A Syllabus and General Guide for

CH 721
THEOLOGY OF LUTHER

Spring 2001

Prepared by

J. Steven O’Malley, Ph.D.
I. Course Description
This course will investigate the life and thought of Martin Luther, with emphasis upon a first-hand analysis of major theological issues and confessional documents of his ministry. Lectures, reading and discussion will constitute the main substance of our learning.

II. LEARNING GOALS
1. Identify the main features in the historical context of Luther’s era and explore their influence upon his life and thought.
2. Understand the major events in the life of Martin Luther and their influence upon his thought.
3. Evidence an understanding of major historiographical considerations in the life and thought of Martin Luther, including the relative merits of different schools of interpreting his thought.
4. Evaluate the major doctrinal emphases in Luther’s thought, in the context of his theological method and historical context.
5. Understand Luther’s theological contribution to the Protestant Reformation, in light of other major expressions of Reformation thought.
6. Clarify the implications of Luther’s theology for the practice of ministry in the contemporary world.

III. PREREQUISITES
Church History 500, or an equivalence, is prerequisite to this course. In addition, it is important for each class participant to manifest an attitude of open inquiry under God’s leading, recognizing that the mind of Christ can be more fully discerned by an awareness of the shaping of His Body in history.

V. COURSE PROCEDURES

Our aim will be a first-hand investigation of issues and a critical understanding of Luther’s theology. Lectures on the life and ministry of Martin Luther will be given and these will be interspersed with discussion sessions devoted to class discussion and interaction with lectures and readings.

1. A reading report is to be submitted on the last day of class (indicate percentage of assigned readings completed and lists of supplemental readings appropriate to individual research selected). (20 pts)

2. Complete class attendance and class participation (20 pts.)
   (note: more than two unexcused absences will result in grade reduction). Class will be cancelled in case Jessamine and Fayette County schools are closed for inclement weather.

3. One individual brief (or position statement) will be selected and prepared in relation to the pro/contra exercises (5-7 pages, double-spaced, and documented where appropriate.* They will be presented in class according to the schedule given below, with copies to class members. (15 points for content and form of brief; 5 points for presentation= 20 points).
   (note: all papers to be based on primary sources, not from Althaus; secondary sources are to be cited to assist interpretation of those sources.)

4. Class members will also be divided into working teams, and a 5-7 page brief will be prepared (double-spaced and documented where appropriate*) will be prepared by each tema, for presentation of the day of the exercise. Each team member is requested to submit a one-page outline response to the question under consideration prior to the presentation of the team brief. Copies of briefs are to be prepared for all class members (Crusaders, Prophets, and Evangelists); 10 points for brief, 10 points for presentation). See schedule for dates. (20 points)
   (*Lack of conformity to this length or late submission will result in grade reduction.)

5. Two examinations will be given during the semester: a mid-term and a final. These exams will reflect the assigned readings as well as class discussions. Two questions will be selected for the mid term and three questions for the final; notes may be used in class. (mid term=50 pts; final exam=75 pts)
A 15-20 page research paper is to be prepared, in consultation with the instructor, on an aspect of Luther’s theology or practice of ministry. The paper is to reflect coherence and insightfulness in its discussion, and competent grammatical form. It is due on May 4 (Tuesday). (50 points)

A reading report indicating that all assigned readings have been completed is due on the day of the final exam. It should also indicate what reading has been completed in the preparation of research papers.

Total possible points: 205

Grading scale:

185-205 A (90-100 %)
164-184 B (80-90%)
144-163 C (70-80%)
123-143 D (60-70%)
below 122 = F

Class Exercises (Pro/Contra Format)

1. Luther’s distinction between the general and the proper knowledge of God gives inadequate basis for a doctrine of general revelation. (pro/contra).

2. Luther’s “theology of the cross” involves a valid understanding of the appropriateness of reason in knowing and serving God. (pro/conta).

3. Luther’s understanding of the inspiration of the Bible gives due recognition to the importance of all books of the New Testament. (pro/conta).

4. Luther’s doctrine of Satan implicates God in the problem of evil. (pro/contra).

5. Luther’s Christology adequately distinguishes between Christ’s humanity and divinity. (pro/contra).

6. Luther gives no place for the law in the Christian life (pro/contra).

7. Luther’s emphasis on the invisible aspect of the church gives inadequate room for the renewal of the visible form of the church. (pro/contra).

8. Luther’s doctrine of the priesthood of all believers undermines the role of the ordained ministry in the ministry of the church. (pro/contra).

9. By comparison with the Roman Catholic view, Luther’s doctrine of the Lord’s Supper contains a more valid understanding of how Christ’s grace is available to sinners. (pro/contra).

Exploratory Questions of the Theology of Martin Luther

1. Why does Luther want to distinguish between the “general” and the “proper” knowledge of God, and what would be some major implications of each for building one’s basic theological position?

2. What were the reasons that led Luther to propose a “Theology of the Cross” (theologia crucis) and what are some of the distinctive features of such a theology?

3. What was Luther’s doctrine of the inspiration and significance of the Bible (hermeneutics) and assess whether you think it is valid for our day.

4. According to Luther, what is the difference between man as created and man as sinner, and how does Luther’s understanding of the nature of sin, Satan, and the wrath of God influence his understanding of man’s condition?

5. What was distinctive about Luther’s understanding of the presence of God in Jesus Christ? Assess.
6. What was distinctive about Luther’s understanding of the work of Jesus Christ as our Reconciler and Redeemer? Assess.

7. What is the relation between Luther’s doctrines of alien righteousness, the new birth, and faith?

8. What is the relation between law and gospel, and what is the place of the law in the Christian’s life?

9. What are the distinctive features of Luther’s doctrine of the church, and assess whether you think it is valid for our day.

10. What does Luther understand to be the proper relation between the church and the state, and what are the implications for the Christian’s involvement in the political process?

11. What is the nature and purpose of the ministry, according to Luther, and assess the validity of his doctrine of ministry.

12. What is Luther’s theology of baptism and how would you evaluate his position?

13. What is Luther’s theology of the Lord’s Supper and how would you evaluate his position?

14. What were Luther’s views on eschatology? Evaluate his position in the light of his age and ours.

15. Select of theological doctrine from Luther’s theology and develop an interpretation of that doctrine that reflects a specific contemporary cultural context of ministry which is characterized by unfamiliarity with Christianity.
