Catalog Description: This course is a foundational class in career counseling. As part of the class, students will be exposed to the knowledge, theories, skills, and techniques necessary to providing such services in various contexts and with a variety of groups. Students will also gain a Christian perspective on vocation, career, and work as a foundation for the practice of career counseling.

Objectives:
- CO 680 CAREER COUNSELING
  Anthony J. Headley, Ph.D. Instructor

This is intended to be a foundational course in career counseling that will equip students with the necessary knowledge and skills for performing such services in varied settings. The course incorporates both theoretical and applied dimensions of career counseling. Though primarily designed for students in the MA Counseling program, the course would be valuable for students in other programs who work with adolescent and other populations.

OBJECTIVES

As a result of completing this course, students shall:

1. Develop a biblical and theological understanding of career and work as a foundational basis for career counseling.
2. Be aware of the major theoretical approaches to career counseling.
3. Become familiar with career development theories and their relationship to career decision-making.
4. Acquire skills and techniques related to career counseling.

5. Be familiar with a variety of tools used in career counseling including assessment inventories, computer programs, DOT manuals and similar materials.

REQUIRED READINGS

RECOMMENDED READING

REQUIREMENTS

1. Active participation in class sessions.

This means that regular class attendance is an expectation in this course. I understand that emergency situations may sometimes arise and lead to your absence. Absences should be restricted to these kinds of circumstances.

2. Career Counseling Project

1. Each student will be required to complete a career counseling project involving at least 5 one-hour sessions. For this project, you will be paired with a class member.

The focus of the sessions should be career issues. The process may involve assisting the person with some career decision or reviewing a recent career decision. On completion of the 5 counseling sessions, each class member will write a minimum 5 page paper on the process. The paper should conform to the following outline:

A. Conceptualization of Issue/ Diagnosis

1. The identified issues and or problems focused on in the counseling
2. The identified counseling goals
3. The relationship of Christian issues to the career problem and as a means of illuminating it.
4. The relationship of career issues to other issues in the counselee’s life.

B. Process

1. The counselor-counselee relationship.
2. The counselee’s career decision-making process. What style or strategy does the individual use?
3. Any assessment procedures used and how they were used.
4. Counseling interventions used. Be sure to include some guided exposure to a career information system or a similar resources intervention

C. Outcomes

1. Discuss outcomes including goals achieved.
2. Discuss how the outcomes were related to the interventions.
3. Highlight strengths and weaknesses of the sessions including anything that you might do differently in the future.

D. Theoretical Orientation

1. Discuss the career counseling theory you used and your reasons for choosing this approach.
Papers will be strictly graded along these criteria. Students should demonstrate complete coverage of all these areas in a well-written style.

3. Career Center Visit

Students will be placed in small groups to visit a career center to become familiar with resources used in career counseling. As evidence of this visit, each group will prepare a 10-page paper (Double-spaced) that addresses the following:

- An introductory paragraph that gives basic information on the center(s) visited
- The personnel available at the center and how they function to meet the career needs of the population served
- The population served by the center
- The types of services offered at the center
- The variety and types of resources available at the center and how these are used to facilitate the career process
  (Examples of materials would include books, videos, computer and internet resources. Provide a sample of resources in an appendix at the end of the paper).

Each individual member of the group must contribute to this project by both visiting and assisting in the completion of the paper. There is a Career Center at Asbury College and at UK located on Rose Street. At UK’s center only current UK students and alumni can request a career counselor. However, the location is free for you to browse and use. Be sensitive so as not to put undue demands on the Centers’ personnel. The career center at Asbury College is located in rather small quarters. It would be best if no more than 2 seminary students were there simultaneously. Please call prior to the visit.

4. Exams

There will be a mid-term and final exam. The final exam will largely cover material from the mid-term onward. However, one section of the exam will require knowledge of the Hardy material and career counseling theories.

5. Career Assessment

You will complete the DISC and the Strong Interest Inventory (SII). Those who have recently completed the latter instrument may use those results. Otherwise, the test is available for a cost of around $16.00. The actual price will be confirmed at the first class session. This money should be paid to the office secretary. You will then use these results to write a minimum of a 3-4 page paper focusing on self-understanding gleaned from the instruments. You should address the following questions in your paper:

What personal and vocational information did you glean from the instruments? (How does your profile on the DISC relate to your career as a counselor? What strengths and/or vulnerabilities does it suggest? How do you show up on the various scales of the SII?)

How do the results of the testing fit with your understanding of yourself? (What are some areas of agreement and disagreement? How do you explain any results that do not fit with your previous self-understanding?)

What new insights have you gained from the assessment instruments?

What are the implications of the assessment results for your career choice? (How do the results support or not support your current career path? In light of these results, what might you wish to do differently? How do you integrate your career choice with your calling as a Christian?)

This 3-4 page paper forms part of your Christian Formation Portfolio. The paper relates specifically to the Church and Academy of the Foundation for Christian Formation. As stated on page 20 of the document, Christian Formation of Students at Asbury Theological Seminary. You should keep a clean copy of this paper for inclusion in your portfolio for your faculty guide.

6. Class Presentation on Career Needs for a Given Population

You will be assigned to different groups to lead a 40-minute class presentation. Presentations will focus on career counseling with five of the following populations:

- Career Counseling of Women
- Career Counseling of Men
- Career Development with School-aged populations: choose Elementary
  Middle School Students
High School Students
  · Career development of college-aged students
  · Career Development with physically challenged persons
  · Career Development of the culturally different
  · Mid life career development or adults in career transition
  · Career counseling with persons who have left the ministry

Groups should prepare a detailed handout for distribution to class members or make the material available in the class folder. Presentations will be graded on the basis of the quality of information, presentation style, quality of handouts etc.

7. Reading Requirement

Each student will be required to complete 1200 pages of reading for the course, including course texts. Please submit a report which includes the bibliographic reference, the pages read and total number of pages read. Failure to complete the reading requirement will lead to a small reduction in the final grade (e.g. A to A-).

SUBMISSION OF ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments may be submitted in hardcopy or by e-mail. If submitted by e-mail, the assignment title should conform to the following format: student’s last name, the course number, and assignment title. For example, the submission of the counseling project should read as follows:

Online Section Descriptions and Communication Guidelines

The Virtual Classroom is built upon the open-source Moodle platform. By logging into http://one.asburyseminary.edu and clicking on the Virtual Campus tab (upper right corner) you will have access to this course and be able to collaborate with participant-colleagues and me throughout the course. The following are functions with which you should familiarize yourself:

1. The Course Information Center contains many features to be used throughout the semester:

   a) Course News and Announcements, where I will post items important for the entire class;

   b) Syllabus, where a copy of the syllabus is provided;

   c) To Professor, which is a way for you to post a message directly to me and we can discuss an issue privately;

   d) Course Questions, which is a public forum where you can publicly post any questions you have regarding the course so others may see your message and respond. Anytime you have a question or comment about the course, the schedule, the assignments, or anything else that may be of interest to other participants and me you should post it to the Course Questions Forum;

   e) Prayer Forum, which is a public forum where you can post prayer concerns and praises for all to see. This is a way for us to build community;

   f) Open Forum, which is a public forum where you can post anything that is not course-related for all to see. Examples include someone getting married, an upcoming birthday, discussions on topics not course-related, etc. This is a way for us to build community.

2. Modules, which are located below the Course Information Center, will contain forums where group discussions will take place, documents or other files to download or view online, and assignment links where you will post your assignments to me. Modules will be clearly labeled so you can follow along during the semester.
