives of those sturdy peasants? What nobler memorial could be desired by any Christian minister?—Sel.

The First 10,000 Years in Hell,

With Introduction by Rev. H. C. Morrison, is a book of five stirring sermons, "Ten Thousand Years in Hell," "The Fate of an Unfaithful Shepherd," "A Pastor's Vision of a Lost Soul," and two others. This is a book that is calculated to make one stop and think, and there never was a time when it was more needed. 25c a copy, or $2.00 per dozen. Place a dozen or more where needed.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

DOING IT JUST THE SAME.

C. H. Jack Linn.

Rev. T. H. Gaddis, evangelist and world traveler, while preaching at the Hallelujah Camp Meeting at Oregon, Wis., in his inimitable way gave this apt illustration:

"I tell you God is able to make us to abound. He promised the more abundant life, and we may have it. There is a lot of wild fire tagged on to us, and we are accused of most everything. But God is witness that we can live in victory.

"Some folk say, 'It can't be done.' They tell us that we must sin, and that real victory will not be ours until we reach the shining shores. They forget that Jesus said he had power in heaven and on earth.

"It reminds me of the old farmer out west who came to Denver for the first time. He came in his Ford. And it was an old one. Had one of those shining brass radiators, and was just about ready for the museum. The old fellow had on a broad rim hat and bird-tail whiskers, and he looked a sight.

"He found himself in the traffic of the large city, but he kept moving right along the main street. Finally, he must have seen something along the way that interested him, and he desired to turn around. He did not know the traffic laws, and it seemed he was a law unto himself. He ignored the 'no left turn and no U turn' signs, and began to turn clear around on one of the main intersections.

"The traffic policeman saw him, and blew his whistle and yelled, and people were getting excited. He rushed to the old man, and cried, 'Say, you can't do that here. You can't turn that way.' The old ranchman looked at the policeman, and smiled while he said, 'Well, I be doing it just the same.'

"And so it is when folk tell us we cannot live in victory, we are doing it just the same."

FREE METHODIST CAMP MEETING.

The camp meeting of the Detroit District of the Michigan Conference, Free Methodist Church was held at Garden City, Michigan, about ten miles from Detroit. About 86 tents were pitched, and great crowds were at the meeting every night. From the first night souls were at the altar for pardon or purity, and the Holy Spirit was present with deep conviction. The seekers were persistent and the altar services ran until the early hours of the morning. Three Catholics were saved. One woman said the Lord said these people are not crazy, but have the right religion. A trained nurse looking on decided that the people were excited, but after studying the faces, concluded something had happened to them; and is now seeking salvation.

The last Sunday night the Spirit swept people to the altar, and about fifty were crying to God for help. The volume of prayer of both saint and sinner seemed tuned to a harmonious pitch, there being noise but no confusion. The crowd about the tent stood in awe as they witnessed this outpouring of the Spirit. A marked thing about the meeting was the excellent preaching it having point and power to it. There was no uncertain sound in the preaching but full salvation and other doctrines received their proper place. About 250 souls were at the altar. The camp closed with a tired but victorious band of God's children. A week after another Catholic was saved at Garden City prayer meeting.

C. E. Ferguson,
Dist. Elder, Detroit District.

FROST BRIDGE HOLINESS CAMP, WAYNESBORO, MISSISSIPPI.

The Frost Bridge annual camp meeting opened on Friday, August 14, and closed on Sunday, August 23. Heavy rains on Saturday and Sunday of the first week-end prevented the usual large Sunday crowd from coming out, but the Lord blessed us with pleasant weather during the remaining seven days, and we had a good meeting. Rev. Don Householder, of California, was in charge of the preaching services, and Rev. and Mrs. Russell Metcalf, of New York, conducted the song services. They are able and earnest workers in our Father's vineyard, and their efforts here were rewarded by the goodly number of souls who came to the altar and found salvation, while still others received the blessing of entire sanctification. Mrs. Metcalf was in charge of the children's services and did some fine work among the little people. This is the third year that we have had Bro. Householder with us, and the second year with Rev. and Mrs. Metcalf, and God willing, we hope to have them all with us again.

J. M. N., Reporter.

FIELD REPORT.

This is my first report as an evangelist to The Herald. On July 5, 1931, I sickened of typhoid fever and was compelled to cancel my dates, and for nearly three months was kept off the field, but since that time have been busy. During my sickness many prayers went up for my recovery. My case seemed hopeless. Funeral arrangements were all made, song selected and preacher notified to be ready to come as soon as he received the wire announcing my death, but thanks be to the Lord, prayer was answered and calls came for work before I was able to go. It has been my privilege to see many saved and sanctified since that time.

Have helped in five Methodist churches, three Nazarene churches and two interdenominational camps. The pastors of these churches were clear in doctrine and clear in experience. We just closed our last camp at Kampsville, Ill., where I was privileged to labor with Rev. E. C. Allen, a Nazarene evangelist, and Bro. and Sister M. V. Lewis, from Wilmore, Ky., members of the M. E. Church, South. The meeting resulted in more than twenty-five fine boys and girls saved and others prayed through to the experience of holiness. There was no gush or undue physical ecstasy but a settling down in the will of God which will leave something permanent in days to come.

By God's grace we were all enabled to keep out of the way of the Holy Spirit and let the seekers go to the bottom. The expenses of the camp were paid and money left, beside enough raised to cover the expense of the camp for 1932. We are praying for divine direction in our work for the coming year and believe God will order our steps.

In His service,
E. G. Grimes.
1004 S. Taylor St., Amarillo, Texas.

VIROQUA, WISCONSIN.

We have just closed a most refreshing, old-time revival at Viroqua, Wis. From first to last the power of God was manifest. Somewhere about two hundred were at the altar, either for salvation, sanctification, or reclamation. No count was kept of those blessed, but the rivers of grace were full and free.

Rev. Mansel, a man of God, is pastor of the Viroqua Circuit. His vision and consecration made the meeting possible. The first two weeks the meeting was held in an oak grove seven miles from town. Then, the big tent was moved into the city for the remaining three weeks. The pastor of the local M. E. Church, Rev. Thos. Beavin, materially assisted by his presence, prayers and personal work, as did also Rev. Anthony Niemark, Pastor of the Norwegian M. E. Church at Westby and other consecrated pastors and workers.

The days of great revivals are not over. Confidence in the modern church is over. Many have lost their message. Modernism, with its little tin god, has taken the place of revivals in many quarters, but there is a growing desire for the old-time joy of the Lord. When the real fire falls, how they do come to witness the confusion of Baal! Brother laborers, let us kindle such a fire in every church, that all hell cannot put out. Prayer can do anything God can do.

I am rounding out twenty-four years as Conference Evangelist of the West Wisconsin Conference, and am in the midst of a glorious meeting at Poneto, Ind. The saints are praying, the fire is falling, and we believe a great victory for Christ is just in the offing. Pray for us.

Yours, ever forward,
E. DeWitt Johnston.

GREAT CAMP MEETING.

The great Wakefield, Va., holiness camp meeting which came to a close on Sunday night, Aug. 9, was a wonderful success, notwithstanding the odds confronting us there, the general financial depression, a bank failure in the town and the extreme hot and oppressive weather.

Rev. O. B. Newton, pastor Asbury M. E. Church, Richmond, Va., a preacher and teacher of power and unction, and Rev. H. C. Caviness, pastor of First Christian Church, Portsmouth, Va., also an evangel of great magnetism and power, brought wonderful gospel messages freighted with power and unction by the Holy Ghost, which produced great conviction for sin, and a hunger for holiness of heart and life. Dr. W. D. Harward, Windsor, Va., and Rev. T. N. Lowe, of Hopewell, Va., contributed too with able messages.

A large number of seekers were forward to the altar with a heart cry for the need of their souls. At the closing service on Sunday night there were twenty professions of conversion, and some for heart purity. The Holy Ghost was manifestly present to execute his office work in every hungry, seeking heart.

There were many campers on the grounds from various cities and towns from surrounding sections. Mess. R. C. Bristow and son, of Petersburg, Va., loaned us two good pianos for the meeting. Mrs. Otho M. Cockes and Mrs. F. S. Traylor presided at the pianos with Mr. Otho M. Cockes, as music director and song leader. Several others contributed to the music with cornets, violins and specials in vocals that added greatly to the effectiveness of the music which was soul stirring.

Rev. and Mrs. H. B. Hall and daughter, Dorothy, took care of the dining hall, with great efficiency giving us delicious eats. Miss Emma Hood, of Washington, D. C., matron of the grounds, was busy doing her best to make every one comfortable. All told, it was one of the most successful meetings in the history of the camp.

Otho M. Cockes.

MUNFORD, TENNESSEE.

We have recently closed a great revival in the Methodist Church at Munford, Tenn. Rev. R. M. Vaughn is the pastor. He is a deeply spiritual man and has been carrying the burden for a revival for several months. The meeting was planned for only one week, but the crowds and interest manifested grew so during that week that it seemed altogether unwise to close, therefore, we postponed our next meeting and continued the work at Munford another week. God wonderfully blessed in all the services.

There were sixty-one definite conversions at the altar of prayer. Several of them were members of the church, but some said they had never experienced the New Birth. On Tuesday when I preached definitely on "Scriptural Holiness" the banker's wife, one of the most prominent women in town, was the first to receive the experience. Others followed and several of the church members, we never knew just how many, were gloriously sanctified during the week. There were twenty-four additions to the Methodist Church and some were going to other churches. A group of young people, about twenty of them, were wonderfully filled with the Spirit and went to work as I have never seen young people work in a revival. There was shouting and rejoicing in many of the services which was said to be quite unusual for Munford Methodist Church. The entire community was stirred and so many sinners were being converted that one, when asked why he did not get right, replied, "Someone had better stay out to save seed of sinners in this community."

One of the most glorious services was the last Sunday morning. After the message on "The Importance of the Family Altar and Religious Training in the Home," parents or representatives from twenty-five families took their stand around the altar promising to start and maintain family worship in the home. The pastor is a good old-fashioned Methodist and a wonderful man to work with. He said that this was the greatest revival he had witnessed for twenty years or more. It was my privilege to graduate from Asbury Theological Seminary this year, and when asked where I went to school, I always rejoice because I can say, "Asbury College and Asbury Theological Seminary."

Yours in His service,
Wayne A. Lamb.

THE ORCHARDS CAMP MEETING, WASHINGTON.

The twentieth camp meeting of the Clark County Holiness Association was held August 2-16 on its most beautiful grounds in the big fir grove at Orchards, six miles from Vancouver. It was a most successful camp; there were souls from the opening day to the closing night that found pardon or purity. Four new cottages had been built, and the grounds were in splendid condition, and everything was inviting. It is a wonderful camp. They always secure the best workers to be found. Many of the greatest preachers, song leaders, and missionaries have ministered to the people that gather there. It is strictly a "Second Blessing camp." The workers were all ready, and at their best, and the camp started with a swing. The music was up to the best we have heard. Rev. Floyd Johnston, pastor of the Bretwood Nazarene Church in Portland, had charge, and though it was his fourth consecutive year, he seemed to be new to them, and is highly esteemed, and loved by all the people. He did the preaching once a day also, and the writer preached once a day, and each night, except two or three times when visiting brethren filled Brother Johnston's place.

The Missionary service was fine. "The Warners" from China were there and their messages received with great appreciation, and the response financially was more than was expected, in fact, great. All the finances for the camp came without a pull. The officers are genuine holiness people with a burden for souls. Sister Price is the good president, Rev. Mrs. J. Howard Porter, the efficient secretary, and Eugene Whipple, the Treasurer. Brother Porter is the caretaker of the grounds. They are backed by a fine Board and Council of men and women which space forbids giving their names, but they are recorded in Heaven. A fine crowd of people make up the constituency. The visiting brethren who were a great asset in preaching, and holding other services, are too numerous to mention, but God bless them all. There was such a sweet spirit of fellowship on the grounds. This camp is located less than fifteen miles from the heart of Portland, Ore. This was our second year in this lovely camp but as much as we love to minister to this fine people we will not return for a while, or until it is in God's plan to return us. We left a large number of friends there. God bless them every one. We have some splendid camps slated for 1932, and we expect more calls than we can fill. We are now in Lansing, Mich., in the beginning of a great meeting; a thousand people are in attendance and souls are praying through every night. Pray for us to win souls. God has healed my body, and my future is bright. Glory to God.

His and yours always in Jesus.
J. B. McBride.
1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt.
Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                                     |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.       |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Minglehoff, D.D.         |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.         |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.           | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.             |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D.          | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                    |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.               |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.               |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         |                                     |
| Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D. |                                     |

(Continued from page 1)

march to the polls under the lash of political leaders and cast their votes for men and principles, corrupt and corrupting, and leading on to putting into office, and empowering men who are dominated by selfish motives and sectional prejudices which are out of harmony with the teachings and spirit of the Christianity of Christ. It is the duty of the Christian people of this nation to let both of the great political parties understand that we are not their slaves. Their platforms and principles must prove to us that their motives are unselfish and altruistic before they can secure our suffrage.

The time has come when the Christian men and women of this nation must carry their religion, in other words, their reverential obedience to God and love for their fellowmen, into their politics. It is vain and foolish for preachers to be contending that politics and religion shall be separate. The religion of the Lord Jesus, the teachings and principles of Holy Writ must be carried deep into politics. No man or woman can be a devout Christian and fail to carry their religion into every phase of life; not only to their churches on Sunday, but into their business every day in the week. When politicians are taught that they cannot dictate to the Church of Jesus Christ, and herd men and women and drive them to the polls like we herd cattle and drive them to the slaughterhouse, there will be a great purging of our political life, the dismissal of political leaders and the building of political platforms on which men and women can stand with a clear conscience.

In the last presidential election the people of the South did not change their political views, or forsake the principles of Jeffersonian politics, whatever that may be, but they spoke in thunder tones to their political leaders that they would not be herded and place themselves under the domination of Rum and Romanism. And now, whatever the misguided rant of unworthy political leaders may undertake to do in the way of punishment of this body of devout people, they want to stand absolutely steadfast and unmovable against the domination of Rum and Romanism in this nation. Let the noisy politicians and weak-kneed preachers say what they will, we know too well the corrupt domination of the liquor interests in this country; within the last few years the curtain has been rolled up and we have looked upon the degraded life, the dirt, the disease, the poverty and ignorance of Mexico, Cuba, Philippine Islands, South America, and some of the old civilizations of Europe that have been, for centuries, under the domination of Romanism, and there is no power in earth or perdition that can compel the religious multitudes of this country to vote for the domination of Romanism and the re-enthronement of the liquor traffic. One of the tremendous needs of a great revival of true religion in this nation is to so bring the reverential fear of God and the love of humanity into the hearts of the people that our country will forever be saved from Rum and Romanism. Let every Christian man and woman take their religion into their politics and stand for those things which count for the uplift of the race, the evangelization and salvation of the people.

H. C. MORRISON.

Open Letter to a Young Preacher. No. 3.

My Dear Young Brother:

am really pleased to know that you appreciate my letters, and it seems that a number of our friends are reading them, I trust, with a degree of profit.

May I say to you that there is enough of the chameleon nature in all of us to take on the color of our environments. The people with whom we associate and the books we read have a powerful influence upon our thinking and the building of our character, and the service we render to our God and fellowbeings.

There is, perhaps, nothing more vital or more important in a young minister's life, than that he carefully select the men who are to be his close friends who will wield a telling influence over him, who will have much to do with making him what he will become. Whatever your past experiences may have been, and whatever the piety and devotion of the home from which you came, and the educational advantages which you have enjoyed, if you select for your warm, personal friends in the ministry that class of men who boast of the liberality of their views, who are modernistic in their thinking and message, who insist that the days of revivals are passed, who ridicule as "sob stuff" broken-hearted repentance, and sneer at the joys of our salvation, you will be shorn of your evangelistic power, and before you become aware of it, you will find your mind full of question-marks with reference to the fundamentals of our holy religion.

I could give you the name of a fine young man who went out from Asbury College, to all appearance rooted and grounded, not only in the doctrines of early Methodism, but rejoicing in full salvation by faith in Christ. He was a handsome, attractive young brother, a successful, evangelistic pastor; he soon had one of the smaller churches in one of our large cities. In this same city in a leading church was a very handsome and brilliant orator who was unusually attractive. He took our young friend under the wing of his protection. He complimented him on his appearance, ability and promise of great usefulness and advancement. He made our young brother feel quite comfortable in appreciation of himself, took him out to lunch, sat off in a quiet corner. He was witty; he could keep the young brother laughing for an hour at a time with his brilliant and humorous remarks. He would frequently tease him about his high profession and say, with merriment, "If I were as good as you are or, as you think you are." And so they go along. He soon had the young man dumb with reference to any definite testimony to full salvation from sin. Next, he had him going with him to the movies, insisting that every man needed a bit of recreation and mental relief from the heavy tax of preaching and carrying the burdens of a congregation.

He then suggested a mild cigar and furnished same, and before our young brother realized the changes that were taking place in him, he was far adrift. He was taught by this fascinating and dominating comrade in the ministry, to avoid dogmatism; to guard against extremes, to be very generous and compassionate toward the weaknesses of the people, and soon he, with a very great number of his like, was shorn of all power and seeking the advancement of himself rather than the souls of the lost.

May I not only suggest, but beg that you find your intimate and devoted friends among men of the truest faith, the deepest consecration, the most spiritual life, who are ever on the stretch for more Christlikeness and never so happy, as when bringing the unsaved back to the fold of the Father.

Not only so, but I should like to see you develop a sanctified antagonism against every phase of modernism that has any tendency to destroy the faith in the inspiration of the Bible, the Virgin Birth, Deity and redemptive work of our Lord Jesus. You want, for the sake of your own experience, peace of mind and Christian influence, to guard against any spirit of hatred toward your fellowmen; but with calm intelligence and holy fearlessness, in summer schools, at district and annual conferences, you should be a fearless combatant for sound doctrine and true evangelism; you want, always, to be ready to defend the truth. Do not think, for a moment, that when some church skeptic has been imported as a teacher in your summer schools, or the afternoon speaker of your conference, that the fact that he is the guest of the conference, obligates you to keep quiet when he undertakes to destroy the foundations of our Christian faith. Stand up, speak out and let the people know that you are true to the Bible, to our Lord, and to the doctrines of our holy Christianity.

I am not boasting that this has been my attitude, but I will say that, when I was a very young minister, in the clashes and debate in district conferences between the orthodox and, what was then called "advanced thinking," I always took my stand, spoke my protest and gave my witness, and God graciously blessed me in it. No modernist or skeptic of any kind has ever, or will ever, dominate, dictate to, or silence me. This does not mean that we shall pride ourselves in controversy, but that we shall be men of conviction, preachers of the truth, fearless and earnest defenders of the faith.

Nothing is more pitiful to me than that God's devout servants should hang their heads in the presence of these smart, shallow fellows in their ridicule of the truths of God, of the things for which Jesus bled and died upon the cross, and slink away in silence, instead of boldly standing up in manly protest and opposition to every sort of attack upon the vital truths of our holy religion.

I fully believe, wicked as the world is, as much as may be said with reference to the laxness of spiritual life in the churches, there is a wide and useful place today for a true man of God, a fearless soldier of the cross, a mighty preacher of the gospel which has in it power to change the hearts and transform the lives, and lift men out of the depths of sin into righteousness. Let no man or books of modernistic tendency master you. Let the Lord Jesus Christ master you. Be his holy slave. Be filled with the Spirit and go forward with prophetic fire and fearlessness.

Faithfully your brother,

H. C. MORRISON.

College Athletics.

Elsewhere in this issue of THE HERALD will be found a very wise and thoughtful discussion of College Athletics by Bishop Candler taken from The Atlanta Journal, of Atlanta, Ga. In this article he quotes some wise remarks of Chief Justice Taft. We will be glad if the readers of THE HERALD will turn to this article and give it a thoughtful reading.

From the very first of the existence of Asbury College we have refused to enter into any sort of intercollegiate games with other schools. We have excellent exercises for our own student body on the campus. We very cheerfully engage with other schools in debating contests and have a wonderful record of winning. We also are gratified to know that the Art Exhibit of Asbury College in an Art Exhibit in Boston, Mass., won first honorable mention, and the silver cup for the present year.

As President of Asbury College, I always contended that students could not devote themselves properly to their studies while giving so much of their time to glorifying athletics and running about the country in contest games with other schools. I am very grateful that Dr. L. R. Akers, the new president of Asbury College, is of the same mind and is being highly commended by other institutions who find themselves in the grip of athletic enthusiasm and supremacy. We emphasize and seek very successfully, to enthuse our students on the subject of foreign missions, and one quadrennium Asbury College sent more missionaries to foreign fields than any other school in the United States. We are not boasting, but we do congratulate ourselves that, of the four clerical delegates elected to the General Conference from our Kentucky Conference, three of them were Asbury men, and the first clerical alternate is an Asbury graduate.

AN INTERESTING LETTER.

Mrs. H. C. Morrison,
Louisville, Ky.

My dear Mrs. Morrison:

HERE we are, through the mercy of God and the generosity of an old friend of my precious father's who heard of my broken condition of health, away up on the Northern coast of China at Peitaiho. This spring I had nearly four months of serious illness. Just after having a big pile of American mail off for the week, I was impatient to get it into the post office to catch the evening mail, and as the car was busy, I took a ricksha, and returning was violently thrown to the ground, breaking my right arm at the wrist and receiving such a nervous shock as I have never known in my life. How poor human beings endure being dashed to the ground from airplanes I cannot understand! I had all I ever want from the ricksha. After the bone had been set for a month, and my lacerated limbs had healed so that I was just getting about, it was discovered that the bone had not knit at all. Back it went into splints and the doctors sought to find what poison was in my system, and then down I came with typhoid fever. I have nursed many, many people, missionaries and Chinese, through this awful thing in China in my twenty-six years, and thought I was safe from it. The dear Lord helped Dr. Stone to abort it to a wonderful extent, but as I got over this neuralgia on my left side set in, and only recently, after weeks of agonizing suffering, am I able to say I am free from it.

We came up here as a family, missionaries and some of our very tired, worn out Chinese evangelists, right after the Bible Conference. We are right in among the corn fields, on the side of a hill, with the sea right at our feet. Everybody is sleeping on porches and with every breath thanking God for having remembered his tired, needy ones, for this is the first summer Dr. Stone and I have left Shanghai for a vacation. We were all in need of it and are all rapidly getting well.

I do want to write you today just a little message from the Bible Conference. You will have the story in full in the Heart Throbs which will soon be written, but, Oh, I want you to rejoice with us over what God did at that Conference! It was indeed an old-time Holiness Camp Meeting though called a Bible Conference. Dr. John Sung, who is now a member of our Nation-Wide Evangelistic Band, is a man of mighty power with God. I have never seen anyone like him in China. He reminds me of the holiness leaders of my father's time, only he is a younger man than any as I knew them then. I never see him on the platform, throwing all there is of his being into the delivering of his message to the hearts of the waiting multitudes (he always has great crowds wherever he preaches) and never hear his voice roaring out through the Tabernacle, but what I think of one man who was always on the platform in the Holiness Meetings at Ocean Grove, Brother Norberry, whom God is so mightily using year after year in his ministry in New Jersey.

Dr. John Sung, by the way, went to America for his preparation for preaching. He is the son of a Methodist preacher, and a holiness man at that, from Fukien Province. As a young boy in his teens he used to go through that country with his father, witnessing for Christ, but he went into one of our Methodist Universities where his whole attention was drawn over to the study of Science. He made a marvelous record in that subject and has his Doctor's Degree. In fact, when he returned to China with six diplomas in his hand, to save the devil from puffing him up and wrecking his future, he threw the whole six diplomas in the Pacific half way over.

John Sung from the Methodist University went to a State University, where he was much flattered by an important position being offered to him. Then he went East to Columbia and while there God spoke to him in a voice of thunder one night: "John Sung, aren't you ashamed of yourself? You are my man! I sent you to America. I chose you for my work and you haven't looked into my Book since you came to this country!" Overwhelmed with remorse and powerful conviction he plunged into a Theological course in New York City, studying under Fosdick, and to his dismay found himself enveloped shortly in mists and fogs that threatened to finish his faith. He broke away from the Seminary, shut himself in his own room for nine days and nights, refusing to see anyone, and wisely refrained from going to any human being for "help." He threw himself on God. He searched the Word of God and came through with such shouts of victory upon his lips that startled the professors and students in the building where he was living until they said he had gone crazy. The Bible had done it. They sent him to a hospital for mental diseases, had him thoroughly examined by specialists who prescribed a quiet time and many treatments, electrical and otherwise, and above all else to be separated from any religious people. They finally wanted to take his Bible away—that was wrecking him—but Sung refused to be parted from it. I cannot recall now the number of times, but it was an astonishing number, that he read through his Bible during the weeks he was in that hospital. His experience during that time was a marvelous one. The Presence of God and the revelation of the Lord Jesus is a story that is thrilling the people of this land. God brought him through, delivering him from those who would have held him to a secular life, and he broke away for the Pacific Ocean, sailing for China, his whole being filled with a burning passion for the Chinese. He has been doing evangelistic work in the interior until a few months ago, when he came to Shanghai, met our Evangelistic Band and literally fell in love with the four young men whose spirits are one with his own in their longing to bring this poor lost land to Christ.

During the spring the five men were working in Shantung and adjoining Northern Provinces. In the month of June alone they saw over two thousand genuine, old-time, born-again conversions, altars everywhere being crowded. As I write that group is preparing to start for Manchuria, answering calls from almost every denomination up there, and going according to their leading of God into many parts of Manchuria where there are no churches. They will be gone most of the winter. I want to ask your prayers for them. Oh, do pray that these men shall see the desire of their hearts in the descent of the Holy Spirit upon the multitudes of needy ones in China!

The Bible Conference was undoubtedly the largest religious summer gathering that has ever been seen in China. There were over seven hundred registered delegates from every Province except Kueichow. Isn't that marvelous! And no one paid their way to the Conference either, that is from the Conference standpoint. We could offer their entertainment at Bethel for the ten days, but it was not within our power to assist even the poorest preacher in his traveling expenses. This was all met either by the Mission or by the man himself. As the people continued to pour in, our missionaries worked by phone and auto far and wide through the city among other Missions gathering up beds, for we never dreamed of such a gathering as this. From the very first day to the last we fed from 816 to 1,000 people a day in the dining hall. Our Tabernacle, seating one thousand, was too small for the crowds. We brought in every seat we could lay hands on from class-rooms, and yet the altar rail, inside the altar rail and the platform had to be utilized to accommodate the people. And then at the close of the message, for an altar call was given at all but two services, the blessed, old-time altar was filled with preachers, evangelists, teachers, professors and college students from all parts of this country, kneeling at his feet and crying for deliverance from sin. All glory be to God for the marvelous manifestation of his Spirit! All glory be to Jesus who satisfieth the longing heart! All glory be to the Holy Spirit for his faithful enlightenment of those who sit in darkness!

But I must not write more. Oh, do pass the blessed news along in brief form, if you will, to the many who we know have been praying for us for this Conference! We believe it is going to mean the most wonderful year of nation-wide revival among the churches.

I do hope Dr. Morrison has kept well during the summer and your dear self too.

With love to both of you from Dr. Stone and myself.

Very truly yours,
JENNIE V. HUGHES.

"The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately wicked: who can know it?"
Jeremiah 17:9.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

PERSIA'S HEBREW QUEEN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

Part IV.

So that evening Haman and the king sat down to a feast in the apartment of the queen who wore a veil even at the table since no other man than the king could look upon her face. And while they sat together the king, who was sure that Esther wished to ask a favor of him, told her that he would grant her any wish she could make, even though it be half of his kingdom. But Esther was not sure that this was the time to act, so she only asked that the king and Haman return to dine with her again the following day. This they readily agreed to do.

And Haman went home in high spirits to tell his wife that he was not only the first prince in the king's court but that the queen also favored him. But he added that when he saw that stubborn old Jew, Mordecai sitting in the gate, it took all the brightness out of his day. His wife advised him to ask the king to permit him to hang the Jew, and Haman set men at once to build a scaffold for that purpose. Then he returned to the palace to ask for the life of the Jew who would not bow down to him.

Meanwhile, the king who had been unable to sleep, had told his men to read to him from the book of the records. And it so happened that they read of the time when Mordecai had discovered the plot against the king and so saved the king's life. Ahasuerus was surprised to learn that no reward had been given to Mordecai for thus saving his life, so he sent into the court to find one of the princes. Now just at this time Haman arrived at the court to ask the king for Mordecai's life, so he was sent in to the king. When Haman found that the king wanted to know how to give great honor to a man in his kingdom, thinking that he must be that man himself, he was quick to reply, "Let the man be dressed in the king's robes, let him sit upon the king's horse, put the royal crown upon his head and let one of the princes of the court lead him through the main street of the city, crying, 'This is the man whom the king likes to honor!'"

Then Ahasuerus ordered Haman to do all this for Mordecai, seeing that nothing is left out. When Haman found that he must so humble himself before his old enemy, it was almost more than he could bear, but he dared not speak of what he felt before the king and hid his anger and shame in his heart as best he could, while he led Mordecai through the chief street of Shushan on the king's horse, calling aloud, "This is the man whom the king delights to honor."

(To be continued)

Dear Aunt Bettie:

I hail from the state of old Missouri, I. O. O. F. Home, Liberty, Mo. I take The Pentecostal Herald and enjoy reading it fine. It's worth its weight in gold. I am an old indigent at this wonderful I. O. O. F. Home. Mabel Love, I believe I can answer your Bible questions.

First Ques. What one verse in the Bible has all of the letters of the alphabet except J? Ans. The 21st verse of the 7th chapter of Ezra contains all the letters of the alphabet, except J.

Second Ques. What two chapters in the Bible are alike? Ans. The 19th chapter of 2 Kings and the 37th chapter of Isaiah are alike; or nearly alike.

Yours in bonded love,

B. A. Pyles.

I. O. O. F. Home, Liberty, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little girl from the Lone Star State join your happy band of boys and girls? I was twelve years old Dec. 20. Have I a twin? If so, please write to me. I will answer all letters received. I am in the seventh grade at school. My teacher is Miss Dovie Brown. I think she is a fine teacher.

I go to Sunday school every Sunday I can. Our pastor is I. R. Hart. I think he is a pretty good preacher. Can anyone guess my middle name? It begins with E and ends with E, and has nine letters in it. I have dark hair, dark eyes, and I have dark complexion. I am a brunette. I hope Mr. W. B. has gone on a vacation when this arrives, so he will not get to gobble me up.

Dot E. Henderson.

Rt. 1, Box 81, Shallowater, Tex.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is just another S. O. S. for pen pals. I think page ten is just fine. I am seventeen years of age and will be a senior in high school next year. I have black hair and eyes and am five feet, three inches. I have traveled around quite a lot and love sports and music. Right now my special hobby is to get pen pals from everywhere. This probably doesn't sound very interesting, but won't you please give me a chance to prove that I am sincere in wanting pen pals?

Virginia Roop.

Summersville, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Kentucky girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I have light brown hair and blue eyes. I am twelve years of age and in the seventh grade. Bro. Morgan Dyer and Bro. Howard Rawlings are holding a revival here. They are certainly good preachers. Daddy is the pastor of the Methodist Church here. I am trying to live a Christian. We are all thankful that there are so many boys and girls who are trying to live a Christian life. I think everyone should kneel down at night and thank our Heavenly Father for the blessings of the day. May God's blessings rest upon everyone. Pray for the sinner to learn to know more about God.

Gertrude Underwood.

Box 284, Bradfordsville, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I wonder if you would let an Illinois girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am twelve years old, have blue eyes and light hair. I am four feet, nine inches, and weigh 86 pounds. My birthday is December 14. I wonder if I have any twins? If so, I would like to hear from them. The first one I hear from I will send them my picture. I would gladly answer letters from other girls and boys if they would write. I am a Junior in my Sunday school class in our dear little Methodist Church. Our pastor is F. A. Roberts. His father is here now from Kentucky holding a meeting. I enjoy reading page ten.

Esther Viola Barley.

Pittsfield, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes a boy from Iowa who would like to join your happy band. Grandpa takes The Herald and I enjoy the letters on page ten. I am eight years old. My birthday is Oct. 23. I will be in the fourth grade. I have one brother eleven years old and is in the seventh grade. We are both Christians and belong to the evangelical church at Magnolia. My grandpa is our pastor. We have been living with our grandparents for over a year, because my mother has been sick and not able to keep house. Daddy is a barber and lives in Elkhorn, Iowa. The one who will guess my first name I will send you my picture. It begins with R and ends with T, and has six letters. Esther M. Youngman, I guess your middle name to be Marion. Don't forget your promise. This is my first letter and I hope it escapes Mr. W. B.

R. Clinton Strassburg.

P. O. Box 73, Magnolia, Iowa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: After reading some of the good letters I feel it is my duty to write again. I have written several letters to the dear old Herald and I thank you for printing them. I have received several letters from the cousins. Benjamin F. Center, I guess your name to be Franklin. My sister has a big baby girl named Elizabeth Lorene, four months old. She sure is sweet. How many girls and boys can say you have never been at a theater, dance, or card parties? I have not been to either one of them. I have a good father and mother, and all of us are Christians. I am writing to a girl in Mississippi and one in Nebraska. I enjoy writing letters, so all of you cousins write to me and I will answer every letter I receive.

Hazel Cain.

Galax, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let a Kentucky girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am fourteen and in the eighth grade. I go to the country school but am going to high school next year. I am taking music lessons. I love music. I hope this will be in print. I want you to write and tell me whether I can join your band. I will answer any letters I receive.

Geneva Bell.

Rt. 1, Flemingsburg, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Please let this lonely Carolina girl get mixed up with your crowd. I would like to hear from boys and girls from everywhere. I am four feet, eleven inches, have dark brown hair and eyes and olive complexion. I am fourteen years old. I will exchange photos. Please, somebody write to me.

Sarah Clark.

Warrenville, S. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you move over and give a Tennessee boy room in your happy band of boys and girls? I do not take The Herald but a friend does and we get it. I am five feet, nine inches, and weigh 135 pounds. I have black eyes, dark hair, and dark complexion. I will be sixteen years of age September 20. Have I a twin? If so, please write to me. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with C and ends with E, and has five letters in it. Will some of the cousins write to me? I will answer all letters received.

Carl C. Upchurch.

Forbus, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let an Arkansas girl join your happy corner? I am visiting here, but I was born here. I came from California. I am going to Florida this fall. Father is pastor of the Church of Christ. I have three sisters, one of whom is married. I am eleven years old and in the 6-A at school. My birthday is Nov. 17. I have brown hair and eyes. Have I a twin? Edward Mills, I guess your name is Hillis. Esther Youngman, I guess yours is Marion.

Grace Higginbotham.

Sitka, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Can you scoot over and let a little Kansas boy join your happy band of boys and girls? I am a preacher's boy. I love the Children's Page. I hope Mr. Wastebasket is asleep for I want to see my letter in print. I like to go to Sunday school. My teacher is Blanche Gregory. I am eight years old and in the fourth grade. My birthday is Nov. 27. I am a Christian boy. I have blue eyes and light brown hair.

D. Dean Amick.

Alton, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Can you scoot over and let a Kansas boy join your happy band of boys and girls? I'm a preacher's boy. Daddy is a Quaker preacher. I love the Children's Page. I hope Mr. Wastebasket is out walking for I hope to see my letter. I like to go to Sunday school. My teacher is Blanche Gregory. I have two brothers named Dean and Junior. I am ten years old and in the fifth grade. My birthday is May 2. My brother and I take painting lessons and we sell our pictures. I am a Christian boy. How many of you are? I have blue eyes and light brown hair. How many can guess my middle name? It begins with P, ends with L, and has four letters in it.

Hubert P. Amick.

Alton, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please slide over and let a Pennsylvania girl come in and sit down beside you. This is my second letter to The Herald. I hope this letter will not be stuck in Mr. W. B.'s pocket. I was fourteen on Jan. 12, 1931. Who can guess my first name? It begins with E and ends with L, and has five letters in it. Whoever guesses my first name and

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company

DALTON, GA.

34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, - KENTUCKY.

writes to me I will give you my snapshot. Mother takes The Pentecostal Herald and I enjoy reading page ten. I got saved recently. I have two brothers saved and one sister. I live on a farm. Father, mother, brother and I all joined the Nazarene Church of Springboro. Our pastor is Rev. W. J. Strack. We go six miles to hear him.

E. Marie Abbott.

Conneautville, Pa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am always glad when The Herald comes because I enjoy page ten. I haven't seen many letters from Oregon, and I don't want to see my state left out. This is my first letter to The Herald. I am a member of the Methodist Church; we have a good holiness preacher. I belong to the Epworth League, and the high school Sunday school class. We have very interesting class sessions. I am sixteen and a senior in high school. I plan to go to the Portland Bible Institute after I graduate. I am glad to know that so many of the cousins are Christians. I would like to hear from the cousins near my age.

Evelyn de Vries.

Rt. 6, Box 50, Salem, Ore.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Ohio girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am nine years old. I have blue eyes and brown hair. I am in the fourth grade in school. I certainly enjoy reading page ten. I used to live at Bethany Orphanage in Kentucky, but now I live with Mrs. Clark in Ohio. My birthday is April 22. I go to church every Sunday. I am a Mother's Jewel. I hope Mr. W. B. is sleeping when this letter arrives.

Betty Irene Henson.

Rt. 0, Wooster, Ohio.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes a little girl from Albany. I am seven years old. I have brown hair and blue eyes. I am in the third grade. Daddy is a Methodist preacher. I am a Christian and go to Sunday school. We lived at Wilmore, last year and I saw you at camp meeting. This is my first letter and I hope it won't get into the wastebasket.

Oleta Shelley.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Pennsylvania girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am in the sixth grade at school. I am eleven years of age. My Sunday school teacher is Mrs. Arthur Slear. Can you guess my first name? It begins with B and ends with Y, and contains five letters. Who ever guesses it I will write to them. Emma M. Cummings, I guess your name to be Mary. Am I right? If so, write a letter to me. I am hoping Mr. W. B. is out taking a walk. I would like to see my letter in print.

B. Louise Williams.

Sunbury, Pa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes a little Louisiana girl asking to be admitted into your happy band of boys and girls. I live in a sawmill town in Central Louisiana. I like to go to school and I will be in the fifth grade this term. I like to go to church and Sunday school and Junior League. I am President of the Junior League. I am a little Christian and enjoy reading The Herald, especially page ten. This is my first letter to The Herald and I hope to see it in print.

Laverne Hall.

Selma, La.

FALLEN ASLEEP

RASMUSEN.

Mrs. Karen Rasmussen left her earthly home to be with Jesus on June 24, 1931. Although advanced in years, she was interested in things and people up to the very last. She was a constant reader, preferring her Bible to all books, and The Revivalist and Herald to all papers. The intense heat burdened a heart already weak from years of rheumatism, however, she was content and ready to go. Her remains were placed in beautiful Lakeview cemetery at Lake Crystal, Minn., where she had lived for some years.

She leaves six children and one grandchild. She lived a beautiful Christian life, growing daily in grace, and in the likeness of Christ. She saw in the present conditions many indications of the soon coming of our Savior, and often spoke about the rapid fulfillment of prophecy.

Her going has left aching, and yet rejoicing hearts, for we know that Christ has conquered death for those who love him and do his will. Dear mother has gained the Land where there is no death, neither parting nor pain. If we are faithful, we shall meet her there.

Her daughter,
Mary L. Rasmussen.

HADDEN.

Friday night, August 28, the death angel visited our home and took from us our dear uncle, Tom W. Hadden. He was born March 8, 1877, being fifty-four years of age. He was married to Miss Ida Hadden; to this union nine children were born, two having died when small. Uncle Tom was sick only nine days; he suffered until death was a relief to him. He called his children and wife to his bedside and told them he was going to heaven, and hoped to meet them some day. His funeral was preached by his pastor, Rev. W. F. Barton. Interment at Malden's cemetery. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife, seven children, and three grandchildren; two brothers, two sisters and a host of nieces and nephews. He left a bright testimony behind, saying he was trusting in the Lord. He joined the Methodist Church early in life.

He is gone but not forgotten,
Never shall his memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts shall ever linger
Round the grave where he is laid.
The flowers we lay upon his grave will wither and decay,
But the love we bear for him will never fade away.
No one knows the silent heartache,
Only those who have lost can tell,
Of the grief that's borne in silence,
For the ones we all loved so well.
Essie Hadden.
Stapleton, Ga.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

J. G.: "Please to pray for a Herald reader that she might have perfect health, if it is God's will."

Pray for the reconciliation of an estranged pair with two sweet children.

A wife asks prayer for her unsaved husband who thinks there is no hope for him.

M. B. B.: "Pray for the healing of two persons, and that God may direct in an important matter."

M.: "Pray that mother may be healed and that I may be converted."

Pray for Mrs. Fannie Sawyer, that she may be healed if it be God's will.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES
in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

TO ARMS! YE BRAVE.

To the many readers of The Pentecostal Herald, I dedicate the following messages that I hope to see appear from time to time on this great gospel page.

I think there is no question that should be of more vital interest to us, than that of Prohibition, yet it seems that a large number of the people who are church members and professed Christians discuss this subject in such a manner that we must term their views as neutral.

Why is it that men and women will not speak up when you discuss the punishment of the violation of this important law? Is it that their own guilt, although small as they may term it, prevents them from doing so?

I remember, when I was a small girl, attending a rural school, that one day while the teacher was busy with a class up front, we decided to have an apple feast. We knew we were disobeying a rule that would mean punishment if caught, yet we felt safe in doing so, with the teacher absorbed in her work.

At last one small girl to show her bravery, lifted the apple to her mouth, instead of lowering her mouth to the apple, and at that moment the teacher glanced in that direction.

With a hurt look of surprise the patient instructor stood for a moment, while the rest of us began working as though we knew nothing of the trouble brewing. Needless to say we dreaded the search of the desks that would reveal four red apples freshly eaten from.

With calmness the teacher said: "There is a pupil in this room that has broken a rule, an important one, and I shall ask the other pupils to state the punishment she should receive. I shall ask the guilty one to stand and tell the class what she has done."

There was a moment's silence, murmurs came from all parts of the room, and finally the little girl arose. She could not speak for sobs of shame and repentance made speech impossible, but she held the apple up as proof of her guilt.

"Now, Nannie Belle," continued the teacher, "I shall call on you first to state what punishment should be used in this case; stand up."

No criminal ever led to the chair felt more guilty than I at that moment, with an apple hidden away in my desk, and with the taunts of the pupils at my back, that knew I was guilty also. I knew I could not set a trap for my own feet, for when the truth was known I would suffer the same punishment that I desired for her, so I arose to my feet and confessed my own guilt, and the others soon followed our examples. Of course we were punished, as was due us, and it taught me a lesson I shall never forget.

When we see professed Christians who do not enter into this great fight against the Demon Liquor, we wonder if the men do not have before them a mental picture of their own bottle hidden away at the barn, or in a private drawer, or a party with friends where he felt ashamed to spoil the pleasure of the crowd by turning down a social glass.

When women fail to speak up—we know there is something wrong, for on most subjects she will be heard. We wonder if she is not thinking of the wine she bottled last fall, for her sons and daughters to drink at home,

Adam Clarke---Great Commentary

Dr. Clarke was one of a long succession of men who, in every age of the Christian Church, have applied the best energies of their intellect and heart to the study and interpretation of the Scriptures. The seven gifts which, according to Augustine, the true expositor of Scripture must possess—reverence, piety, science, fortitude, prudence, cleanness of heart, and heavenly wisdom—were his portions.

The studies of his earlier years always had a bearing on this great work. From the beginning he felt the need of being taught by God to understand his own word. Referring to this, he says: "No man ever taught me the doctrine I embrace; I received it singly by reading the Bible."

Sufficiently critical to aid the inquiries of the more serious student, and yet sufficiently popular to serve the purpose of general edification. He gives a lucid view of the several books of Scripture, as to their dates and authors, their scope and connection; he expounds the original text in a manner adapted to the deficiencies of the reader; he elucidates difficulties in chronology, history, and oriental manners; he develops the grand doctrines of revelation, and applies the whole to the great concerns of human salvation and duty.

One leading feature in its character is independence in thinking. While he availed himself of the labors of others, the great number of his expositions are emphatically his own.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

is one of the noblest works of the class in the entire domain of sacred literature. It is a thesaurus of general learning.

Its luminous expositions of the Law and the Gospel; its earnest and forceful appeals to the conscience of the sinner and the unbeliever; its rich counsels for the well-understood wants of the Christian's inner life; its endless exhibitions of general knowledge; and its valuable aids to the students of those holy tongues in which revelation took its first recorded forms—all will render this book the companion and the counselor of multitudes as long as the English language may endure. The man who accomplished it achieved immortality, his name having become identified with an indestructible monument of learning and religion.

We commend it as the most spiritual commentary published. Six large volumes, good paper, good binding, new type.

Special Net Price, $14.90, Postpaid

Pentecostal Publishing Co.,

Louisville, Kentucky

in order that they may not be tempted to go elsewhere for stronger drinks. Or of the last bridge party where she served wine to her guests, while they rested a few moments from their game and discussed how to raise some much needed church funds. Can you imagine such a mixture?

Suppose you were to visit a home where there was a girl and a boy that seemed to be the joy of their parents, and that you would notice a listlessness about them that you could not understand.

What would you think if that devoted mother would openly confess to you that each day she gave her children a portion of dope in order that they may not be tempted to become dope fiends when they left her roof?

Wouldn't you look on her as a criminal, one who was slowly murdering her offspring? Then what about the mother who says, when asked, why she allows wines and other drinks to be served to her boys and girls at home, "I do it that they may not be tempted to search for stronger drinks away from home that will cause their ruin."

Ah, blind mother! You are growing an appetite for stronger drinks, and when they start down the road to utter despair there will be no well remembered warnings of childhood to call them back.

"But I can't make my sons and daughters unpopular by being narrow," you say. It certainly would be a pity! Look around at some of our modern girls that are termed popular. fingers tobacco stained, breath tainted with liquor, and kindly remember they are our mothers of tomorrow. A precious baby would look as much out of place in the arms of such a mother as a rose would in a hog-mire. When our baby girl was born dead the 16th of last March, I felt that my sorrow could be no greater, and when they brought her little body to my bed for the last time, and I picked up the little hand for the last time in this world, this thought came to me, No sin can ever leave its stain on that precious hand. Then my mind wandered down the years and I thought, What if she should live to become a young lady, and that in future years I should pick up that same hand and find it stained by use of cigarettes, and her breath should be tainted by liquor, how much greater would be my sorrow, what shame and disgrace it would bring to my gray hair!

You might say, "Would your daughter be like that?"

My dear reader, the only way to save our boys and girls is to stamp out the causes that will lead our boys to ruin, and our daughters to despair.

When I read Mrs. Morrison's letter this morning I dropped on my knees and renewed my vow with God to put my shoulder to the wheel stronger and fight harder against the foe that is gaining ground while so many of our soldiers sleep at their posts. Will you join us in the fight?

Nannie Belle McRae.
Pembroke, Ky.

Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson XIII.—September 27, 1931.
Subject.—Review: The Spread of Christianity in Asia.

Reading Lesson.—Ephesians 3:1-8.
Golden Text.—They rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had opened the door of faith unto the Gentiles. Acts 14:27.

Time.—The lessons of the quarter cover a period of about twenty years, beginning at Pentecost A. D. 30 and running to A. D. 50.

Jesus Christ is the only world-wide character men have ever known. Other religions are largely national or racial; but Christianity meets the needs of all men. Jesus is indeed the Son of man. He is elder Brother to the entire race.

Lesson I. How passing strange that the church will not believe God. When Zerubbabel was about to rebuild the temple after the Babylonish captivity, Jehovah spoke through the prophet Zechariah, saying: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the LORD of hosts." In all her history, sometimes more and sometimes less, the church has been trying to do in her own strength what can be done only through the Divine Spirit. The outpouring of the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost was a demonstration of this. Eighty-two preachers did little or nothing before that event; but on that one day Peter won 3000 converts. Just now the church is organized to death trying to gain power. She has more machinery than steam. It would pay to scrap most of it, and betake ourselves to an altar of prayer for a new Pentecost.

Lesson II. The great theme of apostolic preaching was the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. Paul declared: "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is vain also. . . . And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins." It is true, they wrought miracles and did many wonderful works; but they never claimed any power of their own—all was done through the name of the risen Christ; and they gave him all the glory. Our own times need a renewal of resurrection preaching. Everything in our holy religion hangs around that open grave. Preach it, talk it everywhere, emphasize it, shout over it, pray about it, till souls catch fire; for it is the earnest of our own resurrection.

Lesson III. As the church grew in numbers, there were physical needs to be met, and social service began—not with the notion that it could save men, but for the care of the poor saints. Some little trouble, some hard feeling, arose, because of the neglect of some needy widows who had been overlooked in the daily ministrations. The apostles called for seven deacons whom they might set over that business, while they "gave themselves to prayer and the ministry of the word." That was wise. Ministers of the gospel have no time to serve tables. In that early day they practiced a sort of Christian Communism. Those who had property sold all, or a part, of what they possessed, and turned the proceeds into a common fund for the relief of such as were in need. It was a beautiful charity, such as should be practiced now by many, if they wish to keep in favor with God. Social service is good and to be commended; but the modern church has gone wild on the subject. It must not be made a substitute for the gospel of salvation.

Lesson IV. Jesus had told his disciples that men had persecuted him, and that they would also be persecuted; for they were not above their Lord. The Jews had hated him to the death; and now when his followers began to multiply in Jerusalem, their wrath rose against them. Stephen, one of the seven deacons, preached with great power. He was arrested and brought up for trial. Some have said that, had he been prudent in his defense, he might have saved his life; but we have to thank God for his imprudence. By his rashness he taught a lesson and left a testimony that has blessed the church in all ages. Prudent men seldom do anything worth while.

Lesson V. I do not believe that an honest seeker ever fails to find God. The eunuch of Ethiopia did not have much light; but God sent Philip with all the light that he needed. I once saw an honest infidel meet the light; and he was converted almost instantly. All his unbelief as to the Bible and the Deity of Jesus Christ was gone immediately. No one who doubts the Deity of our Lord can claim to be born again.

VI. The conversion of Saul of Tarsus was one of Christianity's biggest strokes. Nothing but the power of God can turn such a man clear round in a moment. Every conviction in the heart of Saul had to be cast out, and new convictions planted in their place. When he met Jesus on the Damascus road, old things passed away: all things became new. He was regenerated, ordained to preach the gospel, baptized with water by Ananias, and baptized with the Holy Ghost that sanctified him wholly within the space of three days. It would be difficult to find a more unanswerable proof of the Deity of Jesus Christ than the conversion of this arch-persecutor of the church. Infidels may rail at it and deny it, but can make no argument against it.

VII. Things are not true because they are in the Bible; but they are in the Bible because they are true. This lesson about sowing and reaping has always been true, and always will be. No one can sow wheat and reap oats. It is true in the field, in the home; and above all, it is true in the heart. He who sows immoral deeds, reaps a corrupted manhood. He who lives a clean life in morals reaps clean manhood. He who lies becomes a liar; he who steals becomes a thief; he who gambles a gambler. But he who loves and serves God becomes a saint, and gains a heaven. This is a great lesson for emphasis in review work with young people.

VIII. The Jews were a great people; but they were very narrow in racial prejudice. When Jesus came they had gone so far in this direction that they hardly thought it possible that Jehovah could have any care for the salvation of the Gentiles. They certainly had none; and they hardly thought that God could be different from themselves in that regard. God had to work a marvellous miracle in the form of a vision to change Peter's heart in this matter. Many Jews who accepted Christ never did get rid of their prejudice. They even thought that it would defile a Hebrew Christian to eat with a Gentile Christian. The only hope they had of Gentile salvation was to bring them in under the old Mosaic ritualistic laws and ceremonies. Paul seems to have had little difficulty in realizing the universal mission of Christianity. It was the horrible caste curse that has ruined India and some other lands. We have it in a very devilish form in America. Caste must die, or Christianity will fail to save a lost world.

I. Strange that it took early Christianity so long to get ready for foreign missionary work. It tarried several years in Jerusalem before the martyrdom of Stephen. It took that to scatter the disciples for the work of preaching the gospel in other parts. Other years had to pass before God could send Peter to the household of the devout Cornelius that they might receive the baptism with the Holy Ghost. Then he must needs have a battle with the Jerusalem brethren about preaching to the Gentiles. When Paul and Barnabas began their missionary labors, they went first to the Jewish synagogues that they might preach Christ to men of their own race. It was only when the Jews judged themselves to be unworthy of eternal life, and put it from them, that they turned to the Gentiles. The heart of the Christ who died for all men must ache because of the slowness of the church to carry out his great commission to make disciples of all men everywhere.

X. It was an awful day for Israel when they rejected the gospel, and God turned his messengers away from them to the Gentiles; but it was the gladdest day for the Gentile world that had ever dawned. It was then that the world-wide sweep of the gospel began to take possession of the heart of the church. The work has been slow; but, thank God, it is moving now into the highways and hedges of the human race; and multitudes will come up to the crowning day from India, from China, Japan, Korea, the islands of the seas, and from darkest Africa. It will be a glorious company of blood-washed souls.

XI. How fickle is the multitude. At Lystra the heathen people were ready with oxen and garlands to offer sacrifice to Paul and Barnabas, thinking they were Mercury and Jupiter come down to their city; but ere they knew it the tide had turned; and Paul was stoned and dragged out of the city, and left for dead. No mob can be trusted. Under such circumstances men lose their heads. They go wild, and commit deeds that in saner moments make them blush for shame. When some terrible criminal is being lynched for an awful inhuman crime, men rush into the deed with frenzy, who in cooler moments abominate themselves for being led into such conduct. Nothing is more devilish than a religious mob. How strange it is that in nearly all religious mobs the clergy are the most rabid leaders. They instigated the plot against Jesus. The pope and his priests led the fight against Martin Luther. Clergymen instigated the persecutions of John Wesley and the early Methodists. Were it not for the priests there would be little persecution against Christians in heathen lands.

XII. Now we are at the hour of decision. Judaizing Christians would not give up their opposition to Gentile Christians until the matter of

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                        |             |
|------------------------|-------------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund | .....$1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund | .....1.50   |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund   | .....6.00   |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund   | .....1.00   |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe.

The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF
CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS

Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature
—is the estimate of all who read
these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00

The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid

PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - - - - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailor and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Buried With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?
These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

keeping the ceremonial law was settled by the church in Jerusalem; and even then there were some who died hard. The brethren in the Mother Church decided that Gentiles did not have to submit to the ceremonial laws of Moses in order to become Christians; but that they might be received as brethren on the basis of faith in Jesus Christ, if they would abstain from fornication, from eating strangled animals, and from blood. Well might the Gentile Christians rejoice for the consolation; for Peter said the yoke was so heavy that neither the Jews of his day, nor their fathers were able to bear it.

KENTUCKY METHODIST CONFERENCE ADJOURNS AT WINCHESTER.

Sixty Charges Unchanged.

Sixty-six charges in the Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will have new pastors during the coming year, it was disclosed in the list of ministerial assignments by Bishop W. F. McMurry. Sixty charges will retain their present pastors.

Announcement of these assignments brought to a close the one hundred and eleventh session of the Kentucky Annual Conference. Bishop McMurry made his announcements following the close of his conference sermon in the First Methodist Episcopal Church here.

There will be one new presiding elder, the Rev. F. D. Rose, in the Covington District. He is to go to his new post from the pastorate at Williams-town and will succeed the Rev. T. W. Whitaker, who was named as minister for the Winchester First Church. Presiding elders who retain their posts are the Rev. W. B. Garriott, Danville District; the Rev. Virgil L. Moore, Lexington District; the Rev. C. A. Tague, Maysville District, and the Rev. Madison Combs, Shelbyville District.

Three ministers were transferred to other conferences. They are the Rev. A. W. Vanderpool from Falmouth to the Oklahoma Conference; the Rev. R. H. Kleiser from Danville to the St. Louis Conference, and the Rev. W. Raymond Wilder from Oxford to the Pacific Conference. Transferred also were the Rev. A. R. Williams from the Oklahoma Conference to Perryville, and the Rev. W. L. Clark from the St. Louis Conference to Park Church, Lexington.

Other appointments include Dr. H. C. Morrison as president of Asbury Seminary and general evangelist; the Rev. Andrew Johnson and the Rev. O. H. Callis, general evangelists; the Rev. L. E. Williams and the Rev. J. W. Carter, Conference evangelists; the Rev. J. R. Parker, approved evangelist; the Rev. G. D. Prentiss, Conference missionary secretary; the Rev. Dennis V. Snapp, associate executive secretary of the Board of Christian Education; Dr. W. G. Cram, general secretary Board of Missions; the Rev. H. W. Bromley, general evangelist Covington District; the Rev. W. P. Fryman, Conference director Golden Cross; the Rev. F. K. Struve, Conference director supernannate endowment; J. J. Davis, missionary to Africa; T. W. B. Demaree, missionary to Japan; the Rev. J. B. Kendall, general evangelist Lexington District; C. A. Swazy, Conference extension secretary Board of Christian Education; Dr. C. M. Dannelly, president of Kentucky Wesleyan College, executive secretary Board of Christian Education.

Pastoral appointments by districts follow:

Covington District.

Charges with New Pastors—Benson and Curry Charge, the Rev. F. T. Howard, transferred from Hinton; Berry, the Rev. W. P. Hopkins, from College Hill; Burlington, the Rev. S. H. Pollitt, from Berry; Butler, the Rev. L. A. Garriott, from Burlington; California, the Rev. C. P. Pillow, from Jenkins; Erlanger, the Rev. F. C. King, from Washington; Falmouth, the Rev. H. M. Massie, from Perryville; Ghent, the Rev. G. W. Hoffman, from Benson and Curry; Hinton, the Rev. R. N. Nash, from Pleasureville; Mount Hope and Mount Gilead, the Rev. R. B. Hays (supply); Walton, the Rev. G. B. Trayner, from West Liberty, and the Revs. J. E. Roberts and D. E. Bedinger, supernumerary, and Williamston, the Rev. P. C. Gillespie, from Erlanger.

Pastors to Remain at Present Charges—Alexandria, the Rev. G. M. Rainey, Corinth; the Rev. L. C. DeArmond, Covington, First Church, the Rev. E. M. Fossett; Covington, St. Luke's, the Rev. G. R. Tomlin; Cynthiana, the Rev. W. P. Fryman; Dry Ridge, the Rev. H. G. Howard; Georgetown, the Rev. F. K. Struve; Highlands, Fort Thomas, the Rev. W. B. Campbell; Hughes Chapel and Big Bone, the Rev. O. M. Simmerman; New Columbus, the Rev. S. W. Dean; Newport, the Rev. T. W. Beeler; Oddville, the Rev. T. P. Roberts; Visalia, the Rev. Peter Walker, and Warsaw, the Rev. E. L. Ockerman.

Danville District.

Charges With New Pastors—Bryantville and Roberts Chapel, the Rev. J. E. Catron, from Ghent; Burgin, the Rev. F. D. Swanson, from Seco; Danville, the Rev. O. B. Crockett, from First Church, Winchester; East Burnstead, to be supplied; Ferguson, the Rev. J. R. Whealdon, North Main, Winchester; Gravel Switch, the Rev. D. R. Klinger, from Roberts Chapel.

Lancaster, Rev. J. S. Green, from Woodford Circuit; Meadow Creek, the Rev. T. D. Walters, from Hindman; Middlesboro, the Rev. G. D. Prentiss, from Irvine; Moreland, the Rev. J. H. French, from Gravel Switch; Perryville, the Rev. A. H. Williams, from Oklahoma Conference; Pineville, the Rev. W. F. Pettus, Emory, Ga.; Preachersville, the Rev. Estill Scott, supply; Pulaski Circuit, the Rev. Smith Gilmore, new; South Corbin, the Rev. A. E. Johnson, supply; Stanford, the Rev. R. F. Ockerman, from Woodlawn Circuit, and Woodford Circuit, the Rev. J. T. Edwards, Jr., supply.

Pastor to Remain at Present Charges—Burnside, the Rev. W. D. Welburn; Corbin, the Rev. B. O. Beck; Harrodsburg, the Rev. W. E. Arnold; London, the Rev. E. L. Griffy; Lynch, the Rev. C. R. Thomas; Mackville, the Rev. R. F. Johnson; McKendree, the Rev. J. T. Frost; Richmond, the Rev. J. P. Strother; Salvisa, the Rev. R. D. Huston; Somerset, the Rev. R. J. Yoak; Wilmore, the Rev. W. P. Davis, and Yancey, the Rev. J. G. Root.

Lexington District.

Charges With New Pastors—Camp-ton and Hazel Green Charge, the Rev. S. B. Godbey, transferred from Moreland charge; College Hill, the Rev. H. T. Bonny, from Burgin; Hazard, the Rev. Adolphus Gilliam, from Mt. Zion; Hindman, the Rev. R. R. Rose, from Mt. Hope and Mt. Gilead; Irvine, the Rev. M. S. Clark, from Middlesboro; Jackson, the Rev. P. C. Eversole, from Flemingsburg; Jenkins, the Rev. J. H. Lewis, from Walton; Lexington Park, the Rev. W. L. Clark, from St. Louis Conference; Mr. Zion, the Rev. W. S. Mitchell, from California; Noon, the Rev. H. L. Moore, new pastor; Nicholasville, the Rev. A. E. Smith, from Germantown; Seco, the Rev. W. H. Fry, new pastor; Spears, the Rev. F. E. Mosely, supply; Versailles, the Rev. M. P. McClure, from Crestwood; West Liberty, the Rev. I. J. Scudder, from Junction City; Whitesburg, the Rev. J. K. Hicks, new pastor; Winchester First, the Rev. H. W. Whitaker, former presiding elder Covington District; Winchester North Main, the Rev. J. S. Howard, new pastor.

Charges Which Retain Present Pastors—Domino and Lothair, the Rev. C. P. Cecil, supply; Grassy Lick, the Rev. E. W. Ishmael; Lexington First, the Rev. R. H. Daugherty; Lexington Epworth, the Rev. O. C. Seever; Morehead, the Rev. A. R. Perkins; Mt. Sterling, the Rev. J. E. Moss; Owingsville, the Rev. G. C. Tanner; Ravenna, the Rev. W. A. Wells; Vicco, the Rev. R. M. Baldwin; West Irvine, the Rev. K. O. Potts. To be supplied—Clay City and Frenchburg.

Maysville District.

Charges With New Pastors—Brooksville, the Rev. P. F. Adams, transferred from Stanford Charge; Carlisle, the Rev. E. K. Arnold from Versailles; Germantown, the Rev. J. B. Hahn, from Bedford; Hillsboro, the Rev. L. C. Godbey, from Mt. Olivet; Hutchison and Oxford, the Rev. R. F. Jordan, from Vanceburg; Moorefield; Mt. Olivet, the Rev. W. H. Cardwell, from Brooksville; Sardis and Shannon, the Rev. L. T. Allison, from Tollesboro; Tilton, the Rev. J. S. Ragan, from Moorefield; Tollesboro, the Rev. S. E. Adams, from Hutchison; Vanceburg, the Rev. J. W. Gilbert, from Hillsboro; Washington, the Rev. Oakley Lee, from Spears Circuit.

Pastors Who Remain in Present Charges—Helena Charge, the Rev. Enos Waggoner; Herrington and Rattles Mills, the Rev. Charles Cochran, supply; Maysville First, the Rev. W. S. Maxwell; Maysville Central, the Rev. A. D. Houghlin; Millersburg, the Rev. G. W. Boswell; the Rev. W. B. Hall, supernumerary; Paris, the Rev. J. L. Clark; the Rev. O. J. Chandler, supernumerary; Pine Grove, the Rev. C. L. Cooper; Salt Well, the Rev. S. R. Mann; Sharpsburg and Bethel, the Rev. W. M. Williams.

Shelbyville District.

Charges With New Pastors—Bedford Charge, the Rev. C. G. Dearing, transferred from Owenton District; Crestwood, the Rev. J. R. Savage, from Lexington Park; Eminence and Bethlehem, the Rev. C. W. Grant, from Whitesburg; Lawrenceburg, the Rev. E. C. Watts, from Butler; New Castle, the Rev. L. A. Fyman, from Jackson; Owenton, the Rev. P. C. Long, from Eminence; Pleasureville, the Rev. C. H. Greer, from Nicholasville; Port Royal, the Rev. C. L. Bohon, from Hazard; Woodlawn, the Rev. E. M. Armitage, from Port Royal.

Pastors Who Remain in Present Charges—Bloomfield, the Rev. H. C. Martin; Campbellsburg, the Rev. S. J. Bradley; Carrollton, the Rev. G. W. Banks; Chaplin, Rev. J. E. Wright; Frankfort, the Rev. J. E. Savage; La Grange, the Rev. Price T. Smith; Milton, the Rev. S. L. Moore; Polsgrove, the Rev. F. D. Palmeter; Shelby Circuit, the Rev. A. G. Stone; Shelbyville, the Rev. W. V. Cropper; Shiloh, the Rev. E. C. Johnson; Simpsonville, the Rev. W. E. Harrison; Taylorsville, the Rev. H. L. Graybeal; Worthville, the Rev. M. H. Richardson. To Be Supplied—Turners.

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. James 1:5.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Wanted—A young man to help in the printing shop at Asbury College. One who will want to take some studies preferable, but will take one for full time work. Address W. W. Cary, Wilmore, Ky.

Rev. Andrew Johnson's meeting in Toronto, Canada, has been cancelled, which leaves September open for him. Any one desiring his services may address him Wilmore, Ky.

Rev. Sam Maxwell: "Just closed a revival in which nineteen souls were saved. The week before there were 39 persons converted. The summer has been rich in the numbers who have been blessed. We began a revival with Bro. Higgins in Haywood Street Church, Asheville, N. C., Sept. 6. The church was packed both services, and a great revival is expected.

Rev. W. A. Vandersall, 1208 N. Cory St., Findlay, Ohio, is going west this fall and will be glad to assist any pastor between Ohio and California for freewill offering. Brother Vandersall is a safe preacher and has been successful as a revivalist.

For Rent: Good six-room dwelling two squares from Asbury College, furnished or unfurnished. Reasonable price. Address Rev. Jos. H. Lewis, Wilmore, Ky.

D. W. Whybrew, Upland, Ind., is open for evangelistic work on full salvation lines for this fall and winter.

There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere.

While "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" is an entirely new 1930 publication, its inspiring words and memorable melody are already indelibly impressed upon the song-consciousness of millions of sacred music lovers throughout the United States by reason of its introduction over the radio by MR. HOMER RODEHEAVER, known the world over as the foremost interpreter of gospel songs.

Soloists everywhere have reported most favorable responses from their audiences when they use this inspiring song, because it brings a genuine heart message of comfort and cheer which people want to hear. Suitable for all types of services. Send for your copy now and give your audiences the benefit of this helpful song message. Per copy, postpaid, 40c.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Louisville, Kentucky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character. Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Louisville, Kentucky.

A SPEECH FOR EVERY OCCASION

By A. C. Edgerton, published by Noble & Noble, New York. Price $2.00.

This is an invaluable volume for any one to have in their library as there is suggestive material for making a speech on most any occasion that you can think of. There are 417 pages and almost as many speeches for Mothers and Fathers, Day School Graduates, Presentations, Patriotic, Weddings, Business, Holiday, etc.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

AYCOCK, JARRETTE.
(2923 Troose Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13-27.

BABCOCK, C. H.
Cape May, N. J., Sept. 11-21.

BECK, A. S. AND R. S.
Columbia, Ky., Sept. 5-Oct. 1.

BEVINS, K. J.
(1474 Stelzer Rd., Columbus, O.)
Open dates.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Chickasha, Okla., Sept. 8-20.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

DICKERSON, H. N.
(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Ballston, Va., August 30-Sept. 13.
Oxford, Pa., Sept. 15-27.
Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4-18.

EDWARDS, J. K.
(Bilmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Lima, Ohio, Sept. 6-27.
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN
Ephrata, Pa., Sept. 13-27.
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28-Oct. 11.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
South Manchester, Conn., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shacklefords, Va.)
Lock Haven, Pa., Sept. 10-20.
McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.

FRYE, H. A.
(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
Grover, Pa., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.

FRYE, MR. AND MRS. IRVIN E.
(15500 Oak Hill Rd., Cleveland, Ohio.)
Open for calls after September 1st.

FUGETT, C. B.
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13-27.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 4-18.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4955 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Marion, Ohio, Sept. 14-27.
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GROGG, W. A.
(418 24th St., West, Huntington, W. Va.)
Barrett, W. Va., September.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Anderson, S. C., Sept. 6-20.
Forest City, N. C., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Open date, Oct. 4-18.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.
(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)
Galena, Kan., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.

HEWSON, JOHN E.
(127 N. Chester Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.)
Open dates.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 5-29.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

HOOVER, L. S.
Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 6-27.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.
(Bethany, Okla.)
Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21.
Bethany, Okla., Sept. 23-27.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4-18.

JOHNSON, ANDREW
Toronto, Can., Sept. 6-20.

JOHNSON, H. C.
(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Seymour, Ind., Sept. 7-20.
Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Shelfield, Mass.)
Hillsboro, N. C., Sept. 5-19.
Lewis, Dela., Sept. 19-Oct. 3.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Point Pleasant, N. J., Sept. 6-27.
Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.

LEWIS, M. V.
(Wilmore, Ky.)
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

LINCICOME, F.
Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6-20.
Toronto, Can., Sept. 27-Oct. 7.
Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAXELLE
(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6-20.
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.

MCBRIDE, J. B.
(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Tillamook, Ore., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILBY, E. C.
(Song Evangelist, Greensburg, Ky.)
Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 1-13.
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 9-29.

MINGLEDORFF, O. G.
Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Whiting, Kan., Sept. 16-Oct. 4.
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 E. 13th Ave., Columbus, O.)
Greenville, Tenn., Sept. 9-20.

PARKER, J. R.
(415 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Abbeville, S. C., Sept. 7-27.

REED, LAWRENCE.
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.

REID, JAMES V.
(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 14-27.
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Boswell, Okla., Sept. 7-20.
Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 30-Oct. 4.
Independence, Kan., Oct. 5-18.

SPARKS, BURL
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Sayre, Okla., Sept. 11-21.
Brooms Island, Md., Sept. 4-20.
Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.

TOTTEN, ARCHIE J.
(411 Ninth St., Franklin, Pa.)
Open dates after January 1.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 15-21.

WHITE, MR. AND MRS.
Pekin, Ill., Sept. 9-19.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN B.
(Jacoby, Louisiana)
Broken Bow, Okla., August 18-30.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Delmar, Del., Sept. 8-27.
Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(304 South Main St., Somerset, Ky.)
Corbin, Ky., Sept. 10-Oct. 4.

THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS.

By Rev. G. W. Ridout.

This book is prepared especially to help people lead a holy life. It takes up the sevenfold beauty of the Christian life. It is the only book of its kind for holiness people. Price 75c. PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.

"THE OLD RUGGED CROSS"

stands out at this season of the year like a mighty mountain peak. What could be more appropriate to place in the hands of a friend than a copy of The Story of The Old Rugged Cross? It is by the author of this world famed gospel song and contains data on how it came to be written. Also, fifteen GREAT SERMONETTES on various phases of the CROSS by outstanding American gospel preachers. In two bindings, 75c and $1.00.

BOUNTIFUL GRACE.

By Mrs. Woodford Talyor.

Introduction by Dr. John Paul. A new booklet just off the press. Life Story of one of the Chinese evangelists of the National Holiness Association Mission in China.

In the five intensely interesting chapters of this booklet the reader will find a concrete example of the desperate poverty of the masses of "China's Millions," a vivid picture of the woes of her womanhood and a thrilling account of the power of divine grace to transform, bless and use one of her "weakest and poorest." You will want it! 25c per copy, or five copies to one address for $1.00. Order from Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson: "It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith, it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public." Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

A Feast of Good Things.

By J. M. HAMES

Contents.

The Mind of Jesus, The Spirit of Jesus, A Sweet Spirit, The Sealing of the Spirit, The Indwelling Christ, The Sunrise Experience, The Risen Life, The Fragrance of Holiness, Abounding Life, Power From On High, The Blood of Jesus, Progress in the Spiritual Life, We Would See Jesus, The Loss of the Spirit, The Ark of the Covenant, The Glory Departed, The Spirit Does Not Always Strive With Men.

Each of these chapters is complete in itself. The book is, as its title suggests, truly "A Feast of Good Things."

127 pages. Price $1.00

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                     | $16.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Signed .....

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only 5½x8½x1 in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size 5½x8½ inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size 5½x8½x1½ in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at $7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is 5½x8½.

The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 3½x5½x1 inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold.

It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size 4½x6½ in.

Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size 5½x7½, bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only 3½x5½x1 in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size 4½x6½, only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 4½x6½. Regular net price $3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is 6x7½x1 in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is 4½x6½x1 in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size 5x7x1 in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price $5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00
Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in foot-notes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size 2½x4½. We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $ . . . for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                              |        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....                           | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....                          | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....                            | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson .....                     | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison .....                  | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....                              | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....                                | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards ..... | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson .....          | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison .....     | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                                        | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....                                | .20    |
| The Mind of the Master Soul Rest, Huff. ....                 | .20    |

Biography

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....            | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....                        | .50 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life..          | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout ..... | .10 |

For Children

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....            | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....                | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor ..... | .10 |

Evolution

|                                                             |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....                          | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke .....     | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan .....               | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock ..... | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....                            | .15 |

Hell

|                                                       |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell .....                  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor ..... | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor .....          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor .....           | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....                     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly .....               | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....                    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner .....              | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt .....                | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....                      | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper.....                      | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn..                    | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....                      | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....                        | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith ..... | .10 |

Holiness

|                                                               |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul .....                          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....                            | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth .....                          | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....                                | .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller .....         | .25 |

|                                                                    |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....                                       | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt .....                        | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer.....                                | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff .....                  | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....                                         | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....                                      | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..                                | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Ferguson..                                 | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul .....          | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley .....         | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                                              | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....                                | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley .....                      | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..                               | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....                                       | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames .....                        | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul .. | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison .....                        | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....                                | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper .....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                              |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow .....                   | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout .....                        | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout .....                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout .....                                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout .....                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout .....                    | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout .....                             | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd ..... | .05 |

Baptism

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects .....       | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly .....                   | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett .....                          | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means ..... | .50 |

Devotional

|                                                   |     |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin ..... | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....                 | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock .....       | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....                      | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                      |     |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper .....                                   | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....                                     | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper.... | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                                    |     |
|----------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, Coward ..... | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....                | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers .....         | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett ..... | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett .....       | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....              | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....                   | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss ..... | .15 |

Assorted

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..                           | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....                                 | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....                                    | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....                          | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....                           | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett .....         | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....                            | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....                            | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....                          | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..                           | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims .....              | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt ..... | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly .....              | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor .....        | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper .....  | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly .....                   | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett .....              | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George .....        | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....                           | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly .....                           | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....                                    | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....                            | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart..                         | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus... ..                       | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....                          | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....                                      | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout .....     | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....                            | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....                                    | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....                            | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper .....                        | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor .....              | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell .....        | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Sept. 23, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 38.

THE ACID TEST. By The Editor.

IT is recorded in the Gospel of Matthew that when Judas came with the soldiers and mob to arrest our Lord, when it looked as if he had really failed, then "All the disciples forsook him and fled."

That must have been a very sad moment in the many sorrows of our Lord. He was held captive in the hands of his enemies; his friends and followers not only left him, but they actually ran away.

This must have gratified the enemies of Christ. We can imagine them setting this down as another proof that he was an impostor and not the Messiah. Would it not have been quite natural for them to say, "How about this? Here are his disciples forsaking him! He has had them with him from the first of his ministry, they have seen his so-called miracles; he has had ample opportunity to instil into them his principles and convince them of his Divine Sonship; but when the test comes we find that they have no real faith in him, nor love for him. See them running away."

As we read the gospel up to this time, we would hardly expect such a stampede of fear. There is much in the gospel records of their faith and devotion that promised better things than this; but conditions were different, and circumstances have much to do with men. When they forsook all to follow Christ, they fully believed he was the long promised Messiah of prophecy, and that he would directly set up a kingdom that would eclipse the glory of Solomon's reign. This was their conception of the Lord Jesus and his kingdom, when they gave up all things else to follow him. They were already disputing about who should have the highest seats in this new kingdom.

We are not to suppose that up to this time they had been wholly selfish. They believed in and loved their Lord. It was just after that immense draught of fishes, which was about to sink their boats, that a group of his disciples forsook all and followed him. When his disciples warned him of the danger of going to Jerusalem, and he would not turn away from his purpose, Thomas said to the other disciples, "Let us also go, that we may die with him." And they followed him when they expected the worst. It was love for their Master that filled their hearts with sorrow, when he said to them, "As I said to the Jews, I say unto you: Whither I go, ye cannot come." Their sorrow was so great that he sought to cheer and comfort their hearts with those gracious words in John 14: "Let not your hearts be troubled," and on with the beautiful promise that there should be restoration and the presence of his love and fellowship.

There come testing times in the experience of all of us. Times when we must suffer a bit of reproach, possibly of abuse and ridicule,

OUR SPECIAL OFFER.
We are offering The Pentecostal Herald to trial subscribers from November 1 to February 1, 1932, for the very small sum of TWENTY-FIVE CENTS.

We desire to put the message of The Herald into the hands of many people who have not read the paper. This offer gives an opportunity to those who have received spiritual help from The Herald's pages to pass it on to other people.

During the time mentioned we shall have a most interesting series of articles. There will be some choice matter from that most remarkable and versatile preacher and writer, Rev. C. W. Ruth. He will have something to say on "Why Women Should Not Smoke," and other interesting subjects. There will be two great articles from that remarkable New Testament teacher and preacher, Rev. Joseph H. Smith, on, "Holiness Standard Bearers in Methodism." It is a most interesting and instructive piece of religious literature. I wish it might be read by a million people.

There will be a series of articles during the period mentioned from Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D. D. No more charming and instructive writer speaks through the columns of The Pentecostal Herald. The articles mentioned above will be worth many times the price of the paper for the three months indicated.

There will appear a series of articles on "If Christ Should Come to Jerusalem," by the Editor, H. C. Morrison. He makes a different approach to the subject than usual, and we believe these articles will be read with interest and profit. The end of the present age and the Coming of the Lord is a subject claiming the attention of many thoughtful people.

Send in the names of a group of your friends and let them have a taste of the bill of fare presented by The Pentecostal Herald. Many of them will become yearly subscribers. If there ever was a time when the Lord's people should sow spiritual truth beside all waters, that time is now. The forces of unbelief are united, strong, determined and aggressive. The Lord's followers should do all they can to bring the saving truths of the gospel to the thoughtless multitudes. The truth is, there are multitudes of hungry souls who do not know where to find bread for their pressing spiritual needs. Give a helping hand, and do it now.

H. C. Morrison.

the accusation and loss of friends, if we would be true to our Lord and faithfully witness to what he has done for us, and what he is to us. It is at times like this that Jesus would have our faithfulness and testimony. It is under such testings that we develop strength and real robust Christian character. Those beloved friends who profess sanctification under favorable circumstances, when there appears to be no cross to bear, contradiction or ridicule to meet, but take good care to shield themselves when there is a real test of devotion to him who "suffered without the gate that he might sanctify us with his own blood," cannot hope to amount to much as witnesses for our Lord. It is quite probable that in the great testing day, he will say to them, "I never knew you."

He who thinks that Christianity has nothing to do with politics, with business, with pleasure, is ignorant of its whole meaning. It is a power right in the midst of these, sweetening and purifying them all in Christ's strength and for Christ's sake.—Mark Guy Pearse.

CAMP MEETINGS.

IN my last camp meeting letter we had just opened the work at Pentecostal Park on my old home farm near Glasgow, Ky. We had considerable rain to begin with which interfered, but the rain was badly needed, and for the first time in something like two years, the ground was thoroughly soaked and the streams were flushed, for which we are grateful.

We were not prepared to entertain campers, although a few people stayed on the ground. The night attendance was very fine. During the meeting quite a number were at the altar; there was not a large number of professions, yet some were graciously blessed. In that community we needed about three weeks, as it was a tabernacle rather than a camp meeting. We hope to be prepared to take care of a number of campers next year. All told a great many were at the altar for a better religious experience, regeneration, reclamation or sanctification. Many claimed to be greatly helped in their spiritual life.

Rev. H. H. Jones, of Hopkinsville, Ky., evangelist of the Louisville Conference, was with us. He is a man of wide reading, deep and high thought who is tremendously interested in some of the great social, economical and moral problems of the day. He is a warm-hearted brother with an earnest message for the times.

The Beck Brothers, two real soul winners, were with us from first to last and stayed over a few days after I was compelled to leave for the Kentucky Conference, and saw a number blessed at the altar. They are men full of holy zeal and love for souls. They have held many tent meetings in Southern Kentucky and seen a multitude converted and sanctified. They are much beloved by the people among whom they labor, and were invaluable during the whole campaign of this camp.

We are indebted to Dr. T. L. Hulse, the beloved pastor of the Methodist Church in Glasgow, four miles from the camp ground. The Board gave him a few days' vacation and he and his people were with us in large numbers. Dr. Hulse called in his Sunday services both Sundays of the camp, and one afternoon gave us a great message. He is one of the ablest preachers and most beloved pastors in the Louisville Conference, a man of great wisdom with a strong gospel message.

Major Keen, who has been conductor on the L. & N. Railroad between Louisville and Nashville for something more than forty years, a highly educated man, graduate of law, a student of history and a man well versed in present conditions, socially, economically, and religiously, and by the way, a real orator, made an address to the people

(Continued on page 8)

KINGDOM OF GOD NOTES AND TIDINGS FROM CHINA.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

The Prophet Isaiah cried out (Chap. 21:11), "Watchman, what of the night? The Watchman said, The morning cometh." The age is full of signs; many devout people say signs of the near approach of the second coming! The whole world is sick. Isaiah 1:6, may be written by the nations of today. As we look towards the Orient things politically are seething—Gandhi in India, Civil War in China, etc., etc., but praise God, in the midst of it all the Kingdom of God is making headway among the teeming millions of China, India, Japan, etc. I rejoice in what Kagawa is doing for the kingdom in Japan, and for Nakada of the O. M. S., and Paget Wilkes of the J. E. B. But this article is going to be taken up largely with kingdom affairs in China, though this article is written in South America.

II.

China! What a land of immensities and multitudes! Over 400 millions! When I think of China I put in the center of things that wonderful woman, DR. MARY STONE, Chinese Doctor, Preacher, Evangelist, Christian Leader; and when I think of her I think of BETHEL, Shanghai, China, and that great Missionary Evangelist, Preacher, Teacher and Executive, MISS JENNIE V. HUGHES. These two women have set movements at work which have touched all China, and their evangelistic vision and fire have sent out evangelistic bands of fire-baptized Chinese workers which have started revivals in many parts.

One of my most consecrated, able interpreters in China was Andrew Gih, of Bethel. What wonderful times we have had in many parts of China—Shanghai, Ningpo, Nanking, and in Nanchang, Canton, Foochow, Fukien Province with Brother Cole, the Methodist missionary. I was speaking daily at the Nanking Theological Seminary. Andrew was my interpreter every morning. God poured the messages through my soul, and though Andrew never attended a Theological school, yet so wonderful was his interpretation that one of the professors said: "It was nearest the gift of tongues of anything he had ever heard." Andrew got saved and sanctified and trained at Bethel and is one of China's foremost evangelists. He is a powerful preacher and a great soul winner. Andrew and his Evangelistic Band from Bethel are holding revival meetings in various parts of China. I received a letter from him some time ago written from Tsinan, Shantung, North China, telling me about his Evangelistic Band consisting of Frank Lin, Lincoln S. Nich, Philip Y. Lee, and himself, Andrew Gih. In this letter he says:

"We received a very definite call from God to do national revival work. I believe this is the time that God will pour out his Spirit upon Chinese, a great revival which will sweep all over China and make her a new nation. May the Lord use us to hasten his Kingdom in China, and give us a share in the coming revival.

"We started out to the North on Feb. 21, and have travelled about 10,000 li (3 li makes an English mile,) held 138 meetings. Thousands have heard the gospel messages in its fullness of blessing and power, and hundreds have been saved, sanctified, or reclaimed. We do praise the Lord that he is using us in a very wonderful way to revive his works in China. Not only the Lord has been giving us revival after revival, but also has taught us how to let the people themselves carry on the revival fire, and spread it out to others. We start four things everywhere we go as the follow-up work, namely, 1. Watchtower. 2. Voluntary evangelistic band. 3. Family altars, and 4. Bible class. At the request of a pastor of the Mennonite Church where we held a series of meetings, I wrote four tracts on how to organize and to follow up work of revival. We have, by his grace, started watch-towers in seven different churches. There are 1,132 people to pray every

HUDSON TAYLOR AND CHINA.

"To me remains nor place nor time,
My country is in every clime;
I can be calm and free from care
On any shore, since God is there.
* * * * *

"Leave to His sovereign sway
To choose and to command;
So shalt thou wondering own His way,
How wise, how strong His hand."
* * * * *

"His whole life was literally a life of prayer and his whole ministry a series of battles fought at the mercy seat." Said of J. Hudson Taylor.
* * * * *

"He cannot have taught us to trust in His Name,
And thus far have brought us to put us to shame;
Each sweet Ebenezer we have in review,
Confirm His good pleasure to help us right through."
* * * * *

"We came out as God's children at God's command to do God's work depending on Him for supplies."
* * * * *

"If the Lord sends money for three or four, three or four will go; but if he provides for sixteen, we take it as his indication that sixteen are to sail at this time."

week in the watch-towers, and 875 voluntary evangelists going out every week to preach the gospel to the outsiders; 681 families have either started the altars, or will start them in the very near future. As for the Bible classes, many churches have already had them, so we do not ask to start. If all of us will be faithful, who can keep the revival from breaking out? I am sure the Lord will be pleased to give China a great revival, and I have heard the sound of much rain. Hallelujah!

"We started out in faith believing that the Lord would provide all the means necessary for this trip. Praise the Lord that he has done it for us. Many doors have been opened for us. We planned to spend March and April in Hopei and Shantung provinces, and May and June in Manchuria; but we are not able to go to Manchuria this half year, for we have promised to hold meetings in Shantung till the middle of June. Of course we have to go back to take part in the Bible Conference in July in our own place, Shanghai."

III.

Miss Hughes writing of this Evangelistic Band, says: "God is mightily using these four men, demonstrating that the day has come in China when sanctified, Spirit-filled Chinese can do as great and greater work than the missionary among their own people. Late last night we received a telegram from Tenghsien, Shantung, where they are now working, which read, 'Pentecost repeated.' That city was the hardest thing they had to tackle, for it is the city of the Theological Seminary, and the President had written me, when he knew the Band had been invited to their city, that he was very fearful of any 'sensationalism.' God has evidently taken things in his own hand. The boys wrote me that they wanted our special prayers. They knew that was the hardest battle on their program this spring."

Andrew, writing of the precious revival had in one city, said:

"The victory is great, the work is thorough, and this brings us back to the days of the apostles. Praise the Lord! My heart is too full; I don't know what to write first. I think I shall let the people themselves speak to you.

"Here comes Mr. Chang who is a Shantung University graduate, full of modernistic ideas, and a backslider. He confessed his hatred to the missionaries and testified in church, saying:

"I was dead in sins and only some dry bones were left. Now the Lord has put flesh on and given me life. I praise the Lord for he has saved my soul. I shall be faithful to him from now on. May the Lord keep me true!"

"When he was through his face was beaming with Heaven's light and joy. When he was kneeling down at the altar crying for God's mercy, we could not but praise the Lord, for it was the Lord Almighty who made him so. We as base things of the world, cannot do anything like this save trust in his power. All glory is his! Let us give three Hallelujahs to him for the Lord is great and ought to be greatly praised!

"Here is another college graduate, Principal of the High School here, testifying:

"I was not the dry bones, but just dead enough to spread a bad smell, still worse than the dry bones. But the Lord has healed me of six different kinds of spiritual disease, and saved my soul. I have been in the church for a very long time, yet could not say I was born again. This time the Lord made it so clear to me through their preaching, and so I can testify and praise the Lord."

"The Lord was with us from the first day when we started the meetings. The meetings grew day after day until the large church was packed with people eager to hear the Gospel. Six to seven hundred people were present at the meetings. The Holy Spirit was working in the hearts that they were so eager to attend the meetings. Nothing could hinder their coming. For instance, one old lady, over sixty years of age, walked 100 li to attend the meetings.

"Praise the Lord for the souls who were saved, sanctified and reclaimed! When the call was given people just flocked to the altar. Praise the Lord."

IV.

The Bethel Summer School at Shanghai was held July 4-14, and one of the chief speakers was Dr. John Sung. This man is one of the most extraordinary men I met when in China; he was in my audience one night at Hinghwa, he was dressed like an ordinary coolie. I never would have thought he was a Ph.D. of one of our U. S. A. universities if some one had not told me. He has given up everything for the gospel and for souls. Going through our American schools he lost his faith and though he excelled in learning he was not happy; he went to one of the big Union Seminaries after completing his Ph.D. work and there in the midst of the most appalling Modernism he cried and prayed and struggled through to God and he had an experience something like Saul of Tarsus and Sundar Singh of India.

V.

At a time when both Dr. Mary Stone and Miss Hughes might well lighten up on their work and responsibility we find them taking on more (they know nothing of a furlough). This year they have added to their work by establishing a "Chihli Bethel" up in Chihli Province, North China. It is proposed to have an orphanage there, a hospital, a Bible School and headquarters for evangelism in that section of China.

This is a great work and undertaking and Dr. Stone and Miss Hughes will need the prayers and support of the people of God in this new venture for the Kingdom. It would be well if some who read this will send a message of hope and prayer and encouragement to Bethel Post Office, Box 533, Shanghai, China.

God Needed.

When I was a boy away in the mountains of Pennsylvania, I knew an old infidel who was eager to argue against the existence of a God. That is what infidelity hates, the existence of a God. A young preacher, against the warning of the friends as to his abuses and his obscenities, resolved to see that blatant scoffer, and confront him with the truth of God.

The skeptic was soon vociferating against the idea of there being a God. He was sitting in his saw-mill, just over the lever that lifts as the saw leaves the log, and while denouncing the doctrine of a Deity, the lever sprang, catching him under the heels, and flung him backward, and downward, headlong into the stream!

As he plunged, however, he shrieked out as loud as he could yell, "GOD HAVE MERCY!"

The preacher ran around, waded into the water and drew the struggling man ashore. Said the pastor:

"I thought that you did not believe in a God."

As soon as the infidel stopped strangling, he said, in a subdued voice:

"Well, if there is no God, there ought to be, to help a man when he can't help himself."—Vanguard.

looks cross-eyed at us and we go into a fit of weeping about it. Or, we deposit with God our children, or husband on the battle-front. Then we cry and pray and remind him over and over about our treasures. Oh, that we might cast all our care upon him for he careth for us. Precious soul, "all things are possible to him that believeth." Do you hear this? That means if you can only stop worrying and believe God; if you are over-burdened with cares, just add one more "s" and make it spell caress; if you have had many disappointments, believe God and he will hand you an "h" so as to make it spell His appointment. Man's extremity is God's opportunity. "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding. In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths."

Second. There remaineth a rest from hurry. Oh, the multitudes of people who have gotten out of Divine order and marred God's plan because they got in a hurry. Lots of good people are going to Heaven but they are going on a mixed train, or, perhaps a freight, when they ought to be on the limited. Why? Because back there they took things in their own hands and got in a hurry. They fell in love with the wrong boy or girl, then hastily married, and ever since they have been more or less mismated. No wonder their children are so irritable and unlovely. Please do not blame them for the poor little things are the victims of two dispositions that should never have been united. What shall you do about it? Blame each other? No! No! Separate or get a divorce? Never! Never! Do not let these thoughts get within a thousand miles of you. Never even intimate such a thing, but rather resort to more prayer, and see if God will not yet work a miracle and bless and save your household.

Look at faithful Father Abraham for a moment. We must not reflect upon him or any other of the "worthies," but, yet wherein they were unexemplary we should take a lesson and be warned. On the other hand, wherein they obeyed fully, we should be inspired. God had promised him that his seed should be as the seashore for multitude, but now he and Sara were well stricken in years and instead of believing God and letting him work a miracle they got in a hurry. At Sara's request, young Hagar, her maid, was given to Abraham, as a result Ishmael came upon the scene. Way down the line we see as a consequence Palestine and other countries cursed with over two hundred million Arabs and Mohammedans. Why? Because one good man got in a hurry and marred God's original plan.

Again, people get out of Divine order by quitting one church and joining another at the wrong time and in the wrong way. There may come a time when it is the proper thing to change relations, but never, never, never, when one is agitated or in a hurry. Wait until you cool off, and then, in a deliberate mood come to a decision in such a manner as to convince all that you showed the right spirit. I dare say I am writing to those right now who have hurt your own influence and driven others from you because of a hasty conversation over the phone, or the answering of an unkind letter in a hurry. You give the other party as you say, a "piece of your mind," but you gave away too much and lost the "peace of God" out of your heart.

Some thirty years ago I started a little paper called the "Repairer." It was not long until I received letters of appreciation and depreciation, whereupon, I entered into a covenant with God that by his grace I would never answer an unkind letter inside of ten days, and if I could possibly hold out, make it thirty days. My! how some of those unkind letters did burn and frizz and fry until you could almost smell human flesh. But by holding still I generally received another letter inside of thirty days saying, "Please forgive me for the way I wrote you. I did it on the spur of the moment and I am sorry." As a result, I saved one or more two cent stamps, I saved the confidence of my brethren, I saved a lot of valuable time, and I saved a good, warm feeling in my own heart.

Lastly: Rest from the strife of tongues. It is wonderful to have this deep abiding rest in the midst of slander. John Wesley testified and said, "I make no account of any pursuit or any pleasure that does not bring me closer to God, and I shrink from no hardship or misunderstanding if thereby I may be completely weaned from the things of time and sense, and united to God." Oh, what a statement! How few of us are able to do likewise. A greater than Wesley said, "With me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you or of man's judgment: Yea, I judge not mine own self." Paul had grown in grace to such an extent that with him it was a very small thing whether people praised or censured him. Friends, if you would have this undisturbed rest, you must die out so completely to the fickleness of friends and foes, that nothing ever disturbs you. Benjamin Pomeroy, an old-time preacher, said, "I can afford to keep still and answer never a word when contradicted or misunderstood, for, I will have all Eternity to prove my position."

Oh, precious readers, if there could be such a thing as sadness in Heaven, do you know what would make me sad? It is this. After I had been in Heaven a thousand years, if an angel should come to me and show me God's original plan, should show me a blueprint revealing what I might have been and might have accomplished while upon earth, had I been fully saved from worry, hurry, and expressing myself to quickly and freely. But, says the angel, "God could not work out his first plan in your life. You were not quiet and pliable under all circumstances. You were hasty in your decisions. You would not believe and practice that Scripture where it says, 'He that believeth shall not make haste.'" True, God graciously forgave and overruled in many things. You finally reached Heaven and brought a number with you, but during the same length of time you have been here, a number of souls have missed Heaven and are now in Hell for all Eternity, who might have been saved, had you been more exemplary. Oh! friends, I say again, if there could be such a thing as sadness in Heaven, it seems to me I would then and there fall down before that angel and ask him and high Heaven to let me go back to earth and live my life over, so that I could fully work out God's original desire in my life.

Lord, teach us some of these valuable secrets! These things that seem like Greek and Latin to the unspiritual! Let us be so possessed with the mind of Christ that we will in a measure at least reproduce his life again upon earth, so that we may be able to say with the Apostle, "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain." Grant that we may be so dispossessed of the self-life and so filled with Divinity, that like the honey bee we can get sweetness and honey out of the same flower from which the spider gets poison. Let us be able through grace to get light out of darkness, sweetness out of bitter; rule over others by letting them rule over us; get our own way by giving up our own rights; grow eternally tall by sitting on a low bench; ouwit the devil in his own game so that in the end he is ashamed that he ever had anything to do with us. Although he intended our downfall, let us be profited by all his attacks, so that in the end we are more capable of bringing glory to God and good to the children of men than had we never experienced the sting of sin and the battles of human life.

"O come and dwell in me,
Spirit of power within;
And bring the glorious liberty
From sorrow, fear, and sin.

"I want the witness, Lord,
That all I do is right;

According to thy will and word
Well pleasing in thy sight.

"I ask no higher state,
Indulge me but in this;
And soon or later then translate
To my eternal bliss."

—Charles Wesley.

SECOND BLESSING.

C. V. FAIRBAIRN.

So accustomed is our race to unholliness, carnality and sin, that though God very specifically commands us to be holy and offers us a sufficiency of grace to meet his demands, people far and wide ask with the learned Nicodemus, "How can these things be?" Some, however, do more than merely ask; failing to see (for the unspiritual man perceiveth not the things of the Spirit of God;) how such an experience is possible, they oppose the teaching and profession of attainment of holiness very strenuously. It is our purpose in this article to notice briefly some of their objections.

(1). It is not possible at all. So far as human self-help is concerned, this is true. But our help is laid upon One-that-is-mighty; our Creator God is he who undertakes the task of sanctifying men. 1 Thess. 5:23. And "faithful is he who calleth you, who also will do it."

(2). It cannot be done in this life. Not by any process of self-help, we reply. But it is undertaken by our mighty God; and "the grace of God which bringeth salvation hath appeared unto all men (aged men, aged women, young men, young women, servants and all) teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly desires, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world." No change of climate is necessary to work this cure.

(3). O, this is some new doctrine. O, no! "He hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." This is Perfect Love.

(4). It was for the disciples only. This is a very old objection. but "the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared unto all men, teaching—" It is to all men. "For the promise is to all them that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." "Neither pray I for these alone," said Jesus, "but for all them also that shall believe on me through their word." Enough!

(5). But there is none righteous. How about Brother Abel, (Heb. 11:4)? and Zechariah and Elizabeth, (Luke 1:6)? and dear old Simeon (Luke 2:25)? and Noah, (Heb. 11:7)? Better turn to Romans 3 and see who God was talking about when he made the statement.

(6). But there is none perfect. Paul said he was not perfect. The first is a crude attempt at quoting that verse from Romans 3. But to meet this squarely! God says Noah was perfect. Genesis 6:9. And Job also. Job 2:3. Was God mistaken? Was Satan able to disprove God's evidence concerning Job? Did the Lord dispute Hezekiah's prayer-testimony regarding the perfection of his heart's motive? 2 Kings 20:3. Nay, his answer of mercy confirmed it. Paul in his letter to the Philippians refers to the full perfection only attained in glorification at the resurrection. See Phil. 3:8-10. Be honest; look that up. Then he says, "Not as though I had already attained (unto this perfection of glorification), either were already (thus) perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which I also am apprehended by Christ Jesus. . . . Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded." True holiness preachers do not preach glorification to all of us, there would be no argument. Our friends, the "wets," should keep in mind that there is not agreement as to the facts, hence the argument continues. And we, the "drys," do well to remember that there are hosts of honest people who believe that all the ills mentioned, and more, have come of prohibition. The facts must be given to these people—facts patiently and persistently set forth.

(Continued on page 9)

SOME FACTS IN THE CASE. (Continued from page 3)

For instance, the crime wave and racketeering are definitely associated with prohibition—at least in the minds of many people—and not all these people are friends of the liquor traffic. Incidentally, and yet to be kept in mind, the crime wave of recent years has been moving over Europe as well as over America. The causes we do not attempt to set forth; these are known to all who are in any measure familiar with world conditions or are students of history. It is true that these years of the trial of prohibition in our country have been difficult years.

In regard to the racketeer, one of the "dripping wet" periodicals of the country said only recently: "The damning feature associated with Volsteadism is the very definite fact, admitted by everybody, that it has brought us the gangster." Over against this statement is that of Hon. William D. Mitchell, Attorney-General of the United States: "The assertion has been made that the principal source of gang power is the profit derived from the illegal liquor traffic, and that the elimination, by some means, of this source of revenue would put an end to criminal gangs and racketeering. In the recent income tax prosecutions against a number of these organized gangsters it was developed that, on an average, not over twenty per cent of their revenue came from the liquor traffic, and this has been diminishing; and if this be an indication of general conditions, the removal of the illicit liquor traffic as a source of revenue would not end gangsterism and racketeering."

Another point to be noted is the increase in deaths from alcoholism. The average in the United States in 1916 was 5.8 per 100,000 population. We have read recently that the average for 1929 was 3.7. However, the latest available figures at hand are for 1928. The average for that year was 4.0 per 100,000. Twenty-one States report their alcoholism death rate each year of the period from 1916 through 1928, and only four of these have a higher percentage for 1928 than for 1916. The heaviest percentages for 1928 are reported by Connecticut, Delaware, Maryland, Massachusetts, New York, and Rhode Island, and they range from 5.5 to 11.0 per 100,000. Idaho, Kansas, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Utah each had fewer than two alcoholic deaths per 100,000 population for 1928. List these two groups of States on the basis of years of trial of prohibition, also on the basis of effectiveness of enforcement. To present all the facts, the alcoholic death rate was higher in 1929 than for each of the first several years of national prohibition. But the average is certainly lower than during the days when there was pure liquor.

Another result of our national prohibition policy, so we are told by those who are advocating repeal or modification, is the alarming increase in juvenile delinquency and the growth of the drink habit among high school students. The Children's Bureau of the Department of Labor at Washington gives some facts that are an answer to the statements of the advocates of repeal, statements that have been accepted by many who are not enemies of prohibition. In a report issued by this government bureau it is stated that within recent years there has been a gratifying decrease in the number of children passing through the juvenile courts of the cities.

Some of the decreases are: Buffalo, 30 per cent; New York, 33 per cent; Chicago, 41 per cent; New Orleans, 55 per cent; Boston, 60 per cent.

At the request of the Law Enforcement Commission the Secretary of the National Education Association undertook a thorough survey of the high schools of the United States. His report says: "Conditions in the high schools are much better than in 1920, with respect both to drinking and to general behavior. This is doubly significant in view of the fact that high school enrollment has grown since 1920 from two million to more than five million students—an achievement unparalleled in any country in all history. Unquestionably the Eighteenth Amendment has benefited the schools beyond measure."

These are facts the public should have, answering, as they do, some of the reckless statements that have been accepted as true by the public generally.—J. S. C.—Christian Advocate.

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of drys do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

President Curran, of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, recently stated:

"It seems certain that a majority of the people is ready to vote to repeal prohibition."

But—43 of the 48 state legislatures met during 1931: 32 repeal measures were introduced; all were defeated! Perhaps Major Curran is mistaken.—National W. C. T. U. Release, May 18, 1931.

I THANK MY GOD.

BY H. H. SMITH.

thank my God," "We are bound to thank God," and "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ," are Paul's favorite expressions of thanksgiving in writing to the churches he founded. It is an interesting and helpful study to go through Paul's letters and note the things concerning his converts for which he was deeply grateful.

To the Christians at Rome he wrote: "First, I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world." Paul was a Christian strategist and knew the importance of planting the Gospel in the populous centers. That Christianity should have taken root in the imperial City—so hostile to such a spiritual religion as Christianity—was enough to move the apostle to profound thanksgiving.

When Paul wrote to the Church at Corinth he gave thanks for the grace of God which had been given them in Jesus Christ, and for the spiritual enrichment Christianity had brought to their lives. What Christianity did for the Corinthians can be appreciated only when we remember how notoriously wicked was the city of Corinth in Paul's day. It has been said that we should have to combine all the vice and sin of the worst cities of the world today to equal the evils of Corinth at that day. Bearing in mind what the Gospel had accomplished in the wicked metropolis, no wonder Paul rapturously cried out:

"Thanks be unto God for his unspeakable gift!"

Turning to the Church at Ephesus, Paul exultantly praised God who "hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly places in Christ;" and "hath chosen us in him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before him in love." And he adds that this high calling of God in Christ brings us into the family of God and we become his children. To bring such pagans out of darkness into the marvelous light of the Gospel of Christ and see them transformed by the mighty power of Christ is enough to make one exultantly praise God.

His beloved Philippians—the only Church for which he seems to have had no word of rebuke—moved him to write: "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, . . . for your fellowship in the Gospel from the first day until now; being confident of this very thing, that he who hath begun a good work in you will perfect it unto the day of Jesus Christ." In the secret of a happy Christian life, which Paul gives the Philippians, thanksgiving finds a place. Briefly it is this: Worry about nothing; pray about everything; in everything give thanks.

To the Colossians Paul writes: "We give thanks to God, the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you, since we heard of your faith in Jesus Christ, and of the love which ye have to all saints, for the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the Gospel." Their love for the brethren was proof enough that their profession was genuine, for the Master had said: "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another."

Paul thanked God for "the work of faith and labor of love, and patience of hope" among the Thessalonian Christians, who "received the word of God not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh in you that believe." And he rejoiced that the Gospel "came not unto them in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance." That the report of their conversion was widespread, was also occasion for thanksgiving. "From you sounded out the word of the Lord, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread forth." In his second letter to this Church Paul says: "We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth; so that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure."

No wonder that Paul was continually sounding forth praise and thanksgiving to God. He saw a world lying in wickedness, without hope and without God,—but he saw more. He saw the Gospel of Christ prove to be the power of God unto salvation, and from the darkness of heathenism there came forth a church composed of sincere followers of the Lord, growing in grace and becoming more and more Christlike in character. As we survey the Church of God today, what are its achievements that move us to give thanks to God?

Dr. Ridout's Itinerary in South America.

When work finished in Argentina, will go to Brazil. Address care Rev. W. G. Borchers, Rua Jose de Alencar 176, Campinas, Sao Paulo, Brazil, South America.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

SYCHAR NOTES. Calvin R. Poulson.

"Glorious things are spoken of thee O Zion, city of our God," is the language of one who spake as God's messenger in describing the city where God's people met annually for worship in their feasts. The language of the prophet would be well suited to the place called Camp Sychar where multitudes gather each year for their Feast of Tabernacles. This historic spot located in the center of Ohio is so familiar to most of The Pentecostal Herald family that we need not occupy space in giving any detailed description of its beauty or physical equipment. We only pause to say that God and man have wrought together to make this camp ideal in every respect.

When one witnesses the faith manifest by Sychar's board of management, led by the saintly president, we think of Gideon's army. As we sit in the great congregations and are caught up by the spirit of the services we think of John's vision on the Isle of Patmos. To be permitted to sit under the preaching of Dr. Turbeville, Paul Reese and Tony Anderson is something that is so far beyond anything the children of Israel enjoyed in the Canaan land that we wonder that these things are even compared to the Canaan life.

The privilege of associating with the saintly men and women who gather and camp on these sacred grounds, gives one some idea of what it will be when we walk on the streets of glory and eat of the tree of Life which is in the midst of the Paradise of God. Then Sychar's flowing well seems prophetic of the "pure river of the water of life" which John saw flowing out from the throne of God.

From the opening to the closing of the camp God's smile seemed to rest upon everything that in any way was related to the success of the camp. In face of depression the finances were well taken care of. The work done in this camp among the children and young people is somewhat unique. With a separate tabernacle for the young people and a special building for the children and workers of many years' experience for each group larger and more satisfactory work is done than could be accomplished under most conditions. To have the privilege of sitting under the ministry of Miss McGhie, Miss Gorsuch or Mrs. Oberholzer was one that brought enrichment to the young people and children of our best people; and to the ones who had wandered away there came the call of the Good Shepherd speaking through his handmaidens for the wandering sheep to return to the fold. Many times at the close of these services the altars were filled with penitent souls and the atmosphere of prayer that so completely pervades the entire camp makes it comparatively easy for struggling hearts to be delivered from the power of the evil one.

People came from many states; some from California and Washington, some from New Jersey and other distant places. Many are now preparing for next year's camp. May God himself be merciful and help us all to be at our best as we toil in the highways and byways of the Master's vineyard during the days that are so full of glorious opportunity for witnessing and laboring for him.

LOOKOUT CAMP MEETING.

The Mount Lookout Camp Meeting Association at Lima, Ohio, closed a successful campaign August 31. This year's camp meeting makes 34 years of campaigning for the Lord. The present campaign has been one of the best in the history of Mt. Lookout.

The Evangelist, Rev. F. Lincicome, of Gary, Ind., is a preacher of note. His preaching is never negative or destructive, but positive and constructive. With Bro. Lincicome were his daughter and son-in-law, Prof. and Mrs. L. J. Phillips, of 412 Jefferson St., Gary, Ind. Their singing and playing blessed the hearts of hundreds of people. We gladly recommend Bro. Lincicome as a passionate, soul-winning preacher, and the Phillips' as sweet singers in Israel to any church or camp meeting who are looking for the best workers.

Rev. Ray C. Dotson, Pres., Otway, O.

CENTERTOWN, KENTUCKY.

On August 30 we had a great meeting at old Equality Church on the Centertown charge. Mr. H. L. Barnes, charge lay leader, J. C. Jackson, district lay leader, and his associate, H. K. Kirtley, came to us for a Layman's Day. We had a wonderful time. Rev. W. E. Sutherland, of Livermore, gave a fine address to the Sunday school. Rev. W. S. Hill from Allensville, preached at the eleven o'clock hour on Church Loyalty. It was a wonderful message. Then Brother H. K. Kirtley, of Island, took up the morning offering. The people were behind with the pastor's and presiding elder's salary and had not paid the yearly assessment for some years, but they went over the top with a boom this year. Lunch was served on the grounds to the largest crowd that has been there for years, some of the folks said.

At 1:30 o'clock the people were called together with a song and then Rev. Roy Short of Greenville, delivered a sermon. It was a great sermon and it stirred the hearts of the people until loud amens were heard all over the house. The Central City Quartet sang some fine selections for us that were greatly enjoyed. After many handshakes and expressions of a fine day Brother J. C. Jackson, our very efficient district lay leader who presided throughout the day, asked Rev. W. E. Sutherland to pronounce the benediction. All parted with good wishes to the host, H. L. Barnes, charge lay leader, who played a large part in making the day a success. Pray for us, that we may do the Lord's will. E. C. Whitworth, Pastor.

OAKLAND CITY CAMP.

The Thirty-Sixth Annual Camp of the Southern Indiana Holiness Association closed in a blaze of divine glory, August 30. Rev. Holland London, of Kansas City, Mo., Rev. Macklam, of Canton, Ohio, were the evangelists, and Prof. Kenneth and Eunice Wells were the leaders in song. This was the seventh time for Prof. and Mrs. Wells at this camp; how they sang and how the folks were lifted by it. Rev. London also was here for the second time. Rev. Macklam found it necessary to leave before the camp was over, but a good substitute was procured in the personage of Dr. Wm. Heslop, of Olivet College.

Oakland City and vicinity will not soon forget Dr. Heslop. He can take the whole Bible and boil it down and give it out at every service and never cross the same trail twice.

Misses Mary Frances Emerson and Etta Greek had charge of children's services and a number of the children prayed through to definite victory.

In many respects this was the best camp in recent years; every one seemed to be in fellowship with one another, and in spite of the fact that many denominations were represented, there was at all times the beautiful spirit of fellowship and co-operation that are necessary to make a good camp. The workers were well paid and finances came comparatively easy, considering the financial situation. Pledges were taken for the 1932 camp, and everyone is looking forward to another feast of good things at Oakland City Camp in 1932.

CHICAGO CENTRAL DISTRICT ASSEMBLY.

The Chicago Central District held its twenty-seventh annual assembly August 26-30 at the First Church of the Nazarene, Danville, Ill. Pastor W. S. Purinton and his good church entertained us with royal hospitality and the city of Danville showed us every courtesy. The president of the ministerial association brought cordial greetings, two of the city florists sent beautiful floral decorations, the local press carried long front page articles of assembly news daily, and pastors of the city invited our preachers to occupy their pulpits on Sunday morning.

General Superintendent Dr. H. F. Reynolds, the "grand old man" of Nazareneism, was the presiding officer. Dr. Reynolds, glorious in holiness and youthful in old age, preached twice during the assembly, spoke on vital themes each morning at eight o'clock, and dispatched the business of the assembly by Saturday noon.

The report of District Superintendent Rev. E. O. Chalfant, who has served the district so acceptably and with outstanding success for the past nine years, showed marked increase in the various departments of the work. The past year showed an increase of seven hundred in church membership, nearly twenty-five per cent increase in N. Y. P. S. members, and a net gain of thirteen hundred in the Sunday school. The high esteem in which the district holds Brother Chalfant was shown by his unanimous election for the tenth year.

Other district officers re-elected were Rev. H. B. Garvin, Secretary; Rev. Lawrence H. Howe, Treasurer; Rev. Jesse Brown, N. Y. P. S. President; and Rev. W. S. Purinton, Chairman of the District Church School Board. These brethren have rendered efficient service. Mrs. R. E. Howe, who has done splendid work as President of the W. F. M. S. for the past six years, requested to be released because of home duties and Mrs. T. B. Jensen was elected to take her place. The reports of pastors and evangelists showed labor and heroism in fulfilling our common task of spreading and conserving Scriptural holiness.

Twelve elders and twelve laymen were elected delegates to the General Assembly, and a class of four were ordained to the ministry. A splendid educational rally was conducted by Rev. T. W. Willingham, President of Olivet College. Chicago Central District stands foursquare for all the interests of the church.

The report of the committee on memoirs revealed that during the past year death had claimed one of the strong men of the district and the church, Rev. F. M. Messenger. Dr. Reynolds stopped all the wheels of business and the entire assembly stood with bowed heads while the district superintendent led in fervent prayer in honor to the memory of this great and good man.

Visitors were present from a dozen or more states. Among them were Rev. E. J. Fleming, Rev. D. Shelby Corlett, Mr. P. H. Lunn, Rev. J. W. Short, Rev. C. A. Gibson, Rev. C. J. Quinn, Rev. J. W. Montgomery, Rev. Clive E. Williams, Prof. John E. Moore, Miss Eva Carpenter, and many others whose names are in the book of life.

A fine evangelistic spirit pervaded the entire assembly. The report of the committee on revivals, stressing the importance of evangelism and urging that our evangelists be kept on the field, was adopted without a dissenting vote. The night preaching was done by Dr. Reynolds, Rev. D. Shelby Corlett, Miss Eva Carpenter, Rev. Stella B. Crooks, and Rev.

T. W. Willingham. Splendid service in song was rendered by Prof. John E. Moore, Prof. Adolphe Grose, Rev. and Mrs. T. T. Liddell, Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Small, Rev. and Mrs. Peter Wolpe, the Johnston Sisters, Miss Helen Peters, Kirby and Juanita Fields, and others. A fitting climax was reached Sunday night when, following an able sermon by Rev. T. W. Willingham, about thirty people prayed through at the altar. P. P. Belew, Reporter.

PINE CREEK CAMP.

My last meeting was at Pine Creek Camp, near Bassett, Nebraska. The other workers were Rev. O. P. Bottom, of Clinton, Nebr., Mrs. Robert Lembrich, of Hay Springs, Nebr., and Mrs. Blanche Bloedorn, of Norfolk, Neb. This was my second engagement at this camp, but my first association with these workers. Our fellowship was fine and the camp was great. The long altar was filled with seekers time and again, and it became necessary to build another and larger altar in order to accommodate the seekers. Glory be to God!

I leave again for the field this week. Am making up my slate for fall and winter meetings, and am expecting the biggest, best days of my life. Those desiring my services may write or wire me at my home address, Olivet, Ill. Pray for me.

P. P. Belew, Evangelist.

CALLIS GROVE CAMP MEETING.

The Callis Grove Holiness Camp began July 31 and closed August 9, Rev. J. R. Parker, preacher in charge. The camp started with a fine spirit and a large crowd which increased until the Tabernacle could not hold them. We had real salvation; quite a number saved and sanctified and the Christian people built up in their experience. Bro. Parker is one of the safest evangelists in the field today. He has fine pulpit manners, has the courage of his convictions, uses no trap methods, has exceedingly good judgment and preaches with great power. He has no hobbies and is as clear as a bell on the second work of grace. I have been one of the promoters of this camp for twenty-two years and have been on the committee to employ the workers for fifteen years, and I will say that Bro. Parker is second to none. To the pastors and camp meeting committees I heartily recommend him to you. If you call him you will never regret it.

Yours in His service,

I. H. Driskell.

THE OLD TIME RELIGION IN AN OLD-FASHIONED REVIVAL.

Rev. W. E. Thomas, general evangelist, M. E. Church, South, Nashville, Tenn., assisted Rev. F. E. Lewis, pastor St. Luke's Methodist Church, Camp Taylor, Ky., in a four weeks' tent meeting, July 26-August 23, on the new church lot. Rev. C. C. Jones, pastor of Highland Park M. E. Church, led the music. Although the meeting began before we expected it to and was not advertised, we had large crowds from the beginning. This was the most successful revival in the history of our church and the first revival I have attended in many years where God's Holy Spirit was so powerful. We had the joy of seeing sinners go to the mourner's bench, get saved and then go right back after others. I am sure that the day of revivals is not over and that people are still hungry for the old-time religion.

We cannot commend Bro. Thomas too highly for his powerful messages, his forceful delivery, his charming personality, and his ability to get hold of God in prayer. We appreciate the beautiful spirit of co-operation of Brother Jones and wife, also many of their members, who attended the services in large numbers. We believe the combined efforts of these servants of God, the prayers of the Christians, and the tireless efforts of our own dear pastor, have brought down from Heaven a spiritual blessing, not only to our own church, but to the whole community, and the influence for good will continue to grow. Our church membership has increased about twenty per cent and with an enlarged vision of Kingdom service we are now ready to go forward in the building of a new church.

Mrs. W. E. Jones.

Is There a Question

in your mind about baptism, and especially infant baptism? If so, settle it by reading "Baptism, Its Mode, Subjects and Design," by Means. We have handled several books on this subject, but this is quite the most convincing one. So many people argue against infant baptism and many times one isn't sufficiently informed to meet these arguments. This book is just running over with scriptural information on the subject of Baptism, and you will be proud to own one. Published to sell at 50c; our special price 30c; or 4 copies for $1.00. Order of Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt. Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                                      |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.        |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Minglehoff, D.D.          |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simon-son, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.          |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.           | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.              |
| Rev. I. M. Harzert, D.D.          | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                     |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.                |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.                |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         |                                      |
| Commissioner S. L. Brangie, D. D. |                                      |

(Continued from page 1)

one Sunday afternoon. He is an old acquaintance and friend of mine, and we have often had delightful fellowship on his train. He gave a great message to a vast audience.

E. C. Milby led the singing. He is a most delightful brother, an earnest Christian, an excellent choir leader and, as far as I am capable of judging, without any sort of objection as an able camp meeting worker, both as song leader and with seekers at the altar. I commend him to the brethren needing an efficient man for his field of service.

Miss Yowell, for many years teacher in the Conservatory of Cincinnati, Ohio, volunteered her services and proved to be an excellent pianist, a devout and earnest Christian. We find her equipped both in talent and spirit for high grade work in any of those schools and colleges that emphasize spiritual life.

We had visitors from Alabama, Tennessee, Illinois, and a number of county seats in the state. We could not have desired better order; we believe we are at the beginning of great things at this camp. One thing which gave me real comfort was the fact that I found a number of the most substantial citizens and devout Christians of the neighborhood, were people converted under an old tent at the beginning of these meetings thirty-two years ago. A number of the very best men in the Methodist Church near the camp ground were converted in that tent and have stood faithful and true through the years.

The kind people round about brought us abundant supplies of chickens, roasting ears, beans, tomatoes, watermelons, peaches and apples. Many times the table set for our workers, wife and myself, with a few visitors, was laden almost entirely with the kind gifts of the people. They were especially generous in bringing excellent milk, so we did not have to buy scarcely any milk or vegetables during the camp. We are more grateful for these kindnesses than words can express.

WILMORE CAMP MEETING.

I have been on the go day and night since the close of the camp at Wilmore; thought perhaps our secretary would write something of the meetings at that place. We had a very gracious meeting. Brother Gaddis was our principal preacher, this writer preached frequently, and a number of our Kentucky Conference pastors gave us excellent messages. Brother Virgil Moore, presiding elder of the Lexington District, brought us a message, and Brother Garriott of the Danville District, gave us an earnest message. There were twenty-five preachers at the opening service, and not less than seventy-five, most of them members of the Kentucky Conference, were with us most of the time.

Brother Gaddis is highly appreciated by the people of Wilmore and vicinity. He is a remarkable preacher. The three Moser Sisters, with their songs and instruments, blessed the people; they are a means of grace to a camp.

Clayton Luce and his wife had charge of the young people's meetings and did most excellent work. They stood by us faithfully every way. The singing sisters did fine work among the children. There was a delightful spirit of brotherly love and Christian fellowship.

As usual, the women of the W. C. T. U. had charge of the dining room, and cannot be excelled. They give excellent care to the people who come in the way of delicious meals at a very small cost. We had great congregations every night, and very excellent day services. A large number were blessed at the altar. I am thanking God that in these perilous times, when lawlessness, skepticism and unbelief are rampant, and the tides of sin are on every hand, that multitudes are hearing the gospel of full salvation from sin through the cleansing blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. To his great and holy name be praise for evermore.

H. C. MORRISON.

Rattlesnake Strikes at Civilization.

Charles Smith, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, who was put in jail in Little Rock, Ark., and should have been kept there, is out in an open letter to President Hoover proclaiming a "Blamegiving Day on Thanksgiving Day." Part of the letter is: Resolved:

That we hold a mass meeting in Webster Hall, 119 E. 11th St., New York, in the afternoon of November 26th, for the purpose of blaming the Deity for widespread and undeserved misery;

That we invite the unemployed, the drought-stricken, the afflicted, and all victims of acts of God—all persons who during the year have suffered through no fault of their own—to join with us in observing Blamegiving Day in the first service of its kind ever held in the United States, by holding similar meetings, either public or private, in every community throughout the country where a group of intellectually independent persons can be gathered together.

We clip the above from The Methodist Herald. It ought to provoke serious thought. We are certainly living in perilous times. The spirit manifested in this open letter to President Hoover is quite in harmony with the atheistic spirit of Russia. One would think that this condition of things would awaken the church, stir the ministry, and drive the people to prayer and arouse ministers of the gospel of every denomination to go to preaching with an earnestness and zeal that would bring about nation-wide repentance and prayer, and lead to a great revival of religion.

Some years ago one of the prominent laymen of this country remarked that we were approaching a crisis when it was "Christ or Chaos." He spoke the truth. There is no doubt that atheistic teachings in the schools of the nation, modern liberalistic teaching in many of the pulpits, and the widespread opposition to revivals of religion, has been preparing the soil of this country for the sowing of the seed of unbelief and a bold, defiant skepticism which is startling to contemplate. A few more years of skeptical teaching in the schools, the preaching of unbelief and doubt in the pulpits, opposition to and neglect of revivals of religion, and it will be too late to save this nation from a fearful plague of atheism, riot, and possibly a bloody revolution.

Give the Starving Chinese Some Wheat.

Why not give the starving Chinese fifty or a hundred million bushels of wheat? There is complaint that we have too much wheat. Our neighbors over the Yellow Sea are starving for bread. What an opportunity to practice a bountiful charity. It were a shame for one nation to be burdened with bread stuff and millions of poor creatures starving to death for bread.

Why not the whole world try "the noble experiment" of big, generous charity. For-sake insanity and try commonsense and real Christianity for a while. Disband armies, stop building warships, shake hands, make up and try international friendship of real forgiveness and brotherly kindness. Wherever it is possible, in harmony with reasonable economy, cancel indebtedness and see if we cannot, for a change, practice the teachings of the Lord Jesus for awhile, and observe the effect among men.

Suspicion and hatred are fearfully expensive. It looks like the time has come when we ought to become generous and lend the helping hand of sympathy and brotherly love to each other all about the world. Sin is distressingly costly. Hatred leads to war, bloodshed, depression, waste, rags and starvation.

Poor old world! We can hardly hope for reconciliation among men until men become reconciled to God. If men would make peace among themselves, they must first make peace with God. If men would really believe in God they could believe in each other. If men loved God with the whole heart they could love each other with a true heart.

A Trick of the Enemy.

The modernistic religious teachers have a great way of telling us, and repeating it again and again that, "The young people of today are doing their own thinking." They seek by this statement to make the impression that the young people in the churches have become so remarkably intellectual that they have forsaken historic Christianity and are generally giving up the fundamental doctrines of evangelical religion.

This is what they desire the young people to do. This is one of their prime objects—to draw the young people away from the faith of the fathers and lead them to gulp down their false teachings. There is nothing farther from your modern liberalistic teacher than to desire to see the young people of today at the altar of prayer in broken-hearted contrition pleading for forgiveness of sins, consecrating and going on to full salvation in Christ.

Let the young people in the church become soundly saved and filled with the Holy Spirit, and ere long your modernists who are seeking to destroy the faith of the rising generation in the word of God and the Son of God, and directly they would have to eat their bread in the sweat of their own brow. They would no longer prance around in their conceit and trample under foot the spiritual life of the church.

The sad fact is, a tremendous per cent of young people in the world today, are not thinking religiously at all. A large per cent of them are living reckless lives, spending money with a lavish hand, pleasure-mad, flinging wisdom, warning and entreaty to the wind.

Roaming in the West.

My good friend, Rev. W. A. Vandersall, 1208 N. Cory St., Findlay, Ohio, a preacher in good standing in his annual conference, an evangelist who has won many souls to Christ, writes me that he is going west in evangelistic work. I wish to commend Brother Vandersall to my friends as an earnest preacher of the gospel, a faithful and devout man on the search for souls. He ought to be constantly employed in the great work he has devoted his life to.

H. C. MORRISON.

IMPERFECT SACRIFICES.

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

ANY seekers of holiness or entire sanctification never obtain that experience, not because God is not willing and able to do the work, but they do not bring "the best" they have. Malachi tells us of persons who sought the Lord with earnest, tearful entreaties, but their seeking was only answered with this denunciation: "And this ye have done, covering the altar of the Lord with tears, with weeping and crying out, inasmuch that he regardeth not the offering any more. Ye have wearied the Lord with your words."

We have often heard people who tarried long with seekers at the altar say, "I wonder why they do not believe! Why do they not get through!" Suppose we let the Lord answer their inquiries in words unmistakable: "Because ye offer the lame, and the torn, and the sick. Ye offer polluted bread upon my altar. Cursed be the deceiver which voweth and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing." It is impossible for such seekers to "believe" for sanctification, for to believe—if such a thing were possible under such conditions, would be to make God a liar, for the promise is only to those who bring all the tithes into the storehouse—who keep back no part of the price, but who lay their possessions, great or small, upon God's altar. Then we have the assurance that "the altar sanctifieth the gift."

The following taken from Mrs. Palmer, comes in most fittingly here:

"I have occasionally heard with grief, the remark, from persons whom I have regarded as entirely sincere, 'Only believe you have it, and you have got it.' This has been said when there was apparently an entire unfitness in the individual addressed for the reception of such an exhortation.

"The phraseology is not scriptural, and is liable to a construction wholly unauthorized by the passage of which it claims to be a version. But there are those who fix on some given point, relative to which frequent prayer has been made, and attempts are made in vain to exercise faith; but in fruitlessness of result they have turned despairingly away, conscious that the things desired had not been granted. Such may, on examination, find that they started from a wrong point. The thing desired may have been according to the will of God, but the petitioner may not have possessed the qualifications which entitled him to a hearing."

"A lady, who might by some have been called a star in the fashionable world, was wholly sanctified. About three months before, she had been converted. But, in looking upon her, and observing how light was gradually brought to her mind as she became better able to endure it, I thought of the Savior's words to the disciples—'I have many things to say unto you, but ye cannot bear them now.' Her influence had been considerable, in view of the many who, more recently than herself, had been brought to Christ. And, oh! how I longed that she, in all things, might be an example to believers! She had, by degrees, been parting with her relics of worldliness, till I really hoped she had parted with the last one. That one had given me uneasiness, and I asked her if she would not give it up. 'I will,' said she. Shortly afterward, she came to the social meeting, adorned as a woman professing godliness. 'Have you given up all?' I asked. 'Yes, all,' she replied. She appropriated the promises by faith and was fully saved."

"Listen to God, dear friend: 'We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat who serve the tabernacle.' Is your spirit asking whether it is an 'altar most holy?' sufficient to warrant the expectation that the altar will sanctify the gift which you lay upon it? Let the Holy Spirit answer: 'We are sanctified through the offering of the body of Christ, once for all.' (Heb. 14:14).

"The ancient altar was sanctified by modes of purification prescribed by the law; and now, 'if the blood of bulls and goats, and the ashes of an heifer, sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh, how much more shall the blood of Christ, who, through the eternal Spirit, offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God?' Christ speaks: 'For their sakes I sanctify myself, that they may be sanctified through the truth.' (John 17:19). Who can portray the guilt of that unbeliever which prompts the offerer at the Christian's altar to doubt whether, when he lays his offering upon the altar, it will be sanctified?"

The reader will note that I have given right of way to the above quotations as they are much better than anything I could give you of my own thought. We have this challenge to offer anyone who reads these lines who has not yet entered into the fullness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ: Sell out unreservedly to the Lord, count naught that you have as your own, "reckon yourself to be dead indeed unto sin and alive unto God," and the fire which consumed Elijah's sacrifice will as surely consume your offering, and you will know without a doubt that the "Altar sanctifies the gift," for his Word can never fail. "According to your faith, it will be done unto you."

Notice!

Rev. G. W. Ridout will be available for camp meeting engagements summer of 1932. He expects to return from Africa next May and shall be ready for engagements in June. Convention or College engagements for either May or June may be arranged. Write Mrs. H. C. Morrison, PENTECOSTAL HERALD.

To our Many Friends.

Some of you may want to know where to address us while we are in Europe. We sail today (Sept. 8) for Glasgow, where we are to hold two conventions; then Manchester, Birkenhead, and Liverpool. We will be kept busy until Dec. 10th, when wife and I sail for South Africa, while Everette and Esther will remain and evangelize in England and Ireland. We have caught a new vision; viz., to help Christian workers and missionaries get a fresh anointing. Many of them have the theory without the experience. Pray for us in this great and glorious undertaking.

E. E. SHELHAMER,

1 Palm Grove, Birkenhead, Eng.

SECOND BLESSING.

(Continued from page 5)

as Christian perfection, nor Christian perfection as glorification, attainable by faith here and now; but they do preach that our hearts may be made "holy and without blame before him in love." Ephesians 1:4. Paul believed in this perfection, else he was exhorting no one at all to be "thus minded."

(7). But our preacher does not preach it. That proves nothing. Many preachers do not preach regeneration; yet men "must be born again," or they shall never enter the kingdom. God says, "Be ye holy; for I am holy."

Is your preacher unaware that this is in the Book? Is he a modernistic unbeliever? Or is he simply one of that kind who, while he testifies to the experience in some big holiness camp away from home, is afraid to open his mouth in his home pulpit? I wonder! He cannot preach it, if he does not enjoy the experience; and he cannot have it and refrain from preaching the truth of it.

(8). So many profess it who do not live it. Said a brother of ours in the ministry, Rev. J. R. Pitt, "The same reasoning, if applied to the professions, trades and occupations temporal, would keep you out of them all. In the educational world only a very small per centage of those who graduate know how to think. Only a trifle over five per cent of business men avoid bankruptcy. More than ninety per cent of the sick suffer with preventable diseases. And so on throughout the list ad infinitum. Man is a neglector, a waster of his opportunities, and the excuse you offer, if made the law of your decisions in all respects, would close to you every door of life."

(9). O well, I am not anxious about being overmuch righteous, just so I get through the gate, I shall be satisfied. I think we could reply to you, that "as many as have this hope, purify themselves even as he is pure." Have you a reasonable hope of entering the pearly gates? Better "examine yourself and see whether you be in the faith." I am reminded, in a testimony meeting, a brother said, similarly to you, that if he only got a back seat in heaven he would be satisfied. A colored mammy arose and crooned back to the white brother, "M-m-m-m-m, honey, de back seats am all spoken for; people needs to press up to de front dese days." We say, Amen!

Further objections to the teaching and professing of second blessing holiness there may be, but we believe this covers the main objections. Another line of teaching to the contrary we leave until another time.

HOW OFTEN IN READING

do you encounter a word with which you are not familiar? To understand the meaning of a word helps one to more fully appreciate what one reads.

The New Universal Graphic Dictionary is distinguished by such outstanding features that it adapts itself for general use. It contains hundreds of new words that have recently come into use. The entry words are printed in large bold face type, two lines high, while the definitions are in a smaller, but easily-read type.

There isn't anything which so enlarges and varies the vocabulary of the school boy or girl as a good dictionary handy where they may find definitions that will enable them to thoroughly understand a word and its proper use.

Just a few copies left. Don't fail to get one. Clip this ad, for convenience, sign your name and attach $1.00 in any form it is convenient to send it, mail it to The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky., and a copy will be sent you by return mail.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and pressed for time, you will always find Arnold's Commentary full of rich spiritual truths on the S. S. Lesson. You can't afford to be without it at this closing-out price of 50 cents.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

PERSIA'S HEBREW QUEEN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

Part V.

So before Haman had time to ask the king for Mordecai's life so he could hang his enemy on the great gallows which he had built for him, he hurried to the palace to sit down to the second dinner in the apartment of the queen.

Now King Ahasurus felt sure that the queen had some good reason for inviting him and Haman to these feasts so he said to her again, on the second day, "What do you wish, Oh my Queen? Tell me, and I will give it to you, even though it be half of my kingdom." Then, since he had made this promise twice, Esther felt that this was surely the time to plead for the lives of her people. She answered him, saying, "If I have found favor in your sight, O King, if it please you, let my life be given me, and the lives of my people. For we have been sold, I and all my people, to be destroyed, to be slain, to perish, in order to please our enemy."

Then said the king, "Who is the man, and where is he, who has dared to do this thing?" And Queen Esther pointing, cried, "This wicked Haman!"

And the king was so angry that he sprang from the table and hurried out into the garden, and Haman fell on his face before the queen begging her to spare his life. But when the king returned he looked at Haman with such wrath that the servants covered his face, as was the custom with one doomed to die. The king ordered Haman hanged on the very gallows, seventy-five feet high, which that wicked man had had built for Mordecai the Jew. And that very day the king brought Mordecai into the palace and set him over all the princes in Haman's place.

And though the law for killing the Jews on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month could not be taken back, another was sent out giving them power to defend themselves and giving them the king's protection so that their enemies feared to attack or harm them. So that instead of sorrow and death on the thirteenth day of the twelfth month there was joy and feasting and gladness. And to this day they keep the feast of Purim in memory of their deliverance through the courage of the Persian's beautiful Hebrew queen, Esther, whose name means Star.

Questions:

1. How did the Jews come to be living in the Persian Empire?
2. What was the name of Ahasuerus' first queen?
3. How do the Jews celebrate the memory of Esther?

Dear Aunt Bettie: I like to read The Herald very much. I was twelve years old May 24. I have six sisters; the baby is six months. I go to the Methodist Church at Gonzalez, Rev. O. H. Vanlandingham is the pastor. Emma Cummings, I guess your middle name to be Mary. What is my middle name? It begins with C and ends with D. It has eight letters in it. It is a boy's name. I would be glad to hear from the cousins.

Violet C. Owen.

Box 11, Cantonment, Fla.

Dear Aunt Bettie: It has been sometime since I have written a letter to The Herald but I have something good to tell you and the cousins this time. I have just returned from Frost Bridge Holiness Camp Meeting in Mississippi. We had a great and glorious camp this year. I have never associated with any one who is more consecrated and more interested in the salvation of lost souls as the workers at Frost Bridge camp. At first it seemed that the results were not what one expected, and as a usual thing in most meetings the preacher would let down too, but not so at Frost Bridge, they worked harder. You will not be surprised when I name the workers for I am sure some of you know them. Rev. D. H. Householder, an Asbury graduate, now serving a church in California, did the preaching. Bro. Householder has been to Frost Bridge three years in succession. He says he can't be back next year, which of course, makes us very sad. He promised us he would try to come back some time. I enjoyed all of his sermons and especially the one he preached to youth. He gave seven hungrers of youth which were as follows: food, knowledge, companionship, love, beauty, goodness and God. Bro. Householder is young himself and understands youth. His message to us was positive and not negative. Oh, how I wish we might have more such sermons preached to the youth of this country. Bro. and Mrs. Russell F. Metcalf were the singers, both graduates of Taylor University. They are very devout, consecrated Christians and they also put their whole life into the meeting. Mrs. Metcalf had charge of the children's services in which she did a splendid work. I was associated with them very closely and learned to love them dearly, especially Russell, Jr., who is eight months old and weighs twenty-eight pounds. I wish some of the cousins would come to Frost Bridge camp sometime and let's have a great time together.

Just a word about myself. I am going to teach my first school this year. I have finished my college work except one summer term. Bro. Householder wants me to go to Asbury and finish, which I think I shall sometime in the near future. I would like to hear from some of you cousins, if you should care to write.

Nellie Jones.
Millry, Ala.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is the third time I have written and have received lots of letters. It has been dry and hot this summer, but now we are having lots of rain. There is a big meeting going on, but I haven't gone any. I don't get to go to meeting very often. I can get out on the porch in the summer time and listen to the music of the birds, but winter time will soon be here and I will have to come into the house. I can't go anywhere through the winter when it is so cold. I would be glad if all the cousins would shower me with some good records. I would like good religious pieces. I enjoy good religious songs and preaching as I can't go to church to hear them.

Ruth Spinks.
Clyde, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As it has been sometime since I wrote to The Herald, I will come in and visit a few minutes. I have been attending God's Bible School the past year. I found a wonderful spirit of love being manifested in the school. But I am sorry to say I am not yet settled in my heart experience. During the spring revival in February, the Holy Spirit revealed to me that doubt was holding me down. Doubt, doubt, doubt! No doubt, many are in the same boat as I was. Faith is so simple that we stumble over it. Do not look for some great blessing, struggling soul, but get your eyes on Jesus, and your faith will be rewarded. My trust is fully in Jesus. My life has been wholly dedicated and consecrated to the will of God. Praise his name! Cousins, look to a loving Heavenly Father, he will lead you through safely. Have faith in God! Amen! Will be glad to hear from any of the cousins.

Joseph Powell.
Fresno, Ohio.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes a little girl from Pennsylvania. I have four sisters and two brothers. One of my sisters is going to be a missionary to India. She graduated from Asbury College this spring and my mother and I went down there to attend the Commencement. We also went 170 miles farther in the mountains where my brothers are preaching. One of them graduated from Asbury College in 1925, and the other has had three years and expects to finish sometime. I hope my brothers and sister will see this letter in print. I would like to have all the cousins between the ages of ten and fourteen write to me. Helen Davis, while my mother and I were visiting my sister in Wilmore we heard your father preach and we think he is a fine preacher. When this letter arrives I hope Mr. W. B. is out telling the cousins to write something else beside their descriptions, because they are the kind of letters he gets. I will close with love and expectations that you will all let your letters fly to

Your cousin,

Alice Baldwin.
Rt. 3, Corry, Pa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I want to join your happy Christian band of boys and girls. I always read the Boys and Girls' Page. I like to know that there are boys and girls that love Jesus. I am eighteen years old. I teach a Sunday school class (Juniors). I have been teaching for three years now and I love to think that I'm telling little children about Jesus. I finished high school last May and am planning to go to the Bible School in Columbia this year, and I covet the prayers of the Christian readers of The Herald that I might go. I hope my letter will be printed.

Ruby Lee Hardee.
Box 126, Conway, S. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I have been reading the letters in The Herald for a long time. This is my first letter to page ten, but I have written in answer to several letters. I would like to make a collection of colored scenic postcards from the different cities and states. I have a pretty one which was sent me from Florida and also several others and would like to receive many more. In return I will write you on a Salem (Oregon) card. I have some nice ones showing our statehouse grounds, circuit rider monument, etc. I am a member of the Methodist Church and we live eight miles east of Salem. I have been teaching the Primary Class in our Sunday school. My next birthday is my nineteenth. Our new pastor has been attending the holiness camp meeting near Portland, Ore., the last two weeks.

Wilma deVries.
Rt. 6, Box 50, Salem, Ore.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am ten years old and in the fifth grade. I have light brown hair. My middle name begins with S and ends with A. Whoever guesses my name gets a big long letter. I have never had a letter sent through the mail. I will be glad to answer any letters I get. I am saved and hope to keep saved. I pray every day. I hope this letter is printed in The Pentecostal Herald.

Naomi S. Cummings.
Rt. 6, Columbia City, Ind.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am a reader of The Pentecostal Herald. I have not seen any letters from St. Paul, Minn., so I beg permission to join the happy band of cousins. I love the dear paper. I praise God for The Pentecostal Herald and a people who stand for a whole Bible and full salvation. I am 72 years old. I have Jesus for my Shepherd.

Your sister in Christ Jesus.
Kathryn Tuttle.

Dear Aunt Bettie: It has been a long time since I wrote, but I am still living for God and enjoy serving him the best I know how. Praise the Lord! Francis Geurin, the Ten Commandments are found in Exodus, 20th chapter. Christ's early life is found in Luke. The shortest chapter in the Bible is Psalm 117. Margaret N. Prothro, I guess your middle name to be Naomi. Am I right? I am thirteen years old. Would be glad to hear from any of the cousins. I will try to answer all letters received.

Inez Alexander.
Rt. 2, Adrian, Mich.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band of boys and girls? I am thirteen years old and will be in the ninth grade when school starts. My birthday is January 14. Have I a twin? If so, please write to me. I will enjoy getting a letter from you. I enjoy reading The Herald very much, especially page ten. I am a member of the Methodist Church, and I go to Sunday school and preaching every Sunday that I can. Esther

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Youngman, I guess your middle name to be Marion. If I have guessed correctly remember your promise, which was to send your picture to all who guessed your name. My middle name begins with R and ends with E, and has six letters in it. All who guess my name I will write them a letter. I shall be waiting to hear from some of the cousins. I will be glad to hear from any of them, so boys and girls write to me. I will answer all the letters I receive.

Belva Kincaid.
Table Rock, N. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let two new cousins join your happy band of boys and girls? We are seven and eight years old and in the third and fourth grades at school. Who can guess our middle names? One starts with A and ends with E, and has six letters; the other starts with I and ends with E, and has five letters in it. Love to all the cousins and Aunt Bettie.

Elberta and Beatrice Riepe.
Danville, Iowa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let a lonesome Kentucky girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I certainly enjoy reading the cousins' letters. We don't take The Herald, but I was visiting a girl friend, and she gave me some copies to read. It sure is a good paper. Page ten is where I like to turn first of all. I am writing this, Aunt Bettie, to gain some pen pals. I am a girl of twenty years, live in the hills of dear old Kentucky. Some call them mountains. I have brown hair, blue eyes, and fair complexion. My height is five feet, six inches, weight 150 pounds. I belong to the M. E. Church at Wallingford, Ky., and attend each service I possibly can. We have preaching twice a month, Sunday school every Sunday morning, prayer meeting Thursday nights. Our pastor is Rev. R. L. Smith. He is a good man. Vivian Coppage, what has become of you? I wrote you sometime ago. Wake up and write to me. I am going to leave my middle name for you to guess. It begins with E and ends with A, has four letters in it. Hone Mr. W. B. is out car riding when this arrives. Please, everyone write to me. I will answer all I can.

Mary E. Simon.
Rt. 1, Flemingsburg, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my first letter to the band of boys and girls, so I would be glad for you to step over a wee bit and let an Alabama boy join you. I will be eleven years old December 12. Who is my twin? I am four and one-half feet tall, weigh seventy pounds. I am in the sixth grade. Mr. Owens is my teacher. I like him fine. I go to Sunday school every Sunday morning, and Epworth League Sunday night. Bro. Grube, from Mobile organized a "Booster Band" for the little boys and girls. We meet at the church every Saturday afternoon and have the best time. About 65 belong to the band. I guess Margaret N. Prothro's name to be Nebai or Naomi. Who can guess my first name; it starts with B and has five letters in it and ends with Y. I would be so glad to hear from any of the boys and girls. I better be stepping out or Aunt Bettie might not print this.

B. Jack Wimberly.
Silas, Ala.

FALLEN ASLEEP

ROSS.

Mrs. R. A. Ross, 66, pioneer Hunt county woman, died at her home, 3612 Wellington Street, shortly after 3 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning, following a lingering illness. Mrs. Ross had been a resident of Hunt county for forty-seven years.

No funeral arrangements had been made early this morning, pending advice from relatives.

Mrs. Ross, nee Harriet Barbara Ward, a stepdaughter of the late Mrs. Lou Ward, who died on January 25, 1931, was born April 8, 1865, in Iron-ton, Ohio. Her early life was spent in Bonaque Springs, Tenn. She moved to Hunt county, Texas, in 1884, and had since made her home here.

She was married to R. A. Ross on January 8, 1885. Her husband preceded her in death by six years, passing away on July 12, 1925.

Mrs. Ross is survived by three children: Mrs. J. A. Scott, Waco; I. N. Ross, Greenville; and Mrs. J. E. Harper, Dallas; five step-children, Mrs. L. G. Cody, White Rock; R. G., A. D. and W. D. Ross, Lone Oak; and F. H. Ross, Dallas; four grandchildren; R. A. and Lawson Harper, Dallas; Jas. Scott, Waco; and R. A. Ross, Greenville; and one great grandchild, Elsie Mae Harper, Dallas.

Professing Christianity in early childhood, Mrs. Ross united with the Grace Presbyterian Church, in which she had worked faithfully and unremittingly during all the days of her life. In her family and her church, Mrs. Ross saw her chief interest on earth. She devoted her life to the dual service, and the great family of God-fearing children and grandchildren she reared bear testimony to the wonderful life she lived.

HAMIL.

On August 8, 1931, death entered our community and claimed Mrs. J. W. Hamil, wife of J. W. Hamil, after several months of illness. Mrs. Hamil was 46 years, 7 months and 21 days old. She was born and reared in Carroll Co., Ga., and was a daughter of Rev. E. G. Earnest, a Methodist minister. In addition to her husband she is survived by three sons: Carlos, Cranston, and L. D.; two daughters: Hettie Lou and Johnnie Belle; her mother, Mrs. E. G. Earnest, Bowdon, Ga.; three sisters: Miss Belya Earnest, Bowdon, Ga.; Mrs. J. W. Cook, Mt. Zion, Ga.; Mrs. Wm. H. Bowman, Tallapoosa, Ga.; two brothers: A. A. Earnest, Mt. Zion, Ga.; and H. B. Earnest, Atlanta, Ga.

The family of the deceased had resided at Bowdon for several years, and were members of the M. E. Church. One always felt that there was a spiritual atmosphere when in the home. Mrs. Hamil was very patient, kind, and good; believed in the very highest type of religion, and was very devoted to her family. She was of few words, but always spoke well of everyone, had a good word and smile for everyone she met. In spite of illness she always greeted you with a smile.

She is gone but not forgotten. She had no continuing city here, but went to be with the redeemed, in a place Jesus went to prepare for all those who love and serve him; a place free from sorrow, sin and death, where there shall be no tears, for they shall all be wiped away, where there is no night, and they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for the Lord God giveth them light.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday, August 9, at the M. E. Church of Mt. Zion, Ga., by Rev. Carl H. Thomas, assisted by Rev. W. S. Hamilton and Dr. H. H. Bowen.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

Pray for a mother to be healed of dropsy, cancer of stomach and heart trouble.

Pray for a family who is in great trouble.

Mrs. H. B. W.: "Pray for the conversion of my husband and children."

Pray for a backslidden husband that he may be reclaimed.

Pray for a mother who is insane that her mind may be restored.

Mrs. J. A. S.: "Please to pray that I may be saved from sin."

ELGIN, TENN., HOLINESS MOUNTAIN MISSION WORK.

These are encouraging days for us in the work of spreading Scriptural Holiness over these mountains, among a neglected people. During the past ten months our workers have held sixteen revivals or special preaching services in tent meetings, school-houses, churches and secured one picture show house for church services. Built a beautiful Tabernacle in one of the most neglected sections of these mountains. Placed over 21,000 Scriptural Poster Almanacs in the homes of the most neglected people. Also placed over 2,000 of these Silent Preachers in the jails and prisons in this work. We reached out into over forty different counties of East Tennessee and Southern Kentucky. People are starting revivals among themselves as a result of these Silent preachers in their homes. The 119 Psalm, 105 verse, sayeth, the entrance of thy word bringeth Light; Jeremiah 23-29: is not My Word like Fire that burneth, saith the Lord, and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces. Amen. Also several of the best workers that we had with us for just a short time in the past and whose labor the Lord blessed in a remarkable way, feel the Lord would have them locate in the mountains and give their entire time to this work and are now busy arranging their affairs so they can soon locate in the mountains among the neglected and minister to them. Many other things we would say if we had the space in this brief report.

We are in need of a couple of small tents about 30x50, or near that size, for our workers to use far back in the mountains. Would be glad to hear from some one who could furnish one of these tents. We ask that the readers of The Herald remember this work among a neglected people.

Charles B. Kolb.
Elgin, Tenn.

NOTICE!

I am seeking a permanent location in the Ozarks; am an evangelist of twenty years' experience in small town, rural churches and school-houses. Work with any people on the free-will offering plan. Want to hear from any one there who knows of a likely field or who want a meeting in their vicinity. Please write me at once.

Rev. T. A. Swartwood.

1017 S. Shelby St., Louisville, Ky.

"THE DEVIL'S BACK-BONE."

This is the name of a large state park here, where many thousands of people visit each week, drawn by its sights and pleasures, for it is far more beautiful than its name implies. There are massive hills, trees, rocks, large cement ponds filled with millions of fish, in water supplied by perennial springs. There are pavilions for assemblies, worship, music; dining rooms, with tables; beautifully ornamented stone walls, flowers, fountains, etc. The "Back-Bone," mostly rock,

"Just what I have wanted"

That is what everyone is saying about the combination Scofield Bible and Year's Bible Course at $2.95. This wonderful new combination of a Bible and a year's course of study provides all the materials needed for an enjoyable, thorough and profitable year's work with the Bible. NOW is a fine time to start.

A Year's Bible Course $2.95 and a Scofield Bible both for 2

These two volumes offer you the most practical, the most helpful and the cheapest Bible study equipment obtainable today.

THE SCOFIELD BIBLE is a strongly bound cloth edition containing the helps that have made this Bible famous everywhere. A YEAR'S BIBLE COURSE contains 52 lessons based on the helps in the Scofield Reference Bible, with hundreds of questions, many charts and maps.

If you prefer a larger type Bible, the combination is $3.75

Home Bible Study

How often we long to understand the Bible better. How often we wish we could have the help of someone who could make clear the obscure passages. Here at last is a Bible in which the difficult passages are explained right on the pages where they occur. With this exceptional Bible you also obtain a tested plan of study enabling you to secure all the advantages of class study in your own home at convenient times. Why not order today while you think of it, so that you, too, may enjoy the benefits of these volumes.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

is shaped like the back-bone of an animal, over which people climb for the thrill of its dizzy heights and the view it affords. It has resisted the wear of centuries of time and weather. In ages gone, Indians and wild beasts climbed over it. What scenes the sturdy ancient pines witnessed; their descendants still stand as sentinels, their roots clinging about the rock-ribs of nature. After all, the park is not mis-named, for "Back-Bone" often means courage, persistence, which it takes to surmount its rocky summit: and which Satan has in his soul-destroying work. Children are assisted in the climb by others. So too, only with Divine aid can we "resist the devil," who was never more active and determined than now, "as a roaring lion walking about, seeking whom he may devour." But Jesus, our great Deliverer, said, "I beheld Satan fall like lightning from Heaven." He would also cast him out of earth.

T. Richardson Gray.
Edgewood, Iowa.

GOD'S STEWARDS.

A certain man had three sons. To each of them he gave $25,000 with the request that the interest be given each year to some good cause. The oldest son gave it the first year to a hospital. By this gift a child's sight was restored, a club foot was straightened, a hair-lip was removed and re-made. The second son was in charge of a large Sunday school. He gave one dollar to each pupil, with the request that each one should earn a dollar. By this method more than $1,000 was raised to build an addition that was needed to take care of the increase in the school. The young son opened a reading room, put in questionable books and games; himself becoming an expert gambler, and in a short time was shot for his trickery in gambling. The oldest son withheld the interest the next year and the sick was uncared for, and many that his father wanted to help suffered without care, and went on with their burdens. The second son dropped out of the work and thought he did his part; he spent his money in pleasure, and his part of the church work was not done, no one took his place.

If the father had given part of his money away while he was thinking about it, would his children have been better off without it? If they had to earn part of it? Are you in possession of wealth? If so, are you not God's steward? and you must give an account of it to God. Be sure he will collect his dues sometime. Be sure to give at least one-tenth to God; or will a man rob God? Malachi 3:10.

Rev. Sara E. Selle.

A STRONG BOOK FAVORING THE ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION.

By Jonathan Robinson, Louisville, Ky. "Going Right," by Robert Conklin Sudbury and Myrtle McClean Sudbury, printed by The Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky., (price $1.50) presents the case for prohibition briefly, clearly and forcibly.

It quotes the thirty-one Presidents of the United States who, with very few exceptions, are on record against alcoholic drinks of all sorts. It also gives the views of prominent leaders in many lines, here and abroad, who have denounced the indulgence in liquor with a strength and unanimity which are amazing. When on this subject even Col. Robert G. Ingersoll sounds like an eloquent and fearless preacher.

It takes up the arguments put forward by the people who are working to break down the law against strong drink, answering them convincingly. Dr. Ellis S. Allen, head surgeon of the Baptist Hospital, Louisville, gives a masterly history of alcohol, showing how it has "made fools of nations" and destroyed many of the greatest leaders of men. He describes alcohol as an excretion from bacteria. These living organisms are very small and cannot be seen without a microscope, but swarming millions of them produce a large amount of poison in a short time.

This book ought to be read by all who wish to be informed regarding this most important question before the American people today, in the realm of human laws and their enforcement. Young folk particularly, who know nothing by experience of the old days when saloons were on so many of our streets, licensed to ruin our people for a trifling tax, ought to get this antidote to the lies of those who seek a return to those evil conditions.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson I.—October 4, 1931.

Subject.—The Macedonian Call. Acts 16:15; Rom. 15:18-21.

Golden Text.—Go ye therefore, and teach all nations. Matthew 28:19.

Time.—A. D. 50.

Places.—Provinces in Asia Minor; Troas; Samothracia; Neapolis; Philippi.

Introduction.—Our lesson shows us that the church was moving forward quite rapidly in missionary work. The first missions had been to the Jews; but as they were rejecting eternal life, and putting it from them, God was turning to the Gentiles. The spiritual times of the Jews were ending, and the spiritual times of the Gentiles were beginning. When Paul and Barnabas were about to revisit the churches they had established in Asia Minor, the latter wished to take John Mark with them again; but the former objected, because Mark had left them and returned to Jerusalem when they were making their first missionary tour. This separated the two leaders, and made two missionary parties, Barnabas taking Mark and going to Cyprus, and Paul taking Silas and going to Asia Minor again.

At Lystra Paul found Timothy, a young man who had been converted during his former visit to that city with Barnabas. This young man had a Jewish mother and a Greek father. Finding him to be both intellectual and deeply spiritual, and withal well versed in the Scriptures, Paul and Silas had him join their missionary party. He became both a great preacher and a true missionary, and the great apostle's true yokefellow to the end of his life. Just before Nero had him beheaded he wrote his last epistle to his beloved son in the gospel.

The missionaries are now about to cross the Aegean Sea to begin work on the continent of Europe. In Asia Minor they began their work and carried it on largely in Jewish synagogues; but in Europe things were different. They found few Jews there, and fewer synagogues. They were now to labor among the heathen. They were beginning a work that was to sweep over all Europe in course of time, and on to the ends of the earth. Before Paul laid down his armor he had preached the gospel in Rome, the proud capital of that mighty heathen empire, and had won converts in Cæsar's household. Paul knew one thing that we moderns have been slow to learn: The heathen do not have to be educated into Christianity. In his day some were converted under his first preaching. It did not take long to win the heathen proconsul on the island of Cyprus. Holiness missionaries in China, Japan, Korea, India, and other lands, are seeing many raw heathen who never have had a chance to be educated, converted in great revivals that are now blessing the people in such regions of the earth. Maybe the church will learn after a while that "It is not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit saith the LORD of hosts."

Comments on the Lesson.

6. Phrygia....Galatia.—These were not cities, but regions of country, the latter being in Central Asia Minor, and the former in Western Asia Minor. Forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia.—

That sounds strange; but God would open a new door for bigger work than they were doing in Asia Minor; besides, the gospel had been so preached in that region that it could radiate from center to circumference, and thereby reach the whole land. It is doubtful if God ever intended that there should be such a settled ministry as the church now has. Much of the work that now falls to the lot of the ministry should be done by the laity, and the preachers sent on to desolate regions to preach the gospel to those who still sit in darkness. Again, if one's ministry is unfruitful in one place he should move on to new territory. No sensible man will continue to fish in the same hole with the same sort of bait for years after the fish quit biting. Either change the bait, or hunt other waters. We must not waste life and opportunity.

7. Mysia.—Like Galatia, this was a region of country. It bordered on the Roman province of Bithynia. The missionaries thought to enter this latter country; but "the Spirit suffered them not." God was pushing them on to broader regions.

8. Troas was a seaport of Asia Minor—a sort of doorway to the Aegean Sea, and on by ship to Europe.

9. A vision appeared to Paul in the night.—We are not told whether he was asleep or awake—perhaps the former. God often revealed things to the Bible saints in dreams. But the method was a small matter. There stood a man of Macedonia.—Paul was not looking across the sea, as we have sometimes seen him represented in pictures; but the man from Macedonia came to him in Troas with his cry for help. Come over....and help us.—That same cry is now coming from the lands of heathenism more strongly than ever. Poor China, starving, drenched with her own blood, and drowning in an unprecedented flood, is begging for help. She needs bread; she needs education; but she needs salvation from sin ten thousand times more than she needs anything else. India and Africa have been crying for help till men grow sick listening to the wail. O that Jesus would come, and take charge of this heart-rending situation.

10. Immediately we endeavored to go into Macedonia.—Those were minute men. They waited for nothing but God's commands. They had too much faith to ever think of difficulties and dangers. Having left all behind them, there was nothing to go back to: nothing was left to them but to push forward. Some men have too much behind them. These men believed God's call, and started at once for Macedonia on a mission of faith in God alone. They were daring.

11. Samothracia.—Your map will show you that this was an island lying in the northern part of the Aegean Sea. It belonged to Thrace. They made a prosperous journey thither by ship. Neapolis was on the shore of Europe in the northern part of Greece. We are not informed how long the missionaries tarried at this place. We do not even know whether or not they remained sufficiently long to preach to the people.

12. Hence to Philippi.—I think the following words tell us why they went on to that city. They wanted a strategic point from which the gospel could radiate, and Philippi was the "chief city of that part of Macedonia." The inhabitants were colonists from the city of Rome; and some tell us that they had so patterned their little city after Rome that it was another Rome in miniature. Here Paul could make use of his Roman citizenship to good advantage. There they remained "certain days," and preached the gospel. Judging from the record, we do not suppose that they found any synagogue in that city. Possibly there were too few Jews there to have one.

13. On the sabbath.—This was the Jewish sabbath. They were now dealing with a few Jews. By a river side.—It seems to have been a custom for scattered Jews to meet in such quiet retreats for prayer. This one seems to have been a place where women met for prayer. Paul preached to them; but nothing is said about the presence of men.

14. A certain woman named Lydia.—It is tantalizing to know so little of this woman. We know that she was a business woman; and the context indicates that she was well to do. She was from some city in Thyatira. She must have been a Jewess, for she "worshipped God," indicating Jehovah the true God. She was one of the women who had assembled for prayer by the side of the river; and when Paul preached, "she attended unto the things which were spoken."

15. She was baptized.—That was probably the first time she had ever heard the gospel preached; but she gave heed, and was converted on the spot. And her household.—I like that. God's promise is to us, and to our children. God will hold us parents responsible for the salvation of our children. I believe firmly that if we base our faith upon God's promise, and if we realize our responsibility, we can so rear our children that they will become devout Christians who will bless the world and honor our God. She besought us.—That was more than an invitation to take dinner. She begged for that holy visitation. If you think me faithful to the Lord, come and stay at my house as long as you abide in the city. No wonder she constrained them. Who could resist the cordiality of such a pressing invitation. It is very blessed to have holy men of God in our homes. If they are Spirit-filled men, their presence is worth many times what it costs to care for them.

Romans 15:18-21. These clingers that the Sunday School Committee is pinning to the end of our lessons are good. They are demonstrations of the truth taught in the body of the lesson. When Paul wrote his great epistle to the Roman Church, he had never been there; but he wrote with a strange familiarity. Have you noticed how in the last chapter of the epistle he salutes the brethren at Rome, and how he calls up the members of the church there to salute one another, calling a number of them by name? Paul almost boasts when he says: "From Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ." One feels the strength of his manhood when he declares that he did not wish to preach where other men had laid the foundation. He wanted new territory; he wanted a man's job; he wanted to go where no one had preceded him, and to lay a clean, solid foundation for the coming years. One must admire such sacred independence. That was a laudable ambition. That was a true missionary spirit.

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                        |             |
|------------------------|-------------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund | .....$1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund | ..... 1.50  |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund   | ..... 5.00  |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund   | ..... 1.00  |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe. The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS
Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature—is the estimate of all who read these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00
The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid

PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - - - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailor and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Buried With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?

These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Fragrance, Sweetness, and Power.

An appeal to the Church of today to take time to return to the upper room. The author says that past failure has been due to reversing Christ's commands of "Tarry Ye," and "Go Up."

There are four chapters, "Pentecostal Power," "The Sweetness of Holiness," "The Beauty of Holiness," "A Princely Character." Bound in attractive leatherette paper.

Price 25c each, 5 for $1.00.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

FOURTEEN POINTS AGAINST ALCOHOL.

Dr. Haven Emerson, Columbia University. Former Health Commissioner, N. Y. C.

1. Alcohol is a cause of death.
2. Alcohol is a cause of primary disease.
3. Alcohol causes disabilities through inheritance.
4. Alcohol lowers resistance to infection.
5. Alcohol increases susceptibility to poison from heavy metals.
6. Alcohol increases mortality rate of infections.
7. Alcohol increases the severity, complications and time of recovery from industrial accidents.
8. Alcohol increases the prevalence of venereal disease.
9. Alcohol increases the general morbidity and mortality from other diseases than those due directly to the use of alcohol.
10. Alcohol shortens the span of life.
11. Alcohol delays and renders inaccurate neuro-muscular reactions.
12. Alcohol reduces judgment, discrimination, endurance, and precision of action.
13. Alcohol reduces consumption of milk in the United States.

"When a man says, 'But we should tolerate beer and light wines,' the answer is this: Beer and light wines are a disguise for alcohol, an attractive disguise to some eyes, but it hides a grinning skull."

THE HIDDEN MAN.

"Ye are dead and your life is hid with Christ in God." Col. 3:3. "Ye shall know them by their fruits." Matt. 7:16. What are the fruits of the hidden man? "As a man thinketh in his heart so is he." How does the knowledge that he is hid in Christ show itself in his daily life? "If ye then be risen with Christ... set your affection on things above not on things on earth." "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also." Mat. 6. Since his thoughts and affections are heavenward, what are his actions?

The hidden man is filled with the fruits of the Spirit: love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance. All these he manifests daily by exercising them, and being exercised thereby. He lays down his life for his friends, especially for his best friend Jesus. He is always seeking above everything else, the welfare of those he loves. And he loves all men; all races and nations.

He suffers long and is kind. He is not envious, and does not vaunt either himself or his deeds before others. He is not puffed up with his own or another's importance. He does not seek his own advantage, but rather that of Christ and his fellowmen. He is not easily provoked, no flying off the handle every few minutes cause or no cause. He does not think evil; neither to meditate evil deeds nor to harbor evil thoughts about others. He loves to think on things that are true, honest, just, pure, lovely, and of good report. He does not rejoice in inequality. Social and economic injustice does not please him. He rejoices in Christ, and in all righteousness both civic and social, scientific and spiritual. He upholds all good things by prayer and supplication continually. He believes that all things are possible with God. He is filled with all joy and hope in believing through the Holy Spirit. He endures hardness as a good soldier of Jesus Christ. He walks worthy of the vocation into which he has been called, by being humble, obedient, longsuffering and forbearing toward others through love for them. He speaks truthfully to his neighbor knowing that their common welfare is closely bound together. He does not carry on conversation that will spoil either those who listen or those who take part by listening or contributing to it. He does not make jokes at the unkind expense of others. He does not use words lightly without regard to their true meaning, speaking idly merely to be heard. But the word of Christ dwells in him richly in all wisdom; so that he teaches and admonishes in psalms and hymns, and spiritual songs. His conversation always becomes the gospel of Jesus Christ.

He is kind and tenderhearted in all of his contacts with others. He readily forgives remembering that Christ has forgiven him. He uses his time wisely and is filled with the Holy Spirit. He speaks to himself in psalms and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in his heart to the Lord. He gives thanks always for all things to God, the Father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ. He submits to the will of others in the fear of God.

He is not terrified by his adversaries; and he does nothing through strife or vainglory. He presses towards the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

He does not worry about anything, but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving he makes his wants known unto God. The peace of God which passeth all understanding keeps his heart and mind through Christ. He does whatsoever his hands find to do, heartily as to the Lord and not to men. He does not return evil for evil to any man but ever follows that which is good. He does not quench the Spirit. He does not despise prophesyings. He proves all things, and holds fast to that which is good. He abstains from all appearance of evil. He is not given to wine. He is no striker, and not greedy for money. He is patient, no brawler. He rules well his own house. He studies to show himself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed rightly dividing the word of truth.

He never fails either God or man. He can be depended upon always.

Elizabeth Spickler.

FROM THE NATIONAL W. C. T. U.

Twelve years after prohibition the Chicago grand jury finds no police graft.

Twelve years before prohibition; and the saloon controlled police force was alive with graft which defied courts and grand juries in a reign of crime and dissipation.

A police chief publicly confided he had banked $180,000; a regularly organized army of graft collectors called on dives, saloons and prostitutes for the benefit of the police, collecting from $50 to $500 a month. The police took half a million dollars a year to protect prostitution, which existed as a major enterprise almost entirely because of the saloon. The purchase of the Chicago police in those days was an easy matter because the upper half of the force, from which the officials were drawn, had gone into the police business at a time when the entire force frankly and hopefully was for sale; and found a ready buyer in the dealers in liquor and other dissipation.

Crime in Chicago a dozen years before prohibition existed without hindrance. The cold-blooded murders of the "car barn bandits" sent chills around the world; Chicago's murder record rate was eight times that of London; twenty-five times that of German cities, and was approached and surpassed only by the murder belt of Southern Italy.

Chicago had at least 7500 saloons and half as many blind pigs; no law against liquor was enforced; saloons ran openly in forbidden hours and on Sundays. No amount of crusading could get officials or police interested in enforcing the laws against the sale of liquor to minors; the sale of liquor to intoxicated or dissolute persons and the saloon and commercialized prostitution brought to Chicago a blacker name than any other city. The Vice Commission's report of 1911 exposed clearly the tie-up between prostitution and the liquor business.

Criminality ruled and police protection was a joke.

"Two main causes for excessive crime," said George Kibbe Turner, writing in McClure's Magazine in 1909" are first: the saturation of the poorer classes with alcoholic liquor under a terrific economic pressure to produce profits; second, the purchase of the right to break the law by the dealers in illegal dissipation."

Compare Chicago, 1931, with Chicago of the saloon era. It was liquor that made Chicago tough and dangerous; and because Chicago had the same experience with liquor that other cities have the nation made an outlaw out of liquor, and it has acted like an outlaw ever since. Many persons want to restore the outlaw to full and equal rights again and in so doing they will bring on America the same situation that existed when the liquor traffic ran the government from the precinct to the national convention.

"THE GREAT FLOOD."

Rev. Herbert J. McNeese.

"And the Lord said, 'My Spirit shall not always strive with man.'" Genesis 6:3.

We have before us a most momentous problem, the striving of the Holy Spirit with a human soul. We find Noah building the ark, even as God said, of gopher wood, three hundred cubits long, fifty wide, and thirty high. As Brother Noah builds the ark, he preaches repentance, and tells the people to look out for the approaching flood and to get right with God. But, we find the people then were even as folk today; they laughed at Noah and called him an old fool, but Noah minded God. One evening as Noah has just completed the ark, the people see a small cloud, and they begin to prepare for what they thought would be a short rain, but behold, the clouds grow larger and larger until finally the heaven is filled with cloud and wind, and there was a great rain. But no Ahab rode to Jezreel, this time.

And as the waters raised until the homes began to rock, the people ran to the ark and pounded on the door, yes, they forgot how unbecoming their ways were, and screamed, "Noah, let us in!" But when God shuts the door, no one save God can open it.

The waters rose, covering the lowest hill; the people ran up the next hill, but, the waters followed them. Finally, they decide to climb yonder mountain, but, as they climbed the mountain, so did the flood, until we hear their shrieks becoming fainter and fainter. Some of you may say, Mr. McNeese is excited. God help us workers to get excited over the carelessness of the people.

How long has Jesus been striving with you? a week, a month, a year or ten years? Or maybe a life-time. Remember, God's Spirit will not always strive with you. Let me plead with you to make an altar at your bedside tonight, "Where will you spend eternity?"

WAXAHACHIE, TEXAS.

Dr. T. M. Hofmeister, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Ralph Leonard Morris, launched a tabernacle campaign here. The evangelist was greeted Sunday night by a packed house. They were heard over the radio at Oklahoma City, Wichita Falls and Ft. Worth, en route. Gov. "Alfalfa Bill" Murray greeted the party at Oklahoma City.

For Rent; Good six-room dwelling, two squares from Asbury College, either furnished or unfurnished. Reasonable price. Rev. Jos. H. Lewis, Wilmore, Ky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere.

While "There's a Rainbow Shining Somewhere" is an entirely new 1930 publication, its inspiring words and memorable melody are already indelibly impressed upon the song-consciousness of millions of sacred music lovers throughout the United States by reason of its introduction over the radio by MR. HOMER RODDHEAVY, known the world over as the foremost interpreter of gospel songs. Soloists everywhere have reported most favorable responses from their audiences when they use this inspiring song, because it brings a genuine heart message of comfort and cheer which people want to hear. Suitable for all types of services. Send for your copy now and give your audiences the benefit of this helpful song message. Per copy, postpaid, 40c.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

The End of The World, Is It Near?

BY REV. L. L. PICKETT

You will be delighted, informed and helped with this book of 119 pages. Some of the chapters are: "What it Means," "The World Passeth Away," "The Present Evil Age," "The God of this World," "The Strong Man Bound," "Dispensational Endings," "Overruling Wickedness," "Groaning Creation," etc. Paper bound, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

AYCOCK, JARRETTE.
(2923 T. Troese Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 13-27.

BECK, A. S. AND R. S.
Columbia, Ky., Sept. 5-Oct. 1.

BEVINS, K. J.
(1474 Stelzer Rd., Columbus, O.)
Open dates.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.
(Bluncy, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Laclede, Mo., Sept. 20-Oct. 11.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.

DICKERSON, H. N.
(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

EDWARDS, J. R.
(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN
Washington, D. C., Sept. 28-Oct. 11.
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 12-25.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
South Manchester, Conn., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Camden, N. J., Oct. 11-25.

FRYE, H. A.
(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
Grover, Pa., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.

FUGETT, C. B.
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 13-27.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 4-18.
Hornings, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GROGG, W. A.
(418 24th St., West, Huntington, W. Va.)
Barrett, W. Va., September.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Forest City, N. C., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Greensboro, Ga., Oct. 8-18.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.
(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)
Galena, Kan., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.

HEWSON, JOHN E.
(127 N. Chester Ave., Indianapolis, Ind.)
Open dates.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Sept. 5-29.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

HOOVER, L.
Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 6-27.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.
(Bethany, Okla.)
Bethany, Okla., Sept. 23-27.
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4-18.

JARRETT, W. HOWARD
(Song Evangelist and Trombonist, Spring Fork, W. Va.)

JOHNSON, H. C.
(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13-25.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Sheffield, Mass.)
Lewis, Dela., Sept. 19-Oct. 3.
Hollywood, Va., Oct. 4-17.
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 10.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Point Pleasant, N. J., Sept. 6-27.
Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Westport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.

LINCICOME, F.
Canton, Ohio, Sept. 6-20.
Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Troy, Ohio, Nov. 1-15.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12-25.

MCBRIDE, J. B.
(1234 N. Meador Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Tillamook, Ore., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILBY, E. C.
(Song Evangelist, Greensburg, Ky.)
Jackson, Miss., Sept. 9-29.

MINGLEDOERFF, O. G.
Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Whiting, Kan., Sept. 16-Oct. 4.
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.

PARKER, J. R.
(415 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Abbeville, S. C., Sept. 7-27.

REED, LAWRENCE.
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

REID, JAMES V.
(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Hot Springs, Ark., Sept. 14-27.
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 30-Oct. 4.
Independence, Kan., Oct. 5-18.

SPARKS, BURL
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Brooms Island, Md., Sept. 4-20.
Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

TOTTEN, ARCHIE J.
(411 Ninth St., Franklin, Pa.)
Open dates after January 1.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Delmar, Del., Sept. 8-27.
Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.

WILLIAMS, L. E.
(Wilmore, Ky.)
Open dates.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(304 South Main St., Somerset, Ky.)
Corbin, Ky., Sept. 10-Oct. 4.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES
in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

THE BEAUTY OF HOLINESS.

By Rev. G. W. Ridout.

This book is prepared especially to help people lead a holy life. It takes up the sevenfold beauty of the Christian life. It is the only book of its kind for holiness people. Price 75c.

PE7NTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.

"THE OLD RUGGED CROSS"

stands out at this season of the year like a mighty mountain peak. What could be more appropriate to place in the hands of a friend than a copy of The Story of The Old Rugged Cross? It is by the author of this world famed gospel song and contains data on how it came to be written. Also, fifteen GREAT SERMONETTES on various phases of the CROSS by outstanding American gospel preachers. In two bindings, 75c and $1.00.

BOUNTIFUL GRACE.

By Mrs. Woodford Talyor.

Introduction by Dr. John Paul. A new booklet just off the press. Life Story of one of the Chinese evangelists of the National Holiness Association Mission in China. In the five intensely interesting chapters of this booklet the reader will find a concrete example of the desperate poverty of the masses of "China's Millions," a vivid picture of the woes of her womanhood and a thrilling account of the power of divine grace to transform, bless and use one of her "weakest and poorest." You will want it! 25c per copy, five copies to one address for $1.00. Order from Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson: "It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public." Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY

Louisville, Kentucky.

A Feast of Good Things.

By J. M. HAMES

Contents.

The Mind of Jesus, The Spirit of Jesus, A Sweet Spirit, The Sealing of the Spirit, The Indwelling Christ, The Sunrise Experience, The Risen Life, The Fragrance of Holiness, Abounding Life, Power From On High, The Blood of Jesus, Progress in the Spiritual Life, We Would See Jesus, The Loss of the Spirit, The Ark of the Covenant, The Glory Departed, The Spirit Does Not Always Strive With Men.

Each of these chapters is complete in itself. The book is, as its title suggests, truly "A Feast of Good Things."

127 pages. Price $1.00

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15     |
| Covenantism, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                          | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                     | $18.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for . . . . . $8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Signed .....

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only 5½x8½x1 in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size 5½x8½ inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size 5½x8½x1¼ in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at $7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is 5½x8½. The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 3½x5½x1 inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size 4½x6½ in. Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size 5½x7¼, bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only 3¼x5¼x1 in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size 4¼x6½, only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 4½x6½. Regular net price $3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is 6x7¼x1 in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is 4¼x6½x1 in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size 5x7x1 in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price $5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size 2¼x4¼. We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                       |        |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....    | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....   | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....     | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson    | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....       | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....         | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry      |        |
| God, Jonathan Edwards .....           | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—        |        |
| Which? Robinson .....                 | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son    |        |
| Is He? Morrison .....                 | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                 | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....         | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest,     |        |
| Huff. ....                            | .20    |

Biography

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....   | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....               | .10 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life.. | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .10 |

For Children

|                                         |     |
|-----------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....      | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....          | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | .10 |

Evolution

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....    | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Un- |     |
| masked, Cooke .....                   | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech,     |     |
| Bryan. ....                           | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King      |     |
| of the Zoo, Shaddock .....            | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....      | .15 |

Hell

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell .....  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. |     |
| M. Taylor .....                       | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S.       |     |
| Taylor .....                          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly     | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt   | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....   | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper....    | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn.. | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....   | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....     | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should     |     |
| Not Dance, Smith .....               | .10 |

Holiness

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It    |     |
| Is—How It Is, Collins .....          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....   | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth ..... | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....       | .15 |
| Let We Forget, or What Say The       |     |
| Fathers? Miller .....                | .25 |

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer.....   | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing,   |     |
| Cundiff .....                         | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..   | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson.    | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent  |     |
| Jew, John Paul .....                  | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfec-  |     |
| tion, John Wesley .....               | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wes- |     |
| ley. ....                             | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..  | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power,       |     |
| Hames. ....                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our       |     |
| Scriptural Re-making, John Paul ..    | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Mor-     |     |
| risson .....                          | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper. ....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, |     |
| Abbie C. Morrow .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious       |     |
| Tongues, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian      |     |
| Science, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism,    |     |
| Ridout. ....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism,    |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day    |     |
| Adventism, Ridout .....              | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism,  |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The    |     |
| Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues,      |     |
| Budd. ....                           | .05 |

Baptism

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design  |     |
| and Subjects .....                   | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett ....   | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and De-   |     |
| sign, George H. Means .....          | .50 |

Devotional

|                                     |     |
|-------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, |     |
| Danskin. ....                       | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....   | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Ay-  |     |
| cock. ....                          | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....        | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                    |     |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper ..... | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....   | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will |     |
| Come Home to Roost, Culpepper....  | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, |     |
| Coward. ....                          | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....   | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers   | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events,   |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....  | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....       | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, |     |
| Seiss .....                          | .15 |

Assorted

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..   | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....            | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....  | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....   | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the        |     |
| Sabbath, Pickett .....               | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....  | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..   | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. |     |
| Sims. ....                           | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcom-    |     |
| ers, Culpepper .....                 | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie      |     |
| Ever Justifiable? Hunt .....         | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist,     |     |
| Wimberly .....                       | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Dis-  |     |
| robed, Taylor .....                  | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Bet- |     |
| ter Day? Culpepper .....             | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure,    |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to      |     |
| Keep It, George .....                | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....   | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly ....    | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....            | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....    | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart.. | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus...  | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....  | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....              | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abom-  |     |
| inations, Ridout .....               | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....            | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper .... | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained,   |     |
| Taylor. ....                         | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of       |     |
| Heaven, Mackrell .....               | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked
above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 39.

A WORD OF EXHORTATION.

By The Editor.

THERE is, as is well known, a great spiritual, as well as financial, depression in this nation, and like the financial depression, it spreads throughout the world. Unbelief and skeptical teaching on the one hand, with extravagant and fanatical teaching on the other hand, the gracious revival of the doctrine and experience of entire sanctification has suffered an ebb tide.

* * * *

We would not discourage the Lord's people, but we must look facts in the face. Many of those whose emotionalism masters their intelligence, have been drawn away into extravagant notions and silly actions, which have not only brought reproach but serious damage upon them. They have drifted out beyond all reason, giving the Scriptures all sorts of fanciful interpretation, and finally, many of them have lost faith in their teachers, their Bibles and themselves.

* * * *

On the other hand, there is a class of educated people who are not willing to bear the reproach that connects itself with the experience and life of the sanctified, and have undertaken to find a sort of neutral ground where they can seek a little warmth at the holiness fires, and yet escape the reproach of bearing the cross of him who went without the gates that he might sanctify the people with his own blood.

* * * *

We have come to a period in our religious history that calls for much prayer, a life of sobriety, devotion and service. One of the great needs of our time is an intelligent, consecrated, sanctified ministry, men whose lives are salt and light indeed; who have character that gives impetus and authority to their words. We are not intimating that there are no such men. Thank God, we have them, but there is great need for more of them. One encouraging feature of the situation that is not to be overlooked, is the fact that hosts of people in the churches are heart hungry; they are distressed, and realize that there is a wide difference between their religious experiences and the promises vouchsafed in the Word of God. They are ready to hear the gospel of a full salvation intelligently preached. The antics of some men in the pulpit or, the wit and humor of the brightest evangelist will not satisfy the hunger of their souls. They desire to be free from sin; they long for the abiding witness of the Holy Spirit.

* * * *

We can think of no higher privilege for man or angels than that of bringing to these hungry multitudes the gospel which is the power of God unto salvation, the Christ whose blood cleanseth from all sin; the blessed Holy Spirit who abides, guides, comforts and gives power which keeps the soul in peace and strengthens for fruitful service. If there ever was a time when men of God ought to take courage and gird themselves for battle royal, against sin and the rescue of human souls, that time is now.

Calvinistic preachers and teachers are just now making a special assault upon the holiness people. They accuse them of lack of prayer, of lack of evangelistic zeal, of lack of intelligent conception of truth, and of standards of practical living below that of the ordinary churchmember. There is renewed effort and attack upon the old Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification among Arminian teachers, yes, among Methodists.

* * * *

Very well! If these things can drive us closer to God for a fresh anointing of the Holy Spirit, and awaken in us a greater zeal, and impel us to rally about the cross of Christ, build up our camp meetings, stretch our tents, erect tabernacles and press with renewed vigor that Bible doctrine of full salvation from sin, so much the better. We need to be mightily aroused, to be stirred up and give ourselves to prayer, preaching, witnessing and pressing the revival of entire sanctification from all sin, with a great faith in the precious blood of Christ, and the presence and power of the Holy Spirit.

*****

THE BLIGHT OF CALVINISM.

*****

WE have just clipped from the Way of Faith, an editorial from the strong mind and trenchant pen of Dr. J. L. Brasher. He writes under the head of "A Revival of Calvinism." His editorial is so clear and, at the time, so very opportune, that I publish it in full. It reads as follows:

REVIVAL OF CALVINISM.

The sainted J. O. McClurken used to say to his people: "Rest like Calvinism were true, work like Arminianism were true." That was when there was an alert, and if need be, a militant Arminianism. Of late years thousands of our people and many of our preachers have so called a halt on all doctrine that the most of the Arminian wing of protestantism has gone to sleep in the house of doctrinal ignorance and does not know what they believe and are the victims of a thousand vagaries and sophistries. Not so with Calvinism. It is having quite a revival. The president of a certain popular Bible institute denies the possibility of freedom from all sin in so many words, declares that we cannot be fully saved from sin until death, and takes square issue with the Wesleyan interpretation of sanctification and treats it with none too friendly and charitable manner, even going so far as to deny the baptism with the Spirit subsequent to conversion or the new birth, indeed he makes it identical with the new birth. Its former leaders have held the subsequentness of the Baptism with the Spirit. Another prominent evangelist, pastor of a large tabernacle and often heard by radio audiences, we are informed, preaches what he calls "eternal security," which is only another name for the "final unconditional perseverance of the saints," and we are informed has said that one who is born of the Spirit could not be lost if they tried. That is as dangerous a teaching as could be proclaimed, and no Modernist could be worse. Also the old pagan philosophy of evil in matter revamped for so called Christian use, or "sin in the body" uneradicable until death is being proclaimed now with a vigor and freshness by several respectable bodies, such as it has not known for 30 or 40 years. Will such a renaissance be necessary to awaken our seeming idiotic complacency into real gospel action? If so, we welcome its return. The greatest revivals have come in times of greatest doctrinal contests. It seems now that the age-long battle must be fought over again. We hope that there is life enough left in Protestantism for a healthy fight. That will be wholesome. Anything before stagnation and modern schisms. Sam Jones used to say that "stagnation is next door to damnation." Personally, I rejoice at the prospect of a good theological fight." J. L. B.

There have been many scholarly and devout Calvinists in the world; some of them, no doubt, have made real contributions to evangelical religion. We do not, for a moment, question their piety or sincerity, but the ironclad decrees of Calvinism have been one of the most fearful misrepresentations of God, a stumblingblock and curse to humanity. Robert Ingersol, brilliant orator and blatant infidel, trained up under Calvinistic views of God, rebelled against the real God of the Bible, of love and salvation.

We cannot see how a thoughtful man could do otherwise. The creed of Calvinism declares that, from all eternity, some men and angels were foreordained to eternal life, and some to eternal death, and that the number was so definitely fixed that it would be impossible to add one thereto, or diminish one therefrom. Not only so, but they went farther and taught that God had fixed this horrible decree for his own glory. This teaching, which at one time was rife, has had much to do with the widespread infidelity in the eastern states, and modern liberalism in the church. Swinging away from the unreasonableness and harshness of such a God, men ceased to believe there was a God at all, and became atheists; in the church they became liberals, with almost no creed. They will preach you one unscripural doctrine today, and contradict with something equally un-biblical tomorrow.

A God represented by Calvinism, who created helpless immortal beings to be damned in hell fire and brimstone to all eternity, developed two very distinct classes of people: One class marked with unbelief and hatred against the Calvinistic God, and another class who, believing themselves to be the "elect," and their heavenly security fixed beyond any possible danger, come to regard themselves as a sort of "touch-me-not" religious aristocracy. Why should they worry over, associate with, or have any respect for a doomed class of human scrubs whom God created to damn in order that he and the "elect" might look upon their torture as one of their heavenly pastimes.

There is hardly anything more offensive to a dyed-in-the-wool Calvinist—and there are not a few in the world today—than the doctrine of free grace and full salvation. This writer has had ample opportunity to feel the bluntness of their discourtesy, and the keenness of their sarcasm, on more than one occasion. I could write an interesting booklet telling how that, at Bible Conferences, where

(Continued on page 8)

GOSPEL NOTES FROM ARGENTINA.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Argentina has a territory of nearly two million square miles and a population of over ten millions. Argentina could contain within its borders France, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and still have lots of room left over. In its population Italians seem to be in the majority, then Spaniards; English people have a large place and French, German, Portuguese, all nationalities are represented here. Turks, Scandinavians, Japanese, Chinese, etc.

Argentina, unlike most of the other South American Republics, still holds Roman Catholicism as the State religion. The President must be a Catholic and upon his inauguration must go to the Romish Cathedral to get the blessing (?) of the Church. It seems highly ridiculous that such an enlightened, educated, advanced Republic still bows to Rome and the taxes of the people go to keep up the Romish church and its corrupt priesthood. Time is not far distant before this will be changed. The Socialists are joining in the movement to separate Church and State, and possibly it won't be long before separation will be effected. Of course, the politicians who want power are afraid to tackle the problem because the Romanists have such a controlling vote.

Buenos Aires is the third greatest city in the world and the largest in the Western Hemisphere. One writer has said: "Buenos Aires is totally dissimilar from any other place in the whole continent of South America, just as Argentina is dissimilar from all her neighbors. It is more like Europe, partly because it has the largest area whose climate attracts European immigration. The immense bulk of the buildings reminds one of London, their heaviness of Berlin, their elaborateness of Rome."

Buenos Aires has been called the garden city of the world because of the number of its plazas. It has also been called the Paris of South America. The big city is unlike any other city in the world, but, as I see it, parts of it remind me of London, other parts of Paris, other sections are like New York and Chicago. Its streets abound with traffic, street cars, busses, etc., and it has one of the finest underground railways in the world and it is constantly at work enlarging its subway. The city is stretching out into the suburbs and, where a few years ago there were open fields, now there are new sections built up with modern homes and business places. Buenos Aires will grow on and become a modern Babylon of the Western World and a city without a soul, if we do not do quicker work in attempting to evangelize her.

Buenos Aires, though a big city like Philadelphia, has about forty Roman Catholic churches and a dozen or so of Protestant churches, (all of them small), while Philadelphia has nearly 700 Protestant churches and some ninety Roman Catholic churches. This shows how slow the growth of the Protestant Church has been, and how much work needs to be done in order to evangelize such a big city of over a million souls.

II.

South America, with all its progress, has not got away from the Revolution as the one and only cure all for political corruption and change of Government. The ballot has not yet arrived at a point of safety. The Revolution in Argentina was brought on because the corruption of the ruling power was such a stench that the people resolved to stand it no longer. In 1928 the storm broke over the head of Irigoyen, the corrupt President and leader. Graft, murder, crime of every sort was rampant. Officials were becoming rich, misappropriation of funds, speculations of every sort were practiced, pay rolls were padded with people drawing two and three salaries, daughters of officials were paid as school teachers when they never enter the school, Custom House officials and Post Office people all engaged in the rage for riches while the rakings were good. The National Bank had been so overdrawn by the corruptionists that I was told if the Revolution had not broken out on Saturday the Bank would have had to close up on Monday. Fortunately, the Revolution was a "success," the provisional President proclaimed Monday for holiday thus giving the Banks three days to find themselves and come to the rescue of the National Bank which was at the point of total collapse. Argentina has now a provisional President, a military man, who holds office till the next election. I understand the provisional government is doing a fine cleaning up work and endeavoring to put the nation's house in order.

III.

I was reading in my Wesley hymn book this morning these lines:

"For thee my thirsty soul doth pant,
While in this desert land I live;
And hungry as I am, and faint,
Thy love alone can comfort give.

"In a dry land, behold I place
My whole desire on thee O Lord;
And more I joy to gain thy grace,
Than all earth's treasures can afford."

Argentina is a land of plenty, temporally, but a land of famine, spiritually. The country has been built up without much regard for God or Bible or the Gospel. Buenos Aires is a combination of Paris, London, Madrid and Chicago. Mix all these elements together and you will not have much of a godly mixture. I fear a good deal of our Protestant work carried on here is too much after the formal; the conventional, educational, social, and philanthropic movements are many. Churches are few for such a big city and none of them, save the Catholic, are large. Our missionaries have turned greatly to education and organization. I am told that the Southern Baptists are making the most progress. They are strongly evangelical and have no partnership with modernism which has quite a grip here. The Methodists and Disciples have a Union Seminary; the Southern Baptists have their own Seminary. Most of the Union Seminaries are badly tainted with modernism, and when the Methodists and Disciples can train their young preachers in the same school the outlook is not encouraging to Methodists of the John Wesley school. Of course, in the U. S. A. our Methodist Theological Seminaries are modernistic, but Argentina is badly in need of preachers who are truly "twice born" and baptized with the Holy Spirit, Argentina needs revivalists and arousers. It would be an unspeakable blessing if a native born prophet would arise and carry on a ministry of sacrifice and service, such as Kagawa of Japan is giving to his country.

IV.

Our meetings in Buenos Aires were arranged by Rev. F. Ferguson, of the Church of the Nazarene, and the week's meetings were held in various parts of the city and in the suburbs. Brother and Sister Ferguson certainly have done good work since coming to this big city and it is indeed a fine thing to have a distinctly holiness work here. The full salvation message draws to the meetings people of the various churches. I have had in my congregations preachers of the Baptist, Brethren, and Episcopal churches and people from the Methodist and other evangelical bodies. Among his preachers Brother Ferguson has Miss Lucia C. Garcia, a well educated young woman who has done considerable work in translation of English books into Spanish. I was delighted to find that "The Christian Secret of a Happy Life" is to be had in Spanish. Brother Ferguson informs me that the first edition is nearly exhausted and he hopes to get hold of finances enough to put out another edition.

It is inspiring to hear Mrs. Ferguson tell a bit of her spiritual history. She has been a missionary in South America for twenty-five years. She was a Kentucky girl, went to Scarritt for her training, her health broke down and she was sent home to die; doctor gave her up. Some women were sent to come and lay her out and all hope had gone, but her faith in God and her call to the mission field never wavered and with a desperate faith she rose from her dying bed and went into the dining room and asked for something to eat. The doctor broke down and cried and the family praised the Lord. As she told the story I thought, well it is true God wants "dead" people on the mission field, that is, people who have died to sin and self and the world, to popularity, to programs, and then made alive by the work of the Spirit of God in saving and sanctifying power.

Rev. Frank Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson have spent twenty-five years in South America and are by this time tried and veteran missionaries. They stick steadfastly to their job and God has signally blessed them. They were brought up in Southern Methodism and came to South America in connection with McClurkan's work. For a number of years they have been the leaders in the Nazarene work. Their work has grown to fine proportions. They have a fine band of Argentine preachers and mission workers. I was agreeably surprised at the extent of the work. They have three congregations in Buenos Aires. They have work in Merlo, Rodriguez, Castelar, Moreno, Libertad, Lujan, Moron, Sarandi and San Fernando. This missionary and his wife carry on their own church work and pastorate in the city and superintend all the work besides. This means that they live a life full of activities and responsibilities and are always on the go.

V.

As I think of Argentina joined to the corrupt Roman Catholic Church, the problem of saving her soul becomes more and more acute. While she has grown in splendor in her cities and in wealth, morally, the rottenness is frightful; cultured, brilliant, pleasure-loving, unscrupulous, nothing counts but money and to love beauty and drink deeply at the fountains of sin—this is the thing worth while only to a multitude. What a blessing to Argentina would be a man the size and type of Savonarola. He cries out to the people of Florence, "Your life is the life of swine." "Bring out your vanities." The cry goes forth as the prophet exhorts the people to burn their idols, geegaws, evil books, pictures, trinkets, etc. As Savonarola preaches, the crowds are too small for St. Marks, he moves to the Cathedral and he smites them right and left, sparing neither priest or magistrate or peasant. Lorenzo, so fond of art and beauty and learning and eloquence, brings the Monk to Florence thinking he will be a fine decoration for St. Mark; but a prophet refuses to be a decoration; he becomes a declaration! He hits sin hard and heavy. Lorenzo squirms on his silken couch under the burning words of the prophet. He seeks to tame him and calls on Savonarola with sweet words, but the Monk refuses to see him. The crowd increases to hear Savonarola preach; people get out of bed in the middle of the night and form in line outside the Cathedral door. Cold rain nor wind hold them back; they are thrilled and melted and broken under the prophet's words! The man of God speaks and the people listen. Lorenzo is dying; he sends for Savonarola to give him absolution. The Monk demands three things of Lorenzo in order to get forgiveness and God's pardon. First, a great and living faith. Second, restore his stolen property. Third, give Florence back her free government. Lorenzo refuses the last and dies unforgiven and in his sins. But the Monk preaches on. Bonfires kindle all over the city where people repenting of their sins are burning their vanities.

IS CHRIST A MEMBER OF YOUR HOUSEHOLD?

LaFayette A. Trousdale.

"I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him."—Gen 18:19

THE family continues from creation, and is the oldest institution in the world. In it centers the peace and prosperity of the race. It is the chief cornerstone of society, the church and the government. Destroy the family and the home and you destroy real society, government, and the home. The home is the direct center of human agency.

Family religion implies daily family worship, for no home can realize the true ideal, nor attain to heaven's richest blessings by neglecting it; God blesses, and delights in the home that honors and worships him. Prayer builds walls of protection about the home and family, sheltering and keeping by his love. It is a great risk for members of the family to go into the cold world to take up the duties and responsibilities of the day; to meet the dangers, temptations, changes and tests of all kinds without asking their heavenly Father's guidance, protection and help.

There is reason to believe that in many houses, family worship is neglected; and that in the intense whirl and excitement of these busy times the neglect is becoming more common. In this age of revolutionized home life, lack of family discipline, it is seldom one is entertained in a home where God is honored in true family worship. Is it any wonder that we hear the lamentations of parents because of straying children, when there is no religious altar in the home, and parents have forgotten God and will not call upon him?

The success of the church in the world cannot be realized as it should be, without the ennobling influences of the home with its religious altar, nor without the strengthening, purifying influences of home virtues and affections, the development and educational influences of home discipline. Without it society would disintegrate and the State relapse into the vilest and most pernicious forms of anarchy and lowest barbarism. Both history and experience corroborate this.

The Christian home is the feeder of the Church, the protector of the State and the conservator of public peace and order. Let man demoralize the home and this weakens the government, strikes down true patriotism, sows the seeds of disorder, which will bring a harvest of corrupt influences of the heart; anxious nights and days, ruined constitutions and blasted years, all because of the neglect of religious training in the home. A mistake here often means years of disgrace and dishonor; a mistake for eternity.

There must be a radical change in the home life if we are to stem the tide of materialism, worldly-mindedness, sinful, pleasure-loving and demoralization that is rushing in upon our homes, carrying away the religious devotions of the home and, with it, many of the fathers and mothers, sons and daughters. Is there any agency more powerful for good than the Christian home, where love regulates all things? Keep the religion of Abraham's God, of our God, and the religion of Jesus Christ in the home and you keep religion in the churches, schools and nations.

No one should fail to see the benefits of the educational influence in the assembly of the family for prayer where, through childhood and youth, the custom has been regularly observed and will continue through life. It should bind children to Jesus Christ as their Saviour, and help to sweeten their home life. The memories of the old family altar, with father and mother there and the open family Bible, and all members of the family present, will remain after the home walls have crumbled, and the home voices are hushed, and will lead the prodigal son and daughter back to the Christ of the old parental home.

True family worship influences every part of the household. It cultivates tenderness, settles differences, and quells anger; it quiets impatience, and subdues evil passions. Hearts that are drawn together daily at the feet of Jesus cannot drift very far apart, for frictions of the day are forgotten in the heavenly song and prayer and the reading of God's holy Word. They feel the divine touch of love and kindness.

The family altar wondrously hallows and sweetens home fellowships and inspires to new fellowship, strength, and courage; it comforts in sorrow and is a shield against temptation; it smoothes out the wrinkles of care, and enables us to bear our burdens; it quickens religious sentiment and keeps the home fires burning on the altar of every Christian heart.

It is a sad truth that there are many homes of church members without the family altar. "No time!" Father and mother and other members of the family are compelled to hurry through with their breakfast and off to work, and at night they are too tired and weary, or must be off to the movies, bridge parties, or this and that pleasure; the family is scattered and the time for family worship has gone. No time to save the children? To save them from years of dissipation, wretchedness of mind? No time to train the infant faculties for an eternal manhood and womanhood? No time to throw safeguards around the honor and integrity of the boys and girls of our homes! No time to shield the character of the girls from reproach and shame! Better take time to start a child for the eternal home. Better begin NOW! Your young people should start home life right, by having your family worship, and Christ as your Guest. And you, who once had family worship, but not now, renew your covenant with God; gather your loved ones about you today. They will not be with you long, for how quickly they pass away from the old home, some to other places, and some to the grave and eternity. Before you realize it you, as parents, will be left alone and your religious opportunities of the home will have passed forever. Not some other time! Be quick! Be quick! Now is the time for you to begin the Christian life, family piety and the family altar. Begin today, tonight. When you come to your homes, take your Bible, read a selection, sing and pray, morning and evening if you can. Make it a training school for the family, and when the habit for family worship is fixed, you will find time for it and you will take great pleasure in it and benefit by it. You will never think of raising a family without it. If you keep the fire burning for God's sake, for the sake of others, for your own sake, God will be pleased with you as he was with Abraham.

Don't forget NOW!

Fasting and Praying For a Revival.

REV. WALTER E. ISENHOUR.

IT is a hard time to interest people in their salvation and the kingdom of God. Perhaps our country has never faced a more serious condition spiritually than we are facing today. Lukewarmness and coldness seem to have settled down over the greater part of our churches, until only a few, comparatively speaking, are spiritual, wide-awake, prayerful and alive in God's service. So few are getting souls saved. What is to be done? Here are the teeming multitudes that are lost, and facing a devil's hell, with little interest shown them on the part of those who profess to be Christians, except in the holiness churches, and among the holiness people, scattered up and down the land.

We are sorely in need of a revival of old-time religion. It is the only thing that is going to save us. We have tried education, only to find that the more education we get, generally speaking, the less real, vital religion we have. It ought not to be so. Only a few schools today actually stand for the Bible in its fullness. The most of them are either opposed to sanctification and holiness, or else silent on it. Some of the greatest theological schools of the day are the most bitter enemies of holiness to be found anywhere throughout the land. They are sending out a host of ministers to fill our pulpits that know nothing of the blessing of sanctification, the baptism of the Holy Ghost. Many of them preach against it.

We know nothing that is going to save the situation but real fasting and prayer on the part of God's people. Education is failing; a highly polished and cultured ministry is failing; well trained choirs and fine churches are failing; money is failing; money can't save us; organization isn't saving us. The condition is deplorable. Crime, suicide, manslaughter and murder is all about us. Let God's people wake up. Let the church go on her knees, fast, wrestle, intercede, pray, cry mightily unto God and see what will happen.

We believe that where many holiness preachers today are failing is along this line. They preach good, sound sermons, but they have little effect. We believe they fail to fast and pray as they should, and have their congregations do likewise. The fasting, praying, wrestling, interceding preacher and congregation have revivals. Weeping penitents flock to the altar and pray through to victory, and believers are graciously sanctified. Wonderful opportunities in meetings today are lost, simply because we are lacking in fasting and prayer. The greatest revivals of my ministry have been those where there was the most fasting and praying. Conviction came upon the people, they came to the "mourner's bench" in dead earnest, and God moved mightily upon them to their salvation and sanctification. The fasting, praying minister and church can have real revivals yet. Let's enter into the closet of prayer and shut the door, stay away from our tables more, hold to God's unchanging hand and become real soul-winners. The God of Elijan still lives. He answers by fire when his people fast and pray. Amen.

BUILDING BATTLEMENTS.

W. M. Young, Ph. D., D. D.

"When thou buildest a new house, then thou shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thy house, if any man fall from thence." Deut. 22:8.

HE flat-roofed houses of the East needed battlements for the prevention of accidents. The battlement was a low wall surrounding the roof to keep people from falling to injury or to death.

Battlements might also be used for bulwarks of protection against enemies.

The command teaches us concern for the welfare of others, and especially a care for those of our own household. It teaches that prevention is better than cure. It is better to prevent accident than to heal a wound or a broken limb. It is better to prevent disease than to build hospitals. It is good to heal the wounded man found lying by the Jericho Road and to take care of him until he is well, but even better to make the road safe for travellers. It is better to make the home such a center of Christian influence that boys and girls will go out from it to be Christian men and women, than to try to rescue the old derelicts who have made shipwreck of faith and a good conscience. It is better to Christianize the world than to wait till Bolshevism and heathenism make war upon Christianity.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF MAKING BATTLEMENTS.

While in a city restaurant on a second floor, I heard a noise, and discovered that a young lady had slipped and fallen to the first floor breaking out some of her teeth and sustaining terrible injuries. There was no battlement, and no hand-rail for protection.

Could we see the wreck and ruin which comes to our fellow-beings because Christian homes have not built battlements to protect from the great evils of sin, we would construct battlements at any cost.

BUILD BATTLEMENTS AGAINST THE LURE OF DRINK.

Our homes and our country should build battlements to save from the influence of the intoxicating cup.

In a richly appointed mansion, indulgent parents were serving wine and leading in toasts while their children were being taught to drink. Many years later, a patrol wagon backed up against the sidewalk and the police were gathering up poor derelicts of men and women who had slept all night on the park benches. One wretched creature with disheveled hair and wild from debauch, was taken and forced into the dark wagon, and hastened away to the jail. She was the belle of the children's party in the beautiful home where she tasted her first glass of wine.

BATTLEMENTS TO SAVE FROM THE LURE OF THE STAGE.

"Lo! where the stage, the poor, degraded stage, Holds its warped mirror to a gaping age."
—C. Sprague.

Dear to my heart was a bright, happy Christian family; the parents were leaders in the church and the community. The father played sweetly the little organ in the village home and led the choir in the church. One of the girls helped to put on a little church theatrical, and the people said she made a great success of the affair. She wanted then to go on the stage. Her father and mother had always allowed her to attend the theater, but now they objected to her becoming an actress. It was too late; she left home, married an actor, traveled from town to town, began to drink and to forge checks; she finally left her husband and became a wanderer and a vagabond.

Perhaps we are all willing to admit that the theatre and the movie might be used as a great educational and uplifting force; but the movie we have to do with is the movie we have, and who will say that it does not set before our youth low standards of morals and fill their minds with vile thoughts and even incite to crime and lawlessness?

HEROES OF VICE.

Mr. Hamlin Garland says: "The drama today is a reflection of the condition of the world as left by the aftermath of the great war.... The idle, profiteering, thoughtless public wanted to be amused.... the playwright who could attract and entertain the mob became the lion of the hour. He gave them plays in which prostitutes were the heroines.... The Red-Light district was transferred from the 'Tenderloin' to the stage.... The youth just out of college, the virgin of blushing sixteen, is shown the life of the harlot in all its unsavory, hideous details.

"A certain class of women playgoers like to see the prostitute on the stage. Perhaps they see in the hectic heroine what they might have been in other circumstances. Weak, unmoral, barren of principle, they let their empty-headed daughters imitate the harlot in dress and manner and their sons go to ruin for her."

BATTLEMENTS TO SAVE FROM THE LURE OF THE DANCE.

It was a happy home; the children were brought up in the Sunday school, where they learned the great lessons of truth from faithful teachers. But the indulgent parents built no battlement to save their children from the lure of the dance hall. The girls went first to the little friendly dancing parties; but one of them became passionately fond of the dance. She did not remain content long with the little neighborhood dance; by and by she was whirling in the great public dance-hall with men who were not fit to be companions of a Christian girl. She was frequenting a dance-hall where the janitor said he found more liquor bottles each morning in the ladies' rooms than in those of the men. Is it not wise for parents to build battlements of prejudice in the minds of their children against the degrading influence of the dance?

BATTLEMENTS TO SAVE FROM VILE COMPANIONS

Parents and others need to build battlements to save their loved ones from falling among vile companions. Human society is like a seamless coat; individuals, nations, and age are woven together like the cloth in the loom. Individual righteousness and individual sin are never purely individual. One apple tainted with rot, rots the barrel of apples. Our young people must have companionship; their chums often make or break them. Young people who grow up in good homes, when they go out into the world, find that there are a thousand hands outstretched to receive them. It makes us shudder lest they be not able to steer between Scylla and Charybdis. With little experience and so many temptations, will they be able to make good?

Could we stand today in some strategic spot and see the stream of human souls going down to destruction, and realize the shame and woe of it all, and think of how many of them were caught in the maelstrom of evil companionship, we should shrink back in horror. We must build battlements of high morals against the lure of evil companions.

BATTLEMENTS FOR THE PROTECTION OF THE HOME.

The American home is in great danger perhaps as never before. The lure of vile literature, the pictures that are thrown upon the screen, the cigarettes that are almost thrust upon the young, the liquor that is being smuggled into colleges and fraternities, the low ideals of marriage and the conjugal relation. Young people who have not been fortified with the idea of the sacredness of the home, get married without due thought concerning the responsibility of it all. At first the new life seems like a joy-ride in Wonderland, but they do not ride very far till a tire explodes and they have run short of power. They thought they were going on a merry-go-round, but soon the music died out. They thought they were going up on a Ferris-wheel, but soon the exhilaration ceased and they dropped to old levels, and unless they are fortified by prayer and love, marriage will be a failure.

BATTLEMENTS OF PRAYER AND FAITH IN GOD.

Battlements may be built by prayer. At a certain group meeting I asked the people in a large gathering how many of them were brought up in homes where there was family prayer, and a great many raised their hands. Then I asked how many now live in homes where there is family prayer, and a few hands were raised. It is evident that not many homes are fortified with the family altar.

Perhaps some Hebrews did not build battlements because of their cost; but they might better do without other furnishings in the home than risk precious lives without battlements. It may be costly to build battlements of prayer, and Sunday school attendance, and church going. If you have prayer and Bible reading in the morning, it will be difficult to get all the family ready, and if you worship in the evening, some of the family will want to hurry away; but better to break through all obstacles in order to put around your family a wall of prayer.

CONVERSION A GREAT BATTLEMENT.

We may build walls of prayer, and Sunday school and church influences, and all the holy prejudices against evil we can, and yet if our children are not soundly converted, born from above, the good ethical teachings may all fail. It is only safe when they are in the possession of him who says: "I give unto them eternal life, and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand. My Father which gave them me is greater than all, and no man can pluck them out of my Father's hand."

“THAT THOU BRING NOT BLOOD UPON THY HOUSE.”

This is serious business. The penalty for not building battlements may be very terrible. It is an awful thing to be guilty of the destruction of a human life. But how much more terrible to be guilty of the eternal destruction of human souls! How could we forgive ourselves if we caused the innocent to perish by our neglect? How could God forgive us?

Fathers, mothers, are there dangerous places around your homes? Are there neighbors who are in danger because of your neglect? Have we done all we could to prevent any one from falling from our home?

Not Theories, but Power, The Need of the Hour.

C. W. RUTH, EVANGELIST.

"The kingdom of God is not in word, but in power." 1 Cor. 4:20.

WORDS, words, words,—just words,—in fine spun theories,—weary us. Recently we were present, and “listened in” at what was called a “Summer school”; a “Ministerial retreat, established for the training of Christian workers, where eminent “Divines” and “College Professors” were supposed to tell the “rising generation” how to “do the job,” in various departments of Christian service. We were especially interested in the matter of evangelism and soul-saving. And while these learned men told us some very nice and ornate things, and gave us many beautiful theories, we could scarce refrain from asking how many revivals they had conducted, and how many souls they had led to Christ during the last year by the use and application of their fine spun theories? In other words, we could but feel it might have been especially helpful for them to “show us” how to do it, instead of simply telling us how to do it. A practical demonstration of a theory is usually more helpful and convincing, than the cold theory itself. Indeed, we have known some very fine theories to be utterly useless, and wholly impracticable, when it came to “delivering the goods.” And especially is this true where the human qualifications and manipulations are stressed, while the spiritual qualifications and the divine requirements are either ignored or forgotten. Truly, “Great men are not always wise.” Job 32:9.

We are not only glad, but eager, to take instructions and to learn how to do it, from those who have tried out their own theories and demonstrated their practicability; but we cannot enthuse when men who have never been known to be evangelistic themselves, and who have not been successful in soul-winning, come with an air of superiority and undertake to tell others how to do it. It is too much like the dear "old maids" and "old bachelors," instructing parents how to raise their children; and it is then that we think of the words of the Apostle Paul, when he said, "The wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness." "And again, the Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise that they are vain. The foolishness of God is wiser than men." (1 Cor. 3:19, 20; 1:25). And how the apostle declared he "came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom;" and “determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ, and him crucified,” saying, “My speech and my preaching was not with enticing (persuasive; marg.) words of man’s wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power; that your faith should not stand in the wisdom of men, but in the power of God.” “For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.” 1 Cor. 2:4, 5:4-20.

Sure enough! a bullet might be very properly and correctly manufactured—correct in substance, in size, in form,—and highly polished, but it would accomplish nothing on the field of battle, or elsewhere, if there was no “power” back of the bullet. Even so, human theories, and human programs, and human manipulations—however entertaining—are all sure to fail without the power of the Holy Ghost; he is the power, and he alone can properly qualify men for soul-winning. No man can have the Holy Ghost in order to use him; nor can men formulate plans and programs and expect the Holy Spirit to bless and use them; but instead, we need to become so utterly consecrated and abandoned to him that he can use us; and he will use all who are thus yielded, and clean.

Jesus did not say to his disciples, "Go on a vacation and conduct a 'Ministerial Retreat,' and some of you who have obtained College degrees, expostulate and lecture on soul-winning for the instruction and training of the rest." No sir, Jesus merely said, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men;" Matt. 4:19; and to give them their full equipment, Jesus said, "Behold I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye. . . . until ye be endued with power from on high." "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." Luke 24:49; Acts 1:8. And when they received the Holy Ghost they had the power, and the revival was right there. Hence it would seem that what is needed to-day is a "Ministerial Retreat" where men will "tarry until,"—until they receive this 'promise of the Father,' and this enduement of power from on high. Then it will be seen that "not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called: but God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty; and base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are: that no flesh should glory in his presence." 1 Cor. 1:26-29. No; we do not believe that God places any premium on ignorance; neither do we read that he places any premium on a brilliant intellect; but he does say, "Be ye clean, that bear the vessels of the Lord," and "Tarry until. . . . ye be endued with power from on high." Isa. 52:11; Luke 24:49.

Some of the elements and characteristics of this spiritual power are clearly set forth in the Scriptures, as follows: Micah testified, "Truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the Lord." (Micah 3:8). Paul testified, "When I am weak then am I strong." 2 Cor. 12:10. Isaiah said: "He giveth power to the faint: and to them that have no might he increaseth strength.... They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." Isa. 40:29, 31. Nehemiah declared, "The joy of the Lord is your strength." (Ch. 8:10). Job declared, "He that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger." (Ch. 17:9). Hence we see, "As the man is, so is his strength." Judges 8:21.

The question of power, so far as the human is concerned, is determined by our relationship and adjustment to him who is the power. Even as an electric motor car might have all the latest fixings and furnishings, and every appliance known to the scientist and electrician, for the successful operation and movement of the car, but if not properly related and adjusted to the power-house; if the car should be off the track, or the trolley off the wire, the car will not move; all the books and lectures on electricity, and all the oratory and eloquence of speeches delivered by the most eminent scientists, and electrical engineers, and all the theories, and advice, and dogmas, and creeds in the world will not operate that car successfully; the motorman may call for power, and manipulate the car in any way he chooses, but until he places the car on the track and the trolley on the wire, all schemes and efforts to properly operate that car will fail; but when the car is properly related and adjusted to the Dynamo at headquarters, all the motorman needs to do, is to exercise a little faith, and in obedience to a law inherent in the power, touch a little button, and the power needed is at hand. The success or failure of the undertaking was determined by the relation and adjustment or lack of fit, to the power-house. Even so, "This is the word of the Lord . . . not by might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts." Zech. 4:6.

Even the preaching of the gospel itself, in the mere letter of the word, will not suffice; for in 2 Cor. 3:6, we read, "The letter killeth, but the Spirit giveth life." Hence Paul says, "Our sufficiency is of God; who also hath made us able ministers of the New Testament: not of the letter, but of the Spirit." 2 Cor. 3:5, 6. But whenever the gospel is vitalized and energized by the Spirit, it becomes "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." Rom. 1:16. This was the secret of success in Apostolic preaching, for as Peter tells us, they "preached the gospel with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven." 1 Pet. 1:12. Ah, that is what is needed—fewer human programs, and fewer theological essays, and more displays and manifestations of the supernatural in the pulpits of today; this is the crying need of the hour. Men may be doctrinally sound, and even contend for the "fundamentals," and yet be fundamentally "sound asleep," concerning the vital and most essential things of the Spirit. We would suggest that the next "Ministerial Retreat" be planned for less talk, and fewer human programs, and the time be occupied by obeying the Master's command, in "Tarrying until" there is the enduement of power from on high. "For the kingdom of God is not in word but in power." 1 Cor. 4:20.

1 Cor. 4:20: We would insist that there is a wide difference between an entertainment, arranged according to human programs, and then asking the Lord to be pleased to come over and bless and prosper our programs, and the carrying out of the divine programs in the preaching of the gospel "with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven," which alone can bless and save the people. What do all human theories and programs avail so long as men continue to ignore God's plan and the divine program? "For the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power." 1 Cor. 4:20.

"Power to heal the leper,

Power to raise the dead.

Power to fill the empty pots with oil:

Is waiting for the worker.

Who in Jesus' steps will tread.

And leave his life of ease for one of toil."

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

If you are a Sunday school teacher and pressed for time, you will always find Arnold's Commentary full of rich spiritual truths on the S. S. Lesson. You can't afford to be without it at this closing-out price of 50 cents.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt.
Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

DRY DADS.

REV. EDWARD JEFFRIES REES.

GIVE While You Live" are the words of a slogan upon which my eyes chanced to fall. "Tis better to give while we live than it is to make provision for distribution after we are dead. This is what my dad has done; he gave while he lived. He gave something to his children which will last longer than gold. He gave something to his community which will outlive bank accounts. He gave a godly character, a moral influence, a crusading spirit in behalf of all moral reforms.

Under the able direction of Prohibition Director Woodcock, the largest dry army ever seen on the face of the earth is now in the field. But I would assemble another force, a parental army, an army of Dry Dads—dads who are not wet, not even moist, but who are dry, bone dry, dry as the Sahara, dry as powder and as powerful when ignited by concrete convictions founded upon moral integrity and belief in an intelligent Christian cause.

DRY IN THE HOME.

My father was dry in the home. His children did not have to ask him where he stood on the liquor question. I have heard him say, "I was trained at my mother's knee on these matters." The training which he received at that maternal knee in Mississippi bore fruit in Tennessee. In his presence, a friend, who stated that he "did not use liquor," said, "I wish there were a law in this state (referring to North Carolina) whereby a man could keep medicinal liquor in his home without breaking the law." My father's candid and modest reply was, "I've never had any liquor in my home since 1875. I don't need it, and I don't want it."

One of the most potent recollections of my middle teens was a morning walk to Sunday school with my father, the first time that I had worn long trousers. This was the sermon that my father preached, not knowing the lingering effects it would have upon his ninth child:

"Son,

'Vice is a monster of so frightful mien,
As, to be hated, needs but to be seen;
Yet seen too oft, familiar with her face,
We first endure, then pity, then embrace.'

You will realize how truthful this is as you grow older." And then his Sunday morning sermon ceased without further exhortations. Perhaps he did not know that Alexander Pope said those words in his Essay on Man, but he knew that a growing, adolescent lad needed them.

At family prayers, when Scripture verses were quoted by the group, more than once I have heard him say, "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging." The sight of the Union Signal in his hand was a most familiar scene. Yes, my dad was dry in the home.

DRY IN THE COMMUNITY.

My father was dry in the community. What he was in the home, he was outside of the home. It is my conviction that if we would solve the problem of the home and prohibition, we would the sooner reach a happy solution of the problem of the world and prohibition. From the dryness of the home life father went into the wetness of the community life. Before Tennessee went dry he helped to make his county of Lincoln dry. He not only lived his dry ideals, but he worked them. He was not willing to sing dry on Sunday, and to sleep on the job during the week days.

Because of this, bootleggers always knew that he was against their business, that he was fighting their game, not under cover, but in the open. He was not an enemy but a friend who went to them personally—often against the advice of his children and friends, lest harm might befall him—and counselled with them, suggesting one of two actions: Either stop the business, or leave town. Both actions have resulted from his advice. This kind of work demanded "backbone." My father had just that requirement.

Such activity brought, as the natural result, both praise and criticism. An officer found liquor in the basement of my father's store. The colored porter was found guilty of bootlegging and so confessed. Enemies accused dad of being in the business. When he opened his store door on a certain morning, just after this basement discovery, he found a note from wet forces accusing him. Later, in the presence of the judge, he dared any man to come out in public and place his finger on any act of his which might connect him with the basement revelation. The courtroom was as silent as death. "Where are those thine accusers?" He challenged them to place their finger on any act of his private or public life which would in any way incriminate him. That was twenty-five years ago and his challenge has not yet been accepted.

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dries do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

In Stockholm, under the Bratt rationing system, the arrests for drunkenness were 182 per year 100,000 population; in Toronto, under government sale, 88; in Montreal, 63; while in New York, with alcohol available only by lawless means, the annual arrests of drunks per 100,000 population were only 18.—Current History, quoted in International Student, April, 1931, Washington, D. C.

PRACTICING THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Temperance Sunday rolled around. In Sunday school the lesson was ably taught by the teacher of the class. My father asked permission to say a word. Modestly he arose, and challenged the men of the class to continue to give their support to the dry officers, and to demand, as far as was in their power, that the mayor and the board of aldermen close up all "joints" which were carrying on an illegal business. As an immediate result, the mayor summoned him to appear and "state his case" before the board, repeating what he had said in the Sunday school class. Father did not flinch, but with the heroic spirit which was bred and born in him he told his story, and went further to add that "the man who bought bootleg liquor was just as guilty as the man who made and sold it." He so sanely and so truthfully put the facts before the board of aldermen that none dared challenge his integrity or the truth of his statements.

After chewing tobacco (only one plug a week) for thirty-five years, my father decided that he should stop. He said he did so, "by the help of God." The lack of the use of tobacco caused him to put on some twenty pounds of extra weight. The wets said, "Yes, yes, he's fattening up because he's drinking beer." These false accusations, these mockings and scoffings did not cause him to side-track. His friends knew the cause of the increased weight.

All the while he stood like a rock in support of the Lincoln County Woman's Christian Temperance Union, urging the women on and on; advising them not only to pass resolutions, but to follow these up with action. Yes, my father was dry in the community life. This dryness took him to the polls.

DRY AT THE POLLS.

My father was dry at the polls. How could he be otherwise? The dry candidate always received his support. Morality meant more with him in the casting of his vote than party. With all due respect for my many friends who always "vote the straight ticket," I am compelled to have a great deal of sympathy for them. The man who always votes "the straight ticket" is compelled to vote for some very unworthy candidates. This conviction of mine is due largely to the parental influence of my childhood.

It happened that Mr. Hooper, a Republican, was once a candidate for the governor's office in Tennessee. Election day came, and when, at its close, my father came home, he was asked by his youthful son, "Dad, for whom did you vote?" The reply came back, "For Mr. Hooper, son, for I am of the opinion that he is the better and cleaner man of the two."

"Well," I replied, "isn't Mr. Hooper a Republican?" "Yes, son, but in my opinion, he will make Tennessee a good governor." That successfully converted the lad to independent voting, which was based upon moral integrity rather than upon party politics.

For these reasons, and others which might be enumerated, I make no apology for thinking dry, for acting dry, for talking dry, for living dry, for praying dry, for preaching dry, for working dry. I expect to be buried dry. Over my study desk there hang two pictures. One is that of my Heavenly Master praying in Gethsemane, as depicted by Hoffman. How it inspires and humbles me, and oftentimes forces me to my knees! There is another picture, one of him of whom I have been writing. In his hand is gripped that strong prohibition and Sunday school journal, the Sunday School Times, which he had read faithfully for forty-five years. Upon his face is an expression of resolute calmness, trust in his fellowman, and faith in his God. Closely akin to that inspiration which thrills me at sight of the first-named picture is that which stills and lifts me up in the last-named picture. My Heavenly Father! My earthly father! Fathers of mine!

I have referred to my father as though he had gone on to a better land. I have spoken of him in the past tense. I should have used the present tense. You may know the purpose which prompted this action. He lives today joyously, peacefully, courageously triumphantly "carrying on" in the same militant, sane, safe way in which he labored when a younger man. Before this article goes to the public he will have passed beyond his eighty-first milestone, enjoying poise, ease, comfort, a thoroughly Dry Dad, the best daddy, the finest daddy, the grandest dad in the world to me.—Union Signal.

IN THIS BUSY AGE

young women who are struggling, trying to live Christian lives, need a message of encouragement—a message that really creates in one a desire and determination to find time for the deep devotional life.

The little book, "Mary of Bethany," is one of the fullest, richest messages on the devotional life we have read. She had nothing too precious for Jesus and to read this wonderful little book will encourage, inspire and enrich any heart.

The price is only 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00. Order some to hand out just for the good they will do. It will be doing good preaching.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

----GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD----

ATOKA, TENNESSEE.

We have just closed another great revival at Atoka, Tenn., with Rev. R. M. Vaughn, the pastor. It was a tent meeting and the crowds were large throughout the two weeks. In the last two days of the meeting there were thirty-one conversions and twenty-nine additions to the church. They were two great days. The climax came the last Sunday night when twelve were at the altar and all prayed through to victory. Some of them came through shouting. Then shouting broke out over the tent and the children of God rejoiced together. The pastor said it was proved that an old-fashioned revival was not an impossibility today, although he had not had such meetings in twenty years.

The last five weeks I have preached twice every day, going through three revivals and am now starting the fourth. In those three revivals there were 115 conversions and 63 additions to the three churches. In the meetings several also were sanctified. Thank God, the day of revivals is not past.

Yours in his service,

Wayne A. Lamb.

FROM THE BATTLEFIELD.

Rev. Allie Irick.

It has been many months since we reported the Lord's dealings and doings with us on the great summer battlefield for God and souls. So we take this honor and privilege in approaching the thousands of readers of The Pentecostal Herald. This has been by far the greatest and most fruitful year in all our ministry. It has been our joy and happy pleasure of conducting and assisting in holding some of the largest camps of the nation and laboring with some of the greatest pastors and evangelists of our day. The camps at Phoenix, Ariz., and Portales, New Mexico, were times of glorious victory for God and the church. I was recalled at both camps for 1932.

Then the Southern District Camp Meeting of California at Pasadena will never be forgotten in time or eternity. This was one of the big camps of my ministerial life of over thirty years. Then two camps in Illinois, Tilden, and Eldorado. Both of these camps were crowned with power and abundant fruitfulness.

But one of the most wonderful camps of the year, and for far-reaching results and success, was the Colorado State Camp at Denver. There were from five hundred to a thousand seekers and happy finders for pardon, reclamation and cleansing in this feast of fat things. Then we hurried away to Austin, Texas, for a blessed and successful revival. Now we are at Sayre, Okla., then to Capitol Hill Nazarene Church, Oklahoma City. Mrs. Irick has done the greatest preaching this year I ever heard her do. She has carried out much of our regular slate while I had to take on much extra work. We have witnessed more than two thousand souls seek and find God since January first. Our slate is filling for 1932, and we would appreciate correspondence from pastors, churches and camp meeting committees who would desire and need our evangelistic services for Fall, Winter and Spring and next Summer. Our terms are, entertainment and freewill offerings for our support. Address us, Box 918, Bethany, Okla.

MOUNT CARMEL CAMP, LAWSON, KY.

With Rev. W. B. Weaver, a Methodist pastor in the Detroit Conference, Michigan (Croswell Circuit), his wife and sister, and Miss Edith Perry, a member of his church, I arrived at Mount Carmel, The Top of the World, on August 21st in time for supper. I must say that "Old Kentucky" is one of the beauty spots of the world. Hospitality and courtesy run at high tide. Here we found the pure Anglo-Saxon unmixed, with foreign blood. The thickly growing timber and the rich, deep green foliage of the mountains tell of the fertility of the soil. When we saw the corn fields growing on the steep mountain sides we were led to believe the Kentuckians excelled in thrift, to set their farms on edge and plant both sides.

Leaving our car at Vancleve, a station four miles from Mt. Carmel, we took train up the Kentucky River to Frozen Creek, a station two miles on toward our destination. Here we loaded ourselves with our baggage and continued along the river on foot, taking a two-mile hike apparently to some wilderness until presently, like a glorious sunburst, unexpectedly, through a dark cloud, the Mount Carmel School loomed up, just across the river and up on the mountain to our right. Before us was a cable bridge, across which we walked, with some misgivings, two hundred feet. Having crossed the bridge we followed a winding path up the mountain, across two more foot bridges, and finally we came to a clearing of about ten acres in the midst of which stands the "marvel of the mountains," and to all who visit the place, a beautiful two-story school building of the modern type, with a full basement having a cozy kitchen, dining room, store room, laundry and work room all well equipped. Chapel, library, class rooms and music rooms are on the main floor, and the girls' dormitory and office room on the top floor. As we stood looking across the ravine from the edge of the clearing, on a beautiful slope just before us in white stones, was the word WELCOME. However, we had already become conscious of the fact before seeing the word.

No one but a true daughter of Wesley, Asbury or Peter Cartwright would undertake such a project.

Such faith, such consecration, such sacrifice I have never witnessed. But Miss McConnell is not alone in this work and is not alone in the sacrifice. Miss Vandever, Miss Archer, Miss Day and Mr. Swauger, and many others are united in the sacrifice and laboring to the end that the mountain people of Eastern Kentucky shall have an equal chance with those better situated.

We had a wonderful ten-days' camp. God was there before we arrived. Bro. Weaver preached the opening message under the anointing of the Holy Ghost, Friday evening. The 6:30 morning prayer meetings were well attended and were a real morning blessing. Nine o'clock Bible Readings and 10:15 preaching, preaching again at 2:30 and seven. The evening services were largely attended by as fine a company of unregenerate young men and women as you would find anywhere, and a host of well-saved and sanctified.

Rev. C. W. Ruth arrived on Tuesday and gave us such Bible Readings, through the remaining days of the camp, as I have not been privileged to hear. Bro. Ruth grows richer with the years. Although his body was not strong, he was never stronger in his teaching ministry.

It was my privilege to have two services each day for the entire camp, and in these nearly twenty-five years of ministry, I have not enjoyed church or camp more than the Mount Carmel Camp.

At each morning and afternoon preaching service reports were brought in from many preaching stations being supplied by this school. These reports came from young men and young women who are sent out from Mt. Carmel, the young ladies two and two and the young men two and two. I am sure that any conference would be proud of a ministry bringing such reports. These reports reminded us of the diaries of the early Methodist Circuit Riders.

The closing Sunday was a never-to-be-forgotten day. The day started with prayer; at nine o'clock love feast. Then we heard the reports of victory through grace. After the love feast Bro. Weaver took charge of the Communion service. What a communion! In the joy of the morning service we forgot the dinner hour. However dinner was soon served and at 2:30 Bro. Ruth gave a Bible Reading, at the conclusion of which was another shout in the camp. The fire did not cease to fall from the opening to the close of the camp. There were fourteen denominations represented throughout the camp, proving Heb. 2:11, "For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one."

On Monday, after the closing service, came the usual partings. As we left the main building and crossed the ravine, those who were left behind were singing, "God be with you till we meet again." We waved a final farewell before following the winding path to the bridge. Some twenty-five miles from the school on our homeward way, we turned aside over a mountain road to the "Devil's Creek" preaching station where we had a baptismal service. Reaching the station at 12:15, we proceeded at once to the creek where a large number were waiting for the baptismal service. It was my privilege to preach standing in the midst of the creek, not in the water, and four adults responded to the invitation desiring to be saved. They walked out and stood, two men and two women, to be prayed for. How God witnessed to the end. Bro. Weaver then baptized six candidates, making fourteen baptisms during our stay. Bro. Weaver had baptized eight candidates on Saturday in the Kentucky River. God bless the work and workers at Mount Carmel.

Evangelist Charles A. Jacobs.

Charlotte, Mich.

A HOPEFUL OPENING AT CHICAGO EVANGELISTIC INSTITUTE.

The twenty-second annual opening of Chicago Evangelistic Institute was marked with a spiritual revival under the leadership of Rev. Joseph H. Smith of California, to be followed by a special two-weeks' course in Sociology and Missions by Bishop William F. Oldham. Both of these distinguished leaders are part time members of the faculty of the Institute.

Despite the depression, there is a high tide of interest manifest in all departments: and, while all classes are not up to standard numerically, the personnel of this year's student body and its high level of intelligent Christian experience promise well for the future. These young people will contribute to that Gospel revival for which so many are praying, and which is demanded by the appalling falling away of spiritual values.

BURLINGTON, WASHINGTON.

God has again visited the Skagit Valley with the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in a ten-day revival campaign conducted by Evangelist Elmer McKay, of Greenville, Ill. The meeting was held on the Burlington Free Methodist camp ground under the auspices of the Skagit County Holiness Association. About two hundred and fifty souls bowed at the altar and most all of these received the experience they sought. The scenes at the altar were beyond description. The burden for souls was on the evangelist and workers and the long altar was filled with earnest seekers (and many times other seats had to be added) before the evangelist was through making his appeal. We think only one time was there an invitation hymn sung during this revival. Such praying and agonizing until souls gave evidence of being saved or sanctified it has not been our privilege to witness for many days.

From our evangelist we heard the thunderings of Sinai, the awful sin against the Holy Ghost, the call to the judgment, the terrors of an endless hell, so permeated with divine love that hearts were broken and yielded to the power of the Holy Spirit. We are sure we voice the sentiment of the members of the association when we say, we were all glad that it was possible for Brother McKay's family to accompany him on this trip. The earnest prayers, songs and testimonies of Sister McKay and their oldest daughter added much to the success of the meeting. They all will be remembered and loved, and the prayers of hundreds in the Skagit Valley will follow them. We give our Heavenly Father all the glory for this wonderful revival.

Rev. O. F. DeFoe, President.

THE LEAGUE WORKERS IN MISSISSIPPI AND LOUISIANA.

We now give a report of the last two meetings conducted at Overt, Miss., and Union, Miss. The Lord has been gracious to us this year in giving us many precious souls for his kingdom, for which we give him all the glory.

The meeting at Overt, Miss., was a great spiritual feast from the beginning to the ending. At the second service the altar was filled with seekers, and from that time on the people came and gave their hearts to God, both in saving and sanctifying power. There were about an hundred at the altar during the entire meeting, many of whom were saved and sanctified.

The revival at Union, Miss., was also a blessed one. It was an independent meeting, but the people came and gave us good co-operation. There were about thirty who were blessed. Many of the number were gloriously sanctified.

We are now engaged in a revival in Grayson, La., a former place of revival of Dr. Mingledorff and Rev. C. W. Ruth. The Lord is blessing. Some thirty-two have prayed through to victory and fourteen additions to the church. The concluding revival for the summer is in Monroe, La. Pray for the success of this revival. League workers, Cross and Laine.

REPORT OF MEETINGS.

I wish to report we are still in the field as singers, pianist, children's and young people's workers. We were at Mt. Hope Camp near Flemingsburg, Ky., in July. The day services were times of special visitations of God's power; a number of victories were won. Wife and I conducted a children's service on the last Sunday in the tabernacle in which not only a number of children came to the altar and were saved but among the large attendance of older people hearts were touched and the occasion was turned into a revival scene. Thank God it is true, "A little child shall lead them." Rev. B. A. Nelson, of Chicago, was the evangelist, a wonderful preacher of the old-time type.

Our next camp was at Ludlow Falls, Ohio. Rev. W. L. Surbrook was the evangelist, and Rev. Jacob Hygema the Bible teacher. This, they say, was the best camp in years. Over one hundred sought the Lord. Besides having charge of the music, wife and I conducted a children's service each day. Bro. Surbrook is one of the outstanding spiritual preachers of the day. Wife and I were invited back for the third time at both of these camps.

We are now planning our fall and winter work. Those desiring our service address us, 450 Southwest 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.

Yours in glad service,

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kinsey.

For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life. John 3:16.

5,000 BEST MODERN ILLUSTRATIONS

BY

THE REV. G. B. F. HALLOCK, D.D.

Contains a remarkable collection of pointed stories, anecdotes, personal experiences, fables, legends, facts of science, incidents of history. It offers five thousand carefully selected and appraised illustrations, intelligently classified by subjects and arranged and indexed in alphabetical order for easy reference.

The effect of any sermon or address may be immeasurably increased by the use of one of these pertinent stories to emphasize a point or clinch an argument, for, as Spurgeon said, "mere bald statements are soon forgotten, but an apt illustration sticks in the soul like a hook in a fish's mouth." 768 pages. Published at $4.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

Rev. Paul S. Rees. Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.
Rev. Percy F. Asher. Rev. O. G. Mingledorn, D.D.
Rev. W. S. Bowden. Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D.
Rev. T. C. Henderson. Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.
Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser. Rev. C. W. Ridout, D.D.
Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D. Rev. C. W. Ruth.
Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D. Rev. Joseph H. Smith.
Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D. Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.
Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.
Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D.

(Continued from page 1)

Calvinists were given absolute license to speak what they believed, if I dared to preach a full salvation, I at once, was treated with a discourtesy that seemed almost impossible among men claiming to be Christians. On such occasions I thank God that I always delighted in the face of opposition and ridicule, to hold up God as a compassionate and merciful Father, and Christ who, by the grace of God, hath tasted death for every man, whose blood cleanseth from all sin.

Some time ago I was invited to preach in a Bible Conference. I suppose the parties extending the invitation understood fully my beliefs, and the fact that I "knew no man after the flesh" to that extent that I would fail to speak fully the faith that was in me. However, when I preached on crucifixion and deliverance from the carnal nature, at once a sermon was preached which was neither scriptural or courteous, and the people were informed more than once, that "it was assanine to call people to the altar to seek the elimination of the sinful nature in an instantaneous blessing." I never looked in the Dictionary to see what the word "assanine" meant. I have an idea, however, that it is a classic reference to a plain old donkey. No doubt, I was the donkey in the mind of this scholarly and saintly Calvinistic brother. His sarcasm, however, only put me in good tune for my next sermon, and I certainly enjoyed holding up the Christ mighty to save from all sin, here and now, by simple faith.

One reason why much of the preaching today has no power in it to save the lost, no spiritual bread to feed the hungry souls of the people, is because there is no positive element in it, no great doctrinal truth, no earnest declaration of anything.

The old-time Methodist preacher believed the fundamental doctrines of the Bible. He had a mental comprehension of them; he felt the power of them in his soul, and preached them as one in authority with profound reverence for God, unhesitating faith in Christ, and a burning love for the people to whom he preached salvation. He smote error and false doctrine with the sword of the Spirit. He did not spare sin, and he not only made converts, but he established them in the faith.

The time has fully come for a holy war on sin, unbelief and unscriptural teaching. A body of preachers today with the same spirit and message of the Methodist ministers of seventy-five and a hundred years ago, could awaken the church, startle the world, turn back the tides of wickedness and lawlessness, bring order out of chaos, and lead multitudes of immortal souls to Christ and establish them in the great doctrines of the Holy Scriptures, so that they could become, not only witnesses for Christ, but teachers of essential truth, salt and light in the communities in which they live.

Methodism, from the beginning, had a message that convinced the intelligence, awakened the conscience, produced repentance and led men to exercise saving faith in Jesus Christ. There was nothing in her original creed or teaching for which she needed to apologize or feel ashamed. The imperative need is the earnest preaching of the Bible truth proclaimed by Wesley, his coadjutors and his followers for something more than a century, which have been sadly lost sight of for some decades.

The reader will understand that we are not advocating an unchristian attitude toward any denomination, but we are a bit tired of a spirit of disrespect and insolence on the part of some of our Calvinistic brethren toward the preaching of a full salvation. The world needs to hear the great scriptural message of saving truth, as it was proclaimed by the early Methodists.

The Lord's Sanctified People.

HERE have always been and always will be those who criticize and find fault with the Lord's sanctified people. They have many charges brought against them; they will tell you that they boast of their holiness, that they testify to more than they experience; that they do not pray enough, that they are too noisy, that they are not liberal with their means. There is no end to the criticism that, from the days of John Wesley to the present time, has been heaped upon the people who have claimed that the precious blood of Christ has cleansed them from all sin.

Very well! They that would live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. We are taught this in the inspired Word, and need not expect anything else. We have often referred to the three P's in the program of Christian experience—Purity, Persecution, Power!

Those who would be pure may expect persecution, and those who patiently endure persecution will, no doubt, receive power, both to endure and to serve. There are many people who would like to have power, but they would surely draw back from any persecution, and purity of heart through the cleansing blood of Christ is the last thing they desire, or seek after.

My heart has been touched, filled with gratitude and praise as during the summer and fall dollar bills have come into THE HERALD office from consecrated souls who are praying for Asbury Theological Seminary, and who are sending in their mite to educate consecrated, sanctified young men who are to go out and preach full salvation. It thrills my heart to know that, scattered about this nation, there are many poor people who love the Lord and, out of their very small means, they want to prepare a ministry to preach full salvation through faith in Christ, after they have gone home to worship at the feet of the Master.

We have received one handsome gift; a few have sent $100, and some $50, and $25, a number of $10, a good number of $5's and a shower of one dollar bills. We understand there are those who look with a cold smile on such small things, but the Lord does not. He spoke most encouragingly, and with fullest approval, of the poor widow who cast in her two mites.

These gifts enable us to render some assistance to at least fifty of as fine young men as ever gathered in a Theological Seminary anywhere. There will be quite over a hundred young men taking work in the Seminary at Asbury, but the gifts of God's sanctified children have enabled us to give assistance to fifty that has made their coming to this school possible. We are praying and believing for much larger things. There is a host in this nation who could give some of the Lord's money to this great work if only they could be awakened to its need. Join us in prayer that the Holy Spirit may speak to them. We are not able to send agents into the field, representing the needs of such a school as Asbury Seminary, but we can pray and believe that the Holy Spirit will help us, and that a host of the Lord's sanctified people will take an interest in this work and, as time goes on, larger things will be accomplished, and a great school will be built up, out from which will go an army of stalwart, Spirit-filled young men to carry a full gospel to the lost and soul-hungry multitudes.

Those of you who would like to help in this work, read the little slip at the bottom of the ninth page of THE HERALD, sign up for a five-year proposition, and send it to Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Box 592, Louisville, Ky. If you do not wish to sign the pledge, send a donation and it will be used with great care to best advantage. I have just sent a telegram to one of the finest young men I know, to come on to Asbury and we will see him through. Won't you help us see him through? The world is giving its money by millions for tobacco, indecent moving pictures, and a thousand things that destroy. Will not the Lord's sanctified people help us in this great work for the redemption of the lost?

Faithfully yours,

H. C. MORRISON.

P. S. Let those who have made pledges send in their gifts as soon as convenient. M.

And Yet There is Room.

The Theological Seminary opened up with a very fine body of young men preparing for the ministry at Asbury College. We are able to render assistance to a few more of high grade, devout young men. Such men desiring to attend this Seminary should apply at once to the Dean, Rev. F. H. Larabee, Wilmore, Ky. We will be glad to give such financial assistance as we are able.

This is not a call for College students, but for Seminary men who desire some training in this school, and expect to enter very soon upon the ministry as their life work.

Faithfully yours,

H. C. MORRISON.

An Inspiring Scene.

It was Commencement Sunday at Asbury College. The Hughes Auditorium was thronged; one hundred and twenty-five graduates were seated before the preacher of the Baccalaureate Sermon. Dr. Henry Clay Morrison had been invited to deliver the sermon; he arose and said, "Twenty-five years ago on such an occasion one would feel the need of a stimulant. I feel that way now, so I am going to ask a question of the graduates. Who of you found sin in your hearts and habits, repented, surrendered and threw yourselves upon the love and mercy of our Saviour and found life and peace, forgiveness, full and free, and the new birth of the soul till the regenerating grace went through and through you making you a new creature? And, subsequently, called to live the set-apart life of holiness made the consecration of all your ransomed powers and were consciously sanctified throughout soul, body and spirit, and are living in that sacred experience today? Stand up, if that is where you are. (125 stood to their feet).

"Stand there awhile," said Dr. Morrison.

"I want the angels to get a snapshot of this scene and then hang the picture on the walls of glory to show that Calvary is still working."

As I sat on the platform looking at this scene, I thought it one of the most thrilling experiences of my life, and afterward said to myself, where else on earth could that have occurred? Where, at home or in any mission field, could you get 100 per cent response to such a test, but in Asbury College? I am glad to be a trustee of this school and shall send my daughter—and if I had six sons I would plan to send them all to Asbury. You have to expose your children to something wherever you send them; in sending to Asbury College you expose them to religion.

CLARENCE TRUE WILSON,
Secretary General Board of Temperance,
Prohibition and Public Morals.

Don'ts For Preachers.

REV. F. LINCICOME.

Don't boast of your originality. There is nothing original with the most of us unless it is original sin and when we are sanctified that is taken away from us.

In most instances the preacher who boasts of his originality could sign his name to John B. Culpepper's confession. Culpepper said that when he started out as a young man to be a preacher, he determined to be original or nothing, and he soon discovered that he was both.

Plagiarism as a fault and a crime is possible only to one who makes profession of originality for he alone attempts to take to himself credit which appropriates the material and arrangement of others and then claims exclusive right he is both a thief and liar. But if he makes such use of the work of others as he can in his effort to be an effective preacher and makes no superior claims regarding the matter, but rather confesses himself debtor to all whom he has ever met, and special debtor to those who have contributed directly to his store of things, old and new, he is both honest and truthful.

Why do men write books and publish papers if one is not to be permitted to use the gold he digs from these mines? Why do men waste their time and mine in talking, if they do not want me to remember what they say?

Do men who write and speak expect me to believe that they did not learn what they are saying from some one else? Do they expect me to believe that wisdom was born with them? They may not always be conscious of copying, but I can find the most of what I hear them say in books or magazines, or I can find them others who said in substance the same things they are saying and said them before the present speaker ever said them.

I have heard many holiness preachers preach on Christian Perfection following exactly the outline which Ralston gives in his "Elements of Divinity." We know that chapter was made up from Ralston's sermon outline on the subject. It is possible that many whom I have heard did not get their outline right from Ralston; but they got it from someone else who got it from him. My own personal belief is that these preachers did well to use this outline, for it covers the ground and is better by far than the majority of us could make for ourselves. Dr. J. B. Chapman, editor of the Preachers' Magazine, from whose article I have been freely helping myself in writing this article, says: "There should be no dodging of the issue involved here. There should be no 'soft pedaling and white lying.' There should be no false standards uplifted for the hindrance of young preachers and for the hurting of older men's consciences. The right and sensible thing, we believe, is for the preacher to make all the use he can of everything that comes to his hand for making him a more effective preacher. When he hears someone say a good thing, he should try to remember it and say it himself, sometime. If he reads a good thing in a book he should 'run it through his own mill' and make it his own. If he finds a sermon outline which suits his mold, or if he finds in it a single point that will work into his own processes he should appropriate it.

The business of disseminating the truth of the gospel is not a commercial affair and there is no place for patents or copyrights. After the preacher has learned all he can from others and dug out first hand all he can and then has delivered what he has gathered, in his most effective manner, he is still a poor enough preacher of such a wonderful gospel.

The Abiding Presence.

R. P. MARSHALL.

"Lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world."

The Master has finished his work on earth; he has endured the cross, and conquered the grave. Now, he has to bid goodbye to the faithful friends that have followed him through the years. It is a time of sad, yet triumphal emotion. He is going to his Father. The angels in Heaven wait to welcome him, and the golden arches of the celestial city will soon echo back their shouts of joy. "Lift up your heads, O ye gates and be ye lifted up, ye everlasting doors, and the King of Glory will come in!" But there are no shouts of joy upon the lips of his disciples. Heaven's King of Glory goes back to reign by the side of his Father, but on earth there will be but emptiness when Jesus leaves. Many in the group that surround the Master as he leads the way to the mountain are thinking of their loss. They do not remember his words before his crucifixion. They have forgotten that he promised to come again. Perhaps they think that this last appearance is the culmination of his coming after he arose from the dead, and that now he will leave them forever. It is indeed a time of sadness.

But the sadness is dispelled by Jesus as he gives his last charge to his beloved disciples. "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel." Here is a cure for sad repinings. Grief is no master of zealous effort. How often is it proven that work is the best remedy for mental woes. Jesus gave them a mission. They were not to sit still and mourn for his departure; they were to tell the story to all the nations.

Someone has said that the Gospel might be summed up in three commands: Come Ye, Tarry Ye, Go Ye. "Come unto me, ye that are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest." "Tarry ye in Jerusalem until ye be endued with power from on high." "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel." When we have obeyed, we shall find the fulfillment of the promise, "and Lo I am with you alway." Perhaps one of the disciples said, "I cannot go, I cannot talk, I cannot preach." Yet the promise embraced the whole need of disciples. If he is with us, where shall be the limit of our achievement? I will tell you. It will be at the limit of our faith.

Someone is saying, "You don't know the sorrow, you don't know the danger, you don't know the difficulty of my life." No, I do not, but Jesus does. Lay all your cares upon him, for he cares for you.

The disciples went down the hill with a new joy that evening. There had been times when for a few days they had been separated from their Master, and O the loneliness of those hours. . . Now he has gone from their sight, but strange to say, there is no loneliness, no sadness. I believe that they are whispering to themselves, "Why, he is here, here by my side. I won't ever have to leave him again, for he is with me. Wherever I go he goes." Down at the base of the hill the road forks, and I can see some going one way, some going another, but Jesus goes along with each one. Can you wonder that from that day they were changed?

When we have learned this lesson we too will be changed. He will go with us. Will we go with him? Will we follow where he leads us, will we follow all the way?

Relief for Short Memories on the "Slipped Over" Process.

("Was Prohibition 'Slipped Over'?", by W. H. Burgwin, the Christian Century, June 17, 1931).

No one saw more clearly than the liquor dealers the slow but sure approach of national prohibition. They began to see it fifteen years before it came and for six years their trade papers fairly screamed in capitals and italics with warnings and hurry calls to get out the votes.

Mr. Burgwin has done a timely service in looking up and quoting from old files of liquor publications dating from 1907 to 1916 when the dry congress that settled the matter was elected.

"Telegraph your congressman," ran the alarms. "Follow up with a personal letter!" "Quick action is necessary." "Handwriting on the wall."

"We enclose blank protests and urge most strongly that you devote your entire time immediately to getting these signed by voters, and then mail them at once to the congressman of your district."

Some were canny enough to advise saloonkeepers to demand a clause in their leases promising their termination if prohibition came. This they thought would awaken landlords and bring them to the rescue.

The National Liquor Dealers' Journal not only saw in 1913 what was coming, but why the liquor traffic was inviting it, by its alliance with the slums, by deliberately aiding political corruption, and its general blindness to everything but profits.

"Prepare the defense, friends, make your case ready for court, the trial cannot be postponed," was the editorial injunction.

Anyone who can believe that the saloonkeepers in the United States before prohibition did not try their utmost, when their bread and butter was at stake, to transmute these warnings into votes is credulous enough to believe that "the moon is made of green cheese."—Way of Faith.

The First 10,000 Years in Hell,

With Introduction by Rev. H. C. Morrison, is a book of five stirring sermons, "Ten Thousand Years in Hell," "The Fate of an Unfaithful Shepherd," "A Pastor's Vision of a Lost Soul," and two others. This is a book that is calculated to make one stop and think, and there never was a time when it was more needed. 25c a copy, or $2.00 per dozen. Place a dozen or more where needed.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

CAPTIVES' RETURN.

Mrs. Geneva Mendenhall.

Cyrus, king of Persia, is often called Cyrus the Great, because he was a firm and wise king and because his empire stretched far out in all directions, even down into Egypt. He was friendly to the Jews who were not treated as slaves but allowed to live in peace and become useful citizens.

But the Jews had not forgotten their own country, for even though most of the men and women who were brought out as captives had died, they had taught their laws, their songs and the love of their country to their children so that they were loyal to the land of Judah.

When the Jews had lived in the land of Chaldea for some seventy years, King Cyrus sent out word through the land, saying that all those who wished to do so could return to Jerusalem to rebuild God's house. And those who did not wish to go should send of their goods to help rebuild the temple.

It made the Jews very glad to realize that they were free again, for many of them loved the land of Judah dearly, though they had never seen it.

And Cyrus gave back to them all the gold and silver bowls and cups and plates which Nebuchadnezzar had taken away, more than four thousand of them. A great company, about forty-two thousand people, set out up the valley of the Euphrates, crossed the northern end of the desert, down by the Lebanon Mountains, and so back through Syria until at last they came upon the sad sight of broken and blackened ruins—The ashes of Jerusalem.

Their first act was to hunt the great stone of the altar on which Joshua, the high-priest offered sacrifice to God, worshipping him here for the first time in fifty years.

And their leader was named Zerubbable, meaning "Born in Babylon." While he was called the prince, he ruled under Cyrus, the great Persian king.

Questions.

1. Where were the Jews when the Persians took them captive?
2. How long did they have to remain in Persia?
3. On what Mount did the Jews rebuild the altar?

Dear Aunt Bettie: I have just finished reading page ten of The Pentecostal Herald and find nothing there from Georgia: I do so much enjoy reading this paper and I read it every Sunday. I wish that we could go to Indian Springs Camp Meeting to hear Dr. Morrison preach. I was eight years old August 4. If I have a twin, write to me and I will answer the letter. Guess my first name; it begins with M and ends with E, and has six letters. As this is my first letter I am anxious to see it in print.

M. Frances Hill.
Box 65, Alamo, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: We believe it would please the Lord for us to write an account of the illness and death of our little son, Billy, for your page in The Herald. Our prayers follow this story, that God will use it to win hearts to him, especially among the children, as they read of what the dear Lord did for Billy and for us.

He was just an ordinary little boy, our Billy, full of pranks and mischief and sometimes naughty, the same as 99 1/2% of all little eight-year-old boys and girls. He was born into a home with a family altar, and was accustomed to the daily reading of the Bible and the voice of prayer. But not until the last few months of his life did he seem to grasp the truth of God's word, and the plan of salvation begin to unfold itself to his mind. The Holy Spirit was then working on Billy's heart, making him see his need of a definite work of grace.

One Sunday morning after the usual "sweet hour of prayer," his mother was led by the Spirit to speak to Billy about his need of the Saviour. She whispered in his ear, "Billy dear, when are you going to give your heart to Jesus?"

"Now," answered Billy promptly. "That is right. Now if you mean that," said his mother, "go tell Daddy and ask him to pray for you."

Accordingly Billy went straight to his father, threw his arms about his neck, and bursting into tears, sobbed out, "Pray for me, Daddy, I want to be saved." And we prayed and Billy prayed and was soon happily saved. At once he went after his two older sisters who had been saved but had wandered away from Jesus. Before the day ended he had the joy of seeing them reclaimed and rejoicing in the Lord.

From this time on Billy was a different boy. He loved the Word of God and prayer. In his play some days before he had injured his foot. We cared for it as we always did minor hurts, and it seemed to become well again, but the wound had only healed at the surface, and it made him very ill. But throughout his illness, though Billy had formerly been a very impatient boy, he was so patient and loving that we knew Jesus was in his heart. He would often call us to prayer, leading out and calling on others to pray, and would then lead us all in repeating the Lord's prayer according to our custom.

We prayed earnestly and many of the Lord's people prayed for Billy's healing, and God would so bless us and the others that we were all sure God would heal our boy. However, he grew steadily worse, but no matter how ill, he never failed to call us to prayer. While he prayed for everyone, he would not pray for himself unless he was reminded to do so, and then his only leisure seemed to be to get well that he might "go to meeting and tell the folks and get them all to come to the altar and get saved."

It was heavenly to be in the room where Billy was, because Jesus was right there. One man who heard Billy pray for him and for his family said he would rather have heard that prayer than anything he could name.

When Billy was well he was very fond of getting up surprises on people particularly his father and mother. The last morning of Billy's little life on this earth he planned and with his father's help carried out a little surprise for his mother. All this time he was suffering cruelly, though everything we could do to relieve him was done.

As the last day drew to a close he called us around him for prayer, and his burden was that his little brother Malcolm might be saved. After calling on each one to pray he prayed fervently that we all might be kept in the narrow way.

No one said anything to Billy about death, but he knew he was dying and mentioned it to a lady who was present. Later, he seemed to feel that he must try in a gentle little way to prepare his mother. He said, "Mother dear, please let me go to bed and rest. Get my bed ready and help me undress. I am tired, mother, so tired, and I want to rest." He called for his toys and his little savings of pennies and nickels and when they were brought to him he merely glanced at them and said, "I do not want them now. Give them all to Malcolm. He may have my school-bag, too."

As he drew near the valley of the shadow his faith was tested and the enemy was there to make him afraid. He began to plead, "Daddy, I don't want to go into the hole. Don't let them put me down in the hole." The Bible was brought and his father read John's vision of the Holy City descending from God out of Heaven. Billy's little face was rapt as he listened, and as Daddy finished and said, "That is where you are going Billy, not into any hole in the ground, but to this wonderful city to be with Jesus," the victory was won. Billy's faith triumphed and he praised God with all his might. Then he prayed again, not only for the members of his family but for all the friends present, and as he finished his prayer, his little hand was raised and he pointed upward, exclaiming, "Look, Daddy! Jesus!" As he pointed upward his oldest sister raised her eyes and saw a wonderful light impossible to describe. Others saw a flash but not the light.

He then began to plead with us to give him permission to go with Jesus. "Let me go now, won't you? May I go, Daddy? I want to go to heaven now. Please, let me go," and he objected when we wished to do anything in an effort to relieve his suffering. He said, "You are holding me back, I want to go." Soon he had another look into heaven and saw his two little brothers who preceded him a number of years ago. His oldest brother died when Billy was only six weeks old, yet Billy recognized him and called him by name. A brother younger than he with whom he romped and played, but who passed away when Billy was 3 1/4 years old, he also knew. He called out in such a joyous tone, "There's Wilber. Oh, hello, Melvin." He then seemed to be listening to something not for our mortal ears, for he presently called out to the brother he was leaving behind, "Malcolm, come here. Melvin wants to see you." When told Malcolm was sleeping and could not be aroused, he seemed much disappointed and said in a sorrowful tone, "Malcolm can't come now, Melvin. He will see you in the morning."

This is the way Billy left us for the home beyond the skies. After he saw Jesus, earthly ties meant nothing to him, he so longed for heaven. His precious little face glowed with the light never seen on land or sea, as he pleaded with us for permission to go. It was so hard for us to give that permission, but Jesus strengthened us and has held our hands and comforted us through the lonely days since then.

No one, young or old, knows when he may be called upon to leave this world, and it is as urgent and necessary that children be prepared for that call as for the grown-ups. How wonderful must Heaven be when one glimpse makes a little one eager to leave all he has held dear to go there. How beautiful the face of the Saviour will be when we see him as he is!

May the Holy Spirit sanctify this account of our Billy's passing to the heart of every reader, and may we all find as abundant an entrance unto that beautiful land, is the prayer of Your sister in Jesus.

Mrs. Wm. Beirnes.
(Billy's Mother).

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Herrin girl join your happy band? I read the Boys and Girls' Page and have thought of writing several times but this is my first letter. As for my description, I am a brunette, 5 1/2 feet tall, have blue eyes, a sun-tan complexion, and weigh 112 pounds. I am eighteen years old and a graduate of Herrin Township High School. I am secretary and pianist of the Methodist Church of Fordsville. I am very much interested in the West and foreign countries. I suppose most of you have heard of Herrin; if not, I should be very glad to tell you all about it. I should like to hear and get acquainted with boys and girls near my own age from places far or near. Please send snapshots with all letters.

Linnea McKenzie.
Norris City, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy circle? This is my second letter to The Pentecostal Herald. I was glad to see my first letter in print. I belong to the Methodist Church and attend Sunday school most every Sunday. I am ready for my Junior year in Norris City Township High School. I am a slender girl, five feet, seven inches short. I have blue eyes and brown curly hair that is cut short. I top the scales at 115 pounds, and have seen seventeen summers. I would like to hear from both boys and girls, and will send a snapshot to the first that writes from every state. I will do my best to answer all letters received.

Wilma Margrave.
Norris City, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I would like to renew my membership with your happy circle and hope you will print this letter. I was converted this August at a revival at the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church, Rev. A. R. Smith as evangelist. Rev. Smith is certainly a fine minister. Rev. O. S. Gardener is our minister. He has preached for

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

two years at Wesley Chapel and we hope to have him back for the third year. I would like to receive letters from all the cousins who care to write and I will try and answer all letters. I am thirteen years old and a Sophomore at Falmouth High School. I would like to go to college but am not certain of getting to go as it is three years ahead. At least I would like to take about two years of Bible study, as I don't know much about the Bible, and I think you don't understand a lot of it if you just study it at home. I have not yet picked out a life occupation but hope to do some good in life. I don't see how anyone who is once a Christian can backslide, and also how anyone can care for the sinful pleasures of life. For we live for what? What is certain to come to us all. Death and Eternity! Why not try to live a Christian life while on this earth and help others to Christ and then gain a home in heaven, than to live a sinful life which is not really happy and meet God unprepared and live the second life in a burning fire. A sinner does not really have a happy time. Just the other night I heard a Christian lady say that when out in the world she had to be constantly seeking pleasure as she was not contented with anything and at night she tried to lie awake—afraid to go to sleep—afraid she might go out to meet God unprepared. When a sinner I thought it would be terribly hard to live a Christian life but now I know God would not give us too many trials and temptations and if we'll only trust him he will guide us safely through life. I am going to close now and hope my mail box overflows with letters from all the cousins.

Ina Cummins.
Falmouth, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As this is my second letter to The Herald I would like to see it in print. I am eleven years old. My birthday is Sept. 20. Have I a twin? If so, please write to me and I will answer all letters received. My father takes The Herald and I sure do enjoy reading page ten. We are having tabernacle meetings in my aunt's grove, and I hope there will be many souls saved and sanctified. But I am sure if we pray to Jesus who is our all-in-all, he will answer our prayer. I will ask Aunt Bettie and all the cousins to pray for my lost brother, that he might be brought back to Christ. He once was a good Christian but he has gone astray. When I get through High School I would like to go to Asbury College and study to be a missionary. May God bless Aunt Bettie, the cousins, and Dr. Morrison. Thanks.

Olen M. Boyer.
Rt. 1, Tamaqua, Pa.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let a Kansas girl join your band of girls and boys? I certainly enjoy reading page ten. I am fifteen years of age and am in the ninth grade. I would like to hear from anyone who likes to write letters, as I enjoy getting them and also like to answer them. H. Ruth Townsend, I guess your first name to be either Hilma, Helma, or Hilda. Am I right? I would like to have you write to me whether I am correct or not. I will write to any one who can guess what my name is. It has four letters in it. Starts with N and ends with an A. I haven't seen any letters in The Herald from Kansas. Come on Kansas boys and girls, don't let the other states beat you. I sincerely hope Mr. W. B. is out when this letter comes as it is my first one. With love to the cousins.

N. Marie Neal.
2207 W. Douglas, Wichita, Kan.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

FALLEN ASLEEP

SIMS.

William B. Sims was born in Choc-taw County, Ark., June 28, 1857, and died at his home near Waynesboro, Miss., April 24, 1931. He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Bazine Sims, to whom he was married in 1875, and five of their eleven children.

His long life was one of unselfish service for Christ and his fellowman. At an early age while working alone on his farm he was powerfully converted. From that time the great motive of his life was to please God. Later, when he first heard that purity of heart was possible, he consecrated himself wholly to God and for thirty-five years has been a convincing proof that one can be kept unspotted from the things of the world. In a community where holiness has long been taught his life has probably done more to convince his fellows of its reality than all the sermons preached.

Brother Sims was a loyal member of the M. E. Church, South. He served the church in the capacities of steward, trustee, Sunday school superintendent and Sunday school teacher for many years. He was ever faithful in attendance, support, and defense of his church.

For twenty years he served as president of the Frost Bridge Holiness Camp Ground Association at Waynesboro, Miss., resigning a few years ago because of failing health. During his years of faithful service in this capacity the camp attained its greatest usefulness and prosperity. His devotion to the spread of scriptural holiness led him to make great sacrifices for the carrying on of the work in this historic camp. It is in appreciation of his godly life, and his mighty labors in behalf of the camp that the president of the Association has directed that this tribute be written.

Our friend was laid to rest at old Salem Church. Services were conducted by Rev. A. S. Oliver, a former pastor, Rev. Herring, pastor, and Rev. C. W. Walley.

He left us with the full assurance that he had obtained abundant entrance into the joys of the Lord, to whom he had given a life-time of service. His last words were of praise, and still later when his strength was almost gone he sang of "the crown" awaiting him.

In his passing the family has lost a true father, the church a faithful member, the camp meeting an untiring worker, the community a citizen of unquestioned integrity, and his friends a friend indeed.

N. N. Jones.

GIBBS.

On the 16th day of July, 1931, one of God's faithful children, Mrs. Clara Ellen Fox Gibbs, having finished her labors on earth, fell asleep at her home in Bedford, Va.

She was the daughter of James J. and Katherine Fitzhugh Fox and was born October 31, 1858, near Leesville, in Bedford county. She married John W. Gibbs in January, 1881, and they had two children, twins—Elmo Earl, who lives in Roanoke, Va., and Addie Belle, who married Robert Garrison and lives in Maryland.

Mrs. Gibbs was a woman of high ideals and noble Christian character, a good wife, a devoted mother, and a kind neighbor. Her health had been poor for many years—she suffered from asthma and her suffering was often acute—but she bore this affliction with patience and resignation, putting forth every effort to perform her household duties as usual, as long as her strength permitted.

She was a loyal member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, from girlhood and her life was one of consecration to her Lord, of whom she loved to testify that "He has been a wonderful Saviour to me."

"Asleep in Jesus! O how sweet,
To be for such a slumber meet!"
She had been an enthusiastic reader of The Pentecostal Herald and a sincere believer of its teachings for thirty-five years and the recent issue of July 15th, received after she had passed away, was placed unopened in her casket.

Funeral services were conducted from her home by her pastor, Rev. W. Evan Thomas, and a quartette sang "How Firm a Foundation" and "When They Ring Those Golden Bells." Her body was laid to rest in Longwood Cemetery.

KNIPPERS.

Raymond was thirteen years of age when God saw fit to call him to his Heavenly home. He was the son of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Knippers. Five brothers and two sisters survive him. He was converted and baptized at the age of ten years. Two years later realizing his need of heart purity he made a complete consecration and the Holy Spirit came to dwell in his heart.

Beginning very early his life of Christian service, usefulness to the Master soon became his paramount interest in life. In several revival meetings conducted by his father, he worked faithfully with his older brothers, Cecil and Otis, as song evangelists, and their messages in song meant much towards reaching the hearts of many.

To live was to serve with Raymond, and idleness found no place in his life. To hear his clear, sweet voice ring out his call of love was to know the earnestness of his purpose. Radio listeners will remember the strains of the boy singers, broadcasting God's message of love from KTSLS, Shreveport, La. Raymond's voice will be heard no more on earth, as God had need of it in Heaven.

Raymond loved the cause of Christ and was anxious to prove his love in dedicating his life to evangelistic work. He passed from the realm of earth without much suffering, being ill with bronchial pneumonia only one day and night. Death held no fears for him, meaning only the meeting of his Sovereign and Friend. His only grief was in leaving his loved ones behind.

"Only time can wipe the tears away,
And 'tis the martyrdom of today,
That ripens life with all its sorrow,
And brings us victory on the morrow."

The sincerity, nobleness and true purpose of his brief, young life shall radiate even the grief in our loss of him, and can but serve to illuminate the way that can only lead us unto the Sovereign throne.

Beneath the moonlight, with soon the wintry snow,
Lies sleeping one to us so dear,
Life's wintry wind is wailing low,
Its dirges in our ear.

Oh, little tomb, on yonder hill,
Speak to these curious hearts of ours,
And teach them to be still.

God hath his mysteries of grace,
Ways that we cannot tell,
He hides them deep, like the secret sleep,
Of the ones he loves so well.

Mrs. J. B. Harris.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

A Reader: "I want to ask The Herald family for my family to be saved and my wife to be reclaimed, that our home will be happy like it once was, and that we all will be filled with perfect love."

Please pray earnestly for a young man to be saved.

IT IS GOOD TO KNOW.

Lora S. LaMance.

We have a better chance than our parents had. Once people did not study health. When anyone was sick they pulled down the blinds and shut the windows to keep out the sunshine and fresh air. When sick people had a fever, they would not give them water to drink, only a sip now and then. Today we give sick persons sun and air and plenty of water to drink.

Our grandparents thought a bath once a week in the summer and once a month in the winter was enough. Grandmothers with broken and decayed teeth used to chew up chicken

"Just what I have wanted"

That is what everyone is saying about the combination Scofield Bible and Year's Bible Course at $2.95. This wonderful new combination of a Bible and a year's course of study provides all the materials needed for an enjoyable, thorough and profitable year's work with the Bible. NOW is a fine time to start.

A Year's Bible Course $2.95 and a Scofield Bible both for 2

These two volumes offer you the most practical, the most helpful and the cheapest Bible study equipment obtainable today.

THE SCOFIELD BIBLE is a strongly bound cloth edition containing the helps that have made this Bible famous everywhere. A YEAR'S BIBLE COURSE contains 52 lessons based on the helps in the Scofield Reference Bible, with hundreds of questions, many charts and maps.

If you prefer a larger type Bible, the combination is $3.75

Home Bible Study

How often we long to understand the Bible better. How often we wish we could have the help of someone who could make clear the obscure passages. Here at last is a Bible in which the difficult passages are explained right on the pages where they occur. With this exceptional Bible you also obtain a tested plan of study enabling you to secure all the advantages of class study in your own home at convenient times. Why not order today while you think of it, so that you, too, may enjoy the benefits of these volumes.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

or meat into a paste and pop into toothless babies' mouths. We know better than that today.

Two foreign born women in the city were talking about our W. C. T. U. Americanization workers. They called her Teacher.

"Teacher ees nice," said Mrs. Zabinsky. "You know I haf had eleven babies, and only four of them live. Teacher tole me that leetle babies mit-out teeth, ought not to haf anything but meelk [milk.] She said gif them no Bologna sausage nor boiled cabbage."

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Odosky. "Teacher ees nice, she tells me, 'Giv your baby no beer nor home brew. It makes the baby stoopid, and it has a poison in it that ees bad for babies, and the poison ees el-co-hol.'"

These women were glad to know these things.

A woman came into a country store leading a little weasened-faced boy of five. He was no larger than a three-year-old child ought to have been. His mother bought calico, sugar and coffee. Last of all she bought a plug a chewing tobacco. When it was handed to her, she took a knife out of her pocket, cut off a chunk and handed it to her little boy, who put it into his mouth. The merchant cried out, "Oh, Mrs. Zell! You ought not to do that. He is too little. It will hurt him."

"I wouldn't," answered she, "but you see he is weak and puny, an' his stummie is all out of order. I am giving it to him to make him well an' cure his stummie!"

Poor woman, when she went to school she was not taught how to keep well and how not to abuse our bodies. The poor, ignorant woman did not know any better. We know better and we will take care of our bodies.

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee: because he trusteth in thee. Isaiah 26:3.

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The History of the Christian Church

FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO A. D. 461.

By

Prof. F. J. Foakes-Jackson, D.D.

The Jews' return to Jerusalem from their Babylonian Captivity (B.C. 535) is the point at which Prof. Foakes-Jackson begins this delightfully interesting history of the Christian Church. Ideas hospitable to Christianity were current centuries before the coming of Christ. Greece and Rome both contributed to the preparation of the way for the Gospel—the one by philosophy and the other by the establishment of law and order.

The author pictures the rise of the family of Herod on the ruins of the Asmonean Dynasty, the rebuilding of the Temple, and then tells in his singularly enchanting way of the Church of the Apostles, the Christian Church and the Roman Government, Christian Thought in the Early Centuries, Organization of the Church. He gives a vivid sketch of the social life of the Church at this early period, with descriptions of the churches of Rome, Carthage, and Alexandria.

The entire book is scholarly, informative, absorbingly interesting and written in a captivating style. It sets forth the results of modern investigation in the field of ecclesiastical history and literature. It is not to be surpassed as a text and reference book of the early Christian Church and deserves a place in every minister's library. 672 pages. Original price, $3. Our special price $1.00. PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Kentucky.

Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. James 4:8.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson II.—October 11, 1931.

Subject.—Paul in Philippi. Acts 16:22-34; Philippians 4:4-7.

Golden Text.—Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice. Phil. 4:4.

Time.—A. D. 51.

Place.—Philippi.

Introduction.—"Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Paul had persecuted the Christians during the days of his wicked zeal for Judaism, and now he too must suffer persecution in return; but in Philippi he was meeting it from a new source. He had run across a greedy money-pusher, and broken into its gains. That was too much. Satan and his human slaves would not stand it. Why could he not let a demon-possessed girl alone? She was his fortune teller who played upon the ignorance and superstition of the people, and brought much gain to her masters. Why could not Paul mind his own business, and let theirs alone? But Paul was attending to the very business to which God had appointed him.

I was very much amused not a great while ago to hear a pastor say: "I never jump on any man's sins. I preach the love of God; and the sins roll off." He was far ahead of his Master. In his membership were immoral men. Some were leading double lives. I may not understand the duties of a preacher; but I do believe that he ought to "declare the whole counsel of God," and warn men against the awful sins of this age. How can a preacher be justified before God when men are gambling and cheating, selling and drinking liquor contrary to law, if he is too timid to reprove them? Preachers must be bold to fight sin and boost righteousness, even though, like Paul and Silas they be persecuted and have to lie in jail.

Paul's persecutions came from two sources. When he entered Europe he was dealing largely with heathen; but his footsteps were hounded by Jews also, some of whom professed to be followers of Jesus Christ. They would have it that Gentile converts must keep the Mosaic ceremonial law, or perish. Some who now live tell us that no matter how one may trust in Jesus Christ, no matter how pure he may be in heart and life, he will go to hell unless he keeps Saturday for Sunday. Others tell us with great boldness that there is no hope for any one unless he is put under water. Such narrowness hurts the heart of Jesus Christ, and does great harm to the cause of Christianity among men. But such people are like the poor, in that we have them with us always.

Comments on the Lesson.

22. The Multitude rose up.—The rich masters of the demon-possessed girl had succeeded in raising a mob, and were ready for their devilish work. A mob will do anything to follow their leaders. The magistrates rent off their clothes.—They stripped Paul and Silas of their clothing. Commanded to beat them.—This terrible scourging was done by inferior officers at the command of the magistrates.

23. Laid many stripes upon them.—There was no mercy shown in this beating. The Roman lash left stripes of blood. They cast them into prison.—But, mark you, these men had not yet stood trial for any crime whatever. Charging the jailer to keep them safely.—As though they were the worst sort of criminals. In his hatred for Christians the devil never knows when he has done enough—he knows no limit.

24. Thrust them into the inner prison.—I notice that Arnold's Notes quotes from some one concerning this inner prison; and I shall take the liberty of quoting. "They were pestilential cells, damp and cold, from which the light was excluded, and where the chains rusted on the limbs of the prisoners." If modern criminals had any gratitude, they would thank God for Jesus Christ, for as a by-product Christianity has made prisons far better than they are in heathen lands. The punishment in an American jail is heaven compared with what is administered in the prisons of China. Made their feet fast in the stocks.—This is cruelty in the extreme. Two trenches were cut in a stationary board just sufficiently deep for the lower half of a man's ankle, and two similar trenches in a loose board that was shoved down through a slot and fastened over the ankles, so that the prisoner could not even turn over. He had to lie flat on his back all night long. This was the plight of the two missionaries that night in the jail at Philippi. Adoniram Judson suffered as fearful punishment as this in Rangoon Burma; but very few modern missionaries have had to suffer such torture. Some are being killed; but in most lands they are protected from bodily harm.

25. At midnight Paul and Silas prayed, and sang praises unto God.—Well, hallelujah! There is nothing besides Christianity that can make men do that. Let us join in their prayers and songs. The prisoners heard them.—They were not using soft tones; but their lips were telling out what was in their hearts in joyful style. "Let the people praise thee, O God, let all the people praise thee."

26. A great earthquake.—That was fine. God knows just when to shake up things. In this case the foundations of the prison were shaken; the doors all flew open; and all the chains fell from the limbs of the prisoners. The stocks were loosed from the ankles of Paul and Silas. It must have been an exciting time; but there were two men there who were as calm as a May day. Christians are the bravest people on earth.

27. The keeper....would have killed himself.—Roman prison laws were very strict. If a jail keeper permitted a prisoner to escape he was killed himself without much ceremony; and this keeper supposing his prisoners had escaped, as he saw the doors open, was preparing to kill himself rather than suffer a death of torture at the hands of merciless Roman officers.

28. Do thyself no harm; for we are all here.—Paul comes to the rescue. For some reason the prisoners had not run away when the doors flew open. They may have been too badly frightened to run. But Paul was sufficiently cool to keep the jailer from committing suicide.

29. He called for a light, and sprang in.—Few men can stand before a demonstration of the supernatural. A heavy earthquake will bring any sensible man to his knees. We may not understand the cause of an earthquake; but it strikes terror through us from head to heels. Fell down before Paul and Silas.—That may have been an act of worship; but under such circumstances it was perfectly natural for such a heathen to fall on his face. It is nothing unusual in the Orient to see an inferior prostrate himself in the presence of a superior.

30. Brought them out.—Out of the inner prison; and, perchance, into his own home connected with the jail. Sirs, what must I do to be saved?—He had come to the door through which every sinner must come to Christ for salvation. There must be deep conviction for sin, and a giving up of everything that is wrong. No half-way doings will get us to Jesus Christ. That man was asking the most important question that could come from human lips.

31. Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved.—Do not get a notion that they were offering salvation to this man without repentance; for "except ye repent, ye shall all perish." Paul and Silas knew that this man was ready to receive Jesus Christ as his personal Savior. And thy house.—How about that? We do wrong when we do not claim our families for Christ. By faith we should claim God's promise for our households. Let me repeat what I have often said: "God is going to hold us parents responsible at the judgment bar for the souls of our children." I have no doubt of this.

32. They spake unto him the word of the Lord.—They preached the gospel that night to the jailer, and to all that were in the house. That was proper before receiving them into the Church by baptism. It was necessary that they should have some knowledge of salvation through Jesus Christ, and of the meaning of baptism, before admitting them to membership. Missionaries have to do much of that work in heathen lands in our times.

33. Washed their stripes.—That was a blessed act. Their backs were sore and bleeding from the lash; and the washing gave both comfort and safety. Was baptized, he and all his, straightway.—Some questions arise. How was it done there in the jailer's home? Were there any infants in the family? Well, I was not there; and I am too modest to answer the questions. At best, it could be nothing more than a very foolish guess.

34. And when he had brought them into his house.—This seems to indicate that he washed their stripes, and that he was baptized, somewhere inside the jail; but the wording is not absolutely clear. This may have taken place in his own house where "he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house."

Philippians 4:4-7. Paul wrote his epistle to the Philippians about thirteen years after the conversion of the jailer. At that time, A. D. 64, he was a prisoner in the city of Rome. The epistle is wonderful. Although written while chains were clanking about him, and he perhaps chained to a Roman soldier, there is not a sad note in it. He is full of joy, and calls upon the church he had founded in Philippi to rejoice with him. This quotation, taken from the epistle, is a fitting doxology to the lesson taken from the Acts of the apostles. Shall we not join the apostle in praise to God for all his goodness to us during the passing years? Amen!

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                              |        |
|------------------------------|--------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund ..... | $1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund ..... | 1.50   |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund .....   | 5.00   |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund .....   | 1.00   |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe.

The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF
CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS

Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature
—is the estimate of all who read
these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00
The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid
PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - - - - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailer and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Buried With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?

These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Fragrance, Sweetness, and Power.

An appeal to the Church of today to take time to return to the upper room. The author says that past failure has been due to reversing Christ's commands of "Tarry Ye," and "Go Up."

There are four chapters, "Pentecostal Power," "The Sweetness of Holiness," "The Beauty of Holiness," "A Princely Character." Bound in attractive leatherette paper.

Price 25c each, 5 for $1.00.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

You are cordially invited to the Twenty-sixth Annual Celebration of the founding of the All-Prayer Foundlings Home, to be held on the lawn of the Home, 2305 Sycamore Ave., Louisville, Ky., at 3 P. M., Sunday, Oct. 4. Good program. Please announce in your Sunday school and church. Come and bring friends. Reached by Crescent Hill car line, or Frankfort Ave. Turn North at Jane Street.—G. C. Cromer, President.

B. G. Carnes: "We are now engaged in a three-weeks' campaign in Lexington, Ky., and God is blessing in saving and sanctifying souls. We are glad to be in the fight and rejoice in the victory that our Father gives."

Young people's evangelist and revival of the Family Altar for twenty years, can fill fall and winter engagements. No place too far, no place too hard, no people too poor. Call him if you need help. Rev. Irvin B. Manly, (Member Texas Conference), 401 Cosmos Street, Houston, Tex.

W. A. Grogg: "I am closing up this year as Conference Evangelist of the West Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church. This is my fifth year as Conference Evangelist. The Lord has blessed in a great way in the salvation of souls. I am making up my slate for winter meetings; will go wherever the Lord may lead; my terms are freewill offering and expenses. I preach a full gospel that saves from all sin. Can give good reference if required."

The Radio Evangelistic Association of America is a pioneer organization in the field of holiness preaching by radio. It is the only broadcasting holiness organization strictly interdenominational in character and so organized as to be a blessing to the whole Holiness Movement. This association has a vision for a centrally located broadcasting station dedicated to the preaching of "Scriptural Holiness." When such a station is established this association will seek the approval of the National Holiness Association, so that the people may know that the Radio Evangelistic Association of America is not a sectarian or fanatical movement but that it is an organization whose personnel and preaching are endorsed by the National Holiness Association. We are trying to make "REA" a stamp of quality on our sacred programs so that people may know that there are no tongues or other fanatical doctrines attached to real holiness preaching. We aim to put the finest holiness preachers on the air. As president of this association I am sounding out the strength of the sentiment for a radio station of this type, where pure gospel could be regularly radiocasted. Do you wish to help us to become the radio section of the great Holiness Movement? If so please write, enclosing stamped envelope for reply.—L. S. Hoover, President REA, Tionesta, Pa.

GANDHI IS "BONE DRY"

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Bombay, June 25, Mahatma Gandhi declared:

"If I were appointed dictator for one hour over all India, the first thing I would do would be to close without compensation all liquor shops, destroy all toddy palms from which liquor is locally extracted, compel factory owners to produce humane conditions for workmen and open refreshment and recreation rooms where workmen could get innocent drinks and equally innocent amusement.

"Exceptions would be made in the cases of Europeans and diseased persons, for whom a supply of liquor was medically necessary."

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Dear Good Friends: I am getting well. My sore is almost healed over. Am walking about the house with the assistance of one crutch. I use it so as not to put full weight on the sore leg too much to begin with. My cure has been miraculous. I realize it is mainly due to the prayers of God's people. The doctors said my good constitution has been in my favor from the beginning. I told the doctors and others I never drank any of the devil's slop or used tobacco.

My main object in writing you and Mrs. Morrison is to ask your prayers again, this time that I may get to the annual conference at Columbia. I am expecting to be able to go, but prayer can help to keep things out of the way of my going. I want to enjoy the fellowship of my brethren again; have been shut in seven months. Encourage my wife with a word or a phone message that you are praying for Brother Crowe to have a safe journey to and from conference. If God has answered prayer and brought me to where I am, he can continue to answer prayer and help me to conference. I know I must be careful, have been all along and of course shall continue to be. God bless you both, you have been much help to me and my wife.

Thankfully your brother,

Chas. R. Crowe.

Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name; ask, and ye shall receive, that your joy may be full. John 16:24.

PERSONAL TESTIMONY.

The following beautiful poem was written by one of God's saints who is living in an Old People's Home in Iowa. She has been wonderfully saved from sin and filled with his blessed Spirit. Her name is Mrs. Nora Bennum. Breathe a prayer for her sometime.

Greetings to all, I hope you are well; My soul is rejoicing, I've something to tell;

The Lord is so precious, to all he is good,

Oh, that more might know him; They could if they would.

He gave me conviction; he showed me my sin;

I cried in contrition, "Dear Lord, make me clean."

Then seeing the fountain that was open for me;

All glory to Jesus! through his blood I am free.

The fetters that bound me, no mortal could break;

The demon was morphine, and with fear I did quake;

I cried in my anguish, "Dear Lord, dost thou see?"

And Jesus delivered a sinner like me,

If you're bound by habit, whatever it may be,

Tobacco or liquor, there's deliverance for thee;

Oh! come to the Saviour; your bondage he'll break,

And give you your freedom, for his own Name's sake.

Mrs. Nora Bennum.

MY LIFE'S STORY

NEW EDITION—JUST ISSUED.

The Autobiography of Bud Robinson

This is the book for which thousands have been waiting. It is years since "Uncle Bud" has written a book dealing with his life and experiences. Now we have this volume, his autobiography, giving an intimate recital of his experiences from early childhood to the present time. Pathos, humor, optimism, scathing rebuke, with an amazing memory of detail unite to give this volume the peculiar charm that characterizes all of Bud Robinson's writings. Just as there is only one Bud Robinson so this is the only volume giving the complete story of his life up to the present.

217 pages; full page portrait of author; attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.00.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Adam Clarke---Great Commentary

Dr. Clarke was one of a long succession of men who, in every age of the Christian Church, have applied the best energies of their intellect and heart to the study and interpretation of the Scriptures. The seven gifts which, according to Augustine, the true expositor of Scripture must possess—reverence, piety, science, fortitude, prudence, cleanness of heart, and heavenly wisdom—were his portions.

The studies of his earlier years always had a bearing on this great work. From the beginning he felt the need of being taught by God to understand his own word. Referring to this, he says: "No man ever taught me the doctrine I embrace; I received it singly by reading the Bible."

Sufficiently critical to aid the inquiries of the more serious student, and yet sufficiently popular to serve the purpose of general edification. He gives a lucid view of the several books of Scripture, as to their dates and authors, their scope and connection; he expounds the original text in a manner adapted to the deficiencies of the reader; he elucidates difficulties in chronology, history, and oriental manners; he develops the grand doctrines of revelation, and applies the whole to the great concerns of human salvation and duty.

One leading feature in its character is independence in thinking. While he availed himself of the labors of others, the great number of his expositions are emphatically his own.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

is one of the noblest works of the class in the entire domain of sacred literature. It is a thesaurus of general learning.

Its luminous expositions of the Law and the Gospel; its earnest and forceful appeals to the conscience of the sinner and the unbeliever; its rich counsels for the well-understood wants of the Christian's inner life; its endless exhibitions of general knowledge; and its valuable aids to the students of those holy tongues in which revelation took its first recorded forms—all will render this book the companion and the counselor of multitudes as long as the English language may endure. The man who accomplished it achieved immortality, his name having become identified with an indestructible monument of learning and religion.

We commend it as the most spiritual commentary published. Six large volumes, good paper, good binding, new type.

Special Net Price, $14.90, Postpaid

Pentecostal Publishing Co.,

Louisville, Kentucky

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

Pentecostal Publishing Co.,
Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

BENNARD, GEO.

Houghton, N. Y., Oct. 25-Nov. 4.

BEVINS, K. J.

(1474 Stelzer Rd., Columbus, O.)
Coopersville, Ky., Oct. 15.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.

(Muncy, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.

BUSSEY, M. M.

Laclede, Mo., Sept. 20-Oct. 11.

CALLIS, O. H.

(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Newport, Ky., Oct. 4-18.
Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otoya, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.

Bennington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.

GRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET.

(815 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Ludington, Mich., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Portland, Mich., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

DICKINSON, H. N.

(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8-22.

EDWARDS, J. R.

(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28-Oct. 11.
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 12-25.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.

FLEMING, BONA.

(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
South Manchester, Conn., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.

FLEXON, R. G.

(Shackelfords, Va.)
McKeesport, Pa., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Camden, N. J., Oct. 11-25.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3, 4.
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.

FRYE, H. A.

(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
Grover, Pa., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.
Pierston, Mich., Nov. 8-29.

FUGETT, C. B.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 4-18.
Hornung, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.

(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.
'98 'AON 'D S 'CHO P'day

GLASCOCK, J. L.

(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GREGORY, LOIS V.

Salamanca, N. Y., Oct. 5-18.

GOODMAN, M. L.

(Burnips, Mich.)
Pine Grove, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 13-Jan. 2, reserved.
Merrill, Mich., Feb. 27-March 13.
Stroudsburg, Pa., March 20-April 3.
Ellsworth, Mich., May 1-14.

HARVEY, M. R.

(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Forest City, N. C., Sept. 21-Oct. 4.
Greensboro, Ga., Oct. 8-18.
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 23-Nov. 8.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.

(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)
Galena, Kan., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.

(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

HOOVER, L. S.

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 6-27.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.

(Bethany, Okla.)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4-18.

JOHNSON, H. C.

(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13-25.

JONES, T. HOWARD

(Sheffield, Mass.)
Lewis, Dela., Sept. 19-Oct. 3.
Hallwood, Va., Oct. 4-17.
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 16.

LARKIN, BESSIE

Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Westport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 15-29.

LINCICOME, F.

Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Troy, Ohio, Nov. 1-15.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE

(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12-25.
Jamestown, N. D., Nov. 1-15.

McBRIDE, J. B.

(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Trilanoek, Ore., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MINGLEDORFF, O. G.

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 20-Oct. 4.

NICE, N. W.

(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Whiting, Kan., Sept. 16-Oct. 4.
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-25.

REED, LAWRENCE.

(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

REID, JAMES V.

(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.

(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Shawnee, Okla., Sept. 30-Oct. 4.
Independence, Kan., Oct. 5-18.

SPARKS, BURL

(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.

(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

TOTTEN, ARCHIE J.

(411 Ninth St., Franklin, Pa.)
Open dates after January 1.

VAYHINGER, M.

(Upland, Ind.)
Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 4-25.

WILSON, D. E.

(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.

WILLIAMS, L. E.

(Wilmore, Ky.)
Open dates.

WIREMAN, C. L.

(304 South Main St., Somerset, Ky.)
Corbin, Ky., Sept. 10-Oct. 4.

Preparing To Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

GOING RIGHT.

A STRONG BOOK FAVORING THE ENFORCEMENT OF PROHIBITION.

"Going Right," by Robert Conklin Sudbury and Myrtle McClean Sudbury, printed by The Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky. (price $1.50) presents the case for prohibition briefly, clearly and forcibly.

It quotes the thirty-one Presidents of the United States who, with very few exceptions, are on record against alcoholic drinks of all sorts. It also gives the views of prominent leaders in many lines, here and abroad, who have denounced the indulgence in liquor with a strength and unanimity which are amazing. When on this subject even Col. Robert G. Ingersoll sounds like an eloquent and fearless preacher.

It takes up the arguments put forward by the people who are working to break down the law against strong drink, answering them convincingly. Dr. Ellis S. Allen, head surgeon of the Baptist Hospital, Louisville, gives a masterly history of alcohol, showing how it has "made fools of nations" and destroyed many of the greatest leaders of men. He describes alcohol as an excretion from bacteria. These living organisms are very small and cannot be seen without a microscope, but swarming millions of them produce a large amount of poison in a short time.

This book ought to be read by all who wish to be informed regarding this most important question before the American people today, in the realm of human laws and their enforcement. Young folk particularly, who know nothing by experience of the old days when saloons were on so many of our streets, licensed to ruin our people for a trifling tax, ought to get this antidote to the lies of those who seek a return to those evil conditions.

Jonathan Robinson, Louisville, Ky.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World. Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                     | $18.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for . . . . .

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $ . . . . . for which please send me books checked above.

Signed . . . . .

Address . . . . .

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{4}$  in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at \$7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible morocotol, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c

One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ . The regular net price is \$6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c

One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$  in. Regular price \$1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ , bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price \$1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only  $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ , only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ . Regular net price \$3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is  $6\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{4} \times 1$  in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at \$4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price \$5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is  $5 \times 7$ , less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular \$10.00 value. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size  $5 \times 8$ . Regular price \$4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size  $2\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price \$1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                       |        |
|---------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison .....    | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper.....   | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith.....     | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson    | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson .....       | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames .....         | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry      |        |
| God, Jonathan Edwards .....           | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—        |        |
| Which? Robinson .....                 | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son    |        |
| Is He? Morrison .....                 | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble .....                 | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin .....         | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest,     |        |
| Huff. ....                            | .20    |

Biography

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor .....   | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson .....               | .10 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life.. | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .10 |

For Children

|                                         |     |
|-----------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper .....      | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow .....          | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | .10 |

Evolution

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett .....    | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Un- |     |
| masked, Cooke .....                   | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech,     |     |
| Bryan. ....                           | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King      |     |
| of the Zoo, Shaddock .....            | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan .....      | .15 |

Hell

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell .....  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. |     |
| M. Taylor .....                       | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S.       |     |
| Taylor .....                          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt .....     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly     | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff....    | .10 |

The Dance

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt   | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly.....   | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper....    | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn.. | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones .....   | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle .....     | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should     |     |
| Not Dance, Smith .....               | .10 |

Holiness

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It    |     |
| Is—How It Is, Collins .....          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul ..... | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff .....   | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth ..... | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle .....       | .15 |
| Let's We Forget, or What Say The     |     |
| Fathers? Miller .....                | .25 |

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection .....          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer.....   | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing,   |     |
| Cundiff .....                         | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward .....            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor .....         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor..   | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson.    | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent  |     |
| Jew, John Paul .....                  | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfec-  |     |
| tion, John Wesley .....               | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly .....                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wes- |     |
| ley. ....                             | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke..  | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm .....          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power,       |     |
| Hames. ....                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our       |     |
| Scriptural Re-making, John Paul ..    | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Mor-     |     |
| risson .....                          | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett .....   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul ..... | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper. ....           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, |     |
| Abbie C. Morrow .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious       |     |
| Tongues, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian      |     |
| Science, Ridout .....                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism,    |     |
| Ridout. ....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism,     |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism,    |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day    |     |
| Adventism, Ridout .....              | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism,  |     |
| Ridout .....                         | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The    |     |
| Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues,      |     |
| Budd. ....                           | .05 |

Baptism

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design  |     |
| and Subjects .....                   | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett ....   | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and De-   |     |
| sign, George H. Means .....          | .50 |

Devotional

|                                     |     |
|-------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, |     |
| Danskin. ....                       | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse....   | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Ay-  |     |
| cock. ....                          | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks .....        | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                    |     |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper ..... | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt .....   | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will |     |
| Come Home to Roost, Culpepper... . | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell ..... | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey .....        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, |     |
| Coward. ....                          | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward .....   | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers   | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events,   |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett .....  | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett .....       | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, |     |
| Seiss .....                          | .15 |

Assorted

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone..   | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper .....         | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper .....            | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison....  | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout .....   | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the        |     |
| Sabbath, Pickett .....               | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor....  | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson..   | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. |     |
| Sims. ....                           | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcom-    |     |
| ers, Culpepper .....                 | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie      |     |
| Ever Justifiable? Hunt .....         | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist,     |     |
| Wimberly .....                       | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Dis-  |     |
| robed, Taylor .....                  | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Bet- |     |
| ter Day? Culpepper .....             | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure,    |     |
| Pickett .....                        | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to      |     |
| Keep It, George .....                | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor .....   | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly .....   | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall .....            | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey .....    | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart.  | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus...  | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor....  | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper .....              | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abom-  |     |
| inations, Ridout .....               | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor .....    | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly .....            | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly.....    | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper .... | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained,   |     |
| Taylor. ....                         | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of       |     |
| Heaven, Mackrell .....               | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked
above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Oct. 7, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 40.

A CHANGE OF NAME.

By The Editor.

A few weeks ago we spoke of the organization of The Central Holiness Association. We have wisely changed the name; the new and permanent name of this organization is The Methodist Holiness League. It will be made up of members of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Devout people who fully accept the Wesleyan teaching on entire sanctification, of any evangelical church, who wish to do so, may become associate members of this League.

This League has nothing to do with ecclesiastical politics, but it seeks to draw into close fellowship and zealous service those Methodists in the two great sister denominations for one supreme purpose—a deep, widespread revival of religion. Believing that the great fundamental doctrines of the Bible have just as much power in them to convict, regenerate, sanctify and empower for service as they had in the days when Methodism burned with a holy flame of revival power, we shall seek, plan and purpose to preach and teach these vital Bible doctrines, and believe that the blessing of God will be upon his word in mighty power to save.

The original Methodists were great doctrinarians. There were certain essential truths that they preached constantly, and that God blessed wonderfully in the salvation of souls. The humblest people in original Methodism were Bible readers and were thoroughly saturated with those Bible teachings that were so powerfully preached and used of God in the salvation of souls. We fear it has come to pass that many preachers in Methodism are not emphasizing these doctrines, and we believe there are many Methodists who hardly know if the Methodist Church has any clearly defined system of doctrinal truth. We desire to awaken the people to study, believe, and become saturated with the fundamental doctrines of evangelical religion.

Our prime object is a real revival wrought in the hearts of the people by the Holy Spirit. There is an urge upon us. We believe it is of the Lord. In order to have anything like the revival we wish to see here in Louisville and surrounding country, and in Kentucky Methodism, and anywhere else the divine fire will spread, we must have a desire and objective, some plans, the uniting of hearts in love with Christ and souls, and harmonious action. This is why we are organizing the Methodist Holiness League, to unite a group of people who will pray and work, press forward and hold on, and refuse to let go until we shall see the mighty power of God revealed in the conversion of sinners, the reclamation of backsliders, and the sanctification of believers. May the blessed Holy Spirit give us hearts with one accord, with a Jacob's grip in prayer, that we may see the salvation of the Lord.

The early Methodists preached that all men were fallen and sinful. This we steadfastly believe. Those original Methodists believed that Jesus Christ, by the grace of God, tasted death for every man; that the call of Christ was "Whosoever will, may come, and whosoever cometh unto me, I will in no wise cast out." The early Methodists preached and prayed for a conviction of sin wrought in the heart of the sinner by the Holy Spirit, in sorrow for sin, forsaking of sin, and confession of sin. They believed in a full surrender of the rebellious heart of the lost sinner to God, a surrender that was made gladly, a surrender that meant I am done with sin. This we believe is a part of the great plan of human redemption. The sinner must repent or perish. The Methodist fathers taught salvation by faith in Christ. The penitent sinner who trusted Christ was saved. Jesus, and Jesus alone, was the all-sufficient Saviour. To this, we say Amen with all of our hearts. Wesley and his co-workers taught and insisted upon the witness of the Holy Spirit to sins forgiven. They laid emphasis upon the new birth, and a clear knowledge that this regenerating work had been wrought and witnessed to so clearly that the pardoned, justified, regenerated soul could know without doubt,

"'Tis done, the great transaction's done,
I am my Lord's and he is mine."

The members of this League believe and rejoice in this precious doctrine of the witness of the Holy Spirit, sins forgiven, and adoption into the family of our Lord.

The early Methodists, who kindled the greatest revival fires since the days of the apostles, which have swept in a holy flame over the earth and around the world, believed that there was a carnal nature remaining in the regenerated to be cleansed out—an old man to be crucified—an indwelling sin to be destroyed by a gracious operation of the Holy Spirit, sanctifying the Christian's heart from all sin. They gladly sang in their spiritual longing,

"Oh, for a heart to praise my God,
A heart from sin set free;
A heart that always feels thy blood
So freely spilt for me.

"A heart resigned, submissive, meek,
My Great Redeemer's throne;
Where only Christ is heard to speak,
Where Jesus reigns alone.

"A heart in every thought renewed,
And full of love divine;
Perfect, and right, and pure, and good,
A copy, Lord, of thine."

All of this we steadfastly believe. We believe it with joy and praise. The doctrines we have mentioned are the foundations on which we build The Methodist Holiness League, for one purpose—there is no selfish motive or sinister object in this organization—but for one purpose we unite ourselves, and that is, for a revival, for the awakening of sinners, their salvation, for the creating of hungering and thirsting after righteousness, and cleansing the heart by faith. We want to lift up Jesus Christ as the virgin born, crucified, resurrected, ascended, loving Son of God, with all power in heaven and earth, mighty to save to the uttermost.

Read this over and if you like it, and wish to join this League, with one dominating motive and purpose, and nothing else, but to help bring on a revival, send your name and address to Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Box 592, Louisville, Ky., who will turn them over to our Secretary. For the present, there is no admission fee; any one who wishes to make a donation may do so. We plan to buy a large tent in the spring for evangelistic services in this city and other places where it can be used successfully. We plan to hold our first revival of this organization in Trinity M. E. Church, Second and Guthrie, Louisville, Ky., October 28 to 31. Be with us if you can; if not, pray for us.

Faithfully your brother for a great revival of Holy Ghost religion. H. C. MORRISON.

A Revival of Bible Salvation.

THE FIRST THING NECESSARY TO A REVIVAL OF RELIGION.

We are now thinking of a revival of religion in a local church. Let the enemies of revivals say what they will, frequent revivals of religion in any church or community are of great value. They are necessary to the best interests of every phase of life, church, social, political, business and family. It would be difficult to estimate the value of a great revival that brings a consciousness of the presence of God and our responsibility in view of the facts of our immortality, the coming judgment, heaven for the saved and hell for the lost.

Revivals of religion have often broken up wicked organizations and secret plans for great sins that would have led to crimes and disaster that cannot be estimated by human measurements. Sometime ago a very prominent churchmember and influential business man, who was highly respected, told me that at a time of pressure in his business he had engaged in several dishonest transactions and had heavy insurance placed upon his house and furniture, and was under strong temptation and was about to burn his house, when a protracted meeting was held in his church and he was converted just in time to save him from the awful plunge. He was amazed at himself and shuddered at the thought of what he had done, and was about to do. He made a number of confessions and restorations and became a bright and shining light.

I have known revivals to come just in time to prevent the breaking up of homes. Some-

(Continued on page 8)

TRAGIC ERRORS AND DYNAMIC TRUTHS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Argentina is a great Republic made up of many Nationalities in which the Italians and Spanish predominate. Roman Catholicism is the state religion, though other religions have the right of propagation. Superstition sometimes reaches the limit in South America. Yesterday I went out from Buenos Aires to one of the National Catholic shrines where a doll, in size, possibly two feet high, is extolled and idolized and worshipped as the Virgin Mary. About one hundred years ago it was brought from Brazil by some travellers and when their oxcart reached the town of Lujan the oxen would not go any farther. This was taken as a sign that the virgin doll must remain there. This was a miracle! Then the legends began to grow about cures and miracles wrought by the "doll." Thousands journey here from all parts of South America to make their offerings and pray to the virgin doll. An immense church has been erected to house the doll. I saw it decked up with gold and jewelry. The priests make a handsome income from the thing and the railroad runs excursions every Sunday. Of all the baseless superstitions of Romanism I ever met with I think this takes the prize. I went from Lujan to Rodriguez where I preached afternoon and night. The Plaza is a beautiful place and the Roman Catholic Church stands there. I read the tombstone of a priest buried there. It appears that he made his will in which he left his money to his son(?) (priests do not marry). When the son knew it he set to work to put his priest father away and murdered him to get the money! The priest's monument is in front of the church. Such is Romanism in South America!

II.

John Kensit, of London, tells the following story about Romanism in Spain:

"On Whit Sunday, which we spent in Barcelona, the Protestant congregations joined in praise to God for the new day which had dawned. On Whit Monday we made a pilgrimage to the famous shrine of Montserrat, where is perched, over 4,000 feet up the mountain side, the monastic pile which is the home of the well-known 'Black Virgin.' Our hearts were stirred to grief and pity as we gazed upon crowds kissing the image, which Rome declares was carved by St. Luke—a palpable absurdity—and then making offerings of money and wax candles, at the rate of about twenty persons each minute. This particular image must be a veritable goldmine for the Church of Rome.

"At Saragossa, we have been witnesses of the idolatrous and superstitious vogue of the 'Adoration of the Pillar.' In this town are two cathedrals, one dedicated to the Savior, but we found this almost entirely deserted in favor of the other building, dedicated to 'Our Lady of the Pillar.' The tradition accepted by 'the faithful' is that St. James preached the Gospel to Spain, and in order to give him encouragement the Virgin Mary was brought from Palestine to Saragossa by a battalion of angels seated on a granite pillar. The pillar was left behind, while the Virgin returned through the air to her native land! Centuries later, the pillar was discovered, and became the object of adoration. Thousands kiss the base of the pillar every day, and at the present moment fanatical women assemble with the prayer on their lips: 'Mother of God, save Spain.'"

III.

Romanism has been allied with the most deceptive and lying devices. From England comes this story which we quote from the Christian: "A paragraph embodying a reported saying of the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Liverpool (Dr. Downey) is going the rounds of the press, and it is too eloquent a comment upon Roman Catholic mentality and morality to be allowed to pass unnoticed here. This is the paragraph:—

"Speaking at Longton, Archbishop Downey said that recently a poor woman with ten children brought him £109 as a contribution to the Liverpool Cathedral Fund. Asked if she could afford it, she replied, 'Of course I can afford it. I have never been the worse for what I have given to God. Whenever I give anything to God I get it back.' The Archbishop added that he gave her his blessing, and a few days ago he heard that she had won £100 in the Irish sweepstake."

"Presumably we are to deduce from this that, in the Roman Catholic view, God approves of and has a practical interest in sweepstakes! Letting that pass, however, as beyond the range of discussion, it would have been interesting to know wherein lay the virtue of the woman's 'gift.' In the circumstances, as related by Dr. Downey, she gave nothing, sacrificed nothing. She was as well off afterward as before. Why, then, the archi-episcopal blessing? It is reported that the Irish Free State Government is contemplating the abandonment, for diplomatic reasons, of its sweepstake projects. What a blow for the Liverpool Roman Catholic Cathedral funds!"

IV.

The Book of Genesis has another confirmation in the words of Dr. W. Bell Dawson, an eminent Scientist of England. Touching the matter of Origins, Dr. Dawson says: "It can be made known to us only by revelation from him who lived before the world was, who from age to age is God, and who sees the end from the beginning. We find that there are scientists with a wide outlook and balanced judgment who are convinced of this in dealing with origins. We note this in an essay just published, Creation and Modern Cosmogony, by Sir Ambrose Fleming, famous for his discoveries in electricity. He points out that man is enabled in some degree to comprehend the works of the Creator; but in regard to origins he says, 'The scientific study alone of those works as they at present exist, can never give us true information as to their origin.' Sir William Dawson, the geologist, when questioned as to the origin of man replied, as a scientist: 'I know nothing about the origin of man except what I am told in the Scripture—that God created him. I would say with Lord Kelvin, that there is nothing in science which reaches the origin of anything at all.' Dr. W. Bateson, the noted biologist, states candidly: 'The problem of the origin of life still stands outside of the range of scientific investigation.'"

"In daily reading of Thy Word,
Dear Lord, we seek Thy Will to learn;
Then may our waiting hearts be stirr'd,
As wondrous truths we there discern.

"O may Thy gracious Spirit's light
Upon the open page be pour'd;
And so before our quicken'd sight
Shall be made clear Thy message, Lord.

"The wonders of Creation's week,
Thy righteous law, Thy guiding hand,
As Psalmists sing and Prophets speak,
Alike the list'ning ear command.

"While we in knowledge daily grow,
As Thy pure Word we thus explore,
Teach us Thy guiding voice to know,
And love Thee, Father, more and more."

V.

The Second Coming of Christ is a great Doctrine of Scripture. Matthew Henry on Luke 13:35 says, "To watch implies, not only to believe that our Lord shall come, but to desire that he should come, to be often thinking of his coming and always looking for it as sure and near and the time of it uncertain." Listen to these words on The Second Coming by that great Scotch leader, Dr. Thomas Chalmers, scholar and preacher, in words spoken over eighty years ago:—

"Of this I am satisfied, that the next coming of Christ will be a coming, not final judgment, but a coming to usher in the Millennium. I utterly despair of the universal prevalence of Christianity as the result of a missionary process. I look for its conclusive establishment through a widening passage of desolations and judgments, with the demolition of our civil and ecclesiastical structures. 'Overturn, overturn, overturn,' is the watchword of our coming Lord."

"In his 'Sabbath Readings' Chalmers says: 'I desire to cherish a more habitual and practical faith than heretofore in that coming, which even the first Christians were called to hope for with all earnestness, even though many centuries were to elapse ere the hope could be realized; and how much more we who are so much nearer this great fulfilment than at the time when we believed.'"

"Then welcome, thrice welcome, ye tokens of God!

What else but His coming can comfort afford?

What presence but His set this prisoned earth free?

O Star of the morning, our Hope is in Thee."

VI.

Dr. A. B. Simpson, in a wonderful message on the Self Life, says:

"We read in the Book of Joshua of three sons of Anak, the heads of the Anakim, a race of giants who held the city of Hebron before Caleb's conquest. As the story of Hebron is a type, along with the whole of the Book of Joshua, of our higher spiritual victories, so these Anakim properly represent the great strongholds of our natural and sinful life. The word Anak means 'long-necked,' and may well suggest the spirit of self-will, self-confidence and self-seeking, which are perhaps the worst forms of self-life."

"There is a foe whose hidden power
The Christian well may fear;
More subtle far than inbred sin,
And to the heart more dear.
It is the power of selfishness,
The proud and wilful I;
And ere my Lord can live in me,
My very self must die."

"May God show us everything in us that will not stand the searching flames. Above everything, do not let us have a larger Gospel than we have a life. Having passed sentence of death upon ourselves, then let us take Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit to do the work. Don't try to fight it yourself. And then, when the test time comes, and God leads you out to meet it, be true. The test will come, but when the battle comes do not defend yourself, but say: 'Lord, let me die.' Perhaps someone will try to provoke you. Perhaps someone will try to praise you. Just say again, 'Lord, let me die.' The Holy Spirit is able to take everything we dare to give, and give everything we dare to take. Shall we dare to take him for the death of our subtlest foe, and truly pray,

"O Jesus, slay the self in me
By Thy consuming breath;
Show me Thy heart, Thy wounds, Thy shame,
And love my soul to death.
When the Shekinah flame came down,
E'en Moses could not stay;
So let Thy glory fill my heart,
And self forever slay."

THIS, THAT, AND THE OTHER.

Thomas Clark Henderson.

MAHATMA GANDHI

S making the front page of the newspapers right now, as this is being written, because of his trip to attend the meetings of the Federal Structures Committee in London. He is insisting that he be housed among the most humble beggars of Kingsley Hall, London's East End home for the poorest of the poor, while his fellow delegates from India and his other coadjutors are comfortably housed in the most luxurious hotels in the city. I know too little about Gandhi to have a final opinion of his character and place among men, but I do thrill with joy to see him maintain a consistent poise and practice relative to the poor and needy. His international notoriety might easily have opened to him the finest homes, or gained for him the most comfortable appointments while acting as one of India's delegates to this important Conference. However, it would be a compromise of his character and loyalty to the vast hordes of struggling people, if he had fellowshiped with those whom he seems to think are the enemies of those for whom he is acting as a voice. I am making note of this matter now because I think it is a mighty good example for all of us who have something to do with the ministry of Jesus Christ to the outcasts among men. Who has not sickened at the sight of church dignitaries maintaining the dignity of their office and rank by extravagance, garish display and strutting superiority. Holding themselves apart from and above the common herd of us. A Roman Catholic Cardinal aroused the disgust of all thoughtful observers recently when he published a statement to the effect that the dignity of his office was such as to demand that no layman could have audience with him except when introduced by and accompanied by a priest. Who made the professed servant of Christ—regardless of his rank—above those whom he serves? Who has not questioned the fitness of a Missionary Conference meeting in the most expensive hotel or auditorium in our cities? Especially so when more modest, economical and suitable quarters were available and befitting. Our struggling colleges are not best represented by their officials traveling in the most costly automobiles and displaying the most extravagant tastes in dress, and convenience and possessions. Material blessings soon turn their holder into a secular more than a spiritual person. Gandhi may be off on a lot of things, but he is gloriously right in his consistent poise of humble brotherhood.

* * * * *

SURPRISING

As it may be, the truth is that the Bible does not say, "the effectual fervent grumbling of a righteous man availeth much."

* * * * *

THOSE OF US

Who have had something to do with the spreading of Scriptural Holiness over these lands are greatly the losers in not having the full story of the movement since the days of Inskip until the present day. There are two lives which should be written for the sake of all of us. I mean the biographies of Margaret J. Harris and of Dr. C. J. Fowler. They were as different from each other as they were strong, but they were typical of the workers and work which bridged the gap between the early days of the National Association for the Promotion of Holiness and the present day. They shared in the work of their day which did certain things and faced and settled some issues which should be well known to all of this present time who labor to bring about the sanctification of the church. I knew both of them, but not intimately. Mrs.

Harris was a woman of strong character, of marked ability in many ministries. She is remembered more for her singing than her preaching, though she was a real and mighty preacher of the Word of God. She came from modest beginnings. Her prime found her known and honored from one coast to the other. Her influence will never die. Dr. Charles J. Fowler, I suppose, had few intimate friends. He appeared to be a man who invited no hasty familiarity. How he did pray! What logic-aflame flashed in his every sermon! His character was holy and judicial in its every releasing. It is a distinct loss that his sermons and his journal have not become the property of the people. Some one who knew these two giants well, and there are several still living who did, should give us their knowledge of the story of these leaders of other days.

* * * * *

EVERY LIE

Has two parents. The Devil is the "father of lies," but one can only wonder who mothers them all. Especially all the gigantic and tasty lies which go the rounds about Christian workers. A camp meeting officer approached Mrs. Henderson and me to inquire if it were true that "Evangelist Blank and his wife were separated and that he had married again, as it is being reported." We were astonished. The evangelist in question is our friend. We know that he and his devout wife are happily living together and are together sharing the work of God in superb fashion. There is not the least shred of truth in the rumor. When we asked where the story came from, the good camp meeting officer hesitated telling us, and when he did we were amazed that so good and noted a person would consent to share in the parentage of such a bald and black lie about another brother. Every now and then one hears that this worker has backslidden through compromise, and that worker is getting rich at the price of his spirituality, and yet another is morally loose, and still some other worker is not true at some vital point, until, if I believed all the stories which have gone the rounds against tested and tried and proven men and women I know I could hardly believe in the sincerity of any of them. Sometime ago I received a letter asking if it were true that "Evangelist Dash had become a Modernist?" The evangelist asked about was at that very time giving his mightiest efforts in defense of the most fundamental of the fundamentals. And so it goes. It would seem that devout persons would want to refuse to share with Satan the parentage of such offspring. It is a good thing that most lies age rapidly and die young, though occasionally a perfectly absolute lie has perfect health and lives to hinder and hurt for many years.

* * * * *

IN A CERTAIN CITY,

North of the equator, there is a physician who is a specialist, and his "shingle" has the following words on it, "Dr. Specialist, Stomach and Nerves." That fits a lot of us. He treats stomach and nerves, but many of us center all our life in our stomach and compel others to respect our nerves.

* * * * *

MANY THOUGHTFUL CHRISTIANS

Have deep longings for a better, fuller and complete Christian life, a life which is superior to that which is commonly displayed by those about them in the church. One cannot read the lives of good and great men and women without noting their longings for a definite and higher life in Christ than is commonly realized. Many movements and organizations are set for the teaching and promoting of truths which will deepen the Christian life. All of which is a testimony to the reality of this quite universal concern among Christians for some better-than-ordinary Christian experience and service. The Bible clearly teaches that there is a superior way of Christian living. Pentecost certainly produced a superior life in the early disciples of Christ. In nearly every letter from the pen of the Apostle Paul one notes his appeals to Christians to seek and find in Christ "the more excellent way."

Many Christians bear testimony to the fact that at a positive event they consciously received the Baptism with the Holy Ghost after they were converted, and that resultant on that event in their Christian experience they entered into a life of fullness, of triumph, of power and of satisfying fellowship with God. They call this superior life the "sanctified life," and similar names. They positively declare that their longing for inner purity and moral completeness has been satisfied in the sanctifying work of the Holy Ghost.

Now then the conclusion must be that since many Christians long for a superior Christian life, which is promised and revealed in the Bible as the sanctified life, and since honest and devout Christians testify that in the sanctified life they have found the end of their longings for heart completeness, then the better and higher and complete Christian life is the sanctified life.

* * * * *

METHODISTS AND WORDS

Both backslide. I have in mind that word crisis. It was formerly a very weighty word, but we have wedded it with so many things that it certainly does not mean as much to some of us as it once did. Every public meeting you attend has some speaker who burdens you with the assurance that some stupendous crisis is on in some vital phase of life or something. The preachers are all the time challenging us to awaken to the seriousness of the crisis which is hovering over us. The editors fill their columns with ponderous sentences about national, state, county, city or precinct crises. The college and high school orators eloquently berate us with the terrors of some paramount crisis which fill their imagination. It is almost possible that some one is writing in this very issue of this paper about some dark and sinister crisis in some transcendent thing or movement. I have not kept notes on this thing, but as I recall now, my reading in recent days has informed me that there is just now a moment of great and solemn crisis or turning point in most everything about which I am interested. In religion, in the church, in evangelism, in education, in industry, in good government, in international affairs, in finances, in agriculture, in race relations, in history, in prophecy, in the North, in the South, in the East and in the West; in the sky and on the earth and under the earth; on land and on the sea—in everything there is a tragic crisis! I grow tense with fright. Is there nothing stable? Is no one at rest? Is everything in flux? Do we all have to be upset all the time and about everything? Is there no place left in the world for one who plods steadily on in right thinking and living? Is God not the same as in ages gone past? Has Christ changed? Does faith have to get excited? God's love is not in a crisis is it? Divine mercy is steady, I hope! Heaven has not been undermined, has it? There is no uncertainty about the abiding values of old-fashioned holiness, is there? I get so tried over these real and imagined crises that I wish that I could climb to the brow of some high mountain and broadcast to all the world the glorious fact that "Jesus Christ is the same, yesterday, today and forever!"

God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Rom. 5:8.

LOOKING UNTO JESUS THE LAMB OF GOD.

Rev. H. H. Wood.

"Behold the Lamb of God." John 1:36.

BEHOLD HIM THE ONE CENTRAL THEME OF THE BIBLE.

THE Bible, with its sixty-six books, is one volume with one central theme—Christ Jesus. His name is written in every part of it. He is seen in every sacrifice and feast of ancient Israel.

There is no worship or devotion anywhere, any time, where Christ does not appear. We have much said disparagingly today of Old Testament Christianity; but what is Christianity but Christ discerned? Follow the gleam—Old Testament—he is coming; New Testament—he has come; Epistles—he is coming again. In the Old Testament we have the twinkling stars of prophecy; in the New, the dawn, the day.

"The New is in the Old contained,
The Old is by the New explained."

If we turn to the Old Testament we find that Jesus is spoken of as actually existing, and pre-eminently exalted in glory, unlimited and everlasting; the whole volume being filled with notices and disclosures to this effect. In Genesis, as the seed of the woman, "He was to obtain a great triumph over the powers of darkness in 'bruising the Serpent's head.'" In Exodus, the book of departure, he is the Passover Lamb. In Leviticus, the book of atonement, the Atoning Sacrifice. In Numbers, the book of the march and roll call, the Smitten Rock. In Deuteronomy, the book of remembrance, the Prophet yet to come. Moses also announces him the great Lawgiver of the Universe, and predicts the overthrow and downfall of all those who reject him. In Joshua, the book of conquest, he is the Captain of the Lord's hosts. In Judges, the book of declension, the great Deliverer. In Ruth, the book of the winsome love story, the Celestial Kinsman, the Heavenly Boas. In Samuel and Kings and Chronicles he is Christ the King. In Ezra, the book of restoration, the Restorer of the temple. In Nehemiah, the Restorer of the nation. In Esther, the book of God's Providence, both Advocate and Propitiator. In Job, the book of patience, the ever living and redeeming God. In Psalms, the book of devotion, he is God, the All and in All. In Proverbs, the book of Wisdom, in Ecclesiastes, the book of experience, and in The Songs of Solomon, the Christian love story, he is the Beginning and Ending, the Center and Heart of all; the "Chief among ten thousand and altogether lovely."

Isaiah, the Messianic Prophet, in his book of expectation, soars above all heights and proclaims him, "Immanuel"—God with us. "The Mighty God," "Jehovah, the Lord God of Hosts, and only Savior." Jeremiah, the warning prophet, in his book of admonition, glowingly depicts him as "Jehovah our righteousness." In Lamentations, the warning prophet is weeping, and through his book of tears he portrays Jesus as the "Man of Sorrows." Ezekiel, the prophet of visions, in his book of encouragements for captive saints, declares Jesus to be the "only Shepherd." Daniel, the prophet of dreams, in his Sunrise book publishes him the "object of worship." Hosea, the prophet of salvation, in his book of backsliders, predicts that "Jehovah will save the people by Jehovah." Joel the prophet of the Spirit, in his book of pentecost, says expressly as quoted by St. Paul, "that he is Jehovah, and that whosoever shall call upon him shall be saved." Amos, the farmer prophet, in his book of the plumbline, declares him the "Heavenly Husband." Obadiah, the prophet of deliverance, in his book of possessions, sings of him as "Savior and Deliverer." Jonah, the missionary prophet, in his book of God's mercy, sets him forth as "the Resurrection and the Life." Micah, the herald prophet, in his book of the watchtower, declares him the "Ruler in Israel." His going forth being from "everlasting to everlasting." Nahum, the world's prophet, in his book of the burden, declares that "Zion's God is a jealous God." Habakkuk, the prophet of Hope, in his book of light in the darkness, sings in the night time, soaring on a high note, "Look up beleaguered soul, trust and be glad in the Lord." Zephaniah, the judgment prophet, in his book of the day of the Lord announces him the "Lord God, Mighty to save." Haggai, the prophet of restoration, in his builder's book, portrays him "the Desire of all nations." Zechariah, the prophet of final things, in his book of the future, declares him to be "Jehovah sent by Jehovah to the nations." And Malachi who concludes all the prophetic utterances, notices and disclosures, in his sunset book shouts "The Lord whom ye seek shall suddenly come to his temple."

Passing from the Old Testament to the New, allowing nearly four hundred years to pass away since Malachi's voice rang clear with the above promise, in Matthew's Gospel we hear the glad song of the angels saying, "The promised Messiah, the Lord whom ye seek has come, the King is here." Mark cries with shining eyes, "Have you seen him?" This is what he said, this is what he did, this is what he really is—"The Son of God with power." Luke's Gospel opens with a song, "Glory to God in the highest." It closes with a song blessing and praising God. And from that day to this the world has been singing and the bells of heaven sweetly ringing. John's gracious witness was to this end, "that ye might believe that Jesus is the Christ, the Son of God." His Gospel opens with Christ in the bosom of the Father, and closes with John in the bosom of Christ. In Acts we have the book of witness, the Gospel of the Risen Christ. "Christ is not dead," says Luke in this his second message. "He is risen again, and is at the right hand of God, the Father." Paul, in his epistles to the Romans, Corinthians, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, Thessalonians, to Timothy, Titus, Philemon, and to the Hebrews, shouts, "Eureka! I have found the way." 'Tis Jesus! He is our salvation, our righteousness, our grace, our comfort, our liberty, our riches. Fullness of life, fullness of joy, fullness of power. Our teacher, our healer, our master and owner. Our high priest and intercessor. Our heavenly guest, our portion forever and ever. Christ our all and in all, the glorified and coming one." James declares him the pattern of our faith and works. Peter, the apostle of hope says, "cheer up, there's light ahead, in and through the Christ of God our Savior." Jude in his epistle of steadfastness, shouts, "He is our keeper." "Now unto him that is able to keep you, to the only wise God our Savior, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever." And now what—sayeth John, the last witness of the Book of books in his epistles and the Revelation. Listen attentively to his testimony. "We know," sayeth John. There is no possibility of doubt about it, "That which was from the beginning, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the word of life." 'Tis Jesus, we really and truly know him. He is our glorified and coming one, King of kings and Lord of lords forever and ever. Having looked upon Jesus as the one central theme of the Book of books, let us

BEHOLD HIM IN HIS PERSON.

It is not at all difficult to think of God, the Son, as regards his personality while in the flesh. We do not have to draw upon our imagination to see him wrapped in swaddling clothes, and lying in a manger. As surely as God's Word is true he is from everlasting to everlasting. There was a time when as yet the sun had not lighted up his fires, and sent silvery rays upon the earth; a time when the moon had not been hung pendant in the heavens for man's profit and glory; a time when all we now behold of God's great universe was not unborn, slumbering to be sure in the mind of God, but as yet uncreated and non-existent; yet there was God and he was "over all blessed forever." He is "Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end." Behold him, the high and lofty One, heaven his throne, the earth his footstool. See him as angels veil their faces with their wings, and cherubim and seraphim rest not day and night, saying, "Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord God Almighty." Behold him, very God of very God, coming from his throne in glory, bringing salvation, dying on Calvary's Cross, the "Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." Behold him rising again, as had been predicted by the prophets of the distant past, and as he had said he would. Behold him ascending from Mount Olivet's brow. Behold him sitting at the "right hand of God, making intercession for us." Behold him as the great and eternal Judge in the final day.

BEHOLD HIM UPON HIS MISSION OF HUMAN REDEMPTION.

How painfully exercised Jesus must have been in leaving his throne of regal pomp and splendor to come to our earth of sin and sorrow. What humiliation, what suffering, what torture, was that which he endured as he engaged in his mission of human redemption, working out its fulfillment by heightening the grandeur of the end. Behold him in his humiliation in the manger, his agony in the Garden, his sufferings on the cross. The greatest wonder of earth's miracles is the fact that "Christ suffered for us." Prophets, apostles, martyrs, heroes and heroines have been stoned, banished, burned and sawn asunder, but no event that lives on the pages of history has ever been so attested by nature and nature's God as were the sufferings and death of Christ, "the Lamb of God." Jehovah speaks and the earth rocks to its center; yonder the sun is clothed in sackcloth and ashes for three hours; the graves give up their dead; at the psychological moment an unseen hand lays hold of the veil of the temple and rends it from top to bottom. But the ultimate substantiation of his claims as Savior, Lord and God stood intimately connected with the resurrection. Ancient prophecy had announced him King in Zion, Ruler of his people Israel, and Lord over all; but as a final proof of his claims he must raise himself from the dead. Heaven and earth bear witness that so he did. Thus rising from the dead as the divinely accredited Head and Leader of God's people, his claim admits of no dispute, no uncertainty. By divine purpose and appointment, the incarnation, life, death, resurrection, ascension of our Lord, and the subsequent descent of the Holy Spirit all occur in established connection as sequent and antecedent, proving the Lamb of God as Savior, Lord and Master.

BEHOLD HIM THE SALVATION OF HIS PEOPLE.

The awful fall of our first parents has been met in the redemptive scheme of a mighty Savior, our second parent. It is the privilege of every human being to comprehend, through personal experience, something of the might and majesty of the Incarnate Son of God. We know him to be the regent of Providence, the king of death, the conqueror of hell, the Lord of angels, the master of storms, and he that is "mighty to save." The word "save" embraces all the work of salvation from the first holy desire, the first spiritual conviction, onward to complete sanctification. Through the Lamb of God we may have redemption from all sin, as well as from our actual and willful transgressions. He is mighty, not merely to put men in a salvable condition, but mighty to save to the uttermost. "Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost, that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them." Behold the Savior as he stoops to solicit the possession of the sinner's heart. Well may heaven and earth be called upon to behold an act of such condescension and grace.

BEHOLD HIM THE STRENGTH AND PROTECTION OF HIS PEOPLE.

In and through the Lamb of God our souls are being preserved. Clinging to him is our protection, our help, and our shield. Heaven's intelligence shines on our pathway through him, and his ministrations illumine the dark and dreary interval of human suffering and earthly pilgrimage. With our hold on him, we have nothing to fear; we rest secure in our place like the deep-seated mountain rocked by the thunder and washed by the cataract, still breasting, unmoved, the storm and the roar of a thousand torrents.

"The soul that on Jesus still leans for repose, I will not, I will not desert to his foes;

That soul, though all hell should endeavor to shake,

I'll never, no never, no never forsake!"

BEHOLD HIM THE LIGHT AND GUIDE OF HIS PEOPLE.

He is "the way, the truth, and the life." "The light of the world." The light of the Lamb of God needs no touch of human perfection or earthly finish. Its every ray of light is a heaven-transmitted beam to the human understanding. To this light individuals and nations have clung as the last plank in the widespread wreck of truth and goodness. Its light is shining alike amid Polyneesian Isles, and Caribbean Archipelagoes. The gospel is heard in the hut of the Esquimo, and the pavilion of the Persian. It has superseded the victorious war dance amid the lakes of the north, and kindled its breathings in the cinnamon groves of Ceylon. Its influence is felt in the mines of Golconda. Its warnings strike reverly dumb in the seraglio of the Mogul; and as a miracle of heavenly creation, it contains principles of boundless increase, that shall spread through every clime, and under every sky, until the voices of piety, the harps of Zion, and the hymns of her joy shall everywhere fling to the bending heavens and listening earth, their sweet and varied melody. It is under the light and guidance of him, who is the light and guide of his people, that we see the bark of knowledge, where all beside was wreck, booming in safety over the rolling seas of time. Looking unto Jesus, our soul in radiant glow sings,

"We'll walk in the light, beautiful light,
Come where the dewdrops of mercy are bright,
Shine all around us by day and by night,
Jesus, the Light of the world."

BEHOLD HIM THE ONE NEED OF THE WORLD.

That the needs of the confused and distracted world of today are many all thinking hearts will agree. But the one need that presupposes and includes every other need is Jesus. Moses predicted the failure and downfall of all who reject him, and we have but to unroll the records that bear, in burning characters, the histories and achievements of individuals and nations for complete substantiations of his prophecy. Stand with me upon the crumbling fragments of grandeur where the Hall of Wisdom once stood, and the thunders of eloquence were once heard. You remember well her intellectual supremacy, that her statesmen and rulers, like Pericles, were both orators and poets; that dramatists and historians still gauge their inspiration from their Athenian prototypes; that her soldiers, like Xenophon, not only could lead their phalanxes to battle, but with a pen of a mighty classic write the immortal history of the deeds of arms in which they themselves participated. But for what end was all this miracle of Grecian lore and temporary success? True, she flourished and mankind stood astonished at the sublimity of her career. But where, now, is the glory of Greece? Gothic ignorance now dwells upon the ruins of oriental greatness. The grandeur of Greece is no more, except upon the scroll of fame. She had her opportunity to behold the Lamb of God, and failing to behold him aright she has come to utter failure and loss.

Look at Rome, as once she sent forth her conquering legions to the north, south, east and west, planting Roman sovereignty in every land. She became the mistress of the world; on her walls waved the flags of all nations. But where now is mighty Rome? She, too, has been thrown over the precipice of the powerful action of yesterday, and there remains nothing of her greatness but the magnificent ruins of her capital city. She, too, failed to behold aright the Lamb of God.

Look at the Jews! See them cursed, scathed and scattered, "A nation peeled and trodden down," crushed and trampled beneath the hoof of an unfeeling world. Look at "the seven churches of Asia," and the cities in which they were found, their noiseless streets, hymnless temples, and desolate altars. When you remember that Jesus was tried by a Roman judge, condemned in the Grecian tongue, and crucified at the instigation of the Hebrew race, then the sad failure and loss of one and all are easily accounted for.

Whether we look at Egypt and Tyre, Babylon and Nineveh, Jerusalem and Rome, Spain and France, Germany and Russia, the scene is the same. What is true of nations is true of individuals. Look at Herod, Pilate, Julian, Valerius and the principal actors in the Neronian and Diocletian persecutions—dark, gloomy and ghostly are all our recollections of their madness in failing to behold the Lamb of God aright. Being convinced of our need of him, and seeing that irreparable is our fall, failure and loss if we do not look unto Jesus, then we beg you to come without a moment's delay, and BEHOLD HIM NOW!

Rapidly, rapidly with every one of us the shadows are changing upon the circuit of the dial. We all know something of our transitory nature, something of the sad discontinuity of human life. It will not be long, at best, until it will be "ashes to ashes, and dust to dust," with every one of us, parting with all we loved and cherished here. If we fail to behold the Lamb of God and live, heaven and earth with all the regrets of defeated kindness will urge the exhortation—"Why die unprepared to meet God. Come, beleaguered soul, look up and live. Jesus stands ready, anxious and willing to do all for you that you can even wish or will. Behold the Lamb of God, and live."

Sixth Ecumenical Methodist Conference, Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 16-26, 1931.

The Ecumenical Methodist Conference which meets in Atlanta, Georgia, October 16-26, 1931, represents the Methodist bodies of the world, and is held once in ten years. The last session occurred in London, England, in 1921. The Eastern Section comprises churches in England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Italy, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand. The Western Section comprises the Methodist bodies of America, North and South, including Canada and Mexico, the national churches of this communion of Japan and Korea, and missions in China, India, Malaysia, and elsewhere. The delegates to this Conference represent the leaders of Methodist thought in all lands.

Wesley Church, Atlanta, a central city edifice, seating 3000 persons, recently renovated at an expense of $30,000, will be the official headquarters, and delegates will get their credentials and directions there. Morning sessions will be held in this church and the afternoon section or group meetings will be housed by First, St. Mark, Ponce de Leon, and Trinity Methodist churches. Part at least of the night sessions will meet in the City Auditorium seating 6000. A strong local committee, of which Dr. Wallace Rogers is secretary and Mr. Addison Maupin, treasurer is arranging all details of entertainment and convenience. Railroads have granted a rate of one and one-half fares on the certificate plan, and Atlanta's many hotels have made large discounts from regular rates. The Chamber of Commerce and the Atlanta Convention Bureau are extending courtesies and will be glad to answer questions. The average temperature in Atlanta in October is 62 degrees, promising delightful weather. The city is famous for hospitality to convention guests.

The Ecumenical Conference will have a number of unusual experiences, aside from the regular program. Among these will be a trip through the beautiful suburbs of the Gate City of the South and to Stone Mountain, a natural marvel made more interesting by virtue of its historical monuments. Another feature is a trip on Monday, the 26th, to Savannah, Georgia, a city made memorable to Methodist people because of the early work there of John Wesley and George Whitefield. On Friday night, Oct. 23, in the City Auditorium, 500 Atlanta Negro singers and musicians will present their remarkable and highly praised musical pageant, Homeward Bound. This entertainment is being furnished without cost to the Conference by the Methodist Negroes of the city.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

Twenty Reasons for the Tithe.

In the paragraphs that appear below twenty reasons are offered by an unknown writer on the advantages of the tithing system in God's work. We commend these items to our readers as a brief but practical study of this question.

1. It is Scriptural—approved of God in the Old Testament and supported by Christ's words in the New.
2. It is a good start in the individual's life.
3. It is spiritual, for personal faith is called into play.
4. It is business-like, for there is definiteness, progressiveness and system.
5. It is a crushing blow against selfishness.
6. It causes the giver to take the initiative in Christian giving, rather than holding back one's response until the money appeal is made.
7. It commands all alike in quality giving.
8. It frees the church from the disgrace of deficits.
9. It enables the church to frequently plan for an enlarging work.
10. It safeguards the spirituality of a church by eliminating drives for money.
11. It establishes the individual as a financial steward, accountable to God.
12. It gives confidence in the practice of prayer.
13. It awakens thought as nothing else, regarding time and service for God.
14. It elevates worship to the high plane of rounded out sincerity.
15. It makes giving a principle and no longer a spasmodic expression.
16. It is likely to result, as it has with many others, in our giving being more than a tenth of all our receipts.
17. It means less of the comforts and pleasures of life, that money can purchase, but the power to enjoy those that are left is expanded.
18. It creates in our lives a commendable position in the matter of giving. We can use the most effective weapon of example.
19. It makes us twofold before God, our hand held out to give as well as receive.
20. It destroys the domination of circumstances.—Editorial Wesleyan Methodist.

Is the Teaching of Jesus Antiquated?

REV. HENRY T. SCHOLL, D. D.

Such was the expressed opinion of certain young folk in a Protestant Church, Middletown, N. Y., on Sept. 13, 1931. The demurrer was voiced at a young people's religious meeting on that evening. Objection was made in particular to Matt. 5:3 and 5. It was stated that this teaching might have served aptly while Jesus was here among men, but it was out of date in this enlightened day and generation.

As a Presbyterian minister, I accept the Scriptures, in their originals, as the Word of God; the which infallibly teach what man is to believe concerning God, and what duty God requires of man. As helps to the understanding of Scripture, I find the following questions suggestive: Who said it? To whom did he say it? What did he say? What does it mean? How does it relate itself to me personally? What should be my individual reaction thereto?

Concentrating attention on Matt. 5:3, we note that it was spoken by Jesus Christ, to his disciples, and specifies a characteristic of accredited members of his kingdom. We enter the kingdom by the new birth. (John 3:3 and 5). Mere profession plus active church membership, apart from the new birth, leaves us among the "Many to whom Christ the King and Judge will eventually say, 'Depart.'" (Matt. 7:21-23). The new birth certifies the inception of holiness, of which credible Christians are making a life pursuit, and "without which no man shall see the Lord." (Heb. 12:14). Moreover, without this spiritual transformation, we are rightly reckoned as "natural," unspiritual men, who regard much of Scripture as foolishness, and are not minded to receive it. (1 Cor. 3:14).

Poverty of spirit "is the opposite of pride, self-righteousness, self-conceit." It is the disposition of little children, referred to by Jesus; a disposition that is humble, trustful, lovingly obedient. (Matt. 18:3). Much in church going and church doing may be placed to our credit, but all, without love, profits us nothing. (1 Cor. 13:1-3). "Love fulfills the law;" and Jesus has said, "If a man love me he will keep my words, and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him and make our abode with him." (John 14:23). This gives us a worthwhile hope of glory. (Colossians 1:27; 1 John 4:16; and 5:11).

That such obedience may be ours we make petition every time we use the Lord's prayer, taught by Jesus to his disciples, Matt. 6:10. To do his will habitually, we must needs surrender our own, and that calls for poverty of spirit. To accept his will as our norm of life, we must admit that his will is superior to our own, and that calls for poverty of spirit. Self-seeking puts us under the direction and domination of the devil. As we humbly, trustfully and lovingly seek first God's kingdom, we are developing steadily in that godliness which is "profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." (1 Tim. 4:7-8).

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dregs do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

President Washington had to call out the militia in 1794 to quell an organized rebellion of the liquor traffic. To see straight and think straight on the liquor question one needs to remember that the liquor traffic has always been lawless.

Stick to Your Covenant.

E. E. SHELHAMER.

"And they entered into a covenant to seek the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul."

There is a vast difference between a mere refreshing from the Lord and a special covenant. One should receive frequent blessings and uplifts, but as a rule covenants are few and far between. They are more serious and far-reaching. In fact, a covenant is so deep and broad that we do not need many, nor could we stand many.

Every soul who has made a blessed success in growing in grace has been led into one or more peculiar covenants. These covenants may embrace such things as tithing, Sabbath observance, plainness of dress, fasting and other forms of self-denial. Catherine Booth, the great soul-winner, was led to abstain from eating butter on her bread certain days in the week. The early Methodists fasted one or more meals, on Friday, especially just preceding quarterly meeting.

Friend, if God has given you a peculiar covenant, stick to it, no difference who may sneer or brand you as an extremist. Remember the more you give up for Jesus, the more glory you get in return. But be careful not to blow your horn about it or discount others for not doing exactly the same. Would you have Special Grace, Wisdom and Strength? Then stick to your covenant!

5,000 BEST MODERN ILLUSTRATIONS

BY

THE REV. G. B. F. HALLOCK, D.D.

Contains a remarkable collection of pointed stories, anecdotes, personal experiences, fables, legends, facts of science, incidents of history. It offers five thousand carefully selected and appraised illustrations, intelligently classified by subjects and arranged and indexed in alphabetical order for easy reference.

The effect of any sermon or address may be immeasurably increased by the use of one of these pertinent stories to emphasize a point or clinch an argument, for, as Spurgeon said, "mere bald statements are soon forgotten, but an apt illustration sticks in the soul like a hook in a fish's mouth." 768 pages. Published at $4.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

THE LIFE AND LETTERS OF ST. PAUL.

BY

THE REV. DAVID SMITH, M.A., D.D.

In "The Life and Letters of St. Paul" Professor Smith portrays the Apostle simply but clearly as he perceived him during long years of loving and delighted study of the sacred memorials of his life and labor.

He begins his biography with Saul's early life, therefrom drifting into dramatic description of his cruel fanaticism in persecuting the Christians and aiding in the murder of Stephen, which contrasts vividly with what he says about Saul's conversion to Christianity while traveling on the road to Damascus. From that point he treats him as Paul, the Apostle of Jesus Christ, telling of his work in various fields, of his arrests and imprisonments and sufferings and martyrdom.

A comprehensive index of names and subjects makes every fact and incident in the book instantly available to the searcher for special information about Paul, and the 17 pages of Pauline chronology put all the information into concise and quickly noted shape. All Sunday school teachers will find it the best possible aid whenever studying the life of St. Paul, and all Christians will rejoice to add this book to the choice shelf where they keep the Bible with its most fruitful commentaries. 840 pages. Published at $6.00. Our special price $1.50.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

Settle The Question

of baptism by obtaining a copy of "Baptism" by Means. It is thorough and convincing. Special price, 30c a copy, or 4 copies for $1.

IN THIS BUSY AGE

young women who are struggling, trying to live Christian lives, need a message of encouragement—a message that really creates in one a desire and determination to find time for the deep devotional life.

The little book, "Mary of Bethany," is one of the fullest, richest messages on the devotional life we have read. She had nothing too precious for Jesus and to read this wonderful little book will encourage, inspire and enrich any heart.

The price is only 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00. Order some to hand out just for the good they will do. It will be doing good preaching.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

NOTE FROM BROTHER BABCOCK.

Dear Friends of The Herald Family:

We have felt for sometime that some word should come from us regarding the serious illness of Mrs. C. H. Babcock, who was operated on in Cincinnati, Ohio, in May, for appendicitis, after which she suffered complications resulting in paralysis of her left side which has left her almost helpless. This has made it necessary for me to remain at home and care for her. Many of our meetings have been canceled, as we found it impossible to leave her, even in the care of friends. The strain upon me has been heavy and has somewhat affected our health, making it necessary to have medical help here at home. While the trial has been severe, we are grateful to God that his grace and mercy have been sufficient for this time of our need. Our plans for the summer were greatly changed. We were unable to fill many of our camp meeting engagements which were made so long ahead. This has been a source of great disappointment to us, and we desire to let our friends know that we are expecting and arranging to get into the battle very soon. With some very marked improvement in Mrs. Babcock's condition, the outlook is most encouraging for her complete recovery. There is some movement in her limbs and her general condition is good.

We are arranging some meetings in California, in order that we might be as near home as possible. There is some time that can be given to churches and associations for convention and revival meetings. We are leaving early in January, the Lord willing, for Florida, and the East where we have many engagements. The reason for this word is that our friends might know just how Mrs. Babcock is getting along, and to let our California friends know that we can give them sometime while here on the Coast.

We are thankful to God in the midst of our trial and affliction that his grace is sufficient. We are in his hands, in his will, and at his feet, believing for gracious victory. We are asking our friends and lovers of Christ to remember us at the throne, as he may lead. We are,

Sincerely yours in Jesus.

C. H. Babcock.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

Having a great many friends scattered abroad this wonderful United States who read your splendid paper, I take this liberty to ask you through the columns of The Pentecostal Herald to acquaint them of our activities by publishing this report. Mrs. Nelson and I are back in mission work in Chicago. Last Christmas we were urged to take charge of a large mission in the Southern part of Chicago, in the suburb, Roseland. It was a new work and through mismanagement was about to close its doors. We saw a wonderful opportunity for the Lord in this location and thus consented to step into the breach. God has honored our faith and today we have a splendid work established with a Sunday school enrollment of 150 pupils and a fine young people's society with a newly organized string band of eighteen young people who sing and play the gospel with no uncertain sound. Our string band is much in demand by churches and tent meetings here in Chicago. Our mission is a revival mission with one aim, to see folks saved and sanctified. We have held five revivals since Christmas with hundreds at the altar finding God. We praise God for his leading. Among the evangelists who helped us in the month of May was the Rev. I. G. Martin, of Pasadena, Cal., formerly the pastor of the First Nazarene Church of Chicago. We had a wonderful time with Bro. Martin who gave us a fine meeting. We renewed a fellowship and friendship of many years standing. Mrs. Nelson was converted under Bro. Martin's preaching many years ago and it was a great delight to have him with us.

Another meeting held in July with Dr. George J. Apel, Jr., who is the President of the American Theological Seminary of Roxborough, Philadelphia, Pa., yielded much good to our people. Dr. Apel spoke on the Prophetic word, dwelt much on the Book of Revelation and opened that book to the understanding of many people. God has richly supplied us with Spirit-filled evangelists. During the last week of Dr. Apel's meeting I had to leave for my meeting at Mt. Hope Camp, Ky., leaving Mrs. Nelson in charge. Permit me please, to include a report of Mt. Hope camp meeting at the request of the management of that camp. We began our meeting on July 16th, closing on July 26th. Professor and Mrs. W. C. Kinsey, of Richmond, Ind., were in charge of the music and singing. It was a great delight to again be yoked up with these consecrated singers. We were together at Mt. Hope last year and we had a great meeting and I rejoice to report a greater meeting this year. Conditions were much better this year. The country had plenty of rain and folks came out to the meeting in a better frame of mind and heart. Our day services were always blest with unusual demonstrations of the Holy Ghost. Folks were saved and sanctified in these day meetings more than during the evening and Sunday services when the great crowds came. The larger the crowds the greater the battle has always been my experience. The devil is always on hand to destroy the seed of truth where the large crowds are. We preached the word of God without fear or favor and God graciously rewarded our ministry with seeing folks praying through to real victory. It is a rare thing these days of worldliness to see the tears course down the cheeks of a penitent in real repentance, but praise be to God it was our privilege to witness such a scene at Mt. Hope camp. Brothers Helphinstine and Goodwin, the managers of the camp, kept their hands off of the workers and gave us perfect freedom in the Holy Ghost. Brother and Sister Kinsey were at their best in this service. God used them mightily in singing the Gospel of Jesus Christ into the hearts of many. We worked in perfect harmony together in the services and lived in perfect harmony in our cottage. It was indeed like heaven. Praise God for delightful Christian fellowship in him. We felt our responsibility to God and man as we looked into the faces of the larger audiences nightly and on Sunday when they came to the camp as sheep gone astray. What a golden opportunity the Holy Ghost preacher has to preach the truth at a camp meeting. God grant that our camp meetings will never die out. Space forbids me to mention all things of interest at the camp, but I feel grateful to the visiting preachers who so kindly assisted us with their Spirit-filled ministry. Mrs. Kinsey rendered splendid service at the piano as well as in their Holy Ghost singing. Perfect order prevailed throughout the camp; we shall never forget the last Sunday. The weather was perfect and we had three great services during the day with the crowd staying with us for the closing service. Bro. Kinsey held a great children's meeting at 1 P. M. At the close over twenty children knelt at the altar with parents by their side praying and weeping for joy. The great audience was moved to tears and it stayed throughout the afternoon meeting. It seemed hard to break up the camp and say good-bye at the close of the evening service. We feel sure that we said good bye to some that we shall never see again here on the earth, but praise God for the hope we have of meeting in heaven.

We had a delightful time at old Mt. Hope camp and thank all who had any part in making our ministry of any blessing to lost humanity. We earnestly request the prayers of the great Pentecostal Herald family for our work at the mission, especially for the revival meetings which began Sept. 27th, running for three weeks with our good friends Brother and Sister Kinsey. Praying for a wide circulation of The Pentecostal Herald with its divine message of full salvation, I am,

Yours in glad service.

Rev. B. A. Nelson,

11723 Harvard Ave., Chicago, Ill.

BONNIE, ILLINOIS, CAMP MEETING.

Eight miles south of Mt. Vernon, Ill., on Route 37, is located the village of Bonnie, and one-half mile west is the Bonnie Camp Ground, one of the largest camps in the middle-west. On August 13, 1931, the camp opened her thirty-ninth annual session for ten days, and from the first service until the last, the joy of the Lord was there.

The preachers for this year were the Rev. Warren McIntyre, of Wilmore, Ky., and the Rev. William G. Heslop, of Olivet, Ill. Prof. John E. Moore, of Los Angeles, Calif., was the leader in song. Mrs. W. G. Heslop had charge of the young people's service each evening at six o'clock, and Mr. John McIntyre was the children's leader. The weather conditions were fine. A splendid rain on Wednesday evening cooled the air, laid the dust, and gave the camp abundance of good cistern water. The officers and trustees of the Camp were on the ground night and day, using every endeavor to meet the requirements of the meeting; from caretaker to president, every one was busy at his task.

In the thirty-nine years that Bonnie Camp has shouted out her scriptural message of full salvation, tens of thousands of people have visited her sacred grounds, and thousands have felt the touch of God, either in regeneration or sanctification, and many have been healed. Surely the blessings of our Heavenly Father have been poured out upon old Bonnie Camp without stint or measure. In her ministry the highest notes of New Testament experience have ever been presented and always by a God-called and Spirit-filled ministry. Upon her platform have stood such men as Pickett, Morrison, Ferguson, Owens, Johnson, Cundiff, Irick, McKay, Heslop, McIntyre, and a hundred others whose names we do not recall.

The camp of 1931 is history. Two hundred people were blessed at the altar, about seventy new members were united to the Association, all expenses were met in full, and it was a great time in the Lord. Bro. McIntyre and Bro. Heslop both seemed to be at their best in wonderful presentation of the Word. Bro. Moore brought great messages in song, but best of all God was there.

Beginning at six o'clock in the morning, the prayer meeting was held in the tabernacle, at nine-thirty came the praise service, at ten-thirty the preaching service, at one-thirty the children's service, at two-thirty preaching, at six o'clock the Young People's meeting, and at seven-thirty the evening preaching service. The attendance for the ten days was about thirteen thousand, including the Sunday attendance which was from three thousand to five thousand on each Sunday. Ministers from many denominations were present, also missionaries and Christian workers. The Rev. Robert Chung, of Seoul, Korea, Bonnie Camp's own missionary, was present and spoke at two-thirty Thursday afternoon. An offering was taken for Bro. Chung, with which he expects to buy a truck in which to haul his big evangelistic tent from one Korean town to another.

Dear reader, if you have never attended Bonnie Camp, arrange to be there in 1932. Our dates are always the same—extending over the third and fourth Sundays of August.

Hubert Leonard, Pres.

PIONEERING IN NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA.

Pioneering for the Lord, preaching scriptural holiness has been the joy of our life, and has had a large place in our ministry of the past twenty years.

This year it has been our privilege and joy to be located in the historic city of New Orleans. While many new problems different from anything we have ever faced have been ours, yet the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob has been our God, and we have had victory and precious souls in the fountain for cleansing and salvation.

One of the things that makes it hard in this field is that it is largely Catholic. They are forbidden to attend a Protestant service under any circumstances. We have one good member now who began attending our services; his wife being a Protestant warned him that he was committing a great sin. He went to see a priest, who told him he had committed such a great sin that he would have to get the Bishop to forgive it and it would cost him $6.50. He did not pay this amount but came back to the Nazarene services and was beautifully saved and gloriously sanctified. There is a new day dawning in this beautiful Southland. A half million Acadians are beginning to throw off the heavy yoke of Rome. It is a startling fact that until recent years, the Dominion of Rome has been so absolute that public schools have been kept out of portions of Southern Louisiana. The people have been held in subjection by ignorance, the fear of committing a mortal sin by attending public schools or any Protestant services. They have been forced to pay exorbitant charges of the priest for the burial of the dead, marriage ceremonies, admittance to churches, and for tuition in their own schools. But now the State furnishes free school books and has compulsory education which has done much to enlighten and awaken this beautiful Southern State. In our own local church we have several who are bright converts and interested in reaching others. There is such a need for a systematic, well-planned, vigorous campaign that will reach every part of this needy field with revival campaigns, and distribution of gospel literature. Home-to-home visitation work is the most fruitful in getting the truth to these people who are in such ecclesiastical slavery that they do not, many of them, dare attend any other services.

In our work here we have had the constant touch and fellowship of our good District Superintendent, Rev. G. M. Akin, one of the finest brothers one would care to know. We have had four campaigns; the first one was a convention conducted by our Uncle Buddy Robinson, and Rev. G. M. Akin. The next was a five-weeks' meeting conducted by Brother and Sister Ludwig, of St. Louis, Mo. These fine folks were a blessing to us that only eternity will reveal. Followed by that in April, our good District Superintendent ably assisted by his good wife, was with us for another campaign which was used of the Lord to strengthen and bless us in this gigantic fight to plant holiness in New Orleans. During the month of May our good General Home Missionary Secretary, Rev. E. J. Fleming, came for a weekend convention. There is no finer man in the Holiness Movement than this godly man who, with a wonderful vision and great business sense, is supervising the Home Missionary activities of the Church of the Nazarene. In June we had Bro. Wm. M. Tidwell and wife, of Chattanooga, Tenn., for a tent campaign. This man, one of our busiest pastors, came here and gave us a great meeting. His messages, advice and godly life will ever live in the memory of those who know him.

A number of holiness people have passed through our city since we have been here and stopped off with us. Others have come in who told us with joy how they had searched the city for a place to worship the Lord in the Beauty of Holiness. In other days this city has been blessed by the spiritual ministry of such men as Dr. H. C. Morrison, Dr. Godby, Dr. Carradine, and many other of the leading holiness preachers of the nation. New faces from all over the United States are often seen in our congregation; many have friends and loved ones here they want us to get in touch with. Any holiness folk passing through on their way south will be welcomed, and those who are looking for a fine climate to spend their winters will find this gorgeous Land of Flowers and golden oranges an ideal place to spend their winter, as did our good Brother and Sister Graves, of Iowa, last winter.

Will not the saints of God who read this appeal send up a volume of prevailing prayer for us as we battle in this Babylon of America.

H. A. Forester and Wife.
1401 Napoleon Ave., New Orleans, La.

One of the Alarming Signs of the age is the sin of covetousness. "Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure," by L. L. Pickett, is a booklet that will impel the reader to search his or her heart. Get it and read it. Price 15c per copy, or $1.20 per dozen, if you want to circulate some of them.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

Rev. Paul S. Rees. Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.
Rev. Percy F. Asher. Rev. O. G. Mingledorf, D.D.
Rev. W. S. Bowden. Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simon-
son, D.D.
Rev. T. C. Henderson. Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.
Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser. Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.
Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.E. Rev. C. W. Ruth.
Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D. Rev. Joseph H. Smith.
Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D. Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.
Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.
Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D.

(Continued from page 1)

time ago I assisted a pastor in a revival where an excellent young man and his wife, a prominent family in the church, had separated and were arranging to secure a divorce. They came to the altar, confessed their sins, got saved, moved into their home and are living happy lives. I have had enough confessions made to me by prominent men and women in the community and in the church to make a large book, that would not do to publish, of how revivals had saved them on the very brink of awful sin; sometimes the sins had been committed and the revival saved them on the brink of hell. There are tragedies of sin going on around us all the time. Tragedies among church-members. Earnest revival preaching—preaching, remember—will in time, prevent the breaking out of loathsome sin, separation, murders. The gospel of Jesus Christ is a tremendous preventive. No one can know what's going on in the minds and hearts of men that may lead to the wreck and ruin of lives for time and eternity. The preacher who does not understand that these conditions exist in his church and community, is not a physician of souls. He is not competent to judge the spiritual health of his congregation and the surroundings.

Very well, we have said this in order to say, the first thing necessary to a revival of religion in any church is for the pastor to feel the necessity of a revival, and to determine, by the grace of God, to have a revival. There is a wide difference between arranging for a two-weeks' meeting and a great burden, crushing a pastor to his knees, and a mighty cry in his soul for the salvation of his people, for the lifting of his church into strong, vigorous, spiritual health, and the bringing of sinners to Christ. What pastor is blind and dull enough to suppose that anything like all of a membership of five hundred, or more, people really enjoy vital godliness, when almost one-half of them seldom attend church; fifteen or twenty of them attend weekly prayer meeting; perhaps two hundred of them make no financial contribution toward the budget of the church. Can any one, taking the New Testament as a standard, suppose for a moment, that such people are the real disciples of Jesus, and are prepared to enter a holy heaven? We go back to the statement that, one of the very important essentials for a revival of religion, is for the pastor to become desperate in his desire; to get a Gethsemane agony for the salvation of souls; to get to the place where he gives himself to God and his community for a revival and the salvation of the people.

Very well. When the pastor gets in this state of mind and heart the wheels of Zion will begin to move. He will intuitively find some people in his church who will unite with him, that will partake of his spirit. God will take of his spirit and put it upon some others who, like kindling wood, will start a flame of desire, of longing, of prayer, of conversation, of talk to one's friends, of warning, of education, of entreaty. It may be that the real spiritual church within the church is small, but that small number is God's spiritual motherhood in the church. It is the true Zion, and Zion will travail and bring forth salvation.

A formal two-weeks' meeting with, perhaps, some good preaching, but without a fixed purpose to press the battle to the gates, to storm the forts of the enemy; to break down the walls of opposition and go in and capture souls for Jesus, does not amount to much. It may be a little like fireflies in a damp swamp on a dark night shedding, for a moment, their glimmer of light, but that is by no means, the fire which comes down from heaven, consumes the offering, burns up the altar and licks the water out of the trenches, making the people to cry out, "The Lord, he is God!"

Please to remember that I am not quarreling with anybody. I am thinking in type. My soul is longing for the outbreak of fifty thousand revivals in these United States; twenty-five thousand would be a tremendous help. It would check the ravages of sin, Sabbath desecration, the breaking up of families by divorce; it would confuse the hosts marshalled against the prohibition of the liquor traffic; it would save millions of young people who are being led to death by false teachings in schools, colleges, and universities by the enemies of God and humanity. It would thrill the church with new life. It would bring millions of dollars for the spread of the gospel in the mission fields. Out of it would come a new spiritual, moral, social and political life for the great republic which would touch the entire world, with all of its problems, burdens, and sin.

"The skies are full of pentecosts." Jesus is mighty to save to the uttermost. The Holy Ghost is ready to give the power. The land is dotted with excellent church buildings. Revival fires will attract the people. It is up to us preachers! What are we preachers going to do about it?

Behaviorism—A Battle Line!

Dr. William P. King, D. D., Book Editor of the M. E. Church, South, has recently prepared and sent forth a very remarkable book under the above title. It is made up of some seventeen discussions on the philosophy, or psychology, of Behaviorism. It sounds a note of warning against the most dangerous teaching of Behaviorism, which is spreading abroad like a plague, to the intellectual and spiritual life of young people in colleges and universities. This book should be read by preachers, teachers, in fact, by the Christian public, generally. It is ably written. It discusses the subject from many view points. It contains 376 pages, well bound, and is published by the Cokesbury Press, Nashville, Tenn. H. C. MORRISON.

The Nazarene Assembly, Lexington, Ky.

The Nazarene brethren held their annual Assembly in Hill Street Methodist Church, Lexington, Ky., at the same time our conference was being held in Winchester. Dr. Goodwin, General Superintendent, presided. I have heard fine reports of this Assembly and regret that our dates conflicted, so that I was unable to be with the Nazarene brethren. They are pressing the battle for the conversion of sinners and the sanctification of believers. May God graciously bless their labors. H. C. M.

IS JESUS WELCOME?

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

HERE is a motto which carries these words of admonition, or something akin to them: "Go nowhere you would not ask Jesus to go with you. Say nothing you would not like Jesus to hear. Do nothing you would not like to be doing if Jesus should come."

I dare say if we, as Christians, should practice these simple rules of daily living, we would be more happy, and our usefulness and influence would count far greater than they do. It is a good thing to "practice the Presence of God" in our living; to remember that he is always present; that he knows every desire and thought before they are uttered; that he sees from the beginning to the end of all our endeavors. Such practice is a great preventive against wrong-doing.

I recently read a story that strikingly illustrates this thought of always having the Saviour with us. I trust it may be read with interest, and that each one may resolve that they will never participate in anything that would embarrass them, should the Master suddenly appear upon the scene.

MABEL ASHTON'S DREAM.

As the guests came together in the brilliantly lighted parlors, at the home of Mabel Ashton, that crisp winter evening, there was nothing unusual in the appearance of the rooms to indicate that the party to which they had been invited was to be, in any respect, different from the round of gayety to which they had been devoting themselves for the greater part of the winter.

Some of the guests, as they greeted their young hostess, noticed an unusual degree of nervousness in her manner, but attributing it to the excitement of preparation and anticipation, thought no more of it, and all were soon engaged in conversation and in making out their cards for various dances of the evening.

The musicians were in their places, and the young people beginning to wonder why the signal was not given for the orchestra to strike up, when Mabel Ashton, her sweet face flushed and pale by turns, took her stand near the musicians, and, after closing her eyes for a moment, during which the room became perfectly still, in a voice at first trembling but soon clear and steady, she said:

"Friends, I know you will think me very queer, but before we do anything else I must tell you a little story.

"I had a dream last night, which has made such an impression on my mind and heart that I must tell it to you. I dreamed that tonight had arrived, and you had all assembled in these rooms, when there came to the door and was ushered in, a Guest who seemed strangely familiar and yet whom I could not recognize.

"He had a rare face, peaceful, yet a little sad in its expression, and his eyes were more penetrating than any that I had ever before seen. He was dressed in neat yet very plain clothes, but there was something in his appearance which marked him as no ordinary man.

"While I was trying to think where I had seen him, he advanced to me, took my hand, and said, gently, 'You do not recognize ME, Mabel?' Surprised at such a form of salutation from a stranger, I could only say: 'Your face, sir, seems familiar, yet I cannot recall your name.'

"Yet I am One whom you invited here this evening, or, I should rather say, One to whom both you and your parents have extended many invitations to be present here whenever I am able to come. You have invited Me to make my home here; and I have come tonight to join your little company."

"I beg a thousand pardons," I replied 'but you mystify me all the more, and I beg that you will relieve me by telling me whom I have the pleasure of greeting.' Then he offered to my view the palms of his hands in which were scars as of nail wounds, and looked me through and through with those piercing yet tender eyes, and did not need that he should say to me: 'I am Jesus Christ your Lord.'

"To say that I was startled would be to express only a very small part of my feelings.

"For a moment I stood still, not knowing what to do or say. Why could I not fall at his feet and say with all my heart, 'I am filled with joy at seeing you here, Lord Jesus?'

"With those eyes looking into mine, I could not say it, for it was not true. For some reason, on the instant only half comprehended by myself, I was sorry he had come. It was an awful thought to be glad to have all the rest of you here, yet sorry to see my Saviour and Lord!

"Could it be that I was ashamed of him, or was I ashamed of myself?"

"At length I recovered myself in a degree and said: 'You wish to speak to my parents, I am sure.' 'Yes, Mabel,' as he accompanied me to where my mother and father sat gazing in surprise at my evident confusion in greeting an unexpected guest; 'but I came this evening chiefly to be with you and your young friends, for I have often heard you speak enthusiastically about how delightful it would be if you could only have me visibly present with you.'

"Again the blush came to my cheeks as the thought flashed through my mind tomorrow night is prayer meeting night. I should be delighted to see him then. But why not tonight on this pleasant occasion? I led him to my parents, and, in a somewhat shamefaced fashion, introduced him.

"They both gave a start of amazed surprise, but convinced by his appearance that there was no mistake, my father recovered a degree of self-possession, bade him welcome, offered him a seat, remarked that this was an unexpected pleasure, and then after a somewhat lengthy pause, explained to the Lord Jesus that his daughter Mabel, being very closely occupied with her studies, and having little variety in life, had been allowed to invite a few of her friends in for a social evening, with a little quiet dancing by the way of healthful exercise. Her friends were all of the very choicest, and he felt that this was a very harmless amusement, which the Church had come to look upon in a somewhat different light from that in which it was viewed forty years ago. By removing the objectionable feature of bad company it had now made this pleasant pastime a safe indulgence for its young people.

"As my father stammered out, in the presence of Jesus, these words of apology, which had fallen from my own lips, I felt myself flush crimson with shame both for my dear father and for myself. Why should he apologize at all for what he considered unquestionably right? And how hollow it all sounded there in the presence of the Lord! Did he not know that my studies were not so pressing but that I could keep late hours, sometimes several nights in the week, at parties?"

"Then father, anxious to relieve my evident embarrassment, said: 'I am sure we can leave these young people safely to themselves; and nothing would please me so well as to take you, my Lord Jesus, off to my study for a talk.'

"No," said Jesus, 'Mabel has often invited me, and I came tonight especially to be with her. Will you introduce me to your friends, Mabel? Some of them I know, but some I do not know.'

"Again that miserable feeling came over me. Why could I not reply: 'It will afford them and me the greatest pleasure?' Because, for some reason, I could not feel pleased, I feared you would not feel pleased, and I dared not in that Presence use the polite but untrue phrase. I simply said, 'Certainly, if you wish.'

"Of course all this time, you, friends, were looking much in our direction, wondering at our embarrassment, and perhaps guessing that we had been made uncomfortable by the arrival of a not altogether welcome guest. I led him first to some of the church members among you, and there was not one of you who looked as comfortable after the introduction as before.

"As it became known who the Guest was faces changed color, and some of you looked very much as if you would like to leave the room. It really seemed as if the church members were quite as unwilling to meet Jesus as those who were not.

"One of you came up quietly and whispered to me: 'Shall I tell the musicians not to play the dance music, but to look up some sacred piece?' Jesus caught the question, and looking us both squarely in the face he simply asked, 'Why should you?' and we could not answer. Some one else suggested that we could have a very pleasant and profitable evening if we should change our original plans and invite him to talk to us. Again he was met with that searching look and that searching question: 'Why should my presence change your plans?'

"After I had introduced the Lord Jesus to you all, and no one knew what to do next, he turned to me and said: 'You were planning for dancing, were you not? It is high time you began, or you cannot complete your program before daylight. Will you not give the word to the musicians, Mabel?'

"I was at my wits' end. If my original plan was all right, his presence ought only to add joy to the occasion; yet here were all my guests, as well as myself, made wretchedly uncomfortable by the presence of him whom most of us called our Best Friend. Determined to throw off this feeling and be myself, at his word I ordered the musicians to play for the first dance.

"The young man with whom I was engaged for that dance did not come to claim me, and no one went upon the floor. This was still worse embarrassment. The orchestra played once more, and two or three couples, more to relieve me than for any other reason, began to dance in a rather formal fashion. I was almost beside myself with shame and confusion, when the Lord Jesus turned to me and said, 'Mabel, your guests do not seem at ease. Why do you not, as their hostess, relieve their embarrassment by dancing yourself? Would it help you any if I should offer to dance with you?'

"My confusion gave away to an expression of horror, as I looked into those tenderly sad eyes and cried: 'You dancel! You cannot mean it!'

"Why not, Mabel? If my disciples may dance, may not I? Did you think all this winter, when you and others of my disciples have gathered for a dance or card party or at the theater, that you left me at home or in the church? You prayed for my presence in the prayer meeting; you did not quite want it here; but why not, my dear child? Why have you not welcomed me tonight, Mabel? Why has my simple presence spoiled your pleasure? Though I am a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief, yet I delight to share and increase all the pure joys of my disciples. Is it possible that you leave me out of your pleasures, Mabel? If so, is it not because you feel that they do not help you to become like me and to glorify me; that they take your time and strength and thought to such an extent that you have less delight in my word and in communion with me; You have been asking, 'What's the harm?' have you asked, 'What is the gain?' Have you done these things for the Glory of God?"

"It was all plain to me now. Overcome with self-reproach and profound sorrow, I threw myself on the floor at his feet and sobbed my repentance."

"With a 'daughter, go in peace, thy sins be forgiven thee' he was gone,—or I should rather say he was no longer present to view, for I am sure that during all this winter when we have been spending our evenings in pleasure, he has been present and seen all that we did and how his heart must have been grieved. All day long I have been thinking if we were conscious of his presence all the time there would be no desire for any of these things, we would have something so much better that we could not wish for them."

This was the beginning in the life of Mabel Ashton and of some others present, of that spirit of devotion to the Lord Jesus Christ which renders the pleasure of this world no more than the husks which the swine eat. O what a vision of the Lord Jesus Christ will do for us! How as we behold him in his own precious Word we are changed into his own likeness! May this be the portion of every child of God who reads this story.

Fine Opening at Lander.

Lander College for young women located at Greenwood, S. C., has had a very fine opening in spite of the financial depression. This fine school for young women is beginning its sixtieth year of its prosperous history. Dr. R. H. Bennett, the President, and a Methodist of the truest and best type, is at the head of this school and will guide it safely on its successful mission. We wish him and those associated with him, a most successful year.

Mary of Bethany

will enrich your spiritual life. It is wonderful; when you have read it you will want and seek a closer walk with God, and you will give out more of your Christian life to those about you. Single copy, 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00.

Don't Delay the Good Work.

We are making our announcement of our 25-cent offer in ample time for our friends to secure their list of subscribers and get them to us for mailing by November 1, so they will get full benefit of the twelve issues that will be sent to them for this small sum. We urge our readers to get busy at once in securing as many new trial subscriptions as possible on this remarkably fine offer.

We shall have some very interesting articles in the issues that shall be printed during the three months of the offer, among them being a series of articles by Dr. Morrison on "If Christ should Come to Jerusalem," and some splendid articles from Rev. Joseph H. Smith, and C. W. Ruth, two of our most honored evangelists and versatile writers, and Rev. C. F. Wimberly, who wields a trenchant pen. Every issue of the paper will be filled with worth-while articles, a good sermon each week, which, alone, will be worth many times the small price paid for the subscription.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

We wish that every one who can possibly do so, will send us the names and addresses of at least four persons to whom they wish THE HERALD to carry its weekly messages for three whole months. Along with the subscriptions, offer a prayer for those to whom you send it, that the paper may prove a real spiritual blessing to them. If you wish sample copies we shall be glad to send them.

Christmas Presents

bought now, will keep, and if you want to make a handsome gift—one that will last and do good, we do not know of a better one to suggest than "Beautiful Story of the Bible." It is a beautifully bound book, published to sell at $2.95, and has every appearance of a high-priced book. We offer the copies we have, the remainder of the edition, at $1.00 each. Don't let this opportunity pass.

Don't For Preachers.

F. LINCICOME.

Don't preach too long. No matter how great a preacher nor how orthodox you may be, you will wear the people out with long sermons.

Study the art of condensing. As a rule, men who put much time on preparing their sermons preach short sermons, because they have something to say. Spurgeon said, "If a man has something to say he wants only thirty minutes in which to say it; if he has less, he wants an hour, and if nothing, he wants an hour and a half."

I listened to a friend of mine talk two hours at a Sunday school convention and he noticed that at times I seemed rather amused. At the close of the service he asked me what I was laughing to myself about? I told him that I was perfectly amused to see how any man could stand before the people and talk two hours and at the same time dodge every idea in the universe.

Long sermons, as a rule, have a bad effect. You will remember Paul in one place in which he could stay but a short time, wishing to indoctrinate the disciples as well as he could, continued his speech the last night he was with them, until midnight. But this long sermon produced fatal results. "And there sat in the window a certain young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deep sleep; and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep; and fell down from the third loft and was taken up dead." (Acts 20:9). Since then there have been many killed, spiritually, with "long preaching." Paul raised the young man to life; but these "long preachers" generally leave the people dead.

Mr. Preacher, it is not necessary to put the whole body of divinity, beginning with the fall and ending with the resurrection, into a single sermon. The people may hear you again. If not, they may hear others just as capable of giving instruction as you are, so shorten up.

Only 16 Copies Left.

If you have not gotten your copy of Arnold's Commentary at the special closing-out price of 50c, don't fail to get a copy for the last quarter of the S. S. Lessons. Only 16 copies left, and after the Sunday school lesson period is passed, it is a valuable commentary on the Bible to keep in your library. You will never miss the richest kernel in the lesson with this book as your help.

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

By Wouter Van Garrett.

"Oh boy, she runs," shouted Ben Kelsey as he released the crank, and stood erect. Wiping the perspiration from his brow with the back of a greasy hand, he looked across the hood of the old car toward his companion. "I told you she'd run."

"Makes a lot of noise," observed Dick Rennard as he backed toward the door of the garage.

The engine of the old automobile sputtered and groaned as if it resented the human effort that had broken its months of rest. The exhaust pipe shot forth a thick column of smoke and, in a few minutes, the Kelsey garage put on the appearance of a smoking volcano.

The youthful mechanics were not disheartened, however, but they kept advancing the spark and adjusting the carburetor until the old engine was running smoothly and quietly—well, as smoothly and quietly as any 1916 model could run.

"Now, what are we going to do?" asked Ben as he wiped the grease from his hands. He was unaware of the oily marks that had been left where his hands had unconsciously touched his freckled face. Before his companion could reply, he supplied the answer to his own question.

"Let's take her out for a ride." "Would your Dad want you to run it?" Dick wanted to know, his calm blue eyes expressive of caution.

"Shucks, no," scoffed Ben, "but Dad and Mother are away, and they won't be back until late tonight. They won't know it."

"Yes, but they'll find out," argued Dick. "This is the oldest car in town and it hasn't been out of your garage for a couple of years. Somebody's bound to notice it, and tell your Dad."

"We could take it out after dark," suggested Ben. Then an animated expression appeared on his face. "Listen Dick, let's run over to Merton to the big air carnival, tonight."

"My Dad doesn't want me to go to the air carnival." Dick hung his curly head.

"Aw, shucks, doesn't your Dad want you to have any fun?" sneered Ben.

There was no answer. Then, came the question that brought the temptation.

"Would you go if you knew your Dad wouldn't find out about it?" ventured Ben Kelsey.

"Mebbe," came the timid reply.

"All right. I can fix it so's he won't know."

"How?" Dick was showing interest.

"Here's how you do it," began Ben. "You wait until it's dark. Then, you say good night to your parents and go to bed. Only, instead of going to bed, you climb out of your window and get on the porch roof, and come down the cherry tree. They'll think you're asleep in bed. See?"

"I can climb down the cherry tree; I did that when I was just a kid," boasted Dick.

"Sure, it's easy," agreed the lad who was laying the plans. "When you get down you hurry over here. We can make the four miles to Merton in ten minutes. We'll stay for the parachute jump, and get back here before your Mother and Dad go to bed."

"But, how'll I get into the house?" innocently asked Dick.

"Silly," laughed Ben. "You climb up the cherry tree. When your parents come to bed, and your Mother comes into your room to see if everything's all right, you'll be sound asleep."

"Yes, but suppose something happens to this old car, and we don't get back in time?" objected Dick.

"Nothing can happen to the car," promised the youthful optimist. "You heard how nice the engine runs. You know it used to be the best car in the whole town, don't you?"

"Yes." "The paper says the parachute jump will be at nine-thirty. If we leave Merton at ten, we'll be home, and you can be in bed before ten-thirty."

"All right," consented Dick Rennard, "I'll go, if you promise to get back here before my parents go to bed."

"You are a real sport," flattered Ben. "We'll have loads of fun."

The two lads separated. "Remember, I'll be waiting for you," shouted Ben to his departing friend. "Hurry over here as soon as it's dark."

"Okey," came the answer. "I'll get to the air carnival after all," said Dick aloud to himself as he walked up the street. "But I hope Dad doesn't find out; I wouldn't want him to know."

Night had settled over the village. Lights were burning in homes along the quiet street. Numerous automobiles, speeding through the village on the way to Merton, reminded the few pedestrians that a great air carnival was in progress four miles away.

Ben Kelsey walked out to the garage, opened the door, walked to the side of the lumsome old car, reached inside and turned on the ignition switch.

"Might as well get the engine started," he said to himself, "and pull out into the driveway."

He went around to the front of the car, and reached for the brass-handled crank. Cranking the old 1916 automobile was not an easy task; it required a great deal of muscle and perspiration, but the lad accomplished the difficult feat. The motor wheezed and coughed, then settled into a regular put-put.

Ben climbed into the seat, and drove the car out of the garage. In the shelter of an old maple in the side yard, he applied the brakes, and let the engine idle.

"It's time for Dick to be here," he looked over his shoulder toward the alley as he whispered. There was no sign of his fellow conspirator. "Bet he got chicken-hearted, and won't come."

But his doubts were soon dissolved. He saw a dark form emerging from the rear of the garage. He raced the engine to let his friend know that he was impatient to be off.

The dark form came alongside. "Shut off the engine," said Dick in a frightened voice, "I'm not going."

"What's happened?" There was disappointment in Ben's voice. "Did you get caught?"

"No," came the answer. "Shut off your engine."

"What's wrong with you?" Ben was getting annoyed. "Get in, we'll have to hurry."

"I'm not going, I tell you. Shut off your engine."

The engine settled into silence. "Now, what's all this nonsense?" asked the driver.

"I'm not going, and you better not go, either," warned Dick.

"What's eating you?" Ben's voice was full of reproach. "You look as if you'd seen a ghost."

"Let's put the car back, and go to bed," suggested Dick. "I never knew it before."

"Never knew what? You talk like a crazy person." Ben could not get the idea back of his friend's incoherent talk. "What's happened?"

"I'll tell you, if you put the car back in the garage."

"All right," scoffed Ben. "Might as well do a few crazy things as talk crazy stuff all the time."

"Wait, I'll crank," said Dick with much of his old friendliness.

The car lumbered back to its place in the garage. Ben climbed out of the seat, and faced his companion in a belligerent manner.

"Now, you tell me what's up," he threatened, "or I'll—well, you'll have a fight on your hands."

"I'll tell you if you promise never to ask me to do a thing like this again." The lad was getting excited again.

"You talk like a preacher; I'm not promising anything," Ben was thoroughly disgusted. "You can go on home, you coward."

"I'm not a coward, and when you hear what happened you'll feel the same way I do," pouted Dick.

"Then, tell me about it," came the challenge.

"I went upstairs, as you told me to," began Dick Rennard. "My parents wondered why I wanted to go to bed so early, but I told them I was tired from working on your old car. I waited about ten minutes, then I crept through the window, and came down the cherry tree."

"That wasn't anything to make a fuss about," sneered Ben.

"No," agreed the narrator, ignoring the sneer, "but I decided to sneak along the side of the house to the front porch where Mother and Dad were sitting."

"Why did you do that?" scolded Ben. "No wonder you got caught." "I didn't get caught, I told you," came the reply. "I wanted to make sure they hadn't heard me come down the tree."

"When I got near the porch I heard them talking. When I was sure they thought I was in bed, I began to sneak back toward the alley. But I heard them mention my name, and I decided to wait a few seconds to hear what they were saying about me."

The lad hesitated, his head lowered itself in embarrassment. "Guess, I don't know just how to say what I heard."

"Just say it," prompted his confident.

"Promise me not to laugh at me?" begged the mysterious Dick. "I came over here to tell you, but now it doesn't seem easy."

"Aw, go ahead," coaxed the lad who was being touched by his chum's discomfiture. "You know I'm your friend. I won't laugh at you."

"My Mother and Dad were talking about me." At last Dick was getting to the heart of his story. "And I heard my Dad say, 'I'm certainly proud of Dick; I trust that boy. I told him I didn't want him to go to the air carnival, and, instead of sneaking away like some boys might, he went to bed. I'd trust that lad anywhere.'" The boy's voice became almost a whisper as he repeated the words to his friend.

A sarcastic grin spread over Ben's face, but, in the darkness, Dick did not see it. With his next statement, the grin disappeared, and the strange experience became somewhat mutual.

"And then my Mother said, 'I'm so glad he's a chum of Ben Kelsey's. Ben is such a manly fellow.' And my Father answered, 'There's another fellow I'd trust anywhere.'"

"Did they say that?" Ben whispered. "I wonder if my Dad trusts me like that?"

"He must, Ben, or he wouldn't have left you here alone today, and tonight," said Dick.

"Mebbe you're right," agreed Ben. "It makes you feel sort of warm all over to be trusted, doesn't it?"

"That's just the way I felt." Dick was happy that his friend was seeing things his way. "We couldn't sneak away, after that—now when we knew they trusted us, could we?"

"No," agreed Ben. "What are you going to do now?"

"I'm going to sneak back, climb the cherry tree, and go to bed. They'll never know."

"Are you going to tell them what we almost did?" asked Ben.

"I dunno, would you?"

"Mebbe, you ought to tell them," advised Ben. "I'm going to tell my Dad. You could say you didn't know they trusted us like that. We want them to keep on trusting us, don't we?"

"We certainly do," smiled Dick. Let's both go up to my home, and tell them."

"All right. Come on."

The two young fellows started up the deserted street in the direction of the Rennard home.

"Makes you feel like a man to be trusted, doesn't it," observed Dick.

"Yes sir," agreed his companion, "but if you want people to keep on trusting you, you'll have to live up to what they think of you."

Dear Aunt Bettie: I come from the state of Michigan. I go to a Sunday school which our neighbor teaches. There are ten of us in the class. None of our family take The Herald, but our Sunday school teacher does. She gives it to different ones in her class.

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

I enjoy reading page ten. I am eleven years old and in the seventh grade. Is anybody my twin? If so, I wish you would write. This is the first time I have written so I hope you accept it. Lois A. Compson.
Rt. 1, Remus, Mich.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Muncie girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I like to read page ten in my great-grandmother's paper. I am ten years old and in the sixth grade. I have brown hair and eyes. I never saw any letters from Muncie, and would like to see this in print. Who can guess my middle name? It begins in E and ends in A, and has seven letters in it. Cousins, please write to me.

Elizabeth Gwin.
801 W. Jackson St., Muncie, Ind.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is my second letter to The Herald. I think it a grand paper. Can't see how I could get along without it. Our meeting closed Sunday night with forty-two additions and nine by letter. Bro. Otto Whittington from Little Rock, held the meeting, with Bro. Pat Murphy, our Baptist pastor here assisting. I am a Christian girl and hope every boy and girl will live a Christian life and trust in our God. All Christian boys and girls write to me. Will try to answer all letters. I have been watching the mail man.

Erill Mae Bedewell.
Rt. 3, B. N. 5, Nashville, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am writing a few lines to let you know that I am a young girl eleven years old. I have brown hair and brown eyes. I am the oldest one at home of six children. I go to Sunday school and my sister goes with me. I live a long ways from them. I am just starting to read The Herald. I enjoy reading it. I will have to close.

Elmer Frederick.
Remus, Mich.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little West Virginia boy join your happy band of boys and girls? I was twelve years old December 20. Have dark hair and eyes and fair complexion; am five feet, two inches tall, weigh 95 pounds, am in eighth grade. I belong to the M. E. Church at Oak Grove. My oldest brother and I were converted in the meeting last year held by Rev. S. H. Stell. I love to read The Herald, especially page ten. Irene, I guess your middle name to be Bertha. This is my first letter to The Herald and I hope to see it in print.

Charles E. Costlow.
Greenwood, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band of boys and girls? I am fifteen years old. My birthday is May 9. Have I a twin? If so, write to me. I have light hair and blue eyes. We don't take The Herald but a kind man gives it to me after he reads it. I sure do enjoy reading it. Who can guess my first name? It begins with S and ends with H. It has five letters in it. To all who guess it I will write a letter. Arlene Speirs, I guess your name to be Louise. Am I right? This is my first letter to The Herald and I would like to see it in print to surprise my sick mother and the man that gives me The Herald. Aunt Bettie and cousins, please pray for health to be restored to my mother. She has been sick seven years. Well, it is getting late so I will go, but just before I go I want to say, that I will answer all letters I receive. Here's hoping I will get lots of them. I hope Mr. W. B. is eating lunch when this arrives. May God's choicest blessing rest upon you all. S. Gnettie Acklen.
General Delivery, Homer, La.

As I was with Moses, so will I be with thee; I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. Be strong and of good courage. Joshua 1:5, 6.

FALLEN ASLEEP

GRAHAM.

Please permit me to write a few lines concerning the passing of one of God's saints, Rev. F. M. Graham, of Greensboro, Ga., who left us for Heaven, August 28. This man's songs have been a blessing to the world and he, like the rest of us who are privileged to write songs, wrote one great outstanding song, The Old Account Was Settled Long Ago. It has been sung and will be for years to come.

He being just an humble Methodist preacher with no great notoriety, filling his place in a very humble sphere, having never made any great financial success nor endowed any college nor attained any great notice in the world, simply passes away leaving a broken-hearted widow and children with only about three lines in just one of our dailies about it. It all makes one righteously indignant. That song of his alone is enough to make him live in the hearts of those who have revelled in singing, "Yes, The Old Account Was Settled Long Ago."

Those who have sung this song, and it has been a blessing to them such as it has to me, should write a line of condolence to his widow, Mrs. Frank M. Graham, Greensboro, Ga., and slip a dollar or more in your letter, all of which will be appreciated.

Charlie D. Tillman.

DUNN.

On Friday morning, September 4, our Lord called home William Edwin Dunn, of Atlanta, Ga. The letters Ph.D., D.D., LL.D., etc., after one's name are admirable and much to be desired; to W. E. Dunn's name can be suffixed Husband, Father, Christian, Citizen, Friend; and because, through the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, he fulfilled the highest ideals of each of these, we feel that no greater prizes for him in this world were left unattained, no greater tribute can we pay to him.

Mr. Dunn's life was full, interesting, and in many respects, unusual. Born in Atlanta, August 28, 1864, constructive activity seems to have been the keynote of his entire life. This is evidenced in the thousands of loving deeds, the generousities, the gifts to charity, and his staunch support to the cause of Christ by which he is remembered; for wherever a wrong was to be righted—wherever an urgent need had to be met—Ed Dunn, as he was known to his many friends—could be depended on to meet the situation.

Early in life, Mr. Dunn aligned himself with the Lord's people, being gloriously saved in his twentieth year at a revival in a Methodist Church in Chattanooga, Tenn. Coming back to Atlanta at the age of 23, he united with St. Paul Methodist Church, and was a true pillar in that Church until he and his family withdrew to lend their assistance to the establishment of Grant Park Methodist Church. At the time of his death he was a member of Atlanta Gospel Tabernacle.

For 22 years Mr. Dunn, with his good wife, was a constant attendant and an ardent supporter of Indian Springs Camp Ground, having only just returned from there at the time of his death. He loved holiness, he loved holy people, he loved the holiness movement. In this respect, we believe Mr. Dunn was often misunderstood because he was one of those great-hearted, silent ones, a man of few words; but to quote a prominent minister—"He had more than words with which to express his love for things spiritual—Ed Dunn had tears." And many, many preachers who have expounded God's Word at Indian Springs will have mental pictures of him sitting listening, the tears silently coursing down his cheeks.

At the age of 20, Mr. Dunn was married to Sally Montgomery of Chattanooga, a Christian wife, a holy woman, one of God's saints. This union was blessed with fourteen children, twelve of whom were reared to maturity, all in the Christian faith. Some of them are out in the world now, carrying the glad tidings in song and gospel messages—living emblems of the faith in which they were reared and the Christian example lived in their home.

Noteworthy is the fact that besides his own large family, Mr. Dunn reared to maturity two orphan children, and in other instances he and his wife have kept in their home so many other orphan children, feeding and clothing them over long periods of time, that more than once their home has been referred to as "The Orphan-age."

At the time of his death, the Atlanta papers carried feature stories of Mr. Dunn's accomplishments in the business and political world—all of them true; but no greater monuments stand to his memory than these orphan children whom he blessed with the only home they ever knew, the best father they ever had.

The Christian faith, the holiness movement and a host of people have lost a friend in this world, except in memory of the high standard Mr. Dunn set in his life; and we of his family—what a treasure we have in heaven now! But what sweet comfort to us to know his life was such that on the morning he was summoned Home, most assuredly it was his blessed privilege to hear the Saviour say—"Well done, thou good and faithful servant . . . enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

Bernice Wallace Dunn.

PHARR.

The death angel came to the home of our friend and brother and took from our midst Rev. J. W. B. Pharr to that beautiful home above where Christ and the angels, and all the saints live throughout the endless ages of eternity. Bro. Pharr was born Jan. 1, 1859; departed this life Aug. 10, 1931, age 72 years, 7 months and 10 days. Funeral service was held Tuesday afternoon in the M. E. Church at Mt. Zion, conducted by Rev. G. A. Lively. Interment in Mt. Zion cemetery awaiting the resurrection when all the good people shall rise and go up to meet the Lord in the air. So shall we ever be with the Lord. He had been in very poor health about a year, was not confined to the bed only a short time before he passed away. He was very happy, would lie on the bed and shout the praises of God. Sometimes when we had our devotion service morning and evening he would shout instead of praying. His wife would read The Pentecostal Herald and the Bible to him a great deal during his sickness. He certainly did love his Bible and the Christ who died for him. Bro. Pharr was quite a song writer, composed lots of beautiful songs, such as The Judgment Day, A Mansion in the Skies, A Happy Time is Coming, The Cloud With a Silver Lining, The Coming Storm, The Wedding Garment, The Bible, Jesus is Coming Soon, That Wonderful Land, Keep in the Road, Redemption's Story, Hello Central, Love to Calvary, and many others too numerous to mention. He wrote several pamphlets: "The Two Ways, A Letter to Church Members, The Necessity of Holiness, Say, Are You Ready? Mercy Stands Waiting For All."

Bro. Pharr was married to Miss Missouri Jimerson, in September, 1885. Mrs. Pharr departed this life Dec. 3, 1913. Was married the second time to Mrs. E. N. White of Tallapoosa, Ga., Nov. 18, 1917. He leaves a widow, several cousins and a host of friends to mourn his departure.

Bro. Pharr was postmaster at Mt. Zion, Ga., nearly twenty-five years. While in the office he distributed thousands of tracts. Bought good books and loaned them out to people to read; gave away lots of nice books, sent The Pentecostal Herald to lots of people to read hoping that it might prove a blessing to them. He was a subscriber to The Herald twenty years or more. Gave away several Bibles. He was a great believer in prayer. He lived so close to the Lord that he talked to him like he was talking to a person. The greatest desire of his heart was that people should be saved and prepared to meet God in peace when they leave this world. It would do us all good to follow the example of our good brother. He chose his text to be used at his funeral, Psalm 37, chapter 37th verse. Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace.

I heard Bro. Pharr quoting the words of Paul one day. The time of my departure is at hand. I have

"Just what I have wanted"

That is what everyone is saying about the combination Scofield Bible and Year's Bible Course at $2.95. This wonderful new combination of a Bible and a year's course of study provides all the materials needed for an enjoyable, thorough and profitable year's work with the Bible. NOW is a fine time to start.

A Year's Bible Course $2.95 and a Scofield Bible both for

These two volumes offer you the most practical, the most helpful and the cheapest Bible study equipment obtainable today.

THE SCOFIELD BIBLE is a strongly bound cloth edition containing the helps that have made this Bible famous everywhere. A YEAR'S BIBLE COURSE contains 52 lessons based on the helps in the Scofield Reference Bible, with hundreds of questions, many charts and maps.

If you prefer a larger type Bible, the combination is $3.75

Home Bible Study

How often we long to understand the Bible better. How often we wish we could have the help of someone who could make clear the obscure passages. Here at last is a Bible in which the difficult passages are explained right on the pages where they occur. With this exceptional Bible you also obtain a tested plan of study enabling you to secure all the advantages of class study in your own home at convenient times. Why not order today while you think of it, so that you, too, may enjoy the benefits of these volumes.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

fought a good fight, I have kept the faith, I have finished my course. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness, and not for me only, but for all those that love his appearing.

Bro. Pharr was converted and joined the church at the age of ten years, sanctified five years later, and lived a consistent Christian life until he was called home. He preached forty sermons when he was eighteen years old. He was not strong so he could not take regular work in the Conference.

Help us all to watch and be ready for we know neither the day or hour wherein the Son of man cometh. Let us all labor for the salvation of souls, and then we shall have a reward for our labors some day.

Why should I fear to hear him say, Come, child of mine, and rest! Come to the place of endless day,

The mansions of the blest! There is no night nor tempest here, No pain nor sorrow, care nor fear, Loved one of mine, I part from thee A moment only here.

I would not call thee back to me, But make my vision clear, Of that dear country all divine Where I shall clasp thy hand in mine.

"And there shall be no parting there, No going out again. No storms shall beat upon the fair, No anguish bring them pain. My love is not beneath the sod, But happy, Yes, with God."

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

Louis E. Henry: "Will you kindly insert a request for prayer for me in The Herald? I have been sick for a year now and was in a Government Hospital at Castle Point, N. Y., for nearly nine months and in bed nearly all of this time. It was a hemorrhage case so I'd love to have God's people to pray for me, that his own will shall be done in my life and for his glory. I was given up to die at one time and was marvelously healed in answer to prayer by his supernatural power in a hospital in Philadelphia."

Prayer is asked for a number of persons to be saved from sin.

M. S.: "Pray for me that I may be sanctified, that I may be where God can use me."

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO. LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The History of the Christian Church

FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO A. D. 461.

By

Prof. F. J. Foakes-Jackson, D.D.

The Jews' return to Jerusalem from their Babylonian Captivity (B.C. 535) is the point at which Prof. Foakes-Jackson begins this delightfully interesting history of the Christian Church. Ideas hospitable to Christianity were current centuries before the coming of Christ. Greece and Rome both contributed to the preparation of the way for the Gospel—the one by philosophy and the other by the establishment of law and order.

The author pictures the rise of the family of Herod on the ruins of the Asmonean Dynasty, the rebuilding of the Temple, and then tells in his singularly enchanting way of the Church of the Apostles, the Christian Church and the Roman Government, Christian Thought in the Early Centuries, Organization of the Church. He gives a vivid sketch of the social life of the Church at this early period, with descriptions of the churches of Rome, Carthage, and Alexandria.

The entire book is scholarly, informative, absorbingly interesting and written in a captivating style. It sets forth the results of modern investigation in the field of ecclesiastical history and literature. It is not to be surpassed as a text and reference book of the early Christian Church and deserves a place in every minister's library. 672 pages. Original price, $3. Our special price $1.00. PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Kentucky.

Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. James 4:8.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson III.—October 18, 1931.

Subject.—Paul in Thessalonica and Berea. Acts 17:1; 17:5-11; 1 Thess. 2:7-12.

Golden Text.—Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. Psalm 119:18.

Time.—A. D. 51-52.

Places.—Thessalonica, Berea, Athens, Corinth.

Introduction.—For some reason the name of the city of Thessalonica has been changed to Salonica. It is an old city of some importance. For centuries it has been a commercial center. If you consult your map you will find that it is situated on the north-western shore of the Aegean Sea. When Paul and his companions were preaching there, the city was somewhat cosmopolitan; although the population was largely Greek. There seems to have been a large number of Jews there at that time, as there was a synagogue in the city. As his custom was, Paul made use of this synagogue as a place in which to meet the Jews, and to preach to them.

During the world war Salonica was quite a military center. You will remember the terrible fire of 1917, that destroyed a large part of the place. If you will fix some of these matters definitely in mind, it will assist you no little in remembering the lesson of today.

Paul's missionary work was done quite differently from our present plan. We believe in settling down at some permanent base, and working out from it. Paul did not, as a rule, remain long in one place. His stay at Ephesus was possibly the longest of any. We have no information as to how long he worked in Thessalonica; but it was not more than a few months at the most. The marvel is, how did he accomplish so much in so short a time? It is true that he had a small Jewish basis upon which to begin; but that will not account for his great success. There was upon those early missionaries a supernatural power that enabled them to win converts no matter where they went. Some modern missionaries who have been filled with the Holy Ghost are able to do just such work as was done by those first missionaries among the heathen. I believe that the settled plan is the better of the two, provided the missionary is full of faith and the Holy Ghost. As in settled pastorates in the homeland, the settled missionary is always in danger of becoming a mere "time-server." The one who is constantly moving must work and exercise faith, or accomplish nothing.

Paul's first epistle to the Thessalonians was the first he ever wrote; at least it is the first on record. After founding the church, he grew uneasy about their spiritual standing, and sent Silas and Timothy back to see how they were getting along. When they returned, and gave a good report, the apostle rejoiced greatly because they were standing well in the gospel. You will note that this epistle has in it just two great points, the one in preparation for the other. He wished to get the Thessalonian church wholly sanctified, in order that it might be ready for the second coming of Jesus Christ. As you study the great epistle, keep these two things to the front; and you will have little difficulty in understanding Paul's purpose.

Comments on the Lesson.

1. Amphipolis.....Apollonia.—Your map will show you that these were two coast cities lying almost directly on the road from Philippi to Thessalonica. Paul and his companions passed through these two cities on their way to the latter place. A synagogue of the Jews.—This gave them an opening for the work such as they did not find at Philippi. Paul's first effort was to win his fellow countrymen to Christ, and then to reach the Gentiles through them. The times of the Jews in that region had not yet ended, as in Lystra. Read verses 2-4; and you will see that the work produced some very blessed results. Some of the Jews were converted, along with a multitude of Greeks, both men and women. As these Greeks are called "devout," it may be that they were all proselytes to Judaism. If so, that would give them some knowledge of the Old Testament; and Paul, doubtless, used this as a basis from which to lead them on to repentance and faith in Jesus Christ.

5. The Jews which believed not.—These were ready for a fuss, because they were "moved with envy." That is one of the dirtiest passions that has ever corrupted a human soul. Certain lewd fellows of the baser sort.—The Revised Version translates the passage: "Took unto them certain vile fellows of the rabble." I am not sure that it is an improvement; but either translation will give the sense of the original. The unbelievers could find no decent men who would join them; but having gathered together a gang of these base ruffians, they set the "city on an uproar." One Jason was entertaining the missionaries; so they made an assault on his house in an effort to find them, but in vain.

6. These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also.—Here we meet the true mob spirit. When they failed to find the missionaries in his house, they dragged Jason and some other brethren before the rulers of the city, screaming out their fury as they went. Their exaggerated cry, "Turned the world upside down," was ridiculous. Earthworms are pythons and lizards crocodiles in the eyes of a frenzied mob.

7. These all do contrary to the decrees of Caesar.—What decrees were they violating? The mob should have been more specific. In truth, they were doing nothing but lying; and they knew it. Saying that there is another king, one Jesus.—That was an accusation without any proof. But we must not forget that the missionaries were dealing with a heathen mob, excited and urged on by a gang of religious fanatics.

8. Troubled the people and the rulers of the city.—Alarmed might be a better word than troubled. They acted as though the other king was about to invade the city with a terrible army. Poor Caesar over in Rome had better run for safety, or fight to save his crown and throne.

9. Taken security of Jason.—Put him under bond; or, maybe, forced him to pay down the cash to get his liberty.

10. Sent away Paul and Barnabas by night.—That was proper; for it was wrong to risk the lives of those good men any longer. Berea was an inland town a few miles west of Thessalonica, as the map will show you. Here again they found a synagogue which they entered, and began to deliver their message. God seems to have had a hand in scattering these synagogues throughout the heathen lands surrounding the Great Sea. They became starting points for the gospel in later days.

11. These were more noble than those in Thessalonica.—That was a fine compliment paid them by Dr. Luke. It is refreshing. But why more noble? "They received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the Scriptures daily, whether these things were so." The blanketed people on earth are such as will not even try to find out the truth. One meets just such men and women in preaching holiness in these lands. Then again, it is blessed to find congregations that are at once ready to search the Bible on the subject—true Bereans.

1 Thessalonians 2:7-12. It would be hard to find a gentler, tenderer letter from a father to his children than we have in this epistle of Paul to his beloved church at Thessalonica. In the first chapter he gives about fifteen reasons for believing that they were soundly converted. How beautiful to tell them that they had "a work of faith, and a labor of love, and a patience of hope.... and that they were among the elect of God the Father." He and Silas and Timothy, he says, are praying "exceedingly night and day," that they might see their faces once more, in order to establish their hearts unblameable in holiness before God. His great prayer for their entire sanctification is deep and touching.

The excerpt from the second chapter here in our lesson is surpassingly tender. Referring to his two companions, he says: "We were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children." That is multiplied tenderness. It seems almost an exaggeration for him to say that they were ready to give their own souls to the Thessalonians, "because ye were dear unto us." Then he comes to what might be termed a little bit of pardonable boasting. He and his two fellow-laborers had labored night and day with their own hands, in order that they might not be burdensome to any one. One must admire the apostle's manly independence. Few things are more contemptible than to see a lazy preacher sneaking around his charge, whining because the people are behind with his pay. Better jump out and cut wood, or roll logs for his bread.

ON THE AIR AGAIN.

The Detroit Holiness Association wishes to announce that it has resumed its radio services over Station WJR, Detroit, Mich. The time is Sunday, 12:30 to 1 P. M., instead of 9:30 to 10 A. M. as formerly (Eastern Standard Time). Preaching regularly by Rev. Paul S. Rees and music under the direction of N. B. Vandall. WJR is Detroit's premier station, 5000 watts, 750 kilocycles, 400 meters.

All who can are invited to tune in and others are urged to pray that God may continue to seal with his blessing this far-reaching ministry of the full gospel.

GIFT SUBSCRIPTION FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                              |        |
|------------------------------|--------|
| No. 1. Missionary Fund ..... | $1.00 |
| No. 2. Missionary Fund ..... | 1.50   |
| No. 3. Preacher Fund .....   | 5.00   |
| No. 4. Preacher Fund .....   | 1.00   |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe.

The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

THE WORKS OF CHARLES G. FINNEY

FINNEYS
Autobiography Revival Lectures
Nothing more awakening and inspiring in religious literature
—is the estimate of all who read these perennial books.

Each, cloth, $2.00
The Two Volumes for
$3.00 Postpaid

PENTECOSTAL PUB. CO.
Louisville, - - - - Kentucky

What is Christian Baptism?
Was Jesus Baptized by Immersion?
Did John Baptize by Immersion?
Were the Philippian Jailor and His Family Immersed?
Was the Converted Eunuch Immersed?
Into What Are We Baptized?
Does Burial With Him in Baptism Mean Immersion?
Is Any Particular Mode of Baptism Necessary to Salvation?
Should Every Christian Be Baptized?
Should Infants Be Baptized?
These and thirty other similar questions are answered in a little book of 40 pages entitled "Christian Baptism." The price is 15c a copy, $1.20 per doz., or $8.00 per hundred. Order of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Fragrance, Sweetness, and Power.

REV. J. M. HAMES

An appeal to the Church of today to take time to return to the upper room. The author says that past failure has been due to reversing Christ's commands of "Tarry Ye," and "Go Up."

There are four chapters, "Pentecostal Power," "The Sweetness of Holiness," "The Beauty of Holiness," "A Princely Character." Bound in attractive leatherette paper.

Price 25c each, 5 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Rev. I. B. Manly, 401 Cosmos St., Houston, Texas, is open for engagements to hold meetings anywhere the people need him and desire his services.

Rev. L. E. Williams, Wilmore, Ky., has some open dates that he wishes to give to any one who may need his services. He especially desires to be in Florida or on the Gulf during the winter months.

Mr. Kildow Lovejoy and wife are available for revival work. He is a good song leader and his wife a fine soloist. Let the brethren give them a call. Address him, care Trevecca College, Nashville, Tenn.

(Editorial in The Pentecostal Herald, Louisville, Ky., April 8, 1931).

The Life of the Holy Spirit.

"The above is the title of one of the most interesting books that has fallen into my hands for some time. The writer, Rev. James Robert McIntire, has studied the subject with great care. He goes into the Old Testament and the New Testament and gives a most interesting account of the work of the Holy Spirit among the people of God from the early religious history of mankind to the close of the New Testament revelation. The book is very informing on a most important and sadly neglected subject.

"It is hardly to be supposed that every reader of the book will agree with everything the author has to say, but it is certainly very instructive. I would be glad if hundreds, yes, thousands of ministers would give this book a thorough study. It is by no means intended for preachers only, but for the thoughtful readers of all classes. The book is well bound, good print, excellent paper and contains 272 pages." Price $2.00. Pentecostal Publishing Company.

Signed,

H. C. Morrison.

JESUS PAID IT ALL.

Salvation is by faith but if there had been no shedding of blood there would be no remission of sin. Healing is by faith but if Jesus had not borne our diseases and carried our pains we would have no basis upon which to claim it. The Lamb that was slain from the foundation of the world met every demand that Satan had upon the human race, or our cheques and drafts upon heaven would be valueless. He could say before he went to the cross, "Thy sins be forgiven thee," because he was going to take them there. He could say, "Arise, take up thy bed and walk," because he was going to take our infirmities and bare our sicknesses there. He could say, "Lazarus, come forth," because he was going to conquer death there. He could be transfigured upon the Mount because he was going to pay the price that our corruption might put on incorruption, our mortality immortality.

But there is a sad and awful aspect to it also. If through his blood we have forgiveness of sin, woe unto Jew or Gentile that seeks it by works of the Law. If by his stripes we are healed, woe unto them that go down into Egypt for help or take healing out of the Atonement. If the raising of Dorcas and the healing of the sick in the days of the early church whole cities turned to the Lord, woe unto them that walk in the counsel of ungodly scientists and scorn faith as a grain of mustard seed, for they are standing in the way of more sinners than drunkards and harlots. If because, he was raised we shall be raised also, and shine as the brightness of the firmament and as the stars forever, woe unto them that say he is not risen and overthrow the faith of some. But God is persuaded better things of the 20th century church and things that accompany salvation and he is not unrighteous to forget its work and labor of love in that it has ministered unto the least of his little ones in all parts of the world and does minister.

Earl A. Cripps.

A MISSIONARY JOURNEY.

Mrs. Hodgkin and I sail from New York for Great Britain, and later for South Africa, on October 3. We are anticipating engaging in some missionary work in the British Isles for the matter of some months and then go on to Africa where our hearts long to be.

Our address in Great Britain, until around February 1, 1932, will be 21 Westover Road, Wandsworth, London S. W. 18, England.

We ask our friends to remember us in prayer that the Lord will give us a harvest of souls. We only desire to be spent and poured out for those who hunger and thirst for the bread and water of life.

Yours for lost of earth,

G. Arnold Hodgkin.

HEREFORD, TEXAS.

Guy W. Green, layman of Kansas City, Mo., conducted a revival meeting for the First Presbyterian Church of this city, Sept. 7-20. When the invitation was extended the last Sunday morning 22 persons came forward and united with the church. Many of them were men and women whom the churches of Hereford had been endeavoring to interest for many years. Fine audiences heard Mr. Green's recital of the Bible from memory at the morning services, while the house overflowed each night. During his stay in Hereford Mr. Green addressed a union men's Bible class numbering 350, a new high attendance record for the town. He spoke twice to the Chamber of Commerce and addressed both grade and high school.

WHO KILLED THE PREACHER?

M. M. Bussey.

Who killed the preacher?

Was asked at the Judgment day
When those with whom he labored
Were assembled in solemn array.

The Pastor and the Church Board
Stood with trembling knees;
"Thou Great Judge,
Hear the answer, please.

"We knew we overworked him
In our revival, long and hard,
With service every night,
And three on the day of the Lord.

"We knew that beasts of burden
Should rest one day in seven,
But did not let the preacher rest,
And sent him off to heaven."

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him. James 1:5.

MY LIFE'S STORY

NEW EDITION—JUST ISSUED.

The Autobiography of Bud Robinson

This is the book for which thousands have been waiting. It is years since "Uncle Buddy" has written a book dealing with his life and experiences. Now we have this volume, his autobiography, giving an intimate recital of his experiences from early childhood to the present time. Pathos, humor, optimism, scathing rebuke, with an amazing memory of detail unite to give this volume the peculiar charm that characterizes all of Bud Robinson's writings. Just as there is only one Bud Robinson so this is the only volume giving the complete story of his life up to the present.

217 pages; full page portrait of author; attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.00.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

Adam Clarke---Great Commentary

Dr. Clarke was one of a long succession of men who, in every age of the Christian Church, have applied the best energies of their intellect and heart to the study and interpretation of the Scriptures. The seven gifts which, according to Augustine, the true expositor of Scripture must possess—reverence, piety, science, fortitude, prudence, cleanness of heart, and heavenly wisdom—were his portions.

The studies of his earlier years always had a bearing on this great work. From the beginning he felt the need of being taught by God to understand his own word. Referring to this, he says: "No man ever taught me the doctrine I embrace; I received it singly by reading the Bible."

Sufficiently critical to aid the inquiries of the more serious student, and yet sufficiently popular to serve the purpose of general edification. He gives a lucid view of the several books of Scripture, as to their dates and authors, their scope and connection; he expounds the original text in a manner adapted to the deficiencies of the reader; he elucidates difficulties in chronology, history, and oriental manners; he develops the grand doctrines of revelation, and applies the whole to the great concerns of human salvation and duty.

One leading feature in its character is independence in thinking. While he availed himself of the labors of others, the great number of his expositions are emphatically his own.

DR. ADAM CLARKE'S COMMENTARY ON THE BIBLE

is one of the noblest works of the class in the entire domain of sacred literature. It is a thesaurus of general learning.

Its luminous expositions of the Law and the Gospel; its earnest and forceful appeals to the conscience of the sinner and the unbeliever; its rich counsels for the well-understood wants of the Christian's inner life; its endless exhibitions of general knowledge; and its valuable aids to the students of those holy tongues in which revelation took its first recorded forms—all will render this book the companion and the counselor of multitudes as long as the English language may endure. The man who accomplished it achieved immortality, his name having become identified with an indestructible monument of learning and religion.

We commend it as the most spiritual commentary published. Six large volumes, good paper, good binding, new type.

Special Net Price, $14.90, Postpaid

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Kentucky

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.
PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ASBURY FOREIGN MISSIONARY TEAM

Kirkpatrick, Crouse, Erny.
Detroit, Mich., Oct. 6-8.
Mansfield, Ohio, Oct. 9-12.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13-16.

BENNAARD, GEO.

Houghton, N. Y., Oct. 25-Nov. 4.

BEVINS, K. J.

(1474 Stelzer Rd., Columbus, O.)
Cooper, Ky., Oct. 15.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.

(Muncy, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.

BUSSEY, M. M.

Waco, Tex., Nov. 4-18.

CALLIS, O. H.

(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Newport, Ky., Oct. 4-18.
Owingsville, Ky., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otega, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CARNES, B. G.

(200 Morrison St., Wilmore, Ky.)
Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Groveport, Ohio, Oct. 11-25.
Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 28-Nov. 15.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.

Bennington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Paoli, Colo., Nov. 8-22.

GRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET.

(815 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Ludington, Mich., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Portland, Mich., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

DICKINSON, H. N.

(2008 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8-22.

EDWARDS, J. R.

(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN

Washington, D. C., Sept. 28-Oct. 11.
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 12-25.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.

FLEMING, BONA.

(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.
Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 15-29.

FLEXON, B. G.

(Shackelfords, Va.)
Camden, N. J., Oct. 11-25.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3, 4.
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.

FRYE, H. A.

(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.
Pierston, Mich., Nov. 8-29.

FUGETT, C. B.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 4-18.
Hominy, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Ada, Okla., Nov. 9-22.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.

(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.
Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 3-6.
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

GLASCOCK, J. L.

(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GREGORY, LOIS V.

Salamanca, N. Y., Oct. 5-18.

GOODMAN, M. L.

(Burnips, Mich.)
Pine Grove, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 13-Jan. 2, reserved.
Merrill, Mich., Feb. 27-March 13.
Stroudsburg, Pa., March 20-April 3.
Ellsworth, Mich., May 1-14.

HARVEY, M. R.

(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Greensboro, Ga., Oct. 8-18.
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.

HENDERSON, REV. AND MRS. T. C.

(221 N. Professor St., Oberlin, Ohio)

HOLLENBACK, U. T.

(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-25.

HOOVER, L. S.

Johnstown, Pa., Sept. 6-27.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.

(Bethany, Okla.)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4-18.

JOHNSON, H. C.

(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Newport, Ky., Sept. 21-Oct. 11.
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13-25.

JONES, T. HOWARD

(Sheffield, Mass.)
Hallwood, Va., Oct. 4-17.
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 16.

JONES, LUM.

Anthony, Kan., Oct. 4-18.
Iola, Kan., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8-22.

KINSEY, MR. AND MRS. W. C.

(450 South West 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27-Oct. 18.
Union, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.

LARKIN, BESSIE

Mishawaka, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Westport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 15-29.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE

(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27-Oct. 11.
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12-25.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1-15.

LINCICOME, F.

Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Troy, Ohio, Nov. 1-15.
Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16-20.

LUDWIG, THEO. AND MINNIE E.

Clarence, Mo., Sept. 17-Oct. 4.
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8-25.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29-Nov. 15.
McPherson, Kan., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

MANLY, I. B.

(401 Cosmos St., Houston, Tex.)

McBRIDE, J. B.

(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

NICE, N. W.

(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-25.
Las Ammas, Colo., Nov. 1-22.

REED, LAWRENCE.

(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

REID, JAMES V.

(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.

(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Independence, Kan., Oct. 5-18.
Sweetwater, Tex., Oct. 21-25.
Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 1-15.

SMITH, W. EDMUND.

(Wolcott, Vermont)
Johnson, Vt., Sept. 30-Oct. 11.
Moore Forks, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 8.

SPARKS, BURL

(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

STURBROOK, W. L.

(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Mich.)
Northville, N. Y., Sept. 24-Oct. 11.
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

TOTTEN, ARCHIE J.

(411 Ninth St., Franklin, Pa.)
Open dates after January 1.

VAXHINGER, M.

(Upland, Ind.)
Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 4-25.

WILSON, D. E.

(537 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Athens, Pa., Sept. 29-Oct. 11.
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.
Reserved, Nov. 9-17.
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

WILLIAMS, L. E.

(Wilmore, Ky.)
Open dates.

WOODWARD, GEORGE F.

(Artist-Evangelist, 120 W. Barnard, West Chester, Pa.)
Leesburg, Va., Spt. 20-Oct. 11.
Smyrna, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Harrington, Del., Nov. 2-15.
Athens, Ohio, Nov. 16-29.
Logan, Ohio, Dec. 5-27.

Preparing To Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

WANTED REPRESENTATIVES

in every community to sell our beautiful Scripture Text Calendar for 1932. They are easy to sell and we make a very liberal offer on them. If interested, address Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |        |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50 |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50   |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50   |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50   |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50   |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50   |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25   |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25   |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50   |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00   |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00   |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50    |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15    |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50    |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                             | .15    |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15    |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15    |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15    |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15    |

19 volumes. Total . . . . . $16.90

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for . . . . .

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $ . . . . . for which please send me books checked above.

Signed . . . . .

Address . . . . .

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{4}$  in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at \$7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ .

The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index.

An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$  in.

Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$ , bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price \$1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only  $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4} \times 1$  in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ , only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ . Regular net price \$3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine India paper, black faced type, the size is  $6\frac{7}{8} \times 1$  in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is  $4\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4} \times 1$  in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at \$4.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2}$  in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price \$5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scotfield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scotfield references.

The size is  $5 \times 7$ , less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scotfield Bible published. It is a regular \$10.00 value. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes. Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size  $5 \times 8$ . Regular price \$4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size  $2\frac{1}{2} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price \$1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                              |        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison . . .                           | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper . . .                         | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith . . .                           | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson . . .                     | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison . . .                  | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson . . .                              | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames . . .                                | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards . . . | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson . . .          | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison . . .     | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble . . .                                        | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin . . .                                | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest, Huff . . .                 | .20    |

Biography

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor . . .            | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson . . .                        | .10 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life . . .      | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout . . . | .10 |

For Children

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper . . .            | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow . . .                | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor . . . | .10 |

Evolution

|                                                             |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett . . .                          | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke . . .     | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan . . .               | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock . . . | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan . . .                            | .15 |

Hell

|                                                       |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell . . .                  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor . . . | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor . . .          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor . . .           | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt . . .                     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly . . .               | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff . . .                  | .10 |

The Dance

|                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner . . .              | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt . . .                | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly . . .                     | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper . . .                     | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn . . .                | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones . . .                      | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle . . .                        | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith . . . | .10 |

Holiness

|                                                               |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins . . . | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul . . .                          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff . . .                            | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth . . .                          | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle . . .                                | .15 |
| Let's We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller . . .        | .25 |

|                                                                       |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection . . .                                          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt . . .                           | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer . . .                                  | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff . . .                     | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward . . .                                            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor . . .                                         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor . . .                               | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Ferguson . . .                                | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul . . .             | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley . . .            | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly . . .                                                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett . . .                                   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley . . .                         | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke . . .                              | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm . . .                                          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames . . .                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul . . . | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison . . .                           | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett . . .                                   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul . . . | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper . . .           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                              |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow . . .                   | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout . . .                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout . . .                        | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout . . .                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout . . .                                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout . . .                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout . . .                    | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout . . .                             | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd . . . | .05 |

Baptism

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects . . .       | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly . . .                   | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett . . .                          | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means . . . | .50 |

Devotional

|                                                   |     |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin . . . | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse . . .               | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock . . .       | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks . . .                      | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                        |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper . . .                                     | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt . . .                                       | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper . . . | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell . . . | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey . . .        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                                   |     |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil, Coward . . . | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward . . .               | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers . . .         | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett . . . | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett . . .       | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett . . .              | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett . . .                   | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss . . . | .15 |

Assorted

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone . . .                       | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper . . .                                 | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper . . .                                    | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison . . .                        | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout . . .                           | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett . . .         | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor . . .                            | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor . . .                        | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson . . .                       | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims . . .              | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper . . .         | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt . . . | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly . . .              | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor . . .        | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper . . .  | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly . . .                   | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett . . .              | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George . . .        | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor . . .                           | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall . . .                                    | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey . . .                            | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart . . .                     | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus . . .                       | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor . . .                        | .15 |
| Malice, Culpepper . . .                                      | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout . . .     | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor . . .                            | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly . . .                                    | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper . . .                        | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor . . .              | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell . . .        | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Oct. 14, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 41.

PREACH THE WORD.

By The Editor.

THERE is quite a good deal of preaching in these times that fails in point and emphasis. Somehow, the preacher seems to have no objective in view, nor does he seem to be burdened with a message. His sermon is not the outcry of a holy heart agony, but there is indefiniteness, lack of application, and the listener often wonders what the real object of the sermon is.

* * * *

The thoughtful man in the pew sometimes asks himself, if the preacher is simply "getting by" with a long introductory service, rather formal, a number of announcements, and a little exhortation with reference to future services, and then a sort of easy-going, twenty or thirty minute indefinite talk about something, the average pew-holder scarcely knows what.

* * * *

We are living in times that are crowded, jammed, and overflowing with live themes, and a preacher should have no trouble in finding something to preach about. A most dangerous skepticism is pressing its way into the text-books of our schools; the children of Christian homes are being taught unbelief in the inspiration of the Scriptures, and a preacher might say some very interesting and pointed things on this subject. He might easily, at least, arouse discussion and give the people something to talk about as they sit about their dinner table after the Sunday service.

* * * *

In a pinch, a preacher might preach on hell—the future state of the impenitent wicked. I can but wonder what the result would be if, some Sabbath morning, in the great city churches of this land, the preachers should earnestly, and with compassionate uncton, present to the people the teachings of the Holy Scriptures, and of our Lord Jesus himself, on the subject of the future state of the wicked. No doubt, a plain, earnest, scriptural subject would create a stir and bring forth no little comment; much of it adverse, perhaps, but the preacher might say in the outset, that he is not responsible for the doctrine, but for teaching the people what he finds in the Bible. He might clear himself of the responsibility by simply asking his people to look into the word of God; and he might reasonably insist that it is his bounden duty to notify the people what the final outcome must be if they persistently continue in sin and reject salvation offered by our Lord.

* * * *

There are many scriptural themes which are not attracting much attention of a large class of ministers, the neglect of which is arousing a bit of complaint among the people who insist that they ought to have earnest preaching on vital doctrines and practical themes which touch the life of today. After all is said, the truth remains that the majority of church members, as well as multitudes of outsiders, delight in good preaching. They want to hear well-informed men, up-stand-

A CHRISTLESS CHURCH.

What place so dead, so void of life,
As a Christless church, in its pride and strife.
With building vast, and graceful spire,
With its formal crowd, and no holy fire.

With pleasing preacher, and human flood,
But an empty soul, and no cleansing blood.
With its fine pageants, and its giddy host,
But dead in sin, and no Holy Ghost.

And thus they come, and thus they go,
Little caring for human woe;
They sing, they dance, at cards they play,
Never thinking of the Judgment Day.

But Time won't halt; it doth swiftly fly,
This worldly throng so soon must die;
And when they knock at Heaven's gate,
Alas, poor souls, 'twill be too late.

They spurned the truth, while here they lived,
And now a strict account must give;
They can but hear the Master say,
"I know you not! Depart for aye."

ing, courageous men, preach with plainness, point and earnestness, the vital truths of the Holy Scriptures that have to do with everyday life here and the eternal life which is to come.

*****

Monthly Sermon.

*****

A WHOLESOME FEAR OF HELL.

Text: "And these shall go away into everlasting punishment." Matt. 25:46.

The fear of punishment has a powerful restraining effect upon those who are criminally inclined. If a group of young men planning a bank robbery should become convinced that if they carry out their plans they will be captured and shut up in prison for a period of twenty-five years, they would quickly decide not to undertake the robbery. If a man planning the murder of his fellowman should be made to feel sure that if he committed the murder he would dangle at the end of a rope or be strapped in an electric chair and the current turned on he would hesitate long and seriously before committing the murderous deed; in fact, he would not commit the murder. The few murders committed in Great Britain, and the quickness and regularity with which murderers are punished by the British Government, is positive proof of the truth of my statement.

Criminals in planning crimes always plan a way of escape. They time their wicked action when they think detection is most unlikely. They take advantage of the darkest hour, wear disguises, creep stealthily upon their victims and in every possible way seek to escape detection and merited punishment for their criminal deeds.

We have a high tide of lawlessness in this nation because we have a low tide of law enforcement and the prompt and adequate punishment of criminals. There are such combinations of the bad element of the country that witnesses are afraid to appear upon the witness stand and tell the truth about those on trial. Jurymen are hard to find who can not be tampered with. Great criminal lawyers are aiders and abettors in crime because of their skill in hindering the prosecution of criminals and law enforcement.

In this nation there is murder about us everywhere in every class of society because the violators of law expect to escape punishment. There are postponements of trial until the public loses interest in the case; witnesses die, move away or are bought by those who would be damaged by their testimony. The edge of prosecution is dull, and not unfrequently there are financial considerations that hinder the moving of the wheels of justice and so, as I have said, we have a high tide of crime because we have a low tide of the enforcement of law and the punishment of criminals.

I might also mention the fact that pardoning power is used in this country in a most shocking way. It is entirely overworked and because of all these hindrances to prosecution and punishment, the criminally inclined feel that they can rob, murder, burn and destroy and by some means go unwhipped of justice and become more bold in crime, while an army of youth growing up and observing conditions in this particular, believe they can enjoy the loot of their robberies with little probability of punishment; so the criminal class is constantly increased to a vast army that jeopardizes life and property throughout the land.

There is much complaint of the breaking down of home discipline; that the mass of the rising generation is growing up without parental restraint and guidance, running at will and doing as they please. You cannot have a well governed home without regulation for the order, peace and happiness of the family. Children must learn obedience even if it calls for punishment. We understand that punishment is quite out of fashion these days, but the Bible speaks plainly of the advantage of the wise use of the rod. The child who does not obey its parents will not obey its teachers, and the child who does not obey its teachers will not obey the police, and the child who has grown up to disobey parents, teachers and the officers of the law, will not obey God; thus we have come to have a riot of sin in the home, a lamentable condition of disobedience and wickedness in the school, of lawlessness in the land, a general rebellion against God, and a rising tide of unbelief and wickedness which threatens the very foundations of our great republic. This spirit spreads throughout the world in a spirit of communism and anarchy which seeks to tear the very foundations from beneath the whole superstructure of civil gov-

(Continued on page 8)

THE BLESSING AND THE POWER IN BRAZIL.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

These days I am experiencing the luxury of preaching the gospel of Full Salvation on virgin soil. I mean by that, not burnt-over territory or country confused and upset by fanaticism. It is a great privilege and delight to get somewhere whose people are hungry, the church is hungry, the preacher is hungry and you preach to open hearts eager for the message. I have just come from a meeting where the power of the Holy Ghost was truly present; not in any great excitement, but his presence could be seen in the tears, read upon the faces, heard in the prayers and testimonies and in the sighs and sobs of souls crying out after God. All these things are happening in one of the largest Methodist churches in a city of a million souls in Brazil.

Last night the meeting swept on till ten o'clock. It was time to close; the altar was crowded with seekers after holiness and pardon; when we were about to close the wife of one of the best botanists of Brazil, a woman of quiet manner and voice, rose and stood before that large crowd of people and told how, for twenty-five years her heart was hungry for salvation, but she did not know how to obtain it, but in this meeting her longings had got satisfied and the Comforter had come.

What a blessing it is to a meeting when the pastor gets the blessing early in the meeting. This is what happened to the preacher here. The second day at midnight in his room the blessing came to his soul. The next morning in the meeting he testified to it, and now his soul is all on fire and aflame with zeal for his members and for souls generally. His wife, a woman with the face and meekness of Mary, and the open-heartedness of Lydia, has been seeking at every altar service and at this morning's meeting she entered in.

II.

We had an extraordinary experience in one of the Brazil churches. The pastor was a very fine fellow, well educated; in fact, he had trained for the Roman priesthood and was within one year of entering the church as priest when he saw that Romanism was wrong and he was converted to the evangelical doctrines believing the Bible to be the only way to saving truth; later, he had a real conversion, studied in our schools, and then began to preach in the Methodist Church and he came to occupy some of the best pulpits; his fine training ability fitted him for the same. But his heart was hungry for more, and for years he longed and prayed and wept for a more satisfactory Christian experience; sometimes his longings became most acute. About three months ago he came to a place of great heart searching; he read his Bible more and prayed more, but he knew nothing definite about the way of holiness and how to enter into a real personal experience of pentecostal grace. The meetings in his church began and from the first he was at the altar as a seeker. (It is a great sight to see a preacher at his own altar seeking full salvation). Our second night we preached from Acts 1:8: "Ye shall receive power after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you." Again we had many seekers, including the pastor. Meeting closed and I retired to my room at the parsonage, and went to bed.

During the night—it was about 1:30 A. M.—there was a knock and then a thump at my door. It was the pastor; he burst into my room saying: "Oh, Brother Ridout, Oh! Oh!" At first I thought he was in great distress of soul and we went to our knees at the bedside, but I found he was praising God instead of praying (he is Portuguese) and I discerned

REVIVAL TIDINGS FROM BRAZIL.

I landed at Santos, Brazil, via S. S. Montevideo, Maru, was met by Rev. W. G. Borchers, P. E. (M. E. Church, South,) and came by train to Sao Paulo, a city of over one million people. Began meetings in Central Methodist Church, one of the largest churches in the city, Rev. Guaracy Silveria, pastor, Rev. W. G. Borchers interpreting the preaching in Portuguese. The first night did not purpose giving altar call, but a man in deep distress over his sins came up to the pulpit and wanted to be prayed for; we then gave altar call and soon altar was filled with seekers. Next morning began meeting at 8:30 A. M. and held same hour each day, at night at 8 o'clock. Interest was greatly increased and great many souls at the altar. Pastor received his pentecost third night after midnight, and then interest became intense as pastor exhorted and prayed and wrought with his people.

Sunday, August 30: "Domingo extraordinario." One of the most remarkable Sundays I have ever witnessed on any mission field. Began at 8:30 A. M., and continued till 1:30 P. M. Began again at 3 P. M., and continued till 5:30. Night service opened at 6:30 P. M., and continued till 11 P. M. In the morning great many of the young people of the Sunday school and Epworth League attended and numbers of them were converted while many church members sought the baptism of the Spirit. Preached on Conversion (Acts 9:3). In afternoon preached on Romans 7 to Believers—altar full and many received full salvation. At night preached from Rom. 7:24 and Rom. 8:2: Subject, "Deliverance from Sin." At the after service seekers kneeling three deep around the big altar. I presume during the day there were in all three services 250 seekers and many got through. People from all the churches are coming to the meetings. I was waited on today by a group of Presbyterian ministerial students who want the Baptism of the Spirit. They have arranged a meeting in the Seminary tomorrow afternoon where I shall preach on Power from on High. Hallelujah for the glorious full salvation gospel confirmed as per Heb. 2:4.

George W. Ridout.

that it was not a case for prayer but for praise. He had prayed through, and while reading in the Acts of the Apostles the "blessing and the power" came upon his soul. Oh, the joy of this preacher as he felt all the longings and agonizing prayers of months and almost years were answered at last, and the Baptism of the Spirit was his in reality and power. Since then the Lord has made him a flame of fire in the meetings. After through preaching I called upon him to give the invitation, and in a few minutes the altar was crowded with seekers.

III.

The revival meeting has reached now the point where it has turned into a kind of a religious clinic, and in every meeting there are special cases which need personal dealing with. Over yonder is a doctor who is high up in service, but away down at the foot of the class, spiritually. He is a church official, but smokes and drinks; he got helped last night but he is only merely touched yet. Here is a young man, converted Catholic; he has given up all but cannot get the blessing; he is discouraged; after everybody had gone he still lingered. We got down at the altar again, faith took hold and he got the blessing. Mrs. A. (who speaks English) wanted me to talk with Miss —, University graduate, and a consecrated young woman, but a victim of too much introspection. She went away helped and looking for the blessing. Yonder is an Englishman whose wife is a wonderful Christian (she is Brazilian). His trouble has been temper. He came forward seeking sanctification, gave up all and claimed the victory. Over there is a woman of large family (husband a big business man). First, when she came to the altar she was just heartbroken and in an agony of soul. She prayed and wept till the blessing came, now heaven seems written all over her face; she and four of her daughters have been blessed in the meeting. Here is a medical doctor—

Presbyterian—he got through several days ago and now is just feasting on the good things of full salvation. One of the young pastors has got so baptized that he finds it hard to keep still; his wife also got the blessing. Another young man who had quit the ministry got right with God, also his wife got blessed and now I feel sure they will return to their place in God's work. It is a wonderful sight to see people getting through. Last night a rather large woman, evidently of pretty fine family, was at the altar. While Bishop Tarboux in the altar service was exhorting, she fell away in what we all thought was a faint. We called the Doctor, who was kneeling close by, but she didn't need the Doctor. She got the blessing which for the moment prostrated her.

IV.

In one of our Brazilian meetings one of the brethren, to illustrate a point in his experience, told of a man who had cataracts in his eyes and went blind. A doctor undertook to restore his sight, so he put himself in the doctor's hand; first operation restored sight to one of the fellow's eyes (he was a negro), and he was so charmed and delighted that he could see with one eye that he went off and did not come back to get the other eye restored also. The brother who told the story was illustrating the second work of grace and was urging his hearers to keep on coming till they were completely cured or, as he put it in Portuguese, till they received "cura completa."

Now that brother talked good theology. Too many people go all their life with only one eye. They forgot or neglected to tarry for the second blessing of Full Salvation.

V.

It is an encouraging sign these days to see tears at the altar. This morning there was a good Baptist brother seeking definitely the blessing of a clean heart. I noticed the altar was wet with tears where he had been kneeling. The history of this man is quite interesting. The pastor told Bro. Borchers that he noticed in his prayer the first night he had a deal of self-sufficiency. He prayed as though he had the whole thing and he could tell others how to get it; but something happened, and he got completely broken up. I seldom have met a man so melted and broken as he is. While I preached he seemed to tremble and weep before his open Bible; when testimonies were given he could hardly speak for his tears. When he prayed at the altar it was with "strong cryings and tears." They have an expression in Spanish "Quebrantame," which means "break me." This brother has had that experience sure. The Spirit of God had broken him all up. About the fourth day deliverance came to our brother; his tears now are those of rejoicing, and his testimony is most definite about the clean heart and the joy of salvation.

VI.

A revival on holiness lines and the Baptism of the Spirit in a church where pastor and people are hungry and responsive always brings some wonderful results. Some of the testimonies given are remarkable. I cannot understand Portuguese to know all that is said, but I can appreciate the Spirit. The Holy Spirit works the same among all peoples and languages in conviction, conversion, restoration and sanctification. One man this morning after a couple days of struggle got the victory. He started in to testify, but his tears of joy were almost too much for utterance. He praised the Lord and then fell in fulness of joy upon his knees at the altar.

VII.

What a happy sight it is to see the Bishop alert and happy at the revival meeting. Bishop Tarboux—M. E. Church, South, now first Bishop of Brazil, new national church—came to the city in the midst of the meeting and though suffering from heavy cold and tired out from incessant labor and preaching, he was at the meeting first night upon his arrival and has attended steadily. He has been witnessing wonderful manifestations of the Holy Spirit among the churches. The other night with altar crowded with seekers, he broke out into exhortation to them how to get the blessing. Last night, while speaking at the altar service, one woman got the blessing so powerfully that for the moment she was unconscious when the "blessing and the power" struck her. The Bishop has been a missionary for nearly fifty years. He was converted when but a lad and as he told of how he got converted it brought a blessing to many hearts.

VIII.

I am writing this sketch in a Brazilian home where the language is Portuguese; fortunately, the pastor is a well educated man and can speak English some and Spanish and French a good deal, so I can often get through a conversation by using a bit of English, French and Spanish, while I am picking up a bit of Portuguese. This language is so nearly like the Spanish that often when I use a Spanish expression in preaching I am understood pretty well by the audience.

I was told before coming here that I would find Brazil much more receptive and responsive to the gospel than was Argentina. I think I have already found this to be the fact. My first service was held in the beautiful capacious Central Methodist Church of Sao Paulo. This church has a membership of over 500. On Sunday the audience was nearly 400. Brazil is a country of great mixture of blood, and the white and colored worship together and make no fuss about it; evidently, here the race question does not bother so much. Most of the Methodist missionaries here are from the South—Tennessee, Louisiana, etc., and I suppose from the very first they got victory over the race problem because their work required them to work among all colors and races.

THE SPECTRUM ANALYSIS OF DIVINE LOVE---1 Cor. 13:3-7.

Rev. F. W. Cox.

spectrum analysis is the determination of a chemical or physical composition of a body by means of the spectrum light which it gives forth, or which passes through it." Such is the definition from the University Dictionary.

Rev. John Wesley said, "This is the greatest chapter (1 Cor. 13.) in all the Bible, and I pray that all the Methodists may live and die in it." His division of this chapter is as follows, "The necessity of love is shown, ver. 1-3; its nature and properties, ver. 4-7; and its duration, ver. 8-13. Of this same chapter, Rev. Albert Barnes, the prince of Presbyterian commentators said, "The thing Paul elevated to a supreme place above all other gifts and graces was love, and he used this chapter to illustrate its nature, excellence and power."

God made Paul perfect in love, and then the blessed Holy Ghost put this spectrum of divine love through his sanctified intellect, and used his mind as a crystal prism, and out came this wonderful array of virtues or ingredients, which we have recorded in our text. H. Drummond gives their enumeration as follows: 1st, Patience, "Love suffereth long;" 2nd, Kindness, "And is kind;" 3rd, Generosity, "Love envieth not;" 4th, Humility, "Love vaunteth not itself;" 5th, Courtesy, "Doth not behave itself unseemly;" 6th, Unselfishness, "Seeketh not her own;" 7th, Good Temper, "Is not provoked;" 8th, Guilelessness, "Thinketh no evil;" 9th, Sincerity, "Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth." Did you ever stop to think that divine love is never bothered with parasites—a thing that holds and feeds upon another? A hanger on, a sponger, a bed-bug, a potato-bug, a real humbug. Lord, keep us from religious parasites is my prayer. Real holiness frees us from all sin and slime.

Please notice the nine ingredients of love again: Patience, Kindness, Generosity, Humility, Courtesy, Unselfishness, Good Temperedness, Guilelessness, and Sincerity. Now let us develop them as follows:

1. Patience. Love is patient; it is calm; it can wait. Wesley said, "I am always busy, but never in a hurry." Wesley retired to a very quiet place in the country for a much-needed rest. A good, but loud-spoken brother said to him, "I compliment you for finding such a restful place as this, for all is so nice and quiet here." Wesley kindly replied, "Except for noisy words."

Love can go when the summons comes, or it can humbly "wait and murmur not." It can "suffer long," "and it beareth all things" literally, "Broodeth not over injuries." Too many become setters over being hurt and slighted, and all such are sure to hatch more troubles. Love learns what God is like, and finally sees his hand in everything and thus becomes the best educator. It can wait the Lord's good time. Praise his name.

2. Kindness. This is love in action. Look at the life of Christ, and you will soon see the double virtues of his active and passive life. In his active virtues "He went about doing good and healing all that were oppressed by the devil." And in his passive virtues he showed the spirit of non-resistance. "They reviled him, but he reviled them not again," and "They rejected him, but he threatened not." And, "Neither did he strive nor lift up his voice in the street" in any way to show revenge. He was kind to the erring, he prayed for his murderers. Kindness is needed everywhere, in the home, street, the church and both to young and old. We should be kind to cripples, and the feeble-minded. Let us show kindness before our loved ones pass away. It will then be too late. An ungrateful and wayward son stepped up to the bedside of his very sick mother and said, "Mother, I love you." It touched a chord in the old mother's heart that had been bleeding for years to hear a kind word from him, and she very tenderly replied with tears of love in her heart, "Thank you, my dear son. Why did you not say that before?" I often think if the tears shed at funerals, and the flowers placed on the lid of the cold casket had only been bestowed a little sooner they would have meant much more. Yet, thank God for any kindness even at "the eleventh hour." I wonder why all of us are not kinder to our own and to every one. A great man went to see a sick boy, and as he entered the room, he simply laid his hand on the boy's head, and said tenderly, "God loves you, my boy" and passed out. It so touched the boy that it is said he got up out of bed, went to the window, and cried to the people as they passed by, "God loves me! God loves me!" And from that on he told all that God loved him.

3. Generosity. "Love envieth not." Here we see love in competition with others. If we keep, and cultivate love, we must be willing to see people in our line of business doing better than we are. Do not envy them, but try to do better yourself. If other Gospel singers can sing better than you can, do not envy them. Sometimes at Assemblies or conventions where there has been a goodly number of talented singers, some envious one among them has been known to want to do about all the song leading, so as to come to the front and get all the calls, no matter how his good comrades fared. If a preacher or evangelist can preach better than you can, and seems to have more calls, do not envy him, but go to prayer, study and sweat on the inside of your brain, build up your mind and heart, and be willing to take the lowest place, and God will send promotion sooner or later. Hallelujah! It means a good deal to work hard to bring a soul to God, or be the means of doing the most of the hard work to bring things to pass, and then to see some other person come in who has had little or nothing to do with the hard work on the building up side of the job, just come up for a few minutes, jump on the band wagon, do a little tooting, walk off with all the credit, and push you into the back ground. To keep sweet, and not show any envy about that time, one will have to be in the glow of perfect love, but thank God it can be done. Praise the Lord: Unless we all keep a magnanimous mind, there will enough contrary winds blow in life to make us envious toward the other party. Jesus, help us to "Prefer one another in love."

4. Humility is the next ingredient of love. "Love vaunteth not itself" and "is not puffed up." Do not brag about yourself. If God has used you, get back into the shade. Go and hide like Saul did. When they came to make him king, he had run away and hidden in the stuff. Had he always retained a spirit of humility, God said he never would have failed. It is sickening these days to see how many brethren like to be called Dr. and Professor. It seems that some will never own a professorship unless they almost steal it, or get it in some under-handed way. John Dunn worked in the mill as a roller. Professor Robinson worked at the same place, and was precentor in the First Baptist Church. One night they both played in an orchestra, and on the following day the newspapers reported it as a fine rendering of the various parts by the musicians. They said, Professor Robinson led, and was assisted by John Dunn. The latter said, "They did not call me professor John Dunn, so I shall never play again for them." Poor John! he has a long line of descendants, and forty-second cousins. Nearly always when he would speak of himself, his eyes would shine, and his face would puff up as though some great thing had happened, because he was the leading part, etc. A noted scholar and sainted man whom I know of said, "Love waives even self-satisfaction."

5. Courtesy. "Doth not behave itself unseemly." That means indecorously. Politeness has been defined as love in trifles. Some people would hardly thank you for a dime, but they might if it were a ten dollar bill. Holiness people need to be careful in a meeting, when some one gets up to speak and does so in an awkward or unwise manner, then the tendency of some people is to let out a sigh, and drop the head, and show a lack of respect for the person even though no sin be found in his or her life. Courtesy is love in society. It is the best kind of etiquette, as it teaches every one his or her place. We need to be careful when we use the word gentleman, because properly understood it means a man who is gentle and kind. Lady in like manner means a female who is virtuous and lady-like. "Love does not behave itself unseemly." To be a gentleman we must not be guilty of a single unmanly deed. Love is not rude, but modest. It moves with carefulness.

6. Unselfishness, "Seeketh not her own." One having this element will not be branded as "Reprobate silver" but will be sterling quality. Praise God. Some people always

(Continued on page 6)

PROHIBITION.

Bishop W. N. Ainsworth.

NE wonders at the bold sophistries that liquor propagandists are continually trying to palm off upon the public.

They are continually talking about good liquor and bad liquor and the infringement by prohibition of the sacred right of the people to have good liquor. They use the wrong adjectives. There is no good liquor. There is bad liquor and worse liquor and the worst liquor. The purest that was ever distilled is poison. Any use of it lowers the vitality of every organ of the body, weakens the fiber of the brain and decreases the efficiency of every normal function of life.

If science has demonstrated anything it has shown that alcohol is a deadly poison to the human system. It all kills. The first effect points in the direction of a fatal termination. It does not always finish the job. Neither does the bite of a rattlesnake—some human animals are pretty tough—but all alcoholics kill, some a little quicker than others.

This thing can never be made a joke, and yet anti-prohibition propaganda is responsible for a deal of levity about drinking. The sale and use of the best and purest liquors mankind can make, whether in saloons, dispensaries or blind tigers, is evil and only evil continually. The people have no more right to its beverage sale than they have to narcotics. Government has no right to bargain away the health and happiness of its people, but on the contrary is under the highest obligation to protect its citizens against men who will murder for money. Civilized society must put the traffic in and use of liquor, morphine, and cocaine in the same category.

And it is high time for the intelligence of the country to puncture the constant effort to arouse resentment over the curtailment of the people's sacred rights. No man has the right to raise pigs on a city lot or drive to the left, or park where he pleases, or run over a red light. If some independent tries it, he is quickly shown where he can head in. High-powered civilization and dram drinking just will not go together and society was never more sane than when it denies men the right to make liquor and sell liquor.

They say freedom resents restriction and that prohibition is putting everybody to drinking in defiance of it. The liars in behalf of liquor are really ludicrous. There is drinking—far too much of it—but it is greatly overtaken. Once every American city had saloons by the hundreds and liquor came to them by train loads. Now it comes by occasional auto loads or a satchel full. Once liquor was advertised in every paper, emblazoned on every billboard and openly offered in every block. Every intelligent man knows that more liquor was sold with such facilities in a month than is now smuggled in most places in a year. Advertising and pretty show windows pay, and the liquor business would go back at it tomorrow if they could.

I travel thirty to forty thousand miles a year and I have seen one drunk man in twelve months. I have seen more drunk men in London in one night, and without looking for them, than I have seen in America in ten years. And nobody need tell me that they now hide away and don't go out like they used to do. Since when did liquor make a drunken fool go home and hide himself? I get tired of this twaddle. Nobody sees the drunks of the saloon days. The Keely Homes for inebriates are nearly all shut. Drinking is a minor fraction of what it was twenty years ago. The restrictions on liquor are no more promoting its use than the laws against murder, theft and narcotics provide their violation.

Neither is prohibition responsible for the vast increase in crime. Crime was increasing in America to the alarm of all good citizens before the prohibition amendment, and in the wake of the World War it has been world-wide. War, laxity, automobiles, and a steady stream of Sodom sent out from Hollywood have about wrecked our morals. Bootleg liquor has played its part, but conditions would have been immeasurably worse in these changing days with saloons in every town. All law is being flouted brazenly, but the intelligence of the country is not ready to repeal or modify the laws against highwaymen, racketeers and narcotic vendors. They are not even ready for a newspaper referendum on the kind of law the underworld wants and would support. All of which is just as sensible as the pleas for prohibition repeal.

The plain fact is what these repealists want is liquor, and more liquor, and more money out of it. Their whole propaganda is for money and the stakes are big. They have even offered to pay the government over a billion dollars a year for the privilege of manufacture and sale. That shows what is in it for them. Their ceaseless concern is to make prohibition impossible.

The black flag of rebellion has been run up in America by liquor and its political puppets. This is their program: Contempt, nullification, subsidized lawlessness and then repeal. But some of us refuse to be affrighted. We have seen them lick the dust before prohibition's advance for fifty years. We will not beat a retreat. We have firmly set our faces against any recession from the outlawry of the liquor traffic. The clock of civilization is not going to be turned back. America is not going to be run by the whiskey millionaires or the bootleggers. They belong to the same class. The moral manhood of America is going to conquer both.

And let me say to the politicians of this country that the Church is the Mother of Prohibition. The Christian civilization of this nation is committed to it and we are not going to surrender the gains we have made at the behest of any political party. The Church is not in politics, but it is out and out for Christian citizenship, and no sophistry of wet politicians will intimidate it. And may I further say this? The citizenship of the Old South has embraced principle and stood by itself more than once. It can do it again, and will do it. The South is dry by deep-seated conviction. It will not be marched to the polls by any party whose platform is rebellion against sobriety, and under the baton of a chief marshal whose whole purpose in politics is to relieve the country of what he is pleased to call "the damnable affliction of prohibition."—Wesleyan Christian Advocate.

Why I Know There Is a God.

W. S. BOWDEN.

MY friend, you ask an interesting question. Why do I know there is a God? The why and wherefore of things appeal to me. I have had my doubting period in life; I still have experiences which test my faith. I base my conviction that there is a God, such a God as the Bible reveals, upon actual knowledge. I am not satisfied with guessing, theorizing and philosophizing on the subject. I cannot be satisfied to have my beliefs and hopes built upon speculations, fancies and lies. I have a solid foundation for my belief in God.

I know there is a God. I am acquainted with him. I have personal dealings with him. This kind of an answer may not be as convincing to you as some other things that I might say, so I'll tell you first some of the things which appeal to my head as evidence of the existence of a Supreme Being, though they do not touch my heart as does the fact of my personal acquaintance with him.

I'll not repeat arguments for the existence of God which you may find in studied theological works, except as I may put the arguments in my own words, regardless of the scholarly presentation of those who have written from the scholastic standpoint. It is natural that men should seek for proofs of the existence of God. The question of his existence is an important one. But I have not examined a book touching this theme since I was in school. I have even forgotten some of the theological names given to these different arguments. Just at present I recall the ontological and the teleological arguments.

There are several things for which I cannot account if I deny the existence of God.

THE UNIVERSE.

The unproved theories advocated to account for the universe do not convince my head; neither do they satisfy my heart. I am interested in astronomy and kindred subjects, but I am not quick to grasp the chance element which is often introduced by those who think along this line. A house does not come by chance; there must be a builder. Why should I suppose that the universe came by chance?

A man once wrote with his finger, in the corner of his garden, in the fine soil, the letters of his son's name. He then sowed garden-cress in the furrows, covered up the seed, and smoothed the ground. Ten days later the boy came running to his father, and with astonishment in his countenance shouted to his father that his name was growing in the garden. The father laughed at the report. He seemed to disregard the tale, but the boy insisted on his going to see what had happened.

"Yes," said the father, with assumed indifference, "I see it is so; it must be mere chance." "It cannot be so," replied the son, "somebody must have had a hand in it."

"Look at yourself," replied the father, "and consider your hands and fingers, your legs and your feet. Came you hither by chance?" Then the father began to talk to the son of the mysteries of life, and to reveal to him that back of life is the living God.

The eye is a wonderful structure. It is a great camera. I once heard a lecture on the eye. I thought there was just one thing lacking in that lecture. The suggestion should have been thrown out that back of the design is the designer. An eye is a very small part of nature. Throughout nature, throughout the universe, there are evidences of design.

THE BIBLE.

As a rule, those who know the least about this Book are the quickest to say that it is of purely human origin. But this is a really unique Book. As there is a cause for sound or light, so there must be a Cause back of this Book. Those who know the Book best are convinced that it is not man's book; they are convinced that God is back of it, the Author of it. What other book has had as salutary an influence as this Book? What other book is so inexhaustible? so indestructible? The fulfilled prophecies constitute evidence that God is the Author.

JESUS CHRIST!

I know that there are some who would account for Jesus Christ while denying the existence of God. I cannot do it. I am perfectly familiar with the arguments of those who say that Jesus was just a man, not the God-man. I would be frank to discuss these arguments before any intelligent audience. They do not have any weight with me. To my mind there is ample reason to believe that Jesus lived and wrought and taught just as revealed in the four gospels. There is abundant evidence that Jesus came from the tomb the Living Lord and death's conqueror. The Cause back of his life, his resurrection, is God. We "do believe in God, that raised him from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God." (1 Pet. 1:21).

"Show us the Father and it sufficeth us!" Jesus reveals God unto us as Father. There are many reasons why I believe Jesus Christ is the Son of God, and there are many ways in which Jesus Christ reveals God.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCE.

I have seen evidences of God in nature, I have learned of him in the Bible, I have come to understand him better through Jesus Christ. I have been conscious of the guiding hand of God in history. I have been much impressed with the evidence of God in the history and preservation of the Jew. I have considered the arguments men have advanced to do away with God. After all, when I cried out in earnest, "O that I knew where I might find him," and he forgave my sins for Christ's sake, I had greater evidence than book evidence. He walks with me, and talks with me. He gives me peace and hope and joy and rest. He hears my prayers. He saves me from the guilt and the power of sin. I have seen the work of God in other lives also. I am fully satisfied that the Cause back of many changed lives is God.

Friend, you may know God. To know him and Jesus the Christ means eternal life. He is the Creator, and he longs to be your Father. If you seek him with the whole heart he will be found of you.

Fine Opening of Asbury College.

ANDREW JOHNSON, EVANGELIST.

ASBURY College starts off this year with a swing of victory. There is a good attendance notwithstanding the hard times. Dr. L. R. Akers, the President, made a splendid address on the occasion. He sounded a clear note on the great fundamental doctrines for which the college stands.

The following are a few of the excellent things he said:

OPENING ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT L. R. AKERS
AT ASBURY COLLEGE, WILMORE, KY.

September 25, 1931.

"There is nothing new under the sun"—is an aphorism, but we have in Asbury College a new experiment in education, a noble experiment, a character factory. Know well in the very outset that character is never inherited; characteristics are. Character is never incidental; it is always fundamental. There is never a blacker lie than a man is well educated who is physically and mentally trained without soul culture. Man is more than an intellectual biped. The "three R's" of education must have the fourth "R" of religion or righteousness. The more titanic forces of nature which we have at our command the more spiritual forces we need to control them. No man truly lives for the future who doesn't build a holy life. No man ever begins to live until he finds life in Jesus Christ. Spiritual supremacy, however, comes through arduous processes. A conquering personality always bears upon himself the marks of the nails. One cannot avoid the thorns of life but he may wear them as a crown. When the day of reward arrives God will not look you over for degrees, medals, or honors, but for scars.

We are living in a discouraged age. The dirge of the pessimist is heard on every hand. So many are so busy reciting their Iliad of Woes, that we are unable to hear the inspiring song, "Count your many blessings, name them one by one." However, for all who strive, it is encouraging to remember that while truth may sometimes lose a battle it will always win the war.

Civilization and culture, in themselves, cannot save any people from decay and death. Nay, these carry within themselves the very seeds of decay and ruin. In devotion to things that are material men lose sight of things spiritual and eternal. Every great empire which has passed to oblivion has done so because of the neglect of the spiritual or higher life.

It is one of the ironies of history that religion makes most show when it is swiftly declining. The hectic flush on the cheek of the dying consumptive is a false simulation of life when disintegration has already set in. The age of Solomon was called the golden age, but that was the period which marked the culmination of Israel's ancient glory and the tragic decline of the nation both spiritually and materially. The decay of religion is the most tragic calamity which can befall a nation. It is the beginning of the end of the nation's life. The decline of the nation's life invariably begins with the decay of the nation's heart and that decay ever means the decline of the nation's power. Nations perish from causes within, not from causes without. Every nation has died as its faith died. The nation that loses its faith has lost its life. No nation ever died of old age. Every nation thus far has died of a rotten heart and the heart began to rot as the hands began to clutch gold. The loss of God and the love of gold are the two sources from which flow the evils that have ruined every nation which has perished. Nations are not destroyed, they commit suicide.

The need of the hour is great preaching, that of a great, full, and complete Gospel. "Righteousness exalteth a nation." Holiness is life insurance here and hereafter. Sin is death here and hereafter. If education is to become pagan America is doomed. It would seem that the land of the Puritans has become the territory of the Philistines. They have broken down our walls, captured our cities, and entrenched themselves in the educational citadels of America. There is little need for the modern press to ridicule the Puritans of the 17th Century. Our deep concern is for the impuritans of the 20th Century.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ must not only be militant, but it must be intellectually masterful. Christian scholars must always out-think educated pagans. This is no time for soft preaching. Pussyfooting ministers are worse than useless. We must get back to the main line of a complete and full salvation, back to a fearless, compelling ministry not weakened by doubts, nor palsied by fear, but to a bold, progressive, conquering band of crusaders.

Ever rings the promise, "And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me." The way out of discouragement and failure is the King's highway, in lock-step with him who is always and inevitably victorious. One has said, "Youth is a blunder, manhood a failure, and old age is a regret." This is true only of a Christless life. The truth is, youth is hope, manhood is achievement, and old age a glorious memory to one of a Christlike life.

Young people, your success or failure in life must ever be according to this formula: Your life plus or minus God. Abram plus God becomes Abraham; Jacob plus God becomes Israel; Peter plus God becomes a rock; Saul plus God becomes Paul, the mighty apostle to the Gentiles, the great soul of the centuries, the Colossus of the ages.

The call today is for militant service that is truly Christian. The blight of today is too many priests, too few prophets. The priests did not arouse the people. They went on in self-complacency. The prophet made the people uneasy, then wrathful, then stones began to fly and blood to flow, but the awakening came.

Our religion must meet fully the varied needs of men. If your religion doesn't save you from sin in this life, how can you trust it to save you from hell in the next life? A Spirit-filled life works when everything is going all right; it also works when everything is going all wrong. The full Gospel of Christ is in itself an adequate remedy for sin. Full redemption means first, a birth, then a death. The sinner must be born again; the Christian must be crucified with Christ. Man must remember that he is to be saved, not so much by doing, as by being. The world measures a man by what he has; God by what he is. It has been a popular theological fad to express doubts concerning those things which we formerly held to be the essentials of our Christianity. Some one has said a man cannot be hanged for his thoughts. That may be true, but he can be damned by them. False doctrine is not a mere clink of the brain, or way of thinking, but a well defined, pre-arranged plan of Satan to deceive and destroy. The thing that keeps one from the errors of modernism is not true theological training, so much, but an experimental knowledge of Jesus Christ as a personal Saviour from all sin. When you know the living Christ you will not stumble over the historic Christ. No man should stop with the Jesus of history. He should go on to the Christ of experience. Yet no man is able to know the living Christ of experience except through the revealing agency of the Holy Spirit. "And he shall teach you all things." "And he will guide you into all truth." The most interesting person in the world is the Lord Jesus Christ, who is everywhere trying to get people to be like him, to follow after him, and to walk with him. But we can never know him aright until we know him through the Holy Spirit. Through him we become living epistles known and read of all men. May it be said of you, as of the disciples of old—"And they took knowledge of them that they had been with Jesus."

Dr. H. C. Morrison is conducting the fall revival. All indications point to a great soul-saving campaign.

5,000 BEST MODERN ILLUSTRATIONS

BY

THE REV. G. B. F. HALLOCK, D.D.

Contains a remarkable collection of pointed stories, anecdotes, personal experiences, fables, legends, facts of science, incidents of history. It offers five thousand carefully selected and appraised illustrations, intelligently classified by subjects and arranged and indexed in alphabetical order for easy reference.

The effect of any sermon or address may be immeasurably increased by the use of one of these pertinent stories to emphasize a point or clinch an argument, for, as Spurgeon said, "mere bald statements are soon forgotten, but an apt illustration sticks in the soul like a hook in a fish's mouth." 768 pages. Published at $4.00. Our special price $1.00.

Christmas Presents

bought now, will keep, and if you want to make a handsome gift—one that will last and do good, we do not know of a better one to suggest than "Beautiful Story of the Bible." It is a beautifully bound book, published to sell at $2.95, and has every appearance of a high-priced book. We offer the copies we have, the remainder of the edition, at $1.00 each. Don't let this opportunity pass.

Only 16 Copies Left.

If you have not gotten your copy of Arnold's Commentary at the special closing-out price of 50c, don't fail to get a copy for the last quarter of the S. S. Lessons. Only 16 copies left, and after the Sunday school lesson period is passed, it is a valuable commentary on the Bible to keep in your library.

THE SPECTRUM ANALYSIS OF DIVINE

(Continued from page 3)

LOVE—1 Cor. 13:3-7.

seem to want to be in the lime-light, and do the most of the singing and preaching even if there were those there in the same line, and perhaps more capable than they. Love will help us to give up our rights with joy. My right to myself spells carnality. Love will help us to forget ourselves, and will make us thoughtful about others as to whether they are getting along all right. It is said of Job that he would send his agents over the country with provisions for the poor, and then to be sure that none had been missed, he would saddle his own camel, and hunt around until all had been helped. Both God and the prophet said unto Mr. Spurgeon, "Seekest thou great things for thyself, seek them not." Jer. 45:5.

7. Good Temperedness. "Is not provoked." What a rare and needed virtue. It is said, Temper in the Greek is never used as a noun, but as a verb, to temper. The unsanctified person is either too hard or too soft. A saw too hard would be too brittle and would break; if too soft, it would bend and not do the work. When properly tempered it would be just right. Carnality gives us Satan's bad temper; perfect love gives us God's kind, sweet and holy temper. Amen. Perfect love gives us power to keep an edge. It also makes us amiable, benign, tender-hearted and kind to all. Impatience and a hasty spirit have caused more spiritual failures and break downs than any other two things in life. How hard and severe children are dealt with sometimes and over mere trifles. I know of one woman who corrected one child for its misbehaviour, and then while she was wrought up, she spanked all the family, innocent and guilty alike!

8. Guilelessness. "Thinketh no evil." Plans no evil. Is not deceptive or tricky. It says of Christ, "Neither was guile found in his mouth." Jesus said to Nathanael as he saw him under the fig tree, "Behold an Israelite indeed in whom there is no guile." You can hardly tell when some are telling the truth, yet, blessed be God, many tell the truth and live free from guile. Praise the Lord for honest people who will not color their words.

9. Sincerity. This is the last ingredient of the nine. "Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth." Not in just what we have been brought up to believe, but "in the truth." Beyond our ritualism or catechism, beyond our theories or notions, it helps us to be frank, and gives us grace to do everything open and above board. It makes us true, honest, frank, upright and pure. It refuses to make capital out of other people's faults and failures. It does not compromise with sin, yet it loves to put the best construction upon everything. If every child of God had these nine ingredients of perfect love in possession and practice, the cause of God would then have the much-needed spiritual shock now required to swing it Heavenward. Hallelujah!

Settle The Question

of baptism by obtaining a copy of "Baptism by Means. It is thorough and convincing. Special price, 30c a copy, or 4 copies for $1.

One of the Alarming Sins

of the age is the sin of covetousness. "Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure," by L. L. Pickett, is a booklet that will impel the reader to search his or her heart. Get it and read it. Price 15c per copy, or $1.20 per dozen, if you want to circulate some of them.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

Decisive Year For America.

W. E. SCHUBERT.

(By a Missionary in China)

HIS coming year will be a decisive year for America. America has had decisive years before, but I doubt if any held such potent, such possibilities for good or evil as the twelve months just ahead of us.

It is a decisive year for American morality. It will determine American ideals for perhaps a hundred years. It will decide whether America's sons will stand clear-eyed in the light of God to help a sinking world, or whether they will grovel in bleary eyed weakness and let the world go down in darkness. I wonder if you who live in America can see this as clearly as we who stand between a raging heathenism (Psalm 2:1) and a faltering paganism. If you do see it, what are you going to do about it between say May 1931 and May 1932? Are you going to do nothing, and let Raskob and Smith decide for you and your sons and daughters, or are you going to rise up and cast out the menace of "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" forever? Someone may weakly say, "What can one man do?" But I'll tell you any one of you may determine the issue of 1932 by what you do or fail to do before then. The election of 1916 was decided by a few votes in California that threw the state's electoral vote unexpectedly from Hughes to Wilson, and that might happen next year in any state, and any one person might influence that many voters in a year's time.

It is a decisive year for American international relations. Our papers are full of the success of President Hoover's peace efforts. But peace pacts and naval treaties alone cannot keep the peace in a selfish world. Some of us who have memories remember being told in 1913 that there would never be a war again because of certain pieces of paper signed by Mr. Bryan, Mr. Wilson, a man named Wilhelm, and others, but world markets passed the lie to the theorists, and tore up the "scraps of paper." As I remember, some people voted for a certain man in 1916 "because he kept us out of war," and because they "didn't raise their son to be a soldier, but American investments in Europe and other places had prior claims, and coupons must be clipped even if some of us must wear khaki. May God help us to remember the soldiers' confessions of those days, and never let it happen again: men ashamed to go home, full of disease and sin; dying men afraid to die, because conscience would not die, and mothers' prayers had followed them; women widowed by husbands afraid to live; others worse than widowed by unfaithfulness. This is the cost of clipping coupons.

I tell you the greatest menace to world peace is not the near completion of the Russian five year plan (though that is a menace), nor the Austro-German agreement, or the Franco-Italian disagreement, but the plain old-fashioned selfishness of American investors. This is written on Good Friday, and I look back fourteen years and wonder if America will crucify Christ afresh on this new Cross of Gold. It takes more than pieces of paper to change the hearts of investors, big or little. But thank God, we have the thing that can do it, and we can do it if we have more than "a form of godliness" and if we stop "denying the power thereof." But we must get right to work about it, for a certain French statesman has promised us a war before May, 1932. If you care more for coupons than for Christ, don't do anything this decisive year, but if you care more for peace and purity than for pride and prosperity, work like the devil, for he never stops, and pray like Christ, who in the days of his flesh poured out his soul in great cries of agony for a lost world, and who ever liveth to intercede for us before the throne of God.

It is a decisive year for American souls. Americans have souls as well as bodies, and there has been a drought of heart for some years now, worse than the drought that struck the farms last year. "My soul thirsteth for Thee, or God," but my pastor preaches about everything else. "My people have forsaken me, the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water. (Jer. 2:13). Read Van Dyke's Blue Flower again. There is a famine of hearing the word of God. Worse than the financial depression that so many tell us about is the depression of spirit that comes from a faithless and unbelieving ministry. Worse than physical unemployment is the disuse of the talents of faith and prayer and testimony. America, God has a promise for you: "If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday: and the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." (Isaiah 58:10, 11).

God help us to wake up! God help us to read the indicators aright, and see where we are headed. Every church has two thermometers, missions and membership, and they are gradually going down all over the country until the church is dangerously cold. What can we do? Build a fire, of course! Revival fire, fires of prayer, take off the wet blanket, encourage warm hearts. What saved America from French atheism after the Revolution, when only seven per cent of Americans were church members? The fires, revival fires, kindled by Asbury and his preachers, and by men of other churches, beside the camp-fires of the pioneers. What saved America from the curse of slavery? The Finney revivals, beginning in 1820, contemporary with and greater than the great Missouri Compromise, and continuing up to the climax of the Great Awakening of 1857-58, which changed history, brought on and carried on by a great volume of prayer, effectual, fervent prayer.

Spiritual revival is always the dynamic of lasting reform. It has always been that way, and it always will be that way. Prohibition, peace, and purity are the by-products of a deeply spiritual national life. Barometers of spiritual life are revival effort and missions; failing efforts to save souls, and falling missionary income are the result of unbelief and resultant spiritual death. But the church sleeps on, and preachers write articles about church organization, or pull ecclesiastical political wires, while American civilization, world peace, and precious souls are threatened.

The widow cried, "Avenge me of my adversary." (Luke 18:3). I think of them often, those widows by drink, those widows by war and its attendant evils, prostitution, gambling and suicide. They cry out to me after all these years in a far country. And who will avenge them? And how? Read it: "Men ought always to pray, and not to faint," and if we pray, "Shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him?" Oh church of Christ awake! "Put on thy strength, O Zion; put on thy beautiful garments, O Jerusalem, the holy city. Shake thyself from the dust; arise, loose thyself from the bands of thy neck. For thus saith thy Lord. Ye have sold yourselves for nought, and ye shall be redeemed without money."

Let us pray:

"Jesus, confirm my heart's desire,
To work, and speak, and think, for thee;
Still let me guard the holy fire,
And still stir up thy gift in me."

God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us. Rom. 5:8.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

NEWS FROM AFRICA.

I am sending you the testimony of an African boy who was graduated from our Bible School here this month, and also an article written by our assistant native pastor. If you can use these or parts of these to help some of our people in America get closer to God, and more closely in touch with our Lord's great Missionary program, you are welcome to them.

Your articles and editorials in The Pentecostal Herald these days, as well as those of Mrs. Morrison, are a real stimulus to us on the Mission Field. May God bless you and keep you going for some time to come.

Brother Reid has charge of the Evangelistic Department of our Station, and I have the Bible School. We have some opposition from fellow workers, and a great deal of devilry and heathenism to deal with in the native villages, but from time to time we see fruit that God's Spirit and God's Word gather in, and so our hearts rejoice, and our faith mounts up as we press on in his name.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. De Ruiter.

An African Boy's Testimony Translated.

My Friends:

Greetings from us. I am very happy because I received the Comforter, the Holy Spirit; also a new heart, on Thursday night while I was praying to God, then I received the Spirit. Therefore, if a person is longing to receive, let him pray God.

When I received the Spirit I saw Heaven very near, also Jesus sitting, and I heard him say, "Your sins are forgiven, I am writing your name in the Book of Life, rejoice." Then I rejoiced. Then I saw the grace of God falling down upon my body like water; it happened that I raised my hand, and then I saw the blessings of God falling like drops. Then friends, I saw the hands of Jesus seeking people in every place upon this earth. If Jesus is seeking us, let us also seek Jesus, and let him dwell in our hearts.

Question. How is the Spirit received? (a) Pray to God, (b) surrender your hands, and your head, and your feet completely, (c) confess your sins, and let go your sins, (d) know this within your heart, Jesus is my Saviour, I shall never sin again.

Friends, greetings from me.

Sumbu Filipo.

Sumbu Filipo was a student in the Bible School; the above experience came to him the night before he was graduated. Several other Bible School boys who were praying together that night were definitely blessed by the Spirit of God.

William De Ruiter,

M. E. C., M., Wembo Nyama, Congo Belge, Africa.

BROTHER BROWNING'S LETTER.

This beautiful September morning with its warm sunshine and invigorating air makes me feel like I would like to leave the noise of the city for awhile and take a walk through God's great out-of-doors and spend a day in prayer and meditation just thinking on the mercies of God and the wonderful blessings he has bestowed upon his children. However, there are duties that call me here in the city and even if I cannot walk in the fields I can be happy serving the Lord here in town.

Just this morning a phone call came from Mr. Glenn Myers, a funeral director, and he asked if I would come down to his chapel next Sunday afternoon and speak at 2 o'clock over WSEN and give a message on Mothers. That kind of a topic suits me well for I have a dear old mother now nearing her 76th birthday, and somehow she will be in my thoughts when I deliver that message. I know Mr. Myers' mother, who not many months ago was called from this world to a better one, and remember with pleasure one lovely morning when I happened to be passing through Mt. Sterling, Ohio, I visited her in the dear little home on the hillside just at the edge of the city, and found her working among her flowers and had prayers with her and never saw her again. This was not in mind to say when I began this letter but my letters have a sort of way of making unexpected detours, but sometimes there are some lovely scenes to be found on the detours that one would miss from the main highway.

This brings me to the commonplace and practical point in this letter. Briefly stated it is this. Something more than two and a half years ago I began this radio work over WAIU, which we call the "Nazarene Hour." My church paid whatever deficit there was at the week-end, but now our church is carrying very heavy burdens and I cannot ask them to continue to supply this deficit. Instead of this, for many months I have been depending upon the sympathy and support of our radio audience for the entire cost of the program. The management of WAIU have been wonderfully kind and patient with me and have allowed my account to run believing that eventually I would pay it, until a considerable amount is piled up against me and that troubles my mind. Friends urge me to go on with this program and write me that it is impossible for me to know the great good that is being done by radio services, and to tell you the truth, it would be very hard for me to have to give up this blessed opportunity. It is one of the ties that binds me to Columbus and to my present pastorate, for it compensates, in a measure, for the great congregations and the larger field of usefulness that I had during the twenty years which I was privileged to spend in evangelistic work. During the past five months a few good people have been liberal and have helped us, but conditions for broadcasting have not been so good, and at present the money that has come in has been far too little for this work. Right now I need $150 to pay up our deficit and pay for some postage and printing and a few small items necessary to this work. One would think that this would be a trifling amount for a great radio audience, but there are many calls over the air until people have grown so accustomed to dismissing such appeals that when a real one, like this, comes along it simply goes to the bone-yard of neglected things. Just here and there an occasional one of the many thousands that listen in obeys that inner prompting of the Spirit of the Lord and sends us an offering. I am glad that you are among that goodly number and if you can do so I sincerely hope that you will feel inclined to help again. Your heart would grow warm if you could read some of the letters that come to us from the people who have been blessed and cheered and comforted by these services. While I was writing the above lines a young colored man who sings in a quartet came to see me about an engagement and he told me that he and his people had been listening to us for more than two years and that the Nazarene Hour had helped them.

Pray that our Lord may direct me in the selection of the subjects from time to time. Pray that the Holy Ghost direct and empower the preacher and his message. Pray that the radio machines may carry the message clearly and that people may listen with attention. Amid all the jangle and confusion and frivolity that goes out on the air I do humbly pray that God may preserve for us at least this one hour in which people can have opportunity to hear a message from God's Word, a message seasoned with prayer, a message that exalts Jesus Christ, a message that honors his precious blood once shed on Calvary, a message electrified by the power of the Holy Ghost, a message that pleases God and blesses humanity.

"Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy, to the only wise God our Savior, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen." Jude 1:25.

Yours in Christian love,

Raymond Browning.

HURRICANE CAMP MEETING.

Old Hurricane camp meeting at Tolu, Ky., closed out with good victory August 30. My co-worker in the preaching services was Rev. J. J. Smith, a saintly soldier of the cross, eighty-two years old. With the exception of five years, he has been one of the evangelists at this camp for the last forty-one years. Hurricane, like many other camps, has seen better days. A few years ago eight or ten cottages were burned leaving eighteen and a good dining room; also their Tabernacle was lost by fire but a much better one has been replaced. We started the camp with a small congregation, but the number increased until the hillside was covered on nights and Sundays. Several pastors and evangelists visited the camp. Rev. I. W. Napier, of Henderson, brought a very helpful message. Rev. Charles Lear, of West Virginia, Rev. Humphrey, of Marion, Ky., was with us, and Rev. T. C. Howell, the resident pastor, rendered valuable assistance. God bless him. I will assist him in a revival at my first chance. Our music director was a great choir leader and soloist. Several souls were blessed and some shouted the victory. I am still of the opinion that Holy Ghost preaching will bring Holy Ghost results. I have some open dates for camps in 1932.

L. E. Williams.

ACTON CAMP MEETING.

Sunday, August 16, brought to a close a ten-days' revival at the Acton camp ground, located six miles from Campbellsville, Ky. The preaching was done by Rev. Harry S. Allen, of Dallas, Texas, this being his third consecutive year and the most successful of the three.

Brother Allen is a man of God—consecrated and Spirit-filled and all on fire for the salvation of souls. He is safe and sound in all his preaching, helps the pastor in every way and above all, sinners are saved and believers sanctified under his marvelous preaching. His sermons were an inspiration to everyone and his life a real benediction. There is no finer evangelist anywhere. The Holy Spirit was present in great power and reminded one of real camp meeting days.

We were glad to have with us Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ziegler, of Tampa, Florida. One of the most impressive services during the camp was the children's service conducted by Mrs. Zeigler on Sunday afternoon. At the close of her message quite a few found Jesus as their personal Savior.

Mr. E. C. Milby, of Greensburg, Ky., had charge of the singing and it was well done. He is the finest leader the camp ever had. His voice is beautiful, he uses it well and sings with the power and understanding. His solos were beautifully rendered and were veritable sermons in song. He has the unusual ability of getting people to sing whether they want to or not. Such talent and consecration as Mr. Milby possesses should be in constant demand. Miss Irene Yowell, of Cincinnati, presided at the piano.

Many who have been attending the camp for years said this was the best camp meeting in thirty years. People came from far and near—one man driving one hundred and forty-seven miles in order to attend this last Sunday. The tabernacle was crowded on last Sunday and there were as many on the grounds who could not get in. We doubt not that the spirit of every revival would be finer and sweeter if Bro. Allen and Mr. Milby who, with their untiring efforts labored so faithfully, could always be with us. By their coming Acton is a better place in which to live. May God richly bless them and crown their efforts with success as they go to other fields of service.

Reporter.

LANSING, MICHIGAN.

We closed the revival at Lansing, Mich., on Labor Day with fifty-three different people praying through to victory in the three services. It was a time never to be forgotten. We had souls from the first service, and possibly two hundred had bowed at the altar in previous services, and the tide kept rising, until on the afternoon of the previous day I could not bring the message; souls began to come to the altar when I got on my feet, and we made the call, and the long altar was lined, and every one prayed through. The night service was a great salvation service. Next morning the preaching was offset by a rush to the altar, and all day the good work of soul-saving went on. The Vaughan Radio Quartet had charge of the music, and such singing is unsurpassed this side the skies! They are good help in the altar work, also personal work in the audience. We never worked with a corps of workers that we were more at home with, and whose fellowship was sweeter. Lawrenceburg, Tenn., is to be congratulated with the honor of having one of the best quartets in the land. God bless them.

The meeting was sponsored by the successful pastor and people of Northside Nazarene Church, a church less than three years old, and whose membership is approximating two hundred. They are doing exploits for our God. Rev. J. C. Lamber and his good wife are the pastors. He is a splendid preacher, and both of them are great singers, and so amiable in spirit that they win their way into the hearts of the people. The First Nazarene Church and pastor, Rev. Domoni, rendered good help, and Rev. Heiton, pastor of the Pilgrim Holiness Church, stood nobly by the meeting. They are a good people, and he is an excellent pastor. The Tabernacle was seated with a thousand chairs, and had a few extra seats, but we needed fifteen hundred to take care of the crowd that came each night. The finances came easy for times of such depression, and every need was met. This was one of the best revivals of the old-time power that we have seen in years. He has the glory. Praise the Lord.

His and yours,

J. B. McBride.

Pasadena, California.

SIMPSON PARK CAMP MEETING.

This camp is located at Romeo, Michigan, about forty miles north of Detroit. The sixty-sixth annual meeting was held July 31-August 9, 1931. Its avowed purpose is the spread of Scriptural Holiness, and is evidenced by a mighty host who witness to the experience of entire sanctification. For many years the late Rev. W. G. Nixon was the president, under whose leadership the camp made remarkable progress; at his death he was succeeded by the Rev. W. B. Weaver who, for the last five years, has rendered capable and efficient service.

The preachers this year were Rev. J. L. Brasher, Rev. John F. Owen, and Rev. T. M. Anderson, all of whom preached with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven. Many of the people became conscious of definite spiritual need, and at the altar of prayer found their needs supplied.

The song leaders, Prof. and Mrs. Kenneth Wells, are too well known to need extended comment here; suffice to say, their singing brought conviction to many hearts, edified the Christians and inspired the preachers in bringing their messages. It was singing plus personality.

The Young People and Children's workers were Mr. and Mrs. Leland S. Miller, of Akron, Ohio. They were new to this camp, but not to this ministry. Their work with the children and young people was all that could be desired, and many were led into a definite Christian experience. Mrs. E. A. Starr and her efficient staff of helpers rendered splendid service at the hotel. There was a very encouraging response to the financial needs of the camp as presented by the Rev. L. M. Blakely. The attendance was very good, and eternity alone will reveal the accomplishments of the camp.

J. H. James, Secretary.

Decker, Mich.

The First 10,000 Years in Hell,

With Introduction by Rev. H. C. Morrison, is a book of five stirring sermons, "Ten Thousand Years in Hell," "The Fate of an Unfaithful Shepherd," "A Pastor's Vision of a Lost Soul," and two others. This is a book that is calculated to make one stop and think, and there never was a time when it was more needed. 25c a copy, or $2.00 per dozen. Place a dozen or more where needed.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                           |                                    |
|---------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.        | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.      |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.      | Rev. O. G. Mingledorf, D.D.        |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.        | Rev. Geo. Whitfield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.     | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.        |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.   | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.            |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D.  | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                   |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.   | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.              |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D. | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.              |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D. | Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D.  |

(Continued from page 1)

ernment and well ordered society. There was a time in the memory of this preacher when the ministers of the evangelical churches of this country did not fear to stand in their pulpits and preach faithfully to the people the Bible doctrine of future punishment, of a hell of torment awaiting the wicked and impenitent who trampled upon divine law and rejected divine mercy. There was cultivated in the minds of the people a wholesome fear of hell and it had a wholesome restraining effect upon the minds of those who were inclined to run rough-shod over the laws of God and man and devote themselves to lives of wickedness.

The teachings of our Lord Jesus are very plain on this subject. He does not hesitate to warn men that there is a place of future punishment, a lake of fire, a place of torment, of weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth. We do not understand the mental condition of those religious teachers who ignore the teaching of Christ on this subject and yet claim that he is the Son of God, the Saviour of men, a trustworthy and reliable teacher on other subjects. If Jesus cannot be trusted to speak truthfully with reference to the future punishment of the wicked, he cannot be trusted to speak truthfully with reference to the future rewards of the righteous. If Jesus spoke in ignorance or with wilful deception on the subject of the place of punishment for those who live in sin and refuse mercy then, as a matter of course, he is untrustworthy in the whole body of his teachings. This way of religious teachers dividing up the words of our Lord and claiming that on some subjects he is trustworthy and on others he is not to be trusted, is illogical, unscriptural and confusing. No man claiming to be a religious teacher has any right to discount the teachings of the Lord Jesus on any subject. We fully believe that Jesus was the Son of God, that he was the source and fountain of truth, that all he said came out of divine wisdom, unlimited and absolute knowledge of the subject on which he spoke. With reference to Hell as a place of fearful torment there is no question in our mind but that our Lord spoke the truth. He knew, he loved men; he came to seek and to save them and he uttered faithful warning to those who refused to be saved.

God has implanted in the human breast mercifully and wisely a fear of punishment. This is a part of man's intelligence and a very important part. The fear of suffering guards and restrains intelligent people from the indulgence of appetite and propensities which would destroy their health, break down their morals, and disqualify them for usefulness and happiness in the world. Parents warn their children to keep away from the fire lest they suffer the torture of burning their limbs. They warn them to keep out of deep water lest they drown. They appeal to their fears, to their love of life and happiness. It would be strange if we did not have some teaching from our Lord Jesus with reference to the final fruits of a godless life. It is in perfect harmony with these instructions from our Lord that the Apostle has written, "The wages of sin is death." This does not mean extinction, but it does mean that sin is a dagger which stabs to death all capacity for happiness and life in its fullest and most blessed realization.

There are those who will tell us that Jesus, when he spoke of a pit of torment, of a lake of fire, of weeping and wailing, was using figures of speech. Very well, suppose he was. Could Jesus possibly use figures of speech that exaggerated the facts? Impossible! If Jesus used figures of speech when he spoke of a lake of fire burning with brimstone, what must the facts be? It is unthinkable that our Lord would exaggerate or overestimate the facts. If he should do so, he would be guilty of gross deception. So let it be understood that the figures which Jesus used to convey adequate conceptions to our minds were always in harmony with the facts; they were never exaggerations.

We are hearing much said of the importance of a great revival of religion; of the wickedness and lawlessness of the rising generation; of the great need of turning back the tide of unbelief and anarchy that is spreading through the nation and around the world. If we would have a revival that is so necessary, we must warn men of the final fruits of wickedness. We must call their attention to the teachings of our Lord with reference to the future state of the impenitent who die in their sins, regardless of the criticism and objection of skeptical people. We must tell men that a fearful doom awaits those who live in wickedness and die impenitent without the benefit of a crucified and risen Saviour.

If the preachers of this nation on Sunday morning and evening would stand up in their pulpits and earnestly proclaim the teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ and the inspired apostles on the subject of the future punishment of the wicked; if, without apology and with great earnestness, they would warn men of the hell that awaits the sinful, there will no doubt be protest and objection, but men will be compelled to think, the Holy Spirit will attend the Word, impress the truth, and there will be a turning away from sin. There will be an accumulation of influences that will lead to repentance which will lead on to saving faith, and there will come back to the world a wholesome fear of Hell and a revival that will be deep and lasting and blessed. Let the ministers of the Gospel be true to the teachings of Christ and we may certainly hope to see a blessed outcome as the result of a faithful proclamation of the Word of God on this subject of the future punishment of the wicked. Our Lord has provided salvation. If men reject his mercy, and choose to live in sin, their own choosing fixes their character and their character fixes their place of abode in the eternal hereafter.

Convention.

The Methodist Holiness Convention will be held in Trinity Methodist Church, Louisville, Ky., October 28 to November 1. Rev. C. F. Overly is the much beloved pastor of this church and will give the Convention a cordial welcome. We especially request that all of the people, of any denomination, who are praying and longing to see a great revival, attend this Convention and unite their faith and prayers for the outpouring of the Holy Spirit upon the people. Remember the date, October 28 to November 1. Dr. H. C. Morrison will preach daily.

More Asburians Going to the Mission Field.

REV. AND MRS. C. F. MATTHEWS.

There is not, cannot be, any greater work than that of the consecrated missionary. Christ's last and imperative command was to carry the gospel to all nations, to preach it to every creature. From the very first, the Lord has blessed Asbury College with the missionary spirit; scores of her graduates have gone into the wide field of the world with the message of full salvation.

Rev. C. F. Matthews and his wife, two of the very fine graduates of Asbury College, are going to Brazil to carry the gracious message of full redemption from sin through the Lord Jesus Christ. They are young people of unusual culture, fine education, beautiful consecration to Christ and hearts aglow with perfect love. Nothing can satisfy them but earnest work hunting for souls for Christ in Brazil. They are going to need some financial assistance. There are those who cannot go to these needy places of earth, but they can assist those who do go. Any assistance rendered to these young people will be a safe and wise investment. I hope God will put it into the hearts of a number of persons to assist them with means to pay their expenses to the needy field upon which they have set their heart.

Address, Rev. C. F. Matthews, 441 Teece Ave., Bellevue, Pa. H. C. MORRISON.

SOUL NOURISHMENT.

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

It is one of the easiest things in the world to neglect our spiritual needs. The tangible things of life occupy our mind and we are prone to put off the time for private devotions and communion with our Master. The soul must be fed the same as the body if we would thrive in our spiritual life and development.

The above line of thought was suggested to me when I came across a splendid leaflet written by that apostle of faith, George Muller, and for the benefit of those who may be needing help along this line I am passing it on. Let us not only read this advice from this great man, but after we read, let us put into practice what he found of such benefit to him. He says:

"It has pleased the Lord to teach me a truth, the benefit of which I have not lost, for more than fourteen years. The point is this:

I saw more clearly than ever that the first great and primary business to which I ought to attend every day was, to have my soul happy in the Lord. The first thing to be concerned about was not how much I might serve the Lord, or how I might glorify the Lord; but how I might get my soul into a happy state, and how my inner man might be nourished. For I might seek to set the truth before the unconverted, I might seek to benefit believers, I might seek to relieve the distressed, I might in other ways seek to behave myself as it becomes a child of God in this world; and yet, not being happy in the Lord, and not being nourished and strengthened in my inner man day by day, all this might not be attended to in a right spirit. Before this time my practice had been, at least, for ten years previously, as an habitual thing, to give myself to prayer after having dressed myself in the morning. Now, I saw that the most important thing I had to do was to give myself to the reading of the Word of God, and to meditation on it, that thus my heart might be comforted, encouraged, warned, reprov'd, instructed; and that thus, by means of the Word of God, whilst meditating on it, my heart might be brought into experimental communion with the Lord.

"I began therefore to meditate on the New Testament from the beginning, early in the morning. The first thing I did, after having asked in a few words the Lord's blessing upon his precious Word, was to begin to meditate on the Word of God, searching as it were into every verse to get blessing out of it; not for the sake of the public ministry of the Word, not for the sake of preaching on what I had meditated upon, but for the sake of obtaining food for my own soul. The result I have found to be almost invariably this, that after a very few minutes my soul has been led to confession, or to thanksgiving, or to intercession, or to supplication; so that, though I did not, as it were, give myself to prayer, but to meditation, yet it turned almost immediately more or less into prayer. When thus I have been for a while making confession or intercession or supplication, or have given thanks, I go on to the next words or verse, turning all, as I go on, into prayer for myself or others, as the Word may lead to it, but still continually keeping before me that food for my own soul is the object of my meditation. The result of this is, that there is always a good deal of confession, thanksgiving, supplication, or intercession mingled with my meditation, and that my inner man almost invariably is even sensibly nourished and strengthened, and that by breakfast time, with rare exceptions, I am in a peaceful if not happy state of heart. Thus also the Lord is pleased to communicate unto me that which, either very soon after or at a later time, I have found to become food for other believers, though it was not for the sake of the public ministry of the Word that I gave myself to meditation, but for the profit of my own inner man.

"With this mode I have likewise combined the being out in the open air for an hour, an hour and a half, or two hours, before breakfast, walking about in the fields, and in the summer sitting for a little on the stiles, if I find it too much to walk all the time. I find it very beneficial to my health to walk thus for meditation before breakfast, and am now so in the habit of using the time for that purpose, that when I get into the open air I generally take out a New Testament of good-sized type, which I carry with me for that purpose, besides my Bible; and I find that I can profitably spend my time in the open air, which formerly was not the case for want of habit. I used to consider the time spent in walking a loss, but now I find it very profitable, not only to my body, but also to my soul. The walking out before breakfast is of course, not necessarily connected with this matter, and every one has to judge according to his strength and other circumstances.

"The difference, then, between my former practice and my present one is this: Formerly, when I rose, I began to pray as soon as possible, and generally spent all my time till breakfast in prayer, or almost all the time. At all events I almost invariably began with prayer, except when I felt my soul to be more than usually barren, in which case I read the Word of God for food, or for refreshment, or for a revival and renewal of my inner man, before I gave myself to prayer. But what was the result? I often spent a quarter of an hour, or half an hour, or even an hour, on my knees, before being conscious to myself of having derived comfort, encouragement, humbling of soul, etc.; and often, after having suffered much from wandering of mind for the first ten minutes, or a quarter of an hour, or even half an hour, I only then began really to pray. I scarcely ever suffer now in this way. For my heart being nourished by the truth, being brought into experimental fellowship with God, I speak to my Father and to my Friend (vile though I am, and unworthy of it) about the things that he has brought before me in his precious Word. It often now astonishes me that I did not sooner see this point. In no book did I ever read about it. No public ministry ever brought the matter before me. No private intercourse with a brother stirred me up to this matter. And yet now, since God has taught me this point, it is as plain to me as anything, that the first thing the child of God has to do morning by morning is, to obtain food for his inner man. As the outward man is not fit for work for any length of time except we take food, and as this is one of the first things we do in the morning, so it should be with the inner man. We should take food for that, as every one must allow.

"Now, what is the food for the inner man? Not prayer, but the Word of God; and here again, not the simple reading of the Word of God, so that it only passes through our minds, just as water runs through a pipe, but considering what we read, pondering over it, and applying it to our hearts. When we pray, we speak to God. Now, prayer, in order to be continued for any length of time in any other than a formal manner, requires, generally speaking, a measure of strength or godly desire, and the season, therefore, when this exercise of the soul can be most effectually performed is after the inner man has been nourished by meditation on the Word of God, where we find our Father speaking to us, to encourage us, to comfort us, to instruct us, to humble us, to reprove us. We may therefore profitably meditate, with God's blessing, though we are ever so weak spiritually; nay, the weaker we are, the more we need meditation for the strengthening of our inner man. Thus there is far less to be feared from wandering of mind than if we give ourselves to prayer without having had time previously for meditation. I dwell so particularly on this point because of the immense spiritual profit and refreshment I am conscious of having derived from it myself, and I affectionately and solemnly beseech all my fellow believers to ponder this matter. By the blessing of God, I ascribe to this mode the help and strength which I have had from God to pass in peace through deeper trials, in various ways, than I had ever had before; and after having now above fourteen years tried this way, I can most fully, in the fear of God, commend it. In addition to this I generally read, after family prayer, larger portions of the Word of God, when I still pursue my practice of reading regularly onward in the Holy Scriptures, sometimes in the New Testament and sometimes in the Old, and for more than twenty-six years I have proved the blessedness of it. I take, also, either then or at other parts of the day, time more especially for prayer.

"How different, when the soul is refreshed and made happy early in the morning, from what it is when, without spiritual preparation, the service, the trials, and the temptations of the day come upon one."

Sixteenth Brooklyn, N. Y., Holiness Convention,

October 30 to November 8, 1931.

For fifteen years the fall Interdenominational Holiness Convention has been growing into the thought and heart life of the people of the Metropolitan Area around New York City until the habit has been formed to think of the Brooklyn Convention as the annual "feast of fat things" where God's people gather in holy array to sing and shout and to praise the "beauty of Holiness." It is a place of refreshing. Hungry hearts yearn for this convocation where they can feed upon the "Bread of Life" sent down from Heaven.

The writer has been present when representatives from twenty-three different denominations have been counted in one service, but where, unless specifically requested, you could not tell one denomination from another: they all were of one accord; they truly were one in Christ; hence it can be truly called "inter-denominational."

A number of God's stalwart apostles will be present to feed and strengthen and encourage the people to press on to higher heights and deeper depths of the love of Christ and to persevere therein with all watchfulness until the things of time shall change to the things of eternity and the cross of Christ in this world shall be exchanged for the crown of life that fadeth not away in the world to come.

Among those whose presence and messages will encourage our souls are Rev. John Thomas and Rev. Warren C. McIntire, both of Wilmore, Ky., and Rev. A. J. Shea, formerly of Canada but now of Jersey City, N. J. God has owned all of these servants of his with fruitful ministries and has accounted them faithful.

The ten days will be filled with prayer and testimony, praiseful singing, unctuous preaching, helpful Bible-readings, young people's and missionary services.

Holiness unto the Lord is our watchword and song. Come and enjoy this "indoor camp meeting;" this "feast of ingathering at the end of the year."

The place of meeting will be the same as for several years past, the Warren Street M. E. Church, between Smith and Court Streets. This location is readily accessible from subway and surface cars.

For further information about rooms, etc., please address Mrs. C. H. Cooke, Secretary, 850 St. Marks Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y. Will THE HERALD family pray for the Holy Ghost to be in absolute control.

HOWARD M. CHANDLER.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

DOWN THE STREAM.

Perry whistled one moment and then sang the next as he hurried down to the creek. Gyp barked and ran about, for he was always happy when the little master sang and whistled.

"Gyp," Perry said, "did you ever see such a boat as this? I think that grandfather is the grandest man in the world, and he can make such wonderful things. To think of making a boat like this all with just a jack-knife."

When they reached the creek, Perry launched the boat and let out the string.

"It must be terrible, Gyp," he said, "to live where there isn't any creek to sail boats on."

After he had sailed the boat for a long time he tied it to a log and went to romping with Gyp. Then they spied a silver squirrel and went into the woods to see where he went. Perry loved the squirrels, but it made Gyp out of patience to have Mr. Squirrel sit up in a tree and chirp at him as much as to say, "Don't you wish you could catch me?"

Finally Mr. Squirrel slipped away, and Perry came back to his boat; that is, he came back to where he had left the boat, but the beautiful boat was gone.

"It must have gone down the stream," he said. "I'll go down a way and see."

So he walked down the creek until suddenly he heard a voice say, "O sister, did you ever see such a lovely boat? Somebody must feel terrible about losing it."

Then he peeked through the bushes, and there on the bank sat a little boy, and beside him lay two crutches.

"Why," Perry thought to himself, "that must be the little sick boy who has come here for his health with his sister. People say they are very poor people, so probably that is why he thinks my boat is so wonderful."

After he had watched the little sick boy for a few moments he turned away and walked slowly towards home. Of course, grandfather asked him about the boat when he reached there.

"O grandmother," he said, "I couldn't take it away from the little boy."

Then he told grandfather about the little sick boy and how happy he was over the lovely boat.

"Why," said grandfather, "of course you couldn't. I would have been very much disappointed with my little grandson if he had taken it. Tomorrow we will get to work and make another, and perhaps the next one will be still finer."

"And I'm going to ask mother if I may go down and visit the little boy," Perry said. "He must be lonesome without anyone to play with."—Sel.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes two bright-eyed little sisters from Tennessee. Our names are Juanita, age seven years, and Sue, age four years. Our daddy is the Methodist minister here, and he takes The Pentecostal Herald. Does some one say, we are too young to read The Herald? Well, yes we are, but mother reads page ten to us and we enjoy it immensely. We enjoy the letters, also the short stories. We have two kittens for pets, also two pigs and a cow we like to feed. We go to Sunday school and love our Sunday school teacher. Her name is Mrs. May Wynns. Aunt Bettie, please print our letters for we each send you lots of love and kisses too. Your little friends.

Juanita and Sue Pafford.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter to The Herald so I would like to see it in print. I am eleven years old and will be in the sixth grade. I have brown hair and eyes. I belong to the M. E. Church, South, and go to Sunday school every Sunday I can. I haven't missed a Sunday in two years. I am saved and was sanctified at Indian Springs this year. I have two sisters and one brother. My birthday is December 30.

Have I a twin? If so, please write me. Mother takes The Herald and I enjoy reading it especially page ten. Emma M. Cummings, I guess your middle name to be Mary. As I love biblical things I will ask some questions. Who was the first woman? What was the name of Cain's younger brother? To what land did Abram go, obeying God's word? Who came to visit Abraham in his tent? What was the name of Abraham's son? I will close, with love to Aunt Bettie and all the cousins.

Rosemary Smith.
711 Carlos Ave., Ashburn, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I hardly ever see a letter from the State of Maryland and wonder whether or not many people take The Herald and enjoy it as much as I do. I am a Christian and as glad to hear of the many other Christian boys and girls. I have more joy serving Jesus than ever before, for before I wasn't as interested in church as I am now. The reason is that I have been saved and sanctified. A worldly person thinks he has a good time but he doesn't know what joy or good time it is serving God. At the church I belong we have the old-time class meeting every two weeks. I do not hear of them very often but it should be in every church. It gives each member a chance to tell what Christ has done for them, and the testimonies are an inspiration to each member. I would like to correspond with any who care to.

Esther Beall.
Clarksburg, Md.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you move over and let another little girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I enjoy reading The Herald very much, especially the children's page. This is my first time to write to it. I am eighteen years old; birthday is Nov. 10. I have blond, wavy hair and brown eyes. I am five feet, one inch tall, weigh ninety pounds, so you see I am very small for my age. I like to go to school and Sunday school. I go to Sunday school every Sunday I can. I would like to hear from every boy or girl who cares to write to me, especially my age.

Ophelia Davis.
Nicholasville, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a North Carolina girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I enjoy reading The Herald. As this is my first letter I hope to see it in print. I am eleven years old and am in the seventh grade. I have dark brown hair, hazel eyes and dark complexion. My birthday was Sept. 26th. Irene Jones, I guess your name to be Bertha. Beulah Peterson, I guess to be Edith. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with M and ends with E, and has three letters in it. Love to Aunt Bettie and the cousins.

Bertha M. Ammons.
Johns, N. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you allow me a little space to ask some questions? Where is it in the Bible where it says that we can't walk in the fire without getting burned? Is it in the Bible, and where is it that God will forgive a murderer? and is it in the Bible that if a man swears he will go down? I certainly will appreciate answers and will be looking forward to them in the tenth page. Thanking you, I am

A Herald Reader.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I am a Christian, thank God! I am glad to testify that Jesus Christ can save a man from all sin. I am very proud of some of the testimonies of our boys and girls in The Herald. Am so glad that we know what being born of God and living a holy, sinless life really means! Isn't it great to launch out in the sweetness of God's love, entirely free from the lusts of the world in your heart—just living entirely from God's love and grace? Only one in this experience can know the real joy of such a life. The carnal mind can't discern it. Young folks, let's not forget to give a testimony for Jesus in our letters to The Herald. There is perhaps, nothing I enjoy more than the testimony of a young person giving their life to the cause of the cross. I will be glad to hear from any of our young folks who love Jesus; and even the ones who wish to become Christians some day. My age is seventeen years, ten months. I am considering taking up missionary work real soon, and ask the ones of you who know its worth, to pray for God's blessing and favor to be upon my labors. The work is covering the state of Virginia. I will try to answer all who write to me. Would like to hear of your Christian experience as well as future ideas in the work. I have a gospel message for all who write.

Woodrow Wilson.
Novum, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Alabama girl join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter and I hope to see it in print. I am fourteen years of age and in the fifth grade. My teacher is Miss Ethel Graves. I am four feet, ten inches tall, weigh 97 pounds, have dark brown hair and eyes, fair complexion. Will you cousins please write to a lonesome Alabama girl. We live out on a farm and I enjoy farm life. Father and mother are both living. My afflicted brother takes The Herald and I enjoy reading page ten. Ethel M. Todd wanted some one to guess her middle name. I guess it to be Mae. I wonder if that is correct? If so, please write to me. I will answer all letters received. Best wishes to all the cousins.

Iva Pannell.
Rt. 4, Box 121, Oneonta, Ala.

Dear Aunt Bettie: This is the second time I am writing to you and hope to see this letter in print. Many of the cousins have written to me but I found it almost impossible to write to them all; because during the period when I received them I had planned a short visit and could not, therefore, write to all. But listen, cousins, if you did not receive a reply to your letter you know the reason. Please write again. Mary Frances Lord, please do forgive me for not writing to you. I forgot your address. Please send it to me. I would also like to hear from "Madge" Leonard. I am trying to live for my King, Jesus, and am very happy trying to do so. Agnes Snook from Kansas, will you please write to me? I will try to answer all the letters that I receive.

Florence Wahl.
Williamson, N. Y.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I hope that you'll send Mr. W. B. a flying just for a few minutes for this is my first letter and I'd like some of the cousins to answer it, and I promise you I'll answer all of them. Do I have a twin? I was seventeen Feb. 23, 1931, and am five feet, five inches. I graduated from high school this past June and intend to start in Normal school next month. September 16, 1928, was the night that the Lord saved me and he gave me the witness of his Holy Spirit as to sanctification on August 4, 1931. The Lord is becoming more precious to me every day. This coming fall the churches of Collingswood are having a large revival campaign under the direction of Gypsy Smith and we wish your prayers. Now I wish every young person who reads this letter would write to me. Will you? My address is Ruth Bayne.

144 New Jersey Ave., Collingswood, N. J.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Have you room among your happy band of boys and girls for another cousin? If you have I would like to become a cousin. I am a reader of The Pentecostal Herald and think it is a fine paper and like it all, especially page ten. I am a North Carolina girl, sixteen years old, five feet, two or three inches tall, dark brown hair, fair complexion, with a few freckles and blue gray eyes. I am a Christian and belong to the Pilgrim Holiness Church and enjoy being a Christian and am glad that so many of the cousins are Christians. I have been in bed nine months with lung trouble but am improving and hope to be out of bed pretty soon. Would enjoy having some pen pals and if any of the cousins will write I will try to answer all the letters I receive. I have a lot of friends but would like some more. I'm glad I have a Friend that

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

sticketh closer than a brother and one you can go to any time and pour out your heart to him and he will gladly hear and comfort. Well, Aunt Bettie, I must close as my letter is getting long and I want to see my first letter in print. My birthday is February 8. Have I a twin? Lucile Lambert.
203 E. Iredell Ave., Mooresville, N. C.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As I read the letters from boys and girls everywhere felt that I would write a line. This is my first letter and I trust old Mr. W. B. is out. I am a girl of nineteen years. I have blue eyes, light hair and a fair complexion. Also a few freckles. I keep house for my father and little brother, as my dear mother has gone on to heaven. It will be a year in November. One never knows as kind and true a friend as a mother. I am a Christian and belong to the Methodist Church. Brother Bandy is our pastor. We are going to start in a revival real soon. We ask an interest in the cousins' prayers for this revival. We have been reading The Herald for a few months and think it the best paper out to take The Herald. Elizabeth Chamberlain, I guess your first name to be Violet. Am I right? I guess I had better sign off and give room to some one else.

May Belle Owen.
Star Rt., Bullitt Co., Mt. Washington, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little girl from Massachusetts join your happy band of boys and girls? I was twelve June 4. I am tall, brown eyes, brown hair, and I am going into the seventh grade. Have I a twin? If so please write and I will answer. I like our minister and his wife is my Sunday school teacher. Their name is Mr. and Mrs. Gillet. I am trying my best to be a good Christian. I joined the church and like it very much, and I hope all the other cousins do. See who can guess my middle name. It begins with F and ends with S. Seeing this is my first letter, I will close. I hope Mr. W. B. is in China digging because I would like this to be in print.

Mabel F. Pratt.
East Braintree, Mass.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes one from Middle West Texas, a girl seventy years young, a reader of The Pentecostal Herald. I enjoy reading it so much. Will you let me join your boys and girls on page ten? I want to testify through The Herald of the saving power of my blessed Saviour. My husband has been in heaven over seven years. He was a local deacon of the Methodist Church. I am living with my two daughters and their husbands are not Christians and do not attend church much. I hunger and thirst for the gospel of Christ and read my Bible and sing praises to God for the blessings of life, and the dear boys and girls who write to The Herald. I want to earnestly ask you and your boys and girls to help me pray for my two sons-in-law and a son that they will give their hearts to God. I am praying for all of you that visit and chat on page ten, and wish for you to pray for me. I hope to meet you some sweet day. I would like to get letters from as many as would like to cheer an old Christian in her declining days.

Mrs. I. W. Duncan.
Rt. 5, Box 77, Cisco, Texas.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Kentucky girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am twelve years old, have dark hair and dark complexion. My father takes The Herald. I sure do enjoy reading page ten. My grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Frank, is visiting my great-grandmother, Mrs. Nancy Jane Kimble; she will be 86 the tenth of January. I hope I will see this printed in The Herald.

Alta Rudell Kiper.
Leitchfield, Ky., Rt. 3, Box 102.

FALLEN ASLEEP

SOCKMAN.

Hubert M. Sockman was born Jan. 13, 1911; departed this life in a hospital at Mt. Vernon, Ohio, August 10, 1931, aged twenty years, six months, and twenty-eight days. His death was the result of burns received by accidentally coming in contact with a high power line while working on the state highway. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sockman, of Mt. Vernon. A twin brother, Hobart, and a brother Earl survive him. Hubert was a young man of unusual character, a consecrated Christian for years and ever ready to witness for his Lord on every occasion. He attended Asbury College last year to prepare himself for a life of Christian service and was loved by all for his fine Christian character and upright life. A classmate remarked, "Hubert was genuine." Just a few days before his death he visited in our home, and attended a prayer meeting with us. His testimony and prayer will never be forgotten by any one present. Part of his testimony was that, "every night and in the morning he looked to God and said, 'Not my will, but thine be done.'" A young man was converted at this prayer meeting and the advice he gave him was, "To make a complete surrender. This is just our place of preparation. Life is so short and eternity so long, and we cannot conceive what hell is like."

Funeral services were held August 12 at Green Valley Church, of which he had been a faithful member for years. His former classmates of Fredericktown high school, the members of his Sunday school class, several students of Asbury, together with a host of friends and relatives, were present to pay a last tribute of respect to one they loved so well.

It is one of life's mysteries why one with so bright and promising a life should be taken, but God in his wisdom knew best and makes no mistakes. How truly it can be said of him, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth, yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors, and their works do follow them."

A friend and classmate.

L. C. Harbold.

GARD.

September 8, 1931, the death angel visited in the home of our beloved brother, John R. Gard, and called him home to be with Jesus very suddenly while at his work. Brother Gard was apparently in good health and his sudden death was quite a shock to his dear wife who is left to mourn his departure, beside relatives and a host of friends, many of whom were led to know Jesus as their Saviour through his preaching.

Brother Gard was reclaimed eleven years ago in the First United Brethren Church, and seven years ago sanctified under the preaching of Bro. Arthur, in the Holiness Tabernacle at Normal, Ill. Bro. Gard was a devout, consecrated holiness preacher, never tiring in the service of our Lord, and at the time of his death was conducting a revival at Fairview, Ill.

Brother Gard was a member of the Central Illinois Holiness Association and was on the board of trustees, also second vice-president of the Association. He was a subscriber to The Pentecostal Herald. Bro. Gard will be greatly missed as he was always active in any movement for the cause of our Lord in the battle against sin.

The funeral was held at 2:30, Sept. 10, at the Holiness Tabernacle. Rev. Della B. Stretch, President of the Association, officiated. Rev. Varney Jacobs, of Fremont, Ill., read the scripture lesson from 2 Tim. 4:7, and John Bare prayed. Bert Crites sang, "Christ is all," and the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Will Parker and Ruth Carlson sang a trio, "Jesus' blood can make the vilest sinner clean," two of Bro. Gard's favorite hymns.

Mrs. J. Instone.

STRONGER THAN EVER.

We read some of the drys are getting faint-hearted. What's the matter with you drys? The wets are not going to win unless you lay down your arms and faint away. If the drys made as much noise as the wets, this old earth would quake. Come out of your lethargy, use your brains.

Dr. Chas. Mayo says, "You can get along with a wooden leg, but you can't get along with a wooden head." Prohibition is stronger today than ever. Get off the fence and shout victory as you go.

Here's a call for volunteers,

Don't you hear the noise of battle?

Do not sit and nurse your fears,

Deal the medicine that baffles.

The old army of dry workers,

Who has nobly fought for freedom,

Has no room for idle shirkers,

But for men of good sound reason.

Our country's need is for sober men

Who will put their shoulder to the wheel,

Screw the lid down tighter,

Give never a chance for repeal.

F. J. Pinney.

GOD STILL ANSWERS PRAYER.

I want to tell the readers of your good paper how wonderfully the dear Lord has healed me again. I say again, for he has healed me repeatedly in the years that I have been his child. Praise him forever. For several years I have had appendicitis; about a year ago the attacks became more frequent, and each attack more severe, and my husband became very much alarmed. He was not willing for us to trust the Lord entirely for my healing, but would call the best physician he could get as quickly as he could each time. In April of this year I had a very severe attack. My husband called Dr. O. O. Enzor, of The Enzor Brothers' Hospital, who is noted for his many successful appendicitis operations. He came, and after a thorough examination he pronounced it acute appendicitis. Dr. Enzor then called Dr. Underwood, of Andalusia, Ala., in consultation. He came and after a thorough examination pronounced it acute. I believed they were all trying to do their best for me, and I felt that my condition was serious, but I did not believe God wanted me to have the operation. My husband was almost frantic. My niece was with us, and they were both rapidly getting me ready to go to the hospital. Both of the doctors had told us I could not take ether or chloroform because of the weak condition of my heart, but that I could have a spinal anesthetic. They did not give me medicine in any form, did not want me to have water, even, and insisted that they get me to the hospital at once. I felt that the Lord alone could help me, so I told them we would get ready to go to the hospital, but while we were getting ready we would ask the Lord, if it was not his will for me to have the operation to please remove the pain entirely by the time we were ready to go. Some of our friends came into our home and prayed with us, and our God heard and answered, and before we were ready to go, the pain was removed entirely. I arose from my bed and walked across the room into another room where my husband had gone, and told him the pain was entirely gone. For an instant he could not believe it, but soon he knew it was true. Praise the Lord from whom all blessings flow. I have not had another appendicitis pain. More and more I have cause to praise and adore our God, the giver of all good and perfect gifts. Praise him, and he shall be praised. I am a firm believer of the entire Bible as the

PENTECOSTAL HERALD UNTIL FEBRUARY, 1932, ONLY 25c.

---

DO ONE OF THESE FOUR THINGS.

Send us $1.00 and we will send The Herald to four people until next February.

Send us $2.00 and we will send The Herald to eight people until next February.

Send us $5.00 and we will send The Herald to twenty people until next February.

Send us any amount and we will send The Herald to as many people until next February as the amount will cover at 25c each.

---

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

infallible word of God, and I know that he will supply all our needs if we keep his commandments. Let us who are his children praise and adore him forever. Your sister in him,

Mrs. W. R. White.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

Pray for a poor girl and her husband to be saved, and that they may not separate. Pray for a brother who is unsaved, and for two unfortunate girls who have been deceived.

Please to pray for a sick sister who has been in an accident and is in the hospital with two cracked bones, and is in a very nervous condition.

A brother asks that prayer be made for a revival in his church; that three boys may be kept true to God, and be able to go to school, if it be God's will; and that he may be filled with the Holy Spirit, may get out of debt, and be divinely guided in his future plans.

Mrs. O. B. S.: "Please to pray that I may be restored to health, and that my husband and two children may live closer to the Lord."

Mrs. R. A.: "Pray that my husband may be saved from drink and shew him his wrong doing, and that he may be saved."

Pray for a young man whose nerves seem to be giving way, and that he may be reclaimed from a backslidden condition. Pray for a mother who wants to get closer to God. Pray for a woman in the hospital that she may recover.

A Mother: "Please to pray for a brother who is in sin drinking and gambling; also pray for my children that they may become true Christians."

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, - - KENTUCKY.

The History of the Christian Church

FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO
A. D. 461.

By

Prof. F. J. Foakes-Jackson, D.D.

The Jews' return to Jerusalem from their Babylonian Captivity (B.C. 535) is the point at which Prof. Foakes-Jackson begins this delightfully interesting history of the Christian Church. Ideas hospitable to Christianity were current centuries before the coming of Christ. Greece and Rome both contributed to the preparation of the way for the Gospel—the one by philosophy and the other by the establishment of law and order.

The author pictures the rise of the family of Herod on the ruins of the Asmonean Dynasty, the rebuilding of the Temple, and then tells in his singularly enchanting way of the Church of the Apostles, the Christian Church and the Roman Government, Christian Thought in the Early Centuries, Organization of the Church. He gives a vivid sketch of the social life of the Church at this early period, with descriptions of the churches of Rome, Carthage, and Alexandria.

The entire book is scholarly, informative, absorbingly interesting and written in a captivating style. It sets forth the results of modern investigation in the field of ecclesiastical history and literature. It is not to be surpassed as a text and reference book of the early Christian Church and deserves a place in every minister's library. 672 pages. Original price, $3. Our special price $1.00. PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Kentucky.

Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. James 4:8.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson IV.—October 25, 1931.

Subject.—Paul in Corinth. Acts 18:1-11.

Golden Text.—Now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity. 1 Cor. 13:13. (The word Charity in this text means love in its best type).

Time.—About A. D. 52 to 53. The first Corinthian Epistle was written about A. D. 55 or 56.

Place.—Corinth. The first epistle was written in Ephesus.

Introduction.—Paul's ministry in Athens was almost a total failure. He seems to have met a hard class of hearers among the learned philosophers of that city. They had a curious interest in him, and had him speak to them on Mar's Hill; but very few of them yielded to the truth. However, there were some converts, as we read in the last verse of Acts 15: "Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them." If a church was organized, we have no record of it. Paul remained in Athens less than a month, and then departed for Corinth. The philosophical darkness and hardness of the men of the city must have discouraged him. There were too much vanity and worldly wisdom there for the gospel to reach the hearts of the people; Athens being at that time the center of Greek culture.

Corinth, the city in which Paul made his next venture, was utterly different from Athens. Its population was cosmopolitan; Greeks, of course, predominating in numbers; although Greece was under Roman rule. It was situated on the isthmus that joins the northern and southern portions of Greece, and some fifty miles almost directly west of Athens. In Paul's day it was the political capital of the nation. Its very location made the city rich. It was a great seaport town; and being on the isthmus, all land trade passing north and south went through it. It boasted some four hundred thousand population, all heathen, except the large group of Jews who had gone there for business. Idolatry was rife; and the people were sunk in the lowest vices; even their religion was run in the name of vice. Paul's problem was hopeless from a human view; but from the other side, it was "as bright as the promises of God."

Comments on the Lesson.

1. After these things.—The reference is to the preceding chapter, the things that had happened in Athens while Paul was preaching there. Departed from Athens.—The people of Athens did not so recognize it: but that was, perhaps, the saddest day that city has ever known. Nothing produces such black, hopeless night as rejecting divine light.

2. A certain Jew named Aquila.—Aquila is a Roman name meaning an eagle. Some of the Jews living under Roman rule took Roman names instead of using their Hebrew names. The apostle Paul is first known as Saul, which name is Hebrew; but when he went on his first missionary journey, he took the Roman name Paul. No reason is given for this; but it may have helped them in dealing with the Roman people. Your map will show you Pontus, Aquila's native land, bordering on the Black Sea in the northeast corner of Asia Minor. It was a Roman province. Lately come from Italy.—The Jews had raised some sort of a disturbance in the city of Rome, for which cause Claudius, the Emperor, had driven them from the city without mercy.

3. Of the same craft.....tent-makers.—Every Jew was expected to master a remunerative manual trade. That was a good thing for the nation; and it would be worth while for any people nowadays. Every one should know how to handle useful tools. It creates self-respect, and respect for others. Teach your boy to do something useful. Paul was one of the greatest of preachers; but he was not ashamed to make tents for his bread. Every preacher should run a vegetable garden and keep the parsonage grounds in good condition. Such exercise would help his preaching, and make his wife happy.

4. Reasoned in the synagogue every Sabbath.—Paul's preaching was not frothy ranting. He dealt in facts and logic, and "mightily convinced the Jews." The Greeks also heard him gladly. These latter must have been proselytes to Judaism; otherwise they would not have been worshipping with the Jews in their synagogue. Such preaching as Paul did establishes converts so that they do not give much trouble in backsliding. It gives them a foundation.

5. When Silas and Timothy were come from Macedonia.—After Paul and his two companions left that city, he became somewhat uneasy about the spiritual standing of the church they had established there, and sent Silas and Timothy back to investigate and to strengthen the faith of the new converts. He was greatly rejoiced when they brought a good report. Paul was pressed in the spirit.—Greatly weighed down by the sense of his responsibility in preaching the gospel to his fellow-Jews. They were slow to heed the message; and he was deeply grieved for them, as every sincere preacher is when people reject his messages of truth.

6. When they opposed themselves, and blasphemed.—If I am not seriously mistaken, men are in much greater danger than they are wont to suppose. The dead line is not so far ahead as they think. I am convinced that there are many thousands in America who have heard from the Divine Spirit for the last time. Men seem to think that they can repent and turn to God at any time; but that is untrue, for no man can come to Jesus Christ except the Father draw him through the Holy Ghost. Multitudes have so insulted the Spirit that he has taken his everlasting leave of them. Your blood be upon your own heads.—One's everlasting destiny is in his own hands: God will never take the responsibility of saying where any one, save infants and idiots, shall spend eternity. Henceforth I shall go unto the Gentiles.—Thus ends the spiritual times of the Jews; thus begins the spiritual times of the Gentiles—a day of awful sadness for the former, but of infinite gladness for the latter. Amen!

7. Justus, one that worshipped God.—This man was a Gentile; but he must have been a devout Jewish proselyte. Whose house joined hard by the synagogue.—It was near the synagogue, and so was convenient for any devout Jews who might wish to hear Paul preach. Justus must have been converted to Christ before Paul began to preach in his house. The Gentiles, too, would feel free to enter the home of Justus.

8. Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed.—That must have stirred the wrath of every prominent Jew in Corinth. I am informed that not long ago a very prominent young atheist in the city of Washington was converted, and that some days later a number of his former atheistical companions caught him and beat him severely for deserting them. Satan inspires his wicked children to do his hellish will. Crispus being so prominent among his people, no doubt the influence of his conversion, after men had time to think, may have led to the conversion of many others among his Jewish brethren. The latter part of the verse is not clear. We are unable to say whether the Corinthians who believed were influenced by hearing Paul preach, or by hearing of the conversion of Crispus. The Spirit may have used both as a means of saving the people. Were baptized.—Not to save them, but because they were already saved by faith in Jesus Christ.

9. Then spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision.—We are not told whether Paul was awake or asleep when he saw this vision; but that does not matter. The important thing was that he got God's message, and that he understood. Be not afraid.—No one is prepared to preach Christ's gospel until he has been delivered from the fear of men. Rich worldly sinners will endeavor to control the preacher. If possible, they will tell him how to preach to suit them; and they will even threaten to cut his pay, in order to bring him down to their standard; but the true minister of the sanctuary speaks out boldly, and declares the whole counsel of God. No other sort of man is fit for the pulpit. It takes courage to preach the gospel.

10. I am with thee.—Thank God, a faithful preacher can always count on the Divine Presence. "Lo, I am with you, even unto the end of the world." God's promise to Paul that no one should hurt him was good. We need fear no man while we walk with the Lord. If we die in the Master's work, heaven is always in sight—not far away. I have much people in this city.—Prospective. God foresaw many who would believe unto salvation in the city, and did not hesitate to claim them as his own people.

11. A year and six months.—A short stay for a great work. Paul's missionary plans were quite different from most of ours. I have sometimes wondered if some of us do not sit down too long in the same place fishing in the same hole with the same bait. To use plain words, we might do better work for our Lord, if we went into new fields and preached the gospel to some who sit in darkness. Too much light may blind the eyes. People may hear and reject the truth till it can no longer impress them. Paul moved on, and left the work in God's hands.

HOME MISSIONARY CAMPAIGN.

Would you kindly announce through the columns of The Pentecostal Herald a District Home Missionary Campaign to be held in the Church of the Nazarene at Pine and Tweeley Streets, Morristown, Pa., from October 11-25. The Vaughan Radio Quartette, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., and Rev. John Fleming, of Ashland, Ky., have been engaged as workers. In conjunction with this campaign there will be held, from Oct. 13-16, morning and afternoon sessions, a District Joint Convention, in the interests of preachers, missions, Sunday school and young people. The convention workers are Dr. John W. Goodwin, Gen. Supt., Rev. H. V. Miller, Dist. Supt. of the New York District, and Rev. D. E. Higgs, Dist. Supt. of the Washington-Philadelphia District.

Rev. Ernest E. Grosse,
Pastor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Bessie B. Larkin: "We have just closed our meeting of two weeks at Point Pleasant, N. J. It was a very difficult field and at first did not look very promising, but after much prayer and faith, God came in gracious power, giving us a wonderful victory. The altar was crowded with seeking hearts; a large number of high school boys and girls were sweetly saved."

Rev. L. E. Williams, Wilmore, Ky., has traveled extensively the past ten years holding revival meetings. He has some open dates; will go anywhere for freewill offering and expenses. Brother Williams preaches the old-time gospel, and witnesses gracious works of grace under his ministry.

C. L. Wireman: "Since my last report to your good paper, I have labored in the following meetings: Ferguson Methodist Church, South, Somerset M. E. Mission, Corbin, Ky., camp meeting, Brooks, Ky., M. E. Church, South, Aliceton, Ky., camp meeting. The Lord has blessed our humble efforts with salvation work in goodly numbers in most of them. After two years spent in the pastorate, I am now ready to go anywhere there is an open door to conduct revivals. My address is 304 S. Main St., Somerset, Ky."

Sam Maxwell: "We have had a gracious time during the past year in revival work. All of our vacation was given to this work and we enjoyed it very much as the people were hungry and responsive. Nine hundred and thirty-six were definitely saved or sanctified. We enjoy teaching nine months each year but are happy to give our vacation time to evangelistic campaigns."

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

METHODISTS END 86TH MEETING.

Eighty-four Pastors Assigned to New Charges at Columbia.

Columbia, Ky., Oct. 4.—Eighty-four churches in the western half of Kentucky will have new pastors, as a result of assignments announced today by Bishop W. F. McMurry, at the close of the eighty-sixth annual session of the Louisville Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. Seventy-seven pastors will remain at their old charges.

Three new presiding elders were selected. The Rev. J. L. Piercy, pastor of the Marcus Lindsey Memorial Church, Louisville, becomes presiding elder of the Columbia district, succeeding the Rev. J. R. McAfee, who is transferred to the Third Street Church, Owensboro.

The Rev. C. C. Jones, new presiding elder of the Elizabethtown district, leaves the Highland Park Church, Louisville. He succeeds the Rev. A. D. Litchfield, who goes to the Highland Park Church.

The Rev. Bedford Turner, presiding elder for the Owensboro district, succeeds the Rev. Leonidas Robinson, who replaces the Rev. Mr. Turner as pastor of the church at Lebanon.

The Rev. Eugene B. Hawks, transferred to the Louisville Conference from the Central Texas Conference, will become pastor of the Fourth Avenue Church, Louisville, succeeding the Rev. J. W. Johnson, who goes to the First Church at Fort Worth.

Conference sessions, which began Tuesday, were held in the gymnasium of Lindsey-Wilson Junior College. Next year's meeting will be held at Owensboro.

In his concluding address today, Bishop McMurry emphasized the necessity for achieving success in the $660,000 campaign for Methodist educational institutions.

The pastoral assignments follow:
Bowling Green District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. J. W. Weldon; Adairville, the Rev. D. L. Vance; Auburn, the Rev. H. S. Gillette; Bowling Green, State Street, the Rev. Baxter W. Napier; Bowling Green, Broadway, the Rev. W. F. Huddleston; Bowling Green Circuit, the Rev. C. P. Walton; Canmer and Hardyville, the Rev. B. M. DeWitt; Chapel Hill, the Rev. W. L. Lee, supply; Epley, the Rev. C. B. Ray, supply; Franklin, the Rev. K. L. Rudolph; Franklin Circuit, the Rev. H. H. Ogles; Glasgow Station, the Rev. T. L. Hulse; Hiseville, the Rev. L. O. Sullivan; Horse Cave, the Rev. D. M. Spears; Kyrock, the Rev. F. W. Cox; Morgantown Circuit, the Rev. C. G. Oliver, supply; Rocky Hill, the Rev. W. W. Ashby, supply; Russellville Station, the Rev. W. I. Munday; Russellville Circuit, the Rev. W. S. Buckner; Scottsville, the Rev. H. C. Ogles; Scottsville Circuit, the Rev. J. A. Johnson; Smith's Grove, the Rev. R. H. Garrison; Woodburn, the Rev. J. A. Poe.

Columbia District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. J. L. Piercy; Albany, the Rev. H. L. Fudge; Bear Creek, the Rev. Howard O'Bannon, supply; Burkesville, the Rev. C. E. Perkins; Campbellsburg Circuit, the Rev. A. N. Yancey; Campbellsburg, the Rev. A. H. Gregory; Casey Creek, the Rev. Roy Crenshaw, supply; Clinton, the Rev. Leonard Shipp, supply; Columbia Circuit, the Rev. V. V. Capps; Columbia Station, the Rev. O. T. Nichols; Elkhorn, the Rev. F. B. Hulse; Glasgow Circuit, the Rev. T. C. Howell; Gradyville, the Rev. C. S. Raney; Greensburg, the Rev. J. M. Perryman; Jamestown, the Rev. J. P. Booher; Mannsville, the Rev. J. W. Moore; Mill Springs, the Rev. Verner Blair; Monticello, the Rev. J. W. Reyburn; Peytonsburg, the Rev. R. O. Glidewell, supply; Pickett's, the Rev. Aaron Farmer, supply; Pierce, the Rev. W. C. Sims; Renox, the Rev. L. C. Risen, supply; Russell Springs, the Rev. W. H. Russell; Summersville, the Rev. Claude Squires, supply; Tompkinsville, the Rev. P. P. Napier; West Monticello, the Rev. Mintford Hicks, supply; general evangelist, the Rev. W. E. Thomas.

Elizabethtown District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. C. C. Jones; Bardstown, the Rev. J. B. Adams; Big Clifty, the Rev. J. C. Hoskinson; Big Spring, the Rev. J. L. Mitchell, supply; Bradfordsville, the Rev. E. L. Hillburn; Brandenburg, the Rev. M. D. Allen; Buffalo, the Rev. W. T. Miller; Cecilia, the Rev. C. D. Wilson; Custer, the Rev. A. H. Alexander, supply; Elizabethtown, the Rev. A. P. Lyon; Falls of Rough, the Rev. F. E. Lewis; Hardinsburg, the Rev. E. P. Deacon; Hodgenville, the Rev. W. L. Baker; Irvington, the Rev. W. P. Gordon; Lebanon, the Rev. Leonidas Robinson; Lebanon Circuit, the Rev. J. W. Hamilton; Lebanon Junction, the Rev. K. K. Anderson; Leitchfield, the Rev. L. F. Piercy; McDaniels, the Rev. Mack Harper, supply; Mt. Washington, the Rev. B. F. Atkinson; New Stithton, the Rev. Mose Carter, supply; Shepherdsville, the Rev. H. E. Jarbo; Shepherdsville Circuit, the Rev. J. S. Vanada; Springfield, the Rev. Elmer Ashby; Upton and Sonora, the Rev. S. J. Henninger; Vine Grove, the Rev. T. B. Bandy; Wolf Creek, the Rev. Earl Sipes, supply.

Henderson District.

Presiding Elder, the Rev. Summers Brinson; Carrsville Circuit, the Rev. E. L. Willingham; Clay Circuit, the Rev. L. I. Chandler; Corydon Circuit, the Rev. L. W. Turner; Earlington, the Rev. K. R. Dillon; Hanson Circuit, the Rev. Iven Allen; Henderson, Bennett Memorial, the Rev. I. W. Napier; Henderson, First Church, the Rev. W. C. Frank; Madisonville, the Rev. A. C. Johnson; Marion, the Rev. C. A. Humphrey; Marion Circuit, the Rev. B. H. Spurrier; Morganfield, the Rev. W. O. Sadler; Morganfield Circuit, the Rev. I. P. Crenshaw; Providence and Dixon, the Rev. J. R. Gunn; Robards Circuit, the Rev. A. C. Bowles; Salem Circuit, the Rev. J. W. Caughron; Seebree Circuit, the Rev. J. E. Hartford; Slaughters Circuit, the Rev. Roy H. McDowell; Smith Mills, the Rev. L. F. Southern; Sturgis, the Rev. W. S. Bolles; Tolu Circuit, the Rev. E. M. Wilcox.

Hopkinsville District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. J. H. Nicholson; Allensville Circuit, the Rev. W. D. Milliken; Cadiz Station, the Rev. L. M. Keelor; Cadiz Circuit, the Rev. J. A. Wheeler, supply; Crofton Circuit, the Rev. E. C. Cole; Dawson Springs, the Rev. L. E. Woodcock, supply; Eddyville Circuit, the Rev. R. L. Sleamaker; Elkton Circuit, the Rev. V. P. Henry; North Elkton Circuit, the Rev. O. T. Neathery; Grand Rivers Circuit, the Rev. J. C. Hayden; Guthrie, the Rev. Clyde D. Owen; Hopkinsville Station, the Rev. Paul S. Powell; Hopkinsville Circuit, the Rev. M. L. Dyer; Kuttawa Circuit, the Rev. C. F. Allen; Lafayette Circuit, the Rev. O. T. Lee; Linton Circuit, the Rev. George S. Woods; North Cadiz Circuit, the Rev. H. W. Hardin; Pem-

MY LIFE'S STORY

NEW EDITION—JUST ISSUED.
The Autobiography of Bud Robinson

This is the book for which thousands have been waiting. It is years since "Uncle Buddy" has written a book dealing with his life and experiences. Now we have this volume, his autobiography, giving an intimate recital of his experiences from early childhood to the present time. Pathos, humor, optimism, scathing rebuke, with an amazing memory of detail unite to give this volume the peculiar charm that characterizes all of Bud Robinson's writings. Just as there is only one Bud Robinson so this is the only volume giving the complete story of his life up to the present.

217 pages; full page portrait of author; attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.00.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

broke, the Rev. T. J. Wade; Princeton, the Rev. J. R. Noland; Sardis Junction, the Rev. F. S. Yancey; Smithland Circuit, the Rev. J. R. Randolph; Trenton Circuit, the Rev. A. L. Schanzenbacher; White Plains Circuit, the Rev. R. V. Matthews.

Louisville District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. A. R. Kasey; Asbury, the Rev. John W. Lewis; Beechmont, the Rev. R. H. Wade; Bethany, the Rev. C. E. Carter; Broadway, the Rev. J. G. Akin; Calvary, the Rev. J. H. Cox; Crescent Hill, the Rev. B. G. Hodge; Davidson Memorial, the Rev. R. W. Raaf; Fourth Avenue, the Rev. Eugene B. Hawk; Hazelwood, the Rev. Owen Hoskinson; Highland, the Rev. L. K. May; Highland Park, the Rev. A. D. Litchfield; Jefferson Street, the Rev. P. L. King; Jeffersonstown, the Rev. T. T. Frazier; Marcus Lindsey, the Rev. R. L. Tally; Middletown, the Rev. E. F. Goodson; Millcreek and Coopers, the Rev. H. M. Johnson; Morton Memorial, the Rev. W. E. Cassell; Oakdale, the Rev. D. R. Peak; Portland, the Rev. S. A. Arnold; St. Luke, the Rev. V. B. D. Wheatley; St. Paul, the Rev. J. C. Rawlings; Shelby Park, the Rev. E. C. Lampton; Union, the Rev. G. P. Dillon; Virginia Avenue, the Rev. W. A. Grant; West Broadway, the Rev. G. W. Hummel; missionary to Japan, the Rev. S. E. Hager; director of recreation department, Board of Christian Education, the Rev. E. O. Harbin; conference director, Golden Cross, the Rev. W. A. Grant; executive secretary Board of Christian Education, the Rev. H. R. Short; director Superannuate Endowment, the Rev. J. G. Akin; transferred, the Rev. J. W. Johnson, Fourth Avenue, Louisville, to First Church, Fort Worth, Texas; received by transfer, the Rev. Eugene B. Hawk, from Central Texas Conference.

Owensboro District.

Presiding elder, the Rev. Bedford Turner; Beaver Dam, the Rev. F. A. Sanders; Beech Grove, the Rev. Harry Pullen, supply; Calhoun, the Rev. C. K. Dickey; Centertown, to be supplied; Central City, the Rev. B. M. Currie; Cloverport, the Rev. W. C. Christy; Drakesboro and Lewisburg, the Rev. F. J. Saunders; Dundee, the Rev. D. T. Pennick; Fordsville, the Rev. S. Whitaker, supply; Greenville, the Rev. Roy

H. Short; Greenville Circuit, the Rev. J. A. Vire; Hartford, the Rev. H. M. Jones; Hawesville, the Rev. E. S. Moore; Lewisport, the Rev. J. P. Vanhoy; Livermore, the Rev. W. E. Sunderland; Maceo, the Rev. S. J. B. True; Owensboro, Breckinridge Street, the Rev. H. C. Napier; Owensboro, Settle Memorial, the Rev. D. C. Bryan; Owensboro, Third Street, the Rev. J. R. McAfee; Owensboro, Woodlawn, the Rev. W. H. Hickerson; Owensboro Circuit, the Rev. R. P. Basler; Rochester, the Rev. R. H. Bow, supply; Sacramento, the Rev. J. R. Marrs, and Stevensport, the Rev. Charles Hall.

NOTICE!

We have 100A farm situated ten miles east of Delaware, O. One of the best farms in this section, black soil, well tiled and under the best conditions, good house and other buildings; we want to rent on shares, or cash, as the Lord may direct, to some Christian man who is willing to work, and at the same time have the house open to prayer meetings and willing to help in religious meetings in the neighborhood. We might rent house and a few acres for truck and poultry raising. If you feel you are called write to Thos. I. Heinlen.

Rt. 2, Delaware, Ohio.

Paul's Superlative! And Other Sermons, by M. P. Hunt, D. D., pastor 18th St. Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky. 164 pp. Pentecostal Pub. Co., Louisville, Ky. $1.00.

The author is described by Dr. W. O. Carver, one of the leading Southern preachers, as "an outstanding power in civic righteousness, human relief and evangelistic enthusiasm and success." Dr. Hunt has been forty-nine years in the ministry. He is an expounder of "the old, old Gospel." These eleven sermons of his are evangelistic in spirit, and deal with questions of practical Christian living. Evidently, he knows how to reach and win the plain people. Doubtless, these sermons "turned many to righteousness." Some of his striking topics are: The Hell of the Bible (which he describes as including "vengeance, fire, separation from God and a destruction that is eternal"); Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? (a powerful sermon, answering the question in the negative); and, Is there any harm in dancing? (a strong presentation of the case against dancing).—The Expositor.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ASBURY FOREIGN MISSIONARY TEAM
Kirkpatrick, Crease, Erny.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13-18.

BENNARD, GEO.
Houghton, N. Y., Oct. 25-Nov. 4.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.
(Muncy, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Waco, Tex., Nov. 4-18.

CALLIS, O. H.
(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Newport, Ky., Oct. 4-18.
Warsaw, Ky., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otega, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison St., Wilmore, Ky.)
Groveport, Ohio, Oct. 11-25.
Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 28-Nov. 15.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Paoli, Colo., Nov. 8-22.

CRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET.
(815 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Portland, Mich., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

CAREY, A. B.
Augusta, Maine, Oct. 13-25.
Bath, Maine, Oct. 27-Nov. 8.

DICKINSON, H. N.
(2808 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Marcus Hook, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8-22.

EDWARDS, J. R.
(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 12-25.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.
Blackwell, Okla., Nov. 17-29.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.
Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 15-29.
Stockton, Calif., Nov. 30-Dec. 13.
Oneonta, N. Y., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
Camden, N. J., Oct. 11-25.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3, 4.
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.

FRYE, H. A.
(1526 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.
Pierson, Mich., Nov. 8-29.

FUGETT, C. B.
Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 4-18.
Hornia, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Ada, Okla., Nov. 9-22.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4505 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Decatur, Ill., Oct. 4-18.
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.
Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 3-6.
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.

GREGORY, LOIS V.
Salamanca, N. Y., Oct. 5-18.
Pails Creek, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

GOODMAN, M. L.
(Burns, Mich.)
Pine Grove, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 13-Jan. 2, reserved.
Merrill, Mich., Feb. 27-March 13.
Stroudsburg, Pa., March 20-April 3.
Ellsworth, Mich., May 1-14.

HAINES, FLOSSIE
(13708 Claiborne Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.)
Open for dates.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Greensboro, Ga., Oct. 8-18.
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 23-Nov. 8.
Landleman, N. C., Nov. 15-29.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-30.
Dover, N. J., Nov. 1-3.

HOOVER, L. S.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.

IRICK, ALLIE AND EMMA.
(Bethany, Okla.)
Oklahoma City, Okla., Oct. 4-18.

JOHNSON, H. C.
(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13-25.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Sheffield, Mass.)
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Connersville, Ind., Nov. 2-16.

JONES, LUM.
Anthony, Kan., Oct. 4-18.
Iola, Kan., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8-22.

KINSEY, MR. AND MRS. W. C.
(450 South West 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.)
Chicago, Ill., Sept. 27-Oct. 18.
Union, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Mahany City, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
Dand Gap, Pa., Oct. 4-18.
9 3rd St., N. W., Oct. 22-29.
8 3rd St., N. W., Oct. 22-29.

LINN, C. H. JACK
(Oregon, Wis.)
Rock Grove, Ill., Oct. 4-18.
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

LINCICOME, F.
Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Troy, Ohio, Nov. 1-15.
Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16-20.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(432 St. Elm St., Casper, Wyo.)
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12-25.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1-15.

LUDWIG, THEO. AND MINNIE E.
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8-25.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29-Nov. 15.
McPherson, Kan., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

MERRIDE, J. B.
(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-25.
Las Ammas, Colo., Nov. 1-22.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 East 13th Ave., Columbus, Ohio.)
University Park, Ia., Oct. 16-26.
Boaz, Ala., Oct. 28-Nov. 1.
Lanham, Maryland, Nov. 8-22.

PARKER, J. R.
Cherryville, N. C., Oct. 5-18.

REED, LAWRENCE
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Sharon, Pa., Oct. 1-18.
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

REID, JAMES V.
(2912 Meadowbrook Drive, Ft. Worth, Tex.)
Abbeville, La., Oct. 4-18.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Independence, Kan., Oct. 5-18.
Sweetwater, Tex., Oct. 21-25.
Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 1-15.

RUTH, C. W.
(1290 Dominion Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Lexington, Ky., Oct. 4-18.
Eaton Rapids, Mich., Oct. 20-25.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29-Nov. 8.
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12-22.
Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 24-29.

SMITH, W. EDMUND.
(Wolcott, Vermont)
Moore's Forks, Oct. 18-Nov. 8.

SPARKS, BURL
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

THOMAS, JOHN
(Wilmore, Kentucky.)
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 11-25.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30-Nov. 8.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15-29.
Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2-13.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 4-25.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.
Reserved, Nov. 9-17.
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

WOODWARD, GEORGE P.
(Artist-Evangelist, 120 W. Barnard, West Chester, Pa.)
Smyrna, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Harrington, Del., Nov. 2-15.
Athens, Ohio, Nov. 16-29.
Logan, Ohio, Dec. 5-27.

Preparing to Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe; by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                        |         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ.                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages.                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages.                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages.                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages.                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages.                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages.                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages.                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages.                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages.                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages. | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding.                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages.                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding.                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St. Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages.                                                                                             | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages.                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages.                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages.                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages.                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total.                                                                                                                                                                     | $18.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Signed .....

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only 5½x8½x1 in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face bourgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size 5½x8½ inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size 5½x8½x1¼ in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at $7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is 5½x8½. The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 3½x5½x1 inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c
One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index. An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size 4½x6½ in. Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size 5½x7½, bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00
47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only 3¼x5¼x1 in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size 4¾x6¾, only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size 4½x6½. Regular net price $3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is 6x7½x1 in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is 4¾x6¾x1 in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size 5x7x1 in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price $5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size 2½x4½. We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                              |        |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison . . .                           | $0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper . . .                         | .15    |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith . . .                           | .25    |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson . . .                     | .10    |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison . . .                  | .10    |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson . . .                              | .10    |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames . . .                                | .25    |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards . . . | .20    |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson . . .          | .10    |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison . . .     | .15    |
| Mothers, Gamble . . .                                        | .25    |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin . . .                                | .20    |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest, Huff . . .                 | .20    |

Biography

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Ruth or How She Feli, Taylor . . .            | .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson . . .                        | .10 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life . . .      | .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout . . . | .10 |

For Children

|                                               |     |
|-----------------------------------------------|-----|
| Just For Children, Culpepper . . .            | .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow . . .                | .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor . . . | .10 |

Evolution

|                                                             |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett . . .                          | .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke . . .     | .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan . . .               | .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock . . . | .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan . . .                            | .15 |

Hell

|                                                       |     |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell . . .                  | .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor . . . | .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor . . .          | .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor . . .           | .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt . . .                     | .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly . . .               | .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff . . .                  | .10 |

The Dance

|                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner . . .              | .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt . . .                | .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly . . .                     | .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper . . .                     | .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn . . .                | .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones . . .                      | .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle . . .                        | .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith . . . | .10 |

Holiness

|                                                               |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins . . . | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul . . .                          | .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff . . .                            | .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth . . .                          | .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle . . .                                | .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller . . .         | .25 |

|                                                                       |     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Fletcher on Perfection . . .                                          | .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt . . .                           | .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer . . .                                  | .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff . . .                     | .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward . . .                                            | .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor . . .                                         | .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor . . .                               | .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson . . .                               | .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul . . .             | .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley . . .            | .15 |
| Power, Wimberly . . .                                                 | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett . . .                                   | .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley . . .                         | .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke . . .                              | .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm . . .                                          | .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames . . .                           | .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul . . . | .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison . . .                           | .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett . . .                                   | .15 |

Sin

|                                |     |
|--------------------------------|-----|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul . . . | .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper . . .           | .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                              |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow . . .                   | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout . . .                         | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout . . .                        | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout . . .                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout . . .                                | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout . . .                               | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout . . .                    | .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout . . .                             | .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd . . . | .05 |

Baptism

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects . . .       | .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly . . .                   | .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett . . .                          | .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means . . . | .50 |

Devotional

|                                                   |     |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin . . . | .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse . . .               | .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock . . .       | .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks . . .                      | .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                        |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper . . .                                     | .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt . . .                                       | .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper . . . | .05 |

Faith

|                                      |     |
|--------------------------------------|-----|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell . . . | .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey . . .        | .25 |

Tobacco

|                                                    |     |
|----------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil,, Coward . . . | .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward . . .                | .15 |

Second Coming

|                                                  |     |
|--------------------------------------------------|-----|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers . . .         | .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett . . . | .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett . . .       | .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett . . .              | .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett . . .                   | .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss . . . | .15 |

Assorted

|                                                              |     |
|--------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone . . .                       | .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper . . .                                 | .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper . . .                                    | .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison . . .                        | .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout . . .                           | .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett . . .         | .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor . . .                            | .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor . . .                        | .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson . . .                       | .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims . . .              | .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper . . .         | .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt . . . | .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly . . .              | .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor . . .        | .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper . . .  | .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly . . .                   | .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett . . .              | .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George . . .        | .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor . . .                           | .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall . . .                                    | .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey . . .                            | .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart . . .                     | .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus . . .                       | .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor . . .                        | .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper . . .                                      | .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout . . .     | .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor . . .                            | .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly . . .                                    | .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly . . .                           | .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper . . .                        | .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor . . .              | .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell . . .        | .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....
ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Oct. 21, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 42.

EARNESTLY CONTEND FOR THE FAITH.

By The Editor.

JUDE, in his general epistle, third verse, says: "It was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered to the saints." This was early in the history of the gospel dispensation, but from the first there have always been those who claimed to be the servants of God, who have opposed the plain teachings of the Word of God.

If it was needful that Jude, in those days, urge the followers of Christ to "earnestly contend for the faith," how much more needful at the present time. It is comparatively easy to contend against those open and avowed infidels who do not hesitate to speak against God and his Word. They are bold and defiant; they stand out in the open; their brand of infidelity is so unreasonable and so profane that they stand self-condemned. People of ordinary intelligence will resent, as well as resist, their teaching.

The dangerous skeptics today are the skeptics within the church. They are the Judas Iscariots who betray the Master with a kiss. They deny his virgin birth, the miracles which were the proof of his Godhead, and the blood atonement he made for the lost, while they heap their compliments upon him. You will find no group of men saying so many beautiful things about our Lord as the modern liberalist. Jesus Christ cares nothing for their compliments. "Why call ye me good?" God only is good. If I am not the Son of God, the express image of the Father, his manifested love to men coming down out of heaven from him, I am not good. Jesus cannot, and will not, consent to be accepted as a good man, merely, as an example, only; he declares himself the light of the world, the resurrection and the life, the forgiver of sins, one to be sought as a Saviour, trusted in as a Redeemer, and worshipped as a Lord.

I learn from my friends that I am severely criticised, called narrow, unbrotherly, and unreasonable, because I contend for the plainly written word of God, for the deity and atoning merit, saving power, and coming glory of our blessed Lord and Saviour. I am perfectly indifferent to such criticism. I confess, without hesitation, that I am devoid of that "open-mindedness" of which so many are boasting these days. My mind is fixed when it comes to the fact of my own sinfulness, the repentance which the Holy Spirit wrought in me, the atoning merit of Jesus, the regenerating and sanctifying power of the Holy Ghost. When an old forty-niner got to California, dug into the side of the mountain, found the gold and was digging out hundreds, and sometimes thousands, of dollars worth of gold per day, it was useless for any sort of a skeptical geologist to come along and try to prove to him that the formation of the ledges of stone in the mountain proved that there could be no gold there. His mind was not open to such argument; he had

BEWARE OF THE DECEIVER.

A religious skeptic in the pulpit is far more dangerous than the pronounced infidel out of the pulpit. When the wolf is in sheep's clothing and is turned into the fold with the flock, he has every advantage in picking out and devouring the finest lambs.

The preacher who is thoroughly saturated with modernistic views which destroy any remains of evangelistic faith he might have, generally pays much attention to the young people. He would appear to be quite devoted to them. He takes advantage of unsuspecting youth to sow his seed of doubt in their minds, and rejoices as he sees them drifting away from simple saving faith in our Christ.

He will have many beautiful things to say about the Lord Jesus, as he undertakes to separate him from his Deity, and make him a beautiful man, instead of a mighty Saviour from sin. He seems to have entirely overlooked that saying of Christ, that "It were better for a millstone to be hanged about his neck, and cast into the depths of the sea, than that they should offend one of these little ones." And so your modernist goes on rejoicing in his offending. He is not trying to build up the young people upon a firm foundation of biblical teaching. He has no positive message; he is given to the work of destruction rather than that of construction. His very pride, arrogance and boasting of himself ought to be proof, positive, that he is not of the Lord.

My dear Reader, fix this in your mind and keep it there, that men who come making an attack upon the Word of God as to its authority, and the Son of God with reference to his Deity, however well educated they may be, however plausible, are not God-sent. They get their authority and message from some other source. They may charm you, but so does the serpent charm the bird upon which it feasts. I can think of no more dangerous man than the man in the pulpit with the advantages of the schools, the elegant manners of a gentleman, with a message to charm and please the unsaved, rather than the Word of God which is the sword of the Spirit, to awaken and startle the sinner and bring him to repentance, surrender at the feet of Jesus and saving faith in Christ. Take warning against wolves in sheep's clothing.

H. C. Morrison.

found the gold, was digging it, and enriching himself with every stroke of his pick. His mind was closed against all arguments intended to prove to him that there was no gold there. He was digging the rich metal out of the earth, and filling his pockets. His mind was wide open to suggestion of how he could find a richer lode, or some better method of mining, but it was a waste of time on the part of any man to undertake to prove to him that there was no gold there.

My mind is closed to the fact that the sun is shining at twelve o'clock on a clear day in August, but is quite open to further information on the subject of astronomy. The Lord Jesus Christ is the greatest fact in history; the one all-comprehensive personality to those who have found him. It is not worth while to undertake to produce any argument to induce us to close our eyes to the fact of his existence, his Godhead, his atoning death and resurrection and his saving power, but we are ready and eager to learn more of him, to discover him more fully, to come into closer and more blessed fellowship. I would modestly suggest to those men who proclaim themselves open-minded truth seekers, to seek Jesus Christ himself. If they should find him they would be happy; they would be content. They will no longer have an open mind with reference to the deity and saving power of Jesus Christ. That matter will be satisfactorily and forever settled. I would remind those who have sought and found Christ, who know him as a personal Saviour, that it will be well for them to be very firm in their faith; that they do not hesitate to give their testimony, and to earnestly contend for the faith once delivered to the saints. We have a class of people who seem more concerned about their intellectual standing than they do about their saving faith in Christ. Many of them are selling their spiritual birthright for a mere mess of pottage. The time has come when we should not only be followers of our Lord, but true soldiers as well.

Open Letter to a Young Doctor.

My Dear Young Friend:

I am glad to know that you have finished your four years in the Medical College, and had considerable experience as interne in several hospitals, and now you are getting started into a very interesting practice of your profession in a village surrounded by wild and rugged country.

I feel like congratulating the people among whom you will practice your profession. There is, perhaps, no more important man, excepting the minister of the gospel, in any community than a good physician. I am thankful that you are a devout Christian and along with your skill and medicine, you will carry the people to whom you administer to consummations of faith in Christ.

I understand that you will by no means become a ranter exhorter, but you will know how to quote a comforting passage of Scripture to a sick and sorrowing patient. It would be a great comfort to most any patient to whom you administer, to let them know their physician is a man of prayer, and that he remembers them at the throne of grace, that he asks the great Physician for assistance and guidance in his diagnosis and prescription. It has been my good fortune to be intimately acquainted with some very excellent Christian physicians. Their faith in Christ and spiritual concern for their patients were of great value.

If you do not understand the mind has great influence over the body, you should not be engaged in the practice of medicine. The physician who is able to win the confidence of the patient in his understanding of his maladies, and that he has treated such troubles with success, will create a hopeful state

(Continued on page 8)

NOTES OF SALVATION AND SERVICE

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

At this time of writing I have finished my work in Chili, having spent two months there, when at first I had no thought of any extended work; but developments came of an unusual kind and I can say with one of old: "I, being in the way, the Lord led me." Gen. 24:27. During my stay in Chili I travelled by rail over 1,000 miles and preached from Valparaiso to Puerto Montt, the farthest railroad terminus in the world, and praise God, everywhere I witnessed revival stirrings; the power of the Spirit was manifested; in some places there were divine conflagrations. Chili is most responsive to the pentecostal gospel. The people are warm-hearted; dead things do not appeal to them. Where the church is on fire they will go there by thousands; when it is dead they attend only by scores or hundreds. The other Sunday morning in Santiago about seven o'clock, I heard people singing on the streets; they were singing gospel songs. They were on their way to the seven o'clock prayer meeting in their Temple where from 300 to 500 gather each Sunday morning. These people were Methodist Protestants or, in other words, the holiness people of Chili. One of the great mistakes of Methodism in South America as well as in North America has been the failure to recognize the operations of the Spirit of God in the Holiness Movement. Official Methodism has always been too ready to cry "fanaticism," "radicalism," etc., when the Spirit is poured out. The result, inevitably, is the fire is cast out and formalism takes its place. The Methodist Pentecostals of Chili are untiring in their evangelistic fervor; they are constantly after souls. As soon as their work is over Saturday afternoons groups of those men will go off to country towns and spend Saturday night and all day Sunday pushing the gospel work by testimony, prayer, and song, resulting in the planting of many churches all over Chili.

II.

I made a mistake in one of my former articles when I wrote that South America had experienced no great religious revival. I ought to have added the words—"As far as I know." About twenty years ago a great holiness revival broke out in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Valparaiso under the pastorate of Rev. W. C. Hoover, who came to South America under William Taylor. For six months or more Bro. Hoover and his people were praying for a Pentecost; particularly impressed was Bro. Hoover with the mighty Pentecost which came on Ramabai's work in India, he asked: "Why not such a Pentecost for his church and for Chili?" After much prayer and intercessions lasting six months or more, God answered prayer and a mighty Pentecost broke upon the M. E. Church of Valparaiso. The church was crowded, galleries and all, to the utmost capacity and mighty things were happening in the conversion and sanctification of souls and the Pentecostal fullness. There were many manifestations and, no doubt, some extravagances and fanaticism. Tell me of any great revival without these! Every great awakening has these accompaniments. Well, sad to relate, the Methodist Conference entered charges against Hoover and the best thing he could do was to withdraw from Methodism, which he did, followed by hundreds of Methodists. Brother Hoover organized "The Methodist Pentecostal Church," holding exactly to the Articles of Religion and the Doctrines of the M. E. Church. The revival spread to Santiago and in other cities until now the Methodist Pentecostal Church of

NOTES AND SUGGESTIONS.

A missionary in Argentina called my attention to Isaiah 30:27. In the Spanish Bible it reads thus: "Behold the name of Jehovah cometh from afar, his face is all aflame and deeply lined with suffering; his lips are filled with wrath and his tongue a consuming fire."

This is very suggestive. In an age like this, with its appalling godlessness and spiritual indifference and apathy, it is time that preachers should preach a few red-hot sermons on "The Wrath of God," or "Hell fire and Judgment." Oh, some one will say people don't believe in these things any more. Nor did they in the days of John Wesley, nor did they a hundred years ago when American colleges were infidel dens and religion was scoffed at; but some preachers like Jonathan Edwards, Finney and Peter Cartwright woke them up. Let us try again the old gospel that our fathers preached with such power forty years ago. "Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed?" Acts 19:2.

We need the Holy Ghost to save us from the following, as set forth by an English writer:

"The poisoned arrows of unbelief.
The Fever of Ambition.
The Pride of Intellect.

The Sunstroke of Success.
The Passion of Pleasure."

Rather, the German Theologian says:

"We can in fact speak with good reason of the languages of the Holy Ghost; for it lies in the Bible plainly before our eyes, how the Divine Spirit, who is the agent of Revelation, has fashioned for himself a peculiar religious dialect out of the speech of that people which forms its theater."

The Baptism of the Spirit was to the Bishop of Durham "A new contact with the inner and eternal movements of redeeming power; a new discovery in divine resources."

Chili in twenty years has more members in it than the Presbyterians and Methodists after seventy years of work, and more members than all the other evangelical churches of Chili.

I have preached in their temples with from 1200 to 3000 people in them there being hardly standing room in the huge temples. The last Sunday night in Santiago, after preaching in three Methodist churches, I preached at 9 P. M. to the largest congregation possible to pack into their biggest auditorium; possibly close to 3000 people were present.

Now, I want to record my thanks to God that many Methodist preachers and people are seeing the mistake made twenty years ago when that great revival might have run all through the Methodist Church, starting a hundred revivals all through Chili. Two and three Methodist preachers have been with me sometimes when I preached for the Methodist Pentecostals, and one of them has been my interpreter and his soul has been set on fire for pentecostal evangelism.

III.

This time last year I was going the rounds of the Holiness camp meetings of the U. S. A. I thank my God this summer finds me in a dry and thirsty land preaching twice and three times a day to churches and preachers and people eager for the fulness of the Spirit. South America is a needy country. Many foreign missionaries are trying to meet the need by religious education, social work, etc., but what this land is crying out for is God in the power of the Holy Ghost. What can missionaries do to meet this cry who have never experienced the power of the Holy Ghost in their own lives? I was nineteen days in a certain city having revival after revival in the churches, preaching to thousands and, in this same city were many missionaries (so-called) drawing their salaries from Mission Boards and, in all these meetings one missionary was present two nights as interpreter, and at one day meeting one missionary attended; the other seventeen days no missionary was ever seen in my meetings! What's the matter with the missionaries, you ask? Well, simply this—They reflect the schools where they were trained which do not believe in revivals, and they reflect the churches they came from which do not hold revival meetings. In fact, I know some places where the work of God took on new life and vigor after the missionary left because they opposed everything supernatural and revivalistic, but when the native church and pastors were permitted to go it alone, unhindered by modernists, the churches revived. This may be a hard saying, but I have the facts, else I would not dare make such a statement.

Now don't misunderstand me. Foreign missionaries have their place in this great work, but let the Boards send to these mission lands men and women who are soundly converted and who know God in the Holy Spirit; men and women of prayer and faith, people who have a passion for souls and who will spend and be spent totally in this great work of publishing the great Redemption. Let us get back to the old Korean idea of missions before modernism got in there: "First, evangelize; then educate the evangelized." A lot of so-called missionary educational work has no evangelistic objective to it, whatever. It is educational only and stops there. What South America needs is evangelism after the pattern of the Acts of the Apostles.

Yesterday was my first day in Argentina. I landed from the train at an obscure junction point to make a connection with a missionary with whom my first itinerary was to begin; went over to the only hotel in the town intending to stay there all day and night, as arranged. My knowledge of Spanish is rather limited, just enough to rough it as I go along. After ordering my coffee I found a German who could speak French, English and Spanish. He was a very fine fellow, and when I found he was going by his auto to the same town, my next point on the schedule called for, he seemed greatly pleased when I suggested going along with him. He lives in his auto and in hotels, as he travels for a German firm over that whole province. He was very kind to find a place for my luggage, and in a little while we were off on our automobile run of over 150 kilometers. All day long, as I rode through that Argentine country, I imagined myself in an agricultural section of Kansas or Nebraska. Argentina is a great country for farms. It is a country of vast domains and a great country for cattle. All along the way we passed the bleached bones of animals which have sickened and died on the highway. Cattle is so numerous, and prices so low, that it costs but little money to get fresh beef. I should suppose barbecues would be very plentiful. We stopped at various points as we came along, and again the stores reminded me of our far west farming districts. The stores were loaded with every imaginable commodity, gasoline tanks, garages, etc. When it came around dinner time we went into a hotel where a nice dinner, costing two pesos (about 60 cents), was served us consisting of prepared bano, soups, beef, chicken and vegetables, bread and butter, tea. This country is not wanting in courtesy, the waiters and servants seem trained to please; the hotels are neat and clean but at this time of the year very cold. It is winter in Argentina, no snow (except in the mountains) little ice in the mornings, but when the sun comes out in the day it is pleasant. One gets used to doing without stoves and fire places, both in the houses and churches. I often go to the pulpit in my overcoat and yet in those fireless churches people will stay through three-hour services without any complaint.

IV.

My first Sunday in Argentina! Am preaching out in that section known as the LaPampa, near the desert. My first services are with the Christian and Missionary Alliance. I was met by Rev. S. G. Barnes, who now is the sole missionary of the Alliance for Argentina. He has a big undertaking but is accomplishing things for the kingdom through native workers—and of course this should be the aim of missionary work to set the native preachers on fire and get them to do the preaching and the work. The Pauline method is coming back into missionary work, namely, start the work, plant churches and move on. This station business is not the best way; let the natives occupy the stations and the missionaries move on to new work and new conquests. I am more than ever convinced that our holiness missionary work should be evangelistic.

We began this, our first meeting, in Argentina on Saturday night preaching to a well filled church on Acts 2:17. Sunday we held three services at 10 A. M., 4 P. M., and 8 P. M. In the afternoon we preached on Sanctification, Joshua 3:5, and a very precious spirit pervaded the meeting. When I gave the invitation the response was almost unanimous and the altar space was crowded with church members seeking the blessing. Missionary Barnes told me that the praying was very definite and earnest for sanctification; there were many hungry hearts and, though I could not talk to the seekers as I would like to, because of the language, yet I believe the Holy Spirit was present teaching, leading, blessing. At the night service I preached on Matt. 3:11, and at the altar service had many seeking both blessings; quite a number of sinners came forward and confessed their sins and confessed Christ. The Lord gave us victory and we feel the fire of the Lord is spreading in this place.

JERUSALEM TO JERICHO.

Rev. C. F. Wimberly.

WHEN that impertinent lawyer stood up tempting Jesus with his catch questions, as recorded in the tenth chapter of Luke, thereby giving the Master an opportunity of telling a dramatic little story of an unfortunate man on the Jericho road, he did not know what he was doing for humanity. We doubt if any story or parable in the Bible, not even that of the prodigal son, has meant more to the physical needs of the world than that of the Good Samaritan.

First, it may be studied as an analogy for the whole human race, born as they are under the covenant relation to Christ, but when reaching the age of conscious responsibility, they go down the hill of life, going away from God until they are rescued by the Good Samaritan in the person of the Son of God. Jerusalem means safety, happiness, salvation, hope, heaven; Jericho means ruin, despair, destruction! The race goes down from Jerusalem, as it were, which means salvation, down toward Jericho, and ruin. It is a striking analogy.

Then, the story has in it the big question of human brotherhood; that we are not, or should not be, divided up into differences of race, color, or religions. No doubt the story is a big factor in the world-wide movements of fraternal organizations. We are convinced, that in this little incident is a depositum of truth which gave rise to the care of the sick and afflicted. There were no hospitals in those days, but now the world is filled with them, especially in all lands where the gospel has been preached. Think of such an influence in the world for suffering humanity. Many are the hospitals named: "The Good Samaritan." Furthermore, we believe the world-wide Red Cross organization found its original idea—its vis uturga, by the "first aid" given to the man left dying but rescued by the hand of the Good Samaritan. Thus, we can never estimate the influence of this simple, but unusual story.

But we find still another rare and suggestive teaching in the various characters that perform in this homely scene staged among the rugged hills of Judea. They are typical and representative. Let us examine them: First, the traveler that fell among the thieves and was robbed, represents a great multitude of unfortunates in all lands, and in all stages of civilization; the under-privileged; the victims of social inequalities, false notions of aristocracy; the morons, the submerged masses. From birth, they know nothing but poverty and ignorance. They are the pawn of social, economic, and political systems; the victims of superior intelligence, industrial plutocracy; victims of superstition and false standards. They suffer, and are helpless. The only rift in their darkening skies is the pitying heart of those inspired by the spirit of altruism.

This army of victims is called the "submerged tenth;" but it has grown until it far exceeds the tenth; it grows by leaps and bounds. They are not the "white man's burden," but everybody's burden. They are with us: children of the ghetto, the slums, the mountain fastnesses; the victims of labor depression, feeling the sting first. They are in mines, factories, and rural districts. Oh, the suffering multitudes! Like the man of the Jericho road, they must be rescued and cared for, or they will die on the world's great highway. Robbed of their birthright; robbed of an equal chance in life's struggle; robbed of all except the monotonous grind until relieved by the great Reaper in the end. We can but believe, notwithstanding all the sin and rebellion against the laws of life and God, and humanity—the compassionate Judge will not be unmerciful; surely they will not be judged by our standards.

Then we find the robbers typical of a very pronounced group; the world owes them a living and they propose to get it—not by honest endeavour, but by their wits. They are the human vultures, parasites, leeches sucking the blood from small and great. They operate in Wall Street, in the lower east side, in the under-world, in parliaments, in congresses, in cabinets, highways, dark alleys, executive chambers, country crossroads; wherever unfortunate victims live and struggle. They are robbers.

Still we find another character appearing in the little drama—the inn-keeper. He stands for the man who prosecutes his business. He took apparently no interest in the injured victim. The store, the profession, the garage, the position are his life; whether a small grocery store, bank, or counting house, he lives in the realm of deals, markets, balance sheets, and bargains—profits. Their souls are in tune to no other music; their business is their only shrine. There they burn incense day and night, whether big deals or little; they know no other impulse. Love, beauty, music, home, literature, sympathy, helpfulness have no place in the program of life.

We notice in the next place the priest and the Levite—who are they? The indifferent ones. Lying before them was a man of their race; doubtless he had offered sacrifices in the synagogue where those functionaries operated; but they were looking after their own affairs. No difference about this fellow—that was his bad luck. "Why should we worry?"—they might have said in modern slang. The priest and Levite are typical of a big and an ever increasing group; the world cry does not penetrate their ears; let them look out for themselves. "I am in bed, and my children are in bed with me—all fed and warm, I do not want to be disturbed."

Where is the human stage upon which this group may be found? They are "conspicuous for their absence" in all relief movements, charity organizations, and wherever there is a call for unselfish service. They live around one center—their own comforts and pleasures. Life has but one arena, and that is for personal satisfaction. This group may be found by an examination of any church register of Protestantism in America. The church may bleed at every pore; suffer from unpaid obligations, handicapped by limited resources, struggling, unpaid ministers—but who cares? The pastor prepares his heart message for the Sabbath Day; but early Sunday morning, the car is run out of the garage, and the family loaded in, and off they go to places of pleasure; several dollars will be spent for gas, lunches, and other things—but there you are—Priest and Levite passing by on the other side.

Let the church services go unattended; the prayer meeting as though no such gathering existed; let God's cause limp behind all other considerations. None of those things concern the descendants of the priest and Levite; they are traveling on the Jericho road thinking of one destiny; things that pertain to themselves alone. Yes, we have them in the churches; in the call of civic duties; the call of the debt we owe to the victims of misfortune, the problems facing the church. They carry none of the load; let others carry the load of a broken-hearted world. We have things more important—yes, to themselves.

But now the picture changes as we study the real hero of the drama; he stands one over against four; but in the minorities are always to be found truth, virtue, and things worthwhile. Majorities have always been in the wrong throughout human history; the crowd misses the mark. In this heroic character we find a type of another group, small perhaps; but this group is the salt of the earth. Civilization would crumble and crush the other types mentioned, but for this one—the Good Samaritan—in his ministration of compassion; his unselfish service for an unfortunate victim. It remains for this group to hear and respond to the world's cry of agony; they are under the load. They rise to the sublime heights which say: "I am my brother's keeper." I must bear with his sins, his weaknesses. The fallen girl who has lost her way is a sister—a fellow human being—a fellow sufferer.

Paul caught the vision when he declared: "I am debtor both to the Greek and also to the barbarian, to the wise and the unwise." The Greek with his sophistication, but blind to the secret of Paul's passion; it was a debt he could not shift. He suffered every torture trying to pay that debt. But also, the barbarian, superstitious, cruel, revengeful, knowing no law, but the law of the jungle—living on the low plain of the animal. To this man Paul owed a debt he could not shift.

The Good Samaritan could have found plenty of alibis to continue his journey. "That man is a Jew—he hates me, why should I bother with his troubles? He will probably die anyway." But he went to the man bleeding, and half dead, festering in the hot sun; dressed his wounds and put him on his own beast, and cared for him during the long watches of the night; he did not have to do this. But in so doing he headed the procession of burden-bearers, allies to help human sufferers. Upon the shoulders of this group rests the burdens of the church, social ser-

(Continued on page 6)

MEETING JESUS.

Bob Shuler.

Text: "Behold Jesus met them."—Matt. 28:9.

THE pessimistic note must never enter into the message of the church. Whatever may be the causes for alarm that inspire the unbeliever to lose heart, there never comes to the Christian an hour of such dejection as that he cannot look up and say, "I know whom I have believed."

The church does not depend upon human leadership nor upon earthly values. While we live as Christians in the world, we are not of the world. Our joys and the content that makes our lives happy and successful are not subject to the frailties and disqualifications that go with the things of time.

FOR WE HAVE MET JESUS.

We have met the One, in the presence of whom the scales have dropped from blinded eyes and at whose word the maimed and crippled leaped with glad acclaim. Jesus changes not only the human heart, but the paths for our feet and the goals for our lives. Jesus transforms even the hour of peril and crisis so as to bring blessing and benefit. What other leader has offered a reward for cross bearing or shown the benefit that comes from suffering.

Whatever may have been the philosophies of those who have claimed for themselves a following as religious leaders, none but Jesus has made a cross glorious, or changed the time of death into an hour of conquest. The earth has never furnished another hilltop that will compare with Calvary, for Jesus met the sin-stained souls of men upon that mountain.

The world has not ceased to hear the story of that cross that was lifted there, nor will that story ever fail to bring hope and cleansing. Not that the beam of wood upon which Jesus died had any exceptional efficacy. But the fact that Jesus died on that cross, and by that death purchased redemption, has become the gladdest news that ever came the way of troubled souls, so that when all else fails, man with his burden of sin and guilt may come the way of Golgotha and there meet Jesus.

Nor was it anything that belonged to the tomb of Joseph that has made the spot where Jesus lay the most sacred spot of the centuries. That place of death became a fountain of life because Jesus therein met and conquered man's last enemy.

Whatever Jesus touches is blessed. Whoever meets the Man of Galilee has life. And the burdens and crosses that characterize that relationship which is described by the word Christian, but make more beautiful and gracious the association by which the Master builds a human life into symmetry and success. Jesus can take a burning stake and light the centuries with the beacon of progress. He can transform a prison into a royal court where princes match their heroic spirits with the loss of liberty with which tyrants seek at times to conquer.

There may be times of depression when other men's hearts fail. They commit suicide. They turn in dejection from life's task and pronounce the whole program a failure. With Solomon, whose mistakes had possibly found him out, they cry, "All is vanity and vexation of spirit."

But not the Christian man. He has deposited his treasures in the place of security. Depressions and panics cannot rob him. His are eternal possessions. His bank does not close its doors. His stocks and bonds do not fluctuate in value with the markets of men. For the Christian man has formed a partnership, as did Jacob at the foot of the ladder over which the heavenly messengers ascended and descended. The Christian man has signed up with Jesus.

We of today seek oftentimes to place Jesus in the far-off years. We thoroughly believe the story of the storm-tossed disciples and their danger when Jesus spake the words, "peace be still," and we are told there was a great calm. But we doubt the ability of that same Jesus to send a great calm the way of our spirits in hours of test and trial. He is the same today that he was yesterday.

I am not contending that all is right with the world even for the Christian man. All is not right. It would be utter folly to say that the world is right in this hour for any man. But all is right with Jesus and Jesus is all right. The Man of Galilee does not fail at any point. Even his severest critics call him a great teacher and declare his life and character to have been above reproach. His golden rule would cure all the injustice of the centuries. His sermon on the mount would right every wrong that has ever found its way to the paths of men. No sane teacher of the twentieth century dares ignore Jesus of Nazareth, it matters not what may be his faith or lack of faith.

I would go much further than the infidel who is forced to concede to Jesus a place among the world's great men and mighty teachers. I would declare that he is the Author of Life, the Fountain of Hope, the Source of Strength, and the Architect of the only finished character that the world has ever seen. He is man's Inspiration and Guide and as such he knows the way.

No, there is little need that I seek to make you believe that all is right with the world. The blindest can discover the fallacy of such a statement. All is not right with the world. In fact, little is right with the world at the present time. Man's heart is wrong. His deeds are evil. Injustice and unrighteousness walk brazenly throughout the nations. But the heart of Jesus is right, and no evil thing can be charged to him.

Faith is still right. The baptism of power is still efficient. The cleansing that comes to penitent hearts still works a mighty transformation. Those who meet with Jesus still find a silver lining on Heaven's side of every cloud that floats above their earthly paths. The grace of God still offers that which all the ingenuity and genius of man may not afford.

The background of this text is most illuminating. The disciples of Jesus were thoroughly discouraged. Their hearts were broken. Their hopes were blighted. They had seen their fondest dreams vanish as the mists, for they had looked forward to the establishment of an earthly kingdom. They had seen visions of power and dominion. They had dreamed of marching armies and the splendor of royal courts. And now all was blighted. Adversity had come. Disaster had befallen. Their leader was dead. He had been crucified amid the derision of a hostile mob. He had died helplessly between two common thieves. All hopes of the establishment of a glorious Kingdom were gone. And these men who had followed faithfully sat down to mourn their loss and deplore their misfortune.

But a couple of faithful women, broken-hearted also, wended their way through the early morning to the tomb of the man they had loved and followed. Strange things had happened at that tomb. A royal visitor greeted them. He stood on guard amid the emptiness of the cavern where the body of Jesus had been placed. He bade them go their way and declared that the Holy One they sought had risen from the dead.

Strange and unthinkable as were his words, they half believed and started through the garden without the tomb with whispered words of wonder and hope on their lips. And then they met him. They saw his face. They fell at his feet. They heard his words, "Be not afraid."

And two trembling women suddenly became bold ambassadors to carry the message of their risen King to his scattered followers.

And then his disciples met him. Their hopes revived. Their courage returned, and they stood with resolute countenances as he pronounced his great commission and sent them out to the evangelization of the world.

Meeting Jesus transformed them. Meeting Jesus began in them a glorified transformation of life that should spread through the world and transform the generations, remaking the history of every age that should follow. No longer were they downcast and despondent. No longer were they whipped and conquered. At last the strong might of Heaven was in their hearts and the courage of their risen Lord fired their spirits.

Undoubtedly the church faces a real crisis today, for the nations of the world have forgotten God and in their backsliding find themselves prostrate. Financial difficulties weigh heavily everywhere. There is unrest that the councils of men cannot cure. Kings and princes totter to their fall. Constituted government is sorely tried. Lawlessness has flung its challenge into the very face of law. There are racketeering, exploitation, injustice, perjury, corruption of every character and organized evils of every description.

And the inability of man to solve the problems of this age is now acknowledged by those who are seriously weighing the situations which humanity faces. We can no longer depend upon horsemen and chariots. The armor of Saul has failed us. Our boasted fortifications have fallen before the foes of civilization and we are at the mercy of the despoilers.

Is there hope? There is hope. If the human heart will only meet Jesus in the garden there is hope. For the world today needs to be transformed. Civilization must be reborn. The sordid defilements that have brought near chaos must be washed away. Some balm of Gilead must be applied that will cure this sickness at the souls of the nations. Nor have the centuries discovered any help of such potentialities outside of the fountains that flow from the foot of Calvary.

Jesus is the only "rock in a weary land" or "shelter in the time of storm" that has stood the test of the ages. Therefore I say, if the world would have life, let it look to him who is the source of life—yea, who is life himself.

"Behold, Jesus met them" and the highways of history were re-surveyed that hour! —Bob Shuler's Magazine.

Outdoubting the Doubters.

BY BISHOP W. A. CANDLER.

HENRY Ward Beecher, before the days when liberalism had impaired his faith and disordered life, said, "When one has given up the one fact of the inspiration of the Scriptures he has given up the whole foundation of revealed religion."

The contrast between this obvious truth and the ruinous rationalism of his later years corresponds almost exactly with the decay of faith and decline of power of not a few preachers in all denominations today. By the same currents they have drifted into doubt such as carried Mr. Beecher into frigid faithlessness, utterly away from the gospel which he preached in his earlier days.

Doubts and scepticism which the rationalists and infidels declined to entertain a generation ago are now proclaimed from many pulpits as the truth concerning the Holy Scriptures, although during the same period archaeological discoveries have been made which have attested the Bible as never before. Many men now in the pulpit out-doubt the doubters in the streets.

Very much of Tom Paine's "Age of Reason" is found imbedded in the "assured results" of the "Higher Criticism." Theodore Parker was indeed skeptical enough, and he said: "View it in what light we may, the Bible is a very surprising phenomenon. This collection of books has taken such a hold on the world as has no other. The literature of Greece, which goes up like incense from that land of temples and heroic deeds, has not half the influence of this book of a nation alike despised in ancient and modern times. In all the temples of Christendom is its voice lifted up, week by week. The sun never sets on its gleaming page. It goes equally to the cottage of the plain man and the palace of the king. It is woven into the literature of the scholar and it colors the talk of the street . . . It blesses us when we are born; gives names to half Christendom; rejoices with us; has sympathy for our mournings; tempers our grief to finer issues. . . . Some thousand famous writers come up in this century to be forgotten in the next. But the silver cord of the Bible is never loosed nor its golden bowl broken, as Time chronicles its tens of centuries passed by. Has the human race gone mad? . . . It is only a heart that can speak deep and true to a heart; a mind to a mind; a soul to a soul; wisdom to the wise and religion to the pious. There must be in the Bible, mind, heart and soul, wisdom and religion. Were it otherwise how could millions find it their law-giver, friend, and prophet? Some of the greatest of human institutions seem built on the Bible; such things will not stand on heaps of chaff, but on mountains of rock."

Is anything short of Inspiration an adequate explanation of the existence of such a Book? If it were lost, and its teachings all forgotten, could any one or all of the most intellectual, wise and learned men in all the earth make another Book like it?

In answer to such questions said Rousseau: "I confess that the majesty of the Scriptures strikes me with admiration, as the purity of the Gospel has its influence on my heart. Peruse the works of our philosophers; with all their pomp of diction, how mean, how contemptible, are they compared with the Scriptures. Is it possible that a book at once so simple and sublime should be merely the work of man? Is it possible that the sacred Personage whose history it contains should be himself a mere man? . . . Shall we suppose the evangelic history a mere fiction? Indeed, my friend, it bears not the marks of fiction; on the contrary, the history of Socrates, which nobody presumes to doubt, is not so well attested as that of Jesus Christ. Such a supposition in fact only shifts the difficulty without obviating it; it is more inconceivable that a number of persons should agree to write such a history than that one should furnish the subject of it. The Jewish authors were incapable of the diction and strangers to the morality contained in the Gospel; the marks of whose truth are so striking and inimitable, that the inventor would be a more astonishing man than the hero."

If doubters thus believe, what shall be said when professing Christians, especially preachers, doubt the Bible and question its divine inspiration? The wisest and best men, who have read the Bible, have believed it to be God's Word and have bowed themselves to its authority.

William Ellery Channing, although a liberalistic theologian, said: "The incongruity of the Bible with the age of its birth; its freedom from earthly mixtures; its origin, unborrowed, solitary greatness; the suddenness with which it broke forth amidst the general gloom; these, to me, are strong indications of its Divine descent: I cannot reconcile them with a human origin."

Sir Isaac Newton declared: "We account the Scriptures of God to be the most sublime philosophy. I find more sure marks of authenticity in the Bible than in any profane history whatever."

Ewald said: "In this little book—the New Testament—is contained all the wisdom of the world."

It may be said that many things have changed with reference to belief of the Bible since these mighty men declared so strongly their faith in the Book. Of course, there have been changes in some forms of the evidences of Christianity; but the attestation of the authenticity of the Holy Scripture is stronger now than ever, and it grows stronger with the discoveries of science and the progress of learning. The greatest scientists of the present period are the greatest believers.

Sir John Herschel said in his day that "all human discoveries seem to be made only for the purpose of confirming more and more strongly the truths that come from on high and are contained in the sacred writings." What he thus said a hundred years ago is even more manifestly correct now.

To the same effect spoke Professor Dana, the celebrated geologist, saying, "The grand old Book of God still stands, and this old earth, the more its leaves are turned over and pondered, the more it will sustain and illustrate the Sacred Word."

Such has been, is, and will be the case with "the Word of the Lord which abideth forever." Some shallow men among us are over-zealous in warning us against "bibliolatry"—the worship of the Book. With much warmth they are wont to say, "I worship and preach Christ, and Christ alone." But without the knowledge of Christ that is imparted by the Scriptures, they worship an unknown God.

Saint Jerome said that "ignorance of the Bible means ignorance of Christ." God's Word manifest in the Incarnation is revealed in God's Word written in the Scriptures; and no genuine experience in the hearts of men differs from his revelation of himself, which shines through the pages of the Bible.—Pacific Methodist Advocate.

Does God Care?

BY H. H. SMITH.

Has God made the world and withdrawn himself from it to let it run itself? Does he care when we suffer the ills of life? We know he cares, for Jesus Christ is the "express image" of the Father, and, looking upon the toiling, care-worn multitudes, "He had compassion on them." That answers it all. Never more ask if God cares when his children suffer, but read the Gospels and see how Jesus regarded all affliction. He is still showing compassion to the world, but he shows it through his followers. A little boy had seen the picture of a Hindu worshipper burning a human victim to death, and, looking up to his mother, said: "Mother, is this true? Do they burn people in India?" "Yes." "Does God care?" "O, yes, my child, God cares." "Well, then, why doesn't God put a stop to it?"

That last question is a searching one. The physical and moral sufferings of mankind are a matter of great concern to God. He does care, but he cares through us. For centuries, God was pained to see widows burned on the funeral pyres of their husbands, and infants cast into the Ganges, and little girls tortured by foot-binding, but it took a long time to arouse his followers to care enough to put a stop to it. God was grieved to see millions of his children groping in darkness and superstition, "without hope and without God," but it took a long time to arouse his Church to do something about it. African slavery, and every other form of slavery,—including that most diabolical of all slavery—white slavery, or the slavery of poor, unfortunate girls, is an abomination in the sight of God, but it took a long time to abolish African slavery, and white slavery, mentioned above, has not yet been driven from our large cities.

As we view the manifold ills of mankind today—for there is really much distress in the world—let us bear in mind that God cares, and that he is striving to move his children to relieve the distresses of their fellow-men. But he can work only through his children.

"Thou hast no hands, O Christ, as once of old
To feed the multitudes with bread divine;
Thou hast the living Bread, enough for all,

But there's no hand to give it out but mine.

"Thou hast no feet, O Christ, as once to go
Where thy lost sheep in sin and sorrow pine;

Thy love is still the same, as deep, as true,
But Thou hast no feet to go but mine.

"And shall I use these ransomed powers of mine
For things that only minister to me?

Lord, take my tongue, my hands, my heart,
my all,

And let me live, and love, and give, for Thee."

ENLARGE INTERESTINGLY

in the teaching of your Sunday school lesson, or any other religious theme you wish to discuss. If you want something that will tell you all about Paul and his co-workers you want to know—something that will give you real enlightenment on any Bible subject, you will find it in Faussett's Bible Cyclopaedia and Commentary. It is a large, handsome volume, running over with help and information for any Bible student, at home, in school or in church work. Published to sell at $3.00; we have a few remaining copies that we are closing out at $1.00. Order of Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

JERUSALEM TO JERICO.

(Continued from page 3)

vice, and the regions beyond; burden-bearers for the social, industrial, and political juggernaut. To them we must look for all relief of the unfortunate.

The Good Samaritan is the fulfillment of the prophecy by the mouth of Isaiah, when Christ said of himself: "The spirit of the Lord God is upon me: for the Lord hath appointed me to preach good tidings to the meek; he hath sent me to bind up the broken-hearted, to proclaim liberty to the captive, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound."

But for the followers of the Good Samaritan, civilization would rot and sink of its own weight.

"GO, AND SIN NO MORE."

REV. A. S. HUNTER.

O two persons, a man and a woman, Jesus said, "Go and sin no more." That is God's standard for his saved people. Why not? And, why not his people live up to his standard? Yet, how many professing Christians regard it as impossible, and the idea as fanatical! Satan has the whole human family under bondage to the idea of sinning! It is very generally regarded as inevitable, if not necessary. Not a few preachers denounce the idea of non-sinners as chimerical. It is often said that sin is unavoidable.

Let us look at that, and have a show of hands. What sin must you commit? Lying is a sin. Do you have to lie? All who must lie, you can't avoid it, put up your hands. (No hands. No one has to lie.) Do you have to steal? All who must steal, show your hands. (No hands. No one has to steal.) All who must swear, raise your hands. (No hands. No one has to swear.) Those who must become angry, get mad, lift your hands. (Again no hands. Folks will not admit that they must have "spells"). You who have to be jealous or spiteful, show your hands. (Still no hands. Those who may have pangs of jealousy, or speak spitefully, will not say that is necessary). Will some one please rise and name the sin you must commit? (No one speaks. None will identify the sin he must commit).

The above is not fanciful, but factual. People who may commit those or other sins, know that they do not have to commit them. And yet, many expect to go right on committing sin! Why? Partly because they are in bondage to the idea of sinning!

But, the thing is deeper than that. There is a three-fold reason why people commit sin. Jesus showed part of the secret when he said, "Whosoever committeth sin, is the bondsman of sin." The real source of sins committed, is the sin inherited and indwelling! Paul realized that, and said, "It is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me." And John tells us, "He that committeth sin is of the devil." Then, there is the universal example of sinning all about us. A three-fold cord draws people on to sin; the flesh, the devil and the world.

So, there is a compulsion to sin! Yes, even an irresistible urge to sin, for very many people. This trio—the flesh, the devil and the world—is too strong for any human will or personality! Saul of Tarsus, or Paul, was doubtless as strong as any of us, and here is his confession: "Sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence, . . . deceived me, and by it slew me . . . Sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin, by the commandment, might become exceeding sinful . . . For the good that I would, I do not; and the evil that I would not, that I do . . . I delight in the law of God after the inward man; but I see another law in my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members! O, wretched man that I am! Who shall deliver me from the body of this death?"

How many professed Christians live where Saul then was! While they will not lift a hand to confess the necessity to commit any specific sin, yet, they know that they will keep on sinning daily. But, Jesus said, "If the Son shall make you free (from sin-bondage, the point then under discussion), ye shall be free indeed." So, there is a deliverance from all necessity to sin! Again we read, "Whosoever is born of God, doth not commit sin. Whosoever is born of God sinneth not, but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not!" The new birth by the Spirit enables one to be victorious over the flesh, the devil and the world! Old-fashioned Methodist "conversion" settles the sinning question! But, it does not settle the sin question, "sin that dwelleth in me!" It does not "deliver me from the body of this death," or, "this body of death," the inherited carnal nature.

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dries do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

"Any person who violates the provisions of the prohibition act violates the principles of the Constitution of the United States, and cannot be held to be attached to the principles of the Constitution, nor can it be said that such a person possesses good moral character."—Court of Appeals, Washington, D. C.

But, Paul found the remedy for that! "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death!" He was manumitted from the old law in his members, which warred against the law of his mind, and kept him in bondage. He was delivered from, not only committing actual sins, but also from "the law of sin!" It was repealed and annulled in him!

Now, if the professing Christians, the church members, would move up to the line of being Spirit-born, and of having victory over the actual commission of sins; if they would be "justified by faith, have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ," and maintain a justified standing with God; if they would steadily bear witness that they constantly obeyed God, and did not disobey him (which is sin); if the visible, organized church (all branches) would move up to that standard of "sin no more"; what effect would it have upon the non-churches, non-professing world? How long would it be before there would be salvation revivals among the ungodly in every church community? How long would it be before there would be holiness revivals in every church?

Settle The Question

of baptism by obtaining a copy of "Baptism" by Means. It is thorough and convincing. Special price, 30c a copy, or 4 copies for $1.

One of the Alarming Sins PERMISSIBLE TO BE of the age is the sin of covetousness. "Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure," by L. L. Pickett, is a booklet that will impel the reader to search his or her heart. Get it and read it. Price 15c per copy, or $1.20 per dozen, if you want to circulate some of them.

ONE MINUTE SERMON.

BETHEL COOK.

THE LILY.

Text: "Consider the lilies of the field. Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." Matt. 6:28.

The lily is one of the beauties from God. It is a thought of the divine mind. Its whiteness is a synonym for purity. It is so designed that it must come out of the dirt and mud of the earth, yet so protected that it is unstained.

God has another creation, more beautiful and wonderful than the lily. It is your soul, which is not only a thought of God, it is fashioned in the image of the divine.

Only sin can soil it, and only God's grace can protect it from sin.

May you keep your soul as pure and white as the lily—always remembering that only the pure in heart shall see God.

Greetings!

My dear good Friend,—Today I send you greeting

In that great Name which is above all names,

Which stands unchanged among all else so fleeting,

Which soon will pass in winding sheet of flames.

His holy Word which never can be shaken

Though earth and heavens, all shall pass away,

This Word of God we've gladly undertaken To give to all mankind in this our day.

By printed page, by gentle conversation,

By burning message, when he wills it so,

We preach his gospel to our generation

And thousands hear us on the radio.

You've helped us much by prayer and gift and letter

To keep his precious Story on the air,

We wish we had some way to tell you better

How tenderly we feel towards those who care.

Time wings its flight. Our day will soon be ended,

And then we'll meet where life's pure river flows,

Our last tears shed, our broken hearts all mended,

We'll grieve no more for earth and all its woes.

I may not meet you in this vale of sorrow,

Nor have your kindly eyes look into mine,

But I am looking for a glad Tomorrow

When fadeless beauty on your face will shine.

RAYMOND BROWNING.

Romans 8:28.

Is There a Question

in your mind about baptism, and especially infant baptism? If so, settle it by reading "Baptism, Its Mode, Subjects and Design," by Means. We have handled several books on this subject, but this is quite the most convincing one. So many people argue against infant baptism and many times one isn't sufficiently informed to meet these arguments. This book is just running over with scriptural information on the subject of Baptism, and you will be proud to own one. Published to sell at 50c; our special price 30c; or 4 copies for $1.00.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt. Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

REVIVALS AND CAMP MEETINGS.

We will give a brief account of our evangelistic activities during the summer. We preached nine times in the Paul Rader Tabernacle, Chicago, the first part of July. From there we went to New Castle, Pa., and held a three-weeks' revival in a tent at Greenwood Church, several miles from the city. Rev. Sam Maitland is the pastor of the church. He has done a great work in that community. Rev. Harry Maitland, Winfield, Kan., conducted the singing. He is not only a good leader but a great and successful evangelist. The Shaffer Brothers of New Castle stood by us nobly in this campaign.

We made a brief visit to Conneautsville camp meeting and took in a few services of the same. Rev. C. M. Dunaway, famous Georgia Evangelist, and Rev. Joseph Owen, President of John Fletcher College, were the workers in this camp. All know the high qualities of these two men. From here we went to the grand and historical Hollow Rock camp meeting and remained for five days as a co-worker in the camp with Dr. E. W. Petticord, evangelist, and Rev. Howard W. Sweeten, of Ashley, Ill. They are both great preachers and orthodox expounders of the Word. Prof. C. E. Campbell, song evangelist, conducted the music in a winning way.

Our next visit was made to the Clinton, Pa., camp meeting. Here we found a live group of holiness people on fire for souls. Dr. C. W. Butler, of Cleveland, Ohio, Bible Institute, Rev. Lawrence Reed, of Ohio, and Rev. Fielding Howard, of Kentucky, were the workers. They were rendering great service from day to day. The writer delivered his lecture on the "Twelve Fatal Gaps" in Evolution. It was well received. Dr. Butler urged its publication in permanent form and said he would take two hundred copies as soon as it came from the press. We intend to have it published in the near future. Please keep on the outlook for it.

We next turned our footsteps toward the good old Bentleyville camp. Here we were permitted to hear the famous Mackey Sisters sing in their inimitable way. Rev. Chas. B. Kolb, the noted holiness mountain missionary of East Tennessee, was one of the preachers. Bro. Kolb is a standpat and barn-stormer in the great Holiness Movement.

Rev. Andy Dolbow, the well-known ex-boiler maker evangelist of Wilmington, Del., was also one of the workers. He is a wonder. God has given him hundreds of unusual victories along life's highway. While he is far into the eighties in years, yet he is a live wire in the evangelistic work. His presence in the camp was a benediction to all.

The last week of the camp Dr. Warren C. McIntire, evangelist, arrived on the ground and contributed much toward the success of the meeting in the closing days of the campaign. He is a choice spirit and cuts close in his well-prepared, scriptural and analytical sermons. It is a rare privilege to be associated with him in any meeting. At the close of the camp we went to Buffalo, N. Y., for a three-days' convention in the Nazarene Church with Rev. W. A. Henry, who is a busy pastor, doing a great work in old Buffalo.

Our meeting, scheduled for Toronto, Canada, was cancelled on account of financial conditions. If other fields desire our services as an evangelist we can be reached at Wilmore, Ky.

Yours in Christ,
Andrew Johnson.

UNIVERSITY OF LOS ANGELES.

Some time has elapsed since articles have appeared in the Witness concerning this Christian Holiness institution, which is a non-profit corporation under the laws of the State of California.

It will be of interest to many Witness readers to know something concerning this unique educational corporation, though to very many it has been well known for several years.

In compliance with a request it will be the endeavor of the writer to present something which may be of encouragement to the representatives of other holiness schools as well as friends of the University of Los Angeles. The holiness people in the aggregate number too few to accomplish the most possible in the spreading of Scriptural holiness when co-operation is lacking. The educational field of that work is a most important one in these days of loose religious thinking and teaching, in and out of college.

Our Pacific Coast position is unique among the holiness schools, located as we are in the great City of Los Angeles, which has grown in about twenty years from a city of approximately two hundred thousand to one of over one and a quarter million in population, and it seems necessary, with your patient indulgence, to state briefly some historical facts leading to the present position of holiness schools and colleges in California.

When the University of Los Angeles was incorporated under a very strict charter providing a "Statement of Doctrine" and fixed rules of government, there was no intent on the part of the founders to start a new college. At that time there were in Los Angeles County five holiness schools giving instruction in grade, college and Bible courses.

The distinctive purpose in organizing the University of Los Angeles corporation was to prepare a foundation upon which schools and colleges already in existence might, as was said, "Co-operate, affiliate and consolidate."

During the first year of the new corporation the principal activity was getting together a fund or "Foundation." Later one of the holiness schools, after several meetings of its Board of Trustees, and also, meetings of the University Board of Trustees, made formal writings of agreement with the University for affiliation which was approved by the respective Boards, signed by the Officers of the corporations and the corporate seals attached.

A short time thereafter another of the holiness colleges, after consideration and approval of the Boards, entered into very similar formal agreements in writing. Both of these agreements are still in effect, and operation thereunder has resulted in co-operation, and in financial assistances to the amount of many thousands of dollars. If nothing further had resulted the organization had then justified its existence.

About the time these schools entered into the formal agreements with the University of Los Angeles corporation another holiness college, then conducting grade, high school and college work, was invited to enter into similar agreements. This school held meetings of its Board of Trustees, but did not perfect arrangement then to become affiliated. However, about a year later this school, after mature consideration by its Board, sent an authorized committee to the University Officers with a proposal, which was a most agreeable surprise, that the corporation, which held title to the school property, convey free of incumbrance, the entire plant and good will, valued at over one hundred thousand dollars, to the University corporation. The proposal was accepted by the University of Los Angeles, and with the assistance of the former officers and trustees of the college, some of whom became trustees of the University corporation, the school was conducted for two years with full profit to the young life of the student body. During the two years the University assumed and paid about twelve thousand dollars over and above the sums received for tuition, board and collections from other sources. An Executive Board made up of members of the respective Boards of the University and the College was in charge and responsible during the two years by authority of the University of Los Angeles.

Later action was taken by the Board of Trustees of the University Corporation and the Board of Trustees of the corporation owning the Los Angeles Pacific College, already an affiliated school, with the intention of providing closer relationship between these two holiness colleges. After several meetings of the respective Boards a formal agreement was entered into, by which the administration of the two colleges and a merger of the student body of each—as well as faculty as far as practicable—was conducted by an "Administrative Committee" under the control of a "Joint College Board." The college, so merged for administration purposes, is by agreement known as Los Angeles Pacific College, and has adopted the University "Statement of Doctrine," and Rules. This administrative agreement resulted, in the transfer of students of the high school and college departments, also much of the personal property and equipment to the campus of the Los Angeles Pacific College, and the administration of the merged institution was carried on at Highland Park in Los Angeles. Meantime the larger part of the buildings and a part of the furniture and equipment of the school at South Hollywood in Los Angeles has been used by a grade school under the management of Misses Leora Maris (now deceased), Rachel Maris and Bess S. Wood, who were formerly in charge of California College. All the real property conveyed to the University of Los Angeles was later disposed of and is now the property of the Oriental Missionary Society.

Paul R. Helsel, former president of Los Angeles Pacific College, once wrote an article in which he said, "The relationships are both historical and organic. They have been the roots which over a period of time and development have helped to produce a situation which is unique and reaches more deeply than the agreement of two contracting parties."

"The unifying elements, mentioned in the preceding paragraph, are the bone and sinew of the association, but in themselves they have been inactive. The active vitality which has begotten life and brought about results has been the Christian fellowship which has taken possession of those groups. This is fundamental. Elements may be frozen together, yet under the heat of the sun they fall apart again. But when the elements are forged together under the warmth of sincerity, fellowship and mutual confidence they will manifest strength and endurance."

Byron S. Lamson is now President of Los Angeles Pacific College and Fred H. Ross, who has been the President of the University Corporation since its organization, is the Vice-President. During the recent months of the history of this College there has been an increase of forty per cent in registration, $10,000 increase in assets and $13,000 decrease in the indebtedness. It is a fully accredited College, with "Old fashioned virtues, strong faculty, religion made attractive, students engaged in Evangelism, radio broadcasting and concert tours."

The Training School for Christian Workers at Huntington Park has an Alumni numbering over one hundred, nearly all of whom are ministers and missionaries. The Rev. D. H. Scott is the new President and "With God First" is going on victoriously with a newly enlarged enrollment.

We "have faith in God" on the Pacific Coast, for "God is Faithful."—W. Burt Clark.

LAWRENCEVILLE, ILLINOIS.

We report the following with an earnest desire to glorify God and praise his precious name for the marvelous way he has worked in our midst. The saints felt a great need of having a revival in the Mt. Olivet neighborhood on the Cisne Circuit, but we had to face a lot of opposition. The date of the meeting was changed two or three times, but we knew God was with us. Rev. Struebing, the pastor, is a very consecrated man, and Rev. Willie Court-right, the local preacher who had charge of the music, has a zeal for souls. God poured out his Spirit on the people in a wonderful way and twenty-two were saved. I never preached with more freedom than at this place where these people had such a thirst for righteousness. Our revival lasted three weeks, but some nights we remained until midnight with some young boys who dedicated their lives to God. We pray that God will lay his hand upon them, for he surely is calling them out to special work. They feel that they have received a call to the ministry. Praise God! We can pray down a revival most anywhere. Eula B. Crouch.

KEARNEY, NEBRASKA, CAMP.

The West Nebraska Holiness Association recently closed their 28th annual camp meeting on their grounds at Kearney, Neb. There was real victory in the camp from the first to the last service. All who were present agreed it was the best camp the Association has had in many years.

God gave us fine weather and the attendance was good; the crowds came in large numbers to hear the old-time gospel preached. Brother and Sister Aycock and daughter have been with us in camp for the sixth time, and are getting better in the Lord's work. We would recommend them to any camp or church who want the old-time gospel preached.

Rev. R. E. Gilmore, from Bethany, Okla., came to us for the first time. His strong messages and loving disposition won their way into the hearts of the people. May God's blessing be on this servant of his. If you want to get an evangelist who will put the devil on the run, get R. E. Gilmore.

We had Miss Jean Pound, a returned missionary from China, for the children and young people's worker. She was a real blessing to the children and young folks. Miss Pound works under the Oriental Missionary Society, or the Cowman and Kilbourne work in Tokio, Japan.

There were a large number of other ministers with us to pray and help push the work along. How we did enjoy having them with us. May the Lord bless each one of them who plans to be with us again next year.

The Association took in a large class of new members which indicates that people still love and are interested in interdenominational work.

There were many prayed through to victory; on some occasions the long altar would not accommodate all the seekers, so the front seats were used. Eternity will only tell the good that was accomplished in the 1931 camp.

Most of the old officers were re-elected for next year. Rev. E. P. Booher, President, Kennard, Neb., Rev. John Roe, of Riverdale, Neb., Vice President, B. J. Patterson, Secretary, of Kearney, Neb., A. H. Hughes, of Litchfield, Neb., Treasurer. The Association has called R. E. Gilmore, of Bethany, Okla., and O. H. Callis, of Wilmore, Ky., Otho and Billie Schwabb for our 1932 camp. Gaddis-Moser Evangelistic Party of Cincinnati, Ohio, for 1933 camp. Rev. J. Aycock, wife and daughter, of Bethany, Okla., and Rev. Mac Anderson, of Hutchinson, Kan., for 1934 camp.

Now if you have never been to the Kearney camp, come and you will come again. We give God all the glory for all that has been accomplished in these twenty-eight years. Please pray for us.

B. J. Patterson, Secretary.

IN THIS BUSY AGE

young women who are struggling, trying to live Christian lives, need a message of encouragement—a message that really creates in one a desire and determination to find time for the deep devotional life.

The little book, "Mary of Bethany," is one of the fullest, richest messages on the devotional life we have read. She had nothing too precious for Jesus and to read this wonderful little book will encourage, inspire and enrich any heart.

The price is only 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00. Order some to hand out just for the good they will do. It will be doing good preaching.

Mary of Bethany

will enrich your spiritual life. It is wonderful; when you have read it you will want and seek a closer walk with God, and you will give out more of your Christian life to those about you. Single copy, 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                               |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D. |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Mingleford, D.D.   |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simon-   |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             | son, D.D.                     |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahn.               | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.   |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.C.          | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.       |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. C. W. Ruth.              |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.         |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.         |
| Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D. |                               |

(Continued from page 1)

of mind, along with confidence on the part of the patient in his physician. As you well know, this will be of much value in your practice of medicine.

As a preacher, I have tried to judge my unselfishness and real love for mankind in my attitude toward the very worst moral and spiritual specimens of humanity. We have no trouble in admiring successful, magnetic, handsome people. As a rule, we are quite ready to render them any assistance within our power. We would naturally feel they were worth praying for and, if possible, bring them into the church, and receive from them compensation for any labor or care we might have invested in them. But this is no test of a preacher's piety. Do I love the human wrecks? Do I hasten to pray for and succor a sick harlot or a condemned criminal? Does my heart go out in tender pity to the bloated drunkard, drivelling in his inebriety and rags? Will I, with an earnest, warm heart labor for the salvation of human souls where there is no probability that they will in any way be able to make returns to me. Our Lord Jesus gave us some most striking examples along this line.

I suggest that you make this test of your spiritual life. Will you give the full benefit of your skill to a poor, unworthy, desolate sufferer from whom you can expect no reward. If you can do this with genuine professional enthusiasm, I think you stand the test of a true Christian.

It is a fine thing for a doctor, when attending a patient, to be able to very largely disconnect his mind with other patients and other things, and combine his thought, learning and experience upon the party whom he is now attending. An excellent physician, with a sad heart, told me of the loss of the life of a promising young man because he failed to concentrate, and make a thorough investigation of that young man's condition. He said he could hardly forgive himself, when he reflected on the fact that his mind was diverted and he failed to carefully examine the patient and to diagnose as he should have done. Had he done so, he believed he could have saved the life of the young man. A sad memory to carry through life, although he determined that it would make him more careful ever afterward.

Some doctors enter a sick room with the appearance of being in a great hurry to get away and attend some other patient of so much more importance that they scarcely have time to look at, speak to, or learn anything of the patient now supposed to be receiving treatment. A little conversation is good for most any patient. It helps him to feel that the doctor is a friend and is willing to take time to draw up close to the bedside, to examine the eyes, feel the pulse, look at the tongue, and to say something encouraging.

I have frequently gone to physicians for treatment in their offices. They gave me an examination, but said nothing about my condition, whether my symptoms indicated a small disorder or a serious state of health. I have them treat me frequently, without saying why they did it, or what the results would be; act, you understand, as if I were a wooden man, or an ignoramus, without intelligence to appreciate whatever they might have to say about my condition. The fact is, the doctor acted as if his mind was somewhere else, and my treatment was entirely mechanical. The mental effect was not at all beneficial to my physical condition.

Situated as you are, you will necessarily be a very active man, hurrying to and fro looking after your patients, sometimes in an automobile, sometimes by buggy, often on horseback. You will have hurry calls which will interfere with your meals, night calls which will take you out of a warm bed into the winter blast. It will be thoroughly romantic; you will hasten to assist the stork with a new arrival; you will go among feudists to try to staunch the blood of some one who has been shot down in a brawl; you will hurry to relieve excruciating pain, and to save life. You will be filled with gratitude and renewed confidence in your skill when those who were near death's door, come back to life, strength and usefulness. Your heart will ache with sorrow when disease overmasters your skill, and death claims your patient you have come to love. What a busy, interesting life is yours! May God grant you grace and guidance in all of your service to your fellowbeings.

Faithfully, your friend and brother,
H. C. MORRISON.

The Prison Problem.

We are hearing much through the public press of overcrowded prisons, penitentiary riots, and the importance of new and larger prisons. It has occurred to us that a very practical way to reduce the overcrowded conditions in the prisons would be such a prompt and severe punishment for crime that men would be deterred from the commission of crime. It is a well-known fact that the murders committed in England are a mere trifle compared to the murders committed in the United States. It is well understood that they make short shift of murderers in England. Prompt trial, no escapes, and the hangman's noose awaits the murderer in England. Who is going to commit murder if he or she, thinking over the matter, believes that they will almost certainly go to the gallows for their crime. The prompt enforcement of the law and the punishment of criminals are sure to have a deterrent effect upon those disposed to crime. I do not suppose that Brisbane would agree with this statement, nevertheless, it is true.

A very large percent of the crime committed in this country is committed by foreigners. It would be a great thing if a shipload of these people could be sent out of this country every few months until we were relieved of much of the bootlegging, murder and robbery that goes on about us everywhere.

A criminal was taken from jail and hung by a mob down in Texas. He had robbed a bank, shot down a banker and reached the limit of law violation and for some two years had been in prison, with a group of lawyers staying proper conviction and punishment. Why should not a bank robber who shoots down in cold blood, the banker, be brought to trial and punished at once? It was well known that he had committed the crime; after two years' delay he assumes to be paralyzed, practices the deception with such remarkable skill, that one afternoon the cell door is left open, he leaps up, undertakes to make his escape, seizes a pistol and kills the jailer, an excellent and highly respected citizen. A mob rises, breaks into the jail and hangs the man who should have been punished by due course of law at least eighteen months ago. But the slowness of the courts and shrewdness of lawyers keeps this cold-blooded murderer alive until he shoots down another citizen. We by no means endorse mob law; we detest it, but we are not much surprised that now and then people become outraged by the delays of the courts and the shrewd tricks of lawyers in the defense of criminals who are guilty of the highest crimes possible.

Prompt and severe punishment is bound to make those who contemplate crime think of the seriousness of it. No one criminally inclined wants to be hung. If murderers were promptly punished in this country it would cut down the number of murders committed to a comparatively small number. No thief wants to spend a term of years in the penitentiary. If the officials and juries of this nation would inaugurate a tremendous drive against crime there would be a wonderful decrease of crime.

H. C. MORRISON.

A RARE COMMODITY.

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

We recently read a clipping, written by Henry M. Hyde, which voices sentiments which have been running through our mind for some time. It is on "The Gift of Sincerity," and he tells what we want to say so much better than we could, we are going to give the clipping in full. He goes on to say:

"Take from a man every gift but sincerity; let him be blind and deaf and lame, let him stammer in his speech, lack education and good manners; handicap him as you please, so you leave him sincerity, and he will command respect and attention. His work will endure. The world, which is always looking for the real thing, will gladly overlook all his infirmities.

"In every relation of life, sincerity is the secret of power. The salesman who does not himself sincerely believe in the merits of his goods will generally be a failure. The business man who sets about to fool other people must end—as he has, in fact, begun—by making a fool of himself. The clergyman who preaches anything that his soul does not approve need look no farther to explain empty pews.

"There is no virtue that more men believe in and fewer men practice. Many of us, it may be fair to say, are busily engaged in the utterly futile attempt to run a bluff on the rest of the world. From pillow shams and false fronts to imitation marble buildings and watered stocks, things are largely what they seem.

"The chief anxiety of too many people is to keep up appearances. If they are poor, they must at any rate appear to be rich. When Jones, the wealthy brewer across the street, sets up a motor car, the Brown family put a mortgage on the house and let the butcher go unpaid to the end that they, too, may boast an automobile.

"If they are ignorant, they at least affect culture. 'We are going to spend the winter in Washington on account of its wonderful educational advantages,' says Mrs. Jenkins. 'We expect to put dear Alyce in the Smithsonian Institute.'

"Be a real man—not a shoddy sport or a sham aristocrat. Be sincere with yourself, your friends, and your work. With sincerity, a few talents and a little strength may go far. Without it genius must fail."

Now do you not all agree with us that Mr. Hyde strikes the keynote on this question? It has gotten to be a genuine treat to have a real, transparent, sincere person cross your path, and oh, when you do find such an one, how refreshing it is. You feel like you want to hold them fast and never from them part.

We were in a grocery store not long since and a girl was at the phone who seemed evidently in much trouble; presently she said to the groceryman, "George died last night." "He did," said the groceryman, "That is too bad," and after she had left the store the man said, "I think it is a good thing, for some reasons." Now we do not censure the man for thus expressing himself, but it shows how apt we are to say one thing when we mean another. Of course an unscrupulous person does not think anything of this, but to be genuinely sincere, we must be watchful of our remarks and always speak what we really feel in our hearts.

It is said in making massive pillars for ancient buildings, they would often get damaged material and cement the broken fragments together with wax and then polish it over until the defects were entirely hidden. So we are told that the word sincere means without wax. That is, the pure article clear through; no faulty particles cemented together with wax, but genuine from core to rind. The honey without the comb. This is what we mean by a sincere person; one who has not tried to cover up his defects and shortcomings by cementing them together with a profession of gentility, false smiles and smooth words.

Paul doubtless saw much of this in his time, for when writing to the Philippians he prayed that they might be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ. Waterland truly said, "The more sincere you are, the better it will fare with you at the great day of account." But the trouble is that people who are insincere, forget these solemn facts and drift along bent on "making an impression" in spite of what the consequences may be in the other world.

There are some natural woods which can never be improved by polishing them. The very grain and weave in their natural state are beautiful to behold; so it is with an unadulterated, sincere character; there is no sort of polish which is necessary to add to its luster and beauty. In fact, the natural is so beautiful, that it does not occur that improvement is necessary.

One commenting upon this word says, "Sincerity is a thing which may be examined in the clearest and strongest light, without the possibility of detecting a single flaw or imperfection." In other words, "We are to be so purified and refined in our souls, by the indwelling Spirit, that even the light of God shining in our hearts, shall not be able to discover a fault that the love of God has not purged away." To sound the word down to its real meaning, we find that it places one upon the plane of moral perfection, or as Clarke says, "The soul that is sincere, is the soul that is without sin."

When we began to write upon this subject it did not occur to us to be as serious as it does since we have been contemplating its depth of meaning. Most people consider that to be insincere, is just to be a little deceitful, to be tactful in keeping up appearances, to "pass well" in the eyes of the world, but when we measure it by the plumb line of perfection, how far short many of us come. Let us be so conscious of the integrity of our inner selves, that we will not scringe to be held up where the Sun of righteousness can shine through us without any obstruction occasioned by concealed defects and sins. May the prayer of our heart be that of Philip Dodridge when he said,

"O Thou great God, whose piercing eye
Distinctly marks each deep recess,

In these sequestered hours draw nigh,
And with thy presence fill the place.

"Through all the mazes of my heart,
My search let heavenly wisdom guide,
And still its radiant beams impart,
Till all be searched and purified.

"Then with the visits of thy love,
Vouchsafe my inmost soul to cheer;
Till every grace shall join to prove
That God has fixed his dwelling there."

Promoting Christian Fellowship.

BY A. H. M. ZAHNISER.

NE of the beautiful Psalms of David opens with the exclamation, "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity!" (Psa. 133:1). As a part of the marvelous prayer offered by the Master, and recorded in the seventeenth chapter of John, he prays "That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." Doubtless the great apostle Paul was familiar with the teachings of both the Psalmist and the Lord Jesus, when he wrote, "Let us therefore follow after the things that make for peace, and things wherewith one may edify another;" and, again, "Above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness. And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body and be ye thankful."

Saint Peter was impressed and imbued with the same sentiment and purpose, and urged, "Above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall cover the multitude of sins" (1 Peter 4:8). And in his second epistle he exhorts against apostasy, and to perseverance. In doing so, he gives us an interesting problem in spiritual addition. Observe his words and method. "And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge; and to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness; and to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity" (2 Peter 1:5-7).

How can we better promote Christian fellowship within the Church than to give heed to the exhortation of Saint Paul to "follow after the things that make for peace, and the things wherewith one may edify another?" And how can we do this more successfully than pursuing the course prescribed by Peter, and quoted above? He seems to reach his climax in urging brotherly kindness and charity. Such a course will preclude harsh and hasty judgment of others. It will cause Christians to be ladies and gentlemen, and will result in the little girl's prayer being answered, who prayed, "God, make all the bad people good, and the good people easy to live with."

One family which had formerly disagreed strongly and quarreled among themselves, after ceasing to do so and after having a quiet and peaceful home, assigned as the cause that they had taken two bears to live with them. The one described in Colossians 3:13, "Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another if any man have a quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye." And the other named in Galatians 6:2, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ." These are two valuable bears, more than worth their keeping, in every church society as well as within every family circle.

There is at least one Christian endeavor society to which every one of us should belong. It is mentioned in Ephesians 4:3, "Endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace." As we are drawn to Christ, and become more and more like him, we will be drawn closer to each other. United to Christ the living Head of the Church, in him we are united with each other. Abiding as living branches in the One True Vine is not only the sure way to be fruit bearing Christians but also keeps us partaking of the same life-giving flow, and closely related and united.

Sin is always a disquieting and a disturbing element. We are told through the Prophet Isaiah that, "The wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt. There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked." (See Isa. 57:20, 21). If Christians would be freed from that which divides and makes trouble, let them put away wrong-doing and seek to get rid of sin. The true and lasting ground for Christian fellowship is on an anti-sin basis. "If we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin." (1 John 1:7).

When such an experience is attained we may sing with real meaning and true fervor,

"E'en now we think and speak the same
And cordially agree,
United all, through Jesus' Name,
In perfect harmony.
And if our fellowship below
In Jesus be so sweet
What height of rapture shall we know,
When round the throne we meet."

The Methodist Holiness League Convention.

A convention of five days will be held by the Methodist Holiness League in Trinity Methodist Church, Corner Third and Guthrie, Louisville, Ky., beginning Wednesday evening, October 28, closing Sabbath, November 1. All Christians desiring to see a spiritual awakening and a genuine revival of religion are especially invited to attend these meetings. Those who cannot attend will please to pray earnestly for the presence and blessing of the Holy Spirit. Rev. H. C. Morrison will be the preacher for these meetings. Any one outside the city desiring to attend these meetings may write the pastor, Rev. E. R. Overly, D. D., care Trinity M. E. Church, Louisville, Ky.

Faussett's Bible Cyclopedia

will give you valuable help in Bible study. Don't miss the opportunity to get a $3.00 volume for $1.00. A marvelous book at a marvelously low price. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Man Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THREE CHAPTERS FROM MY LIFE STORY.

By Mrs. Lee Aroll.

Chapter I.

I was sweet sixteen; a good natured, happy, healthy, pretty girl. I was one of a family of pretty girls; we were known far and near as "the pretty Alexander girls." We all had very fair complexions, white teeth, large blue eyes and kissable mouths. Lastly, we all, like our much envied English sisters, had low, soft voices. We all loved to go, loved to dress, loved to have company and, shall I say it? We all loved the attention and flattery of gentlemen. Being only sixteen years old, of course, I was in school; but after I met handsome Mr. M., I studied his endearing words to me more than I studied my textbooks, and school became to me a secondary matter. Mr. M. was many years older than myself, but he was certainly the handsomest man I ever saw. He was rather an artistic man, dressed elegantly, and his company manners were almost faultless. He seemed very much in love with me and I simply worshipped him. When he asked me to be his wife and urged my mother for her consent to an early marriage, she very wisely said I was too young and inexperienced, and that she did not feel that she knew him well enough to commit me to his keeping. He pleaded so earnestly that she gave a very reluctant consent; and when I was barely seventeen years of age I became Martin M.'s wife.

I cannot tell how much I loved him and how proud I was to be his wife, nor how I hastened to do his every bidding. I shall never forget how happy I was the first six weeks of my wedded life; then came my rude awakening from this happy dream. One evening Mr. M. went to his lodge and did not get home until next morning. He was brought home, for he was so drunk he could neither walk nor stand. He drank for a week. This was my first experience with whiskey, but I soon found it was not to be my last. I thought my heart would break, for not only was I filled with unutterable shame, but this man who had wooed me so gently, and had been so kind, loving and indulgent to me since my marriage, was now cross, exacting, fault-finding and sometimes even cruel. God alone knows what I suffered during that terrible week. After the week was over he quit drinking, begged my pardon, made many fair promises and I took him to my bruised, sad, heart and was more of a slave to him than ever.

For the next three months we were very happy, excepting one sad day for me. We were keeping house and I was trying so hard to please Mr. M. with my cooking and housekeeping. My, oh, my, how hard I worked—but one day I was so busy that I did not dust after sweeping. After dinner I went into the room to change my dress and to arrange my hair, and up on the dresser in the thick dust were these awful words: "Sloven Sally." I cried until my eyes looked as though I had attended the funeral of my last earthly friend, for I knew these awful words were written by Mr. M., and I loved him so they were more than a whipping from anyone else. I never forgot to dust the furniture after that day, and I worked harder than ever to please him and make him proud of my house-keeping and cooking. And then came the second awful blow. One night he was brought home drunk, and instead of drinking one week, as he did before, he drank one month. I thought this time I should die, but death does not always come to the young and strong; and after days of trying he again quit drinking, made many fair promises and kept them for three months. Then he got on a spree and stayed drunk for weeks. I cannot tell what I suffered, for there are no words in the language to express the woes of a drunkard's wife. These days people think very lightly of divorce but in those days a woman, carefully reared, would nearly as soon thought of going to jail as of getting a divorce; and she would have thought going to jail nearly as respectable. So I bore it bravely as I could, and I bore it silently and loved him through it all. But ere long I knew his case was hopeless, and in less than three years he filled a drunkard's grave. I loved him and was his devoted slave until death did us part.

(Continued)

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little girl from Massachusetts join your happy band of boys and girls? I am twelve years old Dec. 25. I am in the fifth grade. I have brown eyes, black hair, and tall. Have I a twin? See if you can guess what my middle name is. It begins with L and ends with E.

Marion L. Hardy.
East Braintree, Mass.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Well here I come once again, with a plan that I hope will gain me just lots of correspondents. Have any of you cousins ever belonged to a Round Robin Club? That is a club where one person writes a letter to another who reads the letter, writes one of their own, places the two letters in an envelope and mails them on to a third person. The third reads the two, writes one, places all three in an envelope and mails to the fourth person. The fifth and sixth do likewise, then the sixth mails all six letters back to the original writer who removes her or his letter from the six, writes another and starts it on its round again. I think this would be lots of fun and it would save one person from writing so much. So if any of you cousins would care to join this club just write to me and the first five letters that I receive I will make into a club, and the next five the same way. Of course I would have to tell you who to send your letters to. So get busy, boys and girls, and write to me immediately. Say Peter Mayer, what ever has become of you? I wrote and mailed my last letter to Detroit, Mich., and it came back unclaimed. Then I sent it and another to Enid, Okla., and I never heard from you again. So if you see this please write. I am twenty-two years of age and have been sick about seven years, but thank God I am trying to live a Christian life. Here comes Mr. W. B. with his mouth wide open; he just looks so hungry. Hide me, Aunt Bettie, quick, so that he won't get me.

Mabel L. Adams.
Rt. 3, Box 38, Latham, Kan.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please move over for just a moment and let a little Colorado girl in your bright and happy circle of boys and girls for a little chat? If you were seeing me personally, you would see a violet-eyed girl, with brown wavy hair, fair complexion, who stands just an even five feet. I am twenty years old. I am wondering if you could secure for me any information concerning my penpal who was at the time Miss Estelle Gorman. She taught school in Walnut Hill, Fla., the last that I heard. If any one can tell me her address I would appreciate their doing so, for I would love to hear from her again. Anyone else wishing to write I would love to hear from them but I can't promise to answer all letters I receive, but I will certainly try. Aunt Bettie, be sure to print this for me please, and help me find my lost penpal. I am a member of the Church of the Nazarene and try to attend every Sunday I can. Hoping Mr. W. B. is busy looking for "Lindy," I will close.

Martha Alice Langley.
Weldona, Colo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Please admit a Senior shut-in to your corner. I am in very ill health. I had a paralytic stroke and can't walk. I can't see how to read and write much. My aged husband and I live alone on a farm. I sit up most all day in my chair. Postman comes near my room. Please give me a shower of letters and reading matter. I am a Christian and love all churches. Glad to know so many young folks are following Jesus. My niece, Mrs. Jack Krone, Lanes Prairie, Missouri, is also a shut-in. She is my oldest correspondent. For forty-five years we have written each other. I hope to meet you all in heaven. May God's richest blessings rest upon you all. Please pray for my healing. I am now seventy-three years young. If Mrs. P. F. Letterman reads this be sure to write to me.

Your sister in Christ,
Mrs. Mary Adkins.
Elwood, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May I join your happy band of boys and girls? I am fourteen years old. I am in the sixth grade. I have black hair. I have one sister and one half sister, Sybil Ruth and Una Mae. My birthday is March 24. I am a Christian but have not joined a church. Can anyone guess my name? It starts with M and ends with E, and has four letters in it. With greeting to all the cousins and Aunt Bettie.

M. Dee Jones.
Magnolia, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let an Arkansas girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I will be twelve in October. I have been saved and want to join the church this winter. Who can guess my first name? It begins with S and ends with Y. It has five letters in it.

S. Ruth Jones.
Magnolia, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Here comes a man from Chicago. I have taken The Herald for a number of years. I have just begun to enjoy page ten. I thought it was just for children but I see older people write, too. I surely do love The Pentecostal Herald. I have met a very nice young man through page ten, and have had the pleasure of meeting him this summer. We have been corresponding almost a year. I do love to meet people who love to read the dear old Herald. He has come back to Chicago to live for awhile. I am thirty-seven years old, weigh 197 pounds, have light complexion, blonde hair and blue eyes. I would love to get some letters from some who are lonesome and feel as if no one cares for them, or any one without a mother, for I know how one feels. I travel every summer and would love to have some one near my age to travel with me. I will close for this time. Aunt Bettie, please print this for me, as I want some pals through page ten. Will answer all who will send their photos, and promise an answer without fail.

Your cousin and friend in The Herald,
Edward Gregg.
General Delivery, Chicago, Ill.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a New Mexico girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am a girl eleven years old and in the fifth grade. I have blue eyes and brown hair. I have one sister and one brother. My sister is seventeen years old; she is married and has a baby girl seventeen months old. My brother is thirteen years old and in the seventh grade. I belong to the Nazarene Church. I have been baptized. Will all of you cousins save up all of your stamps and send them to me. Betty Koehled, I guess your middle name to be June. Charlotte Show, I guess your middle name to be Irene. Reba Eby, I guess your middle name to be Jean. Am I right, girls? If I am, please write to me. I will answer all letters I receive. Now guess my middle name. It begins with E and ends with A, and has four letters in it. I will give some one else room because this is my second time to write. I hope Mr. W. B. is out in the mountains hunting when this letter arrives.

Ina Zell.
Pedernal, New Mex.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a Virginia girl join your happy band of boys and girls? I am eighteen years old, and a senior in High School. I would like to hear from both young and old everywhere. I love Jesus with all my heart, and am walking in the narrow way with him by my side every day. I have found that it pays to serve Jesus, and I expect, through his grace, to go all the way with him. Praise his holy name. I am quite sure that I have had the call to the mission fields of Africa. I am ready to go when he sends. I want to go to God's Bible School in Ohio for my training.

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

ANTI-EVOLUTIONARY SCIENCE

Home School Classes forming. 25c brings lit. Geology, Biology, etc. What is SCIENCE EVANGELISM?

Five College presidents on Board of Governors

American Science Foundation.

Fred E. Bennett, A.M., Pres.
Suite 1008 College Bank of Commerce Bldg., 7 S. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.

I praise God for what he has done for me. He has given me a peace that "the world can't give, nor take away." He has taken all desire for the things of the world out of my heart, and now he abides. Jesus truly is a wonderful Savior, and I want to tell every reader of this fine paper that I have never regretted the day when I came to the cross of Calvary and had my sins washed in the precious blood of Jesus. Glory to his name. It's a rugged way, but oh, such a peaceful, happy way.

Marguerite Merchant.
Waterford, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let me into your happy circle of boys and girls? This is my second letter to The Herald. I live way back in the mountains of Virginia near the President's Lodge. I go to Mr. Hoover's school. We have a nice school. He sure is a nice President. Miss Christine Vest is my teacher. My two sisters and two brothers and I go to school. I am in the seventh grade. When I get high enough I am going to High School if I possibly can. I am a member of the Brethren church. I joined the church six years ago, and I want all the good Christian people to pray for me and my little afflicted sister who is almost blind and can't talk. She is four years of age. As it is getting late I will quit hoping to hear from all the girls and boys all over the U. S. A., and would like to hear from old people too. Am seventeen, five feet, five inches tall, weigh 130 pounds. I will answer all letters I receive if it takes me a year to write them.

Essie V. Meadows.
Syria, Va., Madison Co.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a girl from Georgia join your happy band of boys and girls? Georgia seems to be the dearest state to me. You are doing better now. Sept. 2, there were two letters from Georgia. I am fourteen years old and in the ninth grade. My birthday is Aug. 3. Have I a twin? If so, please write and let me know and I will write to you. Josephine Dunn, I guess your first name to be Sarah. If I am right don't forget your promise. Clara Riggs, I guess your middle name to be Ruth. I am four feet, nine and one-half inches, light complexion, long, dark hair and blue, gray eyes, weigh 70 pounds. Who can guess my first name? It starts with G and ends with E, and has six letters in it. I started in August to reading the Bible and am going to try to read it through by next August. I read the daily Bible reading most every day. I will answer all letters I receive if I possibly can. I like to read The Herald, especially page ten. I hope Mr. W. B. will be at the barber shop when this letter arrives.

Mescal Smith.
Rt. 4, Cairo, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please let two little brothers join your band of Boys and Girls? I am Jack Willson Logan, eight years old, and my little baby brother, Kenneth Ray Logan, is five years old. We are little Christians. We love Jesus and try to do right every day. We see a hard time as our dear Daddy has been sick two or three years, not able to work. He is in the last stage of T. B., and cannot be with us much longer. Little brother and I used to go to church and Sunday school every Sunday with Daddy before he got past going. Daddy is a preacher. Our address is, Jack and Kenneth Logan, Box 153, Sanger, Texas.

FALLEN ASLEEP

NAPIER.

Clare Bessie Napier, daughter of C. S. Blankinship, was born Oct. 26, 1909; passed to her eternal reward, Sept. 30, 1931, age 21 years, 11 months, four days. She was married to Maxie A. Napier, June 5, 1927. She professed faith in Christ and joined the Church at Mt. Union, Aug. 29, 1920, where she remained a faithful member until God called her home.

Bessie had been in ill health for several months; suffered a great deal but was patient through it all. The writer was a witness to her passing away and has never witnessed anything so wonderful. Just before losing sight of this world she told her loved ones that their faces shone like gold. She then lost sight of this world and saw into a far better world than this. She spoke of seeing her sister, cousin, grandfather, grandmother, and mother-in-law who had preceded her; and then she saw a whole host, also pretty flowers, a beautiful gate, gold-paved streets, and a beautiful light. She said, "Just listen at that pretty singing." She sang two songs just before going home—"I'll be no stranger there," and "When we all shall gather home." She asked her friends if they were ready for the trumpet to sound. Her last words were, "Bessie, you're healed." Bessie was indeed a lovable character and will be missed by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, father, mother, three brothers, two sisters, two half brothers, two half sisters, besides a host of friends and relatives.

Her funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. C. Jones and Rev. E. L. Napier, which were largely attended; after which her body was laid to rest to await the resurrection in the Mt. Union Cemetery.

"A precious one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is still;
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled.
But as she could no longer stay,
To cheer us with her love,
We hope to meet her some sweet day,
In the beautiful home above."

Her brother-in-law,

Ray Gilliam.

Rt. 1, Westmoreland, Tenn.

A BRAVE BOY.

Lora S. LaMance.

After Braddock's defeat in 1755 the Indians of Pennsylvania went on the warpath. More than 150 settlers were killed and many houses were burned. There was a family there by the name of Waltman. The father and older brother belonged to the militia and had been ordered west to protect a fort.

One day a messenger on a fleet horse came dashing up. He stopped just long enough to shout, "The Indians are coming, and killing as they go! Run to the garrisons at Lancaster or Bethlehem!"

At the Waltman home there were the mother and eight children. There was not a grown man on the place. The mother turned to Valentine, the oldest boy at home. He was fourteen. "You must be a man," she crisply said. "We must be out of here in fifteen minutes."

Valentine rounded up Frederick, twelve years old, and William, who was ten. "Turn out the hogs and the chickens! Turn the cattle out! Tie the horses together, ride on two of them. Take that path over the hill and go straight west and north to the stockade. If the Indians come, ride hard, or if necessary let the stock go and save your lives. Take two loaves of bread with you, and cold meat. Make no fires. Keep a sharp lookout and hide in the bushes and keep still!"

The two little fellows were off in ten minutes. Three days after they reached the fort, hungry and tired, but they had saved the horses and themselves.

Valentine took the fastest team of horses for the rest of the family. By the time that he had hitched them to the wagon and piled in feed, his mother and sister Eleanor had brought bundles and bed quilts full of household plunder and a big box of victuals. Mrs. Waltman sat on the front seat with Valentine. She held the three months old baby. In the back, among the bundles, sat Eleanor and her charges, little Michael and Lewis and sobbing two-year-old Barbara, frightened and trembling.

Off they went, bumping over the roughest of roads, with mud holes and deep ruts everywhere. Bump! bump! bump! Valentine drove furiously, keeping an eye open for Indians, and looking to see if his little brothers were coming with the horses. They got through in safety.

Boys could be men in those days.

PLEASANT THOUGH NOT PLEASED.

This not hypocritically; but graciously. Some give us no pleasure spiritually, in fact they are as painful griefs, and empty disappointments to our souls. They have neither fellowship with our spiritual service for Christ, nor any sympathy with our loftier aspirations. And yet they are nominally and formally and perhaps, even actively related to the church. To them our zeal seems like fanaticism, our renunciation of worldly vanities is needless self-denial; and they pride themselves on their superior moderation and better balance in religion. And until they see us hopelessly set in our ways they would express their friendship for us by advising or urging us to "take better care of ourselves," and to be like them in having a good time. All of this grieves and grates upon us, and, far from giving us pleasure causes us much pain. The pain even, of isolation or desolation so far as these are concerned.

Yet some of these are in daily contact with us, as neighbors, as fellow workmen, or even as members of our own families—possibly our own children or maybe even the companion of our own bosom. And all of them have souls like ours, as precious to the Lord as are our own.

We cannot, we must not,—and divine love says we will not, regard them either as enemies of ours or as non-entities or of no account. We must bury our own feelings in their interests. We must lose sight of our pains for their pleasures. We must study and labor to "please every man for his good to edification."

And how can we do this? How can we be pleasant when we are not pleased? How can we, without feigning, smile without when we are weeping within?

We shall suggest three rules for this:

1. With all our other cares, cast our heart ache upon him that careth for us. For our lack of pleasure in others he will give us peace in himself.
2. Think more of their side of the case than of our own. Seeing they lack the deep pleasure that we ourselves have in God, let us give them all the pleasure that we ourselves can consistently afford. Let our very deprivations of their fellowship impel us to give them the best we can of ourselves.
3. Let us depend upon the indwell-

PENTECOSTAL HERALD UNTIL FEBRUARY, 1932, ONLY 25c.

DO ONE OF THESE FOUR THINGS.

Send us $1.00 and we will send The Herald to four people until next February.

Send us $2.00 and we will send The Herald to eight people until next February.

Send us $5.00 and we will send The Herald to twenty people until next February.

Send us any amount and we will send The Herald to as many people until next February as the amount will cover at 25c each.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

ing Spirit to reproduce through us the life of him that "pleased not himself"; but suffered all manner of slight, of slur and of scorn, from those in whom he had right to expect joy. The world he made failed to recognize him. The people and nation he built up rejected him. And a disciple that ate bread with him lifted up his heel against him.

The loving mother still welcomes to the warm and tasty meal she has prepared, the boy that is breaking her heart. She strokes the hair and kisses the cheek of her erring daughter who is wandering from the house of God and the paths of righteousness to the playhouse and the ways of the world.

The faithful doctor, despite putrid sores, the foul breath, and the fretful spirit, and cantankerous will of a disgusting patient, smiles and cheers and makes it appear his delight to labor to relieve and to save the life of such a one.

And where we can see no vestige of change or ground of hope for those who have deserted us, and wellnigh thrust us through with spear and arrows, we may still have the pleasure of knowing that: "If we suffer with him we shall also reign with him." And thus the pleasures we miss in others we find in love and in him.

"Paulus."

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

T. W. B.: "Will those who know the worth of prayer, pray for a father who is sorely afflicted, that he may be healed in soul and body."

E. T. W.: "Please to pray for my wife who has been afflicted for several years, that she may be healed, and most of all, that she may be sanctified."

Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee. Isa. 26:3.

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The History of the Christian Church

FROM THE EARLIEST TIMES TO A. D. 461.

By

Prof. F. J. Foakes-Jackson, D.D.

The Jews' return to Jerusalem from their Babylonian Captivity (B.C. 535) is the point at which Prof. Foakes-Jackson begins this delightfully interesting history of the Christian Church. Ideas hospitable to Christianity were current centuries before the coming of Christ. Greece and Rome both contributed to the preparation of the way for the Gospel—the one by philosophy and the other by the establishment of law and order.

The author pictures the rise of the family of Herod on the ruins of the Asmonean Dynasty, the rebuilding of the Temple, and then tells in his singularly enchanting way of the Church of the Apostles, the Christian Church and the Roman Government, Christian Thought in the Early Centuries, Organization of the Church. He gives a vivid sketch of the social life of the Church at this early period, with descriptions of the churches of Rome, Carthage, and Alexandria.

The entire book is scholarly, informative, absorbingly interesting and written in a captivating style. It sets forth the results of modern investigation in the field of ecclesiastical history and literature. It is not to be surpassed as a text and reference book of the early Christian Church and deserves a place in every minister's library. 672 pages. Original price, $3. Our special price $1.00. PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Kentucky.

Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. James 4:8.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson V.—November 1, 1931.

Subject.—World's Temperance Lesson. Gal. 5:13-26; Romans 13:1-14.

Golden Text.—Be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit. Ephesians 5:18.

Time.—A. D. 56 to 58.

Place.—Not certainly known, but either in Macedonia or at Corinth. Romans was written at Corinth.

Introduction.—Galatia was not a city, but a region of country north-east of the Mediterranean Sea. It was composed of such cities as Iconium, Lystra, Antioch, and Derbe, and the regions surrounding them. It was in these cities that Paul and Barnabas established churches on their first missionary journey. This great epistle must have passed from place to place, in order that all the churches might hear it read.

The lesson from the epistle to the Roman church is given here more as a reading lesson than as a critical study. No doubt the lesson Committee intended that it should strengthen the selection from Galatians. Therefore, we shall confine our study mainly to the latter epistle.

It may be well for us to repeat here the oft-quoted statement, that liberty does not mean license. In a civilized land one man's liberty ends where another man's rights begin. True freedom does not permit me to take, or to destroy, what properly belongs to my neighbor. Just herein lies the true basis for prohibition of such things as narcotics and alcoholic liquors. Men who sell and drink intoxicating liquors, and such drugs as cocaine, opium, morphine, and kindred drugs trample on the rights and liberties of decent citizens; and the state must protect these innocent people. No one has any moral or civil right to sell, give away for drinking purposes, nor to use and drink that which militates against the welfare of his fellow-men.

The wets in this land are crying for personal rights, personal liberty; but that is mere propaganda. What they wish is license to do as they please. For the sake of dollars and booze they are ready to trample the very life out of helpless women and children. But these innocent ones must be protected, if this nation is to stand for the coming years. "Woe to him that buildeth a city with blood," is just as true now as it was when Israel was a nation.

Why is it that the wets are crying so loudly for states' rights in dealing with the problem of intoxicating liquors, but make no fight for states' rights in dealing with other narcotics? Do they wish the states to fight cocaine and opium individually and singly, as they wish them to fight alcohol? Both fights would be impossible. There is something dishonest and unmanly in this demand. Give it no quarter. These wets howl like coyotes in a snow-storm, till two sound like forty.

It is pitiable to hear that such numbers of the American Legion are crying for intoxicating drink. It is sad, because it is going to react against them as certainly as good men live. The nation should be justly concerned for the welfare of those men; and, as far as possible, when it can be done without national injury, their reasonable demands should be met; but this nation has no moral right to yield to their demands when by so doing the great mass of our citizenry will suffer injury. These men should have that sort of patriotism that sacrifices for the upbuilding of the nation.

It might clinch things a bit to tell the story of Pat and Mike when the latter went on a spree. In the fullness of his alcoholic joy Mike was shouting for his American liberty, and throwing his arms about vigorously; whereupon he landed a severe blow on Pat's nose; but Pat promptly knocked him down, and said: "I will have you to know, Sor, that your liberty ends just where my nose begins." That is the entire thing in an acorn shell.

Paul had no little trouble with the churches in Galatia because of certain Jews who professed to be Christians, but were legalistic Judaizers. They taught the converts that they must comply with the ceremonial laws of Moses in order to be saved. That was contrary to the freedom of the gospel; and Paul met them with kindness, but with terrible severity, declaring that if any other man, or even an angel from heaven, preached to them any other gospel than that he had preached, "let him be accursed." A false gospel is worse than none, for it pre-empt the ground, so that it is impossible to reach its dupes with the true gospel of Jesus Christ. The epistle to the Galatians was written largely to overthrow this false teaching.

Comments on the Lesson.

13. Ye have been called unto liberty.—Anything but true Christianity is slavery. But, while we are thus called unto liberty in Christ Jesus, we must not use our "liberty for an occasion to the flesh." Our liberty must not lead us into sin. Rather must we use this liberty for a service to our fellows in love one toward another.

14. Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Paul says this fulfils all the law, meaning, of course, in relation to men. There is still a higher law which demands that we love God with all our heart, soul, mind, and strength; but this in no way conflicts with Paul's teaching: these two laws are counterparts of each other. He whose heart is filled with pure love to man and God, does everything else that is right to man and God.

15. If ye bite and devour one another.—Here the savage, carnivorous beast comes on the scene. Men of such a spirit will destroy one another just as beasts do in the jungles.

16. Walk in the Spirit.—Follow the leadership of the Holy Ghost. There is no other safety for any one; for otherwise he will "fulfil the lust of the flesh," the desires of his carnal nature.

17. The flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh.—This will always be true until the flesh, the carnal mind, is removed by entire sanctification. Mark the word Entire. It means All. So that ye cannot do the things that ye would.—The Revised Version has "may not," which is correct, there being nothing in the original to express impossibility. "Sin shall not have dominion over you."

18. If ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.—Some have wrested these words to their own undoing. Certainly no Christian is under the ceremonial law of Moses; but the moral law must stand forever. No Christian is at liberty to lie and steal. Paul did not teach antinomianism. In Rom. 6:15 Paul asks this question: "Shall we sin, because we are not under the law, but under grace?" He answers his own question: "God forbid."

19. The works of the flesh.—Not the body, as some would teach. That cannot sin. The flesh here means the carnal nature, that which is enmity to God, and cannot be subject to his will. The works of the flesh are a nasty lot, too dirty to talk about in public. There is no need to write about most of these, for nearly every one is familiar with their import; but some of them may call for a little exposition. Uncleanliness and lasciviousness refer particularly to heart-vileness, a filthy heart condition that results in foul thinking. Witchcraft is sorcery and all sleight-of-hand trickery. Wrath means spurts of anger—"flying off the handle." Revellings means eating and drinking to drunkenness and gluttony.

21. They which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.—I have seen preachers and laymen in fits of anger; and they claimed the right to grow vexed; but I shall have to deny it. No one can indulge in these unholy tempers, and escape the wrath of God. There can be no heaven for such wicked souls. That is the Bible on the subject.

22. The fruit of the Spirit.—I like that beautiful bunch of ripe grapes. Love.—Here we have the great Greek word for love—agapao, God-given, heaven-born love. No word in English can translate it. Joy.—Not the joy of this world, that is passing away; but the joy of the Holy Ghost that abideth forever. Peace.—Not peace with God, but the peace of God imparted to our souls. Longsuffering.—Patience in the modern sense. Meekness.—Humility—too modest to be talked about, lest she blush and hide herself. Temperance.—Self-control. All good: "against such there is no law." Cultivate the biggest crop you can. Such fruit will always be above par.

24. Have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts.—One cannot be a Christian, and permit the lusts of the flesh to grow and come to fruition in his heart. They must be destroyed by faith in Jesus Christ.

25. This verse turns on the light. "If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit." If we are led by the Spirit, we shall not follow the lusts of the flesh; nor shall be desirous of vain glory. We shall not envy one another.

REVIVAL NOTICE.

A bond of blessed fellowship has been entered into by the three following M. E. Churches in New York State—Burke, Brainardsville, and Chateaugay—for a real old-fashioned revival commencing at Burke, Oct. 25 and ending at Chateaugay sometime in December. One of the leading evangelists in America, Rev. John F. Knapp, of God's Bible School, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been called and accepted. These churches with their pastors, Rev. W. H. Stinson, Burke, Rev. M. E. VanOrum, Chateaugay, Rev. L. McConnell, Brainardsville, are looking forward and praying for a mighty revival. God's people are united to pray earnestly for these meetings and attend whenever possible.

Four Thousand Questions and Answers ON THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT

Size, 3 3/4 x 5 1/4 inches.

The plan of this "Aid to Bible Study" is universally accepted as most effective. It invites to inquiry and encourages to answer. It opens up Scripture in all its phases to teacher and reader, and proves an unequalled source of mental and spiritual light.

As a means to an end it is direct and strong. In pulpit, class-room or home, who asks, is given power to question briefly and distinctly; who answers, is provided with intelligent and satisfactory expression. The real educative and comforting force of the method needs but a trial to be convincing. In every devout life, in every Teacher's career, how many hundreds of questions arise as to Bible History, rules of conduct, meanings of text, or matters of faith? Here this "Aid" becomes a ready Directory, a satisfactory Evangel, an invitation and inspiration.

No. 101. Cloth Binding, Stained Edges, Gold Titles. (Former price, $1.00), reprint price now 35c.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO., Louisville, Kentucky.

FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                              |      |
|------------------------------|------|
| No. 5 Missionary Fund .....  | 1.00 |
| No. 6. Missionary Fund ..... | 1.50 |
| No. 7. Preacher Fund .....   | .50  |
| No. 8. Preacher Fund .....   | 1.50 |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice, recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe. The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Kentucky.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Kentucky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, - - - Kentucky.

FLORIDA HOLINESS CAMP MEETING.

The Florida Holiness Camp Meeting is conducted during mid winter, and at a time in the year when all other camp meetings are closed. We, therefore, extend a special invitation to all who expect to spend their winter in Florida, to attend the Florida Camp Meeting, at Lakeland, February 11th to 21st, 1932.

Engaged speakers are, Dr. H. C. Morrison, Dr. C. H. Babcock, and Dr. C. W. Butler. Entertainment on the grounds, very reasonable. Write Rev. H. H. McAfee, P. O. Box, 534, Lakeland, Florida.

NOTICE!

A letter from Miss Ollie Mae Putnam, Director of Young People's work in Zoar Church, Shelby, N. C., writes to know if we have any tracts, books, or pamphlets for free distribution that she could use in the church library. It occurred to us that there might be those who have some good books they could send her, or if you will send us a contribution we will give her some excellent books at greatly reduced price. Let those interested communicate with the above young woman, or write us in the way of contribution stating it is for this work.

Mrs. H. C. Morrison.

H. J. McNeese: "We begin revivals near Trenton, N. J., Oct. 18. Continue three weeks. Watch Bristol, Pa., and Trenton, N. J., dailies. Pray. Come."

KEEP HIM BUSY.

Rev. J. L. Glascock, 1850 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio, is an old and tried veteran of the cross who has held revival meetings up and down the land for many years. He is a fiery, searching, earnest, forceful preacher who see results in his meetings. After his meeting in Homer City, Pa., closes October 18, he has some vacant time he can give those who may desire the services of a man who preaches the gospel in demonstration of the Spirit's power. Address him as above.

Mrs. H. C. Morrison.

LORD'S DAY ALLIANCE OF KENTUCKY.

Dr. W. J. Mahoney new General Secretary.

Rev. W. J. Mahoney, D.D., has been elected General Secretary of the Kentucky Auxiliary of the Lord's Day Alliance, which is affiliated with the Lord's Day Alliance of the United States, with headquarters in New York City. Dr. Mahoney has begun his work and is meeting with great encouragement. He was born in Virginia, and his latest pastorate was with the Baptist Church in Bayonne, N. J. Most of his life, however, has been spent in the south in pastorates of Baptist churches. He is a graduate of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, and is widely known throughout the denomination. Dr. Mahoney will address the Synod of Kentucky of the Southern Presbyterian Church at its meeting in Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 14. He is open to engagements to present the cause of "Sabbath Observance" in any church or community. His address is P. O. Box 484, Louisville, Ky.

EVOLUTION.

By Judson Little.

Evolution is a good English word but like all good things, it is sometimes misused. When we say the human race evolved from a beast we make a very foolish, questionable and unfounded assertion. It makes the Bible a lie. It is an insult to God as well as to the intelligence and common sense of man. It is a subterfuge of Satan to destroy faith in God's word. It is a snake in the grass to bite man's heels and man must crush its head. It makes man an intelligent but soulless beast.

But, says the evolutionist, at a certain period in the course of evolution, God gave man a soul. Was this an instantaneous act or did the soul have to grow and develop slowly? If the latter be true, what did God do with all the partly developed souls that were ushered into his presence by the death of their human habitations? Must we accept the old heathen doctrine of reincarnation to uphold this more modern but equally foolish and unscriptural theory of man evolving from a beast?

You have found tribes of human beings little better than animals, also beast-like human bones and you are diligently looking for the so-called missing link to prove your theory. Will anything you have found or may find prove it?

Did it ever occur to you that man is retrogressive as well as progressive, and that he is capable of degenerating to the lowest degree of degradation, becoming beastly in appearance, action and desires?

We have with us today people who would not be any better than the most degraded bushman if they had been born and reared in the same environment. There have been discovered ruins and traces of ancient civilizations of a high order that have crumbled and fallen, proving that man can and does fall from his high estate back into barbarism. Some men climb to a high pinnacle of achievement and honor, while others equally qualified and equipped sink into oblivion and dishonor.

God created man in his own image, but man fell and continued to fall generation after generation until he became so degraded and beastly that God had to destroy him (excepting Noah and his family) from off the face of the earth.

Noah, no doubt, had fallen far below the perfect man God made, and as his descendants spread over the face of the earth, some of them, we have reason to believe, wandered into the wilderness and became the ancestors of savage tribes, that like Adam's descendants, kept falling lower and lower until they nearly reached the brute line.

It is in accordance with Biblical teaching and logical thinking to believe that we are the progressive and the wild tribes you found are the retrogressive descendants of Noah. It is equally rational to believe that the beast-like human bones you found belonged to the degenerated people God destroyed.

But it most certainly is not in accordance with Biblical teaching and common sense to call God a liar and believe the absurd mother-goose story of human beings with never dying souls being the descendants of soulless beasts.

"Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my word shall not pass away,"

MY LIFE'S STORY

NEW EDITION—JUST ISSUED.

The Autobiography of Bud Robinson

This is the book for which thousands have been waiting. It is years since "Uncle Buddy" has written a book dealing with his life and experiences. Now we have this volume, his autobiography, giving an intimate recital of his experiences from early childhood to the present time. Pathos, humor, optimism, scathing rebuke, with an amazing memory of detail unite to give this volume the peculiar charm that characterizes all of Bud Robinson's writings. Just as there is only one Bud Robinson so this is the only volume giving the complete story of his life up to the present.

217 pages; full page portrait of author; attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.00.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

"STREAMS IN THE DESERT."

A new glimpse of God's love is revealed on every page By MRS. CHAS. E. COWMAN

A strong, inspiring and deeply spiritual compilation of daily readings and meditations. Each selection flashes Divine truth and comfort into the darkness of doubt or distress and reveals a clearer vision of God's loving care.

An All-Occasion Gift—Also suitable for bereaved, suffering or discouraged souls. For Every Home—In private reading or devotion and in family worship this book is a benediction and an inspiration. "It has been a great blessing. I wish it were in every Christian home."—An active minister.

Cloth Bound, 376 pages. $1.50 postpaid. Order your COPIES Today.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Kentucky.

says the Lord. But we are so foolish and wise in our own conceit that we reject God's word and put our faith and trust in so-called scientific facts(?) which are as unstable as water. "The scientific fact(?) today is foolishness tomorrow." Shall we establish our faith, hopes and belief on the shifting sand of human supposition or on the solid rock of God's assertion?

CHAPTERS OF PURE GOLD.

It is very easy to love the Bible if one only will read it right. For instance, put the fifteenth verse of every chapter in the Gospel according to St. John together, and you have a very full "life of Christ." A necklace, not only of pearls, but of diamonds, can be had by taking one promise from each of the sixty-six books of the Old and the New Testaments, and by this the whole Bible will be precious. Or, search for the fourteen mighty promises in the fourteenth of John.

But above all these are the chapters of pure gold. As, for instance, the rock chapter of the Bible, Deut. 32, or the bottomless chapter, Eph. 3. When courage is needed what is there so helpful as Joshua 1? The fear not chapter, Isaiah 41, has been both rod and staff to thousands; while character has never been better described than in Job 29. The convert's chapter, Isa. 12, and the soldier's chapter, Eph. 6, should be taught to every child. Many need the tonic chapter, Psalm 27, for there is beef, wine, and iron for the soul. When hungry let us search for bread in John 16. When faith is weak read Hebrews 11. The Spirit seems to have gathered the broken fragments of the alabaster box of ointment, and filled it again with pure spikenard of love in 1 Cor. 13. Rest comes so easy after reading Hebrews 4. Work has a meaning beyond Webster in James 2, while those who truly fast should study Isaiah 58. The lost and found chapter is the fifteenth of Luke, and goes beautifully with the Prodigal psalm, the fifty-first. And so it is that hundreds of these wonderful chapters are sweeter than honey or the honeycomb.—Sel.

TWO ROADS.

There's a road that leads to Glory,
For the Bible says 'tis true,
Though it's very straight and narrow
There is room enough for two.
There was room enough for Daniel,
With his God beside him then,
And they traveled on together
Right into the lions' den.

But alas, there is a broad road
With its gate so very wide,
Filled so full of pleasure seekers,
They have always Christ denied.
With their shows, and cards, and dances,
Pleasure, fashion, pomp, and pride,
'Tis the Devil keeps them blinded,
Poor lost souls for whom Christ died.

Yes, oh yes, He died for sinners
He his life-blood freely gave;
There could be no other ransom
This poor dying world to save.
Look to Jesus, O, ye lost ones,
Leave the broad road and the wide,
Or you'll reap a fearful harvest
Over on the other side.

Ella J. Avery.

The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ASBURY FOREIGN MISSIONARY TEAM
Kirkpatrick, Crouse, Erny.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 13-16.

BENNETT, FRED E.
(Suite 1008 Chicago Bank of Commerce Bldg., 7 S. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.)
Wichita, Kan., October.
Seattle, College Church, Nov. 6.
Palls City, Ore., Nov. 26.
Newberg, Ore., Dec. 13.

BENNARD, GEO.
(Hermosa Beach, California.)
Bradford, Pa., Oct. 11-25.
Albion, Mich., Oct. 26-30.
Polson, Mont., Nov. 1-15.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.
(Muncy, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.
New Point, Va., Nov. 2-15.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Waco, Tex., Nov. 4-18.

CALLIS, O. H.
(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Warsaw, Ky., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otega, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison St., Wilmore, Ky.)
Groveport, Ohio, Oct. 11-25.
Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 28-Nov. 15.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Bennington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Paoli, Colo., Nov. 8-22.

CRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET.
(515 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Portland, Mich., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

CAREY, A. B.
Augusta, Maine, Oct. 13-25.
Bath, Maine, Oct. 27-Nov. 8.

DICKERSON, H. N.
(2608 Newman St., Ashland, Ky.)
Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 8-22.
New Dunkirk, Ind., Oct. 7-20.

EDWARDS, J. R.
(Elmore, Ohio, L. B. 29)
Sebring, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.

FLEMING, JOHN
Norristown, Pa., Oct. 12-25.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.
Blackwell, Okla., Nov. 17-29.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4-25.
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.
Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 15-29.
Stockton, Calif., Nov. 30-Dec. 13.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shacklefords, Va.)
Camden, N. J., Oct. 11-25.
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3, 4.
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.
Oneonta, N. Y., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

FRYE, H. A.
(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.
Pierston, Mich., Nov. 8-29.

FUGETT, C. B.
Hoinny, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Ada, Okla., Nov. 9-22.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.
Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 3-6.
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

GLASCOCK, J. L.
(1350 Grace Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.)
Homer City, Pa., October 4-18.
Open for dates.

GREGORY, LOIS V.
Salamanca, N. Y., Oct. 5-18.
Falls Creek, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

GOODMAN, M. L.
(Burnips, Mich.)
Frackville, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 20-Jan. 1 reserved.

HAINES, FLOSSIE
(13708 Claiborne Ave., Cleveland, Ohio.)
Open for dates.

HARVEY, M. E.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 23-Nov. 8.
Landman, N. C., Nov. 15-29.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-30.
Dover, N. J., Nov. 1-3.
Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 4-22.

HOOVER, L. S.
Lawrenceville, Ill., Oct. 4-25.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.

JOHNSON, H. C.
(408 W. West St., Springfield, Ill.)
Louisville, Ky., Oct. 13-25.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Sheffield, Mass.)
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Connersville, Ind., Nov. 2-16.

JONES, LUM.
Iola, Kan., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8-22.

KINSLEY, MR. AND MRS. W. C.
(450 South West 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.)
Union, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.

LARKIN, BESSIE
Weissport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 15-29.
Wind Gap, Pa., Dec. 13-27.

LINN, C. H. JACK
(Oregon, Wis.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

LINCICOME, F.
Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Troy, Ohio, Nov. 1-15.
Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16-20.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(1039 Clinton St., Carthage, Mo.)
Ashland, Ky., Oct. 13-25.
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1-15.

LUDWIG, THEO. AND MINNIE E.
St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 8-25.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29-Nov. 15.
McPherson, Kan., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

McBRIDE, J. B.
(1234 N. Mentor Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 11-25.

MILLS, F. J.
(Bellare, Mich.)
Muskegon, Mich., Oct. 11-25.
Rochester, Mich., Nov. 1-15.
New Paris, Ind., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Peck, Kan., Oct. 11-25.
Las Alamos, Colo., Nov. 1-22.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 East 13th Ave., Columbus, Ohio.)
University Park, Ia., Oct. 16-26.
Boaz, Ala., Oct. 28-Nov. 1.
Lanham, Maryland, Nov. 8-22.

PARKER, J. R.
Lanham, Md., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

REED, LAWRENCE.
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Sweetwater, Tex., Oct. 21-25.
Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 1-15.

RUTH, C. W.
(1290 Dominion Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Eaton Rapids, Mich., Oct. 20-25.
Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29-Nov. 8.
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12-22.
Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 24-29.

SMITH, W. EDMUND.
(Wolcott, Vermont)
Moores Forks, Oct. 18-Nov. 8.

SPARKS, BURL
(527 East 3rd St., Seymour, Ind.)
Canton, Ohio, Oct. 7-27.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Mich.)
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

THOMAS, JOHN
(Wilmore, Kentucky.)
Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 11-25.
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30-Nov. 8.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15-29.
Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2-13.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 4-25.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.
Reserved, Nov. 9-17.
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

WOODWARD, GEORGE F.
(Artist-Evangelist, 120 W. Barnard, West Chester, Pa.)
Smyrna, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Harrington, Del., Nov. 2-15.
Athens, Ohio, Nov. 16-29.
Logan, Ohio, Dec. 5-27.

Preparing To Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, but I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe; by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                        |         |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ.                                                           | $1.50  |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages.                                                                                                   | 1.50    |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages.                                                                                 | 1.50    |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages.                                                | 1.50    |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages.                                                   | 1.50    |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages.                                                      | 1.50    |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages.                                          | 1.25    |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages.                                                                          | 1.25    |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages.                                                                                    | 1.50    |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages.                                                                                     | 1.00    |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages. | 1.00    |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding.                                                                       | .50     |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages.                                                 | .15     |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding.                                                                                                                                  | .50     |
| St Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages.                                                                                              | .15     |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages.                                                         | .15     |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages.                                                                                                         | .15     |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages.                                                                  | .15     |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages.                                                                                                       | .15     |
| 19 volumes. Total.                                                                                                                                                                     | $16.90 |

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send me books checked above.

Signed .....

Address .....

Great Stock-reducing Sale of Bibles!

We list below about 30 different styles of Bibles and Testaments which we are discontinuing, and in order to sell them quickly we offer them at about one-half the retail price. They are all good stock and in good condition

Every Bible in This List is The Old King James Version

Comfort Edition Handy Old Folk's Bible

Extra large type, very thin white paper, Family Register, beautifully colored maps, a chronological table of the kings and prophets of Judah and Israel, tables of weights, measures and moneys, silk headbands and marker, gold edges.

Bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on side and backbone, size only  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick, weight 25 ozs.

This is the smallest large type Bible for old people, or persons with weak eyes, that we know of on the market. The net retail price is $7.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.50

Ideal India Paper Bible

The binding is the prettiest and finest used in Bible making, will always wear black, and you will be delighted with this fine grained Morocco.

It has the large, easy-to-read, open face burgeois type, 50,000 references, dates and chapter numbers in figures, with names of books on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is self-pronouncing, has concordance and 16 pages of fine blank sheets for notes, silk headbands and marker, red under gold edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick and weighs 24 ozs.

No better Bible on the market for wear, convenience, attractiveness or easiness of reading. Guaranteed not to break in the back. The publisher's net price is $11.85. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $7.50

Precious Promise Bible

About one-tenth of the Bible is precious promises, and in this Bible they are all underscored in red, carefully indexed, has large, long primer type with a complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2} \times 1\frac{1}{4}$  in. thick. Has red under gold edges. Sells through agents at \$7.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$4.00

Child's Bible

It is beautifully bound in small grained flexible moroccotal, very durable. Has a large, clear, minion type, red under gold edges, silk headbands and marker, colored maps. Stamped in gold on back and backbone.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

Regular price $2.00, or one dozen for $10.00.

Salvation Testament

The first eight pages point out the scriptural way of salvation and the last sixteen pages give some of the good old spiritual songs and suggestions for daily reading of the Testament. Besides these features it is a beautiful vest pocket size Testament, self-pronouncing, beautifully illustrated with full page colored Bible pictures, beautifully bound, stamped in gold, gold edges, boxed. Regular net price $1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c

One dozen for $5.00.

Complete Red Letter Bible

We have sold at least 5,000 copies of this Bible. It has the large, clear, self-pronouncing long primer type, several hundred pages of the best Bible helps to be had on the market, including concordance and 4,000 questions and answers.

The words of Christ are printed in red. It has a large number of full-page illustrations, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold. The size is  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ .

The regular net price is $6.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $3.25

Sunday School Class Bible

A good, clear, self-pronouncing ruby type, maps in colors, beautifully bound in black cloth, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $3\frac{1}{2} \times 5\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  inch thick.

A small attractive Bible that anyone will appreciate. Regular price 90c. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 50c

One dozen for $5.50

Scholar's Index Bible

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, good clear, self-pronouncing type, fine white Bible paper, splendid concordance, stamped in gold. It has the patent thumb index.

An ideal scholar's Bible in size, weight and thickness. Regular price $3.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Same Bible as described above, with additional features of illustrations, Family Record, 4,000 questions and answers. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price $2.50.

Old Folk's Large Type Red Letter Testament

Large long primer self-pronouncing type with Christ's words in red, many beautiful colored illustrations, Morocco grained binding, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$  in.

Regular price $1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

The Self Explanatory New Testament

This special Testament has a commentary in the way of an exposition of difficult passages of Scripture. It is self-pronouncing, has a good, clear, black face type, illustrated, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{4}$ , bound in beautiful cloth, with inlaid illustration. Regular net price \$1.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 60c

Big Type Testament and Psalms

Has extra large bold black face type, is neat and convenient in size, light in weight, flexible Morocco grained binding, stamped in gold—a good value at $2.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $1.00

47 copies same as the above, words of Christ in red, at $1.20 per copy.

The Smallest Teacher's Bible

The size is only  $3\frac{3}{4} \times 5\frac{3}{4} \times 1$  in. thick; weight, 12 ozs. Good clear readable nonpareil type, references, concordance, maps, Bible Gazetteer and some other special helps.

It is printed on fine India paper, red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather, overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.

You will be delighted with this beautiful pocket edition of a complete Bible. The regular net price is $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.90

Large Type India Paper Concordance Bible

A very large, clear, self-pronouncing type, reads like long primer, has the references and concordance.

It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, red under gold edges, printed on extra fine India paper, neat in size, light in weight. Size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ , only 15-16 of an inch thick.

This is one of the newest and most attractive Bibles on the market. The publisher's regular net price, $9.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.50

Black Face Type Text Bible

The type is large, clear and black, it is self-pronouncing, printed on fine white Bible paper, 64 pages of excellent helps, a large number of colored illustrations, red under gold edges.

It is bound in very fine genuine leather with overlapping edges, lined to edge, stamped in gold on back and backbone, size  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ . Regular net price \$3.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.00

90 copies same as the above, without illustrations. Stock-reducing sale price $1.80.

Loose Leaf Bible

This Bible has over 250 loose-leaf pages that may be inserted anywhere in the Bible. It is printed on fine thin India paper, black faced type, the size is  $6\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. This includes the blank sheets as well as the Bible. The Bible is easily opened and the blank pages may be inserted anywhere without trouble.

The mechanism is substantially made and the sheets will not pull out or tear; no rings or springs to get out of order.

The regular agent's price is $12.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $8.00

Red Letter Pocket Bible

This Bible is self-pronouncing, has the references, and the words of Christ beautifully printed in red. It also has the maps in colors and the chapter numbers in figures. It is bound in genuine Morocco with overlapping edges, stamped in gold and has the red under gold edges. The size is  $4\frac{1}{2} \times 6\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. It is guaranteed not to break in the back. A beautiful book in every respect, published regularly at \$4.00.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.50

A few copies with patent index $2.90.

Red Letter Prophetic Bible

Has all the prophecies referring to Christ, as well as all the words of Christ, printed in red.

A complete line of most excellent teacher's helps, including a combination concordance, a clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type, printed on Bible paper.

Bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, size  $5\frac{1}{2} \times 7\frac{1}{2} \times 1$  in. thick. Red under gold edges. Regular net price \$5.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... \$2.50

A few copies same as the above, bound in an extra fine leather and leather lined to edge. Stock-reducing sale price $2.90.

Scofield Bible, India Paper Edition

The binding is beautiful and excellent; a genuine small grained Morocco, leather lined to edge, silk sewed, extra fine Oxford India paper, with the large black face minion type, and with the very complete Scofield references.

The size is 5x7, less than one inch thick and very light. This is acknowledged to be the prettiest edition of the Scofield Bible published. It is a regular $10.00 value.

Stock-reducing sale price ..... $6.00

Same as above basket weave leather binding at $6.50.

Signal Bible

There is a * at each Old Testament scripture referring to Christ, and the Old Testament scriptures quoted by our Lord, as well as his sayings in the New Testament, are all printed in bold type.

It has the revised version in footnotes, Family Record, presentation page, a large number of full-page illustrations, concordance, good, clear, readable, self-pronouncing minion type. Red under gold edges, bound in genuine leather with overlapping edges, size 5x8. Regular price $4.00. Stock-reducing sale price ..... $2.00

Vest Pocket Illustrated Testament and Psalms

Bound in the finest small grained leather, printed on fine Bible paper, has the Psalms, silk headband and marker, gold edges, size  $2\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . We believe you will say it is one of the prettiest Testaments you ever saw. Regular net price \$1.50. Stock-reducing sale price ..... 80c

Pentecostal Pub. Co.,
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $... for which
send Bible marked above

Name .....

Address .....

133 GREAT LITTLE BOOKS, $21.50 Value, for $10.00

In the pamphlets listed below, on various subjects, you will find some of the greatest thoughts of these authors, and in order to reduce our stock, we are offering them, $1.00 worth, your choice, for 60c, (stamps will be acceptable) $2.00 worth for $1.00. Here is your opportunity to buy some good books, put them into circulation and do a great deal of good. If you should order one each of the 133 pamphlets, they would amount to $21.50; our stock-reducing sale price to you would be $10.00, postpaid, for the complete list.

Sermons

|                                                        |             |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-------------|
| Will A Man Rob God? Morrison                           | .....$0.10 |
| God's Wrecking Crew, Culpepper                         | ..... .15   |
| The Lost Christ, Gipsy Smith                           | ..... .25   |
| The King's Gold Mine, Bud Robinson                     | ..... .10   |
| The Pearl of Greatest Price, Morrison                  | ..... .10   |
| Two Sermons, Bud Robinson                              | ..... .10   |
| Spiritual Shocks, Hames                                | ..... .25   |
| Sinners in the Hands of an Angry God, Jonathan Edwards | ..... .20   |
| Walking With God or the Devil—Which? Robinson          | ..... .10   |
| What Think Ye of Christ, Whose Son Is He? Morrison     | ..... .15   |
| Mothers, Gamble                                        | ..... .25   |
| Mother—A Sermon, Corbin                                | ..... .20   |
| The Mind of The Master Soul Rest, Huff                 | ..... .20   |

Biography

|                                         |           |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------|
| Ruth or How She Fell, Taylor            | ..... .15 |
| Holy Ann, Watson                        | ..... .10 |
| Samuel Morris—A Spirit-filled Life..    | ..... .10 |
| The Greatest Soldier of the War, Ridout | ..... .10 |

For Children

|                                         |           |
|-----------------------------------------|-----------|
| Just For Children, Culpepper            | ..... .10 |
| Water Lily Money, Morrow                | ..... .15 |
| Little Nuggets for Little Folks, Taylor | ..... .10 |

Evolution

|                                                       |           |
|-------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| God or The Guessers, Pickett                          | ..... .50 |
| Science and Religion or Evolution Unmasked, Cooke     | ..... .25 |
| The Great Commoner's Last Speech, Bryan               | ..... .25 |
| Jocko-Homo The Heaven-Bound King of the Zoo, Shaddock | ..... .15 |
| Menace of Darwinism, Bryan                            | ..... .15 |

Hell

|                                                 |           |
|-------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The First 10,000 Years In Hell                  | ..... .25 |
| Doing His Will or Going to Hell, Jas. M. Taylor | ..... .10 |
| Death, Hell and Judgment, B. S. Taylor          | ..... .15 |
| Hell: A Place of Eternal Fire, Taylor           | ..... .10 |
| The Hell of the Bible, Hunt                     | ..... .15 |
| Hell—101 Facts About It, Wimberly               | ..... .15 |
| If I Make My Bed in Hell, Huff                  | ..... .10 |

The Dance

|                                                   |           |
|---------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| From the Ball Room to Hell, Faulkner              | ..... .25 |
| Is There Any Harm in Dancing? Hunt                | ..... .15 |
| Are You a Christian? Wimberly                     | ..... .15 |
| The Dance Shown Up, Culpepper                     | ..... .15 |
| Flirting With the Devil, Jack Linn                | ..... .25 |
| The Devil's Big Three, Jones                      | ..... .15 |
| The Dance of Death, Weigle                        | ..... .10 |
| 34 Reasons Why Christians Should Not Dance, Smith | ..... .10 |

Holiness

|                                                         |           |
|---------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Sanctification—What It Is—When It Is—How It Is, Collins | ..... .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, John Paul                          | ..... .15 |
| Scriptural Holiness, Cundiff                            | ..... .15 |
| The Second Work of Grace, Ruth                          | ..... .15 |
| Old Time Religion, Selle                                | ..... .15 |
| Lest We Forget, or What Say The Fathers? Miller         | ..... .25 |

|                                                                 |           |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Fletcher on Perfection                                          | ..... .15 |
| Deepening of the Spiritual Life, Hunt                           | ..... .25 |
| A Clinic In Holiness, Springer                                  | ..... .15 |
| A Catechism on the Second Blessing, Cundiff                     | ..... .10 |
| Perfect Love, Coward                                            | ..... .05 |
| The Carnal Mind, Taylor                                         | ..... .10 |
| Baptism of the Holy Ghost, Taylor                               | ..... .10 |
| Heart Purity, A Sermon, Fergerson                               | ..... .10 |
| More Perfectly—Story of the Eloquent Jew, John Paul             | ..... .15 |
| A Plain Account of Christian Perfection, John Wesley            | ..... .15 |
| Power, Wimberly                                                 | ..... .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett                                   | ..... .15 |
| Advice To Those Sanctified, John Wesley                         | ..... .15 |
| Entire Sanctification, Adam Clarke                              | ..... .15 |
| The Abiding Life, Helm                                          | ..... .25 |
| Fragrance, Sweetness and Power, Hames                           | ..... .25 |
| Another Man, Two Sermons on our Scriptural Re-making, John Paul | ..... .10 |
| Baptism With The Holy Ghost, Morrison                           | ..... .15 |
| St. Paul on Holiness, Pickett                                   | ..... .15 |

Sin

|                          |           |
|--------------------------|-----------|
| Sermon on Sin, John Paul | ..... .10 |
| Sin, Culpepper           | ..... .25 |

Fallacies

|                                                                        |           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Christian Science Falsely So-Called, Abbie C. Morrow                   | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spurious Tongues, Ridout                         | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Christian Science, Ridout                        | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Fanaticism, Ridout                               | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Mormonism, Ridout                                | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Russellism, Ridout                               | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Seventh Day Adventism, Ridout                    | ..... .15 |
| The Deadly Fallacy of Spiritualism, Ridout                             | ..... .15 |
| The Bible Gift of Tongues vs. The Modern Gift of Unknown Tongues, Budd | ..... .05 |

Baptism

|                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Christian Baptism, The Mode, Design and Subjects       | ..... .15 |
| Immersion Not in the Bible, Wimberly                   | ..... .15 |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, Pickett                          | ..... .15 |
| Baptism—Its Mode, Subjects and Design, George H. Means | ..... .50 |

Devotional

|                                             |           |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------|
| An Exposition of The Lord's Prayer, Danskin | ..... .25 |
| Companionship With God, Hulse               | ..... .35 |
| The Nightingale of The Psalms, Aycock       | ..... .25 |
| Mary of Bethany, Parks                      | ..... .25 |

Prohibition

|                                                                  |           |
|------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| A Bottle of Tears, Culpepper                                     | ..... .05 |
| Shall Prohibition Go? Hunt                                       | ..... .15 |
| A Whiskey Hatch; or, Chickens Will Come Home to Roost, Culpepper | ..... .05 |

Faith

|                                |           |
|--------------------------------|-----------|
| Key to the Storehouse, Jarrell | ..... .10 |
| Riches of Faith, Bussey        | ..... .25 |

Tobacco

|                                             |           |
|---------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The Deadly Cigarette or White Devil, Coward | ..... .25 |
| The Devil's Seed Corn, Coward               | ..... .15 |

Second Coming

|                                            |           |
|--------------------------------------------|-----------|
| The Second Coming of Christ, Akers         | ..... .15 |
| The Millennium and Related Events, Pickett | ..... .50 |
| Why I Am A Premillennialist, Pickett       | ..... .50 |
| The End of The World, Pickett              | ..... .40 |
| Our King Cometh, Pickett                   | ..... .15 |
| Millennialism and the Second Advent, Seiss | ..... .15 |

Assorted

|                                                        |           |
|--------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| New Paths in Old Pastures, Stone                       | ..... .25 |
| To Men Only, Culpepper                                 | ..... .15 |
| Gambling, Culpepper                                    | ..... .25 |
| Crossing The Deadline, Morrison                        | ..... .25 |
| Dr. Fosdick Answered, Ridout                           | ..... .15 |
| The Holy Day; or Remember the Sabbath, Pickett         | ..... .15 |
| Gospel of The Body, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| Problems of Manhood, Taylor                            | ..... .10 |
| Perils of The Young Man, Taylor                        | ..... .10 |
| My Hospital Experience, Robinson                       | ..... .15 |
| The Vision of a Popular Minister, A. Sims              | ..... .10 |
| The White Stone; or, The Overcomers, Culpepper         | ..... .15 |
| A Question of The Ages—Is a Lie Ever Justifiable? Hunt | ..... .15 |
| 25 Reasons Why I Am a Methodist, Wimberly              | ..... .15 |
| Associations, or Society Goats Disrobed, Taylor        | ..... .10 |
| Backsliding, or Have You Seen A Better Day? Culpepper  | ..... .15 |
| Brotherhood! Real or False, Wimberly                   | ..... .15 |
| Covetousness: Its Curse and Cure, Pickett              | ..... .15 |
| The Sabbath, The Day and How to Keep It, George        | ..... .15 |
| Pictures On The Wall, Taylor                           | ..... .10 |
| The Moving Picture, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| Come To Jesus, Hall                                    | ..... .10 |
| The Tongue of Fire, Gouthey                            | ..... .25 |
| The Christian Home, Geo. R. Stuart                     | ..... .15 |
| Your Friend, By a Lover of Jesus                       | ..... .15 |
| How to Reach the Masses, Taylor                        | ..... .10 |
| Malice, Culpepper                                      | ..... .15 |
| The Dress Question and Modern Abominations, Ridout     | ..... .15 |
| The Devil's Partner, Taylor                            | ..... .10 |
| Depravity, Wimberly                                    | ..... .15 |
| Falling From Grace, Wimberly                           | ..... .15 |
| "Just to Old Cusses," Culpepper                        | ..... .15 |
| Knotty Points; or Truth Explained, Taylor              | ..... .10 |
| I Want 'er Go 'Ome, A Study of Heaven, Mackrell        | ..... .25 |

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which please send to me postpaid the books checked above.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Oct. 28, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 43.

THE GOSPEL HAS POWER.

By The Editor.

THE greatest need of our time is the power of God among men that can so change and renew them that utterly bad men will become genuinely good men.

There is a divine power that can make men new creatures in Christ; that can change their nature, desires, impulses, dispositions, attitude toward all things. There is a divine power that can so transform men that the Lord Jesus calls it being "born again."

The great need of the times is an army of men who have within themselves the power of the gospel to preach the gospel in its power. We hear that there is a surplus of preachers, more than are needed. This is a mistake. These United States right now need ten thousand preachers with something of the spirit of St. Francis of Assisi, dead to the world, its applause, its possessions, and really on fire with a quenchless spirit of a divine-imparted love. Men who, under the baptism with the Holy Ghost, have gotten beyond control, who will have souls, who cannot, and will not, be satisfied with anything less than repentance and saving faith among their fellow-beings.

There are no times or places where men thus on fire cannot get most gracious results. There is such a thing as a preacher having just enough life to keep him fairly decent among his fellows, but not sufficient life to produce any new life; not enough power to so preach and catapult the truth that it will penetrate and recreate. Real gospel preachers, men intoxicated with the Holy Spirit, whose faith is without doubt, whose zeal will blaze and burn, overcoming all obstacles and bringing to pass those spiritual marvels that are possible under the powerful influence of the gospel. Remember that the "gospel is the power of God." Note that word "power." God has power of creation which produced the universe. He has a sustaining power that holds it intact and guides the material worlds on their appointed paths. He also has a power that transforms men, that regenerates men. To regenerate is to re-create. It makes men over; it makes saints out of sinners. The preaching of this gospel is the need, the one imperative need in this crisis of the history of this nation, and of the world.

This type of preacher that we are thinking of is by no means an impossible man. God can lay hold upon the very ordinary man and fire him with a holy zeal and put within him a great cry for the redemption of men, awakening to the value of souls. The Holy Spirit can so put the love of God into men that they love the lost with the love that gave the Christ to redeem the lost. This is a love that the easy-going preacher, who is perfectly contented, apparently seeing a soul regenerated, knows nothing about. Oh, for a host of preachers with a holy passion for the salvation of souls! Preachers who will awaken to the fact that it is not so difficult a task to

PEOPLE ARE INFLUENCED BY THEIR RELIGIOUS TEACHERS.

We would do well to remember that people are wonderfully influenced by their religious teachers. The teaching of the Greek Church produced the moral life of Russia. The teaching of the Roman Catholic Church produced the moral life of Spain, Italy, Austria, Mexico and South America. The teaching of the Protestant Church has had much to do with the moral ideals and life of Germany, England and North America.

If the religious teachings given to the people are unscriptural and false, they will fail to satisfy the demands of man's spiritual nature, and, in time, the starving soul will revolt against falsehood and become the bitter enemy of its religious teachers and the church. Under such circumstances, a people are most likely to make the unfortunate mistake of believing that, the false teaching they have received is all there is to the whole of religious teaching, and they drift into resentful infidelity.

This is true not only of the educated classes, but also of the many countries that have, for years, been under the domination of the Greek and Romish churches. This is quite notable in Spain, Italy, France, and the better educated classes of Mexico and South America. Sad to say, when the people reject the unbiblical and superstitious teachings of these ancient churches which enslaved men, rather than leading them to Christ for freedom from sin, they almost invariably go into infidelity and array themselves against the church.

Russia is a striking example of this fact. For centuries the people were under the instruction and leadership of false religious teachers, which deceived their souls and left them famishing for the bread of life; meanwhile, their carnal natures, unrestrained by piety, grew into beastly proportions and finally, rebelled, sword and torch in hand, Russia became a vast slaughterhouse, the horror of modern civilization. At bottom, it is the logical outcome of false religious teaching which demoralized the entire life of the people, political, economic, social and spiritual. The real, the spiritual man, being taught wrong, the whole man went wrong.

H. C. Morrison.

win the people to Christ if, only the preacher can get into himself the spirit of Christ; the spirit of self-sacrifice, a spirit that death, itself, cannot repel, that makes men real soul-hunters, and never so happy as when they capture an immortal human being for God and Heaven.

A Serious and Delicate Situation.

ONE of the most serious and delicate problems confronting the American people, is the rapid increase and political aggressiveness of Roman Catholicism in these United States.

A very large per cent of the immigrants coming from Europe are Roman Catholics and, it may be safely said, that a very large per cent of these people are of a low grade of education, intelligence, and what is generally considered in this country piety. They are poorly prepared for high-class citizenship.

We would not insinuate for a moment that there are not many excellent people among these immigrants capable of development into good citizens anywhere within the borders of this republic, but their ideals and customs with reference to keeping the Sabbath, education, and the moral and political life of the United States are not of a character to prove healthful in the development and progress of our American civilization.

Our present immigration laws reduce very considerably the vast number of these people who poured a perfect flood of humanity in upon us that was very difficult, almost impossible, to amalgamate into high-class American citizenry. They established their own schools, did not, and do not, attend our public schools, and, under the direction of their bishops and leaders, became a powerful political force, especially in our large cities and, I may safely say, a dangerous element in the election and support of men who sought office to be administered not to the best interests of the people, but for their own aggrandizement and selfish interests, often looking more to the Romish Church and its interests than to the well-being of the people at large, by way of favors returned for votes received.

We have no disposition or desire to misrepresent or to be uncharitable toward these, our fellowbeings, but they are unacquainted with the best ideals of our people. They are almost entirely ignorant of the teachings of the Bible, and by many thoughtful and serious people, as a great political force, they are believed to be a menace to the best interests of our republic. There is no question but that, under the guidance and direction of their religious teachers and political leaders, they can and do deliver a sort of mass ballot that by no means represents the best American ideals, but a dangerous and powerful force that is interested in the propagation of a great ecclesiasticism.

The thought of the Pope, cardinals, bishops and priests is set upon the United States, and that they are planning and maneuvering for the political domination of this country, there can be no doubt. The Romish people certainly believe themselves to be the people, and that their teaching and domination are best for humanity at large. There is no possibility or hope of any sort of religious co-operation between Romanists and Protestants. The Roman Catholics are a cohesive people. They are remarkably obedient to the teachings and orders of those in ecclesiastical authority over them. They are politically aggressive; they hold every position they have secured and are constantly moving forward for the occupation and control of new territory. They are not at all in sympathy with the educational system of this country. Their devotion to their church and its rulers is admirable, but unfortunate for the best interests of themselves and any country dominated by their influence.

There is no part of the world today that offers so rich a harvest field for evangelism and propaganda as this country. Here we have

(Continued on page 8)

BIBLE NOTES AND OBSERVATIONS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Mark Twain once said, "Most people are bothered by those passages in Scripture which they cannot understand; but as for me, I have always noticed that the passages in Scripture which trouble me most are those which I do understand."

This is notably true of young people. The Ten Commandments are simple and plain, but lots of people have trouble with them. Hebrews 12:14 is very clear. None of the modern versions of the Scriptures have withdrawn the original meaning of the verse and yet how many people have grave trouble with the question of holiness. They oppose it; they avoid it; they ignore it; they neglect it, but still it stands "Holiness without which no man shall see the Lord." The earnest, sincere Bible Christian takes a different attitude and says:

"He wills that I should holy be;
That holiness I long to feel;
That full divine conformity
To all my Savior's righteous will."

II.

Dr. John Hall was a wise minister in his day, and could pierce pretenses. For example: When I hear a man say (said Dr. Hall), "My parents brought me up so rigidly that a reaction took place in my mind, and I have turned away from religion," I have sometimes asked, "Did they teach you to be honest?" "Yes." "Were they strict about it?" "Yes." "Has any reaction taken place on these points?" No man learns the multiplication table from sheer love of it; but I never knew of anyone whose mind was in reaction against the multiplication table.

This is an age when a perilous philosophy is teaching the young people a "self-expression," so-called, that induces them to fling to the winds home teachings and the religion of their fathers and mothers. A lot of foolish teaching is indulged in which encourages young people to break the commandments and to go into sin of all kinds; and in many churches strictness and discipline are unknown for fear of the dear young people. Thank God, there are tens of thousands of young people belonging to spiritual churches and attending Bible and holiness schools who can say with John, "His commandments are not grievous." 1 John 5:3.

III.

A certain European said once: "When you Americans get an idea at once you make an organization. By the time you have the office organized and the secretaries working you begin to wonder what the original idea was."

I think this observer has struck the core of things in religious matters and in missionary affairs, too. If the Kingdom of God could come about by organization and machinery it could have been here long since. John Wesley brought on the biggest religious upheaval in modern history and he didn't even have a secretary. Typewriting was unknown, yet Wesley wrote over 70 books. We are in an age of organization. When was Methodism so highly organized as it is today, and yet the original idea of Methodism has been buried out of sight. Who today aside from a few holiness people cares that the original idea of Methodism was holiness? "God thrust them out to raise up a holy people," said Wesley. We have our big organizations, commissions and the finest machinery, but we have lost sight of Methodism's original idea. Then again this organization business is a costly thing. We have tremendous overhead expense. What we need is to return to simplicity and sincerity.

We are trying nowadays to bring about the Kingdom of God by all manner of means but by the Bible way. An exchange has said:

"Almost every subject under heaven is presented from the pulpits of the popular churches of today except those that pertain to personal salvation and vital godliness. The Presbyterian published the sensible views of a level-headed farmer. That it is to the point everyone who knows anything about the gospel and the work of the true preacher will admit. It was as follows:

"While attending a rural church conference at one of our universities, I heard an instructor advise the rural pastor to take a short course in agriculture in some State college. Now let me say right here that one of the things that I do not want and do not expect from my pastor is an agricultural lecture from the pulpit. When he calls on me, I would much rather talk church than crops and cows. Pastor, please do not force your ideas on agriculture or animal husbandry upon us from the church pulpit on the Lord's Day."

IV.

In South America a prominent Spanish-speaking (native) preacher said to me that so many of the foreign missionaries never preach the cross, the blood, or salvation through the atonement of Jesus. They preach morals, ethics, good living; they preach about the life and example of Jesus, forgetting that no one can live the Christ life without regenerating and sanctifying grace. Miss Anna Johnson Flint, the poetess, sings truly of Calvary and the Cross in the following lines:

"Christ does not save men by His Life,
Though that was holy, sinless, pure,
Nor even by His tender love,
Though that forever shall endure;
He does not save them by His Words,
Though they shall never pass away;
Nor by His vast creative power
That holds the elements in sway;
He does not save them by His works,
Though He was ever doing good;—
The awful need was greater still,
It took His Death, His Cross, His Blood.
Men preach today a crossless Christ,
A strengthless Saviour, vague and dim.
They will not see their sinful state,
They will not own their need of Him.
They will not know the Lamb of God,
Despised, rejected, crucified,—
That were to humble into dust
Their boasted intellect, their pride.
Yet no man cometh unto God
Save by the Son alone, He saith.
The deathless life for which we long
Can only—ever—come through death.
Not Bethlehem or Nazareth
Stern Justice's lifted hand could stay;
To Calvary the soul must go
And follow Jesus all the way."

V.

In my student days, and for many years thereafter, I have read deeply the writings of Spurgeon, of London, that mighty preacher of the gospel. In one of his books we read the following:

"A chasm is opening between the men who believe their Bibles and the men who are prepared for an advance upon Scripture. Inspiration and speculation cannot long abide in peace. Compromise there can be none. We cannot hold the inspiration of the Word, and yet reject it; we cannot believe in the atonement and deny it; we cannot hold the doctrine of the fall and yet talk of the evolution of spiritual life from human nature; we cannot recognize the punishment of the impenitent and yet indulge the 'Larger hope.' One way or the other we must go. Decision is the virtue of the hour.

"Neither when we have chosen our way can we keep company with those who go the other way. There must come with decision for truth a corresponding protest against error. Let those who will keep the narrow way keep it, and suffer for their choice; but to hope to follow the broad road at the same time is an absurdity. What communion hath Christ with Belial?"

The Modernists of today join hands with Tom Paine and infidels. The Press reports: Dr. E. F. Tittle, pastor First M. E. Church, Evanston, saying in his weekly church paper: "I do not believe that the broken body of Jesus was ever restored to life. What happened to it I do not know, nor do I feel any need to know! I do, however, believe that Jesus himself survived his crucifixion. I could not carry on without it."

A man who preaches that way does not believe his Bible or in Historic Christianity.

VI.

A returned Methodist Missionary from India writing on the situation, as he sees it, says: "The financial trouble the Church now faces is only symptomatic. Back of this financial failure is a loss of spiritual life and power. Man must blunder when he is not led of the Spirit. Man must fail when not empowered by the Spirit. No plan can ultimately succeed unless it is in line with God's will. Our Church must get back to the old landmarks of our faith—to the doctrines that gave birth to Methodism—or look upon failure after failure in the supreme work of the Church. Our Church plants were never so complete and costly as now. We never have had more machinery. There were never more men and women in our Church bearing the name of 'expert,' and we have never had more all-inclusive plans; but these possessions of ours do not enable us to accomplish what Jesus went to the cross to make possible."

At the annual meeting of the Board of Foreign Missions the treasurer "presented a document comprehensive and satisfying as far as information was concerned. However, it was not inspiring to hear him state that the board will have 11.60 per cent less money to spend this coming year than last. Activities must be curtailed. This means another cut. Money available for appropriations amounts to $3,051,273; compared with last year, $3,451,500. This indicates a shortage of nearly $400,000. The words of the treasurer fell like sledge-hammer blows upon the ears of those who heard him. They made every man with a missionary passion cry out in his soul, 'We cannot do what we want to do! We cannot do what we ought to do in an hour of unprecedented opportunity!' It was a humiliation and a distress! In an hour of the most insistent call we are weakened for action by lack of will to advance. What can be done? What has overtaken Methodism? Has she been defeated by betrayal within her own borders? Has she been stricken on the battlefield by a fatal malady? Has the great Captain who led her forth to battle been sorely wounded in the house of his friends?"

Shall we be thought presumptuous if we venture a reply to these questions? Let us say a few things anyhow.

(1) Yes, Christ has been wounded in the house of his friends by the denial of the great doctrines of Redemption.

(2) Yes, Methodism has been betrayed within her own borders by permitting the Unitarian teachers to teach in her schools and preach in her pulpits.

(3) Yes, we have been stricken on the field of battle by a fatal malady—unbelief and out and out skepticism. How can we expect our mission fields to prosper when we have teachers sent to the fields who openly say they do not believe in "slaughterhouse religion," thus bringing scandal on the atonement. What can we expect but defeat when native preachers in mission lands dread the advent of another foreign missionary because of the fatal malady of modernism he brings along with him. How can our young missionaries be anything else but modernistic when they are trained in schools where the Bible is discounted, the Atonement ignored, the Holy Spirit forgotten and philosophy takes the place of saving and sanctifying faith.

VII.

The doctrine of Satan is clearly taught in the Word of God and in evangelical theology. Read such passages as the following:

"And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years, and cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season" (Rev. 20:1-3).

"And the Devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the Beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever" (Rev. 20:10).

"Ye are of your father, the devil, and the lusts of your father, ye will do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it" (John 8:44).

"In whom the god of this world hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, who is the image of God, should shine into them" (2 Cor. 4:4). See Heb. 2:16; 1 John 3:8; Eph. 6:10-18.

Both Tom Paine and Dr. Fosdick teach that the Book of Job, where Satan is mentioned so frequently, is not Bible at all.

Paine says: "The Book of Job does not belong to the Bible. . . . It has been translated from another language into Hebrew, and the author of the book was a Gentile; that the character represented under the name of Satan . . . does not correspond to any Hebrew idea" (p. 112).

"The Christian Mythologists tell that their Satan made war against the Almighty, who defeated him, and confined him afterwards, not under a mountain, but in a pit. It is here easy to see that the first fable suggested the idea of the second; for the fable of Jupiter and the Giants was told many hundred years before that of Satan" (p. 13).

Fosdick says: "He (Satan) never appeared in the Old Testament until after Persian influence had begun its work, and then he was spoken of in three connections: Job 1:6-12; 2:1-7; Zech. 3:1, 2; 1 Chron. 21:1" (p. 119).

"Unembarrassed by any intellectual difficulty. . . . Satan and his satellites were supposed to work miracles continually" (p. 137).

Notwithstanding Mr. Paine and Dr. Fosdick, we are in an age of terrific Demonology; the Devil is doing a roaring business.

"The Devil was fairly voted out,
And of course the Devil is gone:
But simple people would like to know,
Who carries his business on."

THE ENTERING WEDGE.

C. W. Ruth, Evangelist.

THE entering wedge! Ah, there is the Christian's greatest peril! And it is the label on this entering wedge that makes it the most dangerous and the most effective device of Satan for the destruction of God's work, and the damnation of immortal souls. This entering wedge is usually done up as a religious package, said to be not only innocent and harmless, but even useful for the advancement of the kingdom of God: it is invariably labeled, "No Harm."

The old veterans of the cross have learned that his satanic majesty has an endless supply, and an innumerable variety of these "entering wedges," suited to all ages, conditions, and circumstances, with which he carries on his nefarious business, and accomplishes his diabolical purposes most successfully; but they are all so carefully wrapped in a covering called "Good intentions," and decorated with the label of "no harm," until even the "very elect" are at times in great danger of being deceived and ensnared by their seeming innocence and harmlessness; indeed, this "no harm" label is known to be Satan's masterpiece, and the most effective weapon he has ever invented for the defeat, and the destruction of God's people. The wrapping is so clever and so delusive, that frequently the only way it can be detected at all is by the label itself, which always bears the imprint, "No harm."

We would like to sound the following note of warning to all travellers to the Celestial City: "Beware of the 'no harm' products;" they invariably contain some of Satan's most dangerous opiates and narcotics, which inevitably produce narcosis, resulting in a benumbed conscience, and spiritual coma; even when taken in very small doses they have a most unwholesome and deleterious effect, frequently terminating in spiritual death. Remember, the good book tells us, it is "the little foxes that spoil the vines." Sol. Song 2:15. It is always "a little fox," before it appears as a large fox. It is these "little foxes" that serve as the "entering wedge," and make possible the accomplishment of all his satanic purposes. It is these "little foxes" who serve as Satan's advance agents; they are frequently disguised as "angels of light," and thus deceive and destroy the unwary and unsuspecting.

One of the sweet, and most certain ways of detecting the "entering wedge" is to rigidly apply the scriptural rule of conduct, as recorded in 1 Cor. 10:31: "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." So that instead of inquiring "Is it any harm," and thus accepting Satan's "no harm" products, we should always remember that the Christian is not to be merely passively good, so as to do no harm, but always to be actively good, doing all things to the glory of God. Any act or attitude which requires an apology and a "no harm" explanation, thus indicating that there is some doubt and uncertainty about the matter, should always be avoided, and instantly rejected. Giving God the benefit of the doubt and thus keeping on the safe side of every question, is the only sure way of escaping Satan's entering wedge. He who has a fixed purpose of heart to do only that which he knows to be "to the glory of God," and will steadfastly abide by this rule, will escape Satan's snares, and glorify God by a truly consecrated and consistent life. All backsliding, and failure in the Christian's life may be attributed to the failure to observe this scriptural rule. Because a matter may seem to be innocent, and is labeled "no harm," is not sufficient reason for a Christian to indulge the same; the question still remains, "Will it do any good?" Rather, "Will it glorify God?" "Whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." The failure to observe this rule is Satan's "entering wedge," and invariably leads to compromise and open sin.

But not only does Satan use the "entering wedge" for the destruction of the individual Christian character, but for the overthrow of the work of God in general. I am thinking particularly of the work of holiness, as it pertains to our holiness churches, holiness camp meetings, and holiness schools. It is not open opposition, nor outward foes that endanger us. No, when persecution rages and the forces of evil assail from without, the saints are driven to prayer, and dependence upon God, and are more alert, and more victorious than at any other time.

We think one of the most effective and successful methods of Satan in these latter days for the overthrow of our Holiness Institutions, is to place men on the church board, the camp meeting board, and the school board, who are good men, but who are not themselves in the experience of heart holiness, and therefore not definitely and explicitly committed to the doctrine and experience of holiness—these men are usually selected because of their financial status, their influential standing in other circles, or their "scholastic attainments;" in a word, they are selected for other reasons, than that of having a definite, clear-cut experience of heart holiness. While they are doubtless good men, they have never thought the matter of sufficient importance to seek the experience; and in some cases, have never fully subscribed to the doctrine; at any rate they have never yet paid the price and entered the experience; and yet they are selected to serve on a Board that is expected to push the work of holiness. This, we contend, is Satan's "entering wedge."

It should be understood that a man who does not regard the matter of sufficient importance to seek and obtain the experience for himself is not likely to see the importance of others seeking the experience, and is not likely to do much for the propagation of the same. Having some mental reservations concerning the doctrine, he will probably say and do nothing in favor of the same. But, by placing him on the Board he is given a vote; and then, he too knows some very "influential friends" who might serve on the Board; and perhaps this "friend" also has money, or a high standing in some "influential circle," or some fine "scholastic attainments," and college degrees, and so he is also selected as a member of the Board; and by this process these "influentials" on the Board soon have the balance of power in voting, and they select the pastor for the church, the evangelist for the camp meeting, and the President of the college; and naturally they select men who are of like mind with themselves; thenceforth holiness becomes a matter of minor importance, and the church, the camp meeting, and the school are holiness institutions in name only. This is the history of the past, and is rapidly becoming the history of some of our holiness institutions of today.

Particularly is this the danger of some of our holiness schools today. A college president who does not himself stand four-square for the experience and doctrine, and regard the same as the dominant issue, is almost certain to dictate the selection of teachers, who, like himself, regard the matter of holiness of only secondary importance, (if given any consideration at all) and degree, and scholastic attainments are given first place; and thus we become, like "the nations round about us," having lost our distinctive commission and doctrine. And all this was accomplished by his satanic majesty through

(Continued on page 6)

THE MAN WHO GOT OUT OF HIS PLACE.

Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.

2 Chronicles 26.

IN 2 Chron. the 26th chapter, we have an account of the rise and fall of a mighty king. Years ago when going to college we studied ancient history, and there we found the account of the rise and fall of the Roman Empire—how it started from obscurity, rose to a high pinnacle, then fell and went into oblivion. Men are like kingdoms; they start in obscurity, and a few rise to great popularity, then—

I have four leading thoughts in the study of this remarkable king, Uzziah who reigned 52 years. These four divisions are:—

- First. Obscurity.
- Second. Prosperity.
- Third. Popularity.
- Fourth. Oblivion.

Let us study this character closely. Read from the first to the fifth verses, inclusive. "Then all the people of Judah took Uzziah, who was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father, Amaziah. He built Eloth, and restored it to Judah, after that the king slept with his fathers."

"Sixteen years old was Uzziah when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty and two years in Jerusalem."

"And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all that his father Amaziah did."

"And he sought God in the days of Zechariah, who had an understanding in the vision of God: and as long as he sought the Lord God made him to prosper."

1. Obscurity. Here was a boy in great obscurity. We do not read a thing about him until he was sixteen years of age, when he came upon the scene of activity. He was evidently a very remarkable youth for it is seldom you will read of a boy at the age of sixteen who seeks the Lord, and takes delight in associating with the humble saints of God. We read that he sought God in the days of Zechariah, who had "understanding in the visions of God." Get the picture! Here is an exception; instead of being found down town, on the street corners, or at the ball grounds, he would rather seek God and associate with the old prophets. I do not care who you are, how humble, or how homely has been your parentage, how obscure your life, if you associate with good people, especially the remarkable saints of God, sooner or later the world will hear from you. It is a greater heritage for a boy or girl to be brought up with an old-time, conscientious saint than to fall heir to millions.

2. Prosperity. I do not want to invite criticism, but I must preach something that is contrary to the theory of many good people. It tells us here distinctly "as long as he sought the Lord" which gives me reason to believe that we ought not to stop with being saved or sanctified. I believe in two distinct works of grace: we ought to seek definitely until we obtain them; they should stand out in bold relief in our lives. But, oh, it is a pity when we crystallize around a certain blessing, great as that blessing may be. I am afraid that some of the dear holiness people, after they were saved and sanctified, settled down and went to seed around a wonderful blessing.

God bless you! There are heights and depths, lengths and breadths after you have been sanctified of which you have never dreamed. Some good people remind me of the nanny-goat that we have in California where there is not much pasture land. We stake her out with a long chain allowing her a certain range. For the first few days she has a wonderful feed, and the result is we receive a wonderful supply of rich milk. But after a while she has eaten the nice alfalfa or clover off, down to the roots. Then, unless we give her a longer chain, or move her, she will suffer and we likewise will suffer with a cheap supply of milk. A rather homely illustration, you say. Yes, but we read in Isaiah 54:2, "Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes." This is what many good people need to do! Get out of that little treadmill! Lengthen your cords and strengthen your stakes, then see if you do not grow more rapidly.

Yes, I thank God for two distinct works of grace, but I am still seeking God, for I believe there is advance ground that will make my yesterdays look cheap. Our mountain peaks today ought to become our valleys tomorrow, if we continually seek God and rise to higher heights.

Again, it tells us that as long as Uzziah sought the Lord, "God made him to prosper." I do not know where some of us have gotten the idea, but we have gotten the notion that God puts a special premium on poverty. We think that because a man is poverty-stricken and can scarcely pay his rent or clothe his family, that for some reason this goes with righteousness. Now, beloved, do not misunderstand me! I am not preaching that we should strive to gather the riches of this old world. We read "The poor have the Gospel preached to them," and we are glad to know that God is no respecter of persons. It is also true that the poor, as a rule, receive the Gospel more gladly than the rich, who have so many comforts and luxuries that they do not feel the need of comfort from God. You are not to blame because you were born poor, or because for the time being you are hard pressed, financially. But I believe if you seek the Lord as Uzziah did, tithe your income, and are careful in your home life, that sooner or later you ought to get to the place where you can not only take care of yourself but turn around and help somebody else.

My father-in-law was a great lecturer, and I remember his making this statement: "When the struggle for existence begins, the opportunity for usefulness ends." The meaning is that as long as one is struggling for an existence, all he can do is to pay his rent, feed and clothe his own family; in short, as long as he can merely keep his own head above the billows he is not able to reach out and help another. He is busy taking care of himself. As long as this is the case he cannot be a benefactor to others.

Turn with me to Joshua 1:7, 8. "Only be thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Moses my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest. This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success."

We read also of Joseph in Genesis 39:23. "The keeper of the prison looked not to anything that was under his (Joseph's) hand: because the Lord was with him, and that which he did, the Lord made it to prosper." Again in Psalms 1:3, "Whatsoever the righteous man doeth shall prosper." I take it from these passages that if you are pure in your secret life, as was Joseph; if you stick to the good old Book, as did Joshua; and if you are righteous in your dealings with your fellow-men as you ought to be, God will bless and prosper you so that later, you will be able to help, rather than be helped.

Please pardon a personal reference. We were born so poor that we could make snowballs by reaching out of our bed in the old attic. We did not know what a suit of underwear felt like until fourteen. For a cap we wore one of mother's old stockings pulled down over the head with part of the leg flopping in the air. And since we grew up and became a preacher we have known how to drink the dregs of poverty. For a number of years it was all we could do to pay rent and take care of our little family. But God led us to tithe, though it was very small. Then he led us to start writing pamphlets and books, though we did not have enough money to get them published. But I kept on seeking God, tithing and humbling myself, and finally got ahead. Let me say it humbly, in the last forty years we have published over $50,000 worth of books. And now it has become a delight, a great delight, instead of having to look to other people to help me, it has become my great delight to give away hundreds and thousands worth of dollars in cash and books. Yes, I repeat, if you behave, and seek earnestly, sooner or later he will make you, like Uzziah, to prosper.

3. Popularity. The third step in this king's life as he climbed, he reached a dangerous pinnacle—that of popularity. This is such a dizzy tower that very few can keep properly balanced on it without toppling over. We read in the 15th verse: "And he made in Jerusalem engines, invented by cunning men, to be on the towers and on the bulwarks, to shoot arrows and great stones withal. And his name spread abroad; for he was marvelously helped, till he was strong." Oh! the multitudes of men and movements that started in obscurity, and because they humbled themselves and sought God earnestly, he prospered them; and then they became popular, and now I must hasten and drop the curtain, for the downfall is too sad to look upon.

Continue to read the sad epitaph: "But when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord to burn incense upon the altar of incense." Very few people can survive prosperity and popularity and keep truly humble. Adam Clarke gave some fine advices to young preachers. He said: "Do not allow yourselves to be invited out frequently to rich dinners and associate with people of fine clothes, fine carriages and fine homes! How different was this advice from the practice of a lot of young preachers of today, who think, 'If I can only get my picture or name in the paper; or, if I could dine with those of influence; or sit on the platform with men of reason, this will give me a start, increase my standing and put me in great demand.'"

Methinks I see the devil standing around the corner chuckling to himself at this young fellow who is climbing so fast and becoming so popular! Satan is saying, "I am just delighted to see you climbing so high and getting so popular, for the higher you climb the greater will be the fall!" Brethren, I do not feel envious of any young preacher who climbs faster than myself, but I feel rather a sense of pity, for in many cases up the road there I fear he is going to come to disgrace or to an untimely end. Oh, dear students and young preachers, do not be ambitious to succeed, as compromising men count success! I would rather be on a greenbrier circuit, out in the brush or woods, and have the peculiar blessing of God upon me, with new revelations from God upon my Bible as I read it, than be in the city, riding around, and feel when I retire at night, "The old-time glory has departed!"

4. Finally, I come to the saddest word of all, "Oblivion." Here was a mighty man of God out of his place. He vainly thought that because he had rebuilt Jerusalem, fortified a number of cities, and now had a standing army of over 300,000 men; that because he had put Judea and Jerusalem on the map, and his fame had spread throughout all the nations round about, so that they feared him because of his riches and might; yea, he vainly thought that because he had done all of these things he could go into the temple of the Lord and burn incense. "And they (the priests) withstood Uzziah the king, and said unto him, it appertaineth unto thee, Uzziah, to burn incense unto the Lord but unto the priests, the sons of Aaron, that are consecrated to burn incense: go out of the sanctuary for thou hast trespassed; neither shall it be for thine honor from the Lord God."

"Then Uzziah was wroth, and had a censor in his hand to burn incense: and while he was wroth with the priests, the leprosy even rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of the Lord, from beside the incense altar. And Azariah, the chief priest, and all the priests, looked upon him, and behold, he was leprous in his forehead and they thrust him out from thence; yea, himself hastened to go out, because the Lord had smitten him. And Uzziah, the king, was a leper unto the day of his death, and dwelt in a several house, being a leper; For he was cut off from the house of the Lord: And Jotham, his son, was over the king's house, judging the people of the land."

See the sad picture! Here is this mighty ruler who got out of his place and nobody could deal with him; nobody could reprove him, for he was head and shoulders above his cabinet. He thought, "By my own sagacity and power I have brought Jerusalem to the top!"

And God alone had to deal with him. He was compelled to dwell in a separate house, (the pest house) and here he remained until the day of his death a despised leper. See

OUR SPECIAL OFFER.

We are offering The Pentecostal Herald to trial subscribers from November 1 to February 1, 1932, for the very small sum of TWENTY-FIVE Cents.

We desire to put the message of The Herald into the hands of many people who have not read the paper. This offer gives an opportunity to those who have received spiritual help from The Herald's pages to pass it on to other people.

During the time mentioned we shall have a most interesting series of articles. There will be some choice matter from that most remarkable and versatile preacher and writer, Rev. C. W. Ruth. He will have something to say on "Why Women Should Not Smoke," and other interesting subjects. There will be two great articles from that remarkable New Testament teacher and preacher, Rev. Joseph H. Smith, on "Holiness Standard Bearers in Methodism." It is a most interesting and instructive piece of religious literature. I wish it might be read by a million people.

There will be a series of articles during the period mentioned from Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D. D. No more charming and instructive writer speaks through the columns of The Pentecostal Herald. The articles mentioned above will be worth many times the price of the paper for the three months indicated.

There will appear a series of articles on "If Christ Should Come to Jerusalem," by the Editor, H. C. Morrison. He makes a different approach to the subject than usual, and we believe these articles will be read with interest and profit. The end of the present age and the Coming of the Lord is a subject claiming the attention of many thoughtful people.

Send in the names of a group of your friends and let them have a taste of the bill of fare presented by The Pentecostal Herald. Many of them will become yearly subscribers. If there ever was a time when the Lord's people should sow spiritual truth beside all waters, that time is now. The forces of unbelief are united, strong, determined and aggressive. The Lord's followers should do all they can to bring the saving truths of the gospel to the thoughtless multitudes. The truth is, there are multitudes of hungry souls who do not know where to find bread for their pressing spiritual needs. Give a helping hand, and do it now.

him! He dare not go outside of his own lot, for no doubt they had a high wall around the enclosure; and if anybody dared to come inside the wall, the law demanded that as soon as a leper saw another person he must throw up both hands and cry at the top of his voice, "Unclean! Unclean!"

See him! He is not riding down the boulevard with prancing steeds! He is hidden away, and not even his wife and children dare visit him; and if they want to give him a precious dish they must put it at the gate, then flee as he or one of his servants comes out to receive it.

And why all of this? I answer because he did not keep humble; because he got out of his place; because he could not take a reproof. After he died they did not allow him to be buried in the sepulchre of the kings; he had to be buried in a separate burying-place. I think we all might take warning if we study the life of this young man, this powerful king, then this leper who died and dropped into oblivion. Better fall upon your face now before the Lord than have the Lord crush you with a sad calamity. Better live at everybody's feet, and take reproof from the least person, than get exalted, then later die like a beast and go into oblivion.

New President Inaugurated at Taylor University.

The inauguration of Robert Lee Stuart as president of Taylor University will be signalized October 28 and 29 by appropriate ceremonies, and the new Maytag gymnasium will be comfortably seated for the occasion. Invitations to the event have been received by all colleges in Indiana, and many will send representatives. William Lowe Bryan, of Indiana University, recognized as dean of Indiana college presidents, will address the gathering. Other distinguished speakers will be President L. A. Pittenger, of Ball State Teachers College; President Earl E. Harper, of Evansville College; President L. R. Akers, of Asbury (Ky.) College; Bishop Edgar Blake, of Indianapolis; Dr. Ernest C. Wareing, of Cincinnati, member of the Christian Advocate editorial board; Superintendent L. W. Kemper, of Kokomo; Superintendent M. O. Lester, of Wabash; and the following Methodist pastors: P. B. Smith, Anderson; W. T. Arnold, Marion; S. H. Turbeville, Kokomo; L. G. Jacobs, Logansport; and M. J. Hill, Buffalo, N. Y.

The inaugural address by President Stuart will conclude the events. A regular meeting of the Legal Hundred, Taylor's board of control, will be coincident with the inauguration, and Mr. Linton A. Wood, of Indianapolis, president of the board, will confer upon the new president the symbol of authority.

M. G. WRAY, Correspondent.

Don'ts For Preachers.

REV. F. LINCICOME.

Don't forget that a call to the ministry is a call to study. I am not saying that a man must attend college to be successful, but I firmly believe that he must study continually. One reason so many young men find themselves with no place for service is because they do not like the work of diligent study. Because of their dislike for it they just let study slide.

Don't forget that personality goes a long ways toward your success. There are two things that make strong personality; namely, your dress and your address. So don't be untidy in your person. Keep your face shaved, clothes brushed, shoes shined and trousers pressed.

Don't be soft with the opposite sex. Great danger lies here. The holding of the hand, a wink of the eye, a patronizing glance, visiting too long, when your wife is not with you, calling too often on the same woman, will sooner or later reflect upon you as a minister.

Don't say, "Just a few words in closing," then take a long breath and proceed to preach another half hour. Better stop preaching in time to make an altar call. You should always try to string the fish if there are any in the stream. If you are not after fish, what are you after?

Don't be a policy man. A policy man is only a timid time-server, man-pleaser, and a man-fearer. He has no deep convictions, no fixed, settled purposes. He feels his way, keeps fingers on the pulse, his eye on the weather, and his ear on the ground. He seeks the line of least resistance. He is vacillating and like a tree toad, changes color with the crowd.

St. Francis of Assisi—The Little Poor Man.

The above is the title of a book by James O. Dobson. It gives the very fascinating story of this wonderfully saintly man. It is unusually interesting. It gives one a good insight into conditions in the twelfth century in the church and spiritual life in Europe. It is a spiritual tonic, and we commend the book to all classes of readers. It ought to be especially interesting to ministers. It is neatly bound in cloth, on good paper, clear type, easy reading, and contains 149 pages. Price $1.00. Can be had of The Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky., for 50c. The number of copies is limited. Write at once.

H. C. MORRISON.

Christmas Presents

bought now, will keep, and if you want to make a handsome gift—one that will last and do good, we do not know of a better one to suggest than "Beautiful Story of the Bible." It is a beautifully bound book, published to sell at $2.95, and has every appearance of a high-priced book. We offer the copies we have, the remainder of the edition, at $1.00 each. Don't let this opportunity pass.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

THE ENTERING WEDGE.

(Continued from page 3)

the use of the "entering wedge" in placing men on the Board who were not real, definite, outstanding holiness men.

Remember, it was "while men slept," the "enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat." Matt. 13:25. No man should be placed on the Board of a holiness church, a holiness camp meeting, or a holiness college who has not himself felt and seen the absolute importance, and necessity of the experience, so that he himself has "sold all that he had, and bought it," (Matt. 13:46) and thus become a definite, radical witness and advocate of the experience. Beware of the "entering wedge!" The fact that men are good men, and moneyed men, and influential men in other religious circles does not qualify them for membership on the Board of a Holiness Institution. Only they who have themselves paid the price, and have definite, inwrought convictions on the subject should be selected for these responsible positions. An ox and an ass were both good, useful domestic animals, calculated to pull the load: but they were not to be hitched together: presumably because they did not fit together, and would not feel the pressure at the same point. Deut. 22:10. Better be small, and poor, and despised, but clean and wholehearted—with dependence only upon God—than to be large, and rich, and popular, and only half-hearted, with dependence upon the wisdom of men. Compromise will weaken and defeat us. "If God be for us, who can be against us." Rom. 8:31.

THE RACE.

JOSEPH H. SMITH.

Hebrews 12:1.

What is he speaking? Is it life in general as of a race simply with death or with time? Or, is it the Christian's pathway and pilgrimage that is here in mind?

The setting of the context, and the examples cited, and the incentives urged leave no question open but that it is the latter. Then, in what sense, may we ask, is the Christian's life a race? Is it a competitive run to outstrip others? Is it a flight from some besom of destruction? Is it a making of speed lest we be too late for some great occasion? Or, is it that the prize we seek is still conditioned upon some goal we must reach? And does the attaining that mark require the pressing of all our powers, as well as the stripping of ourselves as if for a race, if we would really apprehend that for which we are apprehended of Christ Jesus?

All Scripture answers in the affirmative to this question. And the triumph of the victors gone before, together with the sad and silent eloquence of the many that have fallen out by the way, bids us to: "So run that we may obtain." John Wesley faithfully tells us that many of those who had once obtained the grace have lost out—some of them time and again. Will Huff, some ten years before he left us, said of the near four hundred saved in the same revival in which he was so graciously converted, that, to the best of his knowledge, he was the only one now in active Christian service. Jesus said: "Many are called and few are chosen." Yes, it is a race!

But next we notice, It is not an adventure. Not a mere enterprise or exploit of our own. It is, as spoken of here, a "race that is set before us." This both as to the divine plan for all Christians, and the particular pathway for each individual Christian. Nothing is by chance. Nothing is haphazard. There is a just sense in which there are 'no accidents,' 'no misfortunes,' no 'good luck.' There is neither favoritism nor prejudice in the administration of life's affairs with any of God's people. All must "through much tribulation enter the kingdom of heaven." Of all of them it is truly: "The Father's good pleasure to give them the kingdom." And to each and everyone he saith: "My grace is sufficient for thee."

This entire context indicates that "the race that is set before us" is "The way of the Cross." It majors on such terms as "shame," "contradiction," "striving," "chastening," "grievous," and "blood." Hence the seeming paradox at the outset: "Run" with "Patience." The truth is this "race" is a mountain hike. It is a climb. Sometimes by a mere footpath where none but one can step at a time. Sometimes with many sharp turns, and that by rugged precipices, and again up against huge boulders which seem to halt us from further progress.

For such a race, this tourist manager, or rather this racer's coach, at the very gateway bids us:

"Lay aside every weight" and

"The sin that doth so easily beset us."

Is this last named, so in any sense or measure, after once the soul has been cleansed from its inbred iniquity? Yea, verily. And this will be seen from two, if not three considerations.

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dregs do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

"It is ridiculous to say all young people are drinking since prohibition. We don't find it so. We have no evidence that boys and girls on the verge of delinquency are in this unhappy position because of the prohibition laws."—Miss Jessie Binford, Director of the Juvenile Protective Association of Chicago.

The death to sin within us has not made dead the sin of the world that is about us. It presses us upon every side. Our cleansing has not destroyed our free moral agency with its power of choice and capability of sinning, nor has it utterly removed our vulnerability at points where former sinful habits had weakened our will power.

And we are all aware that Satan still "as a roaring lion goeth about seeking whom he may devour"—watches for unguarded moments at these weak points, and engages the sinful world, of which he is in some sense, the prince, to lure or to lash us from the way of holiness. So that there is even yet a three-fold sense in which "sin does so easily beset us." But if to humility and dependence, we add vigilance, with much diligence, in the prayer life of faith—and if "these things be in us and abound they make us that we shall never fall."

Now it is to this other, that the Spirit would seem to have us press attention: "Lay aside every weight." There are some things which, while not unholy, are nevertheless quite heavy. "He that warreth entangleth not himself with the things of the world." "All things (that) are lawful, but are not (always) expedient." When Jesus spoke of "hand" to be cut off; or "eye" to be plucked out, he was not implying that sin or moral corruption might attach to our physical being per se; but if one's trade or business, as illustrated by the occupation of the "hand," if one's pursuits as indicated by the "foot," or his pleasures as suggested by the "eye" caused him to stumble or go astray, let him sacrifice them for safety and "security." See!

Within a fortnight of the writer's conversion, his pastor and spiritual father charged him impressively, saying: "Now, any intimate friendship that will not help you nearer to Christ will help draw you away from him." And this has kept me from mixing in worldly "societies," in "clubs," in "secret orders," etc., and from close friendship with any but deeply spiritual persons. A little chain of warnings upon this line, given by the apostle Paul in 2 Corinthians 6:14-17, will easily recur to your minds. It shows that to all our choices, associations, yokefellowships, and interests, the test of "fellowship," "communion," "agreements," and "concord" with righteousness, with light, with faith, and with the temple of God is to be applied. And this will aid us in our lines of obedience to this command, that we "Lay aside every weight" if we would apply the test of harmony.

Does this conformity to the world's fashions in my dress accord with the meekness and modesty and simplicity of the mind of Christ? Does this friend fellowship with me in my friendship for Jesus? This recreation or amusement, does it, either in its influence upon my own mind, or in its example and influence upon others about me, agree with my consecration and covenant relations with the Man of Galilee? Can he and I go together there, and will we come back without any measure of separation of our spirits? And in my eagerness for education does my promiscuous reading and study of literature, and my hearing of teachers that have taint of unbelief and of anti-Christ agree with my call, and my worship in the temple of God?

Harmony or discord with one's deadness and distance toward the world; and help or hindrance to my spiritual life and my progress in "the race set before me" must determine where I go, with whom, and what I go for, and what I do, and what I wish, and what I am willing to secure.

The race, remember, is not a jaunt, it is a 'hike.' It is not for a vacation; it is life-long. A single misstep may give one an irretrievable fall. A day's delay or an interruption may cause us to miss the prize and find the door shut.

This is the Way of the Cross—and there must be the dual crucifixion of the world to me and of myself to the world. One must "take up his cross daily." To prove God's perfect will he must be "no longer conformed to the world, but transformed."

But this "Way of the Cross leads Home."

Miracle Lives of China.

Here is one of the most remarkable books on the gracious power of God among the Chinese people that I have ever read. It tells the story of a marvelous power of God's converting grace under the ministry of Rev. and Mrs. Jonathan Goforth. I have read the book with increasing interest from first to last page. It should be read by hosts of people. It is a revelation, a spiritual tonic. It reveals the fact that the mighty power of God is in the world, moving among the people wherever he can find consecrated instruments through whom he can work. This book contains 157 pages, neatly bound, good paper, clear print. Each page contains considerable matter. You will be entertained, instructed and your faith quickened by the reading of this book. It may be had of The Pentecostal Publishing Company, for $1.50.

H. C. MORRISON.

One of the Alarming Sins

of the age is the sin of covetousness. "Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure," by L. L. Pickett, is a booklet that will impel the reader to search his or her heart. Get it and read it. Price 15c per copy, or $1.20 per dozen, if you want to circulate some of them.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

THE EIGHTY-SIXTH SESSION LOUISVILLE CONFERENCE.

By Rev. C. K. Dickey, D. D.

The eighty-sixth session of the Louisville Annual Conference met in the college gymnasium of Lindsey-Wilson, Jr. College, Columbia, Ky., Sept. 30, Bishop W. F. McMurry, presiding. Dr. B. W. Napier, who was elected for the thirteenth time secretary, resigned, and Rev. H. R. Short, a college and university graduate, just twenty-eight years of age, and pastor at Greenville, Ky., one of the leading stations of the conference, was unanimously elected secretary. He is said to be the youngest conference secretary in Southern Methodism.

The high point of the conference was Saturday morning when at 10 o'clock in the morning was made the special order of the day for projecting the campaign for the Kentucky Educational Fund to raise, Nov. 8-17, the sum of $660,000 for Kentucky Wesleyan College, Dr. C. M. Danell, president, Winchester, an A-grade, four-years college, and Lindsey-Wilson, Jr. College, Columbia, giving four years high school and two years college, Dr. R. V. Bennett president. Had not Bishop McMurry and the Joint Board of Education of the Kentucky and Louisville Conference inaugurated this movement, neither of these colleges could have opened this fall. Logan Junior College for girls, Russellville, with $60,000.00 indebtedness was closed and ordered sold. It will be the policy of these two jointly owned conference colleges to maintain an A-grade junior college and a four-year senior college to meet the standards required by the Southern Association of Colleges. Bishop McMurry, who closed the address, after Drs. Bennet, Danell, and Rev. Virgil Long, graduates of both institutions, for the alumni, and Woodruff Flowers for Lindsey-Wilson, and Judge John J. Howe, General Chairman, who spoke for both conferences, said, "It is not a question of your choice or mine—it is a question of death to death, ashes to ashes, life or death. The Methodist preacher, who does not measure up to his best, is a traitor to the best interest of the church." The resolution for the campaign of the Conference Board was unanimously adopted by rising vote.

There was raised for all purposes last year $690,870.00 against $797,645.00 for the same period a year ago, or a 15 per cent decrease. The per cent paid on benevolences was 62 per cent, only two districts showed a per cent gain, Henderson 2 per cent, Owensboro, 18 per cent. The gain in church membership was only 150, making 66,384 members. There was an increase of 1020 in Sunday schools over last year. There are 171 pastoral charges, 523 societies and seven districts. The Bishop said the Elizabethtown District should be absorbed by the other surrounding districts but he did not do this this year because it would interfere with the organization to raise the $660,000.00 endowment fund. The twenty-nine superannuates subscribed ten dollars a year for three years to start off the campaign. Five were superannuated, viz: Revs. W. H. Archey, with 51 years of service, B. C. Horton, with 40 years service, G. A. Gailor with 30 years service, R. A. Bogard with 22 years service, and Robert Johnson.

Four were admitted on trial, viz: Revs. J. C. Hayden, Geo. S. Woods, J. P. Boer, E. M. Wilcox. Four were given an honorable location: Revs. B. F. Copas, A. B. Underwood, W. S. Hill, John F. Hill. Two died: Revs. A. C. Gentle, E. C. E. Smith. One was transferred to the Central Texas Conference, Dr. J. W. Johnson, pastor Fourth Avenue, Louisville. One was received by transfer, Dr. D. E. Hauk, from First Church, Ft. Worth Tex. These brethren were exchanged by the bishops presiding over these two conferences.

Eleven traveling and one local elder was ordained. Four were admitted into full connection, viz: Revs. W. S. Bowles, C. S. Rainey, S. J. B. True. Four were ordained deacons, viz: Revs. W. S. Bowles and C. S. Rainey, traveling deacons, and Revs. G. C. Oliver and J. A. Humble, local deacons.

Judge T. J. Sparks, District Attorney for the Western District of Kentucky, spoke on "Law Enforcement." He referred to the false wet propaganda, saying that while there are only 2,500 enforcement men in the U. S., yet a leading newspaper recently stated the government had discharged 70,000 enforcement men because they were in sympathy with the repealing of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The vote for the Judicial Council stood 118 for, and 49 against, lacking only eight votes of a three-fourths majority to pass in this conference. But this does not mean that it will fail in all the conferences, in fact this scribe believes it will pass for the whole church, when all the conferences shall have voted.

The conference was invited to meet next year at Settle Memorial, Owensboro, Rev. Dawson W. Bryan, pastor. By a majority vote the next presiding bishop was asked to convene the 187th session on Thursday morning instead of Wednesday, with a view to closing Sunday. All the business of the conference was completed Saturday afternoon. The Rev. J. S. Chandler conducted the Conference Love Feast at nine o'clock Sunday morning. Bishop McMurry preached a great sermon at the eleven o'clock hour. The deacons and elders were ordained Saturday morning. At the close of the sermon the Bishop read the appointments and the Conference adjourned sine die. The crowds were large. The neighboring towns of Campbellsville, Greensburg, and village and neighboring churches helped to feed the visiting ministers and delegates on old ham, fried chicken and too many other good wholesome nourishing eats to mention.

FROM THE FIRING LINE

Since June 8th we have engaged in several revivals. These have been blessed days. Some meetings have been too short to see large visible results but there have been souls blessed in each meeting. There have been around 400 happy finders in these meetings. The meeting in Kings Mountain with Rev. John Church was wonderful. Near a hundred souls were blessed. Bro. Church is beyond question the best holiness preacher in North Carolina, and the best gospel preacher in the Methodist Church in North Carolina when it comes to definite, clear gospel preaching. At Greensboro we were engaged in tent meeting sponsored mainly by Rev. W. A. Way of the Pilgrim Holiness Church and aided by the other praying people of Greensboro. So far as I know Greensboro has more good, spiritually-minded Christian people in it than any city I ever worked in in revivals.

The meeting here cannot be described. Reader, have you thought the day of revivals is past? That real old-time holiness meetings are no more? You should have been here. I am confident this was the greatest holiness meeting I have witnessed in ten years. Never will those scenes and testimonies and victories be forgotten by those who were there. At least two hundred were blessed—scores of them sanctified. We then were engaged at Camp Free with John Paul, John Church, A. L. Stanford and others as workers, and Vaughn Radio Quartette as singers. No man can describe this meeting. The messages, music, power, testimonies were wonderful. The attendance excelled any camp ever held here. Dr. Paul was at his best. He was far ahead of anything we have ever before heard. His message on "Christ Among the Candlesticks" in the seven churches was said to be the greatest gospel message ever delivered at Camp Free. Our own Brother Stanford's sermon on the "Second Coming" on Sunday morning was wonderful. Miss Edith Crouse again led the children's work. She is unexcelled in such work.

We next were engaged with Rev. Luther Payne in opening a new camp near Galax, Va. Bro. Payne is a true, capable, clear-cut holiness preacher of the Holston Conference. God blessed and gave a blessed meeting and the work goes on. We next had the privilege of assisting at Baldwin, N. C., in the old church where, thirty-three years ago, we were converted. What happy and blessed time we did have there. Then we spent a week with Rev. G. N. Dulin near Canton, N. C., in Beaver Dam Church. He is a wide-awake, courageous boy with promise. He is true to the Book. God bless him. At this writing we are closing a nine-days' meeting near Elizabethtown, N. C., at the well-known Eureka Church. Here is a Methodist Church where holiness has been preached and loved. Glorious are the reports of this blessed place. Footprints of saints are here. Holy memories are heard from many lips. God is yet with us. The meeting is so deep and rich in truth and grace that we will not try to describe it.

Our next meeting is in Methodist Church, Burlington, with E. G. Overton, beginning Oct. 4, for two weeks. October 18 we begin with Wesleyan Methodists in West Durham. Keep us in prayer.

Jim Green.

YUANCHOW, HUNAN, CHINA.

"Therefore will I look unto the Lord." Micah 7:7. Dearly Beloved in the Lord:—

During the time of the prophet Micah there was nothing but idol worship, unbelief and sin in Judah. As in our days, the family life was broken up, the children were dishonoring father and mother, and a spirit of distrust was seen everywhere. It was a heartbreaking time for the Prophet, but he did not look unto the apostasy of the people, he looked unto the Lord. The situation in the world is very bad, and it will get worse, therefore the Lord is looking for men and women who will "stand in the gap" and look away from everything unto Jesus. He is the God of our salvation. He will hear and answer us, and we shall behold his righteousness.

During the last two months I was away for thirty-five days. I visited eight out-stations and rejoiced at the Lord's doings everywhere. There is still very much to be done in this district in spite of our many preachers, Bible women and Evangelistic Bands. In all we have fifty-five paid native workers besides many unpaid helpers. But this district has 10,000 square miles and about 1,200,000 inhabitants. To reach all the people who are living in the mountains is very hard, but the work must be done as the Lord's word is "Go." We are praying for a God-given revival and that our native workers will get on fire for God and for souls.

At Yuping I saw the chapel which the Communists had destroyed. I at once asked carpenters to come and repair the Lord's house. The Christians were glad to see me again and we had four days of fellowship in the Lord. Mr. Loh, the leader of the C. E. Society, was very happy and had forgotten all that he had suffered from the Communists. The students are still giving us much trouble, such as throwing stones at the chapel, but in spite of this many came to the meetings. Yuping has now three preaching places, ten to fifteen miles away. At one place is a widow and her son. Formerly she also walked fifteen miles to the meetings and now is so glad for the preaching place only three miles from her home. She suffers much persecution. The elders of her clan have worked her son up against her and she has it very hard at home. She hopes to preach the Gospel and enter the Women's Band as soon as the leader, Miss Seiler, returns from furlough. To see these dear Chinese saints, who suffer so much for Christ's sake, made my heart rejoice. You see that Mission work is not in vain. The Lord will surely bring souls out of darkness into his light. Pray much for the work here.

At Liangshan, a place four days overland from Yuanchow, there is still much work to be done. We have an out-station there with a few Christians. On market day I preached on the street and wanted to give out tracts. No one wanted to take a tract as they feared they would fall into a trap. I went back to the church and got a bundle of pictures and used postcards. I called out that anyone who would take a tract would also receive a picture. As soon as the first one dared to take a tract and had received a specially nice picture, others came and soon we had given away hundreds of tracts. One man after listening to me preach for some time, called out, "Why didn't you come many years earlier? Now I am an opium slave and a great sinner and there is no hope for me." I could tell him otherwise and I believe that some day this man will come to the Lord. Another man asked if I could give him a New Testament. He had heard the Gospel at another place. He received a Testament and soon was helping me, and preached what he had heard. In the evening three men decided for Christ and are now being taught by the preacher.

Last Sunday at Jaoshang we baptized and took into church fellowship another six souls. Praise the Lord for this increase. More will be baptized in the next few weeks of whom we will tell you in the next circular letter. One of our Evangelistic Bands is working at Jaoshang and saw many coming to the meetings. The teacher in the place started with opposition. He himself preached every evening against us and warned the people not to believe as we take the eyes out of children. After that all new comers stayed away and it was very hard to preach. Prayer will change this place, too, and we rejoiced that in spite of this opposition these six dared to be baptized. Praise the Lord.

In Chiki we have bought a house for an out-station and also for staying there over the summer. Since we were there last summer, nearly every Saturday one of the preachers or I have gone to preach on Sunday. Forty to sixty were always present and not a few have given up idol worship and are praying to the Lord now in the meetings. We pray that the Lord will give us the right helper to put there. Sometime ago the leading man with two teachers in the orphanage made us much trouble. We could not do anything as they were not willing to hear. We prayed much for guidance and asked the Lord to help us. All three left us and we had to rearrange the work in the Orphanage, but kept on praying. Shortly after the leader had left us he fell amongst the bandits and God spoke to him. He came back and confessed his sins and now is better than before in the work.

Next week Miss M. Roesti from Switzerland will reach Yuanchow and will help us in the work. We are thankful for her coming. But we are also praying for a man full of the Holy Spirit and of faith, a man who is able to walk and go from village to village to preach the Gospel. Pray much for us and for the work here. God be with you.

Yours for souls in dark China,
Mr. and Mrs. H. Becker and Co-workers.

5,000 BEST MODERN ILLUSTRATIONS

BY

THE REV. G. B. F. HALLOCK, D.D.

Contains a remarkable collection of pointed stories, anecdotes, personal experiences, fables, legends, facts of science, incidents of history. It offers five thousand carefully selected and appraised illustrations, intelligently classified by subjects and arranged and indexed in alphabetical order for easy reference.

The effect of any sermon or address may be immeasurably increased by the use of one of these pertinent stories to emphasize a point or clinch an argument, for, as Spurgeon said, "mere bald statements are soon forgotten, but an apt illustration sticks in the soul like a hook in a fish's mouth." 768 pages. Published at $4.00. Our special price $1.00.

Mary of Bethany

will enrich your spiritual life. It is wonderful; when you have read it you will want and seek a closer walk with God, and you will give out more of your Christian life to those about you. Single copy, 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                                     |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D.       |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Mingledorf, D.D.         |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simonson, D.D. |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.         |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.           | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.             |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.D.          | Rev. C. W. Ruth.                    |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.               |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.               |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         |                                     |
| Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D. |                                     |

(Continued from page 1)

the mixed multitudes of all nations, of all colors, of all sorts of ideals, speaking all languages. Here we have the most splendid enterprises for the advancement of agriculture, manufacturing, and commerce along with education in all branches of the arts and sciences. Here we have the largest accumulation of capital in the world and the best possibility for individual success to be found anywhere. Why should not Rome set her heart for the conquest of the United States? This she certainly has done and is moving forward in a manner to awaken uneasiness in the minds of many devout and patriotic people.

The recent wars in Cuba, the Philippine Islands and Mexico rolled up the curtain which somewhat obscured moral, educational, and economic conditions in those countries. Here the Romish Church has held undisputed sway for centuries. The ignorance, the poverty, the disease, and degradation of these people, so capable of higher and better things, is startling. The Lord Jesus taught us that a tree is known by its fruits. This is certainly sound philosophy and the fruit produced in the countries mentioned, as well as in South America, generally, is certainly not a good recommendation for Romanism. What country has ever been in the grip of this tremendous ecclesiasticism that has not suffered in every way, physically, mentally, and morally? Take Spain, France, in fact, any part of the world where the Roman Catholic Church has had undisputed sway through the centuries and the results have been disastrous to the spiritual life, and the best interests of the people.

The Pope is constantly sending over to this country his greetings and his blessings. His envoys in large numbers visit our nation and are received with great honor, magnificent parades and special manifestations of pleasure by those in high position who expect to secure their political support. Cathedrals, costing millions of dollars, have been and are being erected in our centers of population which give remarkable prestige and influence to Romanism among the people. Their great pageants, with marching columns, bands of music, and floating banners are to be seen on various occasions in American cities, with distinguished bishops and priests riding in splendid automobiles, arousing the admiration and enthusiasm of their own people, and making a profound impression upon the common masses who are outside of any church. All of these things are having a powerful influence for the Romish Church, and are having a very decided influence upon those who aspire to office. Politicians are eager to secure the Catholic vote. The problem of meeting the situation is difficult for many reasons. You may be sure that politicians will court the favor and, if possible, secure the vote of this great ecclesiastical body. The public press will seek its favor. No political party can say ought against the aggressiveness of this ecclesiastical body without arousing an indignation that puts him in danger of political decapitation. No city paper dare publish the strange superstitions and idolatries of Romanism without suffering financial loss. Merchants, everywhere, must listen and respond to their solicitation for their charitable enterprises or there is a quiet notification that means a cutting down of their sales and the curtailing of their financial income. There is nothing more dangerous to a man's political or commercial life than that he should, by any means, arouse the disapproval of Roman Catholics.

The reader may ask why do we object to the growth and domination of Roman Catholicism, to which we answer, first of all: the Bible, the public schools, and the Protestant Church have been and are the great factors which have made American civilization possible. They have been the chief cornerstone in the structure of our progress and liberties. The Bible has revealed to us the will of God and the just and equal laws with which it proposes to regulate and elevate human society.

The public schools, the best in all the world, have educated and developed our intellectual life. The Protestant Church has disseminated the Holy Scriptures. It has sought, at tremendous outlay of money, to place the Scriptures in every home in the land and to interpret and explain their profound meaning to all the people. The wide proclamation of the Gospel of Christ from our Protestant pulpits has made an earnest appeal to our consciences, warned us of the danger of sin, held up before us the crucified Christ, has called the lost multitudes to trust, not in forms, or pope, or priest, but to come to Christ and trust in him, and him alone, for the forgiveness of sin. The Romish Church has, through the past, arrayed herself with all her power against the dissemination of the Bible broadcast among her people. She has boldly and determinedly set against the public school for the education of our children, and she stands with bolted door against Protestantism in all countries. Would not history repeat itself in this country if Romanism could have the power here she has exercised in other countries where she has kept the Bible from the common people, left them in ignorance and destitution, and placed every barrier possible against any advance or opportunity of a Protestant ministry to proclaim the saving Gospel of Christ to the great masses of her ignorant and idolatrous people. If it were possible to build some great stage and let the vast procession of South American peoples, who have been for centuries under the domination of the Romish Church, pass before our American people it would be to sound the deathknell of the political aspirations and efforts of Romanism to secure the reigns of the government and direct the political destinies of this country. No such possibility exists.

More to follow.

The Sorrows of the Pope.

The elevation of the Pope of the Roman Catholic Church to the position of Emperor has not increased his spiritual or political power in many of those great countries where, for centuries, the people have worn the iron yoke of his ecclesiastical and civil rulership. The National Assembly in Madrid, Spain, of the new republic of that country, by a vote of 267 to a vote of 41, decided on a separation of Church and State which entirely frees the State from the domination of Roman Catholicism and leaves the people free to worship God according to the dictates of their consciences. Thus the good work goes on.

Church and State were separated in France in 1905; the same separation took place in Portugal in 1911. Church and State were separated in Mexico in 1917, and in Chili in 1925, in Italy the Catholic Church is still associated with the State. This same relation exists in Belgium, Poland, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia, Venezuela, Argentina, Peru and Paraguay and the Irish Free States. There was a tremendous effort to break the power of Roman Catholicism in these United States at the last presidential election. There was a hope among many good people that the United States government would be entirely delivered from Roman domination, but the forces of evil are united to, if possible, increase the Pope-Emperor's influence in this nation. There ought to be a tremendous uprising and determination among the people of the United States to once, and forever, break the power of Romish rule in this government.

GOD'S WAY, NOT OURS.

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

WE presume the failure to have immediate, affirmative answers to our prayers, has been the cause of more doubt on the part of God's children than most anything else. We often think we have prayed the prayer of faith, and when we do not receive an answer at once, we wonder if God's word is really true, that he hears and answers prayer, and if we are not careful we will let the enemy inject a spirit of mistrust, which will sap the joy and restful content out of our spiritual life.

We remember in the case of Paul, how he prayed that the thorn in his flesh might be removed, but after asking three times, the answer was denied—shall we say denied? Yes, after Paul's interpretation, it was, but when we study the situation a little later, we must conclude that in the seemingly bitter denial, there was the most blessedly satisfactory answer.

Yes, three times, said Paul, I asked the Lord to rid me of that annoyance, but he did not answer in the affirmative, but whispered in my ear, "My grace is sufficient for thee." What does that mean? Would it not be better not to have need of the grace at all? Would it not be better to live above the taunts of the enemy? Oh no, not if we study the Master's interpretation. Why was it best for Paul to retain the thorn, this harassing messenger of Satan to buffet him?

In the first place, Christ assured Paul that in order for him to need his help, he must be willing to be weak, that he might have an opportunity to make him strong. So Paul comes to the conclusion that it is better to have weakness seasoned with grace, than to be liberated from this constant pricking of Satan and not have grace. Hear the note of triumph that rings out upon the air, as Paul cries, "Most gladly therefore, will I rather glory in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me." Nor does he stop here, but it seems he has caught a new vision of the negative answer and takes a higher stand upon the mountain peaks of victory, declaring, as if he realized he had made a most wonderful bargain, "Therefore I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distress for Christ's sake, FOR when I am weak, then am I strong." Upon the foundation of Paul's weakness was to be erected the tower of Christ's strength. What a glorious solution

Paul had found to the problem which had bothered him so long! Perhaps, thought he, I could never stand it in the world, if the Master did not hear my prayer and remove the thorn, but there was something better in store for me. The superabundance of grace so soothes the pain of the thorn, that it really gives me pleasure to suffer, for in my suffering, the grace of Christ has a chance to show its power in helping me to endure, what otherwise would be unendurable.

Paul acknowledged that he was in danger of being "puffed up," and in order for the Lord to save him from spiritual pride, he had to puncture his sails of exaltation, that he might fall into the arms of protecting grace. We imagine, as Paul was drawn close to the heart of the Master, who in tender love, had refused to grant his request, yet with the assurance that "his grace would be sufficient," that Paul realized that it were better to be under the power of infirmities, which would necessitate his lingering near the supernatural, than to be free and not know the sweetness of drawing on the storehouse of Christ's inexhaustible resources of grace divine, and nestling under the wings of his sympathizing Lord.

We see from this fact in Paul's life, that our prayers do not have to be answered in the affirmative, in order for us to be assured that we have been heard, but often God's no, we shall see, in the end when our vision is clearer, is what we meant to ask for. This is why we should always pray in the will of the Lord, for we cannot know what is best, and in our shortsightedness we are apt to ask amiss, and if God answered us all the time affirmatively, doubtless we would be made to weep more often than to rejoice.

The following verse voices our sentiment:

"I know not by what methods rare,
But this I know, God answers prayer.
I know that he has given his word,
Which tells me prayer is always heard,
And will be answered, soon or late.
And so I pray and calmly wait.
I know not if the blessing sought
Will come in just the way I thought;
But leave my prayers with him alone,
Whose will is wiser than my own,
Assured that he will grant my quest,
Or send some answer far more blest."

Our Children and the Pentecost.

JOSEPH H. SMITH.

HOEVER denies or doubts the possibility of childhood conversion, does not understand human nature, and misunderstands the nature of Christianity. One who would debar children from the conscious knowledge of salvation, until the period of reason's development, would, for similar cause, discontinue that conscious experience in the period of decrepitude. Whereas, Christian biographies show that some of the most glorious experiences and testimonies date in the gloam of reason's twilight, and at the very dropping of the curtain upon the scenes of life; and, likewise, a Samuel of the Old Testament and a Timothy of the New, with the child Jesus at the summit stand before us in demonstration of the possibilities of piety even from a mother's knee. The pride of Reason, in fact, is more apt to erect a stumbling-block in the way of faith than is the simplicity of childhood. Our Lord took cognizance of this when instead of saying that until your children grow up to stalwart, mature men they cannot enter the Kingdom of God, he said rather, "Except ye (be converted and) become as little children" ye shall not enter into the Kingdom of heaven;" and throughout all the New Testament, it is not one's graduation, or his maturity, that is made the simile of conversion, but one's birth. "Ye must be born again."

Human nature has a capacity and a capability for spirituality from the earliest stages of life. This capability is rather weakened than strengthened with the passing of years, and as a consequence very few comparatively are ever saved in mature life. Much that passes for Christianity in those that are proselyted into some one or other of the different sects in middle life, or beyond, is as lacking of the true essentials of the Kingdom of God as was that of the church ruler, Nicodemus, when he came to Jesus by night. Childhood and youth are no more truly the time for an education than it is the normal period for salvation. And those are unwise parents who spend more time and thought upon their children's education than they do upon their salvation. Those, too, are unskilled if not unfaithful Sunday school teachers, and pastors who stop with the letter of the Bible, and the activities of the Sunday School and Church, with the children and youth that are committed to them at the period most meant for their salvation. That the best and bigger things in the Gospel are meant for yours as well as for yourself is shown by Peter when he says: "The promise is unto you and your children." Acts 2:39.

That there is a promise of the many hundreds in God's word that is honored with the distinction of "the promise" must have attracted general attention. We were deeply struck with this when reading in the 11th of Hebrews, that besides their many other achievements, the worthies of past ages, had "obtained promises," and to find it stated in conclusion that "these all, received not the promise." Our Lord, too, though he himself had fulfilled so many promises to them, in charging his disciples, even after his resurrection, bade them—"Wait for the promise of the Father." And all the apostles have repeated this emphasis in various ways. No doubt is left, nor any question opened as to which promise is meant. It was the great boon secured by the Savior's mediation in our behalf. "Being by the right hand of God exalted, and having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost he hath shed forth this which ye now see and hear." Acts 2:33. And again in words spoken here by Peter we read: "Ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost for the promise is unto you and your children, and all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call." (Acts 2:39). And the apostle Paul blends promise and gift together with demonstrative emphasis when writing to the Ephesians: "After that ye believed, ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of Promise."

Now we shall stress but two reasons why the gift of the Holy Ghost is justly entitled to this distinctiveness of the definite article and the demonstrative pronoun, though there are several other great reasons. First, it is at once the culmination and the pledge of all the other promises. Second, it is the complement upon earth of Christ's glorification in heaven. Third, it is easily the promise of the greatest gift a Creator could ever bestow upon a creature—to give him Himself: for the Holy Spirit is no less and none other than God himself.

But, as we have stated, we mean here to stress none but two of the reasons, why the Gift of the Holy Ghost is "The promise." These are: (1)—It completes our present salvation. (2)—It seals our hope of eternal salvation.

When we speak of completing our present salvation, none will make the mistake of supposing that we say or mean that our life work is done and our character is all matured the moment we are baptized with the Holy Ghost. No, to guard against any such fallacy let us keep our mind's eye on that word "Salvation." This is our deliverance out of the hand of our enemies. This is the destruction of the alien foe within the domain of our being. This is cleansing from all sin. Salvation is primarily a deliverance, a destruction, and a defense. It is Redemption. And this is more a negative than a positive effect. The positive result of our life's achievements, and our own development is thence to ensue. And we assume that eternity itself will but accelerate our progress and augment our endeavors rather than end either.

But in evidence here, we would note that when Peter was called, according to divine appointment, to Cornelius' home it was that he might speak words to him whereby he might be saved. And that while he was speaking the Holy Ghost fell upon them. This Peter declared, later, resulted in the purification of their hearts by faith. But this was notwithstanding that at the very outset, Peter had discovered and announced that Cornelius was accepted by God, and declared that "The way of peace" by Jesus Christ was already known by him. Hence, we are careful to say that this promised gift of the Spirit completes the believer's salvation. And here we see that this completion is in the purification of the heart." No other blessing has ever been promised to do this, and this destruction of the work of the devil from within the soul of man is evidently the completion of salvation from sin itself, so this is most worthily termed "the promise of the Father."

Again, it seals our hope of eternal salvation. As there is a full assurance of faith, so, likewise, there is a full assurance of hope. Not that we would imply that this gift of the Spirit is an absolute guarantee of eternal salvation. No, for though we are "sealed thereby unto the day of redemption," we are nevertheless faithfully exhorted and warned against "grieving the Holy Spirit." But it is so far a foretaste of our future bliss as to be styled "an earnest of our inheritance." The promises of this gift at the time of Jesus' appearing insures all that is needed by his children for readiness at his appearance. This is the oil in our vessels "when the midnight cry is heard: Behold the bridegroom cometh, Go ye out to meet him." Our lamps will not then go out. His purifying baptism has enabled us to wash our robes and make them white in the Blood of the Lamb, and we are found having on the wedding garment. His abiding presence has enabled us to withstand in the evil day and "having done all to stand." And he himself will then present us to Christ as a chaste virgin to the Bridegroom of the church he has purchased with his own Blood. And this promise, beloved the promise is unto you and your children. Why not now! Our children are entitled to not only the best we can give them; but to the best also that God has promised them. We must not only supply them with food, we may minister unto them also the Holy Spirit.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt. Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THREE CHAPTERS FROM MY LIFE STORY.

Mrs. Lee Aroll.

Chapter II.

It is said that "Time alone can heal heart wounds." I think it is a true saying for, after three years of retired home life with my mother, I began to go out a little and take some interest in social affairs. Some women are never satisfied unless they have something to be unhappy or miserable over, and I am certainly one of those women; for just as soon as I began to take interest in society men began to take interest in me. Then, there is something "quite fetching" about a very pretty young widow. I was especially sought after by young widowers, oldish young men, and bachelors. And then my kindness and devotion to Mr. M. made some men imagine they were in love with me. I tried to be very wary and careful, but when Major F. came to our town fresh from the late cruel war covered with the halo of glory that belongs to every man that has been in real battle, I slowly succumbed. Of course Major F. was all right, mother said, for had he not offered his life to his country, and did he not carry the proofs of his devotion in the bodily wounds he had received upon the battle field? Not only was Major F. a returned soldier from the field of battle, but he was a man of means. He was some years older than myself, but he was very unlike Mr. M. in disposition. He was rather a quiet man and, at times, seemed rather sad; but after he became a constant visitor in our home, he seemed much more cheerful; he also seemed very much in love with me. He asked me to be his wife.

Before I gave him the answer he so much desired, I told him the history of my marriage with Mr. M. and asked him, plainly, his views upon the "whisky question." He said he occasionally took whisky during his service in the army and, once in a great while, he took a social glass, but he said he entirely agreed with me in my views and abuse of whisky. Well, I did not feel altogether satisfied with his views of this question, but as I was so much in love with him, though I still loved Mr. M., and ever would love him, he seemed so fond of me, we were quietly married.

For a time we were very happy, then there came a tiny cloud on the sunshine of my heart. I found the smell of whisky upon the Major's breath quite often but said nothing about it. By and by the cloud grew larger, for one day he came home with unsteady steps and maudlin speech. Gracious heavens! was my former sad experience to be repeated? After we had been married a year or more, I noticed that my husband seemed very melancholy, though he was always kind to me, and my every reasonable want was satisfied. As the days went by he drank more and more, and the more he drank the sadder he seemed to be. One day he tried to end his life, but failed to accomplish his purpose. My cup of humiliation and sorrow seemed full to overflowing. I seemed so heartbroken he became deeply penitent and made many fair promises, and I am sure he tried faithfully to fulfill them. After this we were very happy for a time; then I found he was a steady drinker and, being of a melancholic temperament, and not strong, physically, he soon became a bloated sot. But through it all I loved him; with my broken heart, my shamed life, and slavish care for him during his many illnesses, my life seemed one distorted, unnatural, hideous nightmare. His kindness to me, when he was drunk or sober, was the one ray of sunlight through that long, dark night of silent sorrow. After months of untold suffering, death came and once again I wore widow's weeds.

(Continued.)

Dear Aunt Bettie: Please allow me to say Hello to the dear Herald Family. I am glad that so many of you young folks are Christians. We are always glad to get The Herald each week. My mother has been sick for years. She can't get well. We live on a farm and the winters are long. I can't go like other girls, as I stay with mother. I love to go to church. I don't go to dances. I'll have a birthday Dec. 6. My age is between fifteen and twenty-one years. Any one guessing my age I'll send them my picture. Enclose stamp for all replies.

Ruby Krone.
Lane's Prairie, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Move over a little and let a cousin from Hannah join your happy band of boys and girls. This is my very first letter written to The Herald. My father gets The Herald each week and I enjoy reading the stories and letters on page ten. I love Jesus and enjoy reading the Bible, both Old and New Testament. I don't know what would have become of my life if the Lord would not have saved me. I am eight years old, have light hair and blue eyes and am in the third grade this year in school. Our school began Sept. 14. I hope my letter will be printed. Much love to Aunt Bettie. I saw you once in Wilmore and hope to see you again some day.

Esther Osborne.
Hannah, N. D.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I always read page ten in The Herald, but have never seen a letter from my town, so I decided to write. I am eighteen years old, have light brown hair, blue eyes, fair complexion and weigh about 118 or 120 pounds. I am a Senior in high school and enjoy my school work very much. I also teach a Sunday school class and this is a great pleasure to me. I am the organist at a little Northern Methodist Church. As this is my first letter to The Herald I hope to see it in print. I would be very glad to hear from any of the cousins if they love to write.

Myrtie Adams.
Somerset, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I will take the advantage of writing to you once more. I have written twice before but you have failed to print my letters. So I would like to see my third letter in print. How are you and the cousins? I have had the privilege of seeing Dr. H. C. Morrison. He dedicated our church and school here recently. He sure is a good preacher. How many of you cousins have heard him? I love to read The Pentecostal Herald, especially page ten. I live in the country and like country life fine. I am sixteen years old. My birthday is Sept. 11. I am five feet, one inch tall, weigh 109 pounds; have black hair, brown eyes and medium complexion. My favorite verse in the Bible is Luke 11:13. I don't want to take up too much room but I want to tell all the cousins to write to me. I will promise to answer all letters received. My middle name begins with A and ends with A, and contains seven letters. The first one who guesses it I will send them a snapshot of myself. I heard the door slam, perhaps Mr. W. B. is coming. I had better run.

Hazel A. Elam.
Index, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: May a little Tennessee girl join your band of happy boys and girls? I live in the heart of the beautiful Appalachian Mountains. I go to school at the East Tennessee Training School. I was promoted to the sixth grade. I liked my teacher last year, Miss Isabel Martin. I have grayish blue eyes and light brown hair. I am eleven years old. My birthday is March 4. Who is my twin? My middle name begins with E and ends with an L. Can any one guess it? Ethel Todd, Georgia, I guess your name to be Mae. Ruby Stone, Georgia, I guess your name to be Jewell. If they are right please write and tell me. I go to church and Sunday school. Dr. Vanbrekle is our Sunday school superintendent, and he is liked by every one. I go to the Epworth League most every Sunday night. We have prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

Mary E. Parsons.
National Soldiers Home, Johnson City, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please let me join your band of boys and girls? I live in the midst of the Blue Ridge Mountains of old Virginia. My age is between fifteen and twenty-five. So you see I am but a lad. I have a few words that I would like to say to the cousins. Cousins, I see that some of you are not Christians. I beg you in the precious name of Jesus to think about your soul, going out of this world unprepared to meet the mighty God. You may think that you can't be a child of God and have any pleasure. Just think how this old world was going down in sin and the dear Son of God gave his own life that we should not perish. Stop and think what a surprise it is going to be at the Judgment when you meet God. Why will you die when God has the doors of mercy open. By and by you will see your mistake, but it will be too late.

Ralph W. Cave.
Rt. 2, Stanley, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As it has been such a long time since I wrote a letter to The Pentecostal Herald I hope you will print this for me. I have been confined to bed most of the time for twenty-one years. My eyes are too weak to read, and I get very lonely. My parents are living, and my father has also been a shut-in for several years; his physical health is very bad and his mental condition too. He has suffered so much. He stayed in the State Hospital two years. We all have our own troubles. I know living trouble is much worse than death, for I've had the experience of both in a sad way. Mother is almost broken down; she suffers with rheumatism and neuralgia. I would dearly love to get cards and letters from all The Herald readers. I would appreciate it more than I can say. My life seems sad and dark at times, but I try to bear my cross without complaining. So thankful God has given me so many blessings. Thanking you dear Aunt Bettie for your past kindness, with best wishes to all, your shut-in friend,

Lena Evans.
Rt. 6, Winchester, Tenn.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a little Kentucky girl have a space on your Boys and Girls' Page? This is my first letter and I hope to see it in print. I am nine years old, have blue eyes and black hair. I am in the third grade. I like to go to school and like my teacher fine. I go to Sunday school nearly every Sunday and like my Sunday school teacher too. Her name is Verble Jarboe. She is just a young girl and a Christian. I hope to be a Christian like her when I get a little larger. We do not take The Pentecostal Herald, but one of mother's friends does and gives mother her papers to read. Her name is Alpha Decker. She is a young girl and a Christian. I will have some of you to guess my first name as my second is an odd name. It is my mother's mother's name. My first name starts with G and ends with E, and has six letters in it. I hope Mr. W. B. is eating his dinner.

G. Druselle Osborne.
Glendean, Ky.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I would like very much to become one of the cousins in The Herald. My name is Lucy McClure. I am five feet, four inches. I am sixteen years of age and in the eighth grade. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with E and ends with E, and has eight letters in it. The one who guesses my middle name I will write to them. Let the letters fly to Lucy McClure.

Gassaway, W. Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Hello, Aunt Bettie and all of you cousins. Would you mind if I came in a few minutes? I have dark brown hair and eyes (almost black), fair complexion; my height is five feet, four inches, weigh 120 pounds. Guess my middle name. It begins with D and ends with E, and has six letters in it. The ones who guess it I will write them a long letter. I am a Christian. Was saved August 23, and baptized August 30. I am praising God for what he is to

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

me. Jesus is so good to us. I am glad to see so many young folks living for Jesus. I only wish I could see every one live for Jesus: My mother's sister takes The Pentecostal Herald and I sure enjoy reading it. I am sixteen years old. My birthday is July 6. Does any one have the same birthday? I belong to the Baptist Church. I am determined to do the Lord's will.

Cleta D. Sheets.
Lambert, Ark.

Dear Aunt Bettie: As this is my first letter to The Herald, I hope to see it in print. I hope Mr. W. B. is on a ship sailing to China when this arrives. I am a girl twelve years old, going on thirteen. My birthday is June 22. I am in the seventh grade. Have I a twin? If so please write to me. I have not seen any letters from dear old Wyoming, so that's why I am writing. Two years ago this summer there were two evangelists who came from Asbury College. Their names were Paul Root and Stanley Lowell. They held meetings for two weeks. I have medium complexion, gray green eyes, brown hair and am 53 inches tall and weigh 58 pounds. I have a sister who is eight years old and in the third grade. Can anyone guess my middle name? It begins with V and ends with A, and has seven letters. Anyone who guesses it, I will write to them. I like pen friends, don't you? My Aunt takes The Herald and I like to read page ten. Some of you write to me and I will write back.

Beverly V. Droste.
1443 Beck Ave., Cody, Wyo.

Dear Aunt Bettie. I wrote to you about three years ago and saw my letter in print. I was twenty years old January 21, I have light hair and fair complexion. I sought my Savior and found him precious to my soul when I was twelve years old. I am still pushing upward and my pathway grows brighter each step of the way. Mrs. Laura Fraser, who is a paralytic invalid and unable to read since her affliction, takes The Herald and I, who am her nurse, read it through each week. We both enjoy it more than words can tell. Betty Koehler, I guess your middle name to be Jean. Anna Gann, I guess yours to be Lois. Herald cousins, please write to me. I shall answer all.

Rosetta Boals.
Norris City, Ill.

A Feast of Good Things.

By J. M. HAMES
Contents.

The Mind of Jesus, The Spirit of Jesus, A Sweet Spirit, The Sealing of the Spirit, The Indwelling Christ, The Sunrise Experience, The Risen Life, The Fragrance of Holiness, Abounding Life, Power From On High, The Blood of Jesus, Progress in the Spiritual Life, We Would See Jesus, The Loss of the Spirit, The Ark of the Covenant, The Glory Departed, The Spirit Does Not Always Strive With Men.

Each of these chapters is complete in itself. The book is, as its title suggests, truly "A Feast of Good Things."

Fragrance, Sweetness, and Power.

REV. J. M. HAMES

An appeal to the Church of today to take time to return to the upper room. The author says that past failure has been due to reversing Christ's commands of "Tarry Ye," and "Go Up."

There are four chapters, "Pentecostal Power," "The Sweetness of Holiness," "The Beauty of Holiness," "A Princely Character." Bound in attractive leatherette paper.

Price 25c each. 5 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

A. J.: "Will all the readers of The Pentecostal Herald pray very, very earnestly for the salvation of Albert Schrupf; he is going to have a serious operation and he is not saved. Pray for the salvation of his wife and brothers and sisters."

"I want to ask The Herald family to pray earnestly for the healing of a husband whose wife is an invalid. Pray that he may become well and strong and able to provide for and support his invalid wife."

W. F. C.: "We want to ask you to join us in prayer for our dear companion. She has been sick for several weeks. I have been praying for her that God would heal her and restore her back to normal health. We feel that the prayers of the righteous availeth much. We feel we need your prayer s in behalf of our dear wife."

A Reader: "Please pray for a dear brother that he may be healed soon, and a prayer may be answered if it is the dear Lord's will."

A Friend: "I beg you to pray for me that I may be saved before this year comes to a close. My case is very pitiful."

THE CEDAR AND THE FLOWER.

The Lebanon Mountains, snow-capped, rugged, enduring, on which grew the Cedars of Lebanon, strong, massive, masterful, monarch of the forest, "the most imperial tree that ever swayed a leafy scepter"; enduring the tests of 3,000 winters, storms, seismic and atmospheric attack, before their branches developed, fiber toughened, and made fit for building into the Temple of God. But just below, stretching far away, are the sun-kissed Lebanon Valleys, where grow in profusion flowers, fragrant, colorful, tender, cheering. Later the cedars are found Pillars in the Temple, on which are exquisitely carved flowers, the one Emblem of Strength and Endurance; the other of sweet and tender sympathies, both emblems of Christian character.

Which best represents the church of Today? The mountains, or warm valleys? Which would you choose to be, giant cedars, or tender flowers? If for service of strength, one must endure the rugged mountain tests; do we lack rugged conditions which produce Christian stalwarts? All too many are soft, ready to evade even an inconvenience. The U. S. marines are rigidly trained for the crucial test in war. Said one—"The only difference in our training and the world war, is that we are not killed." The cedars were toughened for the Temple,—built "without sound of hammer;" and we are his workmanship, fitly framed together, growing up into an Holy Temple. We recently worshipped in the Moody Memorial Church, Chicago, which seats 5,000. We found stalwarts there bearing the burden of years, the church, and the cross,—for his sake; Pillars in the Temple, alive, watchful, active. There was the hearty welcome to strangers; sympathy for the sick, the poor, the bereaved, unfortunate, strong appeal to sinners. We were thus reminded of Mr. Wanamaker and his mammoth Sunday school, who after having worked in eleven Sunday meetings, went that same night to visit a sick child whom he missed from his great school. Could she ever forget the big man's visit, as he held her tiny hand, talked cheerily, and prayed a child's prayer? Here was the combined Cedar of Lebanon, and the tender flower of the Valley—in one.

Was not Jesus both? As the mighty Cedar he shouldered the world's greatest burden—sin. As iron and granite he turned back the forces of darkness; he was Satan's master. He bore the cross before it bore him, and the soul-sorrow of it all—"even unto death." But strong in victory he said, "The prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me." Yet this mighty one talked of flowers, held little children in his arms, was off in the garden of prayer. His life, like the flowers of sweet influences, filling all the earth and ages with helpful ministries, patient, uncomplaining, winsome. Strong and enduring as the Cedar of Lebanon; tender and sympathetic as the flowers of the valley. We also need this combination to make ourselves necessary.

T. Richardson Gray.
Edgewood, Iowa.

WESLEY'S VISION.

A story is told of John Wesley. He had a vision in which he was taken to the gate of Heaven, and, desirous of knowing who had been admitted, he questioned the angel at the entrance: "Have you any Presbyterians here?" inquired Wesley.

"No, none," responded the angel, briefly.

Wesley was amazed. While not expecting a great number, he did think there would be some at least.

"Well, have you any Episcopalians?" he asked, after a moment's pause.

"None," answered the angel quickly.

Wesley grew pale. He could scarcely muster up courage to ask his next question.

"Well, then," continued the great founder of Methodism, "how many Methodists have you here?"

"Not one," replied the angel. And Wesley's heart was filled with dismay. "We are unacquainted with earthly distinctions up here," explained the angel. "They are all left outside."

"Well, then, who have you here?" at last cried the stricken man.

"Just a company of people who love the Lord," answered their angel quietly.

Wesley was then conducted in vision to the regions of despair.

"Have you any Presbyterians here?" he inquired, anxious to gain some knowledge of the inhabitants of Hell.

"Yes, lots of them," responded the keeper at the gate.

Wesley was mystified.

"Have you any Episcopalians here?" was his next question.

"Lots of them," replied the wicked spirit, gleefully.

"In fear and trembling Wesley put his third question, determined to know the worst.

"Have you any Methodists here?" he murmured in a scarcely audible voice.

"Oh, yes, lots of them," quickly responded the fallen angel.

Wesley was stunned. No Methodist in Heaven and lots of them in Hell. What did it mean?

"Well," cried Wesley at last, "have you any people here who love the Lord."

"Oh, no! no! no!" roared the fiend.

"Not one. Nobody here loves the Lord."

PENTECOSTAL HERALD UNTIL FEBRUARY, 1932, ONLY 25c.

DO ONE OF THESE FOUR THINGS.

Send us $1.00 and we will send The Herald to four people until next February.

Send us $2.00 and we will send The Herald to eight people until next February.

Send us $5.00 and we will send The Herald to twenty people until next February.

Send us any amount and we will send The Herald to as many people until next February as the amount will cover at 25c each.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

WHEN HE COMES.

Rev. E. C. Wills.

The trials that beset me

Are but stepping-stones to joy;

The foes that would uproot me,

Can no longer now annoy.

For soon shall break upon me,

Like the sunset's golden ray,

The vision of my Bridegroom,

In the good, old-fashioned way.

The clouds shall glow with splendor

As his chariots sweep the sky;

"Behold the Bridegroom cometh"

In the good old-fashioned way.

Then my soul shall know no terror,

As I greet that glorious day,

For I shall meet my Bridegroom,

In the god old-fashioned way.

So what shall matter, hardships

In the feverish span of life?

What matter if I live or die

Or battle long with strife?

For, soon the sounding trumpet

Shall turn earth's night to day,

As I behold his glory

In the good old-fashioned way.

He's coming, yes, he's coming,

And the time is nigh at hand;

For his word doth tell us plainly

Of the signs on sea and land.

My soul shouts, "Hallelujah!"

As I face that blessed day,

When I shall see my Bridegroom

In the good old-fashioned way.

The earth will soon be shaking

With the wrath of God above;

'Gainst those who have rejected

The overtures of love.

But my soul shall be enraptured,

When I glimpse the morning's ray;

And I'll be with my Bridegroom,

In the good old-fashioned way.

The rich men and the mighty,

Shall cry for rocks to fall

And hide them from the wrath of God,

While sinners scream and call.

But my soul, washed in the fountain,

Shall shout HIS praise that day,

For I shall have my Bridegroom,

In the good old-fashioned way.

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. Will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

The Beauty of Holiness.

By G. W. RIDOUT.

Dr. Ridout is particularly gifted in culling from various sources the richest cream from the pens of the greatest Christian saints. This book contains an unusually fine collection. The author contends that The Beauty of Holiness is the Beauty of Purity, of Holiness Union, of Humility, of Christlikeness, of Consecration, of Love, of Perfection.

A devotional book that will enrich your Christian experience.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Kentucky

FROM THE MOUNT OF OLIVES Polished and Carved OLIVE WOOD COVERS

Holman Gift Editions

BIBLE

Size 6 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches

Bold Black Gem type, self-pronouncing, with the Words of Jesus printed in red, illustrated with colored illustrations of scenes in the Holy Lands and showing the country and places where the Olive Wood trees are grown.

No. 4200 O. W. NEW TESTAMENT with polished Olive Wood covers, flexible morocco rounded back colored to match the covers, round corners, red under gold edges ..... 2.00

No. 5800 O. W. BIBLE bound same as above and containing in addition to the Old and New Testaments Helms to Bible Study including a Complete History of the Bible, Synopsis of Each Book of the Bible (very interesting). Two Catechisms on Bible subjects, including the Life of Christ, Golden Text Treasury of Noble Scriptural Verses, History of the Life of the Apostle Paul, and also Four Thousand Questions and Answers on the Bible ..... 3.75

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Ky.

TESTAMENT

Size 4 3/4 x 3 3/4 inches

The covers of these books were cut from Olive Wood trees grown in the Holy Land, and were carved and polished by Oriental craftsmen in Jerusalem.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson VI.—November 8, 1931.

Subject.—Paul in Ephesus. Acts 19:8-20; Eph. 5:5-11.

Golden Text.—Have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. Eph. 5:11.

Time.—In Ephesus, 54-57. The epistle was written about A. D. 62.

Place.—Ephesus. The epistle was written from Rome during Paul's imprisonment.

Introduction.—Ephesus was on the river Cayster in the western part of Asia Minor. In Paul's day it was a city of no little importance. It was noted for the worship of the heathen goddess Diana. Its cosmopolitan population had grown wealthy through the sale of shrines for the worship of Diana. So extensive was the sale of such shrines that a multitude of workmen were employed in making them. They were sold, not only in Ephesus, but in all the surrounding regions. The center of her devotions was the great temple of Diana in Ephesus; but by means of these shrines her worship was carried on throughout a vast territory. Paul's powerful preaching militated against the sale of shrines, so that the business was failing; and for this cause the shrine-makers stirred up the people in a mob against the apostle.

Our lesson would hardly be complete without some reference to Paul's entrance into Ephesus. During his second missionary journey he purposed to preach in the region; but the Holy Spirit turned him aside and sent him into Europe. On his third journey he went to Ephesus, and remained there about three years. That was a long stay for him, for he was nearly always moving into new territory as soon as he could deliver his message in one city. He sowed the seed, and left it to grow in other hands.

The first seven verses of this 19th chapter of The Acts is illuminating. On entering the city he found about one dozen converts who had been led to Christ by some one—probably by Apollos. They had believed; and that had brought salvation to them; but they had not yet heard about the gift of the Holy Ghost in his baptismal office. They had received John's baptism, but not Christian baptism. Immediately Paul explained matters more perfectly to them; and they were all baptized in the name of the Lord Jesus. Then followed an altar service; and we read that "when Paul had laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came upon them." Do not get the impression that Paul gave them the Holy Ghost. That was God's work; Paul was simply God's minister. If I do not misinterpret the Greek, and I am confident that I do not, we have here two works of grace clearly expressed. They had believed, and that gave them the Holy Ghost in His regenerating office; But they did not receive the Holy Ghost in his baptismal office until a later date. That is in exact accord with the teaching of our Lord in John 14:17. In speaking of the gift of the Spirit which was to come on the day of Pentecost he said: "Whom the world (the unconverted) cannot receive, because it seeth him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, and shall be in you." Some have declared that to be a "distinction without a difference;" but I am sure our blessed Lord knew what he was saying.

Comments on the Lesson.

8. He went into the synagogue.—A band of Jews helped to make up the cosmopolitan population of the city of Ephesus; and as they usually did in every place where they made their home, they had built them a synagogue; and in accordance with his custom Paul gave them the first opportunity to hear the glad news of salvation. In the synagogue he "spoke boldly for the space of three months." Disputing and persuading the things concerning the kingdom of God.—This language seems to indicate that this was what might be termed conversational preaching. Paul presented his side, and they presented their side of every matter that came up for discussion. It is difficult to so preach in a large congregation; but in small groups it is marvellously effective, allowing opportunity to clear up difficult things.

9. When divers were hardened.—Men's hearts will become either hardened or softened under the preaching of the gospel. If the former, they will go from bad to worse. Refusing to believe, they will soon be speaking evil of the way of salvation, and will plunge into deeper sin as a result of their unbelief. He departed from them.—The Bible is very emphatic on this subject. If men will not receive the gospel, Christ's ministers have no business tarrying among them. Time is too precious—move on to fruitful fields. Separated the disciples.—That was right. Some had believed during the three months Paul had preached in the synagogue; and it would have been wrong to leave them in the midst of unbelieving, contentious sinners. But Paul found a better place for daily preaching in the near-by "school of one Tyrannus." If they will not let you preach in the synagogue, do as John Wesley did—use your father's tombstone for a pulpit. Preach in season, and out of season: sow the precious seed beside all waters, and sometimes on the dry land.

10. By the space of two years.—It is commonly supposed that Paul remained in Ephesus about three years. Three months of that time he preached in the synagogue of the Jews. For the space of two years he preached in the school of Tyrannus. We are not informed as to where he preached during the remaining months of his sojourn in the city. All they which dwelt in Asia.—That is a broad statement, if we are to take it literally. Luke says that all in that region "heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks." I take this for a Hebraism: The Word of God was preached generally throughout all the surrounding country.

11. God wrought miracles by the hands of Paul.—That was necessary at that time, in order to confirm Paul's claim to divine appointment. Especially was this true in Ephesus where the devotees of Diana were making such great claims among the people. God would have Paul do some miracles that they could not do, or even imitate. They must be set at naught.

12. Handkerchiefs or aprons.—

This was miraculous beyond question. The sick who received these needed articles were healed in using them, and demons departed from their victims. Some few fanatics in our day have tried to so bless handkerchiefs that they would heal sick people; but they cannot make it work. That day has passed away with the need of it.

13. Vagabond Jews, exorcists.—Vagabond means wandering. These fellows of the baser sort rambled from place to place pretending to drive out evil spirits by certain enchantments and incantations, imitating Paul by calling over their dupes the name of the Lord Jesus; but the thing failed to work.

14. Seven sons of one Sceva.—Surely they could make the demons come out, if any one could, for their father was the chief of the priests. Some fellows live, and move, and have their being under the prestige of their daddies. These seven sons of Sceva made a great effort to run the demon out of an afflicted citizen; but they failed enormously.

15. Who are you?—The demon said he knew Jesus and Paul; but... who are you? Where do you come from? Unless one is perfectly right with God, it is dangerous to jump on the devil and his imps. He may come back, for he has great power. Some say they are not afraid of the devil; but I am. I have no desire to meet him single-handed; but one can meet him safely under the shield and power of the Holy Spirit.

16. The man in whom the evil spirit was.—The devil and his demons are hypnotists. This man was under demon control, just as thousands of others are today. When Jesus commissioned Paul to turn men from the power of Satan he was dealing with this very thing. The demon in this man forced him to leap upon the sons of Sceva, and to so abuse and beat them that they left "that house naked and wounded." No doubt multitudes of persons are demon-possessed today, but do not realize their sad condition. Be careful to differentiate between the man and the demon in this case.

17. This was known.—They had no newspapers to tell the story; but reporters were plentiful; and they scattered the news. Some one says that a tea-drinking house in China is the common man's newspaper. It used to astonish me on entering such places to hear unlearned Chinese talking freely about things that were taking place in Europe and America. During slavery in the South the negroes kept up with all that was going on by what they called the "Grape-vine Telegraph." I suppose that the news that one lone lunatic had thrashed seven sons of Sceva single-handed, went all over Ephesus before the sun went down. But "the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified;" and Paul found right of way for his message.

18. Many that believed.—Paul was doing genuine work. When sinners were convicted of sin by the Holy Ghost, they "came, and confessed, and shewed their deeds." They were repenting after a Godly sort.

19. Curious arts.—Sometimes termed the "Black Art." They had manuscripts setting forth their devilish trickery. They brought these, and made of them a bonfire; and it was a costly one: "Fifty thousand pieces of silver"—about $8,500 in our money. Some would have said sell them, and use the money for a good purpose; but the only proper thing to do with dirty literature is to cast it

Four Thousand Questions and Answers

ON THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT
Size, 3 3/4 x 5 1/4 inches.

The plan of this "Aid to Bible Study" is universally accepted as most effective. It invites to inquiry and encourages to answer. It opens up Scripture in all its phases to teacher and reader, and proves an unequalled source of mental and spiritual light.

As a means to an end it is direct and strong. In pulpit, class-room or home, who asks, is given power to question briefly and distinctly; who answers, is provided with intelligent and satisfactory expression. The real educative and comforting force of the method needs but a trial to be convincing. In every devout life, in every Teacher's career, how many hundreds of questions arise as to Bible History, rules of conduct, meanings of text, or matters of faith? Here this "Aid" becomes a ready Directory, a satisfactory Evangel, an invitation and inspiration.

No. 101. Cloth Binding, Stained Edges, Gold Titles. (Former price, $1.00, reprint price now 35c.)

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                             |      |
|-----------------------------|------|
| No. 5 Missionary Fund ..... | 1.00 |
| No. 6 Missionary Fund ..... | 1.50 |
| No. 7 Preacher Fund .....   | .50  |
| No. 8 Preacher Fund .....   | 1.50 |

The Mills of The Gods

by DR. C. F. WIMBERLY.

After reading sophisticated novels, sex stories, and tales of pagan glory, one comes with a great deal of delight and satisfaction upon this splendid story of Dr. C. F. Wimberly—"The Mills of the Gods." As the title implies it is a story of justice and recompense, and reveals in no uncertain manner how God, and not Chance, is ruling the Universe.

The story moves with sure and certain strides, is gripping, worth reading, and the book deserves a wide circulation in this day of lost faith and false values.—JOHN RICHARD MORELAND, Poet and Critic, Norfolk, Va.

Order of PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY Louisville, Ky. Price $1.50.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

into the fire. I find many books and periodicals in the homes of professing Christians, that are fit for nothing but the fire. Commit all such stuff to the flames, and save your children from damnation.

20. So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.—Get rid of the grasses and the worthless weeds, and the good plants will grow to perfection. God wants a separated people who will walk with him and preach sound doctrine. Any other sort will get in God's way and blight humanity.

ANNOUNCEMENTS!

Any preacher, or layman, who wants an old-fashion, sin-killing revival, and you have not the money for the evangelist, just write me for information. We must save souls, money or no money. We will soon be gone, then what?

Lewis Reep.
Wilmore, Ky.

Rev. E. L. Sanford and wife are again in the evangelistic field and are available for meetings anywhere people desire their services. Address them 351 W. Short St., Louisville, Ky.

Erecting family altars is a specialty of Rev. Irvin B. Manly of Houston, Texas. He has reached seven hundred homes this year with the message—"The Family Altar Revived." Such work is surely worth while. If you want such help write him, 401 Cosmos Street, Houston, Texas.

Will any church or mission that has some discarded but yet usable song books or other equipment for mission or evangelizing work, that would like for them yet to be of service to him, please correspond with Roscoe R. Hollis, Pocahontas, Ill.

Goose Creek, Texas, revival closed with Dr. Theodore M. Hofmeister as evangelist, in Trinity Tabernacle, which marked the opening of Southern Bible College. At the close the student body and faculty presented the evangelist a brief packed with letters of appreciation and with them the office of Honorary First Vice-President of Southern Bible College. Dr. Hofmeister is now in a revival at Evangelistic Temple, Beaumont, Tex., where he will broadcast over KDFM from the temple, daily at the noon hour.

THE MORAL ECHO.

T. Richardson Gray.

As children we clapped our hands to hear the Echo between hills, timber, or mountains. We shouted, "Who are you?" "What's your name?" only to find that all the silences had voices echoing back in hand-clap or voice, an harmless "sounding again of the mountains." Greek mythology took the echo for a nymph, daughter of air, following Narcissus, through forests. Several localities are noted for producing twenty to thirty distinct echoes to sound.

Here Ezekiel warns his people to be not deceived at what they were about to hear, nor mistake the sounds as echoes of joyous shout, music, or gleeful handclap; but rather a long delayed chastisement echo of unrepented sin, and "not the sounding again of the mountains." The Gospel holds out promised rewards for both present and future; it also rings clear warning as to future results of wrong-doing. The promises of his mercy seat, and threats of his Tribunal, equally sure of accomplishment.

Echoes as a Restraint.

The certainty of consequences, and a future state, always an indispensable moral deterrent, is, however, becoming less and less effective, though is still a great force in checking crime and all known evils. The fear that what one does today may bring regret tomorrow, stays many a dire plot. And too, a like assurance in the same future, lends confidence to every good investment, that it is never in vain. Eternity is called the Echo of the Past. Solomon wrote, "The way of transgressors is hard." A modern jester has modified it thus: "The 'way' is not hard, it's the consequential bump at the end." But however put, the future must echo the past, according as it is right or wrong, whether in physical, moral, or spiritual world.

Moral Echo in Physical.

Deformities, insanities, handicaps, are but echoes of mistake, ignorance, wrong, sin, in days gone by. Deeds that shook our hand in farewell, reappear in bodily infirmity. One said: "I took a step from the path of moral rectitude, thinking I was through with it, when the day was done, only to suffer its disturbing effects years later, like the 'Sounding again of the Mountains.'" The blessings of today are but harvests of good seed sown in by-gone years: and conversely, the world's burden of physical woes is the echo of its yesterdays. Wisdom and obedience could have altered the present and future. Unhappily the nations are paying toll for past folly. Loose morals play havoc with the mortal, resulting in untold misery.

Echoes in Others.

It is not true that a person or nation has only self to hurt: the world is one. "There are those who care," and these should be considered. Ex-Emperor William of Germany, has from childhood carried a partially paralyzed left arm, for which he is to be pitied, for it is no fault of his, but "King Evil" handed down by ancestors. What a warning against wrong, and what incentive to right morals, that the innocent must suffer for another's folly. One's past is his own, though repentance and faith in a forgiving Saviour may redeem and save what's left of life, unless he fails to avail this merciful provision. A physician was offered a bribe in a crooked deal. "No one will know it," he was told. "But I will know it," said he, "For I have to live with myself." What a wisdom is this, "Prevention better than a cure."

World Outlook.

What future do present conditions foreshadow? "What sounding again of the mountains?" What unprecedented crime; with Prohibition in peril; with Washington officials opposing every righteous law; the daily press lending its stimulating voice to a disloyal propaganda; the "Enemy within our gates" having for its end the overthrow of our government; with multiplying evils lined up in solid phalanx against God on the right—do these give promise of that "Righteousness that exalteth a nation?" or the "sounding again" of the "Sin that is a reproach to any people?" If the latter, then we may well be alarmed, for the enemy is strong, aggressive, determined. Should not helpless children, tugging at our hearts, make strong appeal to men to look out for the best possible future for them? But our greatest danger is in this—

The Fatality of False Security.

An apathy on the part of well-meaning Christian people: a feeling of safety, "God is in his heaven and all's well." That God will overrule, and win the battle with, or without, his army; a sort of made-to-order victory tied up and handed over to us. A rest in such false confidence will be to our peril. Shall we pray? Indeed no victory is possible apart from it. To the discredit of millions they have left off prayer. Prayer is not to be discounted, but let it not end there. The hosts of the living God

MY LIFE'S STORY

NEW EDITION—JUST ISSUED.

The Autobiography of Bud Robinson

This is the book for which thousands have been waiting. It is years since "Uncle Buddy" has written a book dealing with his life and experiences. Now we have this volume, his autobiography, giving an intimate recital of his experiences from early childhood to the present time. Pathos, humor, optimism, scathing rebuke, with an amazing memory of detail unite to give this volume the peculiar charm that characterizes all of Bud Robinson's writings. Just as there is only one Bud Robinson so this is the only volume giving the complete story of his life up to the present.

217 pages; full page portrait of author; attractive cloth binding. Price, $1.00.

Pentecostal Publishing Company, Louisville, Ky.

"STREAMS IN THE DESERT."

A new glimpse of God's love is revealed on every page
By MRS. CHAS. E. COWMAN

A strong, inspiring and deeply spiritual compilation of daily readings and meditations. Each selection flashes Divine truth and comfort into the darkness of doubt or distress and reveals a clearer vision of God's loving care.

An All-Occasion Gift—Also suitable for bereaved, suffering or discouraged souls.
For Every Home—In private reading or devotion and in family home.—An active minister.

Cloth Bound, 376 pages. $1.50 postpaid. Order your COPIES Today.

Pentecostal Publishing Company,
Louisville, Kentucky.

must be active, vigilant, thoroughly aroused to conditions that menace our land; alive to the situation, cast the deciding vote, and with all our ransomed powers, stop the on-coming hordes of Satan, in a hard-won, but well-earned victory "for God, and home, and every land." For this, God expects every man and woman to do their duty.

SHE HAD NEVER ENCOUNTERED KINDNESS.

A touching story appeared in a leading magazine some years ago, in which a great-hearted surgeon became profoundly interested in a little crippled waif. As he grew to love the little girl, he studied her case, and became convinced that she could be cured, though only after a critical and painful operation.

The operation was successful. But the child whom he had adopted as his daughter, and for whom he had made possible health and happiness, shrank from him as he came near her, and hid her face. She could not understand the beneficent purpose back of the pain she had undergone. She did not know that love and helpfulness, not cruelty, were responsible for what she endured.

There is something in this little story which suggests the blindness of God's children, where his purposes are concerned. He finds us poor and adopts us into his family. He finds us crippled and restores us to health, even at the cost of suffering. And often we lose sight of the blessing which is to be ours, and thinking only of the pain, tax him in our thoughts with unkindness.

This untaught, neglected child who had never encountered unselfish kindness in her whole life until she met the great surgeon, was not to be blamed if she failed to realize the love which ordained that she should suffer in order to be well. But we should know our Heavenly Father well enough to realize that whatever comes from his hand, joy or grief, toil or ease, is all for our best good. For in the perfection of strength and symmetry, pain may have as important a share as happiness. If we learned to wait without distrust or bitterness, we should often find that our hardest experiences have a beneficent purpose, and that the suffering we have endured has made possible some of life's divinest things.—Selected.

FLORIDA HOLINESS CAMP MEETING.

The Florida Holiness Camp Meeting is conducted during mid winter, and at a time in the year when all other camp meetings are closed. We, therefore, extend a special invitation to all who expect to spend their winter in Florida, to attend the Florida Camp Meeting, at Lakeland, February 11th to 21st, 1932.

Engaged speakers are, Dr. H. C. Morrison, Dr. C. H. Babcock, and Dr. C. W. Butler. Entertainment on the grounds, very reasonable. Write Rev. H. H. McAfee, P. O. Box, 534, Lakeland, Florida.

"THE OLD RUGGED CROSS"

stands out at this season of the year like a mighty mountain peak. What could be more appropriate to place in the hands of a friend than a copy of The Story of The Old Rugged Cross? It is by the author of this world famed gospel song and contains data on how it came to be written. Also, fifteen GREAT SERMONETTES on various phases of the CROSS by outstanding American gospel preachers. In two bindings, 75c and $1.00.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ASBURY FOREIGN MISSIONARY TEAM
Kirkpatrick, Crapse, Emy.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 33-24.

BENNETT, FRED E.
(Suite 1008 Chicago Bank of Commerce
Bldg., 7 S. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.)
Wichita, Kan., October.
Seattle, College Church, Nov. 6.
Falls City, Ore., Nov. 26.
Newberg, Ore., Dec. 13.

BENNARD, GEO.
(Hermosa Beach, California.)
Albion, Mich., Oct. 26-30.
Polson, Mont., Nov. 1-15.
Okanogan, Wash., Nov. 18- Dec. 6.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.
(Albany, Pa.)
Liberty, Pa., Oct. 1-Nov. 1.
New Point, Va., Nov. 2-15.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Waco, Tex., Nov. 4-18.

CALLIS, O. H.
(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otega, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CAREY, A. B.
Bath, Maine, Oct. 27-Nov. 8.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison St., Wilmore, Ky.)
Groveport, Ohio, Oct. 11-25.
Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 28-Nov. 15.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Beunington, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Paoli, Colo., Nov. 8-22.

GRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET
(815 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Portland, Mich., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Grand Ledge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

DAVIDSON, OTTO
Otway, Ohio, Nov. 1-Dec. 1.

FLEMING, JOHN
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.
Blackwell, Okla., Nov. 17-29.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.
Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 15-29.
Stockton, Calif., Nov. 30-Dec. 13.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 3, 4.
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.
Oneonta, N. Y., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

FRYE, H. A.
(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
East Detroit, Mich., Oct. 11-Nov. 1.
Pierston, Mich., Nov. 8-29.

FUGETT, C. B.
Hornity, Okla., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Ada, Okla., Nov. 9-22.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
 Fargo, N. D., Oct. 20-Nov. 1.
Rapid City, S. D., Nov. 3-6.
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

GREGORY, LOIS V.
Falls Creek, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

GOODMAN, M. L.
(Burnips, Mich.)
Frackville, Pa., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 20-Jan. 1 reserved.

HAINES, FLOSSIE
(Care Rev. Metzger, Howard, Pa.)
Pleasant Gap, Pa., Sept. 28-Oct. 25.
Open for dates.

HARVEY, M. E.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Hurlock, Md., Oct. 23-Nov. 8.
Fandleman, N. C., Nov. 15-29.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 4-30.
Dover, N. J., Nov. 1-3.
Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 4-22.

HOOVER, L. S.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.

JACOBS, CHAS. A.
(Rt. 6, Charlotte, Mich.)
Bessemer, Mich., Nov. 9.
Hopkins, Mich., Nov. 15-29.

JANNETT, W. HOWARD.
(Spring Fork, W. Va.)
Sharpley, W. Va., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 8-9.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Sheffield, Mass.)
Harrington, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1-14.
Connersville, Ind., Nov. 15-28.

JONES, LUM.
Iola, Kan., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8-22.

KINSLEY, MR. AND MRS. W. C.
(450 South West 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.)
Union, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.

LARKIN, BESSIE
(Collingswood, N. J.)
Weissport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 15-29.
Westville, N. J., Dec. 6-20.

LINN, C. H. JACK
(Oregon, Wis.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

LINCICOME, F.
Spencerville, Md., Oct. 8-25.
Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16-20.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(1039 Clinton St., Carthage, Mo.)
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1-15.
Keokuk, Ia., Nov. 17-29.

LUDWIG, THEO. AND MINNIE E.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29-Nov. 15.
McPherson, Kan., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

MILLS, F. J.
(Bellaire, Mich.)
Rochester, Mich., Nov. 1-15.
New Paris, Ind., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Las Ammas, Colo., Nov. 1-22.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 East 13th Ave., Columbus, Ohio.)
Boaz, Ala., Oct. 28-Nov. 1.
Lanham, Maryland, Nov. 8-22.

PARKER, J. R.
Lanham, Md., Oct. 19-Nov. 1.

REED, LAWRENCE
(Rt. 1, Salem, Ohio.)
Lowell, Mass., Oct. 25-Nov. 11.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 1-15.

RUTH, C. W.
(1200 Dominion Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Milton Grove, Pa., Oct. 28-Nov. 8.
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12-22.
Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 24-29.
Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 3-13.

SMITH, W. EDMUND.
(Wolcott, Vermont)
Moore Forks, Oct. 18-Nov. 8.
Moore Forks, N. Y., Oct. 18-Nov. 8.

SURBROOK, W. L.
(225 Ferris Ave., Highland Park, Detroit, Michigan.)
Binghamton, N. Y., Oct. 15-Nov. 1.

THOMAS, JOHN
(Wilmore, Kentucky.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30-Nov. 8.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15-29.
Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2-13.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Marion, Ind., Nov. 15-Dec. 6.

WILSON, D. E.
(557 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
High Point, N. C., Oct. 15-25.
Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.
Reserved, Nov. 9-17.
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(304 S. Main St., Somerset, Ky.)
Visalia, Ky., Nov. 9-22.
Open dates.

WOODWARD, GEORGE P.
(Artist-Evangelist, 126 W. Barnard, West
Chester, Pa.)
Smyrna, Del., Oct. 18-Nov. 1.
Harrington, Del., Nov. 2-15.
Athens, Ohio, Nov. 16-29.
Logan, Ohio, Dec. 5-27.

Preparing To Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

The End of The World,
Is It Near?

BY REV. L. L. PICKETT

You will be delighted, informed and helped with this book of 119 pages. Some of the chapters are: "What It Means," "The World Passeth Away," "The Present Evil Age," "The God of this World," "The Strong Man Bound," "Dispensational Endings," "Overflowing Wickedness," "Groaning Creation," etc.

Paper bound, 50c. Cloth, $1.00.

IN MEMORIAM.

I saw the old warrior in his casket, his hair, made white by the snows of many winters; he was resting now after a thousand battles in which he had been in deadly combat with whiskey and the saloon, gambling and the underworld; infidelity and its propagandists; Rome and its Popes; Antichrist and the Beasts; Evolution and its godlessness; modernism and its skepticism; sin and its hellishness.

I went to the grave after the crowd had gone home and saw them covering up the casket with mother earth and they worked hard, out I said there lies a man whose soul you cannot bury, a casket cannot contain him, nor can six feet of earth hold him. By ten thousand sermons he has preached, by the songs and hymns he has written and sung throughout the nation, and which are being sung around the globe;

by his revivals in which thousands have been won to Christ; by the books which he has written and which have been read throughout the world; by his preaching sons, and the sons and daughters of others whom he helped train to preach and evangelize in the homeland and on the foreign fields; by his testimony for the Word of God, the cleansing blood, the sanctifying power, the glorious hope of the Second Advent, and the bliss of immortality, the soul of L. L. Pickett marches on.

Adopted son of Kentucky soil, he lived to bless her with his prayers and protect her with his Gospel Sword! Son of Methodism, he bowed at her altars and swore eternal allegiance to her doctrines. Preacher, Evangelist, Singer, Writer, Warrior—L. L. Pickett preaches on, sings on, prays on and fights on, though he has lately changed from the church militant to the Church Triumphant.

GEORGE W. RIDOUT.

A Library In Itself

|                                                                                                                                                                                                 |        |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------|
| The Blessed Hope of His Glorious Appearing. 370 pages, an encyclopedia of the Bible Teaching of the Second Coming of Christ . . . . .                                                           | $1.50 |
| The Book and Its Theme. A wonderful story of the Bible and its teachings. 290 pages . . . . .                                                                                                   | 1.50   |
| Uncle Sam or the Pope, Which? A war on Romanism as an Ecclesiastical and Political Machine. 308 pages . . . . .                                                                                 | 1.50   |
| The Antichrist, and Some Mistakes Concerning Him. A profound scholar says this is the greatest book this author has written. 267 pages . . . . .                                                | 1.50   |
| The Renewed Earth, or the Coming and Reign of Jesus Christ. Another great book on a different phase of the Second Coming. 338 pages . . . . .                                                   | 1.50   |
| Leaves From The Tree of Life, or Gleanings from the Word of God. Every great Bible teaching is explained in this book. 312 pages . . . . .                                                      | 1.50   |
| Who Is The Beast? A study of Revelation 13. The real identity of the famous wild beast of prophecy is fully revealed in this book. 205 pages . . . . .                                          | 1.25   |
| Careful Cullings for Children. A great collection of interesting and helpful stories for children. 272 pages . . . . .                                                                          | 1.25   |
| The Danger Signal. Tells how Romanism is increasing among us and points out the dangers. 313 pages . . . . .                                                                                    | 1.50   |
| Faith Tonic. A series of articles exemplifying God's dealings with Those Who Trust Him. 104 pages . . . . .                                                                                     | 1.00   |
| The End of the World, Is It Near? The author relates how the shadows of the present dispensation are deepening, and that they will grow deeper yet, even unto the midnight. 119 pages . . . . . | 1.00   |
| God or the Guessers. An awful blow to the evolutionists. Introduction by Bud Robinson. 111 pages. Paper binding . . . . .                                                                       | .50    |
| The Millennium and Related Events. Explains the thousand year period and other phases of the doctrine of the Second Coming. 115 pages . . . . .                                                 | .15    |
| Why I Am a Premillennialist. 86 pages, paper binding . . . . .                                                                                                                                  | .50    |
| St Paul on Holiness. A biblical exposition of this subject with an application. 77 pages . . . . .                                                                                              | .15    |
| Why I Do Not Immerse, with an argument on infant baptism, and some points against the theory of baptismal salvation. 68 pages . . . . .                                                         | .15    |
| Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure. A stirring booklet on selfishness. 57 pages . . . . .                                                                                                         | .15    |
| The Holy Day, or Remember the Sabbath. A short treatise on the practical observance of the day of the Lord. 61 pages . . . . .                                                                  | .15    |
| Our King Cometh. An exhortation to have our lamps trimmed and burning. 72 pages . . . . .                                                                                                       | .15    |

19 volumes. Total . . . . . $16.90

These volumes are the written product of a lifetime of research on these great Bible themes by the same L. L. Pickett as mentioned in the above Memorial by Dr. G. W. Ridout. They will be a great asset to any one's library. When this stock is exhausted the books will be out of print. There are startling facts and valuable information to be obtained from these books which cannot be had from elsewhere.

We will send any one of the above books postpaid at the prices mentioned, or we offer the complete set of 19 volumes postpaid for

$8.00

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Enclosed you will find $ . . . . . for which please send me books checked above.

Signed . . . . .

Address . . . . .

IDEAL INDIA PAPER BIBLE

For Teacher, Pastor or Friend

It is self-pronouncing.
It is printed in long primer type.
It is bound in Persian Morocco.
It is silk sewed, guaranteed not to break in the back.
It is leather lined to edge.
It is printed on fine India paper.
It has references, concordance, maps.
It has silk headbands and marker.
It is 8 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, weighs 22 ozs.
It is only 15-16 of an inch thick.
It is sold regularly at $10.20.
Special Price, Postpaid, ..... $7.50
It will last a lifetime, ordinary use.
Improved thumb index, 50c extra.
Name lettered in gold, 50c extra.

SPECIMEN OF TYPE

THESE are the sons of 'Is'ra-el,
'Reu'ben, 'Sim'e-on, Le'vi, and Ju'dah, Is'sa-char, and Zeb'u-lun.

Same style as above bound in extra fine binding that will last 20 years with ordinary care, for $10.00.

Ideal Comfort Bible

For Old Folks or Home Study

The type in this book is so large and so well spaced that each word stands out boldly, making it easy and really a pleasure to read. All the difficult words are pronounced.

It has the chapter numbers in figures, with the books of the Bible printed on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is printed on a very fine white, opaque Bible paper and has the references, a beautiful Family Record, maps in colors, with a beautiful colored frontispiece and presentation page.

It is bound in black morocco, stamped in gold, and has the brown burnished edges. Size 6 x 9 x 1 1/4 in. thick and weighs a little less than 3 lbs.

On account of the Bible having such an easy-to-read type, one can really get more out of the Scriptures.

SPECIMEN OF TYPE

•Blind men healed. ST:

son of Da'vid, have mercy
,28 And when he was con
the house, the blind men c:

Our special net price
for this fine book is $3.00

Scholar's Bible

THE SIZE—5 x 7 x 1 in. thick, weight 20 ozs., which makes an ideal size Bible.

THE BINDING—Genuine leather, small, fine grain, linen lined to edge, stamped in pure gold on side and backbone. Very flexible.

THE TYPE—Large, clear, easy-to-read nonpareil, self-pronouncing, chapter numbers in figures.

THE PAPER—Very thin white, opaque Bible paper, durable, with silk headbands and marker.

ILLUSTRATIONS—16 full-page Bible pictures in 8 colors; 32 full-page pictures in 1 color. Frontispiece, presentation page and family record.

HELPS—4,500 revised questions and answers; tables of time, weights, money and measures. A complete Bible concordance. 14 pages of maps in colors, with the Hebrew, Greek and Latin alphabets.

THE PRICE—This Bible is a good value at $3.50. We are offering it postpaid for $2.50

Or, with the patent thumb index and name in gold for $3.00

The same Bible as described above, with the words of Christ printed in red, at an additional cost of only 25c.

Bibles for Christmas Gifts

Every Bible on this page is the King James Version

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY, Louisville, Kentucky

THE CHILD'S BIBLE

Bound in a beautifully grained, genuine leather, with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, red under gold edges.

It has a very clear, readable agate type, is self-pronouncing, chapter numbers in figures. Size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2, only 7/8 of an inch thick and weighs 11 ozs. It contains twenty choice helps.

1. The books of the Bible in rhyme.

2. How to find the books quickly.
3. Finding great things in the Bible.
4. How to read the Bible through.
5. The treasures of the Bible.
6. How to study a Sunday school lesson.
7. The death of Moses.
8. How to study a Bible character.
9. The story of Joseph.
10. How to study a book of the Bible.
11. The story of the Acts.
12. How to analyze a book of the Bible.
13. Analysis of the book of Acts.
14. Hints on studying the Bible.
15. The Bible in life and death.
16. What great men think of the Bible.
17. Testimonies to the Bible.
18. Golden verses of the Bible to be committed to memory.
19. A study of the Holy Land.
20. Bible manners and customs.

Every child should own a Bible, and this one is ideal. Regular catalogue price, $2.50. Our special net price, postpaid, ..... $1.50

Same style of Bible as above, keratol binding, red edges and not overlapping, 90 cents.

Old Folks' Testament and Psalms Illustrated

Very large, clear, pica type—the largest type to be had in a convenient size book. It is bound in black cloth, stamped in gold, and has 24 full-page illustrations.

The Lord's Prayer is beautifully printed in colors as a frontispiece. It is pronouncing, has key to the pronunciation of proper names, dates or times of the writing of the different books. The Lord's Prayer is illustrated with 8 pages of pictures. This Testament is especially suitable for old folks or small children, and is fine for home worship. $1.25

Price, postpaid, ..... $1.25

Same as above in fine Morocco binding, price, $2.00.

Same as above with words of Christ in red, price, $2.20.

Jewel Testament

Fine Morocco binding, overlapping edges, India paper, silk sewed, largest type in a little book, size 2 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3/8 in. thick; weighs less than 3 ounces. Fits the hand and vest pocket. It is self-pronouncing, contains the Psalms. Price, ..... $1.50

5 copies for $6.00.

Most Complete Bible

For the Home, For the Teacher, For the Family, For the Pastor, For the Old Folks, For the Scholar, For the Study

(25 SPECIAL FEATURES)

1. Fine genuine leather binding, with overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.
2. Extra grained lining to edge with special reinforcement.
3. Fine white opaque thin Bible paper beautifully printed.
4. Red edges, round corners, silk head band and marker.
5. Size 5 1/2 x 8 1/2 x 1 1/2, weight forty ounces.
6. The words spoken by Jesus are printed in red.
7. Large, clear, long primer type.
8. Self-pronouncing.
9. Chapters numbered in figures.
10. Sixty thousand references and marginal readings.
11. Dates of happenings before and after Christ in reference columns.
12. Chapter headings and page headings.
13. Nearly 100 illustrations with 32 of them in colors.
14. A beautifully printed family record.
15. A Treatise on "How to Study the Bible," by Rev. James Stalker, D. D.
16. "The Sunday School Teacher's Use of the Bible," by Bishop John H. Vincent, D. D.
17. "The Christian Worker and His Bible," by D. W. Whittle, of Philadelphia.
18. A Calendar for the daily reading of the Scriptures—reading all in one year.
19. Chronology and History of the Bible and its related periods.
20. The Harmony of the Gospels.
21. Table of prophetic books, by Jesse L. Hurlbut.
22. Period intervening between the age of Malachi (450 B. C.) and the birth of Christ, by Rev. A. C. Whitehouse, M. A.
23. Weights, Monies and Measures.
24. The Combination Concordance, which includes under one alphabetical arrangement a concordance to the Scriptures, topical index to the Bible, list of proper names, with their meanings and pronunciations, complete gazetteer, with references to the maps, a glossary of archaic and obsolete words in the English Bible; words relating to Biblical antiquities, customs, musical terms, etc., names of plants, animals, precious stones, etc.
25. 4,500 Questions and Answers on the sacred Scriptures for Bible students and Sunday School teachers.

The regular catalogue price is $6.70. Our special price, postpaid, ..... $4.00

Patent thumb index, 50c extra.

Your name in gold, 50c extra.

This cut shows the style of all the overlapping edge Bibles mentioned in this advertisement.

NOT TO BE USED WITHOUT COPYRIGHT PERMISSION

Specimen of Type. AND it came to pass, that whe
A Isaac was old, and his eye were dim, so that he could not see, h

Each copy packed in a box, wrapped inside and out. The above Bible is the very best value that we know of in the way of completeness, large type, durability, neatness in size, and all the attractive features for Bible study, for the price.

Ideal India Paper Pocket Reference Bible

This Bible weighs only 11 ozs., is 5/8 of an inch thick, and size 4 1/4 x 6 1/4. It has very readable minion type, splendid Morocco binding, overlapping edges, silk headbands and marker. White opaque India paper, contains references and maps. Guaranteed not to break in the back. Just the Bible for men to carry in their pockets or ladies in their handbags—so small, light and convenient. Our special price, postpaid, ..... $2.95

The same Bible as described above, with a complete Bible concordance. $4.25

Special price, ..... $4.25

Your name in gold on either of the above, 50c extra; index, 50c extra.

Vest Pocket Testaments

Beautiful little New Testaments that are printed in clear nonpareil type on thin Bible paper.

Very compact, may be easily carried in the pocket.

No. VP6—Artificial leather, limp, gold titles, round corners, red under gold edges. Price, postpaid, ..... 50c

No. VP9—Genuine leather, overlapping covers, gold titles, round corners, red under gold edges. Price, postpaid, ..... 75c

No. VP90R—Same as VP9, but with the sayings of Christ printed in red. Price, postpaid, ..... 90c

300 Pocket League Testaments

This is the smallest Testament on the market with a good, clear, readable type. The size is 2 1/2 x 3 3/4 x 3/8 in. thick, and weighs 2 1/2 ozs. It is printed on the fine thin, India paper and is beautifully bound in flexible imitation leather, and has many full-page colored illustrations. We are offering it at the special price of 50c, or $5.75 per dozen.

1000 Special Testaments

They are bound in black cloth, have red edges, are vest pocket size, well printed on good paper, and we are offering them at 15c each, or $1.20 per dozen, postpaid.

The Illustrated New Testament

Bound in beautiful cloth with inland picture on cover, stamped in gold, has large, clear blackface type, with a large number of illustrations printed in many colors, size 4 1/4 x 6 1/4. Price $1.00, or $9.00 per dozen, postpaid. On entering the office, Dr. Morrison picked up one of the above described Testaments and was so attracted with its style and readability that he wanted one himself.

Pentecostal Publishing Co.
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $..... for which send me items checked above.

Name.....

Address.....

$20 worth for $10

You can get every book described on this page and have in your possession a good $20.00 library for $10.00.

Two For One Book Sale

THIS SPECIAL OFFER FOR MONTH OF NOVEMBER ONLY

Your opportunity to buy some helpful Christmas Gifts.

Your opportunity to supply yourself with helpful reading matter for the long winter evenings.

$2 worth for $1

No better way to invest some tithe money

Remarkable Conversions

REV. H. C. MORRISON

Doubtless no man on the American continent is better prepared to give the reader true stories of more remarkable conversions, interesting incidents or striking illustrations than the author of this book. Every page of it will be found enjoyable and will prove a blessing. Good for you and every one. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

of any other on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Second Coming of Christ

REV. H. C. MORRISON

"The Budding of the Fig Tree," "The Apostasy," "The Gospel not a Failure," "Perilous Times," "Return of the Jews," "The Spread of the Gospel," "The Millennium," are some of the interesting chapters in this most excellent book on the Lord's return. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

$1.00, postpaid.

Pentecostal Pulpit

BY TWELVE AUTHORS

Here are twelve great sermons by twelve of our leading holiness evangelists and preachers. The sermon on "Wrestling Jacob" will be worth your money. "I Have Played the Fool" is another striking sermon. "Perfect Love," by Bud Robinson, is outstanding. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

both for $1.00, postpaid.

Dick Davis and the Devil

REV. J. B. CULPEPPER

Twenty-one of this author's most interesting and helpful sermons, along with twenty-six pages of his powerful sayings. If you have never heard him you will enjoy this book; if you have heard him, you will enjoy it all the more. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Mountain Peaks of The Bible

REV. BUD ROBINSON

In his own unique way the author gives twelve chapters on the great high peaks of Holy Scriptures. The Christian will enjoy it and the sinner will be blessed by reading it. Regular price, $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Hallelujah Jack

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

A remarkable story of an awful sinner with many experiences who was saved by grace. A most excellent book to put in the hands of an unsaved person, and a very interesting and helpful story for anyone to read. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Wrested Scriptures Made Plain

REV. W. E. SHEPARD

This book explains the difficult passages of scripture, especially on holiness, in a most satisfactory way. One of the largest holiness schools has used it as a study book. It explains such scriptures as "There is None Righteous," and "Paul's Thorn in the Flesh." Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Optimism of Premillennialism

REV. H. C. MORRISON

This is Dr. Morrison's latest book on the second coming of our Lord, and we are putting it in this special sale so it may have a large circulation, and thus accomplish the great good for which it was written. It is highly commended. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Bible Readings for Christian Workers

REV. BASIL W. MILLER

For home study, for young people's meetings, for prayer meetings, for missionary society devotional meetings, we do not know of a better book than this, and as a helpful book for a young preacher in preparing his sermons, this would be very suggestive. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

page for $1.00, postpaid.

Sermons for the Times

REV. H. C. MORRISON

These sermons will stir and thrill you. They are different. Good for the home, for the preacher, and especially good for the young preacher. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Revival Blessings

REV. GEORGE W. RIDOUT

You hear it on every occasion, that the greatest need of the church and our country is a revival of religion. This is one of the most helpful and suggestive books on the market on this subject. Every one should read it and be informed and enthusiastic for a revival. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Tarry Ye

REV. L. R. AKERS

Dr. Akers, in compiling this book, selected thirteen of the leading holiness preachers, and they all write on the deeper spiritual life. The reading of this book will be like visiting a holiness camp meeting and hearing the leading preachers of this country. You will want it and want others to have it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

A Pitcher of Cream

REV. BUD ROBINSON

It is fresh, juicy, unctious and witty. The cream of his thought, feelings and imagination under the tuition of the Holy Spirit. It will enrich the soul of every one who reads it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Nuggets of Gold

REV. BUD ROBINSON

Contains the author's daily prayer, "Oh, Lord, give me a back-bone as big as a saw log, and ribs like the sleepers under the church floor; put iron shoes on me, and galvanized breeches. And give me a rhinoceros hide for a skin, and hang a wagon load of determination," etc., and 122 pages of his richest sayings. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Letters of a Converted Boy to his Mother

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

You will want to help some young boy. Give him this book and better still buy two copies of it for the price of one, and give them as Christmas presents. Guaranteed to please you. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page for $1.00, postpaid.

Garden of Love

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

This book will make you long for heaven, as it relates the experiences of that great host of saints who have gone on before, and will be there with their wonderful testimony. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Story of Lazarus

REV. BUD ROBINSON

Lazarus is very nearly a type of the whole human family and a splendid character. You will be pleased and greatly blessed in reading the sixteen chapters. A splendid gift. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

A Feast of Good Things

REV. J. M. HAMES

If you want to make some saint happy, give that one this book. If you want to get happy yourself, read it. It is full of good spiritual food and you will appreciate it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Our Young People

REV. R. H. RIVERS

A great preacher has said that no better book for young people has been issued than this. It is charming and magnetic. The matter is all good for the use of edifying. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Pentecost

REV. C. E. HARDY

The need of every individual as well as the need of the church. This book represents years of careful study of Pentecost. Each chapter has been condensed so that even the busiest people can take time to read it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which send me postpaid the books checked above, at your special price of two copies for $1.00.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Nov. 4, 1931.
Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 44.

THOUGHTS FOR THE THOUGHTFUL.

By The Editor.

THE eyes of the Lord are in every place beholding the evil and the good." Prov. 15:3.

A memory of the presence of God—that he is looking upon us—ought to be a constant and powerful incentive to righteous living, a strong preventive against sin.

Forgetfulness of God and our responsibility to him, and the fact that, in the end, we must render an account to him for the deeds of our spirits while they dwelt in our bodies, is an open floodgate to wickedness. To forget God means to sin.

The men and women who have counted large in the uplift of their fellowbeings have been changed, renewed, transformed, purified, strengthened for resistance against temptation and wrong-doing and empowering for victorious service by thinking of God and all he means to them, commands and promises.

God is far greater than all his creation. He fills his universe. The thought of him, his holiness and presence will frighten temptation away, rebuke rising passions, chasten meditation, stimulate right endeavor, and lead on into all that procession that brings the soul into blessed fellowship with God.

Nothing can prove more disastrous to the individual, the community, the nation, and the world than forgetfulness of God. One of the wisest exhortations in the Holy Scriptures is delivered especially to the young. It reads, "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth, while the evil days come not, nor the years draw nigh, when thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them."

How fortunate those who have grown up in an environment that was permeated with reverence and devotion, where a wholesome fear of God dominated society, chastened, purified, and lifted the people up into the high realm of obedience to law and fraternal love for their fellow-beings, a state of mind that gave dignity to life, that thought and acted with the understanding of personal responsibility and the great fact that there is a coming Judgment and an unending hereafter.

One of the most important tasks of the preacher and religious teacher is to keep in the minds of the people the fact of God, his universal presence, and that all things are under his searching eye. Men who live in a state of God-consciousness make good citizens. They naturally fall into the beautiful habit of observing the Golden Rule—to do unto others as they would be done by.

Nothing can count more largely for the sanctity of the home, for the preservation of the sacred relationships that exist between husband and wife, and children, than a God-

WESLEY ON CHRISTIAN PERFECTION.

"In the year 1764, upon a review of the whole subject (says Mr. Wesley, page 103, "Plain Account of Christian Perfection"), I wrote down the sum of what I had observed in the following short propositions:

1. There is such a thing as perfection; for it is again and again mentioned in the Scripture.
2. It is not so early as justification; for justified persons are to 'go on unto perfection.' (Heb. 6:1).
3. It is not so late as death; for St. Paul speaks of living men that were perfect. (Phil. 3:15).
4. It is not absolute. Absolute perfection belongs not to men, nor to angels, but to God alone.
5. It does not make a man infallible; none is infallible while he remains in the body.
6. Is it sinless? It is not worth while to contend for a term. It is salvation from sin.
7. It is perfect love (1 John 4:18). This is the essence of it; its properties, or inseparable fruits are; rejoicing evermore, praying without ceasing, and in everything giving thanks. (1 Thess. 5:16, etc.)
8. It is improvable. It is so far from lying in an indivisible point, from being incapable of increase, that one perfected in love may grow in grace swifter than he did before.
9. It is amissable, capable of being lost; of which we have numerous instances.
10. It is constantly both preceded and followed by a gradual work."

consciousness. Nothing can mean more for the purity of the church, its harmonious union into brotherly oneness, than a realization that God, in the person of the Holy Ghost, is in the midst. To know God, to come into harmony with his Word, to delight in his service, to watch and read and pray that we may have constant fellowship with him, is to secure the very best there is for any human being in this world and all other worlds through all time and eternity. King David reached a high altitude of inspired wisdom when he said to his son Solomon, "Know thou the God of thy father, and serve him with a perfect heart and a willing mind: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and understandeth all the imaginations of the thought: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off forever."

PREACHING TO THE PEOPLE.

Hurried away from the camp meeting at Pentecostal Park on the old home farm of my grandfather near Glasgow, Ky., where I once plowed the hillside now covered with a beautiful forest, where the new camp meeting tabernacle stands, to attend the Kentucky Annual Conference, which met at Winchester, Ky. The preachers were entertained in the dormitories of the college, and well fed in the college diningroom. The conference sessions were held in the spacious chapel of the administration building of Kentucky Wesleyan.

Bishop McMurtry presided. The brethren seemed to be well and happy. There was a fine spirit of fellowship, as is usual at these delightful gatherings of Methodist preachers. There was a general rumor that, as the brethren grew better acquainted with the big Bishop they loved him better. He preached a great sermon Sunday morning on the "Right Kind of a Revival," so I was told; as I was preaching elsewhere it was not my privilege to hear the Bishop's discourse.

Dr. Waldrip, of St. Louis, was the inspirational speaker of the conference. He brought two messages each day and, but for some criticisms on the Apostle Paul, and a few other remarks that many of the brethren thought were a bit tainted with modernism, his addresses would have been immensely popular; as it was, he was intensely interesting. Some of his sermons and addresses were unusually interesting and instructive in the extreme. There is a wit, a humor, and intensity, along with depth of thought, and flights of oratory, that make Dr. Waldrip a remarkably interesting preacher.

The reports of the brethren with reference to conference collections were far from satisfactory. The deficits were, in some instances, almost startling, and by no means revealed indifference on the part of the preachers, but the fearful financial depression among the people. I have been a circuit rider, and even in times that are looked upon as fairly good, in a financial way, it was very difficult to collect money among a class of people who have but small incomes. There are many people in the country who live with a good degree of comfort who handle very little cash.

I well remember in my grandfather's home we had plenty to eat and to wear; we killed quite a bunch of hogs when the weather turned cold, had bacon and lard to exchange for groceries the coming summer; we killed a fat heifer when frost came, and a shoat when turnips were large enough to eat; we had a fine orchard and good garden, and luxuriated in fruits and vegetables; had fried pies in plenty, and not only good sorghum for our buttered biscuit, but an occasional candy pulling, but we had almost no money. We exchanged the products of the farm for almost everything we got from the stores. We hauled in stovewood to the county seat in the fall of the year with which we bought our winter shoes. We were not stingy with our cash; we did not have cash, and got along remarkably well without it; meanwhile, it would have been bad policy to scold us because we did not make larger contributions to the church budget. And this is true in many instances. It is also probable that there are many people who, by no means, do their best. I only preached once to the conference, but preached morning and evening on Sunday at the Central Baptist Church, where I found the pastor a delightful Christian brother, and a most appreciative congregation.

About one-half of the preachers were moved to new appointments. This seems to

(Continued on page 8)

BIBLE NOTES AND ILLUSTRATIONS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Psalm 125:2—Mountains of Jerusalem

Here in Santiago, Chili—over 6,000 miles away from New York—the great Andes Mountains are always visible. It reminds me so often of those words of Psalm 125:2: "As the mountains are round about Jerusalem, so the Lord is round about his people from henceforth, even for ever." On one of the highest hill-tops of Santiago they have an immense statue of the Virgin Mary. At night it is lighted up by electricity. The Catholics have put it there believing it would be a good thing to have the city under the Virgin's care. In South America the Virgin is worshipped much more than Jesus Christ. In the Dominican Church in Lima, there is a beautiful image of the Virgin; she is holding in her hand a golden cane which was presented to her by President Lliqua. Poor man! he is now a prisoner in the model prison which he built. This particular Virgin changes the color of her face frequently. When the people are careless and do not bring money enough in, she grows pale; when they do as the priests want them to do she takes on healthy colors again and the priests tell the people she is pleased. An ex-priest told me the secret of the change was, every now and then in secret they paint her up to suit emergencies.

II. THE CHURCH OF GOD.

I believe it was in the Divine Plan that the Church of God should be holy. Eph. 1:4; Eph. 5:26, 27. Also that it should be a victorious, glowing, growing, fruit-bearing, soul-saving church. John 15.

The church that keeps in the divine order will be pentecostal, and will produce mighty preachers and preaching. When the Church becomes worldly and fails to convert souls, it also loses its power of progress and reproduction. I read with interest the following story recently:

"Bishop Candler, of Atlanta, was once presiding over a Methodist conference in the Southern states. He was reading the appointments for the preachers for the ensuing year. The great body of rural churches came first. He was interrupted presently by a certain well-groomed banker with his sparse hair carefully parted in the middle, who arose to ask the bishop if he had provided in his appointment a preacher for the big First Church, of which the banker was a member, in a larger city in the State. 'Brother,' replied the bishop, 'how many preachers has your church produced since you have known it?' 'Well, I have been in it 25 years; I do not remember any,' replied the banker, who found the questioning bishop more discomposing than a whole board of directors. 'Brother,' continued the bishop, 'I am appointing these preachers for these country churches because we must depend on them to produce preachers for such churches as yours. I will appoint one for yours after we get through with these.'"

III. REVIVE THY WORK O GOD.

I observe in reading the home church papers that the editors are writing about the need of revivals in the church; then they will have the papers filled up with a lot of stuff which would make it impossible for anything like a revival to happen in the Methodist Church.

One of the Methodist Bishops tells of a great revival he had when he was a circuit rider. Here is the story:

There had not been a revival on that circuit in years, and things were not spiritually hopeful. During more than four weeks the pastor had preached faithfully, visited from house to house, in stores, shops and out-of-the-way places, and had done everything he could. The fifth Monday night saw many of the official members at lodges, but only a corporal's guard at the church.

From that meeting the pastor went home cast down, but not in despair. He resolved to spend that night in prayer. Locking the door, he took Bible and hymn book and began to inquire more diligently of the Lord, though the meetings had been the subject of hours of earnest prayer. Only God knows the anxiety and the faithful, prayerful study of that night. Near the dawn a great peace and a full assurance came that God would surely bless the plan which had been decided upon, and a text was chosen which he felt sure was of the Lord. Dropping upon the bed, the pastor slept about two hours, then rose, hastily breakfasted, and went nine miles to the far side of the circuit to visit some sick people. All day the assurance increased.

Toward night a pouring rain set in, the roads were heavy and he reached home, wet, supperless and a little late, only to find no fire in the church. The janitor had concluded that the rain would prevent the service. He changed the order, rang the bell and prepared for war. Three young men formed the congregation, but in that 'full assurance' the pastor delivered the message which had been prayed out on the preceding night as earnestly and as fully as if the house had been crowded, then made a personal appeal to each young man in turn. Two yielded and testified before the meeting closed.

The tired pastor went to a sweet rest, and next morning, rising a little later than usual, learned that one of the young men was going from store to store throughout the town telling of his wonderful deliverance and exhorting the people to salvation. The next night the church was filled. Night after night conversions occurred, until in two weeks we heard 144 people testify in 45 minutes. All three points of that circuit saw a blaze of revival that winter, and family after family came into the church until the membership was more than trebled.

IV. WATCHMAN, WHAT OF THE NIGHT?

Frequently, after going home from Asia to U. S. A., last summer, I was asked what I thought of the signs of the times. This is a pertinent question. Is the Second Coming near? Are we near the end of the Gentile age? Are we in the latter days? Are we in the Apostasy?

Some signs are not very hopeful. Some one wrote me recently concerning a Methodist Church that was visited: "I was surprised," said the visitor, "to find in the church a small white cross and the candelabrum filled with white candles, a reading desk as well as a pulpit; so churchly that I thought it had become Episcopal. In answer to my question I was told that the M. E. Church, at large, was going back to the John Wesley type of services. I don't like the looks of it." The trend now is for Ritualism. Methodism has lost its fire, its revivals, its holiness meetings, its red-hot prayer meetings, and its praying saints; now it is going into form and ritualism. A good old-fashioned Methodist preacher writes his protest of this thing:

It is out of harmony with the spirit of early American Methodism and Methodism was at her best in those early days, spiritually speaking; she doubled her membership every year, and did better than that some years. Matt. 7:20: "Whereof by their fruits ye shall know them." When she was in her prime she could sense the mind of the Spirit better than we can now. In those days our fathers rejected and discarded this very form of worship. If we wish to return to evangelism we'll do likewise.

It is out of harmony with this age. We are living in a day of haste, rush, rapidity. We want things done quickly. Therefore, if the church and ministry have any message for a lost and needy world, the less preliminaries they have and the sooner they say what they have to say, the more acceptable it will be to the public.

Finally, William Arthur, in his mighty little book, "The Tongue of Fire," says: "In many periods of the history of the church as this gift has waned (he means the gift of the Holy Ghost), every natural advantage has come to replace it—more learning, more system, more calmness, more profoundness of reflection. Does not this explain why we are reduced to the new order of worship? What is contrary to the New Testament, to the practice of the first Christians, to old-fashioned Methodism. The spirit of our day and substituted for the Spirit of God cannot be of the Lord."

V. THE HOLY SPIRIT OUR TEACHER AND INSPIRATION.

I was struck, when in France, to see how much the French adore Joan of Arc. I studied her life and career and became fully convinced that she knew the Holy Ghost. The Roman Catholic Church condemned her to death when she was nineteen years of age. She was one of the martyrs of the Church of God, I believe.

She was born in the little village of Domremy, a child of honorable but poor farmer parentage. According to her neighbors, "she was simple, good, kind, and never idle." She helped her mother in the ordinary cares of the house, herding the cattle owned by the people of the village in common. Her comrades teased her with being too pious, because she did not love the dance and went often to church and to communion. She loved the sound of the angelus while in the fields with her flocks and would bow her head and pray. One day, when about the age of 12, as she was working in her father's garden, she seemed to hear a voice speaking to her. She was sure it had called her name. At first she was frightened. Often, for a period of five years, these "voices" and "visions" came to her. It was God speaking to her soul. At last the vision took the form of St. Michael and begged her to set out at once upon her mission. She said, "Sir, I am only a poor girl. I would not know how to ride a horse or lead a company of men." The archangel replied, "God will show you the way."

When her judges were trying to catch this poor unlettered girl with theological questions that were hard for her to answer, she prayed for help, saying, "My sweet God, if thou lovest me, by thy holy passion teach me how to answer these people of the church." She was asked by one of them, "Are you in a state of grace?" Note her answer, as if directly aided by God: "If I am not, may God please make me so. If I am, may God please keep me so."

Speaking of the Roman Catholic Church, of which Joan of Arc was a member; Sir Robert Anderson says, "To call the Catholic Church the Church of God savors of profanity." From its early days ambition, intrigue, arrogance, rapacity, barbarity, persecution, bloodshed, has characterized it. The Council held at Ephesus 431 was so wicked that the Emperor, unable to restrain the disorder which prevailed, dismissed the Bishops with the scathing rebuke: "Return to your provinces and may your private virtues repair the mischief and scandal of your meeting."

VI. A CLEAN CHURCH! A CLEAN PEOPLE!

An English writer on the tobacco question says: "The history of smoking would furnish ample materials for a curious footnote to the history of ethics. Opposition to the habit was once very pronounced in many Christian circles; it was deemed particularly unseemly in Christian ministers. For example, when R. W. Dale, then (1852) a young student at college, was invited to assist Angell James at Carrs Lane, Birmingham, James wrote to him—'I forgot to ask if you smoked. If you have contracted this habit, I beseech you to break it. To me it appears of so much importance that it would tend to disturb our intercourse if you were addicted to this habit. You are not so far committed to it, even if you have begun it, as to find it difficult to destroy the pipe. You can have but little idea with what disgust and loathing it is regarded by many of our people, to whom your company would be less pleasing if you carried this habit with you.'"

Mary of Bethany

will enrich your spiritual life. It is wonderful; when you have read it you will want and seek a closer walk with God, and you will give out more of your Christian life to those about you. Single copy, 25c, or 5 copies for $1.00.

Settle The Question

of baptism by obtaining a copy of "Baptism" by Means. It is thorough and convincing. Special price, 30c a copy, or 4 copies for $1.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome, religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

THE LORD'S COMING THE KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES.

Rev. W. S. Bowden.

HE second coming of our Lord is inwrought with the entire fabric, the construction and essential constitution of the whole Bible. His coming is one of the most important doctrines revealed in the Holy Word. His coming will be one of the most momentous events in the history of our planet and our race.

The other day, while reading over the poem here cited, I thought about a remark I heard a brother minister make at a ministerial meeting not long ago. The ministers of the different denominations were freely discussing a carefully prepared paper which had just been read by one of the members. A Baptist brother, whom I esteem highly, arose and said, "Brethren, the second coming of Christ is the key to the Scriptures. It is the objective point to which all God's past and present operations are tending. It is the crowning fact in his redemptive work. It is the truth that stands out pre-eminently in the Word. Some truths will never be clearly understood unless they are looked at in the light of the second coming of Christ. Brethren, if you deny or ignore the imminent, personal coming of Christ there is very little good to come from a discussion of the subject before us." It is true that many words have been wasted in useless discussion because the great truth has not been realized that the second coming of Christ is indeed the key to the Scriptures. It is absolutely a climatic necessity to Bible types, ordinances, promises, doctrines and exhortations.

One writer has told of the contradictory impressions made upon those who view the wonderful frescoes of Giotto in the basilica in Assisi when seen under different conditions. Upon a certain dark, dull, cloudy day a great art critic went to inspect these noted paintings. The only light he had by which to investigate them was a small lamp with a reflector, and the best he could do was simply to turn the light upon separated details of the great pictures. It was a long ways from satisfactory. He saw an arm, or a hand, or a head, as the case might be; but he could not put it all together. He had a very poor impression of what the frescoes really were. However, the next day the sun shone out, the day was bright and clear and beautiful, and then when he went into basilica, what a vision of beauty burst upon his view! How distinctly the frescoes appeared! He could now see the purpose of the artist. He could now get a general view of the whole thing. Beloved, is it not even so with the great truths of the Word of God? We often look at these separated, detached truths and fail to see their full beauty. We do not grasp the whole plan of God. We fail to see the proper relation of the different truths to each other because we do not look at them in the light of the Lord's coming. We shall notice five different ways in which the second coming of Christ is the key to the Scriptures, and shall give three illustrations or examples under each head.

I. THE TYPES OF THE BIBLE.

In the Bible we have many beautiful types. The larger part of these types cannot be clearly understood or fully appreciated apart from the realization of our Lord's second advent. Most of the Old Testament characters which typify Christ do so as truly in his triumph as in his humiliation. Think of Isaac. The resurrection of Christ is as truly taught as is the sacrificial offering up of Christ upon the cross, by a memorable experience in the life of Isaac (Heb. 11:17-19). The resurrection of Christ is many times coupled with his second advent. It is the risen, living Son of God who is to return to give to his children the promised inheritance. Melchizedek is a great Old Testament type.

He was a king as well as a priest. He is clearly a type of Christ. It is written in the 110th Psalm: "The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchizedek." But Jesus is as truly a king as a priest, and the Bible is clear in its teaching that it is when he shall come again that he shall exercise his kingly authority.

The bride is another Bible type. This type is seen in various passages in the Old Testament, but reaches its perfection in the New Testament. No one who is at all acquainted with the New Testament will dispute that the church is the bride and that Jesus Christ is the heavenly Bridegroom. It is when Christ comes in triumph (Rev. 19:7, 8) that the marriage is to take place.

"Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honor to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready."

II. THE ORDINANCES OF THE BIBLE.

The ordinances of the Bible cannot be appreciated as they should apart from the truth of the Lord's coming. Baptism is not appreciated in its fulness unless viewed in the light of the Lord's coming. We are not only buried with Christ in baptism, but also risen with him. "Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him

LOOKING FOR THE SAVIOUR.

Each morning when I wake from sleep,
O teach me, Lord, to say:
"I know that Thou art coming soon,
And this may be the day!
Then help me, Saviour, by thy grace
To live this day for thee,
That I may look for thee with joy
And long thy face to see."

I should not like him, when he comes,
A wandering lamb to find;
If I were idle, selfish, proud,
Untruthful, or unkind,
How I should try to hide my face,
And from his presence flee;
I should not look for him with joy,
Or long his face to see.

Lord Jesus, as the years go by
And thine own "day" draws near,
Oh, make me know that I am thine,
For then I need not fear.
If I am cleansed and kept from sin,
From Satan's power set free,
Then I may look for thee with joy
And long thy face to see.

—Sel.

from the dead" (Col. 2:12). This thought is carried into the next chapter, and linked up with the thought of the return of Christ. The first few verses of the next chapter tell us that we who are dead to self and risen with Christ do set our affections on things above and wait for Christ to return.

"When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory."

The Lord's Supper, the communion service, is not valued at its true worth when viewed apart from the second coming of Christ. Let those who ignore or minimize the atonement remember that this sacrament points back to Calvary. The bread tells of our Lord's crucified body. The wine speaks of his blood which is the seal of the covenant. But there is also a forward look to this ordinance. This is the horizon of the Lord's table: "Till he come" (1 Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table we are on resurrection ground; judgment behind us, glory before us.

"For as oft as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come."

Public Worship is classed by some people with the ordinance. In the Bible the necessity of public worship is presented in connection with the truth of the Lord's return (Heb. 10:24, 25). The motive by which Christians are urged to assemble together is the fact that the Lord is coming a second time. Doubtless there would be fewer people absenting themselves from the house of God and the worship of God if they seriously considered the truth that the Lord Jesus Christ might come upon the day of worship.

"Not forsaking the assembling of yourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another; and so much the more as ye see the day approaching—for yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry."

III. THE PROMISES OF THE BIBLE.

We do not say that the promises of God have nothing to do with the present. We do affirm that some of the greatest promises of the Word cannot be fulfilled apart from the second advent of the Son of God. Take the promise of victory over the devil. Our hearts sicken as we view the awful work of the evil one. Yet, thank God, we know that the devil is to be overthrown, destroyed. Let us read that first great promise of the Bible, recorded in Gen. 3:15.

"And I will put enmity between thee and the woman, and between thy seed and her seed. It shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel."

Here is a promise of the ultimate triumph of the Lord Jesus Christ over the devil and all his works (Rom. 16:20; Heb. 2:14; 1 John 3:8). The God of peace is to bruise Satan under our feet shortly. This will be at his second advent. Satan bruised the heel of Jesus Christ at the crucifixion; Christ is to crush the devil's head at his Second Coming.

Consider the beautiful promise that the whole creation shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption. The earth is now under a curse. The ban is soon to be lifted, thank God. When is the promise to be realized? The passage in Romans 8:17-25 with the references thereto make it plain that this is to be at the coming of our Lord.

"The creation is on the tiptoe of expectation waiting for the manifestation of the sons of God—the creation itself shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the liberty of the glory of the sons of God."

The promise of satisfaction looks forward to the second coming of Christ for its realization. This is not the day of perfect satisfaction. "He that loveth silver, shall not be satisfied with silver." "The eye is not satisfied with seeing, nor the ear with hearing" (Eccl. 1:8; 4:8; 5:10). There is a present satisfaction in Christ, but the time when every desire of the life will be completely satisfied is at the coming of the Lord. Read Psa. 91:16; 17:15.

"With long life (eternal life) will I satisfy him,—and show him my salvation."

"I shall be satisfied when I awake with thy likeness."

IV. THE DOCTRINES OF THE BIBLE.

The resurrection of the dead in Christ is distinctly referred to the time when "the Lord himself shall descend from heaven," when "the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible" (1 Thess. 4:16; 1 Cor. 15:52). Without the second coming of Christ there never will be a resurrection of the dead in Christ. Apart from the coming of Christ the resurrection is a meaningless doctrine. His coming is the key to the situation. 1 Cor. 15:22, 23.

"For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive."

"But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming."

The translation and transfiguration of the living is to take place when Christ shall come (1 Cor. 15:51, 52; 1 Thess. 4:15). Generally speaking we agree to the truth of the

(Continued on page 6)

THE OLD MAN.

Rev. C. V. Fairbairn.

"Put off the old man, . . . which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts; and be renewed in the (very) spirit of your mind; and put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness."
—Eph. 4:22-24.

BEHOLD I was shapen in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me." Thus spake David with reference to what Presbyterians call Original Sin; Methodists, Inbred Sin; some others, Inherited Depravity; Paul in Romans, "Sin that dwelleth in me," and in our text, "the Old Man which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts." Whatever it is called, it is an inward, sinful activity against God, which manifests itself as soon as we are born. Well sang Watts, the poet of Methodism,

"Lord, we are vile, conceived in sin,
And born unholy and unclean,
Sprung from the man whose guilty fall
Corrupts his race and taints us all.

"Soon as we draw our infant breath,
The seeds of sin grow up for death;
Thy law demands a perfect heart,
But we're defiled in every part."

This evil nature is there without our willing either for or against. Volition is in no way consulted or involved. It is there back of, independent of, and in spite of our will. It does not consist in wicked doings, but in promptings to evil. In the unsaved it has unrestrained and continuous dominion, reigning without and within. In the regenerated it remains, but does not reign. It is restrained, and if occasionally, though but for a moment, it does break loose, such indulgence deprives us of the smile of God and must be repented of.

We have this old nature, not because of our immediate parentage, but because we are federally related to Adam. Since all are so related, every one has this monster within, unless he has been purged of its defilement.

No one has ever seen the old man, but all have felt his stirrings. He does not affect every one alike. His manifestations are so numerous and diversified, that we have all, in one way or another, felt his motions within. While we do not come by his presence because of any moral, mental, or physical condition of our parents, nevertheless, in his manifestations he does take advantage of our natural, characteristic dispositions. He can act ugly and devilish, or sweetly, cleverly, and even religiously, if circumstances so demand. He stirs, obstructs, disputes and argues. He never wearies, is more rapid than thought, can in the wink of an eye slam a door, or kick a coal scuttle. The baby throws its spoon across the table with a howl; the old man breaks the cow's ribs with a milk-stool; the same spirit actuates both. The old nature is Satanic and in league with hell to frustrate the work of God.

Just as a man with a capital of several thousands can invest that and in a few years find it increased by thousands, so the soul may invest its inherited sin-capital in an evil course and later find itself in an awful state, with original depravity horribly aggravated by the wicked investment made. Mental depravity is increased by reading bad books, looking at bad pictures, and wilfully observing and meditating upon the lewd nudity of present-day, immodest fashions; physical depravity by the pursuit of wicked and unlawful habits, or by the over-indulgence of the legitimate; spiritual depravity by resisting the influences of the Holy Spirit and postponing the day of salvation. Birth-sin is thus increased; responsible sins are added; the monster gets a firmer grip. New habits are formed as sins against light are added; sin's power increases, and as sin's power over us increases, the capacity for sin increases. Thus, men and women, boys and girls, young and old, refusing grace, become increasingly depraved, sinking deeper and deeper into sin.

"But," says one, "if the will must act before sin-guilt can be imputed, and if the will is neither consulted nor involved with respect to inheriting the Adamic taint, how then is it sin?"

It is the root of all sins. Its fruit is sin. The Christian conscience condemns it. The regenerate heart deplores it. And every honest heart prays against it. It must be, then, in its nature sinful. It is the main-spring of all evil. It lies in the human heart ready to spring into action at the least provocation, and has in it the seed, germ, or possibility of every sin that has ever cursed the human race. Said Jesus, the most celebrated Doctor of Depravity, the only successful Heart-Sin Specialist, "For from within out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness: all these evil things come from within, and defile the man." Mark 7:21-23.

The secret power of the spray always lies back of the mouth in the fountain-head. So down there, in the heart-fountain-head, sin seethes, froths, works, boils, and bubbles, always eager and ready to break forth, like Old Faithful Geyser, and exhibit the intense corruption of the fountain by the vileness of its outflowing streams.

In regeneration, "our old man is crucified with Christ" and we lead a victorious life as we walk in the light. Tendencies to evil, however, are still felt within, stirrings which would lead God only knows where, were it not for restraining regenerating grace. Nor will the believer want for opportunity to indulge these evil tendencies, should he be inclined to "let down his guard." The devil will see to it, that real temptation, put forward in the most seductive form, affords ample opportunity for breaking away and giving evil proclivities full rein. Considering this and the fact that our own carnal heart "is deceitful above all things and desperately wicked," how ought we to watch unto prayer against the uprisings of evil tendencies, and how ought we to thank God for providing a full and sufficient remedy.

Realizing what a faithful ally he has in the old man, Satan does his best to keep man in ignorance of the identity and true character of sin, and of the wonderful panacea provided for its cure. By accepting false teaching, by shunning holiness gatherings, by watching sin's manifestations in others, such are some of the equally potent ways by means of which Satan endeavors to keep the soul in ignorance; and, if in ignorance, then unconfessed; and, if unconfessed, then in sin. Some dear souls are thus kept for years in unhappy possession of their old, troublesome, sinful nature, fighting, falling, confessing, crying, afraid to give up, and able to make but little progress in grace.

Some modern Pelagians profess the old nature no longer present since justification. A fifty-six inch saw, running at eight hundred revolutions per minute, bit into a log on the carriage and sliced off a good sized slab. The carriage reversed, came on again, the saw bit deeper. Suddenly, without warning, it smashed with a shriek and a howl into something imbedded in the log and shivered into a thousand pieces. Imbedded in that log was an old cannon ball which had lodged in the tree during the heavy cannonading days of the civil war. There was no indication on the outside that such an impediment lay within, but the second cut laid bare the secret. Friend Pelagian, you may flatter yourself and endeavor to deceive others by declaring there is no old Jonah in the hold of your vessel, but submit your case to the deep cutting gospel saw, the Word of God, and it will expose the hidden, unholy matter even in your heart. "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us." 1 John 1:8.

Since in inheriting depravity of nature volition is neither consulted nor involved, we are not to blame for its presence a bit more than we are to blame for having black or red hair, brown or blue eyes. And we remain irresponsible until light reveals the disease and the remedy. Infants, idiots, fools, etc., are all irresponsibles and their cases are, in great mercy, covered by the precious blood. Clearly justified persons, who, while walking in the light, die without receiving this light, are also irresponsibles. They are walking in all the light they have; they are not responsible for sin's inherited presence; they have not received light on the possibility of having it removed; yet "without holiness no man shall see the Lord." What then? The precious blood intervenes, as in the case of all irresponsibles; real "Dying Grace" is given; that precious soul "goes sweeping through the gates, washed in the blood of the Lamb." Glory to Jesus!

But, just as a consumptive, who refuses a cure, lingers on, spreading the dread contagion, and finally dies, can be regarded as a responsible menace to the public health and in the end a suicide, so the man, who, with light on inbred sin, its presence and cure, refuses the remedy, becomes responsible for its retention and culpable in all the havoc it may afterward work through him. O thank God! Thank God! there is a cure.

We cannot get rid of the old nature either by pardon or piece-meal a bit more than we can cure a tree of rotten heart by plucking off bad fruit and pruning out dead branches. God's treatment of the sin principle is expressed by the words wash, cleanse, purge, crucify, kill, destroy. (1) Let confession be made of its inward existence. (2) Let confession be made of its real character. (3) Let special prayer be made with faith for deliverance from it. (4) Walk thus in the light by obeying these scriptural admonitions and the cure will be God-wrought, immediate, and complete. The Spirit's message is as follows: with the verbs "forgive" and "cleanse" in the aorist tense (Greek), thereby signifying suddenness and completeness of action,— "If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son cleanseth us from all sin." 1 John 1:10, 9, 8, 7.

*****

Power From on High; What Is It? C. G. FINNEY.

*****

HE Apostles and brethren, on the day of Pentecost, received it. What did they exercise after that event?

They received a powerful baptism of the Holy Ghost, a vast increase of divine illumination. This baptism imparted a great diversity of gifts, that were used for the accomplishment of their work. It manifestly included the following things: The power of a holy, and self-sacrificing life. (The manifestation of these must have had great influence with those to whom they proclaimed the Gospel). The power of a cross-bearing life. The power of great meekness, which this baptism enabled them everywhere to exhibit. The power of a loving enthusiasm in proclaiming the Gospel. The power of teaching. The power of a loving and living faith. The gift of tongues. An increase of power to work miracles. The gift of inspiration, or the revelation of many truths before unrecognized by them. The power of moral courage to proclaim the Gospel, and do the bidding of Christ, whatever it cost them.

In their circumstances, all these endowments were essential to their success; but neither separately nor all together did they constitute that power from on high, which Christ promised, and which they manifestly received. That which they manifestly received as the supreme, crowning, and all-important means of success was the power to fasten SAVING IMPRESSIONS upon the minds of men. This last was doubtless the thing which they understood Christ to promise. All that I have named above were only means, which could never secure the end unless they were vitalized and made effectual by the power of God. The Apostles doubtless understood this, and, laying themselves and their all upon the altar, they besieged a Throne of Grace in the Spirit of entire consecration to their work.

They did, in fact, receive the gifts before mentioned; but supremely and principally, this power to savingly impress men. It was manifested right on the spot. They began to address the multitude; and, wonderful to tell, three thousand were converted the same hour. But observe, there was no new power manifested by them upon this occasion, save the gift of tongues. They wrought no miracle at that time. Let it be noted that they had not had time to exhibit any other gifts of the Spirit which have been above named. They had not at that time the advantage of exhibiting a holy life, or any of the powerful graces and gifts of the Spirit. What was said on that occasion as recorded in the Gospel, could not have made the impression that it did had it not been uttered by them with great power and authority, making a saving impression upon all the people. Now this power was not the power of inspiration, for they only declared certain facts of their own knowledge. It was not the power of human learning and culture, for they had but little. It was not the power of human eloquence, for there appears to have been but little of it. It was God speaking in and through them. It was a power from on high—God in them making a saving impression upon those to whom they spoke. This power to savingly impress abode with and upon them. It was, doubtless, the great and main thing promised by Christ, and received by the Apostles and primitive Christians. It has existed, to a greater or less extent, in the Church ever since. It is a mysterious fact often manifested in a most surprising manner. Sometimes a single sentence, a word, a gesture, or even a look will convey this power in an overcoming manner.

To the honor of God alone I will say a little of my own experience in this matter. I was powerfully converted on the morning of the 10th of October, 1821. In the evening of the same day I received an overwhelming baptism of the Holy Ghost, that went through me, as it seemed to me, body and soul. I immediately found myself endued with such power from on high that a few words dropped here and there to individuals were the means of their immediate conversion. My words seemed to fasten like barbed arrows in the souls of men. They cut like a sword. They broke the heart like a hammer. Multitudes can attest to this. Oftentimes a word dropped without my remembering it would fasten conviction, and often result in almost immediate conversion. Sometimes I would find myself, in a great measure, empty of this power. I would go and visit, and find that I made no saving impression. I would exhort and pray, with the same result. I would then set apart a day for private fasting and prayer, fearing that this power had departed from me, and would inquire anxiously after the reason of this apparent emptiness. After humbling myself, and crying out for help, the power would return upon me with all its freshness. This has been the experience of my life.

I could fill a volume with the history of my own experience and observation with respect to this power from on high. It is a fact of consciousness and of observation.

This power is a great marvel. I have many times seen people unable to endure the word. The most simple and ordinary statements would cut men off their seats like a sword, would take away their strength, and render them almost as helpless as dead men. Several times it has been true in my experience that I could not raise my voice, or say anything in prayer or exhortation, except in the mildest manner, without overcoming them. This power seems sometimes to pervade the atmosphere of the one who is highly charged with it. Many times great numbers of persons in a community will be clothed with this power when the very atmosphere of the whole place seems to be charged with the life of God. Strangers coming into it, and passing through the place, will be instantly smitten with conviction of sin and in many instances converted to Christ. When Christians humble themselves and consecrate their all afresh to Christ, and ask for this power, they will often receive such a baptism that they will be instrumental in converting more souls in one day than in all their lifetime before. While Christians remain humble enough to retain this power, the work of conversion will go on, till whole communities and regions are converted to Christ. The same is true of the ministry.

The "Ups" of Life's Decades.

By Andrew Johnson.

Rev. Andrew Johnson, General Evangelist of Wilmore, Ky., has the following unique and original way of characterizing life's long journey. He says: "There is an 'up' connected with each decade of one's life even if he lives to be one hundred years old. If one will follow the suggestions indicated by each 'up' in the series he will enjoy a long and useful career in this world and be able to hit the bull's eye of happiness on the target of life.

Watch then, the individual as he rounds out each particular period in the schedule. Here they are:

From 1-10, he comes up (to view).

From 10-20, he wakes up (to life's responsibilities).

From 20-30, he fills up (with valuable information).

From 30-40, he gathers up (acquires wealth, etc.).

From 40-50, he lays up (for rainy days).

From 50-60, he keeps up (life's activities).

From 60-70, he slows up (his pace).

From 70-80, he wraps up (with extra clothes—his blood is getting thin).

From 80-90, he gives up (his work is practically done).

From 90-100, he goes up (to his heavenly reward).

These are the ten "ups" of life.

Plenty of Motion but no Progress.

Mr. Spurgeon once said that some churches reminded him of a child's rocking horse—there was plenty of motion but no progress. The figure is certainly apt. A church goes through its motions, develops certain forms and degrees of activity, keeps its members more or less busy with various plans and schemes of work, and—gets nowhere in particular and makes no advance worth recording. Recall the reports frequently heard at associational and other annual gatherings. After twelve months of work the church has just about held its own with respect to its membership, its scale of missionary and benevolent contributions, its Sunday school enrollment and attendance. The story does not differ materially from year to year. As it was last year, it is this year, and bids fair to be next year, world without end, amen! It is surprising to note the complacency with which the church regards this condition of affairs; how contented it seems to be simply a defending garrison whose chief business is to keep the fort from being captured, rather than an invading army sent forth for the conquering of territories yet unwon to the King. —Watchman-Examiner.

Going Fast.

Our readers will recall that sometime ago we wrote of a wonderful New Testament we had in our book-store, which sold for the small sum of $1.00 each, postpaid. Our people realizing their opportunity have been ordering right along, and have seen the real value of this splendid Testament. We suggest that those who contemplate giving Christmas presents of good books, order a supply of these New Testaments and lay them away until Christmas morning, and really make some heart glad by this beautiful gift. You will get a $1.50 Testament for the price of $1.00, and it is a beauty, and serviceable as to binding. In ordering just say you want the $1.00 Testament and we shall know what you mean. After you have seen it, you will thank us for telling you about it.

Sincerely, yours to please,

MRS. H. C. MORRISON.

Shall Prohibition Go?

A startling new book by Rev. M. P. Hunt. Price 15c each, $1.50 per dozen.

THE LORD'S COMING THE KEY TO THE SCRIPTURES.

(Continued from page 3)

common saying, "One thing is certain, and that is death." Yet it would be more in keeping with the teaching of the Word to say, Nothing is more uncertain than death. It is absolutely sure that when Christ comes there is to be living upon earth a generation of believers who will never die but be changed and immortalized without passing through death.

"We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump."

"For this we say unto you by the Word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord—shall be caught up together with them (the risen dead) in the clouds."

Rewards are to be bestowed at the coming of our Lord. A truth that needs to be often repeated is this: We are saved by faith, but rewarded according to our works. Believers are saved without good works of any sort; but saved that they may do good works of every sort. Faith produces works. No loving service, no deed of kindness actuated by the indwelling Christ will go unrewarded. The one point that we want to note about the doctrine of rewards is that the rewards are to be bestowed at the coming of our Lord. Paul has not received his reward. Abraham has not received his reward. No ransomed soul has yet received his reward. Rewards are given by our Lord at his return. Matt. 16:27; Rev. 22:12.

"For the Son of man shall come in the glory of his Father with his angels; and then he shall reward every man according to his works."

"And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be."

V. THE EXHORTATIONS OF THE BIBLE.

Those who talk about the return of the Lord being an impracticable doctrine make a great mistake. The greatest exhortations of the New Testament hinge upon the second coming of Christ. This is the mighty fulcrum over which the apostles would move the world. For instance, the second coming of Christ is used as a motive to incite us to abide in Christ. There may be an "imitation of Christ" without a Christian life; the Christian abides in Christ as the branch abides in the vine. Let us read 1 John 2:28 and see by what motive we are urged to abide in Christ.

"And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming."

The great biblical incentive to holiness is the second coming of Christ. It is true that one may preach holiness of life without any reference to our Lord's coming, but to preach the doctrine as the Bible presents it is to preach it in connection with the doctrine of the imminent coming of Christ. His coming is set forth as the great incentive to a holy life (Titus 2:11-14; 2 Peter 3:11-14). We must be living holy lives in order to be ready to meet him at his coming.

"Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hastening unto the coming of the day of God?"

We are constantly exhorted to be diligent in service because the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. See Matt. 24:42-51; 25:14-40; 1 Thess. 2:19, 20; 2 Tim. 4:1-5; 1 Pet. 5:2-4. He is surely coming. Will he find us faithful in service? He is coming soon. Shall we be idle? Shall we not deny self and continue the work of seeking the lost and bringing them to the Christ who is mighty to save. The season of rescue will soon be o'er. It will be closed when he comes. Listen to his command:

"Occupy till I come."

Shall we not read the great teachings of the Word in the light of our Lord's return? Shall we not make proper use of this great doctrine which is the key to the Scriptures?

"Christ is coming in his glory,
Coming back to earth again;
He is coming in his power
As a King on earth to reign;
He is coming with his armies
Satan's cause to overthrow;
He is coming as a Bridegroom—
Christ is coming soon, I know."

A PILGRIM FATHER.

E. WAYNE STAHL.

Pilgrim Bunyan's immortal "Pilgrim's Progress" you will remember that when the two travelers to the Celestial City, Christian and Faithful, reach the town of Vanity Fair as they go on their journey, their coming there causes a great excitement in that metropolis of worldliness. One of the reasons was that they were not interested at all in anything sold at the Fair. "If they were asked to buy they would put their fingers in their ears and cry, 'Turn away mine eyes from beholding vanity,' and would look upward, signifying that their trade and traffic were in heaven."

FACTS FROM THE FIRING LINE.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge."—Hos. 4:6.

Prohibition has wrought miracles of moral, social and economic redemption, but thousands of dregs do not know it. Every pastor is urged to reprint the following Fact in the Church Calendar, or read it from the pulpit to offset the destructive wet propaganda which appears in many of the secular newspapers. A new Fact appears in this place in each issue.

"Prohibition is in the hearts and consciences and bank balances, the home comforts, the living facilities, the moral, educational and economic advantages of the American people, and in all of these it is forever planted."—U. S. Senator Morris Sheppard, quoted in The Clip Sheet, April 20, 1931.

I thought of this passage in Bunyan's book in connection with my father's recent going home to the City of God. He passed away on a Monday night. On the Sunday night previous one of the family sat up with him. His strength was so small that he could not talk, but he would sit up in the bed, and point upward. Oh, the precious memory of that finger signaling to the skies! It showed that my father felt that he was a pilgrim, that he realized that his "trade and traffic were in heaven."

To my mind comes the beautiful thing that was written of the Pilgrim Fathers. For a time they sojourned in a town of Holland, in the course of their wanderings. But for certain reasons they must regretfully leave that place. We read, "And so they left that goodly and pleasant city, which had been their dwelling place for twelve years. But they knew that such things were not for them. Wherefore they lifted their eyes to the heavens, their dearest country, and quieted their spirits."

Yes, I have a Pilgrim Father in my ancestry. He did not come over in the Mayflower, but he has gone in the good ship Zion to the heavenly port. His feet never stepped on Plymouth Rock, but today they have pressed the crystal piers of the Celestial Jerusalem.

Not many days before he sailed away into the sunset "out of sight and hearing" he motioned for his Bible, and said he was starting to read the book of Joshua again. To me it is full of lovely suggestion. Joshua was the leader who conducted the Hebrew pilgrims out of the weary wilderness into the Promised Land. And Jesus was my father's Joshua, leading him out of the fatigues and hardships of "this present evil world" into the heavenly Canaan. "There the light is golden, and the milk and honey flow." Often I have heard him sing in the dear, sweet days of the long ago,

"Fear not brethren, joyful stand,
On the borders of our land;
Jesus Christ our Father's Son
Bids us undismayed go on."

He has crossed the Jordan now; he is beyond the frontiers today; upon him shines the light of God in the Blissful Country. His pilgrim days are over; Jesus gives him rest forever. On earth he belonged to the Methodist itinerancy, having to say, "We have here no continuing city." But "he looked for a city that hath foundations," and God prepared for him a city. He reigns there immortally, in jubilant Jerusalem above. I shall meet him in the tearless morning.

There is for me a song in my sorrow (God "giveth songs in the night") and a soft, rainbow radiance seems to shine from the page of the Sacred Book as I read the words, "The Lord is my strength and song; and he is become my salvation; he is my God and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God and I will exalt him." (Ex. 15:2). My heart is tenderly singing,

"We are traveling home to God
In the way our fathers trod;
They are happy now, and we Soon their happiness shall see."

One of the Alarming Sins

of the age is the sin of covetousness. "Covetousness, Its Curse and Cure," by L. L. Pickett, is a booklet that will impel the reader to search his or her heart. Get it and read it. Price 15c per copy, or $1.20 per dozen, if you want to circulate some of them.

Faussett's Bible Cyclopedia

will give you valuable help in Bible study. Don't miss the opportunity to get a $3.00 volume for $1.00. A marvelous book at a marvelously low price. Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

If You Want Something

Convincing on the tithe, something that tells you what God says about it, send 10c and get a copy of "Will A Mar. Rob God." It is a splendid little book to hand out to members of your church who do not believe in tithing. We will send one dozen for $1.00.

Your Opportunity

to share in one of the most wonderful "hard-time" purchases it has been our privilege to make. The book is the "Beautiful Story of the Bible," in simple language, containing nearly three hundred stories from the Holy Book. It is a fascinating, inspiring and instructive historical narrative of the Old and New Testament times, including the lives of the prophets, of the rulers and the beautiful story of Jesus and his disciples. The book is designed as a course of instruction for the fifty-two weeks in the year, or for daily reading followed by a series of questions which simplify the stories and emphasize their important truths. Durable cloth binding.

There are about 200 illustrations in the book many of them full page in colors. There are 468 pages of double-column, intensely interesting reading matter, besides the fifty-two sets of questions. While we are writing this notice, a distinguished author and minister comes into our office, picks up the book and remarks that it is the finest child's story book that he knows of.

If you want to furnish your own child with one of the best Bible story books to be had, now is the time; if you want to furnish a relative or neighbor's child, now is the time; if you want one for your own use to help you in simplifying and teaching a spiritual Sunday school lesson, now is the time; if you are looking for something inexpensive, and something that will bless, in the way of a birthday or Christmas gift, now is the time.

When this remainder of the edition is exhausted, the book will not be reprinted. It was published to sell at $2.00, but the circumstances under which we bought these copies enable us to sell them out at $1.00 per copy, postpaid. Don't let this opportunity pass, but send The Pentecostal Publishing Company $1.00 worth of stamps, a money order, or currency right away, and get your copy.

---GLEANINGS FROM THE EVANGELISTIC FIELD---

REPORT OF BRO. PAK AND SISTER KIM, CHEMULPO, KOREA.

Brother Pak and Sister Kim are praising the Lord for the special revival meetings which they have had during the past month. The Spirit of the Lord was in their midst in wonder-working power. Three meetings were held every day; the early morning sunrise prayer meeting, the holiness meeting in the afternoon, and the evening evangelistic meeting. The sunrise prayer meetings were times when prayer was especially made for the blessing of the Lord upon every soul attending, and also that definite results would be seen in the salvation of souls. Their prayers were not in vain, and God came upon them in a wonderful way and answered. The Christians testified that the most precious service to them was the early morning prayer meeting. Brother Yi, from the Seoul Bible Training Institute, was the special speaker. He came not merely to preach, but to throw himself into the battle, and carried a real burden for the lost in that place. Brother Pak says the Christians were led into green pastures and beside still waters. It was a feast for hungry souls who came and were abundantly satisfied.

Brother Pak tells about one of the women who was sanctified and gives her testimony in full. She said, "I have been a Christian for a long time and have been taught about being filled with the Spirit. For some time I prayed for that blessing but I did not understand what it meant. When I listened to the testimonies of those who professed this blessing I doubted their experience and wondered in my heart if it was really true. During this week of special meetings as I listened to the messages I realized that I had been sinning in not believing the Word of God. I confessed my sin—the sin of unbelief—and prayed for the baptism with the Holy Spirit. As soon as I did this I received peace and joy in my heart. I cannot tell how, but I know the blessing came. A few days later my husband, who is not a Christian, became angry with me for a very trifling matter. I did not feel any movings in my heart any more, the anger and hate were gone. I knew that the work was done and that I had been cleansed of the carnal nature. Now there is a new heart created in me by the power of the Holy Spirit. Praise his Name!" Such testimonies are a great encouragement to the hearts of the workers.

The evangelistic meetings held in the evening were times of great blessing. They had a street march, played their musical instruments and marched through the streets singing gospel songs to draw the attention of the people. The Holy Spirit was present in all the services and real conviction was upon the hearts of the people. Many of them walked for long distances to attend the meetings. The church was inadequate to accommodate the crowds. The Lord touched their hearts and salvation was brought to them. Praise the Lord!

Brother Pak and Sister Kim tell us of a woman who was possessed of demons. It seemed that Satan had full possession of her. She used to place a straw hat on her head and go through the streets crying that the hat was her house. She lives in the Island of Kwang Wha and a woman from that place brought her to the special meetings. She was a very wicked woman, her condition being similar to that of Mary Magdalene out of whom Christ cast seven devils. The workers made her a very special matter of prayer, cast out the demons that had possession of her home in the island, burned all of her idols and opened a prayer meeting in her home. Praise the Lord! She has become a very earnest Christian, reads her Bible and prays, and is a light and testimony to all who know her.

The workers are praying about opening a church on that island. There are seven hundred homes there, and a real Macedonian call to come over and help them has been heard. When the people heard about the wonderful miracle of the deliverance of this woman they came to her home to see her and heard the gospel from her own lips. The heathen have been compelled to say that surely this is the true and living God. In the meantime before the regular church is started, the workers and some of the Christians have been boarding a boat which goes around the island, and have been preaching the gospel to the people. One of the workmen on the boat was led to the Lord, and he has been faithfully lifting up Christ to the passengers.

Continue to pray for these workers as they seek to make Christ known in that community.

The Oriental Missionary Society, Shanghai, China.

BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

Praise the Lord for his goodness. He has given me the privilege of preaching the gospel in several places since I last reported to the readers of this paper. And his love and kindness in these days of adversity and trouble make me to praise him heartily.

Just closed a good meeting at the Free Gospel Church of Brooklyn, of which Rev. Levi Franklin is the pastor. The church is in very cramped quarters and when the Christians get in there is little room for any sinners, but they are growing and expect to get larger quarters soon. A goodly number of the Christians were revived and some sought sanctification and found it, for which we thank the Lord. They are the best singers in that part of the city, I suppose, but I shall perhaps discover just as good in the near future. I heard them singing in the congregation and begged leave to confine my work to the preaching and left out my specials. They would have spoiled it I think.

I then had five nights in between Sundays at Jersey City, N. J., where Rev. W. MacPherson is the pastor. The convention was put on to act as a stimulant and a boost for this heroic people who are fighting a great battle in that wicked city. There were shouts and holy rejoicings in the meetings. On Thursday several pastors gathered in from various parts to assist in an all-day meeting, October 1. Rev. J. A. Ward preached in the forenoon and Rev. John Neilson, of Philadelphia, in the afternoon, and at night I sold books, sang a special, raised money on certain needs of the church, and preached with the blessing of the Lord. Both the above preachers were blessed in the delivery of the Word of God. Rev. Little, of Spring Valley, and Rev. Myers, of Peterson, N. J., and Rev. Riley, of Brooklyn, were used of God to bless the people in song and prayer and addresses on various themes. Had several men seeking God the last night.

I am starting in a three-weeks' four Sunday campaign in another church in Brooklyn, and expect victory in Jesus' name. Anyone wishing to correspond with me while in the east may address me at 3 Myrtle Ave., Dover, N. J., from which place mail will be quickly forwarded.

U. T. Hollenback.

A VISIT TO THE OLD HOME CAMP—MORRISON FARM.

While visiting recently in Glasgow, Ky., we took advantage of the opportunity to visit the Morrison Farm camp meeting grounds. Mr. James Watson, of Glasgow, ran us out in his car and showed us the splendid new tabernacle which was built for last summer's camp. While constructed in such a comparatively brief time it is a solid, substantial, commodious and convenient Tabernacle destined to be used during the coming years for the salvation of souls and the spread of scriptural holiness in this part of the state. The Tabernacle is located in a beautiful grove on a slanting hillside covered with all kinds of trees from the tall oak down to small dog-wood bushes. Nestling back in the edge of the forest is the little blue building designed by Dr. Morrison as the workers' cottage. It is cute, cosy and an ideal retreat for camp meeting evangelists.

On this venerable spot Dr. Morrison, years ago, plowed the cornfields as a bare-foot boy. It is no doubt a very sacred place to him. The old log cabin just across the road where he lived in childhood with his grandparents has been torn down. Tens of thousands all over the nation have listened with rapt attention as Dr. Morrison has described these sacred scenes and thrilling incidents of his boyhood days.

We were glad to see the New Tabernacle and to know that the camp has been resuscitated and will, from now on, be one of the great holiness rallying centers of the country. The readers of The Herald who live in reach of Glasgow should plan to attend the annual camp meeting on the Morrison farm and make it a great institution for the cause of free and full salvation. We solicit your prayers.

Andrew Johnson, Evangelist.

HOT SPRINGS, ARKANSAS.

We have had with us in two meetings in our city Rev. James V. Reid, of Ft. Worth, Texas, who had charge of the music and the work among the young people, and in addition did most of the preaching. The meetings were held in Grand Avenue and Pullman Heights Methodist churches. The results were not what we had hoped for, but great good was accomplished, the churches moved to a higher plane of Christian living. Bro. Reid is an untiring worker and always makes good. He will be followed by

J. H. Cummins, Pastor.

WANTED: AN OLD-TIME REVIVAL? THEN PRAY IN THE OLD-TIME WAY.

Yes, the devil is still alive; especially is this true where people are wanting and working for an old-time revival. The writer was engaged for two weeks at the Wesleyan Methodist Church in the beautiful little city of Forest City, N. C. On October 4th, came the close of one of the hardest fought battles we have ever been engaged in, but God came to our rescue, and a mighty break came on the last day. The faithful pastor, Rev. J. L. Bolen, stuck to the job, and could be heard walking the floor at one, two and three o'clock at night, praying for the meeting. The evangelist was encouraged to spend many hours in prayer, when he found a pastor who would stick to him.

A most precious mid-night prayer meeting was held on the last two Saturday nights, with blessed results. One of the leading members was sanctified just before the Sabbath came. The evangelist had preached on the subject of prayer for quite a few times, then sold thirty-one copies of his little booklet, "The Christian's Secret Place of Power," which stirred the Christians to more prayer. The last Sabbath of the revival was a precious time when ten adults came forward to the altar and were either saved or gloriously sanctified. The church has about decided to have at least two mid-night prayer meetings each month. We predict a spiritual church as a result. Old-time praying and believing will bring old-time results. Hallelujah!

At this writing we are at Wesley Chapel, four miles east of Greensboro, Ga., in a revival. The Holy Ghost is with us. Conviction is coming on the people, and we are believing for a landslide from the upper world. Just a few feet from the little chapel, lies the earthly remains of the author of "The Old Account," Rev. F. M. Graham. It was the happy privilege of the writer to be engaged in two revivals with our brother Graham in this church. Now he is walking the streets of gold, while we are here for the third time, preaching the gospel of holiness which carried him safely home. These words are to appear on his tombstone: "The reason I am in Heaven today, is because I, like Caleb and Joshua, wholly followed the Lord; do thou likewise, and come live with me." We love the way of holiness, and plan to die there. Amen.

M. R. Harvey.
Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.

REPORT.

We have recently brought to a close a revival that resulted in a glorious work of grace that we believe will be far-reaching in its results. The meeting was held in Pontiac, Mich., in a tent pitched near the Mission Church. A wonderful spirit pervaded the meeting from beginning to end, and at nearly every altar call seekers responded to the invitation. The Lord gave Sister Crammond unusual liberty in holding up the standard of holiness and declaring the whole counsel of God.

Confessions were made, tobacco given up, family altars established, tithers secured, sins forgiven and believers sanctified wholly. Praise the Lord! Rev. Lyman Hibner is the efficient pastor. We have an open date from Dec. 7 to 20, and also one the first of the year. Any pastor wishing to correspond with us relative to the open dates write us, 815 Allegan St., Lansing, Michigan. C. C. Crammond.

ONE HUNDRED AND THREE ACCESSIONS ON THE MANY-ZWOLLE CHARGE.

Two great revivals, resulting in one hundred and three people uniting with the Methodist Church at Many and Zwolle, La., closed on Sunday night, October 4th. A number united with the other churches of these cities. People came for miles, scores being turned away for lack of seating room under the tent. Both cities were stirred, and the country surrounding for miles around. People said, "We never saw it after this fashion." Whole families were converted and came into the church. All ages from six up to sixty were among those reached for God and the Church.

The pastor, Rev. James E. Selfe, led the music and Evangelist Harry S. Allen, of 3549 Haynie St., Dallas, Texas, did the preaching. The days of the old-time revival have not passed if people will meet the conditions. Thousands of the unsaved and unchurched may be reached if people will get in earnest about having such revivals and pay the price in heart-searching examination and whole-hearted consecration.

With Clay Milby leading the music we are in another campaign at Elizabeth, La., and ask the prayers of the readers of The Herald that God may give another great victory here as was experienced at Many and Zwolle. Harry S. Allen, General Evangelist, M. E. Church, South.

HIGH POINT, NORTH CAROLINA.

Rev. Charles Dunaway, famous Georgia evangelist, is opening a campaign in the Gospel Tabernacle at High Point, N. C., Oct. 28. A special invitation is extended to The Herald family in the surrounding cities to attend this meeting. Should any one desire information regarding location write to Rev. Thos. Willey, Box 876. The Tabernacle is being established as a center for Holiness conventions and campaigns on purely interdenominational grounds. We solicit the presence of our friends and brethren who are in sympathy with the spread of Scriptural Holiness in North Carolina. Thos. Willey.

NOTICE.

I will soon be out in the evangelistic field again. After the summer's work and the camp meeting campaign, I have rested from revival activity a few weeks owing to cancellations and postponements, but will begin a meeting at Vanceburg, Ky., about the first of November. Then conduct a meeting at Laytensville, Md. The last week in November I will be with Rev. E. R. Overley at the Trinity M. E. Church, Louisville, Ky. Then with Rev. T. W. Beeler for a week in the Taylor Street Methodist Church, South, Newport, Ky.

If there are those who desire my services in revival work for the new year, please write me at Wilmore, Ky. Andrew Johnson.

The First 10,000 Years in Hell.

With Introduction by Rev. H. C. Morrison, is a book of five stirring sermons, "Ten Thousand Years in Hell," "The Fate of an Unfaithful Shepherd," "A Pastor's Vision of a Lost Soul," and two others. This is a book that is calculated to make one stop and think, and there never was a time when it was more needed. 25c a copy, or $2.00 per dozen. Place a dozen or more where needed.

THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

Six Months in Advance .....$0.75
One Year in Advance ..... 1.50
Foreign Countries ..... 2.00

Subscription Discontinued When Time Is Out.

In ordering address changed give both Old and New address. Write all names plainly with pen and ink or typewriter.

Notify us promptly of any irregularities in receiving your paper.

For distribution, to secure new subscribers, sample copies will be sent free on application.

Remit by Registered Letter, New York Exchange, Express, or Post Office Money Order.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
523 South First St. Louisville, Ky.

OUR CONTRIBUTORS.

|                                   |                               |
|-----------------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Rev. Paul S. Rees.                | Rev. L. R. Akers, D.D., LL.D. |
| Rev. Percy F. Asher.              | Rev. O. G. Mingsdorf, D.D.    |
| Rev. W. S. Bowden.                | Rev. Geo. Whitefield Simon-   |
| Rev. T. C. Henderson.             | son, D.D.                     |
| Rev. A. H. M. Zahniser.           | Rev. Richard W. Lewis, D.D.   |
| Rev. I. M. Hargett, D.C.          | Rev. G. W. Ridout, D.D.       |
| Rev. Henry Ostrom, D.D.           | Rev. C. W. Ruth.              |
| Rev. C. F. Wimberly, D.D.         | Rev. Joseph H. Smith.         |
| Rev. Andrew Johnson, D.D.         | Rev. E. E. Shelhamer.         |
| Commissioner S. L. Brengle, D. D. |                               |

(Continued from page 1)

be unfortunate. No doubt the Bishop and his cabinet conscientiously undertook to do the very best they could for preachers and people, but this constant moving from place to place does not develop the preacher into the best, possible, neither does it develop the church. The preacher who is constantly moving cannot give himself to study as he should, neither can he lay plans for the development of his congregation and the upbuilding of his church, the salting and illuminating of the community in which he resides, with the truth, influence and power of the gospel, and of his own ministerial character.

I read somewhere not long since of a German Methodist Conference that made only four changes for the coming conference year. Those sturdy, practical Germans carry good commonsense into their religious life, and the machinery of their church. It is most unfortunate that one or two, or a little group of the membership of some church can have a preacher moved for the gratification of some whim or prejudice. It is worse still if a preacher of the gospel has not intelligence, piety, and patience to know how to adjust himself, bear with, love and win the respect and confidence of his people. There are some sinners in almost every congregation who have broken into the sheepfold of the Lord, and are set to do evil. Frequently the moving of one man necessitates the moving of several other men on the checkerboard of the Methodist Conference. We believe there ought to be a most definite effort at educating and training of preachers and people so that this constant moving about might disappear from our annual conferences.

At the close of the conference Brother Warner Davis, who was returned to the Methodist Church at Wilmore, took me in his automobile into the beautiful mountains of Kentucky. I went at the call of that remarkable missionary, Miss Lela G. McConnell, who has built up that wonderful school at Lawson, in Breathitt County, known as Mt. Carmel. She was opening up work at two other quarters and I preached and dedicated the new building for the church and school at Index, Ky. We had a fine audience of delightful people.

From there we went to Cannel City, a great mining center of a very superior coal, which can be lighted with a match. We were entertained in the delightful home of Dr. J.

D. Whitaker and wife. I preached in a community church in the evening to a fine congregation of as well behaved, attentive an audience as could be found anywhere. Cannel City has a fine public school; we met some of the teachers who, in their culture and refinement, would do credit to any school in the state. We would have been delighted to remain in Cannel City for a series of services. The following morning we hurried away to Vancleve, deep into the beautiful hills of Breathitt County. Here at Vancleve in the afternoon we dedicated a large school building presented to Miss McConnell and her group of workers by a friend who owns a beautiful home, a large store and quite a region of the surrounding mountains. Here, after an excellent dinner, we met a great audience which completely filled the large auditorium. We preached a sermon on full redemption in Christ, and never had better attention from any church than we had from these excellent people. Miss McConnell is opening up a Bible School in this place. I ask an interest in the prayers of all of our readers for the gracious evangelistic and educational work that is being carried on by Miss McConnell and her group of workers. At the close of this service Brother Davis and I hurried away over the splendid road winding through the mountain passes, out into the Bluegrass region and on to Lexington, where I caught a bus at dark and got to my home in Louisville about half past ten o'clock, the third night to pillow my head at home in many weeks.

The following Wednesday I commenced preaching at the daily afternoon services of the Kentucky conference of the M. E. Church, preaching five afternoons for this delightful body of devout and earnest ministers. At least thirty of the members of this conference are Asbury men; two clerical members elected as delegates to the General Conference which convenes next May, were former Asbury students. Bishop Blake presided over the body, a most affable presiding officer. He gave fine spiritual addresses at the opening of the morning services daily. The conference was held in dear old Trinity Church, of which Rev. E. R. Overly is pastor, one of the most devout and zealous preachers to be found in all the land. It was a high privilege to have been associated with these brethren. On Sabbath morning of this conference I preached for Rev. D. R. Peake, pastor of Oakland M. E. Church, South. He is an excellent brother doing a fine work. I do not know when I have preached to a more appreciative audience.

At the close of the conference I hastened to Wilmore and found hundreds of the finest young people in the nation flocking to Asbury from every quarter of the country. Notwithstanding the financial depression, they came pouring in by the hundred. It was a delight to meet the students of other years and a splendid body of freshman. I doubt if there ever came a finer group of young people to Asbury for their first year, than this year. I left Friday for Cincinnati, and Saturday morning went to Fort Thomas on the beautiful Highlands between the Ohio and Licking rivers, where you will find one of the most romantic and beautiful places in old Kentucky. I was called here by the Rev. W. B. Campbell, pastor of the M. E. Church, South, to assist in the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the organization of this congregation. It was a great occasion. The meetings had been going on for several evenings, a number of the former pastors speaking to large congregations. It fell to my lot to preach on Sabbath morning. The beautiful church was packed with people. Electrical arrangements were attached so the people in other rooms of the church could hear the preacher. It was a real pleasure to visit Fort Thomas and preach to this splendid audience. I was pastor of this church forty-five years ago. The sad feature of the visit was the fact that all of the elderly people of the congregation I knew, have passed away. I met only two women who were grown and members of the congregation when I was pastor. Quite a number of children of that long ago are now active members of this church.

This visit brought up a troupe of memories of the days of my young ministry, and the delightful association of this splendid people I knew and loved almost a half century ago, who have passed away. I have good reason to believe that I shall meet them in the Father's House on high. Dr. Campbell, the pastor, at one time president of Kentucky Wesleyan College, is one of the most pleasant Christian gentleman to be met anywhere, and is much beloved by his people. When I was pastor we worshipped in a small, neat frame building; they now have a beautiful stone church with large, well adapted Sunday school building. Fort Thomas is now a city of some eight or ten thousand, most of them engaged in business in Cincinnati. I was entertained in the home of the Putman Sisters, daughters of Thomas Putman and wife, at whose home I had my headquarters when these good women were little girls forty-nine years ago.

I returned to Wilmore Monday and began the fall revival in the great Hughes Auditorium at Asbury College Monday evening. At the close of the first sermon I called for penitents and a large number of young people came forward for prayers. Before the meeting opened several of the new students had been converted in a sort of prayer and testimony service. For ten days I preached at the Chapel service and each evening. I do not believe there was an evening service we did not have from fifteen to thirty at the altar, a number being converted, reclaimed or sanctified. Dr. Akers, the President, and a number of the faculty worked faithfully in the altar and in the audience. We had a gracious meeting, and would have been glad to have gone on a few days longer, but preaching in the large Hughes Auditorium after so many weeks of strenuous service, was a severe tax on my physical resources. This makes at least the fortieth revival I have held in Wilmore in some forty-nine years. I came to Wilmore and held the first revival in the little frame Methodist Church when there were only three families living, where the turnpike road crossed the Southern Railroad. There was a blacksmith shop, ticket office, a small store and three families. I have been holding revivals in Wilmore, the church, the camp meeting and the College from that time forward, I believe, at least, forty meetings in which I have been the principal preacher. In these meetings I am confident there have been four thousand people definitely blessed at the altars of prayer, quite a large number of them becoming ministers of the gospel, many of them missionaries, and a number have become schoolteachers. They are scattered about the world, and over many seas, and not a few of them have passed on to Paradise.

In this eventide I look back to the morning of my ministry when I first came to Wilmore. Many fond memories came trooping back to me. It was a delight to see Rev. J. W. Hughes, founder of Asbury College, who has recently been so near the crossing into glory, a number of times in the audience during our meeting. It is now eventide with me and I must tell you that I find it very delightful to be a busy old man in the vineyard of the Lord. I would be glad for an interest in your prayers for my soul and body. At the close of the meeting of the college, wife and I came with Mrs. Haskins and daughter 800 miles to Binghamton, N. Y., where I am preaching morning and evening at Boulevard Methodist Church, where Dr. W. S. Crandall, a most delightful Christian gentleman is pastor. At this writing I have preached three days and the altars have been filled with earnest seekers and some have been blessed. I go from here next week for a five days' meeting at Elmira, N. Y., with Rev. Ernest Otter, one of our very dear Asbury boys, then a five-days' Holiness Convention at Trinity Church in Louisville, and then away for Glide Memorial Church in San Francisco. Pray God to bless our ministry.

Your brother,
H. C. MORRISON.

The Methodist Holiness League.

HE names of many excellent people, preachers and lay, are coming into The Methodist Holiness League, for which we are profoundly grateful. What is the objective of this League? Plainly, a revival of religion, a deep, widespread revival for the conversion of sinners, reclamation of backsliders and the sanctification of believers.

It has been thoroughly demonstrated that a number of things in vogue will not lift the American people to a higher plane of moral and spiritual life. If the large number and rapid movements of automobiles could have done it, we would have been there now. If the puffing of cigarettes by male and female could make saints we would now be in the Millennium. If bare legs saved human souls our country would have become so saintly that we would have to send airships to Mars to import sinners in order to have conversions. If the false teaching of whimsical modernists in our summer schools for young preachers set them on fire for the salvation of the Lord, the nation would be wrapped in the flame of a mighty revival.

The modernists who are tearing the Bible to tatters, and ridiculing Methodist doctrine, experience and revival methods, can no more produce a revival of religion than a mixture of gasoline, cigarettes and bare legs. Serious men everywhere are telling us that the tremendous need of the time is a great spiritual quickening of reverence for God, respect for law, and a spirit of love and fraternity among men.

The preaching of the great fundamental doctrines of the Bible produced the revival led by John Wesley and his co-workers in the British Isles at a great crisis in English history which many thoughtful statesmen believe saved those islands from blood and fire equal to the French Revolution. The preaching of the very same Bible truths in the language of today, the vernacular of the people, will produce the same effects that were produced a century and a half ago. This is not hearsay. I know it to be true. I have seen it demonstrated in camp meetings, conferences and churches all over this nation, and around the world. God is ready to grant us a powerful spiritual awakening if we will meet the conditions. His word is a hammer that breaketh in pieces the powers of sin. His truth is a sword that pierces the hearts of men. What we need is faithful, earnest, impassioned men to preach the word. The people will hear, the Holy Spirit will apply the truth, and the salvation of the Lord will come upon the people.

I have just closed an eight days' meeting in Binghamton, N. Y., in Boulevard Methodist Church, beginning on Sabbath and closing on Sabbath. We have had wonderful congregations in a vast auditorium; the people have come from many denominations; not less than fifty ministers of the gospel have been present, first and last; the vast altar has been packed again and again with seekers, frequently the front pews being occupied. If I had the physical vigor of other days to continue for three or four weeks, there is every reason to believe that hundreds would be converted. Many have expressed this belief.

Let us get in earnest. Let a host of devout people in the two great sister Methodisms who believe the doctrines of the church, and who desire to see a great spiritual movement bringing multitudes to Christ, send in their names for membership. Let us fast and pray; fifty thousand of us ought to form the old Methodist habit of fasting on Friday morning and crying out to God for a mighty outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Pastors ought to visit and pray among their people, and not be satisfied with anything less than a widespread spiritual awakening. We ought to begin a protracted meeting to carry on until we see the power of God in the salvation of souls. Send your name and address to Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Box 592, Louisville, Ky., and they will be given to our secretary. We are planning for a great meeting in Louisville next spring, and for a very earnest and aggressive summer campaign for the salvation of souls. That God wills the salvation of the lost cannot be questioned; that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation is a demonstrated fact. Let us get together, pray, visit, preach and hold on until we see the glory and power of the Holy Spirit revealed in the salvation of souls. Jesus is with us in this effort.

Special Prayer Wanted.

We have just learned that Rev. W. P. Stone, beloved editor of The Pilgrim Holiness Advocate, is suffering from a stroke of paralysis. He is in the Methodist Hospital, Indianapolis, Ind. He is a devout, useful and much beloved brother. We ask THE HERALD family to pray that he may be graciously comforted in this time of affliction, and if in harmony with God's will, he may be spared many years for consecrated service.

Brother Seth C. Rees is in the hospital at Marshalltown, Iowa. He has been operated on for cataracts. Pray that he may be blessed and may continue to be a mighty preacher of the Word of God. H. C. MORRISON.

Playing at Life.

REV. A. S. HUNTER.

Jesus told the people of his day that they were just playing at life, sort of pretending, make-believe. He said that "this generation is like unto children." Not grown up and entering into the serious, worth-while matters; just idling, pretending! That being true then, how is it now?

Think of the multitudes who regularly go to the play-houses, the movies and the old-time theatres! It is estimated that a number of people equal to the entire population of the country attend the movies every few days; millions each day, including the holy Sabbath. There are millions of individuals who go regularly, if not every day or night, two or three or more times each week. What they see there is not only idle, make-believe stuff; it is mostly positively vicious, schooling the beholders in vice and crime!

The rage of theatricals, even in the churches and public schools, is another symptom. Precious hours and days, beside much money, are frittered in memorizing nonsense or worse, and practicing posing, etc. Very much of the posing is disgusting or degrading. The whole thing is sham and frivolity! Mind and soul and body are devoted to that sort of thing, as time bears them on to eternity, with its inevitable, changeless destiny, "according to the deeds done in the body!"

The voluptuous dance, the gambling social card games, and the various sorts of "sports" are other symptoms of the same. The dance inevitably makes light of marriage, in that it sanctions sex relations which are legitimate for only husband and wife. Brother and sister, husband and wife do not dance together. Some way, that is too tame, it lacks the "kick!" Millions of people are "fans" of baseball, foot ball(?), etc., spending money on them; and growing excited over them almost beyond control! ("Emotion" in things of the soul is awful!) Ball games and make-believe properly belong in the child life, but now they are a regular profession for many grown-ups (in body), and promoted by millions of others! When Jesus said we must "become as little children," he meant something else than that. "When I became a man, I put away childish things"; but it is true now, as in Jesus' time, that most people do not grow up (in soul and mind) and put away childish things.

The same holds good in the churches, otherwise it would not be so common everywhere. Here is a sample. The Sabbath morning sermon was based on the two builders—on the sand and the rock. "Building a life" was the topic. It was a thoughtful and thought-provoking discourse, more of the lecture type, than a gospel sermon. While well arranged and closely connected within itself, it lacked connection with people and things. It was related to only the church. At the close, the pastor invited those who would that day begin to build their lives, to come to the front during the singing of a hymn. Several small children responded. It was most evident that they had been coached for the occasion, and acted their assigned part. They were asked such questions as, "Do you love Jesus?" "Do you want to quit sin and live a good life?" Then they were given the right hand of fellowship in the church.

No matter what denomination of the church, it could have been in any denomination, in almost any Methodist congregation. Nothing in the sermon or in what followed, about repentance for sins, the forgiveness of sins, being born of the Spirit, and such essential things! The whole thing was just playing at the gospel! Those little ones were probably the most sincere of all concerned. They were doubtless honest as far as they comprehended what was involved. They did what they were told, the best they knew, followed their older leaders. But, the preacher and leaders in the church and Sabbath school were only playing at the most important thing in the world. That preacher scolds his people for their inconsistent lives. When those children are grown-ups, he may scold them in like manner. But he does not tell them how to become the right kind of Christians and church members! O, the pity of it all! "Like unto children!"

St. Francis of Assisi—The Little Poor Man.

The above is the title of a book by James O. Dobson. It gives the very fascinating story of this wonderfully saintly man. It is unusually interesting. It gives one a good insight into conditions in the twelfth century in the church and spiritual life in Europe. It is a spiritual tonic, and we commend the book to all classes of readers. It ought to be especially interesting to ministers. It is neatly bound in cloth, on good paper, clear type, easy reading, and contains 149 pages. Price $1.00. Can be had of The Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky., for 50c. The number of copies is limited. Write at once.

Believing that a Divinely-called, wholly-sanctified, well-equipped, Spirit-filled ministry is one of the greatest needs of our times, and for all time to come, I am glad to make a donation for the upbuilding of the Asbury Theological Seminary at Wilmore, Ky.

For this great work, I promise to give $..... per year for five years, first installment due September 1, 1931. I will join all who are helping in this good work in prayer for the blessing of the Lord to rest upon it.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

THREE CHAPTERS FROM MY LIFE STORY.

Mrs. Lee Aroll.

Chapter III.

My broken heart was long in healing after this last sad blow. I hated whisky and all intoxicating drinks. I pitied the drunkard and truly I sympathized with the drunkard's wife. How many times I said to myself I would never marry, for how could I trust another man after having been so cruelly deceived twice in my life. I hated so much to give up my beautiful home; but I was childless and felt that I could not live alone with servants; so I rented my home and went back to my widowed mother.

Time, the healer, once more healed my grief and occasionally I went into society. I had not gone into society three months until men were trying to claim my attention. But this time I was going to be very careful and never, never, look at them but with real indifference. Of course, as I had had two drinking husbands, the men who drank hard and openly did not enter into the contest for my hand, my heart, and my snug little fortune. Finally, there were only three men suiting for my heart; of course, these three hated whisky nearly as much as I did, and they never touched, tasted, or handled it. Finally, I made my choice of the one all of my friends thought I ought not to have considered.

Some people do not believe in fate, but looking at my life in all of its queer lights and strange phases, I believe a little in an inexorable fate that has its way with us poor mortals. Mr. McL. was a bachelor of thirty-six years. He was one of a family of eleven children and, of course, he was not in the least spoiled, nor had he ever been indulged or petted. His family were good, plain, hard-working people. He had no money and, of course, never would have; for when a man of thirty-eight years, who has always had good health, and the usual advantages, has no money saved up, barring an accident, he never will have. I ought to have known all of this, for I was no young, giddy girl; but I was in love with him and could not think about commonplace, everyday things like money. He was the most bashful man I ever saw. I don't think he had ever said a word of love to a girl in his life. He never really courted me, that is in words, but I think he wanted to court me. The more confused he became, and the less he talked, the calmer I became and the more I talked. So, notwithstanding all the drawbacks and disadvantages, we finally became engaged. I told him my sad experience with whisky and he seemed filled with deep sympathy for my past sufferings. He seemed to hate whisky nearly as much as I did. Of course, I did not make him pledge himself not to touch whisky, for he was a temperance man.

We were married, much against the wishes of my family and my friends, and for the first few years were very happy. Then my husband began to desire an office in which he had long been deputy. During his deputyship I had made discoveries that sickened my very soul. I discovered that my husband gave treats of whisky and beer to men, and that he drank with men, and also drank alone. I don't think I ever had a happy moment after making this discovery. I was always filled with a feeling of dread about the future. I begged and pleaded with my husband to give up this office and let whisky alone. But most men are determined and this man, though a good, kind husband, liked his own way. When I saw he was determined to run for this office I went to work and helped him to get it. He continued to drink but was never helplessly drunk during his term of office.

After his term of office expired I tried to get him interested in something, for a good deal of my money had gone to the winds and I felt like we must lay up something for our old age. For awhile he took some interest in our boarding house, then his old longing for office came back and, after several failures, he again held office. By this time he was a constant drinker. He drank until his brain was on fire, his hand unsteady, and his judgment impaired. I begged him to give the office up but he would not listen to me and kept on until he betrayed the trust given him. Never shall I forget the look on his face when he came home and told me he had disgraced me and his family and the mother that gave him life. I never saw a man so filled with remorse, so cast down, so utterly undone. I told him I forgave him freely, and loved him with all my heart, and that we would yet be happy if he would quit drinking. He passed a miserable, restless night. I did everything and said everything I could to cheer him but he seemed utterly heartbroken. He left the house the next morning without eating a bite of breakfast. When he kissed me good-by he threw his arms around me and, crying bitterly, told me how dearly he loved me and what a good, patient, true wife I had been to him. After reaching the front door he came back into our room and kissed me again and again. Oh! why did I let him leave me? Why did not some good angel warn me of what might happen? In less than two hours after he left me a messenger came to tell me he had taken his life in the most horrible way. Before they were through telling the horrible news they were at the door with his lifeless body.

I have told you the sad but true story of my life. I am dying, they say, of heart trouble, and I believe it and I have long known that my heart was broken and my spirits crushed. My life has been a sad tragedy and all because of the accursed evil that has destroyed more men, filled more graves, broken the hearts of more women, slaved and made homeless more children, than war or pestilence. I know that my days are numbered and that, very soon, my humiliated, tired, broken heart shall be at rest. But if the telling of my sad story will cause one woman to give up a man that touches, or tastes, or handles this deadly poison, I shall feel that it has accomplished its mission.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I have been a reader of The Herald for many years. Hope you will give me just a wee bit of space to say Hello to you all. I love to read the entire Herald, especially page ten. So wonderful to hear of so many young folks living Christians. May God bless you and keep you in Jesus' name. Our troubles in this world are not much in comparison with the glory of heaven for all who live right and reach the heavenly home where all is peace and love. I am pretty sure all who read this letter have some dear one—mother, father, sister, brother, or some dear friend just gone to heaven—whom you would love to meet. Are you ready for the Judgment, if the Lord should come? I ask you in Jesus' name. Be ready for that great day. I have been an invalid since 1916. Glad to tell you I am not a shut-in from God. I am a member of the M. E. Church. My health is failing me fast; my age is past the half century mark. We live on a farm in the land of big red apples. Have fine fruit crop. I am bedfast, seldom sit up. I lie on bed and write and read for pastime. Winters are long, but I bear my cross with a smile. I'll answer all letters who send stamped envelopes.

Your shut-in Sister,

Mrs. J. A. Krone.
Lanes Prairie, Mo.

Dear Aunt Bettie: How about a surprise from a little girl in Ohio? Daddy takes The Pentecostal Herald and I always enjoy reading page ten. Reading is a great delight to me, so some of you cousins write to me and I will answer. I am twelve years old and live on a farm. I spent my vacation with friends at Reily, Ohio. I am in the fifth grade. I have one brother and two sisters. I attend church and Sunday school at the Methodist Church at St. Charles, O. It is a little country church. I am a member of this church. Our pastor is Rev. Forrest Brown and we like him very well. He is going to conference next week and we are trusting that he will be returned to our church. My Sunday school teacher is Miss Dorothy Shupp. I am glad so many of you cousins like to go to Sunday school and church. We also have our regular prayer meeting every Thursday night. Josephine Dunn, I guess your first name to be Sarah. Clara Riggs, I guess your middle name to be Ruth. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with M and ends with E, and has five letters in it. My birthday is March 5. Have I a twin? This is my first letter to The Herald and I want to see it in print to surprise mother and daddy.

Sylvia M. Bossert.
Rt. 2, Shandon, Ohio.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Would you let an Alabama boy join your happy band of boys and girls? I do not take The Herald but my aunt does, and I enjoy reading page ten. I go to Sunday school every Sunday to the Methodist Church. I hope Mr. W. B. will be sweeping so he will not get this letter. This is my first letter and I hope to see it in print. Can you guess my middle name? It begins with R and ends with H, and has five letters in it. I am fourteen years old, have brown hair and blue eyes.

Clarence R. Thrasher.
Dutton, Ala.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Please move over and let me into your happy band of boys and girls. There are more letters than there used to be, but let's beat all the other states, Georgia. I thought I would write before but somehow I didn't. I was thirteen Sept. 13, and am large for my age. Have I a twin? I was saved July 28, and am a member of Cedar Rock, C. M. Church. Our pastor is Mr. Black, and I like him fine. His daughter and I are good pals. We live much nearer to a Baptist Church so we go there every Sunday but one. Mama is my teacher. Daddy teaches another class and is also president of the B. Y. P. U. I like The Herald very much, especially page ten; also the continued stories and wish there were more. I like to read very much and most of my books come from The Pentecostal Publishing Co. As this is my first letter I would like to surprise daddy.

Emma Rose Bond.
Rt. 2, Locust Grove, Ga.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Some time has elapsed since I last joined the Boys and Girls' Circle. Was wondering if I could come in again for a few minutes. Well, I still attend the Nazarene Church in Beverly, Mass., and salvation still holds good. Praise the Lord. We are planning on revival meetings soon. Trust many souls will come to the Lord. Since I last wrote my father and I have started a mission called Hope Mission, in Danvers. The Lord has blessed us there and souls have come to the Lord. One little girl especially has given up movies while those around her continue to go. God's way is the best and only way. I am twenty-four years old, height about five feet, three inches, weight 91 pounds, brown hair and brown eyes. Would be glad to hear from any of the cousins who care to correspond.

Hope Trefry.
10 Lyman St., Beverly, Mass.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you admit a girl from Mobile to join your happy group of Christians? I was saved last Easter. Ruth Townsend, I guess your first name to be Hanna. Ethel Todd, your middle name is Mae. Remember your promises. Guess my first name. It begins with R and ends with H, and has four letters in it. Have a headache so I will close.

R. Cauthon McLeod.
308 N. Lafayette St., Mobile, Ala.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you allow a little Virginia girl to join your happy band of boys and girls? This is my first letter to The Herald. I hope to see it printed. I am thirteen years old. I go to school. I am in the seventh grade and am very much interested in school work. I belong to

Gospel Tents

Smith Manufacturing Company
DALTON, GA.
34 Years in Business

That Unpublished Book of Yours

We make a specialty of publishing books, pamphlets, and sermons. We guarantee good work at reasonable prices. We will advise how to put your book on the market profitably.

Write Us About It.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY.

My Hospital Experience

Dr. H. C. Morrison says of "My Hospital Experience" by Bud Robinson:

"It will stir your heart, strengthen your faith; it makes the Lord Jesus more real and blessed. It is one of the most interesting and thrilling things that most unique and interesting character, Bud Robinson, has ever given to the public."

Price, Postpaid, 15c. 7 for $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY
Louisville, Kentucky.

the Church of God. I am glad so many of the boys and girls are Christians. I think it is wonderful to be a child of God. I became a Christian this year. I would love to hear from some of The Herald readers and will try to answer all letters I can. I hope Mr. W. B. is taking a walk when this arrives. Gladys Hamlett.
Rt. 1, Box 18, Sycamore, Va.

Dear Aunt Bettie: I hope to be admitted to page ten again. I've had two letters printed on page ten and received some good letters from others. I enjoyed them all and tried to answer all. The Herald is a great paper. I sure like to read it as it has so many good sermons in it. Reading is one of my greatest pleasures as I'm a shut-in and cannot go to church so The Herald means a lot to me. I hope Dr. Morrison lives many years to be the editor. Some one is sending me The Herald and I thank them so much for it. I get lonely at times so will be glad to have all write me who read this letter. I will answer all that send a stamp. I will be forty-three years old Dec. 31st if I live until then. I have to sit in a wheel chair or lie in bed all the time. Remember me as your friend, and may God bless you all. A shut-in.

Owen J. Pickens.
Waterloo, Ala.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you please let an Ohio girl join your happy band? As this is my first letter I hope to see it in print. Mother takes The Herald and I enjoy reading page ten. I am twelve years old. My birthday is Nov. 14. I have light brown curly hair, brown eyes, fair complexion. Irene Jones, I guess your middle name to be Bertha. If I am right please remember your promise. Who can guess my middle name? It begins with G and ends with E, and has five letters in it. I will answer all letters received. Cousins, please do write me for I love pen friends.

Hazel G. Snure.
Rt. 5, Wooster, Ohio.

Dear Aunt Bettie: Will you let a crippled girl from Georgia join your band? I have been getting The Herald for sometime, but this is my first attempt to write, so I hope this letter will be printed, because I want every Christian that reads The Herald to pray for me that I might be made strong again. I am a Baptist but there are good people in every church. Elizabeth Chamberlin, I guess your first name to be Violet. Lucy R. Timmons, I guess your middle name to be Ruth, and I guess your sister's middle name to be Lois. I have black hair and dark brown eyes, medium complexion, am five feet, three inches tall and weigh 107 pounds. I would appreciate letters from cousins, both young and old, for I am awful lonesome.

Ozell Hudson.
Rt. 2, Alpharetta, Ga.

STOP! READ! ACT!

DO YOU KNOW that there are many people right in your own community who do not know that there is such a paper as THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD, who would be glad to know of it?

DO YOU KNOW that THE HERALD is a weekly blessing to thousands of our less fortunate brothers and sisters who are unable to get out to church on Sunday?

DO YOU KNOW that nearly every week THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD carries a holiness sermon to many people who never hear one preached from a pulpit?

DO YOU KNOW that there is not a better, more wholesome sixteen pages of holiness reading matter, for the whole family, than in THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD?

DO YOU KNOW that if you, as one of the present great family of readers will send THE HERALD into four new homes its influence will be increased fourfold?

DO YOU KNOW that it is your great privilege to join with us in the attempt we are making to preach scriptural holiness to all men everywhere?

DO YOU KNOW that you can send THE PENTECOSTAL HERALD to some friend for the next three months for 25c, four friends for $1.00, or eight friends for $2.00?

Pentecostal Publishing Co.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Gentlemen:

I am enclosing herewith $. . . . . Please send The Pentecostal Herald for three months, to Name . . . . . Address . . . . .

Address . . . . . Name . . . . .

TO PROFESSING CHRISTIANS.

Do you use tobacco? It is a bad habit; unholly, unclean, expensive, injurious. It pollutes the breath, injures the nerves, benumbs the brain, and sometimes causes cancer of the mouth or throat.

In view of these facts, can a man, who claims to be a Christian, be consistent with his profession, and use it? "What?" saith the Scripture, "know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore, GLORIFY GOD IN YOUR BODY, and in your spirit, which are God's." (1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

Can a man glorify God in his body, with his mouth full of tobacco, spitting out the filthy stuff for somebody else to clean up? Read God's command: "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do ALL to the glory of God." (1 Cor. 10:31).

Can a man go around with a cigar or cigarette in his mouth, compelling those about him to take into their lungs what he has had in his mouth, and at the same time glorify God?

We are exhorted in the Scriptures to "cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." (2 Cor. 7:1).

Remember, God says, "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." (Gal. 6:7). No matter who does the sowing, this will prove true. The man who sows the habit of using tobacco is certain to reap the harvest. God cannot lie. "He that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption." (Gal. 6:8).

Many have been hurried to their graves, and great numbers are in the insane asylums today, from the effects of this poisonous weed.

He, who is addicted to the use of tobacco, is not free; but "if the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed." (John 8:36). Hence, do not try to overcome the practice in your own strength, but seek the help of him who is "MIGHTY to save."

Brother, if you are indulging in this awful habit, quit it for Jesus' sake, for the sake of others, and for your own sake, and "let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 5:16).—Selected.

Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us. Heb. 12:1.

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service. Rom. 12:1.

If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new. 2 Cor. 5:17.

Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God. Matt. 5:8.

ANOTHER MISREPRESENTATION.

So many letters have been received at the headquarters of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union asking information about recent newspaper statements charging that Frances Willard, founder of the World's W. C. T. U., was caught smoking a cigaret in her student days, that we have decided to make the following statement which W. C. T. U. women can use in any manner:

"The first newspaper article containing this statement was in the Chicago Daily News, alleging that Miss Van Evra, one of the editors of the Daily Northwestern, student publication of Northwestern University, had said that college records prove that Frances Willard while a student at Northwestern, was caught smoking. This was scattered throughout the country, and has been published in many papers.

"Miss Van Evra denies having made any such statement to any reporter, and never heard of any such incident. The college authorities say there is no such record. The Daily Northwestern publishes a letter from a Chicago man saying that when Frances Willard was dean of the women's college at Northwestern, his father, a carpenter, left a lighted cigaret on Miss Willard's desk, as a practical joke.

"From this a huge newspaper fake has grown causing indignation on the part of thousands of women who revere Miss Willard's memory and who resent this baseless accusation."

REQUESTS FOR PRAYER.

C. M.: "I request that you pray for me, a man halting between two opinions, whether I should preach the gospel, or farm. Pray that I might know if it is right to sell my farm or keep it. Pray that it will be revealed to me about this matter."

A Lost Soul: "Please pray earnestly for a soul that has been in the doubts for several years; have prayed through many times then doubted in spite of myself. Pray that the Lord will not let me doubt. I am lost if some one doesn't get a hold of God for me."

Mrs. J. S. G.: "Please pray for my sister, both soul and body. For her children, especially her oldest boy, that he may get the right work."

A. J.: "Pray for the salvation of Mr. and Mrs. Dyke. Pray that God will send deep conviction on them, and deep repentance and godly sorrow and a definite experience of salvation."

FROM THE MOUNT OF OLIVES Polished and Carved OLIVE WOOD COVERS Holman Gift Editions

BIBLE

TESTAMENT

The covers of these books were cut from Olive Wood trees grown in the Holy Land, and were carved and polished by Oriental craftsmen in Jerusalem.

Size 4 3/4 x 3 1/4 inches

Size 6 1/2 x 4 1/2 inches

Bold Black Gem true, self-pronouncing, with the Words of Jesus printed in red, illustrated with colored illustrations of scenes in the Holy Lands and showing the country and places where the Olive Wood trees are grown.
No. 4200 O. W. NEW TESTAMENT with polished Olive Wood covers, flexible morocco rounded back colored to match the covers, round corners, red under gold edges . . . . . 2.00

No. 5800 O. W. BIBLE bound same as above and containing in addition to the Old and New Testaments Helps to Bible Study including a Complete History of the Bible, Synopsis of Each Book of the Bible (very interesting). Two Catechisms on Bible subjects, including the Life of Christ, Golden Text Treasury of Noble Scriptural Verses, History of the Life of the Apostle Paul, and also Four Thousand Questions and Answers on the Bible . . . . . 3.75

PE7NTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.
Louisville, Ky.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

REV. O. G. MINGLEDORFF, D. D.

Lesson VII.—November 15, 1931.

Subject.—Paul in Jerusalem. Acts 21:27-39.

Golden Text.—Thou shalt be his witness unto all men, of what thou hast seen and heard. Acts 22:15.

Time.—A. D. 58.

Places.—Cæsarea and Jerusalem.

Introduction.—Today we study Paul just at the close of his third missionary journey. He seems to have had some premonition of coming trouble. As he was returning to Jerusalem he told some of the Ephesian brethren that they would never see his face again. Some of those who were accompanying him also had forebodings of danger. When he landed at Tyre they warned him not to go to Jerusalem, if he wished to spare his life. After tarrying in Tyre seven days, there came a solemn parting. The company of Christians followed Paul and his company out to the seashore where they knelt down for a season of prayer. The missionaries passed through Ptolemais where one day was spent with the brethren of that place; thence on to Cæsarea for a stay at the home of Philip, the evangelist, who was one of the seven deacons appointed by the apostles to look after certain charities in the earlier days of the church. It is interesting to note that this "man had four daughters, virgins, which did prophesy;" that is, they were preachers of the Word in their day. Maybe it is scriptural for women to preach whenever God calls them to that office. At Cæsarea certain of the brethren made strenuous effort to change Paul's mind about going up to Jerusalem; but he replied: "What mean ye to weep and to break my heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also die at Jerusalem for the name of the Lord Jesus." Seeing that their pleading availed nothing, they said: "The will of the Lord be done." So they took up their "carriages," baggage, and went up to the city to face the consequences.

Luke says: "When we were come to Jerusalem, the brethren received us gladly." But there was trouble ahead. Paul made a report of his work; and the brethren who were leaders in the Mother church rejoiced greatly, and glorified God for the gracious work done among the Jews in foreign parts, and among the Gentiles in those regions; but there came a warning: "Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all zealous of the law." A storm was already brewing. Some twisted statements had come that Paul was repudiating the teachings of Moses; whereas he had done nothing, except what the elders at Jerusalem had told him to do. But some one had started a false report; and the Judaizing Christians believed it to be the truth. James who was at the head of the Jerusalem church, along with other leaders, requested Paul as a matter of safety to join in with certain Jewish brethren who had made a vow, and to do exactly what the law said must be done in such cases. He obeyed orders to the letter; but the mob was not satisfied. The text of our lesson begins with the bursting of this storm.

Comments on the Lesson.

27. When the seven days were almost ended.—The last seven days of the time set for keeping a vow were considered very sacred. It is said that those keeping such a vow would sometimes remain in the temple nearly all of this sacred period, lest in some way they might be defiled. The Jews which were of Asia.—Some who lived in Asia Minor, and had seen Paul when he was evangelizing there, were now at Jerusalem, possibly for worship at the temple. These raised a row "when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and laid hands on him." The storm was on.

28. Men of Israel, help.—That cry raised a mob with all its lying fury. Then came the false accusation: "This is the man, that teacheth all men everywhere against the people (the Jews), and the law, and this place." But Paul had done no such thing; but a mob will believe anything uttered by its leaders. Then they capped the climax with a still more infamous lie: "And further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place." That produced mob psychology. The 29th verse explains this. It was only a supposition, to say the least of it.

30. All the city was moved, and the people ran together.—You must use your imagination here, and picture for yourself this frenzied mob. Of course, the unbelieving Jews were in it full force; but one cannot avoid the conclusion that many professed believers in Jesus Christ joined them. They were as zealous for the law as the unbelievers, and were doubtless drawn into the strife. They took Paul, and drew him out of the temple.—Order and decency had forsaken the temple and the people. I am at a loss for a word to describe the scene as it appears to the imagination. Maybe one may be permitted to call it a shameful, blood-thirsty, one-sided scrimmage. As soon as they had Paul outside the temple they slammed the doors shut. People have strange notions about sacred things. No wonder the world laughs. I once knew a strict Jew who would not strike a match on Saturday to light his pipe, but hire a colored boy to do that for him. He was very religious; but it was said that he would sell a suit of shoddy goods for the real stuff. That mob was crying for blood in its zeal for the house of God. Why could it not realize that such behavior was defiling the temple a thousand times more than all that they were accusing Paul of doing? Blind! Thrice blind!

31. As they went about to kill him.—O they must taste his blood—nothing less will satisfy a howling mob. Tidings came unto the chief captain.—He was commander of the garrison of Roman soldiers quartered at Jerusalem to preserve order; for Palestine was under Roman rule. News of the uproar at the nearby temple reached this officer almost immediately after it began.

32. Ran down unto them.—There was no time to lose. Not that he cared so much for the life of one Jew; but, if that mob got a good start, it might be difficult to control it. Wherefore the chief captain rushed with soldiers and centurions. And when the mob saw the soldiers coming, "they left beating of Paul." That quick Roman move was a blessing to all men.

33. Commanded him to be bound with two chains. Too hasty. It would have been far better for the captain had he made inquiry as to who Paul was and what he had done before putting the chains on him; for had that un-Roman act been reported to Cæsar the little captain might have found himself in no little trouble for an explanation.

34. Some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude.—It was a mad, crazy gang with too little sense to know its own mind. No wonder the captain could learn nothing from such a hubbub. Paul's only safety was in the Roman castle. Such places are not always bad shelter from a raging multitude bent on blood.

35. Borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.—Although in the hands of the Roman soldiers the mob was pressing to lay hands upon Paul. They were even rushing up the stairs after him.

36. Away with him.—That is, kill him. Nothing else would, or could, appease their wrath.

37. Canst thou speak Greek.—The captain is coming to his sense at last. He had jumped to a conclusion; and now it dawns upon him that, maybe, he has made a mistake.

38. That Egyptian.—But the captain was seriously mistaken. Such an Egyptian had arisen; and the Roman officer concluded without taking time to investigate, that this outlaw, with his band of four thousand murderers was in the city. Had that been true, there would have been danger sure enough. The captain was not too cautious, but too severe in the treatment of his prisoner before learning who he was. But we cannot measure heathen men by civilized laws or customs. That officer held a critical post, and therefore needed to be cautious in dealing with the Jews. A little fire might start a conflagration.

39. I am a Jew.—Paul gave a plain, simple account of himself, and requested the privilege of speaking to the people. That was granted; and he gave them, in honest detail, his experience in becoming a follower of the Lord Jesus Christ. His speech caused a split between the Sadducees and the Pharisees; and when they were about to pull the apostle to pieces, the captain had him brought into the castle for safety.

I wonder why Paul did not make known the fact of his Roman citizenship sooner. At a later hour when the captain commanded that he be bound and scourged, Paul stopped the proceedings by asking one question: "Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?" It was time to stop, for there was danger ahead.

NOTICE.

To whom this may concern:—

I am personally acquainted with Rev. J. Russell Corron, both as a preacher, and as a man, he having preached in my church a number of times during my evangelistic services. He is a splendid speaker, a clear, powerful preacher, preaching the whole gospel without fear or favor. As a pastor in this community, he was highly esteemed, and very successful. As a man, I have always found him to be very conscientious, square, upright, honorable, in fact, a gentleman in every sense. It is a pleasure to me to give this testimony.

Edw. B. Dunn, Ph.D.

Pastor of Trinity Evangelical Church, Berkeley Springs, W. Va.

Bible Readings for Christian Workers

BASIL W. MILLER

Has 128 Biblical subjects and each subject is divided into quite a number of sub-heads, with a scripture reference after each one, explaining it. It is one of the most unique and most helpful books of the kind on the market. It has been examined by a large number of people and they are all enthusiastic in their praise of it. Very helpful in the way of Bible study, and especially good for appropriate topics for most any kind of religious address.

Cloth bound. Price, $1.00.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Four Thousand Questions and Answers

ON THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT

Size, 8 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches.

The plan of this "Aid to Bible Study" is universally accepted as most effective. It invites to inquiry and encourages to answer. It opens up Scripture in all its phases to teacher and reader, and proves an unequalled source of mental and spiritual light.

As a means to an end it is direct and strong. In pulpit, class-room or home, who asks, is given power to question briefly and distinctly; who answers, is provided with intelligent and satisfactory expression. The real educative and comforting force of the method needs but a trial to be convincing. In every devout life, in every Teacher's career, how many hundreds of questions arise as to Bible History, rules of conduct, meanings of text, or matters of faith? Here this "Aid" becomes a ready Directory, a satisfactory Evangel, an invitation and inspiration.

No. 101. Cloth Binding, Stained Edges, Gold Titles. (Former price, $1.00), reprint price now 55c.

FUND

Contributions are invited to send The Pentecostal Herald free to missionaries, young preachers, jails, hospitals, barber shops. Many requests reach our office. Any sum, small or large, will be welcome.

Contribution.

|                              |      |
|------------------------------|------|
| No. 5. Missionary Fund ..... | 1.00 |
| No. 6. Missionary Fund ..... | 1.50 |
| No. 7. Preacher Fund .....   | .50  |
| No. 8. Preacher Fund .....   | 1.50 |

Preparing To Preach

By David R. Breed, M.A., D.D.

The young minister could not ask for safer or more enlightening tutelage than he will find in this inspiring volume from the trenchant pen of Dr. David Riddle Breed. Nor could the experienced minister find a better bellows to keep alive the flame of his interest in the work to which he has consecrated his life. Preaching, to Dr. Breed, is one long period of unceasing preparation. It is a romance which never grows old.

Dr. Breed suitably lays chief emphasis upon the basic spiritual duties of the minister; yet he devotes his attention also to an innumerable host of practical details which plays so large a part in determining the success or failure of a preacher. The great bulk of his book is of course given over to the various kinds of sermons, suggesting the advantages of expository sermons, the special features of the evangelistic sermon, the importance of the doctrinal sermon as the culmination and crown of all sermonizing, the skill required for constructing sermons in courses. There are rules and material for the illustrated sermon. 455 pages. Original price, $3.00. Our special price $1.00.

WANTED!

Representatives in every community to do Christian work in placing good, wholesome religious literature in the homes of the people. Write us for our proposition.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

The camp meeting of the Evangelistic Holiness Association, Inc., will be held Nov. 19 to 29, in the City Auditorium of Sanford, Fla., the town so famous for its production of celery and other important items so needful to humanity.

If you come by automobile, you can come to Jacksonville, Fla., and then straight down the Ocean Drive Boulevard to Daytona Beach, thence to De Land and down to Sanford, over State Road No. 3. If you come in through Lake City, you can come on down Dixie Highway over State Road No. 2, to Ocala and thence across to De Land. Fine roads and well marked all the way.

Comfortable rooms will run 50c per night up and meals from 25c per meal up. Boarding houses and restaurants and lunch rooms all close by and the place of meeting will be right down town in the City Auditorium. Space for tents and parking cars will be arranged for and every convenience and co-operation, possible within our means will be provided for those that come.

Importunate prayer is urged by the Board of Trustees for these services by all who love the coming of the Lord and feel the need of his manifest power in these days. The salvation and sanctification of perhaps thousands depends on the outcome of this meeting, affecting the ongoing in the highways and hedges of the full gospel, without wildfire and fanaticism and we must hurry forward with our twelve months' program. Be with us if at all possible, but whether present or absent, pray with all your might that God may have his way and be glorified. For information, application blank, or other data concerning this work, write

Rev. E. C. Wills, Sec.,
P. O. Box 1944, Orlando, Fla.

HERINGTON, KANSAS.

In beginning his meeting for First Presbyterian Church, Rev. George S. Sutton, pastor, Oct. 5, the people were told by Guy W. Green, layman of Kansas City, Mo., that if they would pray and work God would give them more than they expected to receive. Mr. Green spoke truly because, whereas the members of the church had expected only 10 or 15 accessions as the result of their meeting, on Oct. 18 a class of 35 was received into the church, most of them adults and most of them coming by confession of faith. Mr. Green has been engaged to return to Herington again in October of 1932. He made 35 addresses during his stay in the Kansas town. This is the third meeting he has held for the Rev. Mr. Sutton.

J. B. Kendall: "It has been some time since I made any report but will say I have been busy most of the time in the Master's work. We have just closed a great meeting in Oklahoma and in the midst of a fine meeting at Humansville, Mo. A number at the altar last night and definitely blessed. Our special meetings to women and girls only and men and boys and the high school night were a wonderful success. We close here the 28th and begin at Waverly, Ill., Nov. 1st."

Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. 1 Cor. 2:9.

FROM WHENCE SHALL OUR HELP COME?

A. E. Matson.

"The children of this world are in their generation wiser than the children of light." Luke 16:8.

Sad, but true. It ought to be just the reverse. Men of this world are continually discovering new wonders in the natural creation and harnessing new sources of power. The human voice is carried to the ends of the earth. Soon no doubt power to run our factories will be distributed in the same manner. It is reported that the switch that will open the Chicago Exposition in 1933 will be thrown by light from the star Arcturus, 240 trillion miles away, light which has taken forty years to reach the earth. It may not be impossible that the stars may yet be a source of our power.

While the "children of this world" have been making all this wonderful progress in the sphere of their life-nature,—what progress have "the children of light" made in their sphere—the spiritual realm? God has given all these wonderful powers of nature to the disposal and use of nature's children. Is it not reasonable to suppose that he has given to his own children comparable, yea, beyond comparison, greater powers for their disposal and use? The children of nature can touch only secondary powers. The children of God can touch the source of all power, God himself.

There seems to be an air of pessimism in the church, even the best of it,—what is the cause of it? It has lost sight of the source of its power. Have the forces of evil become too strong for God to cope with? Certain it is that we have no might against all these evil forces. Lawlessness, communism, covetousness, pleasure-madness, sensuousness in all its forms, atheistic education, modernism, Christianity in form and name but "having not the Spirit,"—at the sight of this overwhelming flood what will we do? We who are parents, will we see our children carried down the overwhelming destruction and only raise our hands and say, "What can we do?" God forbid. There is help in God. But we must seek it with determination to get it.

Pinney says in one of his Revival Lectures: "The prevalence of wickedness is no evidence at all that there is not going to be a revival. That is often God's time to work. Let hell boil over if it will, and spew out as many devils as there are stones in the pavements, if it only drives Christians to God in prayer—they cannot hinder a revival." Helplessness, need, faith, prayer, is the condition of God's manifesting his power on our behalf. "Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need." Heb. 4:16. Surely, this is a time of distressing, direful, desperate need. Thank God, he has resources to meet all of that awful need. Have we faith enough in God to seek it?

"Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? He giveth power to the faint; and to them that have no might he increaseth strength." Isa. 40:28, 29.

Our help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. Ps. 121:1, 2.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON HELP FOR 1932.

RECOMMENDED TO USE WITH THE UNIFORM TEACHER'S QUARTERLY.

Most successful Sunday School teachers realize the importance of outside helps in preparing the lesson, and each year, in addition to the helps given in teacher's quarterly, buy one of the valuable commentaries. Each one listed covers the International Uniform Lesson (all grades) for the year, beginning with January.

Arnold's Practical Commentary

A very practical aid for the busy teacher. It is rich in suggestions and sets forth the lesson in a very pleasing manner. We consider this the most spiritual exposition of the Sunday School Lesson. The hints to teachers, illustrations, blackboard exercises, questions, maps, etc., make this popular help a good all-round commentary at a popular price, $1.00.

Peloubet's Select Notes for 1932

BY AMOS R. WELLS.

Fifty-Eighth Annual Volume.

To the many who are familiar with "PELOUBET'S SELECT NOTES," it would be sufficient to say that the standard of excellence which has characterized the work for more than half a century is fully maintained in the new volume.

The analysis and treatment of the lessons are clear and informing, carrying quotations from great Bible teachers. It is for teachers of all grades and contains the greatest possible wealth of practical help so compiled and tabulated that it can be effectively used. It has maps, pictures, and charts alone worth the price of the book.

This book is invaluable for the study of the Uniform Lessons. Price $2.00.

Tarbell's Teachers' Guide

Tarbell's Teachers' Guide recognizes no superior. If you have never used this wonderful commentary, try it for 1932.

No teacher will be unprepared who uses this extraordinary commentary. The treatment of the lesson never becomes dull or uninteresting. The topics are always fresh and appealing.

Many thousands of up-to-date teachers buy two or more of the best commentaries and find it pays. Whatever you do, don't leave out Tarbell's this year. Price, $2.00.

The Gist of The Lesson

An excellent commentary by R. A. Torrey. It is a concise, boiled-down commentary for the busy teacher. It takes the text of the lesson, each verse separately, and illuminates it. It gives the teacher many good ideas. Price 35c.

Exploring the Bible

FRANK E. GAEBELEIN

Every student of the Bible will want this marvelous book, as it is a study of the background and principles, including such subjects as "Knowing the Bible," "How we Got our Bible," "The Meaning of Inspiration," "The Structure of the Bible," "God's Plan for the Ages," "The Testimony of Jesus," etc. There are 214 pages. Price, $1.50.

Bible Cyclopaedia

CRITICAL AND EXPOSITORY

This excellent volume was compiled and written by A. R. Fausset. In this book many subjects which most of the Bible dictionaries omit, and which are of deep interest, are handled, as, for instance, Antichrist, The Thousand Years of Millennium, Justification, Inspiration, etc. It has 753 very large three-column pages, and contains enough valuable matter to make 20 $1.50 books of ordinary size. It was published in a very large edition at a special price of $3.00. We offer the remainder of a large edition at $1.00 each, plus the cost of packing and mailing, 20c.

The Lesson Round Table --1932

The aim of this, as the title indicates, is to present the lesson from the practical point of view, to help the average man and woman with their everyday problems, disappointments, hopes, ambitions. To further this aim there is a list of home study questions at the end of each lesson, stimulating independent thinking, definiteness and action. "Just as faith without works is dead, so knowledge without action is valueless." Price, $1.25.

Snowden's Sunday School Lessons for 1932

BY THE REV. JAMES H. SNOWDEN.
Practical Exposition of the International Sunday School Lessons. Improved Uniform Series. Ninth Annual Volume. Price, $1.35.

Doran's Ministers' Manual for 1932

A Dozen Books in One
100 Sermon Outlines
50 Talks on the Sunday School Lesson
500 Choice Illustrations
200 Prayers and Invocations
1,000 Suggestive Texts
200 Quotable poems
32 Sermons to Children
200 Seed Thoughts for Sermons
250 Bulletin Board Slogans
250 Hymn Selections
50 Prayer Meeting Talks.
And the Price is but $2.50.

Know Your Bible

(35th Thousand)
BY AMOS R. WELLS

Do You Know Your Bible? Try This Quiz!
1. Name the three famous Johns of the New Testament.
2. Which of the disciples lived the longest?
3. Where was Eden?
4. What is the shortest book of the Bible?
5. Complete the quotation: "The earth is the Lord's, and the fullness thereof."
6. Who called herself "the handmaid of the Lord"?
7. Who were the Pharisees?
8. Who uttered the prophecy: "A little child shall lead them"?
9. What did Paul say was the wages of sin?
10. What great king ate grass like an ox?
These 10 and 1,490 additional questions with answers in back, and 21 Biblical quizzes are found in "KNOW YOUR BIBLE." Cloth bound. $1.00 postpaid.

Go Till You Guess

It follows the plan of the game, "Throwing Light." A new and most enjoyable way to fix Bible facts in the mind. 400 Sections each dealing with a separate Bible fact or event. 1000 Bible References are given with the answers in the back. Price $1.00.

Bible Sayings

This book brings together the greatest and best-known of the sayings of the Bible. The Soul of the Bible is in these 1500 sentences. Answers and Bible references in the back part of the book. Enlightening—Main facts covered throughout the whole Bible. Educational—as study books they lead to searching the Scriptures. Entertaining—for individual use and easily adaptable for social gatherings. Durable bound in cloth, size 6x7 1/2, each 128 pages. Price $1.00 each postpaid.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY,
Louisville, Kentucky.

EVANGELISTS' SLATES

ASBURY FOREIGN MISSIONARY TEAM
Kirkpatrick, Crouse, Erny.
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 3-24.

BENNETT, FRED E.
(Suite 1009, Chicago Bank of Commerce
Bldg., 7 S. Dearborn, Chicago, Ill.)
Falls City, Ore., Nov. 26.
Newberg, Ore., Dec. 13.

BENNARD, GEO.
(Hermosa Beach, California.)
Polson, Mont., Nov. 1-15.
Okanogan, Wash., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

BUDMAN, ALMA L.
(Muncy, Pa.)
New Point, Va., Nov. 2-15.

BUSSEY, M. M.
Waco, Tex., Nov. 4-18.

CALLIS, O. H.
(409 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Ky.)
Yates Center, Kan., Nov. 8-22.
Otega, Kan., Nov. 24-Dec. 20.

CAREY, A. B.
Bath, Maine, Oct. 27-Nov. 8.

CARNES, B. G.
(200 Morrison St., Wilmore, Ky.)
Chillicothe, Ohio, Oct. 28-Nov. 15.

CAROTHERS, J. L. AND WIFE.
Paoli, Colo., Nov. 8-22.

GRAMMOND, PROF. C. C. AND MARGARET.

(815 Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.)
Grand Lodge, Mich., Nov. 2-15.
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

DAVIDSON, OTTO
Otway, Ohio, Nov. 1-Dec. 1.

DICKERSON, H. N.
Allentown, Pa., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

FLEMING, JOHN
Bloomsburg, Pa., Nov. 3-15.
Blackwell, Okla., Nov. 17-29.
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 6-20.

FLEMING, BONA.
(2952 Hackmont St., Ashland, Ky.)
Sacramento, Calif., Nov. 15-29.
Stockton, Calif., Nov. 30-Dec. 13.

FLEXON, R. G.
(Shackelfords, Va.)
McDonald, Pa., Nov. 5-15.
Oneonta, N. Y., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

FRYE, H. A.
(1326 Hurd Ave., Findlay, Ohio)
Pierson, Mich., Nov. 8-29.
Three Rivers, Mich., Dec. 6-20.

FUGETT, C. B.
Ada, Okla., Nov. 9-22.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 23-Dec. 6.

GADDIS-MOSER EVANGELISTIC PARTY.
(4805 Ravenna St., Cincinnati, Ohio)
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.
Bel Air, Md., Dec. 1-20.

GOODMAN, M. L.
(Chilpips, Mich.)
Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.
Applegate, Mich., Nov. 29-Dec. 13.
Dec. 20-Jan. 1 reserved.

HAINES, FLOSSIE
(Care Rev. Metzger, Howard, Pa.)
Open for dates.

HARVEY, M. R.
(Box 184, Cherryville, N. C.)
Fandleman, N. C., Nov. 15-29.

HENDERSON, THOS. C.
Almena, Kan., Oct. 18-Nov. 8.
St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 11-29.

HOLLENBACK, U. T.
(Seymour, Ind.)
Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 4-22.
Spring Valley, N. Y., Nov. 23-Dec. 13.

HOOVER, L. S.
Washington, Ind., Oct. 26-Nov. 15.
Mt. Carmel, Ill., Nov. 16-Dec. 6.

JACOBS, CHAS. A.
(Rt. 6, Charlotte, Mich.)
Bessemer, Mich., Nov. 9-29.
Hopkins, Mich., Nov. 15-29.

JARRETT, W. HOWARD
(Spring Fork, W. Va.)
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 8-9.

JONES, T. HOWARD
(Sheffield, Mass.)
Baltimore, Md., Nov. 1-14.
Connersville, Ind., Nov. 15-28.

JONES, LUM.
Dallas, Tex., Nov. 8-22.

KINSEY, MR. AND MRS. W. C.
(450 South West 2nd St., Richmond, Ind.)
Union, Ohio, Nov. 8-22.

LARKIN, BESSIE
(Collingswood, N. J.)
Weissport, Pa., Oct. 25-Nov. 8.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 15-29.
Westville, N. J., Dec. 6-20.

LINN, C. H. JACK
(Oregon, Wis.)
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 25-Nov. 15.

LINCICOME, F.
Ft. Wayne, Ind., Nov. 16-20.
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 22-Dec. 6.

LOCKWOOD, W. A.
(Christian, W. Va.)
Open dates.

LOWMAN, J. W. AND MAYBELLE
(1039 Clinton St., Carthage, Mo.)
Topeka, Kan., Nov. 1-15.
Keokuk, Ia., Nov. 17-29.

LUDWIG, THEO. AND MINNIE E.
Wichita, Kan., Oct. 29-Nov. 15.
McPherson, Kan., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

MILLS, F. J.
(Bellaire, Mich.)
Rochester, Mich., Nov. 1-15.
New Paris, Ind., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

NICE, N. W.
(1335 Betting Ave., Wichita, Kan.)
Las Ammas, Colo., Nov. 1-22.

OWEN, JOHN F.
(262 East 13th Ave., Columbus, Ohio.)
Lanham, Maryland, Nov. 8-22.

RICE, LEWIS J.
(2923 Troost Ave., Kansas City, Mo.)
Muskogee, Okla., Nov. 1-15.

RUTH, C. W.
(1290 Dominion Ave., Pasadena, Calif.)
Milton Grove, Pa., Oct. 28-Nov. 8.
Johnstown, Pa., Nov. 12-22.
Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 24-29.
Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 3-13.

SMITH, W. EDMUND.
(Wolcott, Vermont)
Moore Forks, Oct. 18-Nov. 8.
Moore Forks, N. Y., Oct. 18-Nov. 8.

SPARKS, BURL.
Bloomsburg, Pa., Oct. 26-Nov. 8.
Bicknell, Ind., Nov. 15-29.

THOMAS, JOHN
(Wilmore, Kentucky.)
Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30-Nov. 8.
Detroit, Mich., Nov. 15-29.
Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 2-13.

VAYHINGER, M.
(Upland, Ind.)
Marion, Ind., Nov. 15-Dec. 6.

WILSON, D. E.
(537 State St., Binghamton, N. Y.)
Grensboro, N. C., Oct. 27-Nov. 8.
Reserved, Nov. 9-17.
Brookville, Pa., Nov. 18-Dec. 6.

WIREMAN, C. L.
(304 S. Main St., Somerset, Ky.)
Visalia, Ky., Nov. 9-22.
Open dates, Nov. 24-Dec. 6.

WOODWARD, GEORGE P.
(Artist-Evangelist, 120 W. Barnard, West
Chester, Pa.)
Harrington, Del., Nov. 2-15.
Athens, Ohio, Nov. 16-29.
Logan, Ohio, Dec. 5-27.

NEW BOOKS JUST RECEIVED

The Christ of the Mount
A WORKING PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE
BY E. STANLEY JONES

In this volume Doctor Jones interprets the Sermon on the Mount. Having written so vividly on the inner life, this most famous of religious writers has felt constrained to apply the Christian gospel to the difficult and disturbing conditions obtaining today. It has often been charged that the imperishable mountainside discourses of Jesus are superb ethical precepts, but impracticable idealism. Doctor Jones insists the Sermon on the Mount can be and should be applied to the actual everyday living of the Christian.

Price, net, $1.50, postpaid.

The Christly Life

A STUDY OF THE CHRISTIAN GRACES
BY W. Y. FULLERTON, D.D.

Dr. Fullerton is careful to show that the life that is Christly is something more than a life lived in the mere imitation of Christ; it is the manifestation of a living Presence, of a Lord who dwells within. It is, moreover, an attitude of Christian experience not reached by asking, "What would Jesus do?" but a life without a question mark, in which the Lord of life is given full right of way to will and to work within the heart, of his own good pleasure.

Price, $1.25.

Sermon Hearts

BY WILLIAM H. LEACH

The gist of 150 of the world's best sermons, each reduced to 600-word outlines. The preachers are from Wesley down to and including our own day. The texts range from Genesis to Revelation. There are many sermons for the special days of the year. The uses of the book are manifold, chief among them that of aiding the busy preacher in the preparation of his sermons.

Price, $2.00.

The Present-Day Summons to the World Mission of Christianity

BY JOHN R. MOTT.

All America needs the message John R. Mott brings in this great book. He treats I. World Trends. II. The Summons of Rural Life. III. The Summons of Industry. IV. The Summons of Race. V. The Summons to Share. VI. The Summons to Serve. VII. The Summons to Co-operate. VIII. The Summons of the Living Message. IX. The Summons to the Home Base. X. The Leadership for This Momentous Day. It epitomizes a lifetime of study, observation, and analysis.

Price, $2.00.

SCRIPTURE TEXT CALENDARS

Are Easy and Profitable to Sell!

There's a definite need in every home for this beautiful, inspirational Calendar. You are doing a good deed each time you sell a Scripture Text Calendar—and you're making a comfortable profit! Practically all you have to do is display it—it all but sells itself on sight. You won't wonder at that once you've seen it.

Notice These Important Features

It has beauty—thirteen full-color religious paintings of suitable size for framing.

It offers inspiration, instruction, and information.

Brief stories of the pictures.

Daily Scripture quotations.

Schedule showing how to read the Bible through in a year.

Golden Texts for Sunday School Lessons.

Flower and Birthstone of the month.

Preceding and following month date pads.

Phases of the moon, etc.

Fourteen pages—9 1/4 x 15 3/4 inches—of usefulness and beauty.

The margin of profit per calendar is large and increases with the greater number sold. Order calendars now—an early start brings best results.

Special Prices to Churches and Agents

| Quantity      | Cost    | Sell For | Profit  |
|---------------|---------|----------|---------|
| 100 Calendars | $17.00 | $30.00  | $13.00 |
| 200 Calendars | 32.00   | 60.00    | 28.00   |
| 250 Calendars | 40.00   | 75.00    | 35.00   |
| 300 Calendars | 45.00   | 90.00    | 45.00   |

Single copy, 30c; 4, $1.00; 12, $3.00; 25, $5.75; 50, $9.00.

NOTE: If you have an open charge account with us at present in good condition we will allow 30 days for payment.

If you do not have a charge account with us send 2 or 3 business references or advise us to ship C.O.D. unless you accompany your order with cash.

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING CO.,
Louisville, Kentucky.

Teen Age Talks

BY REV. M. G. GOSSELINK, M.A.

Here are 52 interesting character-forming talks for intermediates. They are designed to cover the entire year by months, with particular emphasis on the holidays (religious and secular) and especial observances of the year. These talks have all stood the test of repeated practical use by a successful pastor. They will prove very helpful to teachers of intermediates, ministers, parents and all workers with boys and girls.

A Topical Index furnishes ready reference to important subjects, and facilitates the finding of apt illustrations and usable material.

Price, $1.50.

Sermons From the Psalms

CLOVIS G. CHAPPELL, D.D.

The secret of Dr. Chappell's preaching is the secret of all effective preaching. It is sympathetic, vigorous, pictorial.

His is the ministry of vital messages, delivered Sunday after Sunday before the largest congregation of his denomination.

These sermons based on the spiritual values of the Psalms closely tie up to the Christian's problems of this day and generation. He takes the poetic masterpieces of the Old Testament and carries them through a series of sixteen penetrating sermons on present-day problems.

As the basis for a series of Sunday evening or midweek services, this book is ideal. Such timely topics as "The Secret of Prosperity," "The Turning Point," "Capitalizing Our Calamities," and "Facing the Future" are practical applications of Scriptural teachings to modern problems of life.

Price, $1.75.

When the Swans Fly High

F. W. BOREHAM

As the diamond reflects light, so Boreham, from his many-sided and deep-seated knowledge of human beings, reflects life. From the springs of his fancy, from the well of his understanding, come messages to meet the everyday needs of everyday people.

Price, $1.75.

God in the Slums

BY HUGH REDWOOD

175th Thousand. Introduction by Commander Evangeline C. Booth.

Commander Evangeline Booth says: "Hugh Redwood found himself in the very forefront of the front trenches, fighting with the shock troops of the Lord of hosts. I am not surprised that, already, Great Britain has bought 120,000 copies of his book. If ever there were a genuine, vivid, moving human document, we have it here. In these compelling pages we can distinguish all the mingling melodies of the symphony called life."

Price, $1.25.

Prayer Meeting Talks

BY HENRY T. SELL, D.D.

Without any reservation or exception, the material here assembled was prepared by Dr. Sell with a view to its specific use in the mid-week Prayer-Meeting. Not ministers, only, but Bible-class teachers, and leaders of Christian Endeavor and other groups, may discover in Dr. Sell's volume of practical, common-sense addresses, a most profitable aid and helpful guide.

Price, $1.25.

IDEAL INDIA PAPER BIBLE

For Teacher, Pastor or Friend

It is self-pronouncing.
It is printed in long primer type.
It is bound in Persian Morocco.
It is silk sewed, guaranteed not to break in the back.

It is leather lined to edge.
It is printed on fine India paper.
It has references, concordance, maps.
It has silk headbands and marker.
It is 8 1/2 x 5 1/2 inches, weighs 22 ozs.
It is only 15-16 of an inch thick.
It is sold regularly at $10.20.
Special Price, Postpaid.....

$7.50

It will last a lifetime, ordinary use.
Improved thumb index, 50c extra.
Name lettered in gold, 50c extra.

SPECIMEN OF TYPE

THESE are the sons of 'Is-ra-el,
'Reu'ben, 'Sim'e-on, Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, 'Is'sa-char, and Zēb'u-lūn.

Same style as above bound in extra fine binding that will last 20 years with ordinary care, for $10.00.

Ideal Comfort Bible

For Old Folks or Home Study

The type in this book is so large and so well spaced that each word stands out boldly, making it easy and really a pleasure to read. All the difficult words are pronounced.

It has the chapter numbers in figures, with the books of the Bible printed on corner of page, making it self-indexing.

It is printed on a very fine white, opaque Bible paper and has the references, a beautiful Family Record, maps in colors, with a beautiful colored frontispiece and presentation page.

It is bound in black morocotol, stamped in gold, and has the brown burnished edges. Size 6 x 9 x 1 1/4 in. thick and weighs a little less than 3 lbs.

On account of the Bible having such an easy-to-read type, one can really get more out of the Scriptures.

SPECIMEN OF TYPE

•Blind men healed. ST:

son of Dā'vid, have mercy
,28 And when he was con
the house, the blind men c:

Our special net price
for this fine book is. $3.00

Scholar's Bible

THE SIZE—5 x 7 x 1 in. thick, weight 20 ozs., which makes an ideal size Bible.

THE BINDING—Genuine leather, small, fine grain, linen lined to edge, stamped in pure gold on side and backbone. Very flexible.

THE TYPE—Large, clear, easy-to-read nonpareil, self-pronouncing, chapter numbers in figures.

THE PAPER—Very thin white, opaque Bible paper, durable, with silk headbands and marker.

ILLUSTRATIONS—16 full-page Bible pictures in 8 colors; 32 full-page pictures in 1 color. Frontispiece, presentation page and family record.

HELPS—4,500 revised questions and answers; tables of time, weights, money and measures. A complete Bible concordance. 14 pages of maps in colors, with the Hebrew, Greek and Latin alphabets.

THE PRICE—This Bible is a good value at $3.50. We are offering it postpaid for..... $2.50

Or, with the patent thumb index and name in gold for..... $3.00

The same Bible as described above, with the words of Christ printed in red, at an additional cost of only 25c.

Bibles for Christmas Gifts

Every Bible on this page is the King James Version

PENTECOSTAL PUBLISHING COMPANY, Louisville, Kentucky

THE CHILD'S BIBLE

Bound in a beautifully grained, genuine leather, with overlapping edges, stamped in gold, red under gold edges.

It has a very clear, readable agate type, is self-pronouncing, chapter numbers in figures. Size 3 1/2 x 5 1/2, only 7/8 of an inch thick and weighs 11 ozs. It contains twenty choice helps.

1. The books of the Bible in rhyme.
2. How to find the books quickly.
3. Finding great things in the Bible.
4. How to read the Bible through.
5. The treasures of the Bible.
6. How to study a Sunday school lesson.
7. The death of Moses.
8. How to study a Bible character.
9. The story of Joseph.
10. How to study a book of the Bible.
11. The story of the Acts.
12. How to analyze a book of the Bible.
13. Analysis of the book of Acts.
14. Hints on studying the Bible.
15. The Bible in life and death.
16. What great men think of the Bible.
17. Testimonies to the Bible.
18. Golden verses of the Bible to be committed to memory.
19. A study of the Holy Land.
20. Bible manners and customs.

Every child should own a Bible, and this one is ideal. Regular catalogue price, $2.50. Our special net price, postpaid.....

$1.50

Same style of Bible as above, keratol binding, red edges and not overlapping, 90 cents.

Old Folks' Testament and Psalms Illustrated

Very large, clear, pica type—the largest type to be had in a convenient size book. It is bound in black cloth, stamped in gold, and has 24 full-page illustrations.

The Lord's Prayer is beautifully printed in colors as a frontispiece. It is pronouncing, has key to the pronunciation of proper names, dates or times of the writing of the different books. The Lord's Prayer is illustrated with 8 pages of pictures. This Testament is especially suitable for old folks or small children, and is fine for home worship.

$1.25

Price, postpaid.....
Same as above in fine Morocco binding, price, $2.00.

Same as above with words of Christ in red, price, $2.20.

Jewel Testament

Fine Morocco binding, overlapping edges, India paper, silk sewed, largest type in a little book, size 2 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 3/4 in. thick; weighs less than 3 ounces. Fits the hand and vest pocket. It is self-pronouncing, contains the Psalms.

$1.50

5 copies for $6.00.

Most Complete Bible

For the Home, For the Teacher, For the Family, For the Pastor, For the Old Folks, For the Scholar, For the Study

(25 SPECIAL FEATURES)

1. Fine genuine leather binding, with overlapping edges, stamped in gold on back and backbone.
2. Extra grained lining to edge with special reinforcement.
3. Fine white opaque thin Bible paper beautifully printed.
4. Red edges, round corners, silk head band and marker.
5. Size 5 1/2 x 8 1/2 x 1 1/2, weight forty ounces.
6. The words spoken by Jesus are printed in red.
7. Large, clear, long primer type.
8. Self-pronouncing.
9. Chapters numbered in figures.
10. Sixty thousand references and marginal readings.
11. Dates of happenings before and after Christ in reference columns.
12. Chapter headings and page headings.
13. Nearly 100 illustrations with 32 of them in colors.
14. A beautifully printed family record.
15. A Treatise on "How to Study the Bible," by Rev. James Stalker, D. D.
16. "The Sunday School Teacher's Use of the Bible," by Bishop John H. Vincent, D. D.
17. "The Christian Worker and His Bible," by D. W. Whittle, of Philadelphia.
18. A Calendar for the daily reading of the Scriptures—reading all in one year.
19. Chronology and History of the Bible and its related periods.
20. The Harmony of the Gospels.
21. Table of prophetic books, by Jesse L. Hurlbut.
22. Period intervening between the age of Malachi (450 B. C.) and the birth of Christ, by Rev. A. C. Whitehouse, M. A.
23. Weights, Moneys and Measures.
24. The Combination Concordance, which includes under one alphabetical arrangement a concordance to the Scriptures, topical index to the Bible, list of proper names, with their meanings and pronunciations, complete gazetteer, with references to the maps, a glossary of archaic and obsolete words in the English Bible; words relating to Biblical antiquities, customs, musical terms, etc., names of plants, animals, precious stones, etc.
25. 4,500 Questions and Answers on the sacred Scriptures for Bible students and Sunday School teachers.

The regular catalogue price is $6.70. Our special price, postpaid..... $4.00

Patent thumb index, 50c extra.

Your name in gold, 50c extra.

This cut shows the style of all the overlapping edge Bibles mentioned in this advertisement.

NOT TO BE USED WITHOUT COPYRIGHT PERMISSION

Specimen of Type.

AND it came to pass, that when Isaac was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he

Each copy packed in a box, wrapped inside and out. The above Bible is the very best value that we know of in the way of completeness, large type, durability, neatness in size, and all the attractive features for Bible study, for the price.

Ideal India Paper Pocket Reference Bible

This Bible weighs only 11 ozs., is 3/4 of an inch thick, and size 4 1/2 x 6 1/2. It has very readable minion type, splendid Morocco binding, overlapping edges, silk headbands and marker. White opaque India paper, contains references and maps. Guaranteed not to break in the back. Just the Bible for men to carry in their pockets or ladies in their handbags—so small, light and convenient.

Our special price, postpaid..... $2.95

The same Bible as described above, with a complete Bible concordance. $4.25

Price, postpaid.....

Your name in gold on either of the above, 50c extra; index, 50c extra.

Vest Pocket Testaments

Beautiful little New Testaments that are printed in clear nonpareil type on thin Bible paper.

Very compact, may be easily carried in the pocket.

No. VP6—Artificial leather, limp, gold titles, round corners, red under gold edges. Price, postpaid..... 50c

No. VP9—Genuine leather, overlapping covers, gold titles, round corners, red under gold edges. Price, postpaid..... 75c

No. VP9OR—Same as VP9, but with the sayings of Christ printed in red. Price, postpaid..... 90c

300 Pocket League Testaments

This is the smallest Testament on the market with a good, clear, readable type. The size is 2 1/2 x 3 3/4 x 3/8 in. thick, and weighs 2 1/2 ozs. It is printed on the fine thin, India paper and is beautifully bound in flexible imitation leather, and has many full-page colored illustrations. We are offering it at the special price of 50c, or $5.75 per dozen.

1000 Special Testaments

They are bound in black cloth, have red edges, are vest pocket size, well printed on good paper, and we are offering them at 15c each, or $1.20 per dozen, postpaid.

The Illustrated New Testament

Bound in beautiful cloth with inlaid picture on cover, stamped in gold, has large, clear blackface type, with a large number of illustrations printed in many colors, size 4 1/2 x 6 1/2. Price $1.00, or $9.00 per dozen, postpaid. On entering the office, Dr. Morrison picked up one of the above described Testaments and was so attracted with its style and readability that he wanted one himself.

Pentecostal Publishing Co.
Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed $..... for which send me items checked above.

Name.....

Address.....

Give two Christmas presents instead of one. 2 for $1.00

Two For One Book Sale

Buy one gift for $1.00 and get an additional book for yourself, free.

THIS SPECIAL OFFER FOR MONTH OF NOVEMBER ONLY

Your opportunity to buy some helpful Christmas Gifts.

Your opportunity to supply yourself with helpful reading matter for the long winter evenings.

Remarkable Conversions

REV. H. C. MORRISON

of any other on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Second Coming of Christ

REV. H. C. MORRISON

$1.00, postpaid.

Pentecostal Pulpit

BY TWELVE AUTHORS

both for $1.00, postpaid.

Dick Davis and the Devil

REV. J. B. CULPEPPER

Twenty-one of this author's most interesting and helpful sermons, along with twenty-six pages of his powerful sayings. If you have never heard him you will enjoy it all the more. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Mountain Peaks of The Bible

REV. BUD ROBINSON

In his own unique way the author gives twelve chapters on the great high peaks of Holy Scriptures. The Christian will enjoy it and the sinner will be blessed by reading it. Regular price, $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Hallelujah Jack

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

A remarkable story of an awful sinner with many experiences who was saved by grace. A most excellent book to put in the hands of an unsaved person, and a very interesting and helpful story for anyone to read. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Wrested Scriptures Made Plain

REV. W. E. SHEPARD

both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Optimism of Premillennialism

REV. H. C. MORRISON

This is Dr. Morrison's latest book on the second coming of our Lord, and we are putting it in this special sale so it may have a large circulation, and thus accomplish the great good for which it was written. It is highly commended. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Bible Readings for Christian Workers

REV. BASIL W. MILLER

For home study, for young people's meetings, for prayer meetings, for missionary society devotional meetings, we do not know of a better book than this, and as a helpful book for a young preacher in preparing his sermons, this would be very suggestive. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Sermons for the Times

REV. H. C. MORRISON

These sermons will stir and thrill you. They are different. Good for the home, for the preacher, and especially good for the young preacher. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Revival Blessings

REV. GEORGE W. RIDOUT

page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Tarry Ye

REV. L. R. AKERS

of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

A Pitcher of Cream

REV. BUD ROBINSON

It is fresh, juicy, unctuous and witty. The cream of his thought, feelings and imagination under the tuition of the Holy Spirit. It will enrich the soul of every one who reads it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Nuggets of Gold

REV. BUD ROBINSON

and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Letters of a Converted Boy to his Mother

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

You will want to help some young boy. Give him this book and better still buy two copies of it for the price of one, and give them as Christmas presents. Guaranteed to please you. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Garden of Love

REV. C. H. JACK LINN

This book will make you long for heaven, as it relates the experiences of that great host of saints who have gone on before, and will be there with their wonderful testimony. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

The Story of Lazarus

REV. BUD ROBINSON

Lazarus is very nearly a type of the whole human family and a splendid character. You will be pleased and greatly blessed in reading the sixteen chapters. A splendid gift. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

A Feast of Good Things

REV. J. M. HAMES

If you want to make some saint happy, give that one this book. If you want to get happy yourself, read it. It is full of good spiritual food and you will appreciate it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Our Young People

REV. R. H. RIVERS

A great preacher has said that no better book for young people has been issued than this. It is charming and magnetic. The matter is all good for the use of edifying. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Pentecost

REV. C. E. HARDY

The need of every individual as well as the need of the church. This book represents years of careful study of Pentecost. Each chapter has been condensed so that even the busiest people can take time to read it. Regular price $1.00, but you can get this book and your choice of any other one on this page both for $1.00, postpaid.

Pentecostal Publishing Co., Louisville, Ky.

Enclosed you will find $..... for which send to me postpaid the books checked above, at your special price of two copies for $1.00.

NAME .....

ADDRESS .....

PENTECOSTAL HERALD

Dr. H. C. Morrison, Editor
Mrs. H. C. Morrison, Associate Editor

Louisville, Ky., Wednesday, Nov. 11, 1931.

Entered at Louisville, Ky., Postoffice as Second Class Matter

$1.50 Per Year.
Vol. 43, No. 45.

CHRISTIAN PERFECTION.

By The Editor.

IN that remarkably interesting sixth chapter of Hebrews we find an exhortation and resolution which is most interesting. The first reads, "Let us go on to perfection." The second, "This will we do, if God permit."

The perfection we are exhorted to go on to is not a perfection beyond which there is no addition, development and growth. It must be understood that Christian experience is always progressive—clearer conceptions of truth, growth in the graces, enlargement of responsibility, increase of capacity, and opportunity—going on.

There is a perfection which may, and should be, obtained by every young Christian; perfection of consecration which withholds nothing from God. Perfection of faith which does not doubt the promises of God. Perfection of purity, a heart cleansed from all sin. Perfection of love, which loves God supremely, and fellowbeings unselfishly.

This perfection is inwrought by the Holy Spirit in his baptism, incoming and abiding. This gracious work of sanctifying and perfecting prepares the Christian for growth and enlargement, every way. A young apple may be perfect in the sense that it is free from disease of any sort. It has no scale, blight, speck or worm. It is perfect in this sense. It is young and very small, and of little account for present use; but it is absolutely pure and free from disease.

This young apple, being pure, is in excellent condition to grow, to mature, to assume beautiful color, to ripen and mellow. This apple illustrates my thought very well, only it comes to an end. The Christian life grows, ripens, takes on the beautiful colors of holiness, mellows into a gracious influence, and is plucked by death, only to enter into a larger and ever increasing growth in those higher altitudes called Paradise and Heaven.

Christian Perfection is not perfection of memory. It does not save one from the mistakes and blunders that are incident because of the common frailties of body, and nervous and mental limitations. The highest states of grace and communion with God do not do away with the fact that we are human beings and, as such, have weaknesses that belong to our race of beings and state of existence. But Christian Perfection does secure us against sin; it does not secure us against temptation, but it can place us where there is no inward response to temptation, desire or intention to commit any willful sin.

It is interesting, and to be regretted, that just now a number of our Calvinistic friends are becoming vehement, in fact, quite disrespectful, toward their brethren who claim full salvation in Christ. Only recently in one of the great summer meetings, a Calvinistic brother in one of his addresses, said with a

PREACHER LEADERSHIP.

The preachers of the gospel ought, not only to deliver the message of the Lord to the people, but they ought to give leadership in all great moral and spiritual movements. The best time for them to exert a salutary influence in politics is before the nomination of candidates; then they cannot be accused of partisanship.

Every Protestant preacher of this nation ought now to express himself with a good degree of righteous indignation against the liquor traffic, and create a popular sentiment that will notify politicians that, under no circumstances, will they vote for a candidate for the presidency of the United States, or any other office, who is an enemy to Prohibition. We want at the head of this nation men clear-cut and outspoken in their antagonism to the liquor traffic, like Pinchot, Governor of Pennsylvania, and Senator Sheppard, of Texas. Men who are prohibitionists at heart and brain. We admire a prohibitionist like Senator Brookhart who, when he finds that strong drink is to be used at a banquet, lifts his head in contempt and leaves the place.

The war against the liquor traffic is on. It is a holy war. The enemy is powerful, disrespectful, contemptuous and selfish to the last degree. The cause of Prohibition needs real soldiers, fearless men and women, who ask no favors and give no quarters to the liquorites. If I had a pastor who was a timid coward and, for any reason, in this crisis of our national history, dodged issues, and was afraid to speak out in plain language against the liquor traffic, I would not pay him one red cent. Such a man does not deserve the support of Christian people. We think preachers should guard carefully their party politics, but before nomination for office it is perfectly safe in educating and arousing the moral sentiment of the people. No man, preacher or laymen, who claims to be a Christian, should permit any political party to command or induce him to vote favorably to liquor.

H. C. Morrison.

good deal of vehemence, that "The Wesleyan doctrine of sanctification was a rotten doctrine." He did not quite dare to say that the apostle who wrote the "blood of Jesus Christ (God's Son) cleanseth us from all sin," was a liar. I am glad he did not go quite that far.

The promises of full salvation from sin are very abundant. It is plainly written that, "without holiness no man shall see the Lord." It is also written that "God wills our sanctification." The inspired writer does not hesitate to say, "Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate." St. Paul, in his letter to the Romans, declares that, "Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound." He states further, "Being then made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness." He reiterates, "But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life."

The Scriptures teach us that there is a life "hid with Christ in God." We read also, "The kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Searching further we find, that "the kingdom of God is within you." Very well, if the brethren want to sneer at the power of Christ's cleansing blood, that is their business. They assume the responsibility for such ridicule. If they want to exalt the power of Satan to blight with sin, above the power of Christ to save from sin, that's their business—fearful business! There are a number of very respectable people in the world who are not ashamed to believe and follow the interpretation of the gracious promises of God to deliver us from all sin, given by John Wesley. Of course, it is understood that if we follow Christ without the gate for the crucifixion of the old man, we must expect to suffer reproach. But somewhere we have read that it is a blessed privilege to suffer reproach with Christ—Amen!

Hungering and Thirsting After Righteousness.

IN our Lord's Sermon on the Mount we find these very interesting and forceful words: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."

Jesus is here describing a very blessed state of mind. He tells us that it is a gracious thing to be hungering and thirsting. He is fortunate, as always, in his use of understandable terms. We all know what hunger and thirst are. We are so constituted that we must have food and drink. Our physical natures call for this sustaining supply. Without food and drink our bodies would soon languish and die.

The soul of man has desires similar to those of the body. The soul is capable of longing for deliverance from sin; to be free from pollution, to come into the clear light of purity. How fortunate, as Jesus teaches it, for a soul to have intense desire for freedom from sin; for a state of righteousness—rightness before God.

One of the great troubles with the people of this nation, both within and out of the church, is that they are dominated by their physical, rather than their spiritual desires; their temporal ambitions and longings overmaster, set aside, and destroy their spiritual aspirations. They are running to and fro in the earth seeking to find something to satisfy their physical wants; not their needs, so much. The gratification of one desire, it seems, only increases and intensifies new desires, until the being comes obsessed with inordinate passion that consumes the body, wears out the life, and hastens its victim to an untimely grave, often to suicide.

The Lord Jesus calls our attention to the blessedness of the state of a soul longing, stretching out its faculties and aspirations to be filled with righteousness. He says that the desires of such a soul shall be gratified, that the filling shall be obtained; that for such a soul there is deliverance from impurity. Almost immediately, he follows this

(Continued on page 8)

NOTES FROM THE LAND OF VASTNESS.

Rev. G. W. Ridout D.D., Corresponding Editor.

Argentina, South America, is great in its immensities. Ranches here run into many miles, cattle into teeming thousands. Wheat fields extend as far as the eye can see. A single province is larger than the British Isles. Buenos Aires is the greatest city in all South America. I think it is providential that I have but few engagements there because I can fill a deeper need by preaching in cities and towns in the Interior and hold conferences among churches which rarely have a visiting evangelist come among them. At this time I am in my ninth meeting since I crossed the Chilean line, July 2nd. It is indeed something to praise God for that the message of full salvation meets with open hearts and open doors. Yesterday, I preached on sanctification in the afternoon; the day before, on a clean heart. My interpreter tells me they want more of it.

II.

It is cold in South America. Houses and churches are not heated; occasionally a stove or fireplace will be found. People come to church and stay two, and often three hours. I frequently keep overcoat on till preaching warms me up. People wear their wraps through the service; men keep overcoats on, and frequently a man will be sitting down with a shawl over his shoulders.

There is a great deal of suffering; men are out of work, but I presume no one goes hungry. Argentina is a land of bread and meat in abundance.

Governments are in deplorable condition all over South America. When I was in Chili the dictatorial government of President Ibanez was tottering, now it has fallen and the big military man who ran things with the big stick and ran his country into terrible debt, has had to get out of his country so as to be on the safe side if any violence was attempted. How true it is that Revolutions "sweep over the earth like troubled visions on the breast of dreaming sorrow."

III.

The other Sunday night I preached in a city where, after the service, my interpreter and myself had some peculiar experiences. We thought the service was at 8 o'clock instead of six; so we would have to go without our meal. Church was full and we had a service extending over two hours. We were then invited to dinner at the home of one of the families of the church. The meal had to be cooked as the whole family was at church. It was past ten o'clock when we sat down at the table and when we left the home it was eleven fifteen. We were taken to a hotel where my interpreter put up. Poor man; he had a horrible night; a woman in an adjoining room went crazy and shrieked so as to arouse the whole hotel. There was no sleep for anybody all night. Fortunately, I was put up at a hotel near the station. The night was cold, and in this country it is a rare thing to have heat in hotels or houses. I was glad to get in between the blankets and sleep solidly till called for the early train. My next preaching appointment required taking a train at 4:15 in the early morn. In Chili, we generally travelled third class; in Argentina we go second because there is no third. I take a small rug and steamer shawl with me; these make the hard seats a bit easy and the riding comfortable. On this recent trip, when I arrived at the station, pastor and wife did not speak English but they brought along a woman who did and we managed things alright till a missionary arrived who was to interpret for me. At the parsonage where I am writing this, the mother is French, the father is Hollander, and the children speak Spanish, so I manage to get along pretty well by utilizing my little French and the trifle Spanish I have acquired. Little Maria is a particularly bright child and she and I are fast friends. She told me her mother was the daughter of a Frenchman, her father the son of a Dutchman. She told me her age and then asked me: "Cuántos años tiene?" (My age). I couldn't speak Spanish so I was saved the trouble. At the dinner table today the following nations were represented: Dane, French, Italian, Dutch, German, Spanish, American. Argentina is a most cosmopolitan land.

IV.

