1-1-2008

CO 610 Ethical and Legal Issues in Counseling

George R. Ross

Follow this and additional works at: http://place.asburyseminary.edu/syllabi

Recommended Citation
http://place.asburyseminary.edu/syllabi/2546
ETHICAL AND LEGAL ISSUES IN COUNSELING (CO-610)
COURSE SYLLABUS JANUARY 7-18, 2008

Class Meeting Time

Classes will meet from 8:00 a.m. till 11:45 on Monday thru Friday for two consecutive weeks. Contact the registrar’s office for starting date and room assignment.

Course Description

This three (3) credit hour course is designed to help students in the M.A. Counseling Program and the M.Div. program to identify and examine ethical and legal issues encountered in the counseling process and to explore ways to effectively deal with them. Students completing the course will develop sensitivity to the ethical and legal aspects of counseling process, better appreciate the ethical constraints under which a counselor works, and develop skills to critically examine how they conduct themselves as counselors.

Welcome

It is indeed a privilege to welcome you to Ethical and Legal Issues in Counseling. During the next several weeks we will be examining how counseling ethics and federal and state laws impact your conduct as a counselor. While you interact with the course material, other students enrolled, and with me, your professor, I encourage you to keep in mind four questions:

----- Why do I need to complete a course that focuses on the ethical and legal issues in counseling?

----- In order to become a competent counselor, what specifics do I need to know about ethical and legal issues in counseling?

----- What does it mean to think ethically about the counseling process?

----- What outcomes can I expect from completing this course on ethical and legal issues in counseling?

Prerequisites

None

Maximum Course Enrollment

30
Required Readings

------, (2005) Reading Packet, available from the bookstore (100 pages)

Collateral Readings

Course Objectives

Upon completion of this course, students will be able to: (1) list the elements of a professional code of counseling ethics, (2) explain a sound rationale for conceptualizing the problem of ethics in counseling, (3) depict a framework for addressing ethical and legal issues in counseling, (4) define ethics from a variety of philosophical viewpoints, (5) identify pertinent federal and state laws that apply to the practice of counseling, and (6) apply various ethical and legal standards to the counseling process.
Course Outline

Class One: Defining Ethics

Class Two: Christian Ethics

Class Three: Psychology, Theology, and Spirituality and the Counseling Process

Class Four: Models of Ethical Decision Making

Class Five: Confidentiality & Privileged Communication
          Documentation & Counseling Records, HIPAA

Class Six: Homosexuality and Other Tough Calls

Class Seven: Application of White’s Model

Class Eight: Application of White’s Model

Class Nine: Domestic Violence and Other Issues of Abuse

Class Ten: Course Evaluation & Final Examination

Course Requirements

1. Daily attendance
2. Examinations: Final
3. Class participation
4. Homework assignments and required readings
   It is recommended that you read each of the required text prior to the beginning of classes on January 7 or by the end of the first week of class. Books should be available at the campus bookstore.

Evaluation Procedures

Attendance & class participation  20%
Homework assignments          50%
Final Examination             30%

Grading Scale

95-100 = A                90-94 = A-
85-89 = B+               80- 84 = B-
75-79 = C+               70-74 = C-
65-69 = D+               60- 64 = D-
Instructor Expectations

You are expected to attend every class session. The concepts and ideas being taught are highly integrated and interrelated. Missing class will adversely impact your ability to develop the skills being taught in this course. Prompt arrival in class prepared to work is also expected. This is a challenging course and we have a lot of material to cover in a short period of time. In addition, your active participation in class is required for you to maximally benefit from this course. Passive learning will not be helpful in this class. Finally, your honest and timely feedback regarding the content and presentation of this course is essential. I invite you to join me and your classmates in making this course an enjoyable and rewarding experience.

Plagiarism and Academic Dishonesty

Plagiarism is the act of presenting the ideas or work of another person as your own. It does not matter if you use the work of another that is printed in a journal or book, or simply resubmit the work of another student. If it is not properly referenced and displayed as a quote or idea of another, it is plagiarism. Academic dishonesty refers to all other questionable actions that may occur related to tests and other class activities. Plagiarism and academic dishonesty will not be tolerated and Seminary policies will be followed. This means course failure and the possibility of additional Seminary disciplinary action.

Copies of Assignments and Make Up Examinations

It is recommended that students submit copies of assignments rather than original works. Use of duplicates are (1) for the student's protection, assuring that work will not be lost and (2) preserves original work for possible job interviews. Make-up examinations will not be offered, unless unusual or non preventable circumstances preclude a student from taking a test at the designated time (e.g. death of a parent).

About Your Instructor

Dr. Ross has completed training in reality therapy with William Glasser, M.D., and in rational behavioral therapy with Maxie C. Maultsby, Jr., M.D.. Dr. Ross is a licensed psychologist, a certified chemical dependency counselor, and a recent recipient of a master in divinity from Asbury Theological Seminary. He is also author of the book, Treating Adolescent Substance Abuse: Understanding the Fundamental Elements, recently released by Allyn & Bacon publishers. Dr. Ross is nationally recognized as a leader in the field of teenage substance abuse. Since 1978, he has worked with nearly one thousand chemically dependent youth and their families. He has given several workshops on this topic, appeared on a national radio program, Focus on the Family, with noted psychologist, Dr. James C. Dobson, and was an invited participant at the White house Conference For A Drug Free America.
Bibliography

