ATTENTION      ATTENTION      ATTENTION
There are Pre-class assignments DUE on each of the 3 class sessions.

Each person is to prepare a one page typed, double-spaced document that highlights aspects of the reading from which you gained new insights or about which you have questions or about which you disagree. In addition, include two discussion questions that can be used in small group discussion. No late pre-class assignments will be accepted. See details below.

Course Description (This description applies to all the Treatment Planning Courses)
In order to function as a competent clinician, one must develop competence in diagnosing and effectively treating a variety of problems with which they are confronted. In order to do this one must be thoroughly familiar with a variety of treatment modalities. This course is designed to provide students with an introduction to assessment, clinical diagnosis and treatment planning. Students will have an opportunity to become acquainted with material relevant to treatment issues both from a Christian historical perspective and current knowledge.

As a result of completing these courses, students shall:
1. Become familiar with principles for applying Christian thought to the field of counseling.
2. Learn how to conceptualize cases from various theoretical perspectives.
3. Develop the ability to think like a clinician using relevant diagnostic information.
4. Value a collegial process in the development of treatment plans.
5. Learn how to develop and implement treatment plans including cultivating the ability to assess progress and formulate timelines.
6. Learn the value of and how to keep effective treatment records.
7. Understand how to effectively utilize supervision to facilitate quality treatment.
8. Understand the role of psychotropic medications and mood altering chemicals in the treatment of mental and emotional disorders.
9. Understand how to make appropriate referrals.
CO603 focuses particularly on issues of integration of theology and counseling that is, becoming familiar with principles for applying Christian thought to the field of counseling.

Course Requirements
1. PRE-CLASS ASSIGNMENTS. 20%

Each person will create a one page document that highlights aspects of the reading from which you gained new insights or about which you have questions or about which you disagree. In addition, include two discussion questions that can be used in small group discussion. No late pre-class assignments will be accepted.

- Due Friday Morning. This assignment is DUE on the first day of class. Read Entwistle, Chapters 1-4, and the articles noted above (typed, double-spaced).
- Due Friday Afternoon. Entwistle, Ch 5-8, and the assigned articles noted above. (typed, double-spaced).
- Due Sat Morning. Entwistle, Ch. 9-13, and the assigned article(s) for today’s class (typed, double-spaced).

2. Integration Paper. 40%.

You will have an opportunity to “practice” integration from an allied perspective (see Entwistle, pg.287-294 for a brief example). Choose a psychological theory or counseling topic that can be explored in-depth from both psychological and theological perspectives. Some of the recommended texts may be helpful to your paper.

Possible topics: Conversion, depression, anxiety, forgiveness, guilt, shame, anger, self-concept/self-esteem, gratitude, confession/repentance/apology, happiness; schools of counseling (Christian or secular)

Integrative analysis will have the following sections:
- Review contemporary psychological research about this topic, (2) biblical study about how this topic is addressed in Scripture, and/or analysis of this topic using theological resources. Your reference list must reflect that you have engaged the scholarly literature from these disciplines to construct this part of your paper. [5 pages]
- In what ways do the disciplines of biblical studies, theological studies, and psychological studies inform your understanding of this psychological concept? [1 pages]
- What implications for counseling can you draw as a result of all of your research? [1 page]

Final length of the paper: 7 pages, plus references. Format: APA

3. Position Paper. 40%

Entwistle presents several positions on the integration of psychology and theology. Develop a three page paper that summarizes your own position on integration. Your paper should show substantial documentation using scholarly sources (i.e., the assigned or recommended readings, other journal articles or books written for professionals). State the advantages and limitations of your position. State the reasons why you presently adopt this approach to integration. Your paper is graded on the quality of your thinking and presentation and NOT on whether you and I hold the same understanding of integration.

Grading Policies and Procedures

Course assignments shall be graded using the following grade ranges:
