CD 552 Discipleship and Missions: Preparing People to Serve Locally and Globally

Julie Broderson

Follow this and additional works at: http://place.asburyseminary.edu/syllabi

Recommended Citation
CD552 – Discipleship and Missions: Preparing People to Serve Locally and Globally
1-hour Credit Seminar
March 23-24, 2007

Starting with biblical foundations for mission and discipleship going hand-in-hand, this seminar will explore what it means to be a servant in a different culture than our own and offer practical ways to train and guide short-term mission team, before, during, and after the trip. It will also focus on preparing people to serve in local, cross-cultural settings.

Seminar leader: Julie Broderson, Pastor of Missions at Centenary United Methodist Church, Missionary to Brazil, UM Mission Society Board Member, Speaker for the International Leadership Institute. Contact for the course: Ellen L. Marmon, Instructor in Christian Discipleship, 858-2054, or First Class e-mail.

Required Texts

Assignments
1. Course reading and short reflections for each book. Due March 23
2. Discipleship plan for training a short-term missions team for eight weeks and 2 weeks of re-entry reflection. (you’ll do this in pairs)
3. 3 page paper reflecting on the biblical foundations for Christian disciples serving in cross-cultural settings (Greenway and class handouts).
4. You must attend the entire seminar and complete all three assignments to receive credit for this course.

Times: Friday 6:30-9:00pm; Saturday 9am - 4pm
On the Wilmore Campus