Instructor Expectations

You are expected to attend every class session. The concepts and ideas being taught are highly integrated and interrelated. Missing class will adversely effect your ability to develop the skills being taught in this course. Prompt arrival in class prepared to work is also expected. This is a challenging course and we have a lot of material to cover in a short period of time. In addition, your active participation in class is required for you to maximally benefit from this course. Passive learning will not be helpful in this class. Finally, your honest and timely feedback regarding the content and presentation of this course is essential. I invite you to join me and your classmates in making this course an enjoyable and rewarding experience.

Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty

Plagiarism is the act of presenting the ideas or work of another person as your own. It does not matter if you use the work of another that is printed in a journal or book, or simply resubmit the work of another student. If it is not properly referenced and displayed as a quote or idea of another, it is plagiarism. Academic dishonesty refers to all other questionable actions that may occur related to tests and other class activities. Plagiarism and academic dishonesty will not be tolerated and Seminary policies will be followed. This means course failure and the possibility of additional Seminary disciplinary action.

Copies of Assignments and Make Up Examinations

It is recommended that students submit copies of assignments rather than original works. Use of duplicates are (1) for the student's protection, assuring that work will not be lost and (2) preserves original work for possible job interviews. Make-up examinations will not be offered, unless unusual or non preventable circumstances preclude a student from taking a test at the designated time (e.g. death of a parent).
About Your Instructor

Dr. Ross has completed training in reality therapy with William Glasser, M.D., and in rational behavioral therapy with Maxie C. Maultsby, Jr., M.D.. Dr. Ross is a licensed psychologist, a certified chemical dependency counselor, and a recent recipient of a master in divinity from Asbury Theological Seminary.
