COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will explore the theology of the Golden Age of Latin and Greek Patristic Literature from Aphrahat to John of Damascus in terms of the doctrine of God, Trinity, Christology, and theological anthropology. We will do so in a manner which will enhance critical thinking as we discuss possible meanings of selected texts. This process, intense in many ways, should enhance the ability of students not only to understand the thought of Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers in greater depth, but also to think historically and critically. Beyond this, the course will be attentive to the relevance of the Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers for theology and ministry today.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

Upon completion of the course, students will be able to do all of the following:

1. Identify the major doctrinal themes in the theology of the Nicene and Post-Nicene Fathers.
2. Develop an awareness of historiographical concerns in the interpretation of patristic theology, especially in terms of limited or biased perspectives.
3. Explore the interplay between religion and culture (church and society) especially in terms of the theological developments of the fourth and fifth centuries as reflected in patristic literature.
4. Display an extensive knowledge of the theological distinctions and nuances employed by Post-Nicene Fathers, especially the Cappadocians, in the articulation of the doctrine of the Trinity.
5. Demonstrate an understanding of the continuing significance of Nicene and Post-Nicene theology, especially in the areas of the doctrine of God, Christology, and theological anthropology.
6. Conceive one's calling as a minister of the gospel in light of the history of the universal church/in the vast company of the redeemed community.
7. Articulate the relevance of patristic resources for effective ministry today.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

1. Attendance and Reading Assignment (15%)
 - a. If you attend all the classes, you will get two additional points in the final grading.

- b. When you miss a class, you will be required to write a make-up self study paper on reading. All make-up work must be handed in by May 14. You cannot complete the course unless this is done.
 - c. Three “Cuts” Mean Automatic Fail: you cannot complete this course if you miss more than two class days (or 6 hours total). If this happens, you must consult with me as soon as possible.
 - d. You must complete all assigned readings prior to each class session (see ‘the Course and Reading Schedule’). See Handout 1 (“How to Read Academic Texts Critically”).
 - e. The final reading report must be turned in at the end of the final class period (May 14). Please use the prepared "Reading Report."
- 2. Research Paper (25%)
- a. Choose one figure from the selected texts. (Please decide by the second class period.)
 - b. Prepare a 6-9 page research paper.
 - c. Make a 20-30 minute presentation during the assigned class time.
- 3. Final Paper (35%)
- a. Develop your research paper to a 15-20 page final paper (for those who want to use this paper for future graduate school work, a 25-35 page paper would be allowed).
 - b. Turn it in by May 21, 1:00 pm.
- 4. One Response Paper (15%)
- a. Choose one from the research papers by others.
 - b. Prepare a response paper (approximately 900 words, single spaced, with a standard 12-point font like Times New Roman and one inch margins).
 - c. Present your response paper following the presentation of the research paper.
- 5. One Bibliography Research (10%)
- a. Develop the bibliography on the figure of your research paper with both primary sources and secondary works you can find in the Asbury Seminary Library. Make sure to include not only books but also articles.
 - b. Add some of the best sources you wish our library could hold for future studies in this area. To do this, you might do on-line book searches (e.g., amazon.com or bookfinder.com), or visit the websites of some important publishing companies (Baker Academics, ST Vladimir's Seminary Press, etc.).

CRITERIA FOR GRADING RESEARCH PAPERS

1. Grasp of basic historical and theological information.
2. Appropriate use of primary and relevant secondary sources.
3. Attention to lessons the modern Church can learn from the subject
4. Depth and creativity in handling subject.

5. Appropriate use of Inclusive Language: The seminary encourages all students to make use of language, in reference to human beings, that is inclusive rather than needlessly exclusive. It is a mark of a good communicator to build bridges rather than barriers; therefore, such language should be used in all written work and oral presentations. The Seminary 2001-03 Catalog stands as an example of recommended usage.
6. Form of Written Work: The use of Turabian correctly is of paramount importance (see Kate L. Turabian's A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses and Dissertations). All written work must be turned in on time. Late papers will be marked down one full letter grade unless you get permission for extension in the case of an extremely difficult situation. Papers are to be accompanied by footnotes/endnotes/in-text notes and bibliographies appropriately. See Handout 2 ("Turabian Style").
7. Plagiarism: Any student who commits plagiarism is in violation of Seminary policy and is liable for dismissal.

GRADING

A letter grade will be given based on the grades of work done:

- A (95-100), A- (90-94),
- B+ (87-89), B (83-86), B- (80-82),
- C+ (77-79), C (73-76), C- (70-72),
- D (60-69), F (less than 60).

From the Seminary 2001-03 Catalog, 28:

- A Exceptional work: surpassing or outstanding achievement of course objectives
- B Good work: strong, significant achievement of course objectives
- C Acceptable work: basic, essential achievement of course objectives
- D Marginal work: inadequate, minimal achievement of course objectives
- F Unacceptable work: failure to achieve course objectives.
