COURSE DESCRIPTION:
This course is designed to lay a foundation for the rest of the student’s seminary career by familiarizing the student with the amazing story of Redemption as told in the Old Testament. To accomplish this goal, the student will be exposed to the geographical and socio-historical context from which the Old Testament emerges; the content, historical flow and theological structure of the Old Testament; the genre and history of the Canon; and the scholarship which has sought for generations to understand this collection of Scripture. It is my hope that this class will provide the student with a framework for their study of the OT, while investing in each a profound excitement and respect for these sacred texts.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
1) To become familiar with the history and geography of the biblical world in order to contextualize the OT narrative in real space and time.
2) To become familiar with the sociological structure of the biblical world in order to contextualize OT personalities within the relational structures from which they emerge.
3) To become familiar with the intentional theological structure of the OT in order to relate its message of redemption to that of the New.
4) To be exposed to issues of genre and authorship in order to facilitate future study and exposition of the text.
5) To engage the major questions of OT study and scholarship (historicity, canonicity, authorship) in order to equip the student to respond to these same questions for those they are called to serve.

COURSE PROCEDURES & REQUIREMENTS:

Method of Instruction:
The format of the class will be primarily lecture, augmented by visual presentations and small and large group discussion. Student responsibilities will include a careful reading of a broad selection of materials, both in the required and recommended texts, and in the Course Packet.

Textbooks:
The required and recommended texts are on reserve in the library. These textbooks and a Course Packet are available for purchase at the bookstore. The materials in the Course Packet are also on reserve at the circulation desk and may be checked out to either copy or read. There will be numerous handouts for this class which will be distributed once in class, and always available on the Intranet.

Requirements

20% Quizzes. Each Tuesday students will be briefly quizzed on assigned reading. Of these quizzes, the lowest grade will be dropped. There will be no make-ups. In addition, most of the quizzes will have an “extra” question drawn from the recommended readings. Students will be able to gain 5 additional percentage points over the course of the semester by correctly answering these “extra” questions.

10% Book Review. A three-four page book review of Jon Levenson’s Sinai & Zion: An Entry into the Jewish Bible is due by Friday, 11/16 at 5:00 pm. In reading Levenson’s book, I recommend that you read the “Introduction” last. This review should answer the following three questions: (1) What is the content of this book?; (2) How does this content interact with other course material?; (3) What is the student’s response to the information and arguments presented in this book? This book review must be well-written, presented in standard form, clean and critical. Reviews received after the posted hour will be penalized half a grade per day, weekends included! Further instructions are available in “How to Write a Book Review” on the e-mail desktop page under “Resources” and on the Intranet.

30% Midterm Exam.
40% Final Exam.

Groups. Most Thursdays we will break into small discussion groups in order to evaluate some aspect of the assigned reading and synthesize it with class material. Attendance in these groups will be recorded. Each absence from the Thursday discussion groups will result in the deduction of 2 percentage points from your final evaluation. Although not required, it is strongly suggested that students use the to-be-distributed course list to form study and discussion groups in order to provide further opportunity to process and interact with course material.
PRESENCE, preparedness and participation are always expected. Class absences will be considered in your final evaluation.

*Remembering that “A” work is defined at Asbury as “Exceptional work: outstanding or supassing achievement of course objectives” (Asbury Catalog, p. 28), know that to score an “A” on the midterm and final exam the student must show evidence of having critically synthesized reading material and class presentations and must display familiarity with the bulk of the recommended readings.
