I. Welcome

Welcome to DO 690, John Wesley’s Theology Today. The life and thought of John Wesley is fascinating, marked by highs as well as by lows. It is filled with all the drama of peoples, places and movements, large conversations as well as smaller ones. Besides being the founder of Methodism, John Wesley was the most important single figure in eighteenth-century Anglicanism. Our explorations throughout this course will indicate just why this was so.

Beyond my work in the field of Wesley studies, my theological interests include soteriology, anthropology, and Christology, to name but a few.

This is the first time that I am offering this course via ExL, and though I enjoy working with computers, I suspect that I will make more than my share of errors the first time around. Please, then, be patient with me and I will be patient with you.

We are on a journey together and I hope by means of our discoveries that we will have a greater appreciation of the life and thought of John Wesley, of his significance with respect to eighteenth-century Anglicanism and Methodism, and of his relevance for contemporary Christian practice and witness.

II. Office Hours

I will go online Monday and Friday afternoons to respond to your questions. If I make any changes in this format, I will be sure to inform you.

If you ever need to contact me, I will be available on Friday afternoons from 1:00 until 4:00 p.m. in my office.

My email address is ken_collins@asburyseminary.edu

My office telephone number is 859-858-2368.

IV. Course Description:

The course will explore the theology of John Wesley in terms of his doctrine of salvation. Principal attention will be given to the following elements:

1) the nature of justification, 2) the significance of Wesley’s Aldersgate experience, 3) the new birth, 4) assurance 5) the faith of a servant, and 6) Christian perfection.

In terms of methodology, the course will proceed in a Socratic and dialogical manner as it entertains an array of possible meanings of selected texts. This process, intense in many ways, should enhance the ability of students not only to understand the thought of Wesley in greater depth in its eighteenth-century context, but also to think historically and critically. Moreover, the course will be attentive to current scholarly interpretations of Wesley’s soteriology and will assess such judgments in light of the primary evidence. All the tasks of the course, then, will concern exploring Wesley’s practical divinity in terms of its relevance for twentieth-century theology and ministry.

V. General Goals:

Upon completion of the course successful students will be able to do all of the following:

1) Identify the major elements in Wesley’s soteriology, especially in terms of the order evidenced in the key sermon, “The Scripture Way of Salvation.”
2) Evidence an awareness of historiographical concerns in the interpretation of Wesley’s soteriology, especially in terms of narrow, limited or unfair (biased) perspectives
3) Explore the interplay between religion and culture especially in terms of the intellectual developments (philosophical and theological) of the eighteenth century as reflected in Wesley’s writings.
4) Display an extensive knowledge of the theological distinctions and nuances employed by Wesley in crafting an articulate and well-developed theology, especially in the areas of justification, the new birth, and entire sanctification.
5) Demonstrate an understanding of the continuing significance of Wesleyan theology today especially for the broader ecumenical community.
6) Conceive one's calling as a minister of the gospel in light of the Methodist theology and practice.
7) Articulate the relevance of Wesleyan theology for effective pastoral ministry today

Wrap Up Week December 1-8, 2003 (No assignment due)

Second Exam: Exam Week (Monday, December 8, 2003)

Please observe that the exams are not cumulative. After we finish a section and test it, we move on to another. The “final exam,” then, is simply the second exam and it only covers half the course.

IX. Course Procedures:

A. Online Guidelines

Please be sure to share a brief profile (maybe even a picture) of yourself in the Discussion Center. My profile is listed under ExL faculty on Asbury’s homepage (Look under Extended Learning, then ExL People Links or just click on the following:)

http://www.ats.wilmore.ky.us/exl/people/ppllinks.htm

While I am sure that each of you are aware of the intended use of each of the items which appear in the DO690X folder, let me summarize the manner in which I intend to use them this semester:

The Course Center will contain a copy of the syllabus as well as all class modules.

The Discussion Center will be used for all public communications. Anytime you have a question or comment about the course, the modules, the assignments, or anything else which would be of interest to your classmates and me you should post to the Discussion Center.
The DO690 Office is for private correspondence between you and me. This will contain items that you do not want to appear publicly before all of your classmates or items that you think may embarrass me if they were to appear publicly.

The Archives Center will be used for storing correspondence which has already been explored during the course of the semester. This keeps the Discussion Center from becoming too unmanageable.

The Chat Center is intended primarily for real-time interaction among students. You can get together with other members to study, ask questions, or to explore topics.

The Resource Center provides access to a number of specific tools available to all ExL students. These include access to the B.L. Fisher Library, the Services in Estes Chapel, ExL Updates, Guidelines for Success, Helpful Hints, Interesting Links, a Powerpoint Viewer (which you can use to view my overheads) as well as a Real Audio player. I encourage you to take advantage of all these resources, and particularly to utilize the chapel access in order to connect with the seminary’s on-campus opportunities for spiritual growth.

B. Testing

Two examinations will be given during the semester: a mid-term and a final. This component will constitute 50% of the grade.

C. Sermon Outlines:

Students must outline the sixteen sermons of Wesley listed below. (Pace yourself by doing about two a week, skipping the week of exams, and you should have no problem.) Each outline must reveal the major themes and emphases of each sermon in a way that is clear, coherent, and comprehensive. Do not simply follow Burwash’s outlines in terms of the sermons for they do not pick up enough detail. Besides, the outlining should be original. On the other hand, students should not include excessive detail in the outlines. This task, then, calls for judgment on the part of students as to what is soteriologically important and what is not. Exercise such judgment. In addition, these outlines, which must be typed, should be placed in a notebook (or bound in some other fashion) and are due at the seminary post office on Thursday, December 4, 2003. It is your responsibility to see to it that your sermons arrive on time. Late submissions will result in grade reduction. The outlines will make up 25% of the grade. They should be mailed to me at the seminary: 204 N. Lexington Ave., Wilmore, Kentucky 40390.
D. Reading Report

An email reading report which indicates that you have completed all of the required reading is due on the date of the final exam, in the DO690 Office. Failure to read all of the assignments will result in grade reduction. For example, if you leave out one hundred pages from the Burwash text, then instead of receiving an “A-“ you will receive a “B+. “ If you leave out more material, then the grade will fall even lower.

E. Class participation

Class participation and completion of the assigned tasks (tapes and readings) will count as 25% of your grade. I am looking for theological reflection, the ability to think globally, the capacity both to see the larger picture of Wesley’s theology and to make appropriate connections. Be creative, feel free in your thinking, and do have fun. A suitable response might be composed of a paragraph or two of about 50 to 75 words. Try not to be too wordy. I look for quality of thought and reflection not quantity of words.

XI. Bibliography

Primary Sources: Books

Unpublished at This Point

Published

Students may also access the far more extensive Wesley bibliography on Asbury’s homepage (look under “Resources”) or download it from http://wesley.nnc.edu/
