MODULE AGENDA
For each module there will be discussion questions posted for your response. You will post a response to each question and then also respond to at least two other responses by your classmates. Since the modules are two weeks long you will have two weeks to complete your readings, viewings and assignments.

EXPECTATIONS
What you can expect of me:
1. Prompt replies to questions and postings.
2. Interaction, participation, and direction in the ongoing discussions that will occur over the course of the semester.
3. Prompt feedback and assessment on assignments.

What I expect of you:
1. Participation in online discussion.
2. On time completion of assignments.
3. Your honest questions when you don't understand the material or the instructions.
4. Your patience as we work together in this medium.

GUIDELINES
1. Assignments: All assignments are due by the stated due dates. Late assignments will be penalized one letter grade per day late. For example, a B paper turned in one day late becomes a C, etc.
2. Postings: should be limited to between 50 and 75 words.
3. Discussion: A crucial element of this course is the dialogue that we enter into with each other. All discussions are to be in the vein of encouragement, gentleness, patience, persistence, and hope. This does not mean that we will not challenge, confront, or question each other. It does mean that these things will be undertaken for the purpose of growth and stimulation to think and understand the subject at hand more deeply and more intimately.

HOW TO SUBMIT YOUR WORK
Please submit your responses to the appropriate assignment links. When you name them be sure to use your last name in the title of your response.
EXERCISES

Exercise #1 - A Three View Visit. Write three, one page (typewritten, double spaced) descriptions of a religious service you have attended recently. The service should be a non-Christian contemporary cult or new religious movement: consider a group like Christian Science, Jehovah’s Witnesses, Church of Latter Day Saints (Mormon). One of the descriptions should be from the insider’s stance, one from a reporter’s stance, and one from a specialist’s stance (for the latter, choose the viewpoint of the psychologist, the sociologist, or the philosopher). See Muck, How To Study Religion, Chapter 2. Due March 7.

Exercise #2 - Describe a Biblical Cult or New Religious Movement. Find a cultic group or new religious movement in the Bible that seems to qualify it as such by your definition. Answer the following questions: What is a cult or new religious movement? Why does this biblical group qualify? How do the people of God relate to this group in the Bible? Four to five typewritten, double spaced pages. Due March 21.

Exercise #3 - Compare and Contrast. Do a religious studies comparison along the lines described in Muck, How To Study Religion, Chap. 7. Select the two elements to be compared from two of the religions we have studied this semester. Four to five typewritten, double spaced pages. Due April 4.

Exercise #4 - Evaluation. Choose one of the new religious movements we have studied this semester. After briefly summarizing its history, beliefs, and practices, evaluate it according to three standards: (1) truth; (2) value; (3) effectiveness. For the definitions of these terms consult Muck, How to Study Religion, chapter 8. Four to five double-spaced typewritten pages. Due April 18.

EXAMINATIONS

There will be two examinations. The first is on March 21. It will cover the content of the first half of the course, through Module 3. The exam will consist of two or three integrative essay questions in which you will be asked to know and interact with the history, beliefs, and practices of religions of the second book, civil religions, and cults.

The second is on May 2nd. It will cover the material of Modules 4, 5, and 6 only. The exam will consist of two or three integrative essay questions in which you will be asked to know and interact with the history, beliefs, and practices of export religions, anti-Christian religions, and pluralisms.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

1. Students will have objective knowledge of the ten religions studied, with enough mastery to write a short, cogent summary of the history, beliefs, and practices of each.
2. Students will be able to do field research into a religion’s worship practice and behavior.
3. Students will be able to interview people about their religious beliefs.
4. Students will be able to compare and contrast discrete elements of religious belief systems other than their own.
