A: The Course

Introduction

This course aims

- to prepare students for ministry by training them to analyze and address the moral life from a Christian perspective
- to enable ministers to equip their congregations for understanding moral responsibility and for practicing ministry with integrity
- to assist in training ministers who will draw all persons, including those who are excluded by society, into the care and guidance of the community of faith under the Lordship of Christ
- to assist in the training of ministers who will exemplify the Gospel-mandated holy life.

Course Outcomes

It is anticipated that by the end of the course students will be able to:

- provide a biblical basis for the moral life.
- describe various historical and contemporary Christian interpretations of social and personal moral issues.
- use the basic vocabulary of ethical analysis.
- use basic tools of social analysis.
- explain the Wesleyan emphasis on the various dimensions of holiness, specifically the expectation for personal integrity, moral concern, and social responsibility.
- recognize and explain at a basic level: the needs, contexts, and insights of various cultural groups and marginalized communities in society and in the church (these may include, but are not limited to, particularity arising from ethnic, gender, class, and geographic locations).
  - explain how responses to moral problems and moral integrity shape congregational life.

Required texts

Boulton, Wayne G., Thomas D.Kennedy, and Allen Verhey, eds., From Christ to the World: Introductory Readings in Christian Ethics (Grand Rapids: Eerdmans, 1994).

Dayton, Donald W., Discovering an Evangelical Heritage (Peabody, MA: Hendrickson, 1988).

Hollinger, Dennis, Choosing the Good: Christian Ethics in a Complex World (Grand Rapids: Baker, 2002).

Miles, Rebekah L., The Pastor as Moral Guide (Minneapolis: Fortress, 1999).

In addition to these texts students will be required to access various electronic resources. Further information will be provided on this later. (A packet of readings has previously been required for CS601 and may still be required for students taking this class with other instructors, however, it will not be required in this class).

Professor

Dr Brian Edgar is Professor of Theological Studies at ATS. He is an Australian and will direct this course from Australia. However, as ExL students well know, physical location makes little difference to extended learning!

Prior to taking up his present full-time position he taught systematic theology and ethics full-time for eighteen years in undergraduate, Master of Divinity and Doctor of Ministry programs at a number of Australian theological institutions and, on occasions, overseas. He is Moderator for philosophy and ethics for the Australian College of Theology (Australia's largest theological accrediting agency – a moderator is responsible for ensuring parity of academic standard between the different institutions accredited by the ACT).

Brian has been an advisor on ethics to the Australia Government's Gene Technology Regulator (who authorizes all artificial gene manipulations). He is also a member of the World Evangelical Alliance's Theological Commission, a Fellow of the Institute for the Study of Christianity in an Age of Science and Technology (Australia) and a double award winner with the Templeton Foundation's program for the conduct of courses on science and faith as well as being a winner of a Templeton award for writing on science and faith.

He is the author of The Message of the Trinity (IVP, 2004), as well as a number of articles on other topics.

From 2004-2007 Brian was Director of Public Theology for the Australian Evangelical Alliance which involved him in public policy discussions concerning a wide range of ethical issues.

Contact Professor

Moodle: contact concerning this course will take place via the Moodle site for this course where there are various options. If you have anything that should be said to me alone about the class (issues with your work, your grades, personal matters not for the whole of the class) please be sure that you contact me via the To Professor link in Moodle. Your assignments which are to be graded should be posted to the appropriate assignment link in Moodle. (see below on Mode of submission of assignments).

Email: My general email address is brian.edgar@asburyseminary.edu and anything sent to that address will, naturally, go to my mailbox, but for the purposes of this class contact will normally be via Moodle.

Mail: Contact by mail will not be the norm. However, my address is 20 Highland Boulevard, Ringwood, Victoria, Australia, 3134. (If you plug that into GoogleEarth it will take you across continents and show you where I live.)

Telephone: Telephone contact will not be the norm, however can be negotiated. If you feel like calling please note that there is a considerable difference in time zones – a factor complicated by changes as a result of summer times in both Australia and the US. + 61-3-98122294

Skype: Search for brianedgar1 This will not be the norm either but is a possibility. I can video Skype if you like.

B: Assessment

Overview

- 30% Take-Home Integrative Essay on first half of the course
- 30% Take-Home Case Study
- 30% Final Examination (short answer, 45 minutes)
- 10% Participation in Discussion Forums

Requirement 1: Mid-Term Integrative Essays

(1600 words) Two or three essay questions will require moral reflection on the various biblical and historical materials covered in the first half of the course. (30%).

Requirement 2: Case Study

(1600 words) The Case Study will describe an issue in ministry and will require analysis from various moral and social perspectives. (30%).

Requirement 3: Final Examination

The examination is oriented toward objective knowledge of ethical theory and historic traditions. (30%)

Requirement 4: Participation in Discussion forums and responses to Assigned Questions

You will be interacting on-line in different locations and assessed appropriately. (10%).

You will make postings in the appropriate Forum within each module, either as part of the whole class or as part of a team. This is because some discussions are simply too cumbersome with the whole class. It is better if numbers are limited by dividing the class into teams. This on-line interaction is not only necessary educationally, it is, in effect, an indication of 'attendance' in the class. Attendance (ie participation through posting) is a requirement of the course and of the Seminary as a whole as Federal financial support is dependent upon it and authorities can require Asbury to provide evidence of participation. If there is a week where you are not able to participate you need to discuss that with me.

There are two parts to the on-line intereaction: (a) Responses to set questions – which means posting short answers to specific questions; and (b) Other comments initiating discussion or responding to other people's postings.

You should be reading and posting to the appropriate forums at least once each week. Preferably twice; More often is possible and can be helpful but can also be counter-productive if the quality goes down! Each week you will typically need to be posting your own responses to a set question or questions and also responding to one or more postings by others. So two postings would usually be expected, perhaps on the same day, perhaps not.

Mode of submission of assignments

Each assignment will be posted on Moodle in the appropriate module with instructions. Your assignments will only be seen by you and myself. They must be submitted by midnight Wilmore time on the due date, and late submissions may be graded for reduced credit and may not receive written feedback. My responses to your assignments and your grades will be linked to each assignment request. Again, only each individual student and myself can see the grades and comments for that particular assignment. You will know the assignment has been graded when you click on the assignment link.

Grading criteria

Refer to the Academic Catalog for further information. The following descriptions will provide the guidelines for grades based.

A = Exceptional work: surpassing, markedly outstanding achievement of course objectives

B = Good work: strong, significant achievement of course objectives

C = Acceptable work: basic, essential achievement of course objectives

D = Marginal work: minimal or inadequate achievement of course objectives

F = Unacceptable work: failure to achieve course objectives

However, some assignments lend themselves better to scoring by numerical assessment rather than by assigning a letter grade initially. These numerical scorings must be converted to letter grades for recording at the end of the semester. The following breakdown is used for conversion purposes.

A (95-100), A- (90-94)

B+ (87-89), B (83-86), B- (80-82)

C+ (77-79), C (73-76), C- (70-72)

D (60-69),

F (less than 60)

Late penalties will apply. One to three days late - 10% (of the total mark available for the assignment) and four to seven days late - 20%.

Plagiarism: avoid it. The www is a particular temptation. Bear in mind that the technology that allows someone to find material which can be used without attribution is the same technology which allows someone else to check whether that has happened.

Incomplete

If you do not complete all required work you will fail the course. The official end of each term is 5 pm on the last day of the final exam week. This hour is the deadline for handing in all course work. Each instructor may set an earlier deadline, but not a later deadline, for submission of any or all course work. If you have serious problems completing work by the end of the course you must petition the Registrar and the faculty person involved for permission to receive an “I” at the end of a semester. The petition must be received before 5 pm on the last day of the term. However, such a request must fit the requirements of the Academic Catalog: ‘A grade of ‘I’ denotes that the work of a course has not been completed due to an unavoidable emergency, which does not include delinquency or attending to church work or other employment.’ Note that I am simply unable to enter an ‘incomplete’ without the prior approval of the Dean who will insist that these requirements are met. Sorry, but this means you need to get organized! If the work of a course is incomplete at the end of a term without an emergency, a letter grade will be given based on the grades of work done, with incomplete work counted as “F.”

Inclusive language

All written work must use inclusive language when reference is made to human beings (male and female). This provides for both greater inclusion and greater precision.

C: Resources

Prayers

Students are encouraged to use the Prayer Forum in Moodle. We have the privilege of being able to support one another in this way. Please pray regularly for the others in the class. Although prayers and prayer requests can be posted at any time each student will be asked, on a roster basis, to provide a ‘prayer of the week’. Please try and relate the theme of the prayer to the topic being covered that week. It can be an original prayer or one you have drawn from somewhere else. All students are encouraged to pray this prayer as they begin their study for that week. This means that the prayer for the week needs to be posted up before the week begins. A roster will appear in the Prayer Centre and you will be reminded to visit it during the preliminary, introductory module.

Video

Videos will be available on the web-site. Please note that the images (various pictures and drawings) which appear within the video are copyrighted by other people and organizations and while they can be used in this context for educational purposes you are not permitted to make copies of them or reproduce them in any way. Sorry about that, but please do not involve yourself or Asbury in any legal issues.

Research Responsibilities

While a considerable amount of material is available in set texts, provided in supplementary reading and advice is available from the instructor, students are reminded of their responsibility to find their own study material, especially when undertaking assignments. Remember that the Asbury library allows a generous amount of time for borrowing – six weeks – and they will bear the cost of posting material to you (though you have to pay to return them).

The copyright law of the United States (title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

ExL Media Copyright Information

By the using this material, you are consenting to abide by this copyright policy. Any duplication, reproduction, or modification of this material without express written consent from Asbury Theological Seminary and/or the original publisher is prohibited.

The World-wide-web

The web is a source for this course which is very mixed: some is great and some is very bad. You must be discerning. When surfing the web to find an image or a story about your favorite film star checking for site credibility probably doesn't rate very highly on your agenda. But when using the source for learning and referencing in a paper it is very important.
